WPRA World Finals Crowns Champions in Waco

By Tanya Randall

The competition was fierce at the WPRA World Finals, held October 24-27 at the Extraco Events Center in Waco, Texas. Running on the same stakes and set up as the Elite Barrel Race, barrel racers pushed the top times to right about the 14-second barrier.

Permit champion Heather Humphries and Friscos Col George clocked the fastest time of the event a 15.02 as the last gunner out in the second round of the permit race on Saturday night. On Sunday morning, Callie Rios and Blazin Baby J, owned by Angela and Jackie Ganter, equaled that time to win the second round of the futurity en route to the average championship.

The big guns had it out in the $20,000-added Cardholder race with the championship decided by a mere tenth of a second. Andrea Cline and her talented 5-year-old gelding Stitches Streaknfame ("Moses") bested Kenna Squires and Dash To The Flame, 45.72 to 45.82 on three runs.

Cline, Springtown, Texas, picked up $6,392 for the win, which counts toward 2014 qualification standings (as long as the member has attended 10 sanctioned rodeos in 2013) and starts the 2014 WPRA Qualifying Tour. She and Moses also picked up $1,227 in the Open 1D for two third place finishes with their carryover times.

Moses, a bay gelding by Firewater Ta Fame out of Streakin Sider, by Streakin Six, was given to Cline by Billy and Shelly Martin, Cat Springs, Texas, who own his sire. Even though he was eligible for the futurity, Cline chose not to enter and put too many runs on her young horse that's already placed at several pro rodeos.

"He doesn't feel like a first year horse," said Cline, who was riding the left-barrel-first gelding with a broken left wrist. "He feels like he's been doing this a long time. He makes the same run every time. He feels like he's 15 instead of 5."

Permit champion Heather Humphries of Buffalo, Texas, recently gained a seasoned rodeo veteran for a partner when she purchased Friscos Col George ("Tonka") from defending WPRA World Champion Mary Walker.

"I'm confident on him," said the freshman communications major at Sam Houston State University. "Every move he makes I trust."

Humphries, 18, filled her permit on her very first run at the WPRA Finals, when she placed third in the first round and won $1,037 en route to $4,054 total earnings in the permit race. She also won the Open 1D Saturday with the blistering 15.02 for $818 on the 13-year-old gelding by Jose Bar Siesta out of Friscos Royal Lady, by King Frisco.

Local favorite Krista McQuade won the $5,000-added Junior Members Race. McQuade, who hails from nearby Riesel, Texas, picked up $907 for the two-run average victory aboard her 8-year-old mare Hot Gritz N Gravy, by Hot Colours out of Miss Rockin

"My Friday run wasn't what I wanted," she said. "I got hung up going in and caught my leg so I didn't have any stirrups for my run. She just smoked 'em today."

McQuade, 18, is already a sophomore in college having graduated high school early. She's currently attending a junior college but plans to transfer to Baylor University to study pharmacy.

2011 Junior World Champion Kylar Terlip reclaimed her title, despite struggling throughout the year without her main horse Fire Powered Jet, who was injured. Terlip, Frontenac, Kansas, showcased her riding skills on a variety of borrowed horses to accumulate $16,713 in earnings on the year.

Blazin Baby J increased his season earnings by $3,920 for winning the $13,500-added Futurity.

The 4-year-old gelding by all-time leading sire Dash Ta Fame out of Medley A Blazin, by Chicks A Blazin, wasn't feeling quite right on Friday for the first round and finished just out of the money. By Sunday, however, he was feeling much better and tied the fastest time of the event for a come-from-behind victory in the futurity. The 15.02 also won the Open 1D on Sunday for $715.

Rios, El Paso, Texas, has been sharing Blazin Baby J with Jackie Ganter, who recently placed on him at the Hawki Futurity.

Hart Acquires Young Barrel Bred Stallions

Longtime industry player Chad Hart of Royston, Ga., has added two royally-bred colts to his stallion battery for 2014. Chad, who fostered the late Packin Sixes to leading barrel horse sire honors in the 1990s, purchased Firewater Canyon from leading breeder Vickie Adams of Collinsville, Texas, and Boxers N Briefs from leading futurity owner Heath Boucher of Fredericktown, Ohio.

