Hello Houston--Kelly Bruner & Suzytresseis Win Cardholder's Race at WPRF World Finals

By Tanya Randall

Veterinarian Kelly Bruner's great fall run just keeps getting better. With $6,421 won just two weeks into the 2018 WPRF Season, Bruner and her talented 8-year-old gelding Suzytresseis ("Suzy") topped an extremely tough Cardholder's Race at the WPRF World Finals, held Oct. 18-22 in Waco, Texas.

Their victory in the Cardholder's Race was worth $8,539, which counts toward the 2018 standings, plus they gained a bye into next year's Rodeo Houston. At the close of the 2017 season, the WPRF announced that Rodeo Houston's committee would give up two of their three personal invites to allow the top two finishers at the WPRF World Finals to compete at the limited-entry rodeo, the richest of the regular season.

"I thought it was a super tough race and I'm really thankful they gave the Houston option," said Bruner, who hails from Millsap, Texas. She's hopeful that she can parlay her fall success into a similar path to the National Finals Rodeo as Mary Burger did in 2016 and Kassie Mowry did this year—win big at Rodeo Houston.

"Everybody would love to do the Mary Burger deal, but it's hard to walk away from a business," said Bruner, who tested the waters a bit last summer and finished 55th in the 2018 WPRF World Standings with $25,335. "To say, I'm going to make my living on this horse this year? That's hard to do. I'm hoping for San Antonio, I'm hoping for Houston and I'm hoping for the Circuit Finals—to do well there—and hopefully we can get a little bit of a cushion, just like everyone wants to do. AND, hope the horse stays sound!"

Her main horse is Suzy, who is by leading race and barrel horse sire Tres Seis out of Romancing Suzy, by Power of Romance. The off-track gelding was a 5-year-old futurity and standout derby horse. Bruner had worked Suzy, along with his barn mate Fabulous Zone ("Pinky") into rodeo competition the past two years, but she's had her ups-and-downs with the 'Boy Named Sue.'

"It's just taken him a while," she said. "He was running past the first barrel, like lapping the arena. We did the Rodeo Queen wave at Austin two years ago when he went into the first barrel and lapped the arena! I just had to get him under control, where he didn't run so hard. Then there was a period of time that I had to trust him—that he was going to come in and turn."

But there was a catch, Suzy also likes to peel paint too.

"That's the hard part—is he going to turn or not turn?" lamented Bruner. "That messed with my head for a long time. We've got to the point that if he's under control, I feel like we're going to have a good run. If he takes off with me in the alley though, the match

In Waco, Bruner was 23rd in the first round with a 15.324, but came back and won the second round with a 14.953. A second-place 15.013 in the short go gave them the three-run average championship.

"I tipped (bumped) the first barrel the first two runs," she recalled. "I was really lucky that I didn't have a downed barrel. The first run, I had him more under control. The second run, I let him run, but he still overrated. My husband said, 'You've changed your game plan. You're plan all year has been to walk him in and let him see where's going and then release him.' On the third run, he came in bouncing, but I stopped him. Then we went. He had to gather himself a little bit. We made a better first. He didn't fade in or drop in or anything. He stayed where I wanted him."

During the course of the Cardholder's Race, Bruner and Suzy picked up victories in the Gold Card Members Sidepot, worth $478, and the Divisional Circuit Sidepot, worth $1,121. Plus, they placed second in Saturday's All-Girl 4D for $1,143. Their total haul from Waco was $11,280.

Return to the Remuda Saw Record Sales

The annual fall sale was held October 7 at Four Sixes Ranch in Guthrie, Texas, and 166 horses were offered.

The 2017 Return to the Remuda sale, known for its quality ranch horses and cowboy reunion atmosphere, was hosted at the Four Sixes Ranch in Guthrie, Texas on October 7 and saw the highest gross and sale average in the history of the sale.

"The Return to the Remuda sale is always a highlight of the fall at the ranch," said the Four Sixes' Horse Division Manager Dr. Glenn Blodgett. "Each year, participating ranches choose some of their top horses to offer to the public. This year's record sale gross reflects decades of breeding history and the dedication these ranches have put into making their horses true working partners, desired both on the ranch and in the arena."

