Fame Is Dynamite for Jayden Wilson at Canadian Finals Rodeo

By Tanya Randall

Jayden Wilson and her homebred gelding Fame Is Dynamite (Whiskey) dominated the Canadian Finals Rodeo, held October 1-4 in Edmonton, Alberta.

Wilson, a 27-year-old from Gleichen, Alberta, and her 8-year-old gelding went into the CFR with a $10,000 lead and added the CFR Championship to secure the Canadian Barrel Racing Championship.

“It was just so fun,” said Wilson of the CFR, which is held in Rogers Place, home of the National Hockey League’s Edmonton Oilers. “That building is so cool to run in. You just walk in, and you feel like you’re somewhere big. There are so many people and it’s so loud. The atmosphere is just crazy!”

Wilson and Whiskey topped the aggregate by more than 3/10ths and placed in three of the five rounds. They were third in the first and second in the next two rounds.

She said her game plan changed “a little bit” as the rodeo progressed.

“The first couple rounds I felt like I was going to try to win the rounds, like everyone else hopes to,” Wilson said. “By Saturday, the average was more

Wilson said that Whiskey’s runs in Edmonton felt about the same, but the same could be said of his runs all year long.

“He runs pretty much the exact same everywhere we ran all year.”

she said. “He’s kind of one of those horses that it doesn’t really matter what arena you run him in. This summer, of the rodeos he won, a couple were on big, standard patterns and then one was in Hanna, which is probably the smallest we run in. I think we ran a 12.4 last year. He just runs the same big or small, no matter the setup.”

Wilson had come into the CFR in the No. 1 spot with $51,953. With $39,608 from the CFR, she finished the year with $91,534, nearly $27,000 ahead of the field.

“It was just a good year all-around,” said Wilson, who works fulltime as a financial analyst for MNP. “I think there was just one weekend that he didn’t win money at, at least one of the rodeos we ran at. Making the short go at Ponoka...that’s one of my favorite rodeos. It’s so cool to run there. We won Bruce and High Prairie back to back. We ran at Bruce Saturday and High Prairie Tuesday, he ran the exact same time at both places, so that was pretty cool. That just epitomizes Whiskey to me. He always does the same thing.”

By NFR Champion Sire French Hula Guy, Whiskey is out of the Doc O Dynamite mare Wranglers Dynamite, Wilson’s sister Rylee’s junior rodeo horse.

“She was one of those mares that everyone in the family loved,” Wilson said of Whiskey’s dam. “She was the most honest, nice

After getting started by Cody McArthur, Whiskey was trained and futurity by Wilson as a 5-year-old. He also started his rodeo career that same spring.

“I ran him at a few rodeos that spring and summer,” she said. “When he was 6, I rodeoed fulltime on him.”

11 Million Dollar Sire Slick By Design Laid To Rest

By Tanya Randall

The barrel racing world was shocked on October 2 with the announcement of the passing of industry leading performer and sire Slick By Design due to complications of laminitis. The stunning black stallion, forever immortalized by Breyer, was just 18.

"He was the complete package," said Charlie Cole, who co-owned the stallion with Jason Martin through their dynastic show horse operation, Highpoint Performance Horses.

Cole first saw Slick win the Junior Barrel Racing preliminary round at the 2012 AQHA World Show. With Jennifer Sharp aboard, the 5-year-old stallion topped the finals to win the AQHA World Championship.

Although he and Martin had future sires Feel The Sting and HP Dash Ta Fiesta in utero at the time, Martin urged Cole to inquire about the stallion.

"We had those two due in the spring," Cole explained. "I really wasn't looking for a stallion because in my head, I knew we were going to get one."

Slick, however, turned out to be the catalyst that made their speed event horse hobby into a breeding business that transcended disciplines.

"He built our breeding program, for sure," said Cole. "I think he gets credit for almost 100 percent of it. That's when things changed, when we started standing Slick. We built the stallion barn around Slick and that's when the other studs started coming and we got a couple of more ourselves. Without Slick I don't know that we'd have the breeding program we have because he made us step up."

