First-Rate Performance For Kelsie Miller & SP Haydays Choice at Sand Cup Futurity

By Tanya Randall

Kelsie Miller and SP Haydays Choice ("Tommy") found their winning form at the 18th Annual Sand Cup Futurity, held April 4-7 in Moses Lake, Washington. Their victory in the $10,000-added Futurity was $7,032 including open carryover earnings.

"I wish that I had 100 Tommys," said Miller, who trains barrel horses along with her daughter Skye at Dry Mountain Ranch in Riley, Oregon. "He's just fun. He has a good attitude and enjoys life. He's talented too. You want them all to be like that."

Tommy belongs to Tera McQuirk and her mother Sharla Gerhardt of Sparks, Nevada. They had purchased Tommy as a yearling from four-time WPRA World Champion Sherry (Potter) Cervi. The sorrel PC Frenchmans Hayday gelding, is out of Smign, by A Regal Choice.

He was started under saddle by Jake Telford, who recommended

THE RUNDOWN w/ Kelsie Miller

SP Haydays Choice ("Tommy") 15.3 h, 1150 lbs. and still filling out

BIT: Kathy James three-piece with a nylon curb

SADDLE: Martin BTR

SADDLE PAD: 5 Star

LEG GEAR: Classic Equine on front, polo wraps behind

SHOEING: St. Croix Lite Rim on front, Eventers behind; Shod by her husband Mick Miller

FEED: Triple Crown Complete

HAY: Homegrown grass, alfalfa mix

SUPPLEMENTS: MVP Exceed 6-Way, Amino-15, Gastro-Plex, Vitamin E & Forco

ALTERNATIVE THERAPIES: Magnet blanket and chiropractic care—"He's pretty ranchy. He hasn't needed much."

CONDITIONING/TRAINING REGIMEN: "After a weekend, he'll get Monday off. (Tuesday) we'll work on collection, core strength-type stuff in draw reins to keep him driving from the hind end. I work on a lot of lateral flexion and body control to keep that softness built in. He doesn't need to drill the pattern. He'll have a horsemanship day and then a barrel day and then another horsemanship day. Then it's time to leave again this time of year."

SPONSORS: Med-Vet Pharmaceuticals, Zesterra, Forco, Performance Horse Depot-Ronda Melton, Wire 2 Wire Vet Products-Nancy Temple

SPECIAL THANKS: Her event help—Jessi Auman, mom Susan Evans and Char Bracher. "I really, really appreciate them. When you haul 12 head of horses, you can't do it all by yourself," said Miller. "Skye and I just can't do it all ourselves. There's so much scheduling. What time do we need to give Lasix? What time do we need to be nebulizing? If not for those people... I'm scattered and I'm panicking!" Dad, husband and son at home—"You don't get to do those without those people. Skye and I have the easy part. We get to go and do, but everyone else has to do a lot for us to be here. My parents, my husband and my son—They do a lot." Her clients—"The customers we have right now—I don't know how we got so lucky! Every single one of our owners in our program right now have just been outstanding."

sending him to Miller for barrel training.

"Jake's started a lot of good ones for us," Miller explained. "Pretty much every good horse that we've had, Jake has had a hand in starting. He's gracious enough to start a lot of my customer's horses."

Ironically, Miller didn't know McQuirk or her mother, when Telford made the recommendation.

"They never met me," Miller added. "We talked on the phone for an hour. Tera asked her questions, and we decided it was a good fit. I picked up the colt and away we went. I was very lucky. It was one of those right place right time sort of deals."

"It's almost like we've been friends for 25 years. We're very like-minded and have the same goals. They've been wonderful people to ride for."

Miller actually thought the gelding was 3 when she got him, not 2. She didn't realize until last year that she might have a 4-year-old futurity horse instead of the typical 5-year-old, which is the norm in her part of the country.

"I honestly thought he was 3- coming 4- when I picked him in November," she admitted. "He was big, mature. Finally, Tera and I were visiting one day, and I realized that he was just now 3. I said, 'I think he's going to be ready at 4.' We just kept saying we'd do what Tommy tells us. If he's ready, he's ready. If not, we'll turn him out." After clocking 1D times in his fall exhibitions, Miller was confident that the gelding was ready to run at 4. Since she opted to stay home for her son's basketball games, Tommy didn't go to the early Arizona futurities in January. He stayed sharp by winning numerous jackpots around home until heading south for the Royal Crown in Buckeye, Arizona. Unfortunately, their performance there left Miller scratching her head.