The annual event saw record sales of more than $1.4 million with an average of $8,450. This year's high seller was Salt Creek Lad, the 7-year-old gelding, consigned by the Four Sixes Ranch came from the string of Dusty Burson, and fetched $60,000. Circle Bar Ranch had two aged geldings bring $50,000 each, Circle Bar Sonofagun and Anchorspocopepsmoke. Complete sale results are available at www.6666ranch.com.

The 2018 Return to the Remuda sale will be held on October 6 in Guthrie, Texas.

ProRodeoTV to Livestream Canadian Finals Rodeo

The PRCA is pleased to announce that it is partnering with the Canadian Professional Rodeo Association and Northlands Coliseum to offer a livestream broadcast of the 44th Canadian Finals Rodeo on ProRodeoTV.

The Nov. 8-12 CFR will be exclusively broadcasted from Edmonton, Alberta, on ProRodeoTV.com. The broadcast will be available via home computers, laptops, tablets and smartphones.

"We are extremely excited and honored to be the exclusive content provider of the great Canadian Finals Rodeo through our relationship with the CPRA," said PRCA Chief Operating Officer Aaron Enget. "This is a big opportunity for both of our associations."

There are six total performances of the CFR, with four night performances beginning at 7:30 p.m. (MT) on Nov. 8-11. There are also 1 p.m. performances on Nov. 11-12, with the latter being the final round of the rodeo.

Watching the CFR livestream is as easy as logging on to www.prorodeotv.com and signing up for a subscription. In addition to CFR coverage, ProRodeoTV offers a variety of premium archived rodeo footage, including videos of past Wrangler National Finals Rodeo performances. ProRodeoTV will livestream more than 20 rodeos during the 2018 season, as well as the 2017 Wrangler National Finals Rodeo presented by Polaris RANGER - live internationally, and on a 12-hour delay domestically.

"The CPRA and our partners at Northlands are excited to bring the CFR live to the internet once again this year," said Jeff Robson, CPRA spokesman. "With the help of the PRCA, the viewers will get an exceptional product at an affordable price. We hope to grow this partnership and bring the CFR to the masses for the fans who are unable to attend the rodeo. Pay-Per-View live streaming is a great way to broaden our fan base."

"There is significant demand for the CFR to be available via livestreaming," CPRA President Terry Cooke added. "We're happy to work with the PRCA and Edmonton Northlands on this endeavor which will provide another avenue for ProRodeo fans to enjoy our sport."

ProRodeoTV packages to stream the CFR are $29.99 (USD), which includes all six performances. Courtesy of www.prorodeo.com

"I feel really blessed to have him in my hands," Bruner said of Suzy. She also wanted to thank her husband Jack Bruner, who also serves as her farrier.

"He puts the PolyFlex Glue-On Shoes on Suzy," she said. "Right now, he's got them front and back and he seems to do well like that. I'm not sponsored by them, but I really recommend them for anyone that has a horse that has flat feet or underslung heels. I've been using them for about the past three years."

Kylie Weast & Hell On The Red Find the Green at WPRFA World Finals Futurity

By Tanya Randall

Kylie Weast and Hell On The Red (“Reddy”) left the WPRFA World Finals in Waco, Texas, $11,003 richer. Weast and Reddy won the Futurity for $6,458 and finished third in the Cardholder’s Race for $4,827.53.

“For her to go make three solid runs against that kind of competition has really enlightened me a bit on what kind of horsepower I have,” said Weast, a third-generation barrel racer from the legendary Youree-Ward Family in Addington, Okla. “I’m just thrilled to have her in my barn. We are so blessed to have her. My grandparents and us—we’re all having a blast.”

Raised by Youree-Ward Barrel Horses—barrel racing pioneers Dale and Florence Youree, Weast’s parents James and Renee and their daughters Janae Massey, Cassie Ambrose and Weast—Reddy is by the industry’s hot, leading young sire JL Dash Ta Heaven. Reddy is the first performance age foal out of the Designer Red mare Designer Ruby.

