Austyn Tobey & Design In Red Sweep Great Lakes Circuit Titles

By Tanya Randall

Austyn Tobey won her second Great Lakes Circuit Championship and first rodeo finals title at the North American Championship Rodeo, host of the Great Lakes Circuit Finals Rodeo, held November 13-15 in Louisville, Kentucky.

"I've never been a good average player...never in my life...so getting to win the average and win the year after coming in second by a lot was sugar coating," said the Bemidji, Minnesota, barrel horse trainer and broker.

Tobey, who rode her 9-year-old mare Design In Red ("Frosty"), collected $10,964 for her aggregate win to claim both titles.

They started off the Circuit Finals splitting third with Lucy Ferch in spite of ground trouble at the third barrel.

"She had an outstanding first and second," Tobey recalled. "It was probably my best first and second all weekend. Going into the third, her hind end came out from underneath her pretty bad. She went down quite far; it was bad. She kind of got up and then went down on the back side (of the turn) again. I let her run home, and she ended up still clocking. I think it was because her first and second were just that good."

While extremely disappointed, Tobey was just grateful that her mare was OK.

"I did a lot of evaluating to make sure she was good to run in Round 2," she said. "I was a little nervous that she wasn't going to fire as hard, but I gave her my full trust and confidence, and she did. She worked outstanding."

They won the second round and came back to split the third round win with Riley Youngman with another outstanding run.

"I probably gave her a little extra room in the turns," she chuckled. "We took a lot of extra steps, but I have hit a barrel there in Round 3, so I was trying to avoid that at all costs. Luckily, she listened to me and stood up and added some extra steps. It was fine though because it was our fastest run of the weekend."

Frosty, a daughter of 11.5 million dollar sire Slick By Design, is out of the 1.475 million dollar producer RC Back In Black, the Ninety Nine Goldmine daughter that took Jane Melby to the National Finals Rodeo. Tobey purchased her as a 4-year-old from

Ride At Dawn

At the Great Lakes Circuit Finals, Austyn Tobey proudly wore shirts made by Rachel Slathar's Daisy If You Do, Co. Slathar, a lifelong acquaintance, recently started Ride At Dawn, a non-profit dedicated to assisting victims and survivors of abuse within the equine industry.

"I love to support her business and her passion for supporting women against abuse in the equine industry," said Tobey. "I want to help spread the word and bring awareness to her endeavors and that non-profit when I can."

I thought she'd run in a halter, but I wasn't brave enough to try it, so I grabbed the next thing hanging there. She won a lot on the run, so I've been running it ever since. Melby's daughter Cayla Small.

"She was probably one the toughest ones that I had to figure out, but once I started winning on her, it's been easy. In her younger years, she was one of the hardest horses to ride. Now that she's older, she's one of the most automatic and easiest that I've ever owned."

Frosty gets most of the building runs for Tobey so she had most of the summer off. During the summer, Tobey rode TR Lying Badger and Frisky Ta Fame. In early fall, she started running Frosty's half-sibling Justasexpectedblack ("Busy"), by Judge Cash, some as well.

Given her past success at the Circuit Finals, Frosty was an easy choice.

"She's won a lot of rounds in that building," she said. "The ground in Freedom Hall is a little bit different. Some horses handle it well, and others don't. I knew she did."

"She's definitely the horse I have the most confidence on inside. The other two, Frisky and Busy, do well in building too, but I haven't had them long enough to be super confident."

Tobey is hoping to rodeo more outside of her circuit this year, especially this winter. She's planning on spending time at her mentor Jane Melby's in Oklahoma to have easier access and better riding conditions.

Kristen Meyer, the Reserve Year End Champion for the Great Lakes, will join Austyn Tobey at the NFR Open next summer.

Margo Crowther & Saylor's Packin Fame Sweep Southeastern Circuit Titles

By Tanya Randall

Just .03 separated newly crowned Southeastern Circuit Finals Champions Margo Crowther and her homebred Saylor's Packin Fame ("Savvy") and Taylor Carver and her homegrown Miss Rare Perks.