First and foremost, Slick was a champion performer. "That's what we actually bought him for," said Cole. He and Martin had already had FQH A Sharp Move (Boomer) win the Cheyenne Frontier Days and run at the National Finals Rodeo with Charmayne James. With Slick, there was the opportunity to do the same. "The stallion part was a bonus, and hopefully we'd get to that point, but the first priority was we were buying a competition horse, and that's what he was."

Slick won nearly $50,000 his futurity year from just a few events in Texas, Oklahoma and Arkansas. The following year, he won the AQHA World. In 2013, at 6, Slick was paired with Michele McLeod. Together they won the Old Fort Days Derby before taking off on a summer run that would land them at their first of four consecutive NFRs. Slick won three rounds over his NFR career and turned in a 13.48 one of the fastest times ever run by a stallion in the Thomas & Mack.

In 2018, Stevi Hillman finished her season with the stallion. After placing in five rounds they were just one fallen barrel away from winning the coveted NFR Championship.

When Slick retired to stud duty full time, he was the all-time leading money-earning stallion with $626,962.

"The competition career," Cole said, "exceeded all expectations, going to the NFR and winning rounds. That was stuff that we dreamed of."

"When that ended, it was just fingers (crossed) that he was a breeding horse. Just because a horse is a winner doesn't always mean those traits carry on and the talent carries forward. Thankfully it really did. We were very fortunate to get both from Slick, an amazing competition career and breeding career."

One of the biggest bonuses to Slick's breeding career was his outcross bloodlines.

"He was an outcross on so many," said Cole.

"We were really lucky in that respect."

Bred by Allene Tatom, Slick was by AQHA World Champion Designer Red, On The Money Red's greatest son, and out of the Dream On Dancer mare Dreams Of Blue, who was an open and youth barrel racing money earner in Southeast Texas.

When Slick proved to be a champion sire, it was beyond Highpoint's wildest dreams. Just prior to this year's Pink Buckle, Slick's offspring earnings were over $10.8 million. He was eighth on the QData's all-time leading sire's list for barrel horses. He was also No. 3 with earners for $1.5 million thus far in 2025.

Slick is the only sire of multiple Pink Buckle Futurity Champions. His first was Slick Lane Ta Fame in 2019. Slick Swingin followed in 2022.

Their homebred Fiesta By Design won in 2024.

Highpoint Performance Horses also raised Slick's all-time leading performer Slicks Lil Amigo, who has won $428,802 and is still competing.

Cole said he will always remember how fondly everyone thought of Slick.

"He was so well-thought of by all the other barrel racers," Cole said. "People were always coming up to us and telling us how they loved his attitude and his mind. Once they saw Slick in person, they would just gush about him."

Slick will still be available to the public in 2026 with both frozen semen and ICSI contracts available.

"His legacy will continue," said Cole. "We've got his son Slye (By Design), who is an outcross with his bottom side too. We've got some young ones coming up too that will be running in the next couple of years."

Slick was laid to rest at Highpoint Performance Horses between AQHA Hall Of Fame show horse Acadamosby Award and their foundation barrel racing broodmare Rods Last Ladybug.

Ward Wins All-Star in Denver and Berth at American Regionals

By Julie Mankin

On two horses raised by Fallon Taylor, the world champ's long-time protégé Lorelee Ward of Fort Lupton, Colo., won the Rodeo All-Star and $8,500 in Denver on Oct. 3-4.

"I feel very fortunate," said Ward, in her third year at Colorado State University. "A lot of stars, I feel like, are aligning in my life. It almost doesn't feel real."

Eight racers are invited to the Denver rodeo each year for the All-Star. They run once Friday and once Saturday afternoon, after which the top four from each performance make Saturday night's semi-finals. In Denver, 21-year-old Ward ran her 8-year-old sorrel mare Florari ("Flo") on Friday to finish second, and on Saturday afternoon to win the second round.

