Andrea Cline & Stitches Streaknfame Smoke WPRA Open Slot Race at World Finals

By Tanya Randall

Andrea Cline's talented young gelding Stitches Streaknfame ("Moses") really loves the Coliseum at the Extraco Events Complex in Waco, Texas. As a 5-year-old he carried Cline to the Cardholder Championship at the 2013 WPRA World Finals. In 2014, he hauled in $21,140 for Cline by winning the Open Slot Race, placing 4th in the Cardholders Race and picking up checks in the open and divisional tour finals.

"He loves Waco," said Cline of the Firewater Ta Fame gelding out of Streakin Sider, by Streakin Six. "Really in the Card (holders) Races, he had mediocre runs. He wasn't having great runs. We were losing time going to the first barrel. Maybe it was the energy that night for the slot race, but he felt like there was no loss of momentum anywhere. I'm just glad he came through for that race, because it paid well!"

The slot race featured the likes of 2012 WPRA World Champions Mary Walker and Perculatin, current NFR arena record holders Taylor Jacob and Honor Thy Frenchman, NFR-bound Christine Laughlin and Guys Six Pack To Go, former NFR qualifier Sydni Blanchard and her new stick Bring Me Fame, 2014 Mega 1D Champion Lauren Madgeburg and CP Konea and American qualifier and Verndale, Minn., arena record holders Cayla Melby and LTF Jets Last Dance, just to name a few of the 21-entries.

Cline and Moses' victorious 15.07 was worth $17,456.

"He really feeds off the crowd, so I went up a few before to let him feel that energy," said Cline, who trains out of Springtown, Texas. "With my two runs in the card race, I didn't know how I was going to approach that gate. I didn't know if I was going to keep him back, but because of the energy I thought I'd let him go in there and feel the energy and look at the gate. When that gate opened, he just wanted it. He was craving it. He was loping going in and made that corner (into the alley from the holding pen) and just took off. I let him!"

Moses is going to take a two month vacation after this weekend's qualifier to RFD-TV's The American in Glen Rose, Texas, so he can be ready for the winter run of rodeos.

"This is something I had planned a while ago," said Cline. "I'm really going to concentrate on him doing the American stuff and the better rodeos, and that's it. I think he's that amazing that he doesn't need to go every little rodeo. I'm going to concentrate on the big ones and try to bear down and get him to the NFR."

Charge My Corona ("Rona")
2009 Bay Mare, 15.2 hands, 1,050 lbs.

HISTORY: Rona is a mare my Mom and I bred, raised, and trained. My Mom and I both actually ran barrels on her grandam and Rona's dam is a full sister to Special K Edition (BFA Derby Champion, AQHYA Champion, LTE 100k+). She is the fastest and most efficient barrel horse I have ever ran, she runs on top of the ground and hardly required any seasoning. I have won and placed at numerous UPRA and PRCA rodeos this year, her futurity year. She is an all business type of horse, loves people but doesn't like other horses or dogs, and loves to run barrels! Her approximate LTE are $24,000.

TELL US ABOUT YOUR RUNS: My first run in the futurity I placed 4th. I was happy with the run, it wasn't anything spectacular but was solid and set me up well for the average. In the second go, I had a bit change and rode a hair different and it paid off, running one of the fastest times of the entire event. She pulled off the third a little but kept moving. I felt like it was a nice run, but I didn't know it was that nice!

BIT: Loomis smooth 2 piece draw gag or a Bill Freeman mullen mouthpiece. She doesn't like a lot on her face, she has a very light mouth.

FUTURE PLANS: I plan on running her at the JB Quarter Horse Futurity in November and then giving her the rest of the year off. Starting in January we will begin hitting the winter rodeos, and hopefully I will have won enough money to get into some of the bigger building rodeos this year. The NFR is always in the back of my mind, but with her I am taking things one run at a time, I want to keep her sound and happy as my first priority. I would really like to make the Texas Circuit Finals and at least finish in the top 45 for 2015.

HEADGEAR: No tiedown or headgear. Sometimes I will use ear plugs in rodeo performances, she isn't too fond of loud speakers right in her ears!

