Hart and Juwanna Man Overcome for CC5D Win

Sometimes it takes a tough barrel racer to win a tough barrel race. This weekend at the Cowboy Capitol 5D Finals at Lone Star Arena located in Stephenville, TX, one tough barrel racer, Linda Hart, and her 10 year old Dashin Is Easy gelding, Juwanna Man, outran over 1000 other barrel racers to win the big payout at one of the toughest barrel races in the country. Her take home for the weekend was $3,253.

This Monday, TX cowgirl took a little time from looking after cattle on wheat pasture to travel to the CC5D Finals. Hart was raised up cowboying, "My Daddy was a cowboy and I was just raised up in it," said Hart. She grew up roping mainly and never really had a barrel horse when she was younger but then over the years she started training barrel horses for other people. Then her life changed course pretty rapidly. In 1990, she was in the middle of training barrel horses and developing a very talented futurity mare, Dancing On Ice, when life took her on a path no one would choose.

Hart came down with Guillain-Barre Syndrome. A devastating disease where the body's immune system attacks it's own nervous system. Hart to lost muscle mass and was paralyzed from the face down on her right side due to the disease. Guillain-Barre Syndrome is a took this 5'8" cowgirl from 130 pounds all the way down to 75 pounds.

"The doctor told me I would never recover. I had a lot of people with the Syndrome call me after I recovered and ask me what I had done to get better and I just told them, God wasn't through with me yet!" Hart quipped. It took her almost 15 years to fully recover back to riding like she could before being stricken with Guillain-Barre. Then soon after, Juwanna Man came into her life to change it's trajectory once again.

One day a Spanish man, Miguel, who buys cattle for Hart and her husband showed up with a 5 year old Dashin Is Easy gelding that he was sure if she trained for barrels and sold, they would both make a lot of money on him. She laughed then, but it is safe to say after his most recent win, Juwanna Man could definitely be sold for a lot of money.

Over time, she did agree to start him on barrels, they partnered on him at first and eventually she bought him outright. He was put on the back burner for a couple years but the sale of one of her good horses forced Hart to work with him. It was a slow process taking a lot of outside riding, exhibitions and hauling. But according to Hart, "He has turned out to be a blessing! He is just a real sweetheart, gives me his all, and he just loves it" Hart and Juwanna Man have worked their way to the top levels of the tough Texas competition over the last couple years.

At the CC5D Finals, Friday didn't go as planned as they hit the second and third barrel. Hart knew she had to change plans for Saturday. "I just said, "God I am giving it to you" Hart said, then the pair went down the alley and smoked a run that stopped the clock in a quick 15.148 which took the lead for the weekend.

"I know he is of that caliber when he runs good. It was just a humbling feeling to run with that tough of competition and outrun over 1000 other runners," said Hart.

The future for this 55 year old barrel racer is to continue hitting the big barrel races close enough to her Monday home and not haul Juwanna Man unless there is some good money up.

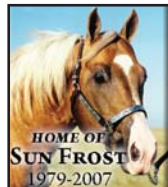

"I'm doing great and I would love to go down the road to the PRCA rodeos but I know physically I just can't do that. I might get my rookie card and take him (Juwanna Man) to some of these closer rodeos," commented Hart.

If you are in Texas at a barrel race or rodeo and there is good money up, you can bet you will probably have to beat Hart and Juwanna Man to get the big check!

Equestrian Reality Show Puts Riders to the Test

Royal Champion Supplements announced the completion of a new equestrian-themed reality show entitled “Swapping Saddles”. This will be the first reality show of its kind and the competition is sure to turn heads in the equestrian community with its catchy title, high quality production, and unique battle of the disciplines. Swapping Saddles may be seen online at www.royalchampion.com or on Royal Champion’s Youtube page.

The first episode of Swapping Saddles will feature a Barrel Racer and Jumper competing to see who can dominate the other’s sport within the specified guidelines. Riders will first participate in their respective disciplines and then the saddles will be “swapped”, with each rider trying their hand at something completely new. Overall scores will be totaled and the winner will take home prize money and bragging rights.

