Rylee Dick & Designing Scooter Blow Out Glen Rose American Qualifier

By Tanya Randall

Rylee Dick, an Oakley, Utah, native attending Odessa College on a rodeo scholarship, made her name known when she piloted Designing Scooter (“Red”) to an impressive victory at the RFD-TV’s The American Qualifier, held during the BBR Texas/Oklahoma Regionals in Glen Rose, Texas.

“I was really excited to be there,” said Dick, who pocketed $4,615 for her winning run. “Since the American had come about, I had always wanted to run at one of the qualifiers. I wasn’t really sure what to expect. I went in there with ‘all or nothing’ and it paid off.”

Dick grew up in a rodeo family. Her father, Ladd, rodeoed through high school and college and got his four kids—Carlee, the oldest, Rylee and twin sons, Kendall and Kylar—involved in the sport.

“We are all really close in age, so it was really fun to be able to travel together every weekend,” she noted.

The 19-year-old doesn’t frequent many of the big jackpots, but rather focuses her efforts in the rodeo arena. She and Red are the defending barrel racing champions for the National Intercollegiate Rodeo Association’s Southwest Region.

“I was always a roper in high school,” said the multiple-event hand. “I always had decent barrel horses, but I never really became a ‘barrel racer’ until me and this horse started doing good in college.”

Bred by Andy and Julie Dobson, Scooter, a tall, lanky 11-year-old gelding, is by leading barrel horse sire Designer Red out of Days Dashingbug, by Dashing Encounter. He was ridden by their daughter Courtney prior to being purchased by the Dick family.

“We bought him as a 7-year-old. My dad had bought him for my sister to use in high school because her horse had coliced. She rode him for a year, her senior year, and after she graduated she went to college in Hawaii, so I got to ride him for two years and bring him to college with me.”

The pairing between Dick and Scooter was not an instant fit.

“We struggled in high school,” she said of Red, whom she said reminds her of Secretariat – “he’s big goof ball who loves to eat.” “I never made it to nationals on him. We had a problem with our third barrel. A lot of it was my fault, I’m sure, but we had to switch some bits and switch some things around, but I finally clicked with him.”

Dick said that Autumn Keller—her “barrel racing mom back

RURAL RADIO to carry Canadian Finals Rodeo live

Rural Radio SiriusXM Channel 147 is partnering with CFCW in Canada to offer non-local listeners exclusive live coverage of the 42nd Canadian Finals Rodeo (CFR) in Edmonton, Alberta. Performance times are at 9:30 (ET) each evening on Nov. 11-15, and at 3 p.m. each on Saturday, Nov. 14 and Sunday, Nov. 15 (ET).

"Rural Radio is keenly aware of the interests of Western sports fans across North America," said Paul Aaron, President and General Manager of Rural Radio. "Because we're on SiriusXM, we're the only opportunity for many people in the U.S. and all of Canada to get live coverage not only of Western sports, but agribusiness news and weather. As part of our programming dedicated to Canadian listeners, we also started broadcasting the World Professional Chuckwagon Association races, along with major PBR events and rodeos such as the Calgary Stampede."

The CFR showcases the 2015 season's top 12 rodeo athletes in seven events in the Canadian Professional Rodeo Association. They'll battle for almost $1.6 million in purse money and exemption invitations to RFD-TV's The American Semi-Finals Rodeo, Feb. 17-21 in Texas. Nearly 100,000 rodeo fans are expected to fill Edmonton's Rexall Place, the home of the NHL's Edmonton Oilers.

The broadcast, aired in partnership with 840 CFCW and cfcw.com, will include CFCW's veteran broadcast team: Ram Rodeo Report host Tim Ellis; three-time Canadian All-Around Champion and 1991 Canadian Saddle Bronc Riding Champion Duane Daines; rodeo reporter Dianna Finstad and 2008 Miss Rodeo Canada Jenna Verhun.