"She's the coolest," said Ward. "She's by Metallic Cat and out of Flo's Heiress ("Baby Flo"), and is my main mount."

Ward ran her mare again in the semi-finals and made the top-two showdown to face off immediately against defending Rodeo All-Star champ and recent first-time NFR qualifier Katelyn Scott. But Ward didn't want to make three runs on Flo. So, she turned to her 7-year-old palomino gelding.

By Filthy Fast N French – Taylor's former palomino stallion that Ward also had ridden – Flo Me Da Money ("Jerry") is out of Baby Flo's full sister, Flo's Nick Nack. In that final run, Ward edged Scott by just a few hundredths for the win.

"My mare is very difficult to jockey, but the cool part about Jerry is he's very simple," said Ward. "He does his job every time and I can always rely on him in a pressure situation. He never tries to cheat you anywhere. Sometimes he runs harder than others – it depends on what Jerry wants to do that day. But because he has the ego of LeBron James, when a crowd is involved, I can always call on him to show off."

Thinking positive helped, too. Because Jerry's name is Flo Me Da Money, his leg protection is adorned with little hundred-dollar-bills. And Ward said "it's kind of silly," but she went ahead and wore her shirt with Benjamins all over it, too.

Ward didn't come from a family that had horses. Her father grew up playing baseball and her mother was raised on an Iowa farm. But Ward's father bought a horse and began helping family members on their cattle ranch while getting into cowhorse disciplines. Lorelee grew up team penning and ranch sorting.

Her dad knew it was a niche discipline and thought she'd have more opportunities going forward in barrel racing. When Lorelee was about 10, a penning friend suggested Wards send her for lessons with Taylor.

"They thought it was a good idea to ship their 11-year-old daughter to Texas, and I worked for Fallon for two summers," recalled Ward. "I'm fortunate she chose to mentor me!"

Ward still winters in Collinsville, Texas, heading down annually after her hometown rodeo – the National Western in Denver – to live in the apartment above Taylor's tack room. She said she tries to "earn her keep" while going to school online and working barrel horses.

"One of my first barrel horses was Fallon's NFR horse from 1995," recalled Ward. "I won my first saddle on him and my first scholarship. And three years ago, I had a good horse die and my only others were too young to take to the high school rodeos. My dad called Fallon, and she said to come get the Metallic Cat mare she had in the pasture. We drove to Texas the next day and picked up Florari. There aren't very many offspring of Baby Flo out there, especially mares, and the fact she was willing to let this teenager be entrusted with a horse of that caliber was pretty insane. It's not like

I was taking the mare anywhere prestigious – just to high school rodeos!"

The Wards own Florari now, and Lorelee will run the mare at her second Mountain States Circuit Finals Rodeo at the end of this month. On her, she also won the 2025 year-end WPRA Tour with 93.75 points.

Last weekend's Rodeo All-Star was also an American Rodeo Super Qualifier, which means Ward punched her ticket directly to the Central Regional Finals on April 16-18, 2026, in Oklahoma City's OG&E Arena.

There, the top 10 on two runs out of the Central Region point earners and handful of gals landing 6th through 20th in the 2025 world standings – plus three from a Redemption Round – will make the Regional Finals, where first pays at least $10,000.

And the top five from Oklahoma City will advance on to Texas' Globe Life Field for the American Contender Tournament, which pays the champ a guaranteed $15,000. In Arlington, the fastest five will advance to run against the top five from this year's WPRA world standings for a chance at the $140,000 final-four round with its $2 million bonus.

Ward could actually run Flo or Jerry at the Central Regionals, but for now she plans to leave those two rodeo horses at home and run her new 5-year-old mare in Oklahoma City next spring.

"Her name is Epic Moonshine and I haven't yet made a competition run on her, so I'm speaking positively," admitted Ward. "My dad and I just bought her from Bill and Cheryl Kennedy. I've had my eye on her since Andre Coelho was training her at 3, but she's only been to aged events. I think Oklahoma City is a great setup for her. I'm really excited about this horse."