Horses and riders will be put to the ultimate test when taken out of their comfort zone and forced to compete with little time to practice. And as the competition heats up, the cameras document not only the technical difficulties of each discipline, but also capture the lighthearted and humorous moments that unfold as the competitors work with trainers in a discipline they have never tried before.

Royal Champion is currently taking suggestions for the next episode of Swapping Saddles. Please send your suggestions to samantha@royalchampion.com. In the meantime be sure to visit www.royalchampion.com to see more videos and learn about the Royal Champion line of products.

Rookie Ilene Choal and Roany Red Shadow Capture Mountain States

By Tanya Randall

Ilene Choal, a rookie member of the WPRA from Laramie, Wyo., topped the Mountain States Circuit Finals Rodeo, held Oct. 25-27 in Rock Springs, Wyo. She will be joining first-time Wrangler National Finals Rodeo qualifier Christy Loflin at the Ram National Circuit Finals Rodeo in Oklahoma City next spring.

Choal, a first-year dental school student and anthropology graduate from the University of Wyoming, said she never thought about the average until she was walking out to receive her championship buckle. Instead, she chose to focus on each run.

"I never thought about the average at all," she said. "I didn't even know I was in contention for it. I was just trying to think about each run and trying to make the best run I could each night. When we'd get home each night, I would watch the video of my run and see what I could do to make it better. But, I never did think about the average until I was walking out there."

Running eighth on the ground, Choal and her equine partner Roany Red Shadow ("Zeb") placed fourth in the first go with a 16.50. They were fifth on the ground in round two and improved their position to third with a 16.34. From the top of the ground, they posted the third round winning time of 16.20. All totaled, Choal pocketed $3,968.

"Each day he went out there and ran little a harder," she said. "He's as big of competitor as I am, so he just kept trying a little bit harder. The last run was probably to the closest to a perfect run I've ever made in my life."

Zeb, a 12-year-old gray gelding, has been her partner for the last seven years. Bred by Gerald Kaul of Sheridan, Wyo., Zeb is by Dashin Moon Shadow out of Most Tempting, by Runaway Winner. The gelding had run on the track until he was a 3-year-old and picked up two wins and a speed index of 89. Choal got him at the Wyoming High School State Finals Rodeo her senior year in high

"A lady had brought him up for another girl to try out and they didn't get along," she said. "I was riding a borrowed horse at the time and we were at the end of our road together. The lady said I could ride him at the finals. I really liked him and we got along pretty well. I couldn't pay what she wanted. She eventually decided that we got along so well that she came down on him for me.

"It's been a long road to get him where we are today. Now, he's pretty solid.”

Although Choal’s immediate family wasn’t involved in horses, her dad’s sister and her cousins barrel raced. They got her hooked when she would visit them in the summer.

“I loved horses,” she said. “When I went up and visited for two weeks in the summer, I would ride and they taught me to barrel race a little bit. I couldn’t get enough of it.”

Choal honed her riding skills with the aid of local 4H volunteers and learned from anyone and everyone.

“There have been a lot of people who have helped me over the years,” Choal added. “I’ve just tried to learn everything I can.”

One of her main reasons for chose dentistry as a profession is it will allow her to continue to rodeo.

“For me, dental school is for my barrel racing,” she said. “It’s going to allow me to support myself and continue to do the sport that I love. With dentistry, we make good money, but we have more flexibility because we can set our hours. Both of those things are big draws. I love it, too. I really enjoy working with my hands and people.”

Thankfully, her professors have been very supportive.

“My professors are pretty supportive,” she said. “I had an exam over the circuit finals and the class ended up moving the exam so I would be able to go. It’s been pretty good.”

Choal is grateful for the support of her family and friends for making school and rodeo possible. She says her non-horse husband, Tyler, has been her rock.

“My husband hauls with me to every one of these rodeos and he helps me in the gate,” she said. “He’s been there supporting me, constantly telling me that I can do this and to keep going. He’s like the rock in this whole thing.”

Her entire family was on hand to see her win the circuit finals too.

