Dream Come True - Shelby Robbins & Mr Golden Jess Top CBHI's Super Stakes, earn $43,753

By Tanya Randall

When Shelby Robbins of Killam, Alberta, purchased Mr Golden Jess ("Roo") as a 3-year-old out of the 2018 Top Gun Sale, she was hoping to create her "forever" rodeo horse. Competing in a futurity much less winning Canada's richest never crossed her mind.

Her horse had other plans.

Robbins, a part-time veterinary technician, and her 5-year-old gelding turned in the fastest run of their careers, a 17.233 on a Standard Pattern, to win the lucrative Canadian Barrel Horse Incentive Futurity Super Stakes, which was determined by the fastest run from an eligible horses competing in the qualifying rounds of the regular CBHI Futurity. The victory paid $37,080 to Robbins and $12,360 to Sandy Ridge Stallion Station, owners of Roo's sire Crimson Jess.

"I've always dreamed of winning... I didn't know much about futurities, but I dreamed about having a moment like this," said Robbins. "I've struggled a lot with being confident--I deserve to be here just like everyone else, why can't I just go make a run? I still can't wrap my head around all that has happened. I'm extremely thankful and blessed to have him."

Robbins grew up riding and started running barrels when she was 9. For the most part, her rides were her father's team roping horses and one finished horse she got from Molly Powell. When injury and age left her without a competitive horse, she went looking for a young horse.

"I was looking to buy a horse but I couldn't really afford anything expensive or started," she explained. "I actually wasn't planning on buying that young, but that's all I could afford."

She went to the 2018 Top Gun Sale with her eye on a 3-year-old, but with a $9,000 bid, it was out of her price range. She settled on the best horse she could afford, Roo, who was raised by Dave and Barb Poulsen and out of their Rich Holly Jinx mare Hollys Golden Jet.

"When I bought him, I was looking for a small, cutting-bred sized horse. He's the tallest horse I've ever rode," she laughed.

After visiting with Barb Poulsen, Robbins was reminded that Roo was eligible for the CBHI and Super Stakes. At the time, Robbins was still focused on making herself a horse for rodeos and the challenges of riding and training a young horse with only 90 days under saddle.

"I had never started a horse on the pattern before so I just went with what he was comfortable with," said the self-professed timid rider. "I had a really good mentor, Cindy Gamroth, who helped me out a lot with training him on the pattern."

In mid-December 2019, Robbins took Roo to his first jackpot without even an exhibition under his belt.

"I was kind of chicken," she laughed. "That was the first place he'd ever gone other than going once or twice with my dad to team rope. I was pretty gun shy to leave home with a young horse and let them see the sights."

She went to a couple more jackpots over the winter and any hopes of seasoning Roo in the spring were cancelled by COVID. Once they got going about mid-summer, Robbins started having people encourage her to try the futurities with Roo.

"I had some people tell me he was ready to go and that I should go to them," she said. Robbins opted to make her futurity debut at the Big Bang Futurity in Winfield, Alberta. "There was one in Maple Creek which was too far. Winfield was close to home so I could haul in and out from the futurity to home. He worked really good, but I was super nervous and didn't ride that great. He did good for that being the biggest thing he'd ever seen. He took it all in really well."

Roo did well enough that Robbins was inspired to work on herself and her mental preparation.

"I'm a huge fan of Fallon Taylor, so I'd watch all her videos on YouTube and follow her on social media," she said. "She always says preparing yourself is just as important. I also listened a lot to Jay Shetty. I'd never done this before but I started meditating because I am a more nervous, anxious person."

Mid-September, they attended a barrel race in Brooks, Alberta, and everything started to come together.

"I actually placed second in the open and won the futurity sidepot," she said. "So, it was after that I was like, 'Holy crap! He's a lot further along than I thought!'"

Robbins kept working on herself and before the CBHI she wrote down her goals on a piece of paper. One of those goals was winning the CBHI.

"I struggle with confidence and knowing that I can do this," she said. "I really prepped myself to be mentally strong. I wanted to be competitive and show that he belongs with those competitive horses, but I honestly did not expect what happened!"

With small goals leading to big ones, Robbins' first goal at CBHI was to run a 17.8 with Roo on a Standard Pattern. They accomplished that in the warmup race before the futurity even started.

In the first round of the futurity, they posted another personal best, a 17.603.

“His first run was actually the fastest that I’ve ever run on a Standard Pattern, so I was very pumped,” she said. “After that I was like, ‘You know what I think he can be in the top 10.’”