Ward's plans include law school in Wyoming or Texas, after which she'd like to become a world champion barrel racer.

"Probably the two professionals who've influenced me the most have been Andre and Fallon," said Ward. "She owns my futurity horse this year and one I have for next year."

WPRRA Announces 2025 Committee and Contract Awards

With the regular season behind us we turn our attention to what can be considered the reward season for not only our Top 15 but also all the personnel and committees that have gone above and beyond this past year.

The WPRRA Board of Directors have selected their 2025 committee and contract award winners that have worked tirelessly behind the scenes to make it all happen and have helped keep the Association alive and well for the past 77 years. Each winner will be officially recognized during the WPRRA Star Celebration at the South Point Hotel and Casino in Las Vegas, Nevada, on Thursday, December 4.

Honored this year with the Lifetime Family Heritage Award will be the McLeod Family. Megan McLeod-Sprague has qualified for her first Wrangler National Finals Rodeo after being a WPRRA member since 1997 following in her mother, Teri's, footsteps. Qualifying for the NFR ranked fifth is a great achievement for Megan and both she and her mother have worked tirelessly to make the sport better. Teri served as the Wilderness Circuit Director for 10 years (1994-2003), while Megan served as Wilderness Circuit Director from 2008-2009 and the Columbia River Circuit Director from 2019-2021. Megan's dad and Teri's husband, Sandy has also been there every step of the way supporting his ladies.

WPRRA Announcer of the Year is Anthony Lucia, who recently was selected to work his first Wrangler National Finals Rodeo as an announcer. From a trick roper to top announcer Lucia has put in the work announcing rodeos from coast to coast. He has been selected PRCA Announcer of the Year the last two years.

Thompson is the go-to lady for WPRRA barrel racers when it comes to entering rodeos, what rodeos are best to compete in, best ways to get set-up when it comes to preferences and understanding the WPRRA Rulebook and event ground rules.

Rodeo committees have long been the backbone of the rodeo industry and without the hardworking rodeo committees, the industry would have a hard time existing. The WPRRA is thankful to every committee who continues to elevate the sport to new levels. With the increase in added money the WPRRA added a new category in 2024 called Mega Rodeo of the Year, which includes rodeos adding $25,000 or more. Winning this award in 2025 is the Calgary Stampede after adding women's breakaway roping with equal prize money into the big show. This was the first year a new event was added to this prestigious rodeo since barrel racing was added. Also being recognized for outstanding commitment to the industry are: Toppenish (WA) Rodeo – (Small Rodeo of the Year), Rodeo Killeen (TX) (Medium Rodeo of the Year) and Tri-States Pro Rodeo – Ft. Madison, IA (Large Rodeo of the Year).

HEADIN' FOR HOME

by Sherry Morrison // Triple M (Mike Morrison Ministries)

Officially, we are into the last quarter of the year. How's it going for you? Good? Not so good? If you landed on the 'not so good' side, is it because you may be frustrated? The gov't., your job, your marriage, your finances. . . or all of it?

Yikes! Let's first think about that. I Cor. 10:13 promises us that God will make the way of escape. We don't want to always be living on the defensive side of life. We want to be prepared and on the offense. We are prepared when we hear and obey what God tells us to do. We both know that sometimes we want to make our plan and then ask God to bless it. STOP THAT!

Have you, or do you know anyone, that has ever heard God say, "I like your plan better than Mine..." It's not going to happen! If that's our attitude, we WILL be playing defense and that's a horrible place to be.

Our very good God will never agree to something that will hurt us. We have three months left in this year to put Him first, put His plan first, and have victory!

Mike and Sherry Morrison pastor "Church at the Barn" in Gillette, WY. They also travel to other areas ministering at barrel races, ranches, rodeos, churches and home Bible studies.
