Nancy Adkins' Slick Lane Ta Fame & Will Lear Earn $72,516 Pink Buckle Futurity Championship

By Tanya Randall

$72,516 is life-changing money, but Slick Lane Ta Fame's Pink Buckle Futurity Championship went beyond the money for the 4-year-old mare's jockey Will Lear and her owner Nancy Adkins.

Their share of the $650,000 Futurity purse was $72,516, while Charlie Cole and Jason Martin of Highpoint Barrel Horses received $8,532 on behalf of their stallion Slick By Design and Mike and Jill Petty earned $4,266 as the breeders of Beyoncé for a total of $85,354 in earnings.

For Lear, who was returning to futurity competition after an eight year hiatus, the championship put him back in the limelight as an elite rider enabling him to grow his training business.

"It's just crazy!" exclaimed Lear. "It's just unbelievable. This is what you do it for your whole life. That's what you work for and wins like that don't come every day. I've been doing it for a long time and never won anything like that. It's life changing almost." For Adkins, a longtime futurity player and former event producer, the championship was a very sentimental one, as Slick Lane Ta Fame was the last horse her father, Lyman Gates, had picked out before his passing a little over a year ago.

"This horse is very sentimental to me," said Adkins, who produced the Turn N Burn Classic Futurity for 10 years, starting in 1997. "He was a heck of a horseman. He had an eye for a horse. Man, he could pick out a good horse.

"It was a very emotional win for me and I'm so happy for Will. The word pride just doesn't do justice for what I feel about doing business with this young man. It's such an honor. It reminds me why I started doing futurities. I like to see a young horse and a hungry rider. He was hungry. He wanted it and worked at it."

Slick Lane Ta Fame

Bred by Mike and Jill Petty, Slick Lane Ta Fame ("Beyoncé") is by multiple NFR qualifier and now leading sire Slick By Design. She is out of the Dash Ta Fame, Lanes Leinster mare Short Lane Ta Fame.

Adkins first saw the mare while watching the 2017 Triangle Barrel Horse Classic Sale while waiting at hospital with her dad. Sharin Hall had the then 2-year-old mare consigned.

"My dad was sick and we were sitting in the ER waiting to get admitted to a room," recalled Adkins. "I pulled up the sale and this horse comes in with Sharin. I said, 'Oh dad! This will be a nice one. Sharin always has nice horses.' He kept poking me—because he always liked to poke you in the arm—and asking me, 'What's she up to now? Do you think we ought to buy her?' I said, 'I'm not buying any horses, Dad. I've got enough right now.' Well, Sharin no saled her. I thought she must really like her and she's going to keep her for herself. I gave no more thought to it."

About three months later, Adkins was back at the hospital to visit her dad and she just happened to be on the phone with Hall when she walked in his room.

"Dad heard me talking to her and he immediately started grilling about that horse," she said. "She told me then she wanted to sell her. Dad pointed at me and said this is the start of our journey. I want you to buy that horse. He wanted to travel with me again to watch her compete."

A lifelong horseman, Lyman Gates made sure his daughter was indoctrinated at an early age.

"My step-grandfather is who started this whole crazy notion," she chuckled remembering her youth at the Standardbred track. "From 5-years-old on up, I was in horse heaven. I had to go to every race. I rode in the sulky with my dad. Then they crossed over into Thoroughbred racing.”

Adkins got her start through 4H, but her father made sure she had a diverse equine education.

“I rode just about every genre there was—polo, English, Western pleasure, Paint horses, stock horses, was an outrider at the race-track,” she recalled. “I learned a lot from my father because he really pushed me and encouraged me to learn different things with the horses. When I learned to do barrel racing that was it. That was the thing I liked the most.”

Unfortunately, Gates passed away before Beyoncé made her first competition run, but Adkins said she knows he’s making this journey with her.

“I tried to keep it in check and let the business part of me kick in, but it’s hard when there is this kind of special connection,” she said. “When she made that run with Sharin in Oklahoma City and placed third in the (Super Stakes), I felt my dad’s presence with me so much that day. I had his watch on my arm. It was just crazy. I could just feel him.”