Firewater Canyon, a 2012 gray stallion, is by legendary barrel horse sire Fire Water Flit out of multiple National Finals Rodeo qualifier, slot race winner and aged event champion Mulberry Canyon Moon, by former leading barrel horse sire Marthas Six Moons out of daughter of National Finals Rodeo sire Osage Streaker (TB).

Boxers N Briefs, a 2011 sorrel stallion, is also by Fire Water Flit out of all-time leading futurity horse and the first dual $100,000 slot race champion Famous Silk Panties, by the all-time leading barrel horse sire Dash Ta Fame out of a daughter of leading barrel horse sire Bully Bullion.

"These are two nice sons of Fire Water Flit," says Chad, who also owned leading freshman barrel horse sire Eddie Stinson for his first three seasons at stud. "They're both by Fire Water Flit, but they're two different looking horses and that gives people options. I'm excited about crossing them on some of my race-bred mares."

Chad decided to purchase Firewater Canyon after researching the available mares in the barrel racing industry.

"If you look at it by the numbers, you need an outcross," says Chad. "With all the Dash Ta Fame and Frenchmans Guy mares out there, I wanted the best bred outcross for those types of mares. I think this is one of the best bred sons of Fire Water Flit and everything you could ask for in a stud prospect."

Vickie Adams agrees and believes that Chad will give Firewater Canyon every opportunity to become an exceptional sire.

"This colt reminds me a lot of Fire Water Flit," she says. "He's got the conformation, great disposition. He's good legged and good footed. He's sensible and personable like Fire Water Flit was."

"Chad is going to give him every opportunity to make a great sire. He's got a great farm and some top-notch broodmares to cross him with. He's going to stand alongside some of the best racehorse stallions in the business. It's a great opportunity for that colt."

Firewater Canyon will stand to a limited book for a $2,500 fee at Hart Farms in Kaplan, La., in 2014. Due to the length of time it takes to prove a barrel stallion as a competitor and sire, Chad says Firewater Canyon strictly will stand at stud.

While Firewater Canyon will enter full-time stud duty right away, Boxers N Briefs will have very limited stud duty and be pointed to the arena with Chad's longtime friend and leading barrel futurity trainer and rider Brett Monroe of Gay, Ga.

If all goes according to plan, Boxers N Briefs will stand for $1,500 via frozen semen to a very limited book for the 2014 season so he can begin is barrel training.

Chad is hopeful he can put both Firewater Canyon and Boxers N

Briefs on the map as barrel horses sires just as he did Packin Sixes and Eddie Stinson.

"The breeding business can be tough, and we want to offer people good customer service so it can be enjoyable for everyone. It shouldn't be a hassle. We want to do the best we can to make sure mare owners have a positive experience."

For more information, please feel free to contact Chad Hart personally at 706.201.5648 or Hart Farms Manager Jerome Bellard at 337.643.3255 or 337.207.7944.

JB Quarter Horses Adds Open Incentive

JB Quarter Horses of Refugio, Texas, proudly announces the addition of an open horse bonus to the Creating Legends Incentive starting in 2014.

"JB Quarter Horses created the Creating Legends Incentive to give barrel racers a reason to take a chance on our young stallions and help prove their offspring in aged event competition," says owner Dee Lynn Braman. "Now, we'd like expand the program to include open earnings as a thank you to barrel racers for continuing to believe in our program."

The open incentive will be awarded to the highest money-earning open horse for each stallion. Only money won in open competition will count. No aged event money will be included.

JB Quarter Horses will track the earnings and each stallion's highest earner will be given the option of a free breeding to that horse's sire or a check in the amount of that stallion's breeding fee the year the horse was bred. Custom belt buckles with each stallion's logo will also be awarded to the leading horse.

To participate, riders need to submit their earnings to JB Quarter Horses via Facebook or email.