"CFCW has been covering the CFR since it started back in 1973," said Ellis. "We're excited that Rural Radio has come on board this year to provide our live broadcast to rodeo fans throughout North America."

Out-of-town listeners can also catch news from the Canadian Finals before, during, and after the rodeo with Rural Radio's Steve Kenyon on Western Sports Round-Up, a daily radio program highlighting the best in Western sports at 6 p.m. (ET) every weeknight.

"Rural Radio is in the middle of covering the three biggest Western-sports events in North America," said Kenyon. "We just got back from the PBR World Finals, this week it will be the Canadian Finals Rodeo, and next month we'll provide live coverage of every performance of the Wrangler National Finals Rodeo."

RFD-TV's Cowboy Experience returns to Las Vegas for the NFR

For 10 days throughout the city, RFD-TV takes you behind the scenes and broadcasts each night's buckle ceremony from the South Point.

Las Vegas Events and RFD-TV are teaming up for the third straight year Dec. 3-12 to bring you live behind-the-scenes television coverage of the entire Cowboy Experience during the Wrangler National Finals Rodeo. In addition, Rural Radio SiriusXM Channel 147 will air live play-by-play coverage of every rodeo performance.

On RFD-TV, expect more than four hours of coverage each day from Las Vegas. The nightly go-round buckle ceremony from the South Point Hotel and Casino kicks off each daily broadcast schedule at 3 p.m. (ET). Flint Rasmussen's talk show, Outside the Barrel, immediately follows at 4 p.m. daily, and afternoon programming wraps up with live daily broadcasts of Western Sports Roundup at 5 p.m. That's when Steve Kenyon and Amy Wilson will provide up-to-the-minute news and conduct interviews with contestants, entertainers and more.

Tune in for highlights from the Benny Binion's Bucking Horse and Bull Sale, the Miss Rodeo America pageant, and the annual charity bowling and golf tournaments. The network will cover the always-entertaining Pro Rodeo League of Women Style Show and bring you all the latest from the Priefert World Series of Team Roping at the South Point, plus the brand-new Boyd Gaming Chute-Out Rodeo at The Orleans Arena, Dec. 10-12.

Rural Radio SiriusXM Channel 147 will broadcast each show one hour after it airs on RFD-TV. In addition, the Cowboy Shopping Network will air daily from Las Vegas on RFD-TV at 6 p.m. (ET). And on the radio channel, live radio coverage of each performance kicks off with a pre-show nightly at 9 p.m. (ET).

Episodes will be filmed live each day from the RFD-TV stage in the South Halls of the Las Vegas Convention Center, near RFD-TV Booth #4531.

Elite Rodeo Association and Star Athletes File Antitrust Class Action Lawsuit

The Elite Rodeo Association (ERA) and three of the top cowboys in the world today were forced to bring an antitrust class action lawsuit challenging unfair and illegal bylaws passed by the Professional Rodeo Cowboys Association (PRCA). These anticompetitive PRCA bylaws were enacted in October 2015 to try to shut down or harm ERA before its inaugural 2016 season.

Hardin and Smartys Real Rock Steal the Show

This past weekend the Spurr Ranch hosted the largest one day held race in California. Angie Hardin was one the weekend's big winners pocketing a total of $4,207.75 over two days. The Barrel Racing Report caught up with Hardin after her big win and we asked her a little about her great horse, Smartys Real Rock.

BRR: Tell us a little about your horse.

Hardin: I bought him when he was 3. He was a reject cutter. I bought him off of videos and, once he was shipped out, I really thought I screwed up. He was tiny, really tiny - he looked like a fawn. However, after the first ride, I knew he was special. He was light on his feet and quick footed! I started him on the pattern the spring of his 4 yo year. I took him to 1 small futurity. He was 2nd in average. He had a little bit of a short fuse, so I really took my time and didn't run him much as a 5 yo.

BRR: Could you walk us through your 2 runs?