SADDLE: Double J Saddle

SADDLE PAD: Saddle Right Pad

LEG GEAR: Splint and bell boots on front legs and polo wraps on hind legs

FEED: Purina Ultium

HAY: Coastal & Alfalfa

ADDITIONAL CARE & SHOEING: We shoe her pretty regular, nothing special or fancy. Steel rims on fronts, and steel slicks on hinds. She gets all the good therapy when needed; Back on Track products, Cold water spa, aqua tred, and chiropractor. I hardly ever tune on her or work her on the barrels. I usually just pony her or long trot around the pasture a couple of miles.

SPONSORS: Southwest Stall Service, Oxygen, Cetyl M, and a special thanks to JB Quarter Horses

Victoria Williams & Three Jets Olena Top WPRA Cardholders Race at WPRA World Finals

By Tanya Randall

Defending Southeastern Circuit Champion Victoria Williams and her great mare Three Jets Olena topped the all-important Cardholder's Race at the WPRA World Finals in Waco, Texas, and collected an impressive $7,925.

Money won in the Cardholder's Race counted toward 2015 WPRA World Standings, which are very important to qualifications to the lucrative limited-entry winter rodeos. Williams currently leads the 2015 standings as a result of her victory in Waco.

Williams, Kiln, Miss., didn't know what to expect going into the WPRA World Finals after Jet's disappointing performance at the All American Finals Rodeo a few weeks prior in the same venue. The duo had won the event in 2013, but couldn't find their groove this year.

"She was over a half-second off on every run (at the All American); I was really surprised," said Williams of her 8-year-old daughter of NFR sire Blazin Jetolena out of the Royal Quick Dash mare Maggie Quick Dash.

At the WPRA Finals, Jet stayed consistent, placing second in the first round with a 15.24 and ninth in the second go with a 15.27 to go into the 30-head short go in fourth position.

"In the first round ... she had a really good run," said Williams, who is sponsored by MVP and P&P Trailers. "The second round she was really ratey, so I was really having to hold her off the barrels, which somehow caused us to go past the first barrel. We still ran a .2, but everyone was just on that day. It was a tough round."

After the second round of the Cardholders Race, Williams and Jet ran in the Slot Race, which two runs in one day got Jet firing a lot harder.

ALTERNATIVE THERAPIES: Back On Tract and cold water spa between runs at the WPRA Finals. "She loves the cold water spas. She'll drag me up the ramp to get in them!"

"She surprised me and we went by the first and barely caught the second barrel," she noted.

A victorious 15.10 gave her the winning three-run average.

"I checked her down really hard at the first, because we went by in the slot race," said Williams. "I actually caused her to trip and she ended up pulling a back shoe. I felt really bad about that. I told my mom when I was heading home I was just hoping my run was fastest enough to keep me in the average. When I saw my time I freaked out. My mom was out back laughing at me because I couldn't believe it."

Hadley and Hunter Tops in Wilderness Circuit

By Julie Mankin

Technically, McKale Hadley didn't qualify for her circuit finals. She only earned about $5,000 in the Wilderness Circuit this season and was ranked 13th when qualifiers were announced. But when Kelli Thouvenell's horse wasn't able to make the trip to Heber City, Utah, for the Finals on Oct. 23-25, Hadley got in – and made it count.

The 22-year-old from Plain City, Utah, didn't place in the first round, but came back to win Round Two and place in the third round aboard her 13-year-old gelding, Legacy Lane ("Jay"). "In the first round, he wasn't really trying for me," she said. "I brought him back for the second round and he just decided he wanted to run."

Hadley and Jay had set an arena record in Heber City just a month earlier on a different pattern, and they have a perfect record at the Wilderness Circuit Finals Rodeo. Having only qualified twice in the two years she's been a WPRA member, Hadley has also won the Finals twice. In squeaking out her second victory, this time over Melissa Taylor by just two-tenths of a second, she earned $3,522.

"I was lucky to be there, so I wanted to make the best of it," Hadley said. "I didn't put too much pressure on myself; I just wanted to go in and have fun."

Hadley's horse came from her uncle, Sherm Hadley, as a 2-year-old off the racetrack. He's by Lane's Leinster and out of the Dash Ta Fame daughter Lotta Debonair, out of a Go Man Go/Royal Charge granddaughter. The half-Thoroughbred racing stallion Lane's Leinster had a speed index of 101 and earned $342,780 on the track (he's out of a double-bred Depth Charge mare that also goes back to Lightning Bar and Skipper W).

