Lisa Lockhart & Blazin Ta Betty Top Inaugural Hondo Rodeo Fest, Wins $60K

By Tanya Randall

Three-time National Finals Rodeo Champion Lisa Lockhart got another short course aggregate title at the $1.1 million Hondo Rodeo Fest, held November 7-9 in Phoenix, Arizona. The victory was worth $43,000, plus she split the $50,000 Maverick high-money bonus with team ropers Erich Rogers and Paul Eaves.

"What an event!" Lockhart said of the inaugural invitational rodeo and concert held on the Arizona Diamondbacks' baseball diamond in Chase Field. "I thought that they just nailed it! They really tried to accommodate and make it good for the contestants."

The Oelrichs, South Dakota, barrel racer topped the field of eight past and present NFR qualifiers and WPRA World Champions by nearly 7/10ths of a second in the three-run aggregate aboard 6-year-old Blazin Ta Betty ("Sasha"), owned by Keith Nellesen's McColee Land & Livestock.

"It was emotional for me because I had no expectations of it," said Lockhart. "Obviously, I know what she's capable of or I wouldn't have taken her. I was just hoping that I could stay clean three rounds."

Sasha is a full sister to millionaire Famous Lil Jet ("Rollo"), Jordan Briggs' 2021 World Champion. She was raised by Busby Quarter Horses and is by all-time leading sire Dash Ta Fame out of their Blazin Jetolena, Lady Perks mare Blazin Black Beauty. Sasha was trained by Kelsey Lutjen-Treharne—who also trained Hondo Reserve Champion KN Fabs Gift Of Fame ("J Lo") for her futurity career, ridden by Hailey Kinsel—and campaigned last year by Kylie Wells for the Nellesen family. Lockhart got the opportunity to ride the mare in May.

"It's been a process trying to get to know each other," said Lockhart. "It was hit and miss, for sure."

Sasha needed rodeo seasoning but with Lockhart's trying to make every rodeo count toward her 18th NFR qualifications, she didn't have many non-pressure opportunities to develop a partnership with the mare.

When Lockhart did have to call on the mare at the bigger rodeos, Sasha rose to the occasion, especially during the rodeo-packed month of July. Sasha got the short go win at the Greeley Stampede, made a run in the third round of Lockhart's pool competition at the Calgary Stampede and placed at the Fiesta Days Rodeo in Spanish Fork, Utah, where Lockhart knew she needed to be sub-17 on a WPRA Standard Pattern to get a check.

"When it worked, it worked great," Lockhart said. "When it didn't, it was a lot of downed barrels. We just tried to regroup this fall with the pressure off of trying to win at the rodeos."

Lockhart and Sasha quickly figured each other out once the pressure valve was opened.

"Once I went about it in a different manner," she said. "It came easily."

After placing fourth at the pro rodeo in Brookings, South Dakota, Lockhart was excited about giving the mare a shot at Phoenix. "The fact that she listened and was so honest..." said Lockhart. "I told (my husband) Grady, I don't care if we don't win a dime, I could do cartwheels all the way back to the trailer because she listened. She felt amazing. I was very excited."

The Hondo Rodeo Fest offered a great opportunity for Sasha, but it came with a lot of unknowns as a first-time event.

"It was a little unnerving not knowing what the setup was going to be in Phoenix," she said. "I gasped when I walked into the arena at Chase Field. I was like 'Wow! This is smaller than I thought it was going to be!' And it wasn't tiny by any means. But still, it was not a big arena and did not feel like you were running on a baseball field."

Lockhart and Sasha jumped up and won the opening round in 13.958. Two more sub-14 second runs placed them in the next two rounds, which included a second-place finish in the third round to Sasha's older brother Rollo.

"I was ecstatic after the first round," said Lockhart. "If we didn't win another dime, she had a clean run, and we won first. It just kept going. Before the third round, I thought we're just going to give it our best shot and stay clean. I'm so proud of her. She exceeded my expectations."

Lockhart said Sasha's performance at Phoenix gave her "100 percent" confidence in Sasha should Promise Me Fame Guys ("Lev") need help defending his 2023 NFR Championship in Las Vegas.

"She's an absolute doll," Lockhart said of Sasha. "I've enjoyed her thoroughly."

The Right Time For Fallon Taylor & FuryTyme at WPRA World Finals

By Tanya Randall

2014 WPRA World Champion Fallon Taylor never completely stepped away from rodeo as she built her businesses, grew her family and expanded her successful equine program. She's taken everyone on her various journeys through her expansive social media platforms.

What better way to introduce her young family and new fans to the journey that made her famous than by taking it again with new horses and new challenges.