Her father had followed her passion for barrel horses, traveling with her to watch her horses run. Ironically, there first trip out west to watch her horses run at a futurity was at the Lazy E Arena.

“It just seemed unreal that she goes in there and wins at the arena we went to,” she mused. “To me it’s more special not just because of this aspect, but Will has worked so hard. We go to the shows nearby and I watch him work. I know how dedicated he is to all his clients.”

Will Lear

A South Carolina native, Will Lear grew up riding with the best in the business and started competing in futurities when he was just 14. His parents Tony and Lori got him started riding under Mike Green at Southern Rose Ranch. He later rode with Troy Crumrine and was around top futurity riders like Talmadge Green, Brett Monroe and Cody Bauserman.

“I learned a lot from them,” he said. “They taught me a lot how to win mentally. You can beat yourself a lot of times.”

Having trained horses since 1997, Lear decided to scale back after getting married to his wife Amanda. The couple has three boys and all are very active with horses and sports.

“I took a break for about eight years,” he explained. “I didn’t really quit training and riding but I didn’t ride as many for the public. I got married and had kids. I still started some colts and sold them for people. I just got of going to the futurities—the up and down the road game.”

When he moved to Waynesfield, Ohio, right down the road from one of his mentors Troy Crumrine, Lear worked in a factory for a while, but later told his wife that he really wanted to back to training and campaigning futurity horses.

“I just can’t do that,” he said of his factory job. “It was killing me. This is actually my first year going back to the futurities hard. It’s been pretty cool.”

Adkins had watched Lear and admired his work ethic. Knowing that he was craving the futurity competition, she made the decision to have him ride Beyoncé.

“I watched him work his chops off and I thought I can’t wait to give him something that’s good,” said Adkins. “Making the change

Lear had the mare just a couple of days before heading to Texas for Diamonds & Dirt. They placed in both the futurity and slot race before returning east to win the Panty Raid Futurity.

“She is just so gritty,” he said. “She never quits trying. Some horses will quit you if you get out of position, with her it doesn’t matter if you’re in the right position or not, she’s going to dig, claw, try to get something done. I think that means a lot. No matter what, she’s going to try when she goes through there.”

Adkins admits it wasn’t a straight shot to success. During the summer, they had a few poor showings at futurities because Beyoncé was slipping. Adkins and Lear discussed some changes and Beyoncé had a shoeing change and Lear made a bit change all to help stand her up more.

It all came together for them at Pink Buckle.

Pink Buckle

Lear and Beyoncé turned in a 17.147 on the standard pattern in the first go to place fourth. They followed it up with a 10th-place finishing 17.265 to win the average.

“The first go, she made a pretty good trip,” said Lear. “I was just trying to get around the barrels and go fast. I’ve really been working on her being consistent. She stayed really true for me there. The second go, she made another nice run, kind of had a little slip here and there, but I was pleased with her.”

The duo were some of the last to run in the first go so they had an early draw for the second, which left a lot of time to see if their time would hold for the victory.

“It’s kind of nerve-wracking sitting there counting them off,” Lear admitted. “I had only seen a couple of them go before me. I knew the girl that won the first go left a little room for me to get in there. The other girl that ran a 1 had a 17.8 so I knew I had dodged two bullets right there. I just knew I had to go in there and make a nice run to put the pressure on the other ones. It all worked out. I had to sit there wait and sweat because Ryann had that one in the last drag. I had to wait a whole 114 horses.”

“I gained a greater appreciation for every breeder,” said Adkins.

Ashley Schafer & Busby Quarter Horses' Jets Letters Ta Abby Tops Pink Buckle $600,000 Open

By Tanya Randall

Jets Letters Ta Abby ("Jax") loves the Lazy E Arena in Guthrie, Oklahoma. The 5-year-old gelding ridden by Ashley Schafer for his owners and breeders Jeff and Andrea Busby of Busby Quarter Horses topped 1D Average of the $600,000 Open at the Pink Buckle.