The program was inspired by Brittney Barnett's success on her Chasin Firewater mare Firewater Ellie. Barnett, who won more than $10,000 at the jackpots with the 4-year-old, posted pictures of her results to the JB Quarter Horses Facebook page.

"We loved seeing people post pictures of their results on our Facebook page or getting highlighted results emailed to us," adds Braman. "We thought why not encourage more people to do this. It will help us promote our horses and give barrel racers an added bonus. The best thing is it doesn't matter what division you win the money in."

The only restriction is the registered name of the horse must be listed in the results.

"We hope to encourage riders to use their horses' registered names, which in turn, makes it easier for us to track their earnings," says Braman. "Our industry is one of the most difficult to promote because of the lack of accurate record keeping. Those wins at the weekend jackpots can add up in a hurry, but it doesn't help the industry if the results say the horse was Bobby Sue or Jackie Jo."

JB Quarter Horses is home to leading sire Chasin Firewater, Dallas Fuel, Hot Corona and Two Timen Fuel. For more information on the Creating Legends Incentive program, please visit www.jbquarterhorses.com.

where," said Rios, who wanted to thank the Ganters for letting her finish out the futurities she had entered with him prior to his sale. "He doesn't need much work. I might slow work him around the barrels the day before but I mostly ride him out."

Former National Finals Rodeo qualifier Kassie Mowry and My Guy Can Fly, owned by Dave and Lori Zabel, won the $16,575 Slot Race. Their winning time of 15.08 was worth $6,630.

Mowry was very proud of how well the typically spooky gelding handled the atmosphere during the slot race, which was sandwiched between the breakaway and team roping.

"He felt really focused warming up, even with the ropes going around and everything," said Mowry. "I felt like I just rode him every step of the way, but I didn't have to help him out much."

Mowry and the 4-year-old gelding by Frenchmans Guy out of Pollys On The Go, by Cajo, also placed sixth in the Futurity for $2,509.

The closet race turned out to be the $5,000-added Derby where Brittany Pozzi and her homegrown Ima Super Fly Guy bested Laticia Duke and Schiller Ranch's Epic Leader, 30.76 to 30.82.

Fly Guy, a 5-year-old gelding by Frenchmans Guy out of Streakin Six Babe, by Streakin Six, pocketed $2,173 for the victory. He also won $982 in Open 1D money. His run of 15.04 on Saturday in the Open was one of the fastest runs of the event.

The Great Lakes Circuit took home the year-end championships in the futurity and derby. Lacy Kuschel and Western Goldmine took 1D Futurity honors, while Colleen Vondra and SH Doctor Nick Bar won the 2D. Ashley Baur and Love Mans Darling won their second straight derby title.

Kimbrough wins "Big Money" at CC5D Finals

By Julie Mankin

Kendra Kimbrough, freshly out of high school at 18, didn't grow up in rodeo or have a family who competed. Yet she clocked the fastest time of the entire weekend at Lone Star Arena's CC5D Finals on Oct. 24-27.

The event had $20,000 added in cash and paid out some $200,000, running over four days. You could enter each day, any number of horses. While Kimbrough, of Mansfield, made a run of 15.5 on Saturday, she came back Sunday to edge her high-school-rodeo friend Jackie Ganter with a smoking 15.014.

Kimbrough's 7-year-old buckskin gelding, COR Dakota Sun ("River"), also took her to the National High School Finals Rodeo in 2012, where only a penalty kept her from entering the short round in the lead.

"He's just an amazing horse," said Kimbrough, who spent time learning the ropes with Ed Wright. "We've had River since he was a year and a half old. I picked him out of about 20 colts. I broke him and Ashley Hasbrook trained him on the barrels, then I finished him out. We went through about one bad year trying to figure everything out, but since then he's been doing good."

Kimbrough had given River a couple of months off prior to the race and he came back strong, running fourth at the Win$More race in Glen Rose a week prior. Then in Stephenville, Kimbrough won the Sunday day money and grabbed the biggest check in the "Big Payout" pot, giving her a total on the day of a trophy buckle, hat, jacket and $2,822.