Wound a little tight, Reddy was held back for the 5-year-old futurities and it’s paid huge dividends. Weast and Reddy won the Transwest Futurity earlier this year, the Summer Sizzler Futurity, placed at the BBR Finals Futurity, placed at the Doxa Extreme Futurity after winning the slot race and qualified for RFD-TV’s The American Semifinals.

Reddy also got her introduction to rodeo competition this summer. Her first rodeo was a three-night open rodeo just up the road from their house in Duncan. She won it all three nights. Reddy also won the open rodeo in Apache, Okla., before coming back to win her first pro rodeo in the same arena.

“She’s just kind of taken to it, but I haven’t really gone to that much as far as rodeos on her,” Weast admitted.

With the mare already proving her metal against rodeo horses in their own environment it wasn’t a stretch for Weast to enter the Cardholder’s Race at the WPRFA World Finals along with the Futurity. With the Cardholder’s Race taking priority over all other races, Weast made her three-runs for that race and carried her times over to the Futurity. With the Futurity being a two-run average, the first round and short go of the Cardholder’s Race were the runs that sealed up the Futurity victory for Weast and Reddy.

In the first round of the Cardholder’s Race on Friday, Weast and Reddy posted a 15.165, good enough for ninth in the Cardholder’s and third in the Futurity. On Saturday, they had their second run for the Cardholder’s, again finishing ninth with a 15.118. “It was another nice solid run, but it was a little wilder than the first run,” Weast explained. “So, I knew if I had to come back for that third run that I was going to have to put her together a little bit.”

With 60-plus years of barrel racing experience in the family, Weast was well prepared to deal with Reddy’s overly tenacious disposition. So, she worked within her normal routine to tune the mare before her third run on Sunday.

“Reddy’s a little rough around the edges,” laughed Weast. “Every time I have a run coming up, she will be saddled early. When I say early, I mean between two and four hours and she will already have been ridden once that day. She has to be a little tired. I tie her up and leave her saddle until it’s time to get ready to go make my run.” Before making her second run, Weast already knew that Reddy was a little more on edge.

“I had to ride her a little harder than I usually do,” she said. “For the second run, she was a little wild and she didn’t stay collected in her first turn like I like, and she actually kind of moved in on me a little at the third barrel and I didn’t like it either.” So, in her pre-ride on Sunday, Weast found one pop-up barrel and tuned on the mare.

“I squared up her first barrel and I got her off my hands on my left turns and I knew exactly how I had to ride her to improve her that tenth or two I needed. She took every bit of my tuning and did everything that I asked,” she said.

Reddy’s tuning sessions of that nature never last long, Weast added, taking only 15 to 20 minutes. Dragging it out would be counterproductive the day of a run.

"I don't drag it out and I put her up until it's time to run," she continued. "I don't want to get on her 20 minutes before I run and have to go through something. When I get back on her to get her ready for the run everything that needs done has already been done. It takes extra time. She's always taken extra time. But, it is what it is and you do what you've got to do."

The extra time paid off well as Weast and Reddy were fourth in the average going into "absolutely the toughest barrel race that I've ever been to."

"I don't rodeo much and to be against those girls that are in the Top 15..." Weast mused. "For one, it was a whole new outlook. I honestly didn't know what to think of it. I knew I had to think of it as a three-run average, but I didn't know whether I had to think 'I've got to go win that Futurity, first' or 'I need to try to win this Cardholder.' I tried to just think, 'I'm here for the Futurity, and however it comes out for Cardholder's, I'm just thrilled to be a part of this Top 30.'"

Weast and Reddy posted a 15.085, which topped the Futurity to give them the average win, and finished third in the Cardholder's Short Go to finish third in the average.

"Kelly Bruner and Taci Bettis were behind me," she recalled. "I knew they could outrun me and they did. I was perfectly fine with that because I was just in the hunt."

Weast also got the unofficial word that she'll get to enter Rodeo Houston on a bye, given that reserve champion Taci Bettis is already qualified via the 2017 WPRO World Standings. (Barrel Racing Report reached out to the WPRO office to confirm and was told that Weast does qualify to enter.)