"He ran a 16.8 and a 16.9 last year at the Pink Buckle and won third in the average," recalled Schafer. "He was third across the board—third in the both rounds and average of the futurity and open both. He likes Lazy E."

This year the gelding got a little faster. He turned in a 16.984 to place third in the first round and a 16.792, the fastest time of the event, to win the second round. The aggregate championship was worth $32,832 plus $3,863 for the Busbys on behalf of his sire Blazin Jetolena and $1,932 for the breeder's share for a total of $38,627.

"He just felt really good," said Schafer. "He's really a super easy horse to ride. He's really gritty and wants to work so honest, which is really nice. The main thing with his is keeping him quiet before you run, so I just stand beside him and pet him and love on him before I go in. A person or two before my turn, I'll get on him and walk him flat-footed up there. The quieter he is when he goes in the better he works."

Schafer said the gelding has always clocked well, although his style can be deceiving. In fact, when she took the lead in the first round the lack of reaction made her question if she actually had. "It was really funny," she chuckled. "I looked at the clock when I was coming out and realized that it was a 16.98. I was pretty sure a

16.99 was winning it up to that point so I thought he might be leading it. But nobody made a big deal of it. The announcer said his time and literally went on. I thought 'Did I knock a barrel over? What happened? I swear he should be leading it.' I even called my husband, 'Did I hit a barrel?' He said, 'No! You're winning it!' I was like 'Really?' He's so smooth and effortless that he doesn't look like there is going to be a leader change. It doesn't look that fast. He's really a cool horse."

Bred by the Busby's out of the proven performing Dash Ta Fame daughter Real Famous Abby, Jax started his barrel career with Schafer as he was turning 3 after being started under saddle as a 2-year-old by Bryce Manning.

He had a good start to his futurity year but had an injury early on that kept him out until the fall. In fact, he'd only had a handful of runs back before winning third at Pink Buckle last year. Jax stayed with Schafer until after the Old Fort Days Derby this year when he went to Colorado for rodeo seasoning.

"With all my futurity horses and Payson (her and husband Seth's son), I don't have time to rodeo," she said. "(The Busbys) took him with them to Colorado this summer to try to get him seasoned a little bit to rodeos. Ashley Martinkus rode him. She interned for me for over a year and she'd been working for the Busbys for just over a year now too. All summer she took him along and ran him at some rodeos and jackpots. She did a really nice job with him. When I got back on him I didn't have to do any fixing, I was just able to take him and go win on him."

Schafer had only been back on Jax two weeks and had made only one run on the gelding before running at the Pink Buckle.

"I got one run on him at Glen Rose before we left," she said. "I took him through and just cruised to get my feel back with him. That's all I needed. He's an easy ride."

Schafer wanted to thank Jeff and Andrea Busby for the opportunity to ride Jax and be a part of Pink Buckle.

"I thought it was an outstanding event," she said. "I think it's great for the industry. I'm looking forward for what's yet to come. I want to thank everyone that's had a part in it."

THE RUNDOWN w/Ashley Schafer

Jets Letters Ta Abby "Jax" 15.1 hands, 1,100 lbs.

BIT: Jr Cowhorse "I honestly couldn't remember what I had been running him in. This weekend I threw the Jr. cowhorse on him. It's my favorite bit and my go to."

SADDLE: Coats

SADDLE PAD: Classic Equine Felt Pad

LEG GEAR: Classic Equine Legacy II, front only

SHOEING: Rims on front, regular shoes on back

FEED: Since Schafer only had him two weeks she kept him on the Busby's feed:

KER's Re-Leve

HAY: Alfalfa

SUPPLEMENTS: Also came with him from Busbys—Purina Outlast & a probiotic

ALTERNATIVES THERAPIES: Cold Water Spa, Magna Wave at event; Hansbo therapeutic blanket

CONDITIONING-TRAINING REGIMEN: "Ashley Martinkus had him tuned up really good. With that horse we really focus on keeping his front end up and his hind end kicked up under him—like stop him and step his hip in at the barrels and lope him around with his hip in and his head elevated because he has a lower in the frontend kind of style. Just to counter balance it, we make sure he stays really stood up and his hip pushed up underneath him. I don't really work the barrels on a horse like him every day. A lot of the time I would just take him out to the pasture and trot and lope him out there. Even trotting and loping in the pasture, I make sure he doesn't break at the wither. He can break at the poll, but not at wither."

