Shots Fired -- Skyla Peters & Pistol Whistle Win WPRA Cardholders Race, Earn Rodeo Houston Berth

By Tanya Randall

Skyla Peters was done.

Done with mediocrity. Done with the process of trying to rise beyond. Done with horses.

She sold out and moved on with only the custom bit made for her late horse in her family's possession—because her mother wouldn't let her sell it.

Now, a year later, she'll be entering Rodeo Houston, the largest and richest winter rodeo, where a solid performance is a legitimate dream shot on the path to the National Finals Rodeo.

"This whole journey is a God thing for me," said Peters, who won the $20,000-added Boot Barn Cardholder's Race at the WPRA World Finals, held November 9-12 in Waco, Texas. "It's God's plan and I just try to sit back and know that he had a plan for how that day was going to go."

Peters' enchantment with barrel racing began with the loss of her great horse Cash For Bid, who had taken her to numerous wins and the Prairie Circuit Finals.

"He had done so much for me," said the barrel racer from Sublette, Kansas. "He had been through a lot of family and personal issues with me, so he was a lot more than just a horse to me." With her heart already broken, the path back to the level Cash had taken her left her more so.

"I lost more than just him. I lost my heart for the sport," she said. "I kept trying to find horses that would help me get back to the level he had me at and just never could. Last fall, I was so sick of being stuck at a level I wasn't comfortable with. I wasn't comfortable with going to open races and local races, and just winning those. I just wanted to challenge myself and do better. I finally just gave up and we sold out. I figured that I was never going to find that horse again, a horse that I had a connection with that could take me to that level again."

Peters turned her focus to her new family with husband Billy and their business. She does the books for Liberal Concrete, Red Barn Truck Wash and Midwest Livestock Solutions.

"We just focused on business and anything in our lives but horses," she said. "Finally, some personal stuff happened, and I realized that I wanted to find a horse and go again. I'm not happy staying home and just working my life away."

In May, Peters called fellow barrel racer Michelle Darling to ask her if she knew of any horses for sale. Darling recommended Peters call the Etbauer family—Billy and Hollie, who own NFR sire PC Frosty Bid, the sire of her late horse Cash. Peters messaged their daughter Jacie Allred on Facebook and then called Hollie. They had a horse with a pretty solid record with both Hollie and Jacie named Pistol Whistle. The Etbauers had raised him and his dam. His sire is PC Frosty Bid, the same sire as Emily Beisel's great Bidden For Fame, and out of Whistle N Skip, by No Whistle.

"Pistol was the only horse that I had looked at and even tried," Peters chuckled. "It was probably a little scary for my husband that the first horse I tried, we bought. Like I said, it's such a God thing."

That was Memorial Weekend.

Peters and Pistol were a pretty instant fit, although she had to tweak her riding just a tad.

"I've had to jump ride so many different horses that I try to mock whatever style they need," she said. "Some days are easier

BIT: Cash For Bid's custom Flaharty Duke with a two-piece twisted mouth

SADDLE: Robbie Phillips

SADDLE PAD: 5 Star

SUPPLEMENTS: EPM Super Dewormer and MVP Exceed 6 Way

ALTERNATIVE THERAPIES: Acuscope and myopulse therapy; message gun therapy, wrapping legs. "He's never been injected. I think he's a full diamond in the ruff, so I try to do everything possible for him."

CONDITIONING/TRAINING: "It depends on when I'm going, where I'm running him and when I get off work. It's usually about three times a week. I usually ride in the fields around my house. I don't work him around the barrels. I just try to have a nice laid back ride."

than others, of course. Jaci and Hollie ride up and out with their hands, where I pull more to my hip. That was kind of the difference for me. Not that he was hard to get along with. I think Pistol is as easy as they come. I think it's more of you have to know what you're doing for what he needs."

Peters spent the summer breaking in her new equipment, from saddles to wraps, and hauled in a two-horse bumper-pull that she had kept. She also picked up a fancy futurity horse, VF Rock Em Stinson ("Sterling"), from friends Art Gutterson and Storme Camarillo.

Sterling got Peters' first big win in the Futurity at Texarkana Showdown, but Pistol was starting to win a lot on his own. He too placed at Texarkana in the Open High Stakes and had won one of the big open races at the Breeders Challenge Finale in Fort Worth.

With things on the rise, and weeklong hotel stays no fun, Peters finally got a living quarters trailer at the end of September.

"The only thing I kept tack wise was Cash's bit," she chuckled. "It has my initials on it. It's a Troy Flaharty Duke Bit, and it's actually what I run Pistol in. I had to buy saddles, pads, bits, everything. My mom had wanted that bit, and she wouldn't let me sell it."