Their second run was an incredible 17.233.

“Sunday’s run I knew I had to be fast to make it to the short go and be in the top eight. I wasn’t even thinking that we would win it,” she said. “I just was like, ‘We’re just going to go out there and make a run.’ After my run when I heard my time I was just in disbelief. I can’t believe he was as fast as what he was. I was just super proud. When I found out we won it, I can’t even remember the rest of the day after that! I couldn’t wrap my head around it. I was so in shock. There were so many good horses and riders there.”

They still had a short go run to make. With her new found confidence, Robbins sent Roo to the first barrel harder than she ever has.

They had a little timing bobble at the first, but still finished fourth in the short round and second in the average for $5,521. An open check gave them total earnings of $43,763.

Robbins wanted to thank her parents, fiancé, Gamroth and Taylor—even though she doesn’t know her—for helping her on this journey. She says her special horse is getting a break before returning to the practice pen for some fine tuning.

“There are some things that I noticed at CBHI in my videos that I want to correct,” she said. “I’d like to have him running good again his derby year, but I don’t know if I plan to haul to the derbies hardcore. I want to go to CBHI again next year for the derby and maybe hit up some rodeos eventually.

“My plan was for him to be my forever rodeo horse so I’ll go with what he’s ready for. I don’t want to push him too hard because he means so much to me.”

AIRWAY EQ

"Air-Way EQ is the first product I have seen work in aiding airway/lung health and help clear up a cough. I use Breathe'O2 paste for pre-run support, it also helps clear the airway, allowing him to breathe easier and work harder."

Big Money at West Coast Barrel Racing Finals

Hope Raley

The West Coast Barrel Racing Association wrapped up their 2020 season this past weekend at their annual finals and the competition was fierce and world class! "We had an amazing 2020 West Coast Barrel Racing Association Finals in King City, California this past week, paying out $324,602," explained Bailey Nahrgang. Five Double J Saddles, Yeti products galore, and countless other great awards-along with the cash payout- were given out to the lucky winners and Nahrgang was proud to report that this year's finals was probably the best finals yet as far as happy contestants go!

It was the younger generation that was the talk of the WCBRA Finals, with 17-year-old Casey Mathis winning the 1D average and 20-year-old Hunter Morgan running the fastest time of the entire finals- a smokin' 16.696 on a WPRA standard pattern. Mathis, who was born in Hollister, California and now lives in Washoe Valley, Nevada, has been riding and competing since she was three years old. In 2015 she took her barrel racing career to the next level after she qualified to the American Semi-Finals. She has since qualified to the American Semi-Finals two more times, qualified to the Jr World Finals twice, set several arena records, and now she can add WCBRA Finals 1D Average winner to that impressive resume.

Mathis has been attending WCBRA Finals for as long as she can remember, and it has been a major part of every year for her and her mom. This year, Mathis came into the finals in 8th place in the year end standings with 9,611 points. In the first round, Mathis and her horse SH Stylish And Sly "Slyster" ran a 17.120 in the first round and a 17.095 in the second round placing 5th in both rounds and overall winning the 1D open and youth average.

SH Stylish And Sly is a 9-year-old gelding by Sly Cooper and out of Stylish Spice by Docs Stylish Oak. Mathis' mom got "Slyster" in 2015 as a 4-year-old and patterned him then. SH Stylish And Sly went on to have a successful futurity year and Mathis has been running him since the end of 2018.

"I won $7,799, a beautiful Double J Saddle, a Yeti cooler and many other cool awards," explained Mathis. "I want to extend a huge thank you to all the sponsors of the WCBRA and the WCBRA Finals! Without them, none of this would be possible!" Mathis looks forward to attending the WCBRA Finals every year because they have something to offer all levels of riders. "Whether you are a professional barrel racer or a beginner, you have the chance to win big money, awesome awards, and run on fun, safe ground. I will never miss the WCBRA Finals as long as I can attend!"

Mathis is grateful for her family and friends along with her sponsors- CSI Saddle Pads, 4Flat Tack, Western Dove, Draw It Out, CoolAid Recovery- and of course the WCBRA Finals sponsors for making the event so great!