"I think it's really cool to see a professional have different phases in their career," said Taylor, who won the world on her great mare Flos Heiress ("Baby Flo"). "I don't want to cling to the Baby Flo era and live on that forever. I want to appreciate that era for what it was and how it contributed to my life. I was able to build an entire business around her. To be a good steward of that era and all it afforded me, I'm rolling it into something new and fresh."

Taylor is well on her way with a three-run championship title in the super, salty $15,000-added Cardholders Race at the WPRA World Finals, held November 7-10 in Waco, Texas. Riding the 5-year-old mare FuryTyme ("Puma"), Taylor picked up $7,341 to sit second in the 2025 WPRA World Standings with $9,138.

"Puma has qualified us into all the major rodeos for next year except for Calgary," noted Taylor. "The next dragon to slay is to stay at the top of the standings and remain there when the books open for Calgary so we can compete at all those places."

"The whole point of me rodeoing is for me to drag my family to all the places—Denver, Houston, Austin, San Antonio. I want so badly for them to see where Baby Flo took me and what she accomplished. It will be really cool to go back into those buildings and try to recreate the magic. We don't want to compare Baby Flo and Puma ever. I think this is a new chapter, a new era. I can't wait to see what Puma can accomplish."

Taylor's path to Puma began with her desire to find top mares for Baby Flo's sons that she's raised. That led to program collaboration with her good friend Tricia Aldridge, who had two exceptional futurity mares in multiple champion Three Times The Fury ("Sway") and FuryTyme. Both were Furyofthewind daughters of Tres Seis mares that were raised by Amy Schimke.

"I didn't know it would lead to mares of this caliber and back into rodeo, but here I am," she said. "I want to make sure I do right by them and make them look like the horses they are in the rodeo arena. They've done so much in the futurity world. I want to make sure I'm a good reflection of that in the rodeo arena as well." Puma, who she purchased late last year, was the first to come to her barn.

"I'd been bugging Tricia about this mare since she was 3-year-old," she said. "I've seen every video, good and bad—the 'I don't think I'm going to make the pattern at the BFA. LOL' to watching her become this incredibly consistent futurity mare. Tricia said she probably put more hours in Puma than any other horse. I'm glad for there to be some payoff. The hardest horses for us to train are normally our best ones."

For Taylor, the challenge was going from her home-raised and trained horses to riding completely differently built horses that were trained by someone else.

"It was a tough adjustment, feeling the pressure to not fail and make my friend's program look bad," she said. "That's typically what my friends feel when I let them ride my horses. I don't experience that pressure a lot, so I kind of got in my head for the first

RODEO HOUSTON QUALIFIERS from WPRA World Finals Card Holder Race

The Top 2 in the Average of the WPRA World Finals Card Holder Race get berths into Rodeo Houston. Since both Fallon Taylor and Andrea Busby who ran 1-2 were already qualified; the 3rd place and 4th place runners, Helen Nowosad & Julie Plourde received those berths three months. I've always told people it takes six months to get with a horse. It doesn't matter if you're a world champion, NFR qualifier or whoever. It takes a long time. I had to heed my own advice. When it didn't click right away, I had to remind myself that it takes time."

She threw herself into evolving as a rider.

"If you're not evolving, you're kind of just dying in whatever you think of yourself," she said. "It was really cool to be texting someone after run, 'Can you tell me exactly what I need to do now,' and getting that feedback as if I'm a student again."

"It feels really good to evolve. I never want to be the person that runs barrels one way with one bridle and you're never going to do it any different. You see those people fade off into the sunset. I don't want to be one of those people. I would like to live several lifetimes and achieve a lot of different things."

Taylor spent the summer hauling Puma and Sway to pro rodeos across the country.

"All year long was cataloging how do we run with no fences, how do we run in a 12 second pattern, how do we run when the crowd is on the fence...all those different scenarios," she said. "We're not done yet, but I think we've got a really good feel for 2025."

She said the WPRA World Finals was a testament to her efforts to come together with Puma throughout the year.

"I got to reap what I've sown all year," she said. "It's really cool to see a horse mature."

Taylor and Puma finished second in the first round of the Cardholder's Race after holding the lead for much of the go with a 15.702. They came back with a solid 15.898 to head into the short round second in the aggregate. They finished up the title with a 15.990.

"The first run, she was really very gritty," Taylor recalled. "I have to say even though my second and third runs weren't as fast as my first, I was in very different positions on the ground. My first run I was second on the ground. The last two I was fourth on the ground. She just got gritty and grittier. I think the last two runs, if they had been on top of the ground, would have been even faster than that first run. What I'm so proud of is when the ground got tougher, she got tougher. That is something that I can utilize all year long."