At the WPRA World Finals, Peters and Pistol placed fourth in the first round and won the second to lead the aggregate on two runs. They were second in the short round to solidify the victory, worth $11,960.29—all of which counts towards the 2024 WPRA World Standings.

She also picked up $5,528 in Elite open money from her carryover times.

"He's the kind of horse that gets faster and better with more runs," she said. "The first day he just made a solid Pistol run. After the first round, I had it in the back of my mind that I had a shot at Houston. The second run I tried to get any nervous out and just go make another solid run, and he did. He had three perfect turns. After that I knew I definitely had a shot at Houston. (Sunday), I definitely was more on the nervous side, knowing what was on the line."

Now, she currently sits No. 2 in the WPRA World Standings with $12,417.

"I got into Houston, and I should be able to get into most of the winter rodeos now," she said. I think this has me second in the 2024 standings. We're just going to see where it takes us.

"For me, it's such a God thing with Pistol. It was a God thing that (the Etbauers) had that horse. They're solid built horses and they're raised the right way. If I ever have to buy another horse, I hope they have something I can buy."

In addition to thanking the Etbauers, Peters wanted to thank her husband Billy, who has put aside roping, so she can focus on her dream.

"When Pistol started doing really good, we realized that I could chase the dream that I've always had so he stepped away and is letting me do my thing," she said. "I try to thank him every time I can because he's been really selfless through all of it."

The Top 2 from the WPRA Card Holder Average qualify to Houston, so in addition to Skyla Peters, Abby Phillips also qualified to Houston.

Chloe Gray Sweeps Southeastern Circuit Titles

By Tanya Randall

Chloe Gray dominated the Southeastern Circuit Finals Rodeo, held November 10-12 in Davie, Florida. The Yatesville, Georgia, barrel racer and Heavenly Red ("Karma") won all three rounds and the aggregate to win $12,550 and jump to the top of the circuit standings for the year-end championship too with $24,087. "All the glory to God," said Gray. "I feel like mine and His plans really aligned this weekend and made it really special."

Gray also wanted to thank her family, friends and sponsors.

"I have so many people in my corner," she said. "It's just unreal. It's such a blessing to have all the support that I do. I couldn't even begin to start naming them all."

She wanted to give special thanks to Rob Bondurant, whose Godspeed Performance Horses owns Karma.

"I'm living my dream because of Godspeed Performance Horses," Gray noted.

Bondurant sent her the royally-bred mare two years ago. Bred by the late Jud Little, Karma is by $7.6 million dollar sire JL Dash Ta Heaven and out of a maternal line of great AQHA barrel racing and pole bending title holders. Her dam is Reneoni, by Rene Dan Jet out of the Dinky's Red Man mare Regally Royally Red, a full sister to Dinky's Purple Rain, the dam of Randee Prindle's great horse Red Man Jones.

"Karma had some training with Craig Brooks as a three-year-old," Gray recalled. "He did a great job starting her. She only ran a little bit her 5-year-old futurity year and I got her at the beginning of her derby year as a 6-year-old."

Gray said the mare was still a little green when she got her. "She hadn't had a lot of hauling," she said. "I think she'd maybe won under $4,000 in earnings. She'd been to a couple of big shows. She clocked and did well at them, but she was just kind a green. "She'd turn the first. I mean smoke the first, but it would shoot her up the hill going to the second. So, I really had to tune on her straight lines. That's the one thing that I've had to finagle with her is straight lines. She turns really honest. She has a really cool, very wrappy, round style, which I really love."

"We really just fit each other like a glove. She's bossy and she's rude, but I just let her be who she is. She knows I appreciate her, and we've really formed a partnership and a team, and I think that's made a world of difference with her. She's not really a people person, but I feel like I'm her person, and I think that's really made a difference."

Gray and Karma have been on a hot streak recently, starting with the NBHA World Finals this first weekend in November.

"She made three 1D runs and was in the Top 6 at the NBHA World last week," Gray said, "so I was hoping I didn't use up all my solid clean runs there! She's just proved what she's capable of this weekend."

With the Circuit Finals, the very next weekend, Gray let the mare rest and only walked the pattern twice before leaving for Davie.

"I'm a firm believer in letting them rest as much as possible," she said. "I just walked her through the barrels twice the day before we left and that was good enough. She'd been working great, and I didn't want to pick on her. I just wanted her to get as much rest as she could."

Rest became more important as their seven hour trip down to Davie turned into 15 due to tire issues on the truck. Although they arrived tired and road weary, Red was on her A-game.

"Karma is very solid, and she's been all up in the results," said Gray. "She's had a few wins here and there, but she hadn't gotten the big spotlight yet. This was her weekend to shine. She definitely showed that she's worth it."