“One of the things that was really special about the circuit finals for me was that the majority of my family and friends were there for it,” she said. “My parents, my grandparents, my husband’s side of the family—everyone was there. When I walked out into the arena to accept the buckle, the stands were full of people who love and support me. A lot of them had helped—in small and large ways—to help me get there. It was really nice to look out there and see everyone that had been on the journey to get me there.”

Choal was quick to add the circuit finals was by no means her final destination, either.

“We are hopeful for where the future takes us,” she said. “Circuit finals isn’t the end destination for us. We’re going to try to keep going, competing and getting better.”

Barbara Merrill and RGR Liar Liar Conquer in the Wilderness

By Tanya Randall

Former National Finals Rodeo qualifier Barbara Merrill of Axtell, Utah, almost got a clean sweep at the Wilderness Circuit Finals Rodeo, held Oct. 25-27 in Heber City, Utah.

She and her tough 8-year-old gelding RGR Liar Liar ("Fibber") won the second and third rounds en route to the average win and $3,167.

"He just flew and was right on," said Merrill, noting that the ground was really good for the circuit finals. "He just ran so hard and his turns were really nice. He just worked great. The first run he was bottom of the ground, and it was kind of tore up and he kind of stepped around the holes. That cost us a little time. He still worked really nice. I was so proud of him. I was happy with every one of his runs."

Merrill started seasoning Fibber to rodeos as a 6-year-old. This was the second circuit finals for the gelding by Intentions And Purposes, a Special Effort-Victory Dash stallion, out of the Lanes Leinster mare Street Lawyer.

"We bought him when he was a yearling from Rainbow Glass Quarter Horses," Merrill explained. "They've got a lot of nice racehorses. He got kind of rough start. He was playing the pasture when he was a baby and chipped a hind ankle. That kind of ruined our futurity year."

Well known for training and selling exception rodeo horses—her recent winners include Layna Kight's National Finals Rodeo Horse Hat D Doc and recently Rachel Primm's pro rodeo winner Proud Red Pepper—Merrill said she'd run Fibber until someone makes her an offer she can't refuse. For now, she's enjoying the gelding.

"I'd like to rodeo on Fibs a bit," said Merrill, who will be headed to the NFR where she and Neil have a booth to market their Black Widow arena groomers, "but it depends on who's doing the best and what direction we're going. I've got a futurity colt, so we're going to go to Arizona and play it by ear that way. Futurities for sure January and February. From there, we're not so sure."

The couple winters every year in Arizona.

"If the weathers good, we'll try to stick it out here at home," she said. "I'm a wimp when it comes to cold. We go down to Arizona and stay with friends. There's no reason to stay here when the turds are frozen to the ground and I can't pick my pens. I don't want to be here. There aren't many barrel races here to get the colts ready either so off to Arizona we go to get our colts out and enjoy the weather."

Jud Little Stud Repeats at AQHA Congress

By Julie Mankin

If anyone's ever taken two stallions to run at the NFR, it's tough to remember when. But this December, Benette Barrington-Little will be doing it in style. She's packing heat in the form of the seasoned stud, JL Dash Ta Heaven, and the Jud Little Ranch's other 7-year-old stallion – Chicado's Cash.

The latter proved his worth at Columbus, Ohio, last weekend by claiming his second straight Senior Barrel Racing title at the All American Quarter Horse Congress, with Mrs. Little aboard.

"He's a neat horse," said Barrington-Little, who runs the stud in a tie-down and short-shanked gag bit. "He's a lot more ratey than JL Dash Ta Heaven, but doesn't quite have the rodeo experience."

The sorrel stallion by Cash Not Credit and out of Chicado Flame was trained by Jolene Montgomery and ridden some by Ashley Nelson before Benette took the reins exactly a year ago. Like JL Dash Ta Heaven, who is out of the WPRA world champion Dynas Plain Special ("Dee Dee"), Chicado's Cash has a dam that earned $65,000 on the barrel pattern. Not only is she by Flaming Jet, but she's also a great-granddaughter of Tiny Watch.

This year, Chicado's Cash helped Barrington-Little earn most of her late summer and fall WPRA money. He'll be a stellar backup to JL Dash Ta Heaven in Las Vegas.