“We had a nice run in the first round (at Buckeye),” she said. “He was 17.3. It wasn’t his typical run. His second run, he started to run out of his second barrel. We came home and changed some things. He’s been OK the past few weekends. He placed at the Dixie Classic, but he wasn’t making the runs he’d been making all winter. I kept saying, ‘I don’t think he’s sore. I think it’s me.’”

Miller speculates that her expectations got her asking the gelding for too much too soon.

“You know when you make one of those runs and you come out and say, ‘If I had just done this, how fast could I have been?’” she questioned. “If I had done things a little differently that 17.3 would have been a 17.0. Sometimes we get ahead of ourselves because of expectations.

“I was coming out of the first barrel and just pouring it to him, just kicking like he was an open horse. I wasn’t letting my horse find his pace across. He was struggling to get around the second barrel. I told myself to go back to what works.”

In Moses Lake, her goal was to go back to riding him like she did when he won the jackpots.

They won the aggregate thanks to a third-place finish in the first round and a win in the second round. Their winning run of 15.212 was the third fastest run of the entire event.

“The horse wants to do it,” she said. “He doesn’t need to be forced. I just needed to stay out of his way. I feel like I was a little better than I had been as a jockey but the second round, I rode him like I’d ran him all winter. Everyone was like, ‘He’s loping!’ That’s how he clocks. He has no idea how fast he is. The second run was the first time I whipped him coming home, and that was only because he shut up a little running home in the first round. What he did on Sunday—that’s my horse. That’s how I’m supposed to ride.”

She’s hoping they can have a repeat performance this weekend at the 43rd Annual Valley Girls Barrel Daze, which is held in the same venue.

“We’ll try again next weekend,” she said. “My horse knows his job. I’ve just got to do mine.”

THE AMERICAN BREEDERS ELITE INCENTIVE INFO

The inaugural event of The American Breeders Elite Incentive was held over the weekend at the Circle T Arena in Hamilton, TX April 4-7th, 2024. The inaugural event not only paid out some big checks but they also gave a 2024 Chevy Duramax Diesel Crew Cab Dually 4 X 4!

The American Breeders Elite Incentive is different than many other incentive programs as the horses can be eligible to run at incentive money in 3 different ways. The first way to be eligible is horses bred by a nominated breeder are all eligible. The second way to be eligible is through offspring being sired by a nominated stallion. The last way is for the nominated stallion to run himself at the event. The event consisted of a Truck Race that was open to everyone and then the incentive money that was only available to those with nominated horses. Both sets of results are included! At the inaugural event Down Ta Drift was the high money winner with earnings of $8,101.60; Highpoint Barrel Horses (Jason Martin & Charlie Cole) won $9,171 as nominated breeders/stallion owners and Slick By Design offspring won $28,426 (results could change slightly as they are still being finalized). For more information check out their website at www.TheAmericanBEI.com.

Persistence is the mother of personal change.

TRUCK RACE WINNER

Another cool part of the weekend's The American Breeders Incentive Race was the chance to win a 2024 Chevy Duramax Diesel Crew Cab Dually 4 X 4! The truck giveaway race was open to everyone and not limited to just those in the incentive. There were 30 chances to win the truck (31 this year due to a tie). The winners of each division (1D, 2D, 3D, 4D, 5D) in the Friday, Saturday and Sunday Opens each received a key for a total of 15 keys. This gave people a chance to win a truck with only entering one time! Then the Top 3 in the average of each division (1D, 2D, 3D, 4D, 5D) also received a key. The average was a 2 run average. So you could either just enter two days of the Open for the average or the best 2 runs out of the 3 Open runs were used to find the average time. Due to a tie in an average time there were actually 16 keys given instead of the 15 that should have been. The 31 total keys were drawn by the contestants out of a bag in the order they were earned. Then one by one they tried their keys in the truck to see who the big winner was. Several people had multiple keys and Becky Sichel was lucky enough to be on of these people and opened up that brand new truck with her second key!

Fancy That -- Hayle Gibson & RDC DancingToTheLead Top High Desert Stampede in Redmond, OR

By Tanya Randall

After catching everyone's attention with a strong performance at Rodeo Houston, Hayle Gibson and RDC DancingToTheLead ("Fancy") got their first major win of the 2024 season with a $4,819 victory at the $12,000-added High Desert Stampede, held April 3-6 in Redmond, Oregon.

"She's so cool," Gibson said of her 7-year-old bay mare. "I don't even think I need to be on her back to make a barrel pattern. It's like she's on train tracks."

Gibson and Fancy made their winning run in slack on a very snowy Thursday morning.