Hardin: This little horse runs hard and can rate even harder. It can be a challenge to make clean back to back runs. My goals were pretty simple, ride hard to each barrel and bump my outside rein as I got there, keep him square and elevated in his turn. He was pretty honest in both runs... that seems to be coming with age!

BRR: Could you share a little about your training & riding style? What did you do to get your horse ready for this weekend's win?

Hardin: I rode a lot with my friend, Jamie Pearson, when I started him. I love her style. It's really a sit back, teach them to run collected up underneath you kind of style! I try not to lean forward, but rather stay square, centered, keep him balanced and elevated. Navigate them to the backside and let them leave hard, but in total control.

I spend 75% of my riding, both finished and young horses, out long trotting the rolling hills of Cottonwood. I'm in my arena only about 25% of the time. I try to keep my horses in great shape and strong. I want that pattern to be easy, not "work"! In preparation, I really have to focus on forward motion with this ratey little horse!

Carter Dominates Wilderness Circuit Finals

By Hope Sickler

Veteran barrel horse trainer and competitor, Vicki Carter, has been dominating the cloverleaf pattern from one end of the country to the next and this past weekend that same domination carried over to her home turf in Utah at the Wilderness Circuit Finals held in Heber City.

The Richfield, Utah cowgirl had a memorable rodeo season, chalking up wins at some of the most prestigious rodeos in the country, however some of her most memorable moments were at rodeos that took place in her home state of Utah. Aboard the 10-year-old superstar gelding by Blazin Jetolena, Blazin Ta Fame, Carter was not only making dreams come true for herself but also for several other people who have ties to the big sorrel gelding. This past weekend at the Wilderness Circuit Finals held in Heber City, Utah, Carter displayed the heartfelt bond that she and "Blaze" have and won not only the year end championship but the average championship as well when they put together three smoking fast and solid runs.

"He ("Blaze") is an amazing horse and we have come together like no other. He has more heart and try then I have ever seen in a horse and he will give 200% every single time he runs down the alleyway," said Carter.

Carter was handed the reins to "Blaze" after a tragic accident claimed the life of "Blazes" previous pilot Rachel Hendrix. Carter and Hendrix were long time barrel racing friends and Carter was considered a "mom" to the 18-year-old Hendrix.

"It has been a very emotional journey but I know that she has been along for the ride the entire time. I can feel her presence and so can many people in our support circle. When I get to feeling nervous before I run, I always get a sense of calming right before we make our run and I know that is Rachel putting her hands on me and giving me the strength and guidance to make another run on her beloved best friend."

With so many firsts this year for Carter and "Blaze", including their first trip to the NFR in a few short weeks, this was also their first trip to the Wilderness Circuit Finals and Carter's first Circuit Championship.

"This was a great stepping stone for us before the NFR. I had a bunch of friends that were able to come out and support us which gave me some practice on how I am going to handle the nerves when we get to Vegas," laughed Carter.

First to run in the first round, Carter wanted to make her run count and win the round. Being a lady of her word, Carter won the first round with a smoking fast run of 16.28-seconds, 3-tenths faster than the rest of her competition!

In the second round, Carter was 12th out and made another smooth run and was just out of a check but still sitting pretty in the average.

"The ground was a little damp and slick in the second round but Blaze still gave me everything he had and we still had a nice run." 12TH out again in the final round, Carter knew that all she needed to do was make a smooth, clean run and "Blaze" would take care of the rest.

"We made a nice run in the third round and won third in the round. He did his job every night and I could have not asked for more. He has far exceeded my expectations this year. He just keeps getting better and better. I know he is doing this for Rachel," explained Carter.

Capper Claims Columbia River Circuit Year End Title and Crossley Clenches Average Championship

by Hope Sickler

Cheney, Washington barrel racer Pam Capper and her 13-year-old partner in crime Sheza Smooth Flight won their 5th consecutive Columbia River Circuit Championship this past weekend in Yakima, Washington.