"Those studs have been hauled in a nine-horse trailer with seven mares," said Barrington-Little. "I'm real mindful of where people are and where I am on them, but they're very well-mannered."

When she qualified for the 2010 NFR, it was on a half-sister to Chicado's Cash named Smooth My Credit, but she'd had to ride other horses in Las Vegas. This time, she's excited to dance with who brought her.

"Jud is excited, because he raised both these stallions," she said. "He designed this."

Barrington-Little pointed out that both studs were trained extremely well by Montgomery and were solid – it just took her a while to "get with them" enough to win, stepping on when they were 5 and 6.

"I'm very fortunate to get to ride behind Jolene," she said. "She trained Smooth My Credit, too."

Barrington-Little, who doesn't miss the 19-hour trip to Columbus each year, called the Congress Sweepstakes "unbelievably tough" and said it was won at a blistering pace by Chris Coffey.

Coffey had gone to the lead after two runs aboard Robert Alexander's horse Streakin Romance, with Troy Crumrine giving chase on Matt and Bendi Dunn's horse Imafrenchmanspistol. Streakin Romance is a 5-year-old gelding by the Dash For Cash/Easy Jet stallion Rolls of Romance and out of a granddaughter of Tiny's Gay by Streakin La Jolla.

The Junior Barrel Racing championship went to 5-year-old Whateva, owned by Ashley Merriweather Thompson and ridden in Columbus this year by Pete Oen. The Dash Ta Fame mare is out of One Hot Lane, a daughter of Lanes Leinster (speed index 101) that has more than 10 half-siblings, including Kendall Jackson, with speed indexes well over 100.

Second in the Junior division for 5-and-under horses went to another Dash Ta Fame baby, the 2012 futurity standout Fortune N Fame. Bred by Ralph and Carolyn Fales, the horse is owned by Mary Beth Ogle and rider Lance Graves. "The Cartel" is out of Already In Love, by Corona Cartel and out of a half-thoroughbred Moon Lark/Jet Deck mare.

And the Amateur barrel racing champion was Crystal Haskins on her home-raised 8-year-old mare Sheza Streakin Bully, by Bully Bully and out of a Shawne Bug mare.

Overall entries at the All American Quarter Horse Congress have set a new record each of the past two years. This time, they were up 10 percent just from last year, featuring nearly 20,000 competitors over 24 days. The show houses more than 5,000 horses during its three-week run.

Headin' For Home

by Sherry Morrison
Triple M (Mike Morrison Ministries)

I often hear things preached that really strike my heart, and I believe, take me to the next level of where I want to be when Jesus comes. One of those things happened a few days ago and I want to pass it on to you for you to think about.

It was told that in a camp meeting some years ago, a woman saw, in the Spirit, a man on a white horse riding up and down through the people. When she went to the platform to tell what she was seeing, the man rode his horse up there with her and it was Jesus! She asked Him what He was doing and He said, "Inspecting My troops." GASP!!!! I thought, what if, at The Barn, I saw Jesus riding around looking at me, inspecting me? Just how would I measure up? Groan with me here. There are days that I think I could really pass muster. My attitude is good, my conscience is clear and my love walk is evident. But I know, too, that there are days when I really suck at being a Christian. Boy howdy I wouldn't want inspection to be on THAT day....But the truth?

Jesus lives on the inside of each and every one of us. He is there on those stellar days AND we aren't hiding a thing from Him on those days when you couldn't tell me from Joe sinner on the block!!

I don't know where Christians get the idea that Jesus sits and waits at the church for them on Sunday morning. We take Him everywhere we go.....24/7. And I know that....you do too. It was just a wakeup call to me and for me.

On those bad days, He's there. On the good days He's there.... I'm just more conscious of Him and His leading me. Knowing that He never leaves me or forsakes me should help put a stop to those days when I'm thinking more about MYSELF than HIM.....thus leading to lots more of the good days! So be it!

We love you and pray that Jesus on the inside of all of us make the necessary changes in us..from glory to glory!