"It was so close!" said Crowther, who resides in North Fort Myers, Florida, with her husband Casey and their three children Sawyer, Stella and Saylor. "I got my go-round buckle and went back to my trailer. My mom called me and said they're calling your name for the average. I was like 'Oh my gosh! It was super, super close.'"

A 2022 National Finals Rodeo qualifier, Crowther also earned her second Southeastern Circuit Championship thanks to the $9,672 she collected at the Finals Rodeo, held November 14-16 in Davie, Florida. This title was very unexpected as she didn't realize the year-end title was possible until she got to the Finals Rodeo.

"I'm goal oriented and all that, but I'm not one to look at the standings," said Crowther.

"The last few years with my three kids, my husband and company, so much going on, I rodeo if it's convenient. If it all works out with my family and balance is there, I go.

"When I got there, I looked at the standings. Someone said, 'Oh wow! You're pretty close!' I said, 'I want Kristen Hanchey and her daughter to win first and second because that would be so special to go with your daughter. My daughter (Stella) is 13, and hopefully we'll be in that position one day. I didn't even do the math. I was completely shocked that it all fell the way it did!'"

Crowther and Savvy, who finished second in the aggregate at last year's circuit finals, were second in the first round, one out of the money in the second and won the third en route to the aggregate title.

"My runs were great," she said. "This year, she came in really confident. She just honestly loves her job. She's so easy. She's so consistent. She does really well in that arena and whole setup. She's just mentally really tough and is as calm as can be until it's her turn, until she sees no one else in front of her, then she starts to get fired up. That's the only time you will ever get her fired up. It's so crazy!"

Crowther raised Savvy out of her NFR qualifier and first circuit champion Shes Packin Fame ("Sissy"), a daughter of Carrizzo out of Heidis Dashing Sixes, by Packin Sixes. Savvy is by BR Golden Leader, a futurity winning son of Confederate Leader out of KN Docs Gray Gold, by Groanies Gray Pony, who was bred, raised and owned by Crowther's college rodeo buddy and longtime friend Whitney Baker.

"When Sissy was a 5-year-old, Whitney was always supportive and encouraging," Crowther said. "She gave me a breeding, Whitney swears that she's Cricket, Taxi's mom, recreated. You can ride her bareback or sleep in her stall. My kids have crawled all over her."

Making Savvy extra special is that she was born the same day about an hour apart from Crowther's youngest daughter Saylor.

"Savvy is like a family member to all of us," she said. "She's the perfect little unicorn. She's like a dog. If I wanted to bring her in my house, I probably could. She doesn't make a peep. She doesn't do anything wrong. I actually gave her to my daughter, and I had to 'borrow' her for the Circuit Finals."

The entire Crowther family had a very good weekend. On Friday,

"It was really exciting because I won a buckle and my daughter won a buckle," she said, "and then I won three more buckles (at the circuit finals), so we won five buckles this weekend."

Kristin Hanchey will join Margo Crowther at the NFR Open next summer.

HEADIN' FOR HOME

by Sherry Morrison // Triple M (Mike Morrison Ministries)

I received a note in the mail from my friend in Montana today. It was wonderful! Her family had been experiencing some delays in their building project, health issues in their extended family and other challenges.

We had prayed over them together. Every single one of those issues has turned around! Praise God!

When you're in a battle, sometimes it's hard to see through the smoke to the sunshine on the other side. But with God, we can go through, arriving there, like the three Hebrew children, without even the smell of smoke on us! Daniel 3:27!

What if we are still in the battle? On Sunday, the Lord told me to tell the church these scriptures.

John 16:13 – He'll show us things to come.

John 16:23-24 – Ask Him in the name of the Father and He'll give it to us, that our joy may be full.

John 17:11 – We are kept in His care. In the smoke?

Use these scriptures to break through with Jesus, out into the blessed sunshine!