SPONSORS: Rock & Roll Cowgirl, Classic Equine, Forco, Silver Living Herbs, Coats Saddlery, MVP and Kahm CBD.

Brittany Tonzzi Kick Starts 2020 with Waco Win

By Hope Raley

Lampasas, Texas cowgirl Brittany Pozzi-Tonzzi figured it would be a good idea if she just went ahead and kickstarted the 2020 Pro Rodeo season with a win at the Heart O' Texas Fair & Rodeo in Waco, Texas. Pozzi-Tonzzi piloted her home-grown mare Ima Famous Babe (Katniss), who is by Dash Ta Fame and out of Pozzi-Tonzzi's great producing mare Streakin Six Babe by Streakin Six, to the tune of $4,527 with an aggregate time of 47.49-seconds. Her total haul for the rodeo was a whopping $9,525.

The #5 WPRA Barrel Racer headed to Las Vegas in just a few short weeks, Pozzi-Tonzzi made three solid runs in the Extraco Events Center aboard "Katniss".

"We made a nice smooth run in the first round and placed," said Pozzi-Tonzzi. "I then got a chance to take her to my vet, Dr. Marty Tanner, who did a little tune-up on her, and she came back firing hard!"

A little TLC from her favorite veterinarian is all that "Katniss" needed and she and Pozzi-Tonzzi came back to win the second round and place third in the finals, securing the average. This win was extra sweet for Pozzi-Tonzzi as she and Sixth Vision "Stitch" also won this rodeo back in 2003. "I won Waco in 2003 on Stitch, that was his very first rodeo win. I am so happy that Katniss is following in his footsteps. Both horses are very special!" Pozzi-Tonzzi's daughter Tinlee was there to see her mom win the iconic rodeo and having Tinlee there to share the win with her made it that much sweeter!

"It is so much fun getting to rodeo together as a family, my husband Garrett, Tinlee, and myself," said Pozzi-Tonzzi. "Win or lose, Tinlee is always my #1 fan and it just does not get any better than that."

All Pozzi-Tonzzi's horses get their time on her freestyle walker every day, and she usually rides them two to three times a week depending on her rodeo schedule and each individual horse's needs.

As a side note to this story, the Finals of this rodeo were very exciting; Ivy Hurst on Top Of The Roc broke the arena record with a 15.61 only to have Taylor Langdon and Dashinlouie go right after them and break it again with a 15.57.

Inaugural Pink Buckle Horse Sale Nets $936,800

By Tanya Randall

The Pink Buckle Barrel Horse Sale, held October 11 at the Lazy E Arena in Guthrie, Oklahoma, netted $936,800 in its debut. The average price on net was an incredible $19,932, while the median price was an industry high $16,000.

Crystal Nichols' NickleBar Ranch, LLC., consigned the high seller. Sipping On Firewater, a 4-year-old daughter of Shawne Bug Leo, is out of the proven performer Firewater Squaw, by Fire Water Flit. Shawne Bug Leo has sired documented earners of more than $600,000. Firewater Squaw was a futurity finalist in the arena and is a full sister to Firewater Fast, a 1D winner on three continents, and Miss Doubtfire Flit, a proven black-type barrel horse producer. The 5-year-old futurity eligible filly sold to Tiffani Sonnier for $80,000. The second high-seller was the first horse through the ring, Kyle Edwards and Sue Smith consigned Im Ur Huckleberry, a 3-year-old gray gelding, that sold for $70,000 to Kelly Drosihn. The well-started gelding is by Firewater Canyon, an up-and-coming sire by Fire Water Flit out of the leading performer and producer Mulberry Canyon Moon. From his first crop to the arena, Firewater Canyon is the sire of Dash Ta Fire Canyon, who had placed in the top five of the first go of the Pink Buckle Futurity the day prior to the sale. Im Ur Huckleberry is out of the proven performer and producer Daisy Duke Dash, by Dash Ta Fame, making him a half-brother to Jr American Reserve Champion Teena Turner, an earner of more than $50,000.