Terri Wood-Gates trained Jay and helped Hadley get going on the horse. The pair started competing in earnest about six years ago, and Hadley was the 2010 National High School Finals Rodeo reserve champion aboard Jay.

"He's really smooth and half the time people tell me he doesn't look like he's running," she said. "He looks like he's loping through the barrels because he has really long strides that make his turns really smooth."

Hadley attended college for a short time before deciding she would rather compete at professional rodeos.

"I didn't really like school, and I wanted to make money on my horse while he was running good," she said. "I just wanted to go to work so I could rodeo all the time."

Hadley is a full-time shipping and receiving clerk at Hill Air Force Base, and uses weekends and holidays to rodeo. She and Jay live at her family's home west of Ogden.

"If I moved out, I don't think they'd let me take Jay with me," she joked. "He is the prize possession at home. I'm surprised they don't bubble-wrap him when I travel."

The win allowed Hadley to punch her ticket to the RNCFR in Kissimmee, Fla., next spring. It might require a week's travel time each way, however, to keep Jay happy on the journey.

"It's a tough haul, so you need to space it out and do it right for your horse," said Hadley, who plans to hit a couple big barrel races and jackpots this winter before setting out for Florida. "He kind of struggled coming back from Oklahoma City last year. It was his first two-day trip from home and he stressed a little bit. He didn't fire across the pen. I brought him back and gave him a month off, but it took him a while to get back in his groove. Plus, I hit a couple of barrels to win rodeos this year, which kind of set me back."

Hadley knew that nobody could catch Nancy Hunter in the race for the year-end championship. Hunter, who qualified for her first Wrangler National Finals Rodeo this year after winning Rodeo-Houston for the second straight time, had a lead of nearly $10,000 going into the Finals.

In fact, Hunter and Sammi Bessert have been trading circuit championships back and forth for years. They've won every Wilderness title for the past seven years except when they let Sue Smith claim her second championship in 2009.

In 2014, Hunter claimed her fourth championship, which puts her in company with fellow four-time Wilderness champ Suzanne Fausett. No cowgirl in that circuit has won more times. The saddles are really beginning to stack up in the corner of Hunter's house.

"We have great sponsors in our circuit and this year I won a beautiful Crown C," Hunter said. "The Houston saddles are also pretty cool. Someone asked me, 'Are you going to ride one of those?' I said, 'Are you kidding? I'm going to be buried with those!'"

Hunter appreciates all the sponsorship in Heber City and the way the crew raked after every barrel racer, despite the fact she didn't have her horse, Flit N Fizz ("Fuzz") on hand.

"I'm trying to get ready for the NFR and this is probably the only time I'll get there, so I just left him home," said Hunter, who borrowed a horse for the circuit finals. "The stars kind of lined up for me this year. I'm a realist, I guess. I don't haul that hard and I doubt I'll change that. It kind of just worked out and he was running good this year. I went to 26 rodeos and ran him at 23, so his averages were pretty good."

As for the new RNCFR venue in Florida, Hunter thinks it will change the game and spur more people to try to get to their circuit finals and on to Kissimmee. Hunter and Fuzz have won the two-round average at the DNCFR twice and caught a barrel in the semi-finals, so maybe this will be their year to become national champions.

"That's a tough rodeo," she said. "Girls come there to take your money and they do. They don't cut you any slack there."

Her own circuit finals, she feels, is one of the toughest in the nation, too.

"Those Wilderness girls, man, they're tough," she said. "They can run anywhere. They're a friendly little bunch, but they sure like to stomp on your head."

A couple of them are running horses that Fred Hunter trained, and have been gracious enough to offer them to Hunter to back up Fuzz at the NFR – including Tiffany Lowe, who rides Pepto. But it's likely Hunter will stick with her original dance partner. Fuzz is one of the veterans of the game now in his ninth professional season.

"We know what he is and what he can take and how to maintain him, and we put a lot of effort into that, which shows in his longevity," she said. "I ice him and fly my vet in and all that stuff people don't realize, because I feel like he deserves it. I've gotten on some horses that don't really want to play the game and don't give you everything, to where you almost have to ride them like you're mad at them. I don't want to have to do that. I've been spoiled on these horses of mine that give you everything."