Weast said she still might be more likely to try a few of the winter rodeos closer to home since the mare has proven she can run with the tough crowd.

"We may try to sneak off and go to a couple of winter rodeos," said the self-professed homebody. "I'm not really sure. I'm fixing to have a 1-year-old little boy and rodeoing isn't the easiest road to take when you have a little one. It just depends on how it's all working out. If she's doing well, then we'll see where it takes us."

Weast wanted to thank her family—grandparents, parents—especially her mother Renee who hauls with her—and her husband, Jay—as well as Rosie Bradley of Oxy-Gen and Darla Schneider of Schneider Pads for all of their help and support.

Prairie Circuit Champions Carley Richardson & Tracy Nowlin Pack Their Bags For Kissimmee

By Tanya Randall

Two-time National Finals Rodeo qualifier Carley Richardson and newly crowned Prairie Circuit Year-End Champion Tracy Nowlin are headed to Kissimmee, Fla., for the RAM National Circuit Finals. At the conclusion of the Prairie Circuit Finals Rodeo, held Oct. 19-12 in Duncan, Okla., Richardson and her 10-year-old gelding Flit Money claimed the average championship to earn their first trip to the National Circuit Finals. Nowlin, last year's average champion, had the year-end title in hand before the circuit finals and will make her second trip.

Richardson, who calls the Panhandle burg of Pampa, Texas, home, was 9th in the circuit standings going into the circuit finals with $7,251.

"I knew I had to win the average if I wanted to go to Kissimmee," said Richardson. "I knew (Money) could win the average, but it was going to be a risk as to what he was going to do. I just decided to go for it."

Bred by Ken and Barbara Burns, Money is by AQHA World Champion and AQHA World Champion Sire Designer Red out of Primrose Firewater, a daughter of Dun Lucky Dee out of the Fire Water Flit mare Flits Fire And Ice.

"I started him as a 4-year-old and started winning a lot on him at the jackpots," Richardson explained. "He won just about everywhere I took him. But, he's really hot and really high-strung. 2013 rolls around and I decided to go rodeo. I had Radio (Doda Flit) and Boy (Fashionable Boy) and I knew Money wasn't ready so I sent him to my good friend Kelly Garrison. She's also ridden Radio in the past too. She took him and kept hauling him and tried to get his mind together. She won a bunch on him.

"When I came home in 2015, I got him back and started taking him to some rodeos. It was a disaster. He was scared to death. Hated the crowds. He would just run off. In 2016, I just hauled him with me all summer. I tied him to the trailer, ride him in the arenas. If I wasn't up that night and there was a perf, I'd ride him up there and try to watch and not run over the top of people. I think that really helped him mature."

Money did pick up checks for Richardson in 2017, but most of those runs were in slack, so she was taking a risk running him during the three performances of the Circuit Finals.

"He handled it," she said, happily. "It didn't seem to bother him at all, so maybe he's coming around. The last round, a huge storm came through and we were under a tin building. You couldn't even talk to one another much less hear what the announcer was saying. Normally he would have been wiggling out, but he just stood there and took it all in. I think I was more nervous than he was!"

Richardson and Money won the average by nearly 9/10ths, having placed third in the first round and won the second and third rounds. Their second go winning time was the fastest of the event, a 15.66.

Richardson wanted to thank her dad, Jim, for not letting her sell Money.

"I've told him to sell Money, that I was done with him, probably a hundred times," she laughed. "He would always say, 'No, you need to get him figured out. You need to keep trying. You can do it.' He broke him and picked him out as a 2-year-old."

She also wanted to thank Money's breeders Ken and Barbara Burns and her friend Kelly Garrison.

Although the $7,296 counts toward the 2018 WPRA World Standings, Richardson is a little uncertain about her upcoming rodeo plans. While she'll be happy if things fall into place for her to make another NFR run, she feels like she's probably more in a rebuilding phase with her horsepower.