Paid For A Fling was the third favorite with bidders, selling for $42,000 to DeAnn Morgan. Consigned by Thomas and Laine Sampson, the 4-year-old gelding was clocking 1D times and eligible for 5-year-old futurities. He was also started in breakaway roping and had been used extensively on the ranch. Paid For A Fling is by the Sampson's Paddy Irish Whiskey stallion Irish Pay, and out of Torias Little Fling, a proven performer in the roping arena. Torias Little Fling is a full sister to BFA World Futurity Amateur Champion Fergies Fling, by A Streak Of Fling.

A pair of $40,000 horses rounded out the top five high-sellers—Special Kinda Fame and Canyonmyspeedo.

Consigned by Myers Performance Horses, Special Kinda Fame, a 2-year-old gray gelding, is by the Myers junior stallion Ima Special KindaGuy. A son of the legendary Frenchmans Guy out of the Special Leader, Bugs Alive In 75 daughter Melt Away, Ima Special KindaGuy's oldest foals are 3-year-olds this year. Special Kinda Fame comes from black-type barrel horse producer Disarray, by Dash Ta Fame. Special Kinda Fame is a three-quarter sibling to 2011 Equi-Stat Leading Futurity Horse Guys Famous Girl, American qualifier and futurity slot race champion Famous Mic Guy Ver and Guys R A Mystery, who helped Stevi Hillman qualify for the 2019 NFR. The gelding was purchased by Tammy Hickey.

Canyonmyspeedo, a gray yearling colt, was consigned by Copper Spring Ranch. The stallion prospect was loaded with black-type. His sire is Firewater Canyon and his dam is leading performer and producer, multiple slot race winner Famous Silk Panties, by Dash Ta Fame. Canyonmyspeedo is a half-brother to Old Fort Days Futurity Reserve Champion SR Godiva, multiple futurity finalist SR Schill Be Commando and Valley Girls Breeders Futurity Champion The Kandyman. He sold to Dunn Ranch, owners of his paternal granddam Mulberry Canyon Moon.

Of the 74 cataloged horses, 71 walked through the ring with 47 (66 percent) changing hands. Repurchases and sold horses are both eligible for the $100,000 Sale Graduate Futurity Incentive for 2020 and the $100,000 Sale Graduate Futurity Incentive & $100,000 Sale Graduate Open 4D Incentive in 2021. They will always be eligible for the Pink Buckle Open 4D Sale Graduate Side-pot in the years to follow at the Pink Buckle Barrel Races.

Overall, the futurity eligible prospects carried the sale with the 5-year-old futurity eligible 4-year-olds averaging $39,625 and the 4-year-old futurity eligible 3-year-olds averaging $24,900. Their median price was $33,750 for the 4-year-olds and $22,000 for the 3-year-olds.

The 2-year-olds had an average price of $19,059 and median of $17,000, while the yearlings sold for an average price of $14,027 and $10,000 median.

Headin' For Home

by Sherry Morrison
Triple M (Mike Morrison Ministries)

How many of you read the ratings on hotels or Amazon before you make a decision? Our praise leader asked us that question the other day. I had to think. Yep. I read some of them before making a decision.

And how many of us ask friends/family what they think and what they'd do "if..." I'm more apt to do that than read a review. Well how about you?

I hope you answered this question right. Because we need to ask God FIRST! Man, it's so easy to say, "Well, I guess all we can do now is pray." WE SHOULD HAVE DONE THAT IN FIRST PLACE! Putting God first place in everything we say and do is our reasonable service.

Jesus is our Lord. Lord means boss. So it would be wisdom to ask Him for direction, for help, and for answers as opposed to the world and how they rate anything. Less frustration. Fewer mistakes. That will get a 5 star rating from me every time!