"I drove up there the night before, and it was dry, beautiful weather," she chuckled. "I was in a T-shirt! I woke up to five inches of snow on the ground. I thought, 'How am I going to get home today?'"

Fancy was extremely fresh that morning between the cooler temperatures and having been ponied for most of her conditioning since her runs at Rodeo Houston.

"Honestly, she'd only been ridden one time since Houston," said Gibson. "She was pretty fresh in the warmup pen. When she's fresh, I always know she's going to fire hard, but I was like, 'This is more fresh than I'm used to!' I wasn't sure how it was going to go." They won the rodeo by a little more than a tenth.

"Man, we just had one of those runs where she just went out and did her job perfectly," Gibson said. "She inhaled her first, which normally that's a struggle for me just because she's so fast, I get behind her from the start. That didn't happen at Redmond. I remember thinking, 'Oh boy! Here we go!' She went on autopilot and inhaled the other two and ran so hard out of there. I knew it was going to be a fast run, but I had no idea that she was going to clock THAT good!"

Redmond was Fancy's second rodeo of the season. She fractured the lateral wing of her right hind navicular bone during her run at Spanish Fork, Utah, last July.

With Fancy healing, Gibson turned to Fling N Fortune ("BeBe") for the remainder of the season.

"When Fancy went out, BeBe really stepped up for me," she said. "She won Hermiston (Oregon) and some other good rodeos for me, which allowed me to stay in the Top 30."

Gibson, who co-owns and operates Cowgirl Canna CBD, purchased both mares as prospects at the 2018 BFA World Championship Sale for a grand total of $21,200.

Fancy, a daughter of the late Special Leader, Easily Smashed stallion Lead The Field, out of the Dash Ta Fame mare Kari Dasher, brought $5,700 as a yearling. BeBe, by A Streak Of Fling out of Our Genuine Delight, by Dash Ta Fame, brought $15,500 as a 2-year-old.

"I had my first futurity horse ever running in the Juvenile with a trainer," Gibson explained. "We had flown out to watch him. He (the futurity colt) actually ended up being a pickle and we sent him home, but we stayed the rest of the week. After a few whiskeys, now we're here!"

Gibson had noticed Fancy in the catalog, and she liked the way the Pink Buckle-enrolled filly looked in person. She knew BeBe was being offered beforehand, thanks to Troy Crumrine, who was riding her futurity colt.

"Fancy was my main focus," she said. "I really liked BeBe but didn't think I could get her bought."

While BeBe went into training with Crumrine following the sale and stayed with him through August of her futurity year, Fancy was completely Gibson's project.

"I'm the only person that's ever been on her back," she said. "I started her. I patterned her. I did a lot of ranch work with her."

Gibson got hooked on horses by watching her aunt show horses.

"My parents didn't have a choice, they had to get me a horse," she laughed. "I bugged them enough. My mom had always wanted to have horses but never had the opportunity, so she lived vicariously through me once we got them."

Gibson gravitated toward roping as it was easier to be competitive. Roping led to day-working on local ranches. Her ranch working skills transferred over to her barrel horse training.

"Leading up to Fancy's futurity year, she'd probably only seen the barrels a month, month and half," she said. "Everything else was out on the ranch, working cows, branding. We have what I call “The Man From Snowy River” land because it’s really hilly and steep country. Then there will be some flat valleys and a lot of water. She learned how and where to put her feet.”

With Fancy and BeBe, Gibson had the perfect tandem to tackle the rodeo road.

“Those mares were so interchangeable together,” she said. I couldn’t really tell you who was No. 1. Going into the summer last year, I would have said Fancy, but when she got hurt, BeBe turned into my No. 1.”

Gibson barely started her winter run when BeBe was injured on her first run at Fort Worth, Texas. The 8-year-old roan mare fractured her acetabulum, the hip socket where the femur meets the pelvis. Then a few weeks later, BeBe passed during colic surgery. “I’m not going to lie. It was the lowest part of my whole life was that week of losing her,” said Gibson.

She ran her stallion Karl Lee at San Antonio and struggled. Disheartened, she almost turned out of Rodeo Houston.

“I actually wasn’t going to go to Houston, just because of the grief and not knowing if I had the horse power,” she said. “I didn’t want to take the opportunity away from someone else. Then Fancy got cleared the week before I left, so I decided that I would go and run her. I felt like BeBe worked so hard last year to get me into the winter rodeos after Fancy got hurt. I owed it to her memory to go run there.”

