Pink Buckle Pays In Nearly $1 Million Ways — Tonozzi, Wins Futurity & Open aboard Tres Chasin Babe PZ

By Tanya Randall

Two-time World Champion Barrel Racer Brittany Tonozzi is having a historic year. Not only has she broken the WPRA's regular season earnings record as she heads into her 17th National Finals Rodeo in the No. 1 position, but she also has two of the year's standout futurity horses.

At the $4.105 million Pink Buckle, presented by Cinch, Tonozzi went one-two in the $850,000 Futurity, winning with Tres Chasin Babe PZ ("Rosie"), owned by Teton Ridge, and taking second with her own ChitiChiti BangBang ("Maybelline").

"It's like, 'Pinch me!' I feel like this is a dream," she said. "Wait a minute, don't pinch me because I don't want to wake up!"

Tonozzi didn't even know how much money she had won exactly.

"I've had no time to add up money and I'm heading to a jackpot," Tonozzi said late Monday morning on her way to Stephenville from her Lampasas, Texas, home.

All totaled, Tonozzi ran horses to total Pink Buckle earnings of $301,887.

She won $200,970 aboard Rosie, who also won the average of the $1.350 million Hay Chix Open for $41,758 and swept both the $100,000 Sale Graduate Futurity and $200,000 Sale Graduate Open for $30,000 and $24,400, respectively.

Maybelline collected $93,660. Her reserve championship in the Futurity was worth $74,752. She finished fifth in the Open aggregate for $16,158 and placed in both rounds of the $250,000 Platinum Performance Owner Rider 4D for an additional $2,750.

Tonozzi also rode Busby Quarter Horses' Misty Eyed Over Jet to a $7,257 check in the Open 2D average.

Horses bred in Tonozzi and her husband's Garrett's name, however, earned just a tick more $301,944 when Rosie's brother Seis On The Chase's earnings of $7,314 are added to her and Maybelline's totals.

All three horses are the second generation products of Tonozzi's breeding program.

"It's proving to be better than the first, and that's really exciting," said Tonozzi. "That's breeding. That's what we want to happen. That's why we do it."

When Tonozzi wanted to breed her homebred aged event star and NFR qualifier KissKiss BangBang ("Mona") to Tres Seis to add "a little bit more run and not quite so much rate," she offered an embryo out of one of her great mares to Mario and Chelli Zerlotti, who manage Tres Seis.

The Zerlotti's chose Babe On The Chase ("Birdie"), Tonozzi's homebred $100,000 slot race winner and NFR qualifier by the late Chasin Firewater out of her great mare Streakin Six Babe, by Streakin Six. They were gifted with twin embryos which became Rosie and her brother Chase.

"We are listed as the breeders, but the Zerlotti's should get the credit," Tonozzi had said after Rosie, who bares the PZ initials of the partnership between Zerlotti and Guy Piexoto, won the Ruby Buckle Futurity and Chase was second at the Ruby Buckle Futurity at the Lazy E this past April.

Both horses found their way to Tonozzi's barn for a time. When Teton Ridge purchased Rosie as a 2-year-old from the Zerlotti's at the 2021 Pink Buckle Sale for the second-highest price of $240,000, she went into training with Tonozzi.

Chase, on the other hand, had been in Tonozzi's barn since he was just a weanling. The Zerlotti's had traded him for a 3-year-old prospect Tonozzi had at the time. With colt's bloodlines so prevalent in her program, Tonozzi offered Chase at the 2022 Pink Buckle Sale, where he sold for the third highest price of $160,000 to Joe and Kelly Tovar. They sent him back to Ashley Schafer, who had been riding the colt while Tonozzi qualified for her 16th NFR.

Ironically, Tonozzi was a little skeptical of making the cross between Tres Seis and Birdie.

"I was always worried that Tres Seis would be too hot of a cross on Birdie because she does have a big motor," she admitted. "But it's proven to be a really great cross, so we're actually going to go back to Tres Seis next year for Birdie."

She said both Rosie and Maybelline have taken after their mothers.

"I can feel their mothers in them," she said. "They are nothing alike. With them both being by Tres Seis, they both definitely take after the strong female genes."

As she does with her mother, Tonozzi takes a metered approach to the first barrel on Rosie.

"I don't hold her back like I did Birdie," she explained. "I let her pick her speed. That mare is so fast I let her pick her speed, where she's comfortable, and roll with it."

Rosie rolled with it all the way to what would have broken old Pink Buckle arena record with a time of 16.551 to win the second round of the Futurity. The time ended up the second fastest time of the event behind MJ Segers Fast Lane and Brandon Cullins' who earlier broke the arena record with a 16.521 in the Derby, Rosie's 16.551 broke the previous record of 16.567 set by French Goodbye and Vauna Walker when they won the inaugural Pink Buckle Futurity in 2018.