Vondette Sweeps both Mountain States Championships

By Julie Mankin

Nobody was more surprised that C.J. Vondette won the Mountain States Circuit Finals Rodeo, Oct. 23-25 in Rock Springs, Wyo., than Vondette.

"If you'd have told me this would happen back in July, I'd have said, 'No freaking way,'" said Vondette of Rifle, Colo. After all, her horse, Cache A Mount ("Grizz"), was injured so badly this summer she thought he might never come back. On July 7, just two days after Vondette notched the biggest win of her life at the Greeley (Colo.) Stampede, Grizz was playing in her home arena. He happened to run past the tractor and caught the corner of the raised drag, practically ripping his gaskin away from his body.

"It just tore," said Vondette, 24. "He was standing there three-legged and there was just so much blood. It was so bad." Vondette was sure he was done forever. At the very least, she knew her season was over just as it was promising to be outstanding. With a few more wins she might have gotten qualified for some big winter rodeos. As it was, she was entered heavily and had to take a 5-year-old to Nampa, Cheyenne and Spanish Fork.

The painstaking healing process wrapped up around Labor Day, so Vondette entered The American qualifier in Loveland.

"Usually Loveland is not a standard set, but they made it bigger and I wasn't sure he would be ready for that," she said. "He ran two 17.0s that weekend, jeez."

In Rock Springs, Vondette was distressed over her fourth-place finish in the first round behind NFR horses Movin and Rascal (operated by Christy Loflin and Paxton Segelke, respectively). Going into the Finals, the year-end championship was between Vondette and Laura Lambert of Wiggins, Colo., who was just $170 behind. Lambert placed ahead of Vondette in the first round, gaining $298 on her and moving into first place for the coveted title.

"Kim Schulz sent me a text telling me to just be confident and quit stressing," Vondette said. "That was really nice. How did she know? She told me to just relax and make one run at a time and have fun, and it helped."

Vondette came back to stomp the field, winning the next two rounds and snatching the average title away from defending Mountain States champ Loflin by three-tenths of a second to earn $4,473. First-time NFR qualifier Christine Laughlin skipped Rock Springs to compete in Waco at the WPRA World Finals, and penalties plagued perennial threat Kelly Yates and new Colorado resident and two-time world champ Brittany Pozzi. Lambert, by virtue of her reserve circuit championship, will accompany Vondette at the RNCFR next spring.

The double-championship win was sweet after Vondette finished second in both the year-end standings and Finals average race in 2012, then missed the cut in 13th place last year. And even sweeter considering the heart of her horse, who will turn 19 next spring. In fact Grizz, her best friend for the past 15 years, has battled pretty much every soundness issue possible, from navicular to ringbone to bad hocks – and still comes through for her.

“He’s just kind of special, I think,” Vondette said. “There have been a lot of times he’s supposed to have been done.” The Azure Te-bred gelding was a buddy horse on the racetrack and knew the barrels 15 years ago when the Vondettes bought him for C.J.’s sister. He was a lot of horse, though, so then-12-year-old C.J. started riding him. She switched him to the left because even back then, he wasn’t sound in his left front limb.

Grizz was a 19-second pole horse for Vondette in high school. They never made it to the national stage, though, because she said she always choked at the state finals.

“At least I can say I’m getting better at that part,” she cracked. “But mostly, just getting him sound was a big deal.”

The pair began racking up the wins starting two years ago when Vondette enlisted the help of Countryside Large Animal Veterinary Services in Greeley and shoeing by Colorado-based Hoofcare Today. And she continues to go the extra mile for Grizz.

“Every day is like a two-hour treatment of icing his legs,” she said. “And I hauled him all the way to Platteville to Mandy Hagler for some equine therapy on my way to Rock Springs. It was 300 miles out of the way, but it makes a big difference for him. I also feed him Forco supplements, which help him travel better.”

If he’s in this kind of shape next spring, Vondette’s old gray partner has as good a shot as anybody at the big dollars in Dallas and Kissimmee come March. And if not, she has already trained another WPRA money-winner that’s just as unlikely a hero – a tiny young cutting-bred horse that nobody thought could run.