Fancy got better with every run, winning the third round in their Super Series and one of the Semifinals. Although a tipped barrel in the finals cost them a spot in the Championship Shootout, Fancy sent Gibson home from Houston with $9,500.

“It gives me chills thinking about it,” she said of Fancy’s Houston performance. “I think she knew she was running with wings and there was something extra that I needed. She really took charge. Gosh, she loved it! She got stronger with every run. It was incredible!”

Gibson is currently No. 37 in the WPRA World Standings with $14,319—all Fancy’s doing. She has the pro rodeo in Logandale, Nevada, and the Calgary Stampede qualifier at WPRA’s Western Region Barrels and Breakaway in Salina, Utah, this weekend. The California spring run of rodeos follows, but Gibson said she’s taking it one weekend at a time.

“I learned not to make any plans because it never happens that way,” she said. “I’m going to let Fancy keep determining what we’re getting to do. As long as she stays happy, wants to keep going and stays healthy, we’ll keep going.”

2024 ProRodeo Hall of Fame Class Announced

The Solar Eclipse was not the only big news of the day as the Class of 2024 ProRodeo Hall of Fame inductees were announced on Monday, April 8 marking the 45th annual induction. A total of eight will be inducted including two representatives from the Women's Professional Rodeo Association (WPRA) on July 13.

Marlene (Eddleman) McRae, the 1983 WPRA World Champion and Jeana Day, the 1974 WPRA World Champion will both be inducted into the WPRA Barrel Racing category. McRae and Day will join the following on the PRCA side – Kaycee Feild (bareback riding), Art Arnold (team roping) Blue Stone (bull riding – honored posthumously) J.D. Yates (notable) Sammy Andrews (stock contractor), bullfighter Darrel Diefenbach (contract personnel), Burns Rodeo Company's bull #171 Mr T (livestock), and Tri-State Rodeo in Fort Madison, IA (rodeo committee). Bob Feist will also be honored with the Ken Stemler Pioneer Award during the Cowboy Ball on July 12.

McRae, who grew up in Ordway, Colorado, not only made an impact in the arena but also gave back serving two different stints on the Board of Directors first in 1990 and again in 2016.

"It was great to hear it from Jimmie, that was outstanding in itself," stated McRae about receiving the call on her induction from WPRA President Jimmie Munroe. "This is a dream come true. Rodeo has made so many of my dreams come true and I would have to say this tops the cake. This was probably the final dream that I have dreamed of for my rodeo career.

"Being from Colorado, I am really glad WPRA members are now part of the ProRodeo Hall of Fame. It means a lot to me because I have been around the Hall the majority of my life. I wish both my parents were still alive to see it, but they will see it happen from heaven."

McRae's Hall of Fame career inside the rodeo arena consisted of qualifying for the National Finals Rodeo a total of 10 times (1983-1991, 2000), won the world title in 1983, won the NFR average twice (1983, 1988), finished as reserve world champion behind the legendary Charmayne James three times (1987-89), reserve champion at the Dodge National Circuit Finals Rodeo (1988-89 – now known as the NFR Open that is held in Colorado Springs, CO in July), won the Calgary Stampede title five times (the most of any WPRA barrel racer – 1984-85, 87, 89-90) and won the gold medal at the Olympic Command Performance in conjunction with the Winter Olympic Games in Calgary in 1988.

Outside of the arena she has contributed to the growth of the sport of barrel racing as a clinician, innovator and elected voice for WPRA members. As a clinician from 1980-2015 she personally taught and shared her knowledge at over 500 clinics across not only the United States but the world. She also published a book, Barrel Racing 101, and created the Millennial Series video program to help those unable to attend one of her clinics.

As an innovator for over three decades, she has been involved in the development of her own line of saddles and tack, including introducing the first ever carbon fiber saddle tree. And last but not least, she served two different terms on the WPRA Board of Directors, first as a Circuit Director and then as the director of the Futurity and Derby program.

She was honored in 2018 with the Calgary Pioneer Award and was the first American female to receive this honor. In 1995, she was inducted into the National Cowgirl Museum and Hall of Fame and now she can add ProRodeo Hall of Fame inductee to her list of accomplishments.

Day of Woodward, Oklahoma, etched her name in the WPRA history books winning the barrel racing world title in 1974. A six-time NFR qualifier, she also finished as reserve world champion four times (1970-73) prior to capturing the world title. She accomplished all of this aboard a horse called Poco Excuse, a horse that was an unlikely WPRA world champion – he was small, just 1,000 pounds, and not expected to have much speed with only cow horse breeding. However, his outstanding heart took him and his jockey to new heights and even led to the formation of one of the WPRA's most coveted awards – the Horse with the Most Heart Award, given at the NFR each year.