Full time dentist Kris Gadbois from San Diego was the high money winner of the week, cashing in $16,600 for her stellar efforts while in King City! Gadbois, who works for the Department of Defense at Naval Hospital Camp Pendleton, admits when asked about her 2020-barrel racing season, she feels like there really was not much of one! Gadbois' husband was deployed on the USS Mercy to aid in the Covid19 response and being a new mom to a 5-month-old baby girl and a job that is considered "essential", Gadbois really had no free time to keep her horses ridden or legged up.

"Shannon Hughes with Jump Start Equine Therapy took my horses and kept them in shape through a swimming and flat work program," explained Gadbois. "I only started really riding again in June when the races started to resume."

The first round at the WCBRA Finals did not quite go as planned, but Gadbois modified a few things, including her approach to the first barrel, and round two went much smoother. All four of her horses ran 17.1's or faster in the second round and ended up 2nd, 3rd, 6th and 9th in the 1D on Sunday.

It was Gadbois' 12-year-old Frenchmans Guy daughter Sheza Frenchmans Guy "Bugs" that ended up the reserve open 1D WCBRA champion, running two 17.1's. Gadbois also ran 14-year-old CRCS Regaldash, 7-year-old Famous Goodbye Lane, and 5-year-old Dapper Da Great and all of their efforts helped in that big pay day.

"The WCBRA Finals is an outstanding event not only because of the insane payout, but also because it is great to be able to support the wonderful people that put so much effort into that association and making sure that we have an event like this to compete at on the West Coast. Bailey and Taylor Nahrgang do an incredible job and are just wonderful people. I am always happy to make the trip and support them!"

Gadbois would also like to thank her sponsors that have continued to support her over the years- Best Ever Pads and Phytosana CBD.

Saving the best for last, Hunter Morgan from Lincoln, California and her mare LilCorona N Big Town stole the spotlight on Sunday when they blazed the cloverleaf pattern in a jaw-dropping 16.695-second run that gave many spectators goosebumps! "I have struggled with riding this mare correct at all three barrels because she is pretty powerful and can leave me behind," explained Morgan. "We turned all three barrels, so that alone felt pretty amazing and I knew she was going to be fast, but I never imagined that fast!"

Morgan then went on to say that a time like that on a WPRA standard pattern is something you never even dream about. "Sweet Tea, as we call her, is an absolute freak. She is the perfect combination of power and quick feet, but most importantly, she has a huge heart that allows her to love her job and try hard no matter what."

High Valor wins AQHA Horse of the Year for Second Straight Year

Last week the high anticipated AQHA Horses of the Year were released. Topping that list in the barrel racing for the second year in a row was the speedy sorrel, High Valor (ridden and owned by Dona Kay Rule). He is the first back to back winner since Firewater Fiesta back in 2000-2001. Only three other horses have won back to back titles; Firewater Fiesta, French Flash Hawk (Bozo), and Gills Bay Boy (Scamper).

Coming in 2nd in the voting was Bidding On Fame (Beau) (Pc Frosty Bid-Jaxsons Olympic Face, Poco Lijerito) ridden and owned by Emily Miller and 3rd was Lean Mean Blue Dean (Blue Dean) (Dean Miracle-Luv Her Winner, Runaway Winner) ridden and owned by Jill Wilson.

The Barrel Racing Report decided to catch up with Dona Kay Rule and ask her a few questions about her very special horse and the special awards he has won.

High Valor (Valor) - 2 Time WPRA/PRCA Barrel Horse Of The Year

Bred and Raised by Lana (Merrick) Bailey

Interview w/ Dona Kay Rule

BRR: Anyone watching you and High Valor knows how special of a horse he is and the really tight connection you have with him. Tell us about Valor and what it means to you for him to win this award for the 2nd Straight Time?

Rule: It is unbelievable! I have said it before, if you work hard you should win or at least feel like you deserve what you've worked for but when "they" vote for you, my goodness that is such an honor. Valor has tried so hard to do whatever I ask of him and when traveling by yourself (which is what I do) you feel kind of invisible but to see that others can see him giving me his heart... it just chokes me up! And two times?? Wow, because there are so many great horses, I am beside myself.

BRR: Keeping a horse working correctly and happy that is high energy and high functioning like Valor is, is a full time job. What is your day to day schedule with him to keep him happy and firing so consistently in the wide variety of conditions you run into in rodeo?

Rule: I spend LOTS of time with him. I do not drill him, I do a big variety of things that include whatever I need from him in a turn or just exposing him to a little "distraction" while training to keep his attention where it belongs. For instance, if I go to the pasture I will pick a tree to "sit down, slow down, turn". I long trot up and down lots of hills at home to keep him in good shape. I'm a big believer in conditioning

BRR: What are some of his likes?