Maybelline, on the other hand, is like her mother Mona in the fact that Tonozzi has to drive her to the first barrel.

"I have to go scary fast to the first barrel, faster than I would like to go on a futurity colt, but if I don't, I can't get her around it, and that was Mona," she explained. "With her it was go fast or go home. There were so many times that I would think, 'Oh, I need to help you right here,' and I would hit the first."

Unlike their mothers, each horse goes to the opposite first barrel than their mothers. Rosie is a lefty, and her mother ran right, while Mona ran to the left and her daughter goes to the right.

It was the directional switch that helped make Maybelline the Royal Crown Futurity Champion.

"She was going to the left and I was so frustrated with her," Tonozzi said. "When I switched her to the right, it was like the light bulb went off. It was so strange too. I started her to the right, but I didn't keep her that way very long. The whole time I was going left, and she was doing really good. When I asked her for the speed, it came apart. I knew she was super talented. I knew it was there. I just couldn't get it to come out. The week before (the Old Fort Days Futurity in) Fort Smith, I switched her to the right and the rest is history."

With their Pink Buckle earnings included (sire and breeder money as well attributed to the horse), Rosie has career earnings $470,940 of which $366,009 is futurity money. Maybelline, who had a little bit of a slow start due to her first barrel discombobulation, now has career earnings of $246,888.

The BFA World Championships will be the two mare's last futurity since Tonozzi will be at the NFR during the OKC Futurity. She said both mare's futures are ultimately in the rodeo arena.

"I may take them to some this fall, but I haven't decided yet," she said.

Maybelline has placed at three pro rodeos already including splitting second and third at Kalispell, Montana. Rosie hasn't gone to a rodeo yet.

"Rosie still feels a little unsure going across to the second barrel yet," she said. "I'll take it a little slower with her before I do anything crazy like throw her in a perf. I want to keep her really solid. Maybelline—I feel like I could throw her to the wolves because she doesn't care."

Tonozzi also had a stellar weekend with the Pink Buckle Sale. She consigned the third high seller, Kiss Me Goodbye, Maybelline's half-sister by The Goodbye Lane. The 3-year-old filly sold to 4M Equine Ranch for $490,000.

Epic Hero, a 3-year-old Epic Leader gelding, out of her NFR mare Steele Magnolias, also sold for $110,000.

"The sale was amazing," said Tonozzi. "I want to commend the Pink Buckle for going above and beyond. They're just first class."

Everything, All The Time – MJ Segers Fast Lane & Cullins Set Arena Record En Route To Pink Buckle Derby Championship

By Tanya Randall

When victories come down to thousands of a second, every inch counts. When Brandon Cullins and MJ Segers Fast Lane made their second run in the $550,000 Classic Equine Derby at the Pink Buckle, they spared none, not a single inch—especially around the second barrel.

“She’s so athletic, she makes moves that she shouldn’t be able to make,” said Cullins. “I hit that second barrel going into it and leaving it. That shouldn’t be possible. That mare can do things that shouldn’t be able to be done.”

The 16.521 run on a WPRA Standard Pattern set the new arena record at the Lazy E. The previous record of 16.567 was set by inaugural Pink Buckle Futurity and Open Champions Vauna Walker and French Goodbye back in 2018.

Seeger and French Goodbye share the same sire The Goodbye Lane. Mark and Linda Jarvis, who own The Goodbye Lane along with their daughters, bred the mare out of SKS Running Faucet, by Diamond Faucet.

The 6-year-old mare, now owned by transplanted Canadians Grant Little and his Canadian Barrel Racing Champion wife Rayel, doubled her career earnings with a $99,548 showing at the Pink Buckle. The Classic Equine Derby Championship was worth $62,000, while a reserve championship finish by a mere 3/1,000ths of a second in the $1.350 million Hay Chix Open was worth $37,548.

Cullins, a Maryland transplant now residing in Dublin, Texas, started riding Seeger after last year’s Pink Buckle. The ride came about in the most unexpected of ways. Cullins was riding a horse for Brad Lieblong, who knew Grant Little only through phone conversations. When he’d come down to ride with Cullins, he took the opportunity to meet and visit personally with Little, who had moved nearby. Cullins tagged along.

“We never talked about riding or business or anything,” said Cullins. “We were just talking horses and life and stuff, and he asked me if I would ride her one day to see what I thought. It’s worked out pretty good.”

Cullins said it took him a little time to figure the mare out because of her incredible speed and desire to turn.