"I'm not going to college right now," Kimbrough said. "I'm debating whether to rodeo and try to make the circuit finals next year. With the money I won at the past two races, I could have filled my [WPR] permit. I'm looking for sponsors right now and would like to go to a few rodeos and see how I do with the pro girls."

So far, she's running right with the likes of Martha Wright and Kassie Mowry. In fact, River turned out so well that Kendra's mother (a pre-kindergarten teacher) and stepfather (owner of a conveying equipment company) bought both his dam and sire so they could make "more little Rivers."

Right behind Kimbrough in the Big Payout was Ganter, who not only claimed the second-fastest time of the weekend (a 15.047 on Bobbie Gene), but also placed fifth on VF A Live Design and eighth on Cartel's Fame.

Ganter also won all three 1D holes in the derby sidepot (first with that 15.047 on Bobbie Gene; second with a 15.210 on Cartel's Fame on Saturday and third with her Friday run of 15.350 on Cartel's Fame). The Bobbie Gene run also won the Youth incentive and plenty of day money, and helped Ganter win the 1D saddle for the season. She edged Karsyn Daniels, Martha Wright and Stevi Hillman as the season champion. All told, Ganter raked in $5,520 on three horses in Stephenville, along with a saddle, four trophy buckles, hats, a jacket and lots of other prizes.

Finally, winning the trophy Mortensen buckle and Greeley Hat Works lid in the two-division Futurity sidepot was Ken English aboard BS Merri Me Famous.

BORN TO BARREL RACE!

McLeod Rides Skye-high at Congress

By Julie Mankin

Charlie Cole and Jason Martin may have purchased Kellies Chick ("Skye") as a back-up for their stallion Slick By Design, but nobody told the mare she's No. 2.

At just 5 years old, Skye is winning the world in the WPRA for 2014 and has now stomped on the competition at one of the toughest contests in the country – the All American Quarter Horse Congress Sweepstakes in Columbus, Ohio.

Trained by Cody Hyde and campaigned by young Ivy Conrado of Colorado, Skye was then sold to High Point Performance Horses and ridden since September by Michele McLeod of Texas. Skye won a round in Columbus on her way to edging Jud Little's stallion Chicado's Cash (with Benette Barrington-Little on board) in the average by just five one-hundredths of a second. The win paid $9,521.

"They have two long rounds and take the 20 fastest times to a finals, then pay an average on two," said McLeod. "I hit a barrel to win the first round on her. We came back and won the second round, then were second in the finals and won the average. We won a saddle and buckle and it paid really well."

It was a long drive from McLeod's home in Texas to Ohio for the Congress, but Cole and Martin had already been there some time with a roster of 30-some horses to show at the big Quarter Horse event. McLeod packed along her daughter, who showed in barrels and poles.

High Point has earned $30,000 on Skye now in just four weeks. She's by Darkelly (a combination of First Down Dash and Shawne Bug blood) and gets her nickname from her mama, The Skye Chick, who goes back to Three Chicks and is a granddaughter of Pie In The Sky.

"I'll run Skye at the Challenge of Champions in Winnie, Texas, and at the rodeo there, then [my daughter] Katelyn will get back on her and run at Alvarado [Texas] to try to qualify for the American," McLeod said. "Then I have her entered at the Elite Extravaganza in Waco in November."

Meanwhile, it's time for Michele to step back on "Slick," who arrived home from the spa on Monday.

"He's up at the AQHA World Show on Nov. 8-9, but I'm also running him at Allen, Texas, the afternoon of the ninth," McLeod said. "It's a double whammy, but I really want to run him at Allen since it so closely mimics Las Vegas and he didn't run at Omaha."

McLeod dominated in the WPRA this summer while hauling Slick hard, so starting in November, she plans to haul him "non-stop" in preparation for the Wrangler NFR, even if that means running at Northside (in Fort Worth) every weekend.

"People think I'm nuts, but he showed me this summer that he's better with multiple runs," she said. "I want to get to Vegas and have him think it's just another rodeo; to just unload and get ready to run. I want to put him back in that situation from this summer."