Capper and the ever-so-talented mare that goes by the name of "Jesse" had a solid year out on the trail before making the trek back to her circuit rodeos. Once back in the circuit, "Jesse" experienced a couple injuries that prevented the dynamic duo from competing and placing at some bigger circuit rodeos. However, things still worked out the way that they were meant to when Capper put together three promising runs at the circuit finals that resulted in their 5th circuit championship.

"We started the year out down south and did pretty good. When we came back to our circuit, "Jesse" got hurt which prevented us from competing and placing at some of our good paying rodeos. The money in our circuit is pretty evenly spread out so going into circuit finals, it was really open as far as who was going to win the year-end," explained Capper.

Prior to the circuit finals, Capper had competed at the Billings NILE pro rodeo along with the pro rodeo at the Cow Palace and

With a total time of 49.17 on three, Carter won the average, along with the year end title and stamped her ticket to the Ram National Circuit Finals this spring in Florida.

"I am very excited to make the trip to Florida. This horse has made my dreams come true and I am forever grateful to the Hendrix family for allowing me the opportunity to follow our dreams. I know Rachel has been along for the entire ride, I would not be felt like she was ready for the circuit finals.

In addition to the year end and average championship, Carter also won the Rookie of the Year in the Wilderness Circuit and "Blaze" was awarded Horse with the Most Heart!

The Columbia River Circuit Finals are three go rounds in only two days. Capper set the bar high placing in all three rounds. "The first round was on Friday night and we had a pretty good run. We got up by the first barrel some but I was still very pleased and we placed 3rd in the round with a 12.93," Capper said. With two runs on Saturday, Capper knew that she had to stay smooth and clean. "Our second run was a lot like our first run and we placed 4th with a 12.96. After the second round, I took "Jesse" back to her stall and let her rest and eat while I got myself something to eat and rested alongside of her. While waiting for the third round, I put together a game plan for the final round." The game plan that Capper rehearsed in her head before the third and final round was just the added boost that she and "Jesse" needed and they made their best run all weekend running another 12.93 for third in the final round. With a total time of 38.82 on three, Capper ended up third in the average and nailed down her 5th consecutive circuit championship.

Crossley Clenches Average Championship

21-year-old Callahan Crossley was born into a champion rodeo family so it is only natural that she herself is a champion inside and out. Crossley competed at her third circuit finals this past weekend in Yakima and left with her ticket punched to the Ram National Circuit Finals in Florida next spring. "I have been running barrels for as long as I can remember. I started out at the junior rodeos and local barrel club series and progressed into high school rodeo, college rodeo and now pro rodeos," said Crossley. Crossley's main dude is a 17-year-old brown gelding Brownie Bi Bogie, affectionately known as "Brownie", whom she has been riding and running for 6-years. "Brownie" is a huge blessing to my family and me. We got him from my aunt Mary and uncle Butch Knowles. He is out of my Aunt Mary's good barrel horse and they raised him until he was 6-years-old and then gave him to my mom who trained him on the barrels. My older sister then got him and seasoned him and then I was given the reins to "Brownie". Crossley describes her 2015 rodeo season as very memorable and this past weekend in Yakima only added to her memorable year when she and "Brownie" won the average with their total time on three of 38.29-seconds.

The winning pair will make their way to Kissimmee next spring in hopes of doing the very best that they can and letting the rest take care of itself.

"I am just excited to experience Florida. I have never been somewhere so far from home but I am very excited to compete in one of the biggest rodeos I will have ever competed in," noted Crossley.

Canadian Finals Rodeo Kicks off This Week

For the 42nd time the CFR will kick off later this week, with 6 performances November 11-15, 2015 at the Rexall Place in Edmonton, AB, Canada. The total 2015 purse is the highest ever at $1.589 million.

The schedule is as follows:

1st Performance: Wednesday, November 11, 7:30 pm

2nd Performance: Thursday, November 12, 7:30 pm

3rd Performance: Friday, November 13, 7:30 pm

4th Performance: Saturday, November 14, 1 pm

5th Performance: Saturday, November 14, 7:30 pm

6th Performance: Sunday, November 15, 1 pm

Edmonton, AB is on Mountain Time.