Rule: He likes to know I'm close by when we travel without other horses. I will often just sit in a chair close by where he is stalled or in his pen set up by the trailer. It's a big deal to him to be connected and I think it gives him confidence.

Even at home I will turn him out in the pasture and he'll run a lap or so, eat about 15 minutes worth of grass then come find me. That sounds like I am crazy and I might be just a little, but its true!

BRR: What are some of his dislikes?

Rule: He hates and I mean hates when they sort bucking horses for the rodeo! He will freeze in place and you just have to wait until he gets a hold of himself or just get where he can't see them anymore.

BRR: Valor's favorite treat?

Rule: I'm not a big one to feed treats but at the end of each run I do offer horse treats when I get him unsaddled and he's usually pretty anxious to get them

BRR: So if you had one training tip to share with people from your experience training Valor; what would it be?

Rule: Slow down, be more correct, be very correct before you add the next speed. If you cannot execute your work perfectly do not add the next speed. You can always go back and fix if you have a good foundation

Thank you so much for your time and Congratulations on your well deserved win Dona Kay - Barrel Racing Report

Emily Miller Beisel & Namgis D 33 Sweep Prairie Circuit Finals Rodeo

By Tanya Randall

Newlywed Emily (Miller) Beisel dusted off her gray rocket Namgis 33 (“Chongo”) for Prairie Circuit Finals Rodeo, held October 16-17 in Duncan, Oklahoma, and swept the competition by more than 8/10ths of a second to win $6,124.

“We are super thankful to have the circuit finals,” said Beisel, who currently sits second in the 2021 WPRA World Standings thanks to the circuit finals. “That was my eighth straight trip. I knew that circuit finals and Kissimmee were going to count, they announced that at last year’s circuit finals, so I made sure I was in a good position coming in. It was fun to come in No. 1 and it was an exciting weekend.”

The two-time National Finals Rodeo qualifier from Weatherford, Oklahoma, also won the year-end title. Tamara Reinhardt from Canadian, Texas, who finished second in the standings, will join Beisel at the RAM National Circuit Finals Rodeo in 2021.

Beisel and her 10-year-old gelding, by Bucks Hancock Dude out of Track Goddess by Eysa Special, won the first round by 3/10ths and won the second round by nearly a half second.

“Chongo loves Duncan,” she said. “He loves that arena and that helps.”

Beisel says a lot of people questioned her decision to get off Bidden For Fame (“Beau”) and get on Chongo for the circuit finals. “I said, ‘Guys I haven’t been on Chongo much the past couple of months. I’ve got to get some runs on him before Arlington, just to make sure I know how to ride him!’ They are very different styles of horses. Going back and forth between them isn’t too complicated but I don’t want to be super rusty when we get to Arlington and forget which horse I’m on!” she laughed.

The dental hygienist is headed into her second straight Wrangler National Finals Rodeo, which will be held at Globe Life Field in Arlington, Texas. The chaotic COVID season not only wreaked havoc on her job—the dental offices were closed nearly six weeks—it also put some serious kinks into her rodeo plans. A quiet winter and bumpy Fourth of July made her change her game plan and make a horse change.

“I didn’t have a bad Fourth of July, but I hit a lot of expensive barrels,” said Beisel, who is 12th in the 2020 WPRA World Standings with $42,388. “I hit a barrel to do really well at Prescott. I caught a barrel to win third at Cody (Wyoming). After all of that I just looked and I was outside the Top 15, I was watching all of these rodeos get cancelled and these major sporting event get cancelled, I didn’t feel like there was a light at the end of the tunnel mid-July that gave me good incentive to stay on (Chongo). I felt that it was in his best interest to let him rest.”

She jumped in with Michelle Darling and only put Beau on the trailer.

“I thought I’d give him a chance at some of the things he’s never been to before,” she said. “He was ready for it and it was time. If I had Chongo in the trailer... it’s hard to step off of one that can go win for you like Chongo has for me, so I left him at home and eliminated that decision making.”

Her focus also had changed, since the fate of the WNFR like so many major events was up in the air, she chose to focus on being in position for a 2021 run.

“Truly my goal was to make sure I was ranked for next year’s rodeos and get (Beau) some more experience,” she said. “I’ve competed on Beau the last two-and-a-half years or so, but I’ve never let him have a chance at big rodeos on good ground. Typically, I’d run my main horse at those. He got to run in a lot of mud or smaller circuit rodeos.”