In Columbus, the 11-year-old stallion Chicado's Cash earned $8,519, while Barrington-Little also grabbed $1,003 on 8-year-old JL Dash Ta Heaven. Chicado's Cash is by Cash Not Credit (Dash For Cash, Azure Te and Jet Deck) and out of a Flaming Jet mare that also went back to Chicado Chick and Tiny Watch.

In other news, the 6-year-old buckskin mare Seis So Sweet was back in the winner's circle in Columbus. She took Valerie Vansickle Watson to the win in the Amateur division. Seis So Sweet is by Tres Seis (by Sixarun out of a Rebs Policy/Tiny Watch mare) and out of a Takin On The Cash/Pass Em Up mare.

Ridden by Lance Graves as a 4-year-old, she won the Old Fort Days Futurity and more than six figures, as well as an IBHA world championship, ABRA reserve world championship and former Congress titles in the Junior division and Sweepstakes.

Taylor Young won the Senior division on Kissmyskooter, a 13-year-old gelding by Elan's Playboy (Freckles Playboy out of a Doc O'Lena/Gay Bar King mare) and out of a quarter-thoroughbred Doc Bar-bred mare. Young is a college student in Kentucky now, but grew up in Pennsylvania. Kissmyskooter was formerly owned by Rivon Nelson and ridden by Kelly Yates to pro rodeo money in 2010-11.

And the honors in the Junior horse division went to Florida's Courtney Roberts on JSYK Im Famous. The 5-year-old gelding is by the 13-year-old Dash Ta Fame/Easily Smashed/Azure Te stallion Famous JR. On the bottom, he's out of Firewater Fueled, by Firewater Flit and out of a granddaughter of Go Man Go.

Roberts grew up showing hunter-jumpers and began barrel racing in high school. She bought JSYK Im Famous as a 2-year-old at the BFA Sale in Oklahoma City and trains out of Pick View Farm in Ocala, Fla.

Movin has most heart; Peterson Fastest in Mountain States

By Julie Mankin

Ann Peterson is a self-described city girl, born and raised. And she works all week with just the weekends to play. That's why professional rodeo's circuit system – with rewards for weekend warriors – is made for her.

The Mountain States Circuit Finals Rodeo, Oct. 24-27 in Rock Springs, Wyo., offered dibs at just one qualification for April's RNCFR because Cheyenne Frontier Days champ Christy Loflin had a stranglehold on the year-end championship.

Kim Schulze – ranked 16th in the world in 2013 – jumped out and won the first round with the fast time of the rodeo before penalties beset her. The second round belonged to Dianne Bath, who was then leading the average heading into the final round.

But on the final night of action, Bath's horse slipped and cost her a penalty while Christine Laughlin won the round. Laughlin – riding 8-year-old Guy's Six Pack To Go – however, she couldn't overtake Peterson, who had placed in all three rounds. Peterson held onto the average title on three runs to earn $3,873 and her first trip to Oklahoma City, while Laughlin took home $2,943.

"I don't think it has sunk in yet," said Peterson, who lives in Avondale, Colo. "My whole attitude going in was just to leave nine barrels standing and be grateful to be there. To be honest, some of the top gals tipped barrels and opened the door for my little horse to sneak in there. The horses in our circuit are so nice that if you held the finals on 12 different weekends, everybody would take turns winning. It just happened to be my weekend and I praise God for that."

Her little horse is 13-year-old Bullywinkle ("Gideon"), whom she bought as an unstarted 3-year-old after telling a friend she was looking for a Bully Bullion (Gideon is by Bully Bullion and out of My Pal Sue).

"It's the best $1,500 I've ever spent," she said. "I thank my friend that found him for me quite often."

Ann and her husband Payson own a company called Professional Compliance and Testing LLC, which offers federally mandated drug testing for individuals with CDL licenses. Ironically, they call it PROCOM.

"We get a fair amount of phone calls from cowboys trying to enter, especially when we first opened," said Ann, who serves as president. "It's a good job; it keeps me busy and supports my habit."

Barrel racing wasn't a habit for her until later in life. She'd mostly ridden three-gaited saddlebreds and Arabian horses until meeting Payson, who was a team roper at the time. That's when she shucked her fancy show saddles and bought a rope horse.