Karla Lane's LZK Dashus Valentina qualifies three to RFD-TV's The American Semifinals

By Tanya Randall

Karla Lane's homebred mare LZK Dashus Valentina accomplished the rare feat of qualifying three different riders to the Semifinals of RFD-TV's The American.

The 8-year-old mare first qualified Lane at the Qualifier in Pasco, Wash. When leased by International Finals Rodeo Association World Champion and two-time National Finals Rodeo qualifier Jane Melby and her daughter Cayla for a two-week period this fall, Valentina qualified Melby at Verndale, Minn., and then two weeks later picked up a second qualification for Cayla in Selesia, Mont. Ironically, Lane didn't even know who Melby was when she called on September 29 about looking at some horses. Although Valentina wasn't for sale, Melby rode her and liked the mare. When a sale deal couldn't be reached, Lane, a single mother with a fulltime job as a transportation director for a mental health service in Pendleton, Ore., knew that Melby could prove her mare and her fledgling breeding program, so she offered Melby a deal.

"We came to an agreement for a two-week lease—six runs, two qualifiers—one in Minnesota and one in Montana," Lane explained. "I gave her my saddle, my bridle, the leg gear, the grain, I loaded her trailer with hay—I gave her the whole shebang. It was hard to do, but I felt I needed to prove her. I knew that she could do it and she did. It was a very, very stressful two weeks for me."

Valentina is by Lane's stallion Bulldashus, a son of leading barrel horse sire Bully Bullion out of BB Dreams Of Cash, a Dash Ta Fame daughter out of a Rocket Wrangler mare.

Lane bought the stallion as a weanling from Andy Birrell, Lehi, Utah, and she had trained him for the barrel futurities. Unfortunately, the stallion injured himself while being collected to breed, and Lane opted to focus on proving his offspring rather than running him.

"He was just a little off," recalled Lane. "I was behind for the futurities, so I never started him back. When I couldn't run him in the futurities, I felt it was more important to prove his get, and I don't think studs need to be running at jackpots."

Ironically, Valentina is the resulting foal from that collection.

Valentina's dam was Proud And Polite, a 1985 daughter of Dr Kirk—a known magic cross with Dash Ta Fame. Proud And Polite was out of Catch A Cloud, a daughter of Deep Bob, a son of the Thoroughbred Depth Charge out of a Leo mare, and out of Rapid Filly, a daughter of Parkers Trouble and a Bunnys Bar Boy mare. (Bunnys Bar Boy, for you pedigree junkies, was the broodmare sire of the great broodmare Nancy Ann Smith).

Unfortunately, Valentina's aged event career was hampered by farrier-induced problems.

"She went to the futurities, but she was sore, so I just quit," said Lane. "I had tried barefoot, and she just stayed sore. Her feet were screwed up and that just takes time. Her derby year she got to run some. I had shoes on her then and she got screwed up again. She was just a mess. She had a year off. She had deep digital flexor (tendon) issues in her front legs and suspensory issues in her hind legs. It was just a mess. She defied the odds coming back from all of that."

The 2014 season was the first year that Lane has been able to run the mare full time.

"I'm really proud of what she's done," she said, noting that the Bulldashus babies handle pressure well and train very easily. "I run the Columbia River Circuit because there's a lot of rodeos close, and she did really well at some big ones."

Lane, who lives in Milton-Freewater, Ore., said she'd love her 10-year-old daughter to be able to run Valentina one day, so the mare's not likely to go anywhere soon. However, she wouldn't mind freeing up some her time by dispersing some of her breeding program.

"I'd like to find the right situation for Bulldashus and his mares," she said. "I don't stand him to outside mares. There's nothing around here set up for that; we're pretty rural around here. I believe that a stallion is only as good as the mares you breed to him, and I'm pickier than most. I do feel like now that I've proven him with more than one horse that they've got "it." I'd like to find the right situation for him and his mares. I've got a couple of daughters of Dash Ta Fame, a daughter of Snowbound (TB), a daughter of Streakin Six mare, a daughter of Judge Cash—all good mares. It's hard for me. I'm single and I'm working a full time job; it's so much work. He deserves to be in the spotlight somewhere and I'm not able to give that to him."

Lane and Valentina's personal spotlight will come at Cowtown Coliseum in Fort Worth at the end of February as they try to advance to the Richest One-Day Rodeo—RFD-TV's The American.