Both Chongo and Beau have been in Beisel’s trailer since January of 2018. She had purchased Beau at the end of his futurity year from the Youree-Ward family. Former WPRA World Champion Janae Massey had trained Beau and knew that Beisel could give the gelding the time and attention he needed.

“She straight up told me, ‘Emily, you can give this horse the time he needs. He needs more one-on-one time than what I’m able to do for him. He also needs some time to grow up. He’s just a really immature gelding. The best thing you can do is put him on the trailer whether you’re running him or not, just haul him.’ So, I did. I took him everywhere his 5-year-old year, his 6-year-old year,” she said. This year Beau really stepped up at the pro rodeo in Tucson, Arizona. Beisel had sent him West with a friend while she stayed with Chongo at San Antonio.

“He ended up winning second behind Stevi (Hillman) and Sharp,” she said. “I was like, ‘Okay, he can handle the different kind of ground, he can run in back to back performances, he seems to be handling it.’ We just kept building on that and eventually I felt like I could leave Chongo at home and this horse will take care of business.”

Beau did most of the work to gain Beisel her circuit titles. The 7-year-old gelding by PC Frosty Bid out of Jaxsons Olympic Fame, by Poco Lijerito, was also named Prairie Circuit Horse With The Most Heart by Beisel’s peers. Incidentally, Famous Hayday, who helped WPRA Rookie of the Year Paige Jones qualify for the Prairie Circuit Finals is also out of Jaxsons Olympic Fame.

“That was really special,” Beisel said of Beau’s honor. “Chongo has always got to shine on the big stage, but Beau has been in the background doing the dirty work, so it was fun this year that he got to show himself off a little bit at the bigger scale of rodeos. There aren’t many people that can say they have horses like Beau and Chongo in their lineup. I’m pretty dang fortunate and blessed.”

Beisel also wanted to commend the Prairie Circuit and the circuit finals committee for giving all the contestants a chance to rodeo. “I’m super thankful to be a part of the Prairie Circuit,” she said. “They stepped up and stuck their necks out. I know how hard it was for them to move forward.”

Arizona's Legacy horses popular this fall

Despite the pandemic this year, the annual Legacy Ranch Horse Sale on September 19 in Prescott, Arizona, attracted record crowds. A 4-year-old palomino roan sold to Straight A Cattle Company of Arizona for $27,500 and a 6-year-old sorrel gelding out of an NFR tie-down roping mare sold for $25,000.

The annual sale offers 35 head of proven ranch horses, many of which are also arena prospects and already team roping both ends, plus a few colts and broodmares. In 2020, geldings averaged $13,068 per head with mares bringing an average of $12,000. The sale was webcast on Visworks.com with photos and videos available on RanchHorseSale.com. Bids were taken in person, online and by telephone.

The Legacy sale is a unique collaboration of three historic Arizona ranches. The K4 Ranch, Campwood Cattle Company, and Diamond A Ranch still operate on old traditions in northern Arizona's roughest country. The horses they raise carry the brands of outfits with a collective 300-plus years of daily ranch work in vast, harsh country that demands a horse that can do it all.

The high-selling horse was K4 Ranch's 4-year-old gelding Blaze N Glory Booger, by Booger's Cross Bell out of Driftin Strawberry. The Kieckhefer family began raising horses in the 1940s and run 3,000 mother cows on K4 holdings in California and southern Arizona. ProRodeo Hall-of-Famer Chuck Sheppard ran the program for decades, and the ranch stood Driftwood Ike for 17 years.

The high seller boasts Cee Booger Red on both sides, and his dam is a granddaughter of Orphan Drift. Cee Booger Red packs the mixture of Three Bars, Chicaro and Clabber. The K4 has also been breeding former AQHA Superhorse and Dual Pep son Popular Resortfigure to Driftwood mares. The second-high-selling horse, Boogersgonnabefamous, is a grandson of Popular Resortfigure out of the Cee Booger Red mare on whom Rick Kieckhefer roped calves on at the National Finals Rodeo.

The McCrae family's Campwood outfit includes the historic 7 Up Ranch north of Prescott, and other holdings on which they run thousands of cattle and stand Easy Moving Streaker (by A Streak Of Fling) and A Rhinestone Cowboy (by Sadie's Frosty Drift – the highest-earning son of Frenchman's Guy). And the Diamond A – the largest ranch in Arizona – combines Cholla Livestock with K4 holdings to run 6,000 head of mother cows. The Diamond A has 10 fulltime cowboys and a remuda of 75 saddle horses, 30 broodmares and three stallions.