Gray was especially proud of the mare given her limited rodeo experience. Her first rodeo was this past spring in a performance at the Dixie National Rodeo in Jackson, Mississippi.

"I had to throw her to the wolves," she laughed. "She was like a

By Circuit Finals, Karma had competed at about 10 rodeos.

"For her to be a little fractious and little timid sometimes, she just really thrived in the atmosphere, which was super shocking to me," Gray admitted. "She loves them. She's really thrived off of traveling and just being in the atmosphere. She was very confident this weekend. I can't be prouder of her especially since she's not had much experience with performances."

Gray gave kudos to the rodeo committee for having the ground at Davie "the best I'd ever seen it."

"I want to applaud the committee," she said. "They did such a good job on the ground and made it fair. I was on top of the ground, bottom of the ground and middle of the ground, and it was all good throughout."

Gray will be joined by her longtime friend and fellow NBHA World Champion Taylor Carver on the trip to the NFR Open in Colorado Springs next July. In the meantime, she'll finish out her year with the Fiddler's Turkey Run over Thanksgiving weekend and the OKC Derby in December.

A little more rodeo is also in their future.

Gray said she's going to try to be smart about her rodeo efforts. While her dream is to run down the tunnel at the Thomas & Mack, there's lots to go to closer to home, including numerous great paying slot races, like the ones that helped Karma cross the $150,000 mark in career earnings.

"We'll go where we need to and try to make it count," she said.

"I would definitely like to go out for the summer. We'll definitely plan a big summer around Colorado Springs, but I'm just going to let it be.

"I did really well at the circuit finals back in 2018 and got into Denver and Fort Worth. I was really excited about it, and I think I ruined it before I even got going because I had all these hopes and dreams and plans, and it didn't work out the way I wanted it to. I'm just going to let it be what it is and hope for the best."

Lacinda Rose and RR Meradas Real Deal- Real MVP'S of Great Lakes Circuit Finals

By Hope Raley

The Great Lakes Circuit Finals just wrapped up its 2023 rodeo season in beautiful Louisville, Kentucky November 9-11th. The finals were held at Freedom Hall and the top 12 of the saltiest barrel racers from the Great Lakes Circuit all vied for their chance at top honors all three rounds. Former NFR barrel racer Lacinda Rose was the one to bet on placing in all three rounds, winning the average and the year end. Rose, who qualified to the WNFR in 2019, is from Willard, Missouri where she resides with her husband, Adam, and their four children. This win will mark the third time that Rose and her equine counterpart, RR Meradas Real Deal, have won both the average and the year end in the Great Lakes Circuit.

When asked about her original goal for the 2023 rodeo season, Rose admits that she was really only focused on another circuit finals qualification, but "Real Deal" had other plans. "This season far exceeded my expectations. It seemed like the less runs that I made on Real Deal, the better he was, which is the opposite of how he was in his younger days," said Rose. "He was rock solid all year and pretty much won checks the majority of his runs."

Rose also called upon a few other special horses to help Real Deal carry the weight including Roan Rose Lady "Cherry Pie". Cherry Pie, a 7-year-old mare that Rose raised and trained, qualified Rose to the first breakaway circuit finals that the GLC ever had. Rose explained that the equally talented barrel mare was showing huge potential in the barrels as well, winning a check at her first pro rodeo in the barrels this past spring. Unfortunately, Cherry Pie suffered an aneurysm a short while after and tragically lost her life.

Rose was blessed enough to have three other outstanding horses under her including Devilla Corona "Ellie" owned by Clark and Robin Allen, Frenchmans Whiz "Dunnit" owned by Connie Dove and Special Clown Royal "Chief" owned by Ed and Joyce Beals. Rodeoing, no matter full-time or part-time, has its fair share of highs and lows. When asked about hers for the 2023 season, Rose admitted that her highest high of the season was making the finals at Cheyenne Frontier Days and adding another GLCF qualification to her already impressive resume. Of course the low was losing her mare Cherry Pie this past spring, but Rose was quick to admit that due to the love that God showed her after the loss of Cherry Pie through her family, friends, and clients, she still had a very blessed and lucrative year.

Throughout the season, Lacinda and Adam have their family in tow and there is no other way that either parents would have it. "Rodeoing with my family is the only way that I can do this. My husband (Adam) team ropes and does most of the driving. He helps me with the rodeo decisions and our children are our biggest cheerleaders!"

Heading into circuit finals, Rose was sitting in the driver's seat but she knew that it was going to be a tight race with the next few girls hot on her heels. However, Real Deal was his rock-solid self and helped Rose place in every round, ultimately winning the average and solidifying a third year end championship for the Missouri team. Rose really enjoys rodeoing in the Great Lakes Circuit and is thankful for great rodeo committee's who want to put on a great rodeo and care enough about the barrel racers to care about their ground conditions.