The CFR

The CFR will be carried live on Satellite radio, Rural Radio XM 147 in Canada and Sirius/XM 147 in the US or carried by 840 CFCW in Canada by tuning into 790 CFCW for "Live on the Web" coverage of the 2015 CFR. The CFR can be available Pay-Per-View via www.worldplaylive.com/cfr42 as well. Along with this coverage, the Rodeo Canada website (www.rodeocanada.com) will also be updated "Event by Event". Keep checking their website for more info. Also there will be coverage available on ShawTV and Shaw Direct each night at 11pm across Canada.

Due to the huge payouts at the CFR (2014 paid $11,809 to win each round and the average), the barrel racing title is up for grabs this year like nearly all years. For instance, last year's CPRA & CFR Champion, Steffanie Mather won over $58k at the 2014 CFR alone enroute to year end winnings of $79,274 & a championship. The ultra consistent Little Miss Wicked has carried Nancy Csabay to the top spot going into the CFR in 2015 and Honor Thy Frenchman, the NFR arena record holder, is back at the top of his game with Taylor Jacob and sits only about $1,500 behind them in second. The split from 1st to 12th in the standings is only $12,991 so one round win could change the whole standings! That makes for a pretty exciting CFR this year. Keep checking on www.RodeoCanada.com to keep up with the results or www.cfr.ca.

“ERA’s goal is simple: better the sport of rodeo for everyone – fans, professional athletes, rodeo associations, stock contractors, sponsors and venues,” said Tony Garritano, CEO and President of ERA. “We are filing this lawsuit on behalf of professional cowboys and cowgirls who have devoted their lives to rodeo and are truly the best in the sport, in order to make rodeo stronger and create opportunities for everyone who dreams of being a rodeo champion, not only today but for generations to come.”

ERA was announced earlier this year to create a new, nationally televised stage where fans get to see the best rodeo talent compete in a regular season culminating with a World Championship Rodeo at the American Airlines Center in Dallas, Texas. ERA seeks to expand audiences for the sport and elevate the world of professional rodeo. PRCA responded to an announcement that top cowboys would focus their 2016 “tour” schedules on ERA events by enacting new bylaws that retaliate against almost anyone who participates in, or has any connection with, an ERA rodeo, including athletes, rodeo committees, facilities and vendors.

“PRCA is unlawfully exercising its monopoly power in the rodeo industry and organizing a group boycott to prevent free competition in the sport,” said Jim Quinn, one of the country’s preeminent sports law attorneys and a partner with the law firm of Weil, Gotshal & Manges LLP, which is representing the cowboys and ERA in the lawsuit along with antitrust law partner Eric Hochstadt and sports law attorney John Gerba. “PRCA’s bylaws are clearly anticompetitive on their face, and should be declared illegal by the court, just as other courts have done when PRCA tried these same unfair tactics in the past.”

The class action lawsuit seeks a court order to temporarily and permanently stop PRCA from enforcing the new bylaws. The case was filed in U.S. District Court for the Northern District of Texas in Dallas on behalf of all current and future athletes who are or will be an officer, board member, employee of ERA or have or will have an ownership or financial interest of any form in ERA.

“We aren’t asking for any money in this lawsuit, just the opportunity to compete in ERA events without being retaliated against by PRCA,” said Trevor Brazile, a 21-time World Champion Cowboy, ERA Board Member and shareholder, and one of the named plaintiffs in the lawsuit. “We believe PRCA and ERA can – and should – work together on behalf of the sport, just as PRCA has successfully done with the Professional Bull Riders (PBR) and other rodeo associations.”

PRCA and ERA are two different organizations with different missions. Where PRCA is driven by member dues and sanctions hundreds of rodeo events that include competitors of any skill level, ERA was founded to create a “League of Champions” and a true national championship to increase excitement and benefit the entire industry.