Taylor is anxiously looking forward to her new era in rodeo. "Being able to collaborate with my friend, who is ushering in a new era with Adios Pantalones, is really cool. I think when you put winners together really cool things happen. It's really cool to be able to dip into each other's programs and usher in a new era for myself."

THE RUNDOWN w/ Fallon Taylor

FuryTyme ("Puma") 15.3 h, 1,200 lbs.

BIT: Schoneberg 3.5" Peter with a nylon/mule tape curb

SADDLE: Tacktical — SADDLE PAD: Tacktical — LEG GEAR: Tacktical

SHOEING: Steel on all four

FEED: Pure alfalfa pellets with no other binders or ingredients for supplements

HAY: Alfalfa with additional varieties (Timothy, Coastal) as needed

SUPPLEMENTS: Ground flax, 100X products Joint Flex, Gut X and Regen-X

ALTERNATIVE THERAPIES: chiropractic care from Kim Gillespie, acuscope therapy from Candice Williamson at Elite Equine Therapy, aquatred, cold spa and cryotherapy at KB Ranch with Kristin Kenley, BodyFlo vibration therapy plate made by her father Sheldon Taylor.

TRAINING/CONDITIONING REGIMEN: Keeping legged up and moving around. "She's not getting rode today since she just won the WPRA Finals, but tomorrow, I'll ride in my pasture and walk through the barrel pattern and just trot and lope and move around. I typically won't go around the barrels unless I'm tuning up to go somewhere. It's mostly just moving around, making sure they're loose and soft in my hand."

SPONSORS: 100X Equine, Ranch Fuel, Tacktical, Ranch Dress'n, Saddle Sack

THANKS: I want to thank my husband (Alex McCray) for encouraging this. I won't name names, but I'd like to thank my sports psychologist and mental coach. Tricia Aldridge for entrusting me with these horses because she darn sure could have sold them to someone and got plenty of money. I'd like to thank my child for his patience. My friends and family because there are dozens of people that have to keep the operation going. We have a big operation and a lot of people have to stay home for me to hear my named called. I'd like to thank the Ward family (of Colorado) for keeping us on the road and keeping us dialed in all summer. Without them giving our horses a home away from home we would not have been able to rodeo all summer.

Can I ride behind someone else? Can I ride something that I didn't raise and train myself? Can I do this in a different way?

"Also, can I bring my family along in a way that doesn't inhibit my ability to be a really great mom. Could I pull this off where I'm not compromising our marriage and ability to parent and still achieve our goals?

"I think we're pulling it off."

AIRWAYEQ

"Air-Way EQ is the first product I have seen work in aiding airway/lung health and help clear up a cough. I use Breathe'O2 paste for pre-run support, it also helps clear the airway, allowing him to breathe easier and work harder."

Alex Jones & Limited Identity Triumph at First Southeastern Circuit Finals

By Tanya Randall

Three-time International Finals Rodeo qualifier Alex Jones of Town Creek, Alabama, and her 11-year-old mare Limited Identity ("Stella") captured the Southeastern Circuit Finals Rodeo Championship. It was their first qualification to the annual event, held November 8-10 in Davie, Florida.

"It was just a fun time," said Jones, who travels with her husband Morgan, a team roper. "I loved it. Those circuit girls were just the best ever. Everyone seems to root for each other. It's really nice to be around that."

Jones and Stella got tapped off right, splitting the first round win with Chloe Gray.

"It was pretty neat to share that round win with her," said Jones. "Stella actually came from Chloe."

Bred by Charles Lake, Stella is by multiple graded stakes winner Identity Theft out of the Chicks A Blazin mare Flyin Chick. Jones purchased Stella from Gray when the mare was 3 and was rodeoing on her late in her fourth year.

"She was an easy horse to start," Jones said. "She just took to it. From the first jackpot we entered, she knew what she was doing." Thankfully, the steady mare did her part the next two rounds of the circuit finals as the nerves started to get to Jones.

"The second round I was a little bit more nervous, and I won third," she said. "In the third round, I was way more nervous. I didn't pay attention to the average until (the announcer) was telling what the average was as I was running down the alleyway! I was like, 'Oh my goodness!'"

Jones got fourth in the third round to secure the aggregate victory and collect $9,271 on the weekend.

"She made an awesome run," Jones said of Stella. "She's really easy to run. I just let her go in there and do her thing. I tell people I just sit there!"

Jones, who will represent the Southeastern circuit along with year-end champion Ericka Nelson at the NFR Open next July, did not grow up in a rodeo family, but was simply "obsessed" with horses.

"I've always loved horses," she said. "We started out at local saddle club shows around the house and broke off into rodeos after that."