"I had an Arabian show mare that I took to a working cow horse clinic on a whim," said Peterson. "She ran up a fence after a cow so fast and sucked back with that cow so hard that I almost fell off laughing. Going fast is way more fun than showing! I turned my rope horse into a barrel horse and just started going. I've had so much fun. It's just a gas."

Payson also swapped hobbies to become a cowboy mounted shooter, in which he holds a world championship. He travels with Ann when he's not competing, and the couple (who've been married 33 years) was together in Rock Springs.

Ann had earned $10,411 in the regular season and had made the circuit finals just one other time, in 2008. Gideon suffered a knee injury in 2009 that has plagued Peterson ever since. However, use of some new therapies helped her get him sound in time for the Elizabeth Stampede last spring, and kept him sound all year. This winter, Peterson plans to switch Gideon to the left barrel to further reduce the strain on the knee and help lengthen his career. In the meantime, his last runs going to the right were good as gold.

"I really enjoyed Rock Springs," she said. "The facility was great; the ground was great and the whole event was run very professional. The gals who did the awards – Shali Lord and Melanie Luark – did a top-notch job. In fact, all of the other 11 girls are professional, kind and sincere people. Not one of them didn't give me a hug and say congratulations. Before we made our runs, everyone was encouraging each other and wishing each other well. You just don't run into that in a lot of different sports."

One of those "others" – Christy Loflin – is known for inspiring others, but she's grieving the loss of her own biggest supporter. Her ex-husband and "best friend" Lance Loflin was just 44 when he died unexpectedly on Oct. 2. His daughter, Alyssa Loflin, accompanied Christy and her own daughter, Randi Timmons (also a contestant), to Rock Springs.

Although Loflin's mare Movin wasn't in Wyoming for the cookies, she was named Mountain States Circuit Horse of the Year, as well as "Horse With the Most Heart" after helping Loflin win the year-end championship.

"I won a beautiful saddle sponsored by Alan Woodbury," Loflin said. "I gave last year's saddle to Randi and I'm giving this one to my stepdaughter Alyssa."

With Movin still relaxing at Selway Equine Therapy Center in Texas, Loflin had competed on her 7-year-old gelding, Bo, in Rock Springs. Although she had won the Barrel Race for Breast Cancer a week prior on Bo, they had no luck at the circuit finals.

"We knocked barrels out of the arena right and left," said Loflin, headed to her second NFR in December. "He worked good; I just shaped him too much. It was all pilot error."

Movin, who will carry Loflin at the Challenge of Champions in Winnie, Texas, this week, is going to be backed up in Las Vegas by Bo because Timmons' circuit finals-qualifying mare is injured (Timmons borrowed Brittany Fellows' horse in Rock Springs).

Rookie Wins Wilderness Finals; Tommy is Top Horse

By Julie Mankin

The Wilderness Circuit boasts one of the toughest fields of cowgirls in the country, and the top 12 from 2013 included NFR qualifiers Sue Smith, Kelli Tolbert and Jody Sheffield; defending RodeoHouston champ Nancy Hunter and defending national collegiate champ Timmi Ward.

When you consider that Ward was one of a whopping three rookies to run at the Circuit Finals amidst the wolves, you realize how special the horseflesh really is in Idaho, Nevada and Utah. In fact, a rookie won the rodeo, held Oct. 25-27 in Heber City, Utah.

McKale Hadley, 21, had earned $7,412 this season to enter the Finals in sixth place on her 12-year-old gelding, Legacy Lane ("Jay"). The leader in the standings – Sammi Bessert – had an insurmountable lead of $9,236 on the circuit championship, so only one trip to the RNCFR in Oklahoma City was up for grabs.

Bessert of Loma, Colo., jumped out and won the first round by more than a tenth of a second on Terrible Tommy Twist, with Hadley right behind her in second place. For Round Two, Bessert gave "Tommy" the night off and stepped on her futurity colt, upon which Hadley split the round with Kali Jo Parker (who got into the Finals when Kelli Tolbert didn't enter).