“It’s unfortunate that after participating loyally in PRCA events across the country as a professional for nearly 20 years that PRCA has responded this way,” said Plaintiff Bobby Mote of Stephenville, Texas, who holds four world titles, is a founder and shareholder of ERA, and another of the named plaintiffs in the lawsuit. “We designed ERA as an additional tour for competitors, not as a replacement, and it has always been my intention to participate in both ERA and PRCA events next season.”

ERA is open to every cowboy and cowgirl who can demonstrate that they have the ability and dedication to be one of the very best athletes in the sport.

“Current and future generations of rodeo athletes will see a stronger career path that allows the very best competitors to concentrate on their profession and be able to end their careers on their own terms,” said Ryan Motes, of Weatherford, Texas, the current co-holder of the world record in team roping, a founder and shareholder in ERA, and the third named plaintiff in the litigation.

“ERA is committed to working with the entire rodeo industry, including PRCA, to bring added vitality, growth, and value to the sport,” continued Garritano. “But we can’t stand aside and let PRCA break the rules and play Monopoly with rodeo. The free market gets to decide what competitions take place, not the PRCA.” Weil, Gotshal & Manges LLP is well-known for their representation of the Players’ Associations of most major U.S. professional sports leagues. Quinn, the head of the firm’s Sports Law Practice, has more than 40 years of experience in the field, and is credited with developing the collective bargaining process in most major U.S. professional sports leagues today.

The antitrust class action lawsuit is The Elite Rodeo Association, Trevor Brazile, Bobby Mote, and Ryan Motes v. Professional Rodeo Cowboys Association, Inc. A copy of the complaint is available on the website.

Wrangler NFR Now Available on Pay-Per-View Outside the U.S.

The Professional Rodeo Cowboys Association announced today that it has partnered with Canadian-based company Worldplay to make the Wrangler National Finals Rodeo presented by Polaris RANGER available to ProRodeo fans outside of the United States.

All 10 performances of the 2015 Wrangler NFR will be available live with a video-on-demand option via pay-per-view exclusively in Canada, Brazil, Mexico and Australia. Subscribers will be able to pick the package that best suits their needs.

“We are ecstatic about the addition of a pay-per-view option for our fans outside of the U.S.,” said PRCA Commissioner Karl Stressman. “As we continue to grow the sport of professional rodeo around the world, this is an obvious fit. The folks at Worldplay have provided the perfect solution.”

“Worldplay is extremely excited to partner with the PRCA in this global broadcast,” said Brett McConkey, SVP of Solutioning & Innovation at Worldplay. “In the past few years, we’ve seen an enormous jump in the amount of online video being consumed by rodeo fans across the world.”

Pre-registration for the online broadcast of the 2015 Wrangler NFR can be found at <http://www.worldplaylive.com/nfr2015>

Headin' For Home

by Sherry Morrison
Triple M (Mike Morrison Ministries)

Matthew 6:34 says, "Therefore do not worry about tomorrow, for tomorrow will worry about its own things. Sufficient for the day is its own trouble." Boy howdy! We all have trouble. I hate it, but it's true. I want my own little bubble where I don't have to deal with the harsh things in this world.

Like last night...the hospital called us at 9 p.m. and told us we needed to get in there, my dad had taken a turn for the worse. And upon arrival, the doctor wanted to know if we would resuscitate him or let him go....where does your strength come from in those situations? I will tell you...Jesus.

We spent an agonizing two hours watching him fight for every breath, praying all the while. Then things turned around and he was resting pretty well. This morning? He was sitting up. Talking. Breathing way, way better! In the natural, his 89 year old body is very challenged. In the Spirit, he's aok.

I cried some tears last night. But I wonder how people do it that don't know Jesus. I have His promises down on the inside of me. You see, the best time to get His promises in me was yesterday, last week, last month. Then it's there and I already have it when trouble comes. I'm not frantically searching the Bible from Genesis to Revelation to get help. I'm not trying to remodel my house in a hurricane! It can be done, but it's a major job. My hope is in Him. Amen.