As an adult, she has a job in account receivables for Freight Management, Incorporated, that allows her rodeo.

"They're a great company to work for," she said. "They really push me to go to rodeos and they want to know how it goes every weekend. I'm blessed to work for them."

This was the first year that Jones prioritized the Southeastern Circuit Rodeos.

"I'm liking the circuit rodeos more because I don't feel like I have to go every weekend," she said. "They're a little bit more spread out, and I like giving Stella those breaks."

Ironically, her circuit finals victory may be contrary to her initial outlook, as she said, "I really want to go now!"

Kid Rock's Rock N Rodeo Returns to AT&T Stadium

PBR (Professional Bull Riders) and Kid Rock announced today that the transformative Kid Rock's Rock N Rodeo will return to Arlington, Texas, and AT&T Stadium on May 16, 2025.

The landmark, team-formatted rodeo featuring rock n' roll icon Kid Rock LIVE in concert, will again launch the biggest weekend in Western sports, with the the 2025 PBR World Finals: Unleash The Beast – Championship taking over the home of the NFL's Dallas Cowboys on May 17-18, 2025. Three-day ticket packages for the 2025 Kid Rock's Rock N Rodeo and 2025 PBR World Finals – Championship are on sale now.

"Last May we mashed up rodeo and rock and roll to celebrate cowboys and America in a party no one will ever forget," said Kid Rock. "It's time for year two, and we've got even bigger ideas to continue pushing rodeo into the entertainment mainstream. Nothing's cooler than rodeo and rock-n-roll."

"In 2024, the PBR alongside entertainment icon Kid Rock reimagined and changed rodeo forever," said Sean Gleason, CEO and Commissioner of the PBR. "Kid Rock's Rock N Rodeo delivered an exciting team-formatted all-star rodeo inside the NFL's largest stadium, capped off with an unforgettable concert from Kid Rock. We are making some exciting tweaks to this transformative concept and can't wait to welcome even more fans to AT&T Stadium in 2025."

Kid Rock's Rock N Rodeo is a reimagined rodeo produced by PBR in partnership with Kid Rock. During the music-infused event, six teams, each led by a legendary rodeo head coach, compete head-to-head in bracket-style competition across barrel racing, bareback riding, saddle bronc riding, tie-down roping, team roping, steer wrestling, and breakaway roping.

The all-star rodeo team competition and upbeat production is patterned after the successful formula PBR brought to bull riding through the Camping World Team Series launched in 2022.

Five of the six teams will feature one returning member per discipline from the 2024 Kid Rock's Rock N Rodeo. They will fill the second open position in each discipline via a draft.

The sixth team will again be comprised of athletes who qualify through the WCRA (World Champions Rodeo Alliance) Major held in tandem with Rodeo Corpus Christi in May 2025.

At the first-ever Kid Rock's Rock N Rodeo last May, the WCRA team rode lights out, winning three gold medals in Round 1 before cementing their title as champions by winning four of the disciplines in the championship round.

Kid Rock's Rock N Rodeo begins at 7 p.m. CT on Friday, May 16. Following the can't-miss rodeo, the PBR World Finals concludes with the Championship when the 2025 PBR World Champion will be crowned and presented the coveted gold buckle and $1 million bonus. The 2025 PBR World Finals – Championship begins on Saturday, May 17 at 7:45 p.m. CT and concludes on Sunday, May 18 at 1:45 p.m. CT.

Ticket packages including Kid Rock's Rock N Rodeo (May 17) and PBR World Finals – Championship (May 18-19) at AT&T Stadium are on sale now and can be purchased online at PBR.com and SeatGeek.com, or by calling (800) 732-1727.

HEADIN' FOR HOME

by Sherry Morrison // Triple M (Mike Morrison Ministries)

"Ever forward." I read this the other day and it sure struck me. Phil. 3:14 tells us, "I press toward the goal for the prize of the upward call of God in Christ Jesus".

The mark you and I are pressing toward is always in an upward direction, never descending, decreasing, or in retreat. In any endeavor of our lives, there will be many steps in that upward goal. Where we are today, should not be the same next week. We should be closer to that goal. Closer to Jesus.

When I ride my horses, I go through a checklist with them every time I get on. Depending on their age, I ask different questions. It's baby steps for the colts. Can you go forward with collection? No? Then let's work on that today. That bugs the heck out of Mike! If he asks how they are doing, I immediately recite my "they can't do this" list. And he always responds, "They can't do that YET!" Okay, okay. I get it.

Maybe our walk with God isn't where it should be. But if we'll spend time with Him every day, working on those weak areas, in a very short time we'll be running forward with Him, shaped to perfection!