"I was just blown away when I got the news from Jimmie (Munroe)," stated Day upon learning of her induction. "I was overwhelmed and speechless and for those that know me it takes a lot for me to be speechless. I feel so honored and blessed to be receiving this news today. I am just all smiles."

Day also spent 11 years on the WPRA Board of Directors during a pivotal time in the history of the Association when they took a stand for equal money in the barrel racing. She served two different terms (1975-1979 and 1986-1991).

She got her math degree from Southwestern Oklahoma State University and until ship.

“The motto of WRWC is ‘Cowgirls Supporting Cowgirls’ and The Cowgirl Channel is the perfect home for all WRWC coverage, complimented by the Cowboy Channel and PBR RidePass on Pluto TV,” said Lindsay Rosser Sumpter, WRWC Commissioner. “We are also thrilled to announce another match-up with CBS Sports Network bringing women’s rodeo to primetime. In 2021, we witnessed a record-breaking 2.4 million viewers tune in to watch the WRWC, and we are determined to take it to new heights this year at the PBR World Finals.”

For four days, hundreds of the world’s best women in rodeo will compete in four disciplines, battling it out in one of the most exciting female-only live sporting events, going head-to-head in team roping, breakaway roping, and barrel racing. A collective $750,000 will be on the line, with $182,500 being paid out in each discipline and each event champion leaving AT&T Stadium with a minimum of $60,000.

Tickets for the PBR World Finals – Championship on May 18 when the Women’s Rodeo World Championship will come to a climactic end are still available. They can be purchased at the AT&T Stadium Box Office, online at ATTStadium.com, SeatGeek.com and PBR.com/WorldFinals, or by phone at 1-800-732-1727.

In 2023, Texan Jackie Crawford (Stephenville, Texas) captured her second Women’s Rodeo World Championship title, making her the richest female athlete in the WCRA (World Champions Rodeo Alliance). Crawford claimed the 2023 WRWC Event Heeling Championship, adding another $60,000 to her career earnings of more than $203,000 in the WCRA, the WRWC’s sister organization. In 2020, Crawford became the inaugural WRWC All-Around Cowgirl, capturing the title at seven months pregnant.

Last year, four athletes from Stephenville, Texas, the Cowboy Capital of the World, won 2023 event championships, earning nearly $300,000 combined.

Crawford celebrated with the 2023 All-Around Cowgirl title, and her team roping partner, Martha Angelone, and barrel racer Cheyenne Wimberley, both also rode their way to the winner’s circle. The quartet was completed by Kelsie Domer who won the 2023 Breakaway Roping Championship. Domer secured her place in the event through the last chance qualifier, narrowly missing out on the first-place spot by one-one-hundredth of a second. During the 2023 championship round, she performed a groundbreaking run, breaking away from her saddle horn in an impressive 2.16 seconds, and winning the event with a clean run of 4.47 seconds. Domer walked away from the event with her newborn daughter, Oaklynn, and $61,000 in prize money.

HEADIN' FOR HOME

by Sherry Morrison // Triple M (Mike Morrison Ministries)

Mike and I are not dog trainers. If you've ever been to our house, you would agree. We love dogs and have two. They are not always obedient. But we know a few things. If the German Shepherd barks, there are critters outside. If the Australian Shepherd barks, people are out there. If both of them bark, Jesus is coming!!!

No, seriously. I admire people who can train a dog to obey simple commands. LOL! Why don't we train our dogs? We don't take the time. It's the same in every area of our lives. No matter what we want to accomplish, if we don't take the time, it is not going to happen. So, when we put off basic obedience training and an emergency arises, all that happens is a lot of yelling! Dumb!

In the same way, it is vital we take time with God every day. We cannot put off reading the Word or going to church, until we have a crisis. I'm not saying God won't help us, but it would be much better for us if we stay prepared, no matter what comes! Most of us will keep our horses fit so we're prepared to compete successfully. Businesses will keep goods on hand so when people come in, they have something to sell. Restaurants have food in the cooler to prepare when people order. But a lot of people put off time with God because they think He'll understand. After all, He's God.

But we have an enemy that is just waiting for you to do that very thing. He is like a roaring lion seeking whom he may devour. 1 Pet. 5:8. The devil doesn't care about your good intentions. He's waiting for an opportunity to come in and steal, kill and destroy. John 10:10.

Jesus came so we could have abundant life. But if you don't spend time with Him, you won't know that. Let's put God first as instructed in Matt. 6:33.