Radio, 13, was battling an injury through most of the summer run, so Richardson decided to come home at the end of July. Radio was doing well enough that Richardson was told that she could get him up for the Circuit Finals if she wanted to, but she chose to stay off of him. Boy, 16, has battled tendon injuries off-and-on throughout the years, so she's used him sparingly.

"I guess I am in a rebuilding phase," said Richardson. "I think I could keep going hard with the two of them, but I want them to be sound and happy when their career is over. So, I'm to the stage where I try to pick the rodeos that Radio likes and I try to keep Boy closer to home if I can. I need something else coming up."

Richardson has some really nice futurity horses coming up. She has her 2017 futurity money earner Hot N The Fire, 5, entered in the BFA Derby and Famous Whitch, a 3-year-old, entered in BFA Super Stakes.

Although Nowlin didn't have the Circuit Finals, that she wanted, she had her second trip to Kissimmee locked up with earnings of $25,180 which gave her a $11,683 lead going into the event.

"It was a good thing, too," said Nowlin, who hails from Nowata, Okla. "I had a horrible Finals. I won second in the first round and slipped and hit the first barrel twice. It's just heartbreaking. She ran a 15.59 which would have won the last round."

Nowlin rode her gritty, little mare DJG Madison ("Dolly Jo") to all but one of her circuit checks. The 11-year-old mare is a daughter of the Royal Quick Dash stallion Royal Blue Chew Chew out of the double-bred Streakin Six mare Run Madison by Sunset Six.

"She's a pretty cool horse," Nowlin said of the calf horse-reject. "From all the horror stories I heard after I bought her, it's just God's gift that she's never done anything. I can't picture her being as bad as they say she was. I can take her to a jackpot roping and she stands around like an old horse. Of course, I don't put her in the box or anything. I guess she just hated her life (before)."

Nowlin and Dolly Jo had a great year in the circuit, winning Guymon, Okla., Strong City and Manhattan, Kansas, and Elk City, Okla., to name a few.

"I won eight or nine rodeos," Nowlin added. "It was a very good year."

Nowlin also traveled a little outside her circuit, and collected $43,323 at 54 rodeos to sit 33rd in the 2017 WPRA World Standings.

"I went out of my comfort zone a little bit," she said. "Hurt my shoulder a little bit more and came home," she chuckled.

Nowlin has been battling a shoulder injury for some time and she's been to several doctors to find out the best course of action. She's been flirting with surgery, which has affected how she's been entering. The Monday following the Circuit Finals, she was back at the doctor's office to try one more injection. The next three weeks will tell her if she needs a surgery that may leave her with a 6- to 8-week recovery period.

"We're praying it works," said Nowlin, who wanted to thank her parents and her son Ty as well as Rosie Bradley of Oxy-Gen for all their help and support.

Nowlin is also hoping that getting her shoulder fixed will help her ride better and keep those pesky tipped barrels upright.

Headin' For Home

by Sherry Morrison
Triple M (Mike Morrison Ministries)

In the last couple of weeks, the Lord has been prompting me to read the Bible from HIS perspective instead of the world's perspective. In the world, there always seems to be a "subtraction" mentality. We think God is always trying to "take something from us", when truly He is a God that "multiplies and blesses."

For instance.....Luke 6:38 says to "give...." We hear, "God wants to take your money". The rest of the verse is "and it will be given to you, PRESSED DOWN, SHAKEN TOGETHER AND RUNNING OVER." Galatians 6:7 says in part, "you reap what you sow." We hear, "God is going to get you when you're bad."

But turn that around and if you are helping, giving, speaking kind and being loving, then THAT is what we are going to get! In one day, God showed me 4 verses in the Bible that people mentally turn around to a negative instead of reading and enjoying the Blessing that God promises us.

I think I stripped some mental gears trying to stop my worldly perspective of the Word of God. But it was AWESOME to see things from God's, not man's, point of view!! Try it, you'll like it!!!!

Mike and Sherry Morrison pastor "Church at the Barn" in Gillette, WY. They also travel to other areas ministering at barrel races, ranches, rodeos, churches and home Bible studies.