“That mare is something else,” said Cullins. “She’s all there. Aggressive. I wouldn’t say I changed her or made her any better. It just took me a little while to figure her out and get her to match me a little bit. She tries hard. You think about turning and she’s dragging a leg and going to it. She doesn’t cut you off, but she’ll stop moving to turn a barrel. She wants it. If she gets one, it’s because she’s trying too hard.”

Cullins and Seeger had won the Fizz Bomb Derby earlier in September but had some ground trouble at both the Breeders Challenge Derby and American Contender qualifier in Ardmore. He was worried that it would make the mare a little apprehensive about her runs at Lazy E for the Pink Buckle.

“Her first run she felt really good and solid,” he said of their first run of 17.061. “I thought, if anything, she could have run a little bit harder. I thought I quit her a little bit early at the third barrel and kind of sliced me. It was my fault, but she let me pick her up and keep her up the whole way around. That probably cost us a little bit of time on the back side because I didn’t have her set up where she could leave it good.”

For her second run—the record setter—Seeger was very confident.

“The first run I picked my whip up and tapped her on the butt just to let her know we were going and the second round I didn’t have to do that,” he explained. “She wasn’t hot, but I could feel she was there. She was super light and feely, alert, very aware and ready.

“She wanted to take off a little early, but I wanted to hold her

THE RUNDOWN w/Brandon Cullins

MJ Segers Fast Lane (“Seeger”) 15.0 h, 1100 lbs. “She’s pretty blocky. She looks like a little calf horse almost.”

BIT: Sharin Hall SH 01 Short Shank with a twist mouth and copper roller; warmup in a medium shank Schoneberg with square mouth with three links of chain in the middle.

SADDLE: Shiloh

SADDLE PAD: Classic Equine

LEG GEAR: Classic Equine just front

SHOEING: Rims on front, plains on back

FEED: Bluebonnet

HAY: Daurio Brothers Cubes

ALTERNATIVE THERAPIES: WD Feeds Cold Water Spa before each run at Pink Buckle

CONDITIONING/TRAINING REGIME: “I don’t ride her a ton during the week. The girl that works for us Reese, I’ll have her jump on her and just long jog her out in the field. I probably ride her out in the field more than anything. I hardly ever show her the barrels. Rayel trained her and she’s trained right. I don’t need to encourage her to turn more. She’s a little tighter on the right side when you’re just riding around so I just ride her a lot to keep her opening up and reaching that front foot out; keeping her picked up and moving out. I lope straight lines up into a corner and I’ll put two dots out there in my mind for the two backside corners on my barrels. That’s the only way I really tune on her. She’s going to turn and she’s going to be fast, so I just try to keep her legged up and happy.”

in there a little longer because it’s such a long run in there. She’s already looking for the turn, so I try not to send her from the Back 40. She took off and was hauling. I actually got her a little bit early at the first but she’s definitely getting a little more forgiving with age. She's letting me mess up a little bit more than she used to. I kind of got it a little bit going in and I had to get by it a hair to get around it. When I left, she was leaving downhill toward the alley, and I had to chase her up over. That's probably what really gave me setup for a fast second barrel. I was chasing her up over and naturally when she got to her spot, I had her hip in the right spot and her shoulder up to make that fast move. If she might have been more true to it, she might not have been as quick. At her second barrel I really just put my hand on her neck and begged her. There really wasn't much I could do at that point. It was her.

"At her third, I just thought, go around it. She kind of stepped off it leaving it, because she left a tick early, but she was running so hard I don't think it really fazed her at all. That mare's not very big, but man, can she run."

Cullins wanted to thank the Littles for their support.

"Grant and Rayel have been great to ride for," he said. "Whenever I've done bad, they're always the first to tell me—don't worry

Amateur Futurity Champions Deena Van Tassell & Sassy Little Merri Win $92,578 at Pink Buckle

In a double tough Pink Buckle Futurity Sassy Little Merri & Deena Van Tassell made their presence know beating out everyone expect Brittany Tonozzi (who ran 1-2) for a 3rd place finish and along the way won the Amateur Futurity Championship at Pink Buckle! Their big week netted them $92,578. The easy moving palomino mare slipped through the barrels in a 16.9 in the 1st Round & a 17.0 in the 2nd Round. Van Tassell's sister is multiple futurity & derby winner Anita Ellis and her Mom, Vauna Walker, has trained some of the best futurity horses in the business. In fact, Walker held the Pink Buckle arena record until this week! We got a chance to catch up with Van Tassell to talk about her horse and her big win at Pink Buckle!

BRR: Can you walk us through your two runs in the Pink Buckle Futurity?