Chris Coffey & Streaking Romance Win Tight Congress Sweepstakes

By Tanya Randall

The All-American Quarter Horse Congress Barrel Racing Sweepstakes is always one of the toughest open straight-pay races in the country. The 2014 version was also a tight race with a scant difference of .034 splitting first through third in a two-run average!

Top honors and $10,255 went to Robert Alexander's Streaking Romance ("Snickers"), ridden by veteran trainer and longtime leading rider Chris Coffey of Glasgow, Ky. This was the second Congress Sweepstakes Championship for the trio, having won in 2012.

Coffey and Snickers started off well, winning the first round with a 14.535. They placed third in the finals with a 14.769 to have the winning average of 29.304.

"I think it was pretty much as perfect of a run as he could get," said Coffey of the gelding's first run. "The second round, I tipped a barrel. I got a little deep on the first barrel and he caught it coming back. In the short go, I was just hoping to get around them—especially when I had to set that second barrel up!"

Snickers, a 7-year-old gelding by Rolls Of Romance out of the Streakin La Jolla mare Streakin Pretty, has been a pretty tough stick for Coffey since he was a futurity horse. He's now won Congress twice. He's won the IBRA National Finals three out of the last four years, including this year. He's run the fastest time in qualifying at Old Fort Days and at the BFA World Championship Futurity as a futurity horse.

Coffey also placed twelfth in the Sweepstakes with A Flash Of Romance, also owned by Alexander. Also by Rolls Of Romance, the 5-year-old mare is out of Flash By Easy, by Easy Find. She placed with every run she made and won $2,950.

Alexander, a lawyer from Glasgow, has been a longtime client of Coffey's. In fact, in 1978, Coffey's father Calvin rode Alexander's Hot Shot Rey to the Congress Sweepstakes Championship. Afterwards, Alexander quit horses for a while to put his children through college and then jumped back in with both feet in the early 2000s. He and the younger Coffey's first superstar was Des Delight, who now resides at the Jud Little Ranch and serves as a rodeo mount for Little's daughter Mattie Jackson.

Alexander actually has two colts out of Des Delight in Coffey's barn, a 3-year-old Dash Ta Fame that will run at the BFA Juvenile Futurity in December and a 2-year-old by Rolls of Romance.

Coffey, who currently leads the BFA's Year-End Point Standings with the Blackwell family's Famous Firewater Anny, said he's been blessed with great owners like Alexander and the Harold Blackwell family from Missouri who keep him supplied with great horses to train and ride.

After their aged event careers they're usually sold, and many have gone on to do well in rodeo competition.

"We'll usually try to sell them after their derby year," said Coffey. Now with Snickers, Coffey said Alexander likes to keep an open horse around so he'll probably be around a while. It's likely that Coffey's wife Carol Ann will start running him at the bigger open races.

Headin' For Home

by Mike Morrison
Triple M (Mike Morrison Ministries)

Don't be troubled or afraid by all the bad news you hear of violence, wars, plagues, famines and destructive storms. God is still in control.

The devil will try to scare you and try to make you lose your peace and trust in a loving, protective Heavenly Father. If you've made Jesus the Lord of your life you have the right to claim protection in the name of Jesus, by standing on God's promises in His Holy Word and by a covering of the shed blood of our Savior. These three things are the most powerful things in the universe—the Name, the Word and the Blood. Use them for yourself and your family.

Carry a card with you that has Psalm 91 on it. Memorize it is best and then you can read it or recite it if fear starts to come over you. We need to dwell in the "secret place of the Most High" and know that what Satan intends for evil, God can change for good. There are many, many Scriptures telling us that God will fight for us and that He has a good plan for our lives. Read Jeremiah 29:11.

In China, an entire village was burned down by a fast moving fire but a missionary's wife and children were safe in the only hut that was untouched in the middle of all that disaster. She was praying and God protected her and the small children.

There is a place where you don't have to be afraid of anything. That place is under God's protection. Make Jesus your Lord and Savior and follow His direction for your life.

Many times over the Bible tells us to "fear not" and we can truly live without fear if we "make the Lord our refuge!"

Mike Morrison and his wife Sherry are ordained ministers in their own nondenominational church in Gillette, WY. They also travel widely as circuit riders ministering over a large area of the western states.