In the final round, Kelly Larsen of Riverton, Utah, posted the fastest time of the rodeo for the win, while Hadley again landed in second. In the end, she edged Larsen by just two-tenths of a second in the average to earn $4,391 and her first trip to the RNCFR, while Larsen took home $3,117.

"I knew it was going to be tough, but honestly I didn't expect to win Rookie of the Year, either," said Hadley. "My goal was just to make the Finals. But I knew Jay loves the Heber arena, so I knew I had an advantage and would have a shot at the average title."

The Hadleys picked up Jay a decade ago from a relative who breeds racehorses. He's by the half-thoroughbred Lanes Leinster and out of the Dash Ta Fame daughter Lotta Debonair (who goes back to Go Man Go and Depth Charge on the bottom). Jay, then, has Depth Charge on both sides.

Wilderness Circuit Continued From Page 29

McKale's mother, Wendy, trained Jay and he also spent time under Terri Wood-Gates. McKale started running him when she was a junior in high school, making it to the NHSFR in Gillette twice, where she was the reserve national champion in 2011.

"He's my mom's horse, but she hasn't been able to get me off him," cracked McKale, who won the region last year for Weber State, but then dropped out of school and lives at home now in Plain City, Utah, with her parents. "I figured, my horse is good enough, why not take a shot at the pro shows?"

Hadley will give Jay the winter off to recuperate after a long year, then get him in shape for the RNCFR in March.

Meanwhile, Bessert had a great year on Tommy, who was voted Horse of the Year in the Wilderness Circuit and has his own Facebook page.

"He also won Horse of the Year in 2011, the last time we won the circuit," Bessert said. "I was pretty excited the girls voted for him - they're the ones who get to see what we go through all year long. It's nice to know he's respected. Everyone's got nice horses; there are so many nice ones out there these days."

She's been riding the 11-year-old son of Dash Ta Fame out of a Hemen/Bugs Alive In 75 mare since buying him as a 3-year-old off the track.

The 2014 trip to Oklahoma City will be Bessert's second, and now Tommy has learned better how to run in the bottom of the ground, which Bessert says he has to do often thanks to her "stellar drawing ability."

Bessert and Tommy first came on the national scene in 2010 and for four straight years now have finished the season ranked between 16th and 21st in the world. While Bessert said she'd likely not haul as hard if she could get the Finals "monkey" off her back, she still had a fun year.

"I picked the rodeos he liked and went to a few new ones, like I went to California and to Guymon," said the wife and mother of two. "We're in good shape to go to the winter rodeos again, and he likes those. I'll keep taking him as long as he wants to go. It's a lot of fun."

Headin' For Home

by Mike Morrison
Triple M (Mike Morrison Ministries)

“We should be so full of Jesus that when a mosquito bites us, it flies off singing “There’s Power in the Blood!”

An elderly lady said she’d like to put that statement on a sign and hang it in her sleepy little church. Far too many people don’t realize the power and authority Jesus gave us so we can lead abundant and peaceful lives.

Adam had it made in the garden of Eden but he committed high treason and turned his lease over to the devil. We’ve been living in a big mess of sickness, poverty and conflict ever since, but, we don’t have to stay there. Just as one man’s offense brought sin and death into the world, one perfect Man brought us forgiveness and hope. Jesus restored what Adam threw away. Read Romans 5.

Don’t let whatever pops into your head rip out of your mouth. Keep a positive attitude and speak positive words. Spend time with God, the Source of all things. With God on the inside of us, we can hear Him giving us directions and encouragement. If you’ve never made Jesus the Lord of your life, you better do it right now. It’s easy. Just say out loud that you believe Jesus is the Son of God, raised from the dead. Ask Him to come into your heart, wash you clean in His Blood and surrender your life to Him. Romans 10:9 says if we confess with our mouth the Lord Jesus and believe in our hearts that God raised him from the dead, we will be saved.

It says in Philippians 4:6 that we shouldn’t be upset about anything but we should turn to God with prayers and petitions and also thanksgiving. Then the peace of God will fill us through Christ Jesus! There is power in the Blood!