Van Tassell: The first run on Wednesday night was one I will never forget. Maggie felt good and I could tell she was going to fire. I just tried not to pick at her and let her do her job. She ran a 16.9 I couldn't have been more proud of her.

My second run Friday I felt a lot more nervous going into it and I could tell Maggie did too. She was having a hard time settling in that main arena so I had to take her out and stand in the alleyway which helped a bunch. When she came back in she felt ready to go. She ran a 17.0. I was beyond excited and proud of her. One of the best parts of this week has been the excitement and encouragement from everyone else around me as well.

BRR: It was an incredibly tough bunch of horses and jockeys; what was it like running against a group like that and then winning over $90k?

Van Tassell: I tried not to talk about the money possibilities or the people who were there leading up to this race. If I start thinking of all the amazing barrel racers who showed up, I can easily psych myself out. I tried really hard to just focus on my horse and what my plan was.

BRR: Can you share with us about your mare; where your mare came from and her career up to now?

Van Tassell: My grandma Ruby is the breeder and we bought her as a yearling. I've been asked what it was about her that I loved so much and the only thing I can think was that she had pretty eyes (LOL). And of course she is out of a Goodbye Lane mare and by Mr Sassy Frenchman so I was interested in that combination and excited to see what she could do.

Maggie has a pretty cute personality and is super sweet but also has just enough sass to make things entertaining. She has run super consistent all year and I've had some successful futurities. She has just been gradually getting better and faster all year.

BRR: What are a few things you did with her to have her at her best for Pink Buckle?

Van Tassell: Honestly, I feel like my goal this whole year has been the Pink Buckle. So going into it I just kept doing the same things we've been doing all year. Good shoes, good feed, consistent exercise, and keeping her healthy.

BRR: I know you come from a barrel racing family. Can you tell us a little about yourself, your family and your barrel racing career?

Van Tassell: My husband and I have 3 kids. Mikayla, Carson, and Cutler. They are my biggest fans and support. I'm an ER nurse and we live in Northern Utah.

I grew up riding horses from the time I was really little. My sister, Anita Ellis, and I were just joking the other day about how I did my internship with her at the age of four and she was nine. She used to make me lope my pony through the pattern until I got it right. Apparently, I couldn't remember which side of the barrel to turn on! My mom is Vauna Walker and in my eyes she is the best of the best. I call her on a daily basis asking questions about bits, barrel racing drills, and anything I can think of. I've had the chance to travel to most of these futurities with my Mom and Stepad Randy, and my sister, Anita.

I feel like I won the lottery in the family department. My parents taught me to love horses from the time I was really little and I'll forever be grateful for that.

THANK YOUS: To the barrel racing producers, big and small who are willing to put on barrel races. We wouldn't be here without them.

BRR: What are your future plans for you and your horse throughout the rest of the 2023 year?

Van Tassell: Maggie has earned a little bit of a break now and I think she'll be happy about that. I don't have a futurity horse for next year so my goal is to start the Derby races on her.

MONTANA Barrel Daze

www.Millerranchproductions.com

$7,500 SELECT STALLION STAKES

BRR: How do you mentally prepare for big runs like that prior to entering the arena?
Van Tassell: I feel like that's a never ending battle that I'm still trying to master. Things that help me are just thinking about future plans that I have coming up or something I'm looking forward to. It helps my nerves in the moment not feel so big. Also, sometimes I like listen to murder podcasts. LOL

BRR: Was this your first Pink Buckle? Tell us about the experience of Pink Buckle.
Van Tassell: This was my second pink buckle. I've looked forward to this race all year and always feel like it's such a fun place to be. The people are awesome and the turnout is always impressive.

BRR: What are three things (other than truck, trailer, horses and such) that you can't travel without?
Van Tassell: Probably my 3 pillows. Those are a must. Everything else you can get at Walmart! (LOL)

HEADIN' FOR HOME

by Sherry Morrison // Triple M (Mike Morrison Ministries)

Is Luke 13:6 talking about you/me? In a nutshell, it's about a man that had a fig tree in his vineyard that wasn't producing. For three years the man had come seeking fruit on it and there wasn't any.

So, he told the keeper of the vineyard to cut it down. But the keeper asked him to give the tree one more year. The keeper said he'd dig around it and fertilize it. And then after that one year was up, if there wasn't any fruit, he'd cut it down. That tree was given another chance by someone who could see good in it.

We are all given second chances. What will we do with them? Will we continue to not produce good fruit, or will we turn around and go with God?

And, if you are the keeper, can you see yourself giving someone else another chance? Can you invest time in them? Can you feed them the Word of God, pray for them?

We are all given the opportunity to do good and give hope! This week, if you are the tree, turn around. If you are the keeper, help someone. And then the blessing will come!