WOMEN'S RODEO WORLD CHAMPIONSHIP ANNOUNCES 2024 FINALS SCHEDULE WITH CHAMPIONS TO BE CROWNED AT AT&T STADIUM IN ARLINGTON, TEXAS ON MAY 18-19

Women's Rodeo World Championship, the richest ever, returns to action-packed lineup of programming surrounding the 2024 PBR World Finals: Unleash The Beast across the Metroplex

The WCRA (World Champions Rodeo Alliance) and PBR (Professional Bull Riders) today announced the schedule for the richest women's rodeo of all time – the Women's Rodeo World Championship (WRWC). Beginning in 2024, the WRWC Champions will be crowned in Arlington, Texas, at AT&T Stadium, following a multi-day qualification event in Fort Worth at the iconic Cowtown Coliseum.

After four days of competition inside Cowtown Coliseum from May 13-16, 2024, the Championship Round of the Women's Rodeo World Championship will conclude inside the home of the NFL's Dallas Cowboys alongside 2024 PBR World Finals Championship on May 18-19, 2024, where each WRWC event champion will be crowned, earning the lion's share of the massive $750,000 purse.

"We are proud to have the world's best female rodeo athletes displaying their skills at one of the most historic rodeo venues in the country and ending with our championship performances at AT&T Stadium, the ultimate destination for Western sports enthusiasts worldwide," said WRWC Commissioner Lindsay Rosser-Sumpter. "To end the year on a high note, at the home of the Dallas Cowboys will provide athletes and PBR fans with an unparalleled experience."

The complete schedule for the 2024 Women's Rodeo World Championship is as follows:

- May 13 - Round 1 - All Disciplines - Cowtown Coliseum
- May 14 - Round 2 - All Disciplines - Cowtown Coliseum
- May 15 - Semi-Finals - All Disciplines - Cowtown Coliseum
- May 16 - Showdown Round - Breakaway/Team Roping - Cowtown Coliseum
- May 18 - Triple Crown of Rodeo - Barrel Racing - AT&T Stadium
- May 19 - Triple Crown of Rodeo - Breakaway/Team Roping - AT&T Stadium

AT&T Stadium was home of the inaugural WRWC in 2020, when the renowned stadium became the first venue to host the event's championship round. After the event was permanently relocated to the Lone Star State in 2022, following the 2021 WRWC held in Las Vegas.

During the WRWC, athletes will compete in four disciplines—breakaway roping, barrel racing, and team roping (heading and heeling) -- all vying for their share of the historical $750,000 purse along with a $20,000 all-around bonus. Champions in each discipline will earn a minimum of $60,000 each.

In almost four years, the WRWC has awarded more than $3 million to women's rodeo athletes.

In May 2024, Women's Rodeo World Championship Week will again host a variety of to-be-announced programming across Fort Worth, including award ceremonies and champions dinners.

Athletes can nominate their efforts and earn points for the WRWC Leaderboard (W24) until April 14, 2024 at 11:59 p.m. CT.

For more information about the event, including payout, schedule, and format, visit wrwc.rodeo.

HEADIN' FOR HOME

by Sherry Morrison // Triple M (Mike Morrison Ministries)

We do have an enemy in this world. In John 10:10, he's described as the thief that comes to steal, kill and destroy. In I Peter 5:8-9, he is our adversary that walks around like a roaring lion, seeking whom he may devour.

A long time ago, I wrote in the margin of my Bible, "I'm not a whom!" I don't know about you, but I have no intention of getting devoured! How do we prevent that?

We hear and do what the Word tells us to do. That is so simple. But some of us choose to stay out of church where we can hear those 'do's'. We decide we're too busy to read the Bible for ourselves and practice what we learn there.

A lot of us are very committed to being a better horseman. We read articles, we attend clinics, we practice those things we learn until we get so good at our event that we are excelling. Some get so good they have a black belt in barrel racing or whichever horse discipline they are involved in.

Yet, some of those very people have no time for God. That's a big mistake. That lion, the devil, is out there. I have some teeth marks in my butt from making decisions that got me too close. That's not good! But God loves us and all we need to do is repent and come back to Him our safe place!

Mike and Sherry Morrison pastor "Church at the Barn" in Gillette, WY. They also travel to other areas ministering at barrel races, ranches, rodeos, churches and home Bible studies. Check out our schedule online. You can also download all Bible studies by visiting our website: m-m-m.org or contact us at: PO Box 2439, Gillette, WY 82717, 307/685-2272.