Legacy sale horses carry the bloodlines of generations of horses with cow sense, intelligence, and athletic ability. Fittingly, the auction is annually held in conjunction with Olsen's Arizona Equifest – a weekend of barrel racing and roping, vendor booths, entertainment, clinics, and demonstrations at Prescott Rodeo Grounds.

For more information, and to get on the mailing list for next year's sale, visit www.ranchhorsesale.com or email legacyhorsesale@icloud.com.

Rodeo Austin to Host New Event with Round Rock Express "Bulls in the Ballpark" Comes to Dell Diamond November 13 and 14

Rodeo Austin is excited to partner with the Round Rock Express to host "Bulls in the Ballpark" at Dell Diamond on November 13 and 14, 2020. Bulls in the Ballpark is a brand new, two-night event featuring the toughest bull riders facing off against the rowdiest bulls in a PRCA Xtreme Bull Riding.

The event will also include fan favorite Mutton Bustin' nightly – young cowboys and cowgirls testing their skills and trying to hold on for eight seconds! Both nights will showcase 35 top bull riders competing for $20,000 in prize money and the title of Bulls in the Ballpark Champion. Gates are scheduled to open each night at 6:00 p.m. with the event beginning at 7:00 pm. Tickets start at $20 and are available now via RRExpress.com.

Rodeo Austin fans will see and hear some familiar faces and voices at Bulls in the Ballpark. Wayne Brooks, award-winning announcer and long-time Rodeo Austin announcer, will be at the mic. Justin Rumford, Rodeo Austin's barrel man, will be bringing his specialty acts to the performances.

Fans will have the opportunity to enjoy Rodeo action at the ballpark in a safe and controlled environment. Dell Diamond will operate at a limited capacity to ensure guests have the space they need to remain socially distant. The seating bowl has been reconfigured to maintain social distancing between guests. Physical barriers are in place to enforce the restrictions in the seating bowl.

Per Texas Governor Greg Abbott's Executive Order on July 2, face coverings are required for individuals age 10 and older in public areas. Guests will be required to wear masks at Dell Diamond when entering, exiting and moving around the ballpark.

Fort Worth Stock Show Cancels 2021 Event

The executive committee of the Fort Worth Stock Show & Rodeo (FWSSR) voted unanimously Oct. 8, to cancel the 2021 Show scheduled for Jan. 15 through Feb. 6, according to a news release from the show.

"This is a heartbreaking decision for our leadership and was not made lightly," said Stock Show President and General Manager Brad Barnes in a news release.

More than 30,000 animals are typically exhibited in addition to about 2,300 participants in the art contest, judging contests, rodeos, and other competitions and exhibitions. Each event and competition – including the FWSSR ProRodeo Tournament – represents what's unique and important for every participant and guest.

Consequently, the decision was made to cancel all FWSSR events and features.

Daily Stock Show attendance can exceed 140,000 people that crowd into buildings at the Will Rogers Memorial Center to see livestock, shop, dine, enjoy the carnival-midway and petting zoo as well as watch the many shows and competitions.

The only other time the Stock Show was canceled was in 1943, near the height of World War II.

Nothing great was ever achieved
without enthusiasm.

HEADIN' FOR HOME

by Sherry Morrison // Triple M (Mike Morrison Ministries)

Can you tell if someone else is making a mistake? From your experience, can you see a train wreck coming... in someone else's life? Truly, if we have made the mistake ourselves, we have 2020 vision where that situation is concerned. So why is it hard for us to receive counsel or warning from someone else if we are the ones about to run off the road?

Pride. Stinking pride. It's easy to see in teenagers. Oh Lord, how stupid my parents were. And you've heard this said before, but the older I get, the smarter Dad and Mom were!

Does it have to be that way? No. But it takes a humble person to admit when they are wrrr..wrrr..oong...oong. Gosh, it's even harder to write than to say! LOL!

1 Pet. 5:6 exhorts us to humble ourselves under the mighty hand of God, that

He may exalt us in due time. But our flesh wants to be first and it will fight us!

Would we dare ask God to show us if we are full of pride? Yikes! You go first and let me know how it turns out... Seriously my friends, let's take the next step toward Godliness and let our good God get this stuff out of us! It'll clear the way for bigger and better blessings!
