Im Gunnin For Ya Earns Leslie Willis Third BFA Super Stakes Championship

By Tanya Randall

When Leslie Willis pointed Im Gunnin For Ya to the gate at the BFA Super Stakes, held November 16 at the Lazy E Arena in Guthrie, Oklahoma, she figured she was running for second. Last year's champion Kassie Mowry and Force The Goodbye had slammed the clock in 15.490.

"We all said, 'We're running for second,' after Kassie ran the .4," said the Chester, South Carolina, trainer. "I would have been happy just being in the Top 10. I just wanted my horse to go make a nice run. I thought he would turn three barrels and get a piece of it."

Yet, when Willis asked, Gunner delivered in a way he never had before. The gelding that had been .7 to .5 seconds off the pace at exhibitions all summer found his fast, turning in a 15.370 to win the $100,000 first-place check for 3-year-olds making their debut competition run.

"When I was running through the gate I was smooching to him to keep his ears focusing on me instead of on the crowd," recalled Willis, who owns the gelding with her husband Jason. "When he

BIT: Rose-nose combination with a three-piece mouthpiece. "I'm not really comfortable riding horses with a rope across the nose because I think they can get too pushy on it, but when I worked him this summer, he would get a little too round and kind of float away from my hands with just a regular ring or even a little shank. I put this on him. I don't have a lot of control. I don't have much whoa, but it seems to make him square up in his turns and come back to me. It almost looks like a Beetle Hack with a mouthpiece."

ALTERNATIVE THERAPIES: "We put him in the salt water spa while we were there," said Willis. "I think that's the best thing we can do for them as far as keeping the inflammation out of their legs while we're on the road. We did the spa Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday. I have an Activo-Med blanket. It's like a MagnaWave but you don't have to sit there and hold it. I put it on him Tuesday as well."

TRAINING/CONDITIONING: "We've done everything from long trot down to the creek to ponying older horses all summer. I had Jason plow my arena before we left because I felt like he needed to cruise through the pattern one more time. As far as working the pattern, he's just been easy. He's never done anything wrong. He just never learned to run until Tuesday night! He picked a good night to go fast!"

put his ears back and listened to me, I pushed the gas pedal and he took it. When I asked him for his life, he gave it to me. That's not something a lot of young horses will do. I respect him more for doing what I asked him to do and not falling apart."

Willis said Gunner tended to turn his barrels but would wait on her before running to the next barrel in his exhibitions, which caused him to be off the pace. She thinks the Super Stakes crowd helped Gunner run.

"The other night, he was not waiting on me!" she laughed. "He was like, 'Hang on!' He turned his barrels and got away. He started his turn too soon at the second barrel, and I picked my hand up and asked him to go one more step. He listened. That's not something that even older horses do. He just stayed between my hands the entire run."

A little over a year ago, Gunner was placing fourth in a maiden claiming race at Evangeline Downs in Louisiana. Bred by Copper Spring Ranch, the Furyofthewind gelding, out of the Tres Seis mare, Senorita Seis, was first purchased by Todd Matte and sent to the track. In five starts on the track, he had one second and a third, earning $6,760.

When Willis saw Gunner's full brother at his mother's side last summer, she tracked down Gunner.

"Actually, a friend of ours, Trey Ellis, was his trainer at the track," she said. "I reached out to him. I knew Todd had given quite a bit of money for him as a racehorse, but I told Trey if this horse ever comes for sale, I want him. I never saw him, never knew anything about him but his breeding. I was sitting in the holding pen at the Ruby Buckle last year exhibiting horses and Trey calls me and tells me Todd's going to sell this horse. I immediately call Jason and tell him, 'Buy him.' We bought him sight unseen and had a friend ship him in from Louisiana."

Willis, who had a lot of success with both Furys and Tres Seis prospects, had expected the cross to be magic.

"I always thought that would be the perfect cross," she said. "I had told Brian and Lisa that two years ago. Then when Three Times The Fury hit the barrel pen, I was like 'Told ya!' I thought, 'Please let mine be half as good as that filly!' He stepped up to the plate when I asked him too!"

Gunner also has a fun personality.

"He has a happy personality," said Willis. "If you go in the stall, he's got his ears up and wants to come see you. He's a busy body though. The first time we put him in the salt water spa, he tried to pull everything off the wall that she had hanging. He stuck his nose in the salt water. He wants to be doing something!"

After winning the Super Stakes, Gunner got to skip the Juvenile. His next runs won't be until the OKC Rookie Futurity.

"Jason and I talked after he made that run," said Willis. "He gave me everything I asked him for that night. We just decided not to run him. I've never had a slot horse come back and do well in the Juvenile. I think it's more just me because I have a hard time asking them for their life the very next day. I even had a racehorse trainer call me and tell me, 'Don't you run that horse again. He gave you everything he had.' I said, 'Well, you just confirmed what Jason and I were thinking.' When three of us were thinking that way, I gave him the week off."

Willis wanted to thank Copper Spring Ranch for the support and slot, her husband for all his help while she wasn't feeling well due to food poisoning, all her horse health team of veterinarians, farriers, chiropractors and acupuncturists, etc., for keeping her horses together.

Wanna Bet?

Leslie Willis and Im Gunnin For Ya's Super Stakes win was extra special. It was Willis's birthday and she won the race in Copper Spring Ranch's slot with a horse they bred and raised.

"I've run in their slot for several years," Willis said. "It's nice knowing that I don't have to go hunt a spot every year. We just pick the best 3-year-old whether it's from their program or not. This year it was extra special because they did raise him."

Willis also had several close friends do well in the Super Stakes. Brian Wheeler, who's mother Stephanie has drawn her winning run number twice now, was fifth on Mission Ranch's Stoli My Firewater. Ty Marks rode Shakemup Frenchboy to seventh for Scott Duke.

Unbeknownst to Willis, who had battled food poisoning since Monday afternoon, her husband Jason and Wheeler had joined in with Duke and Marks in some friendly betting on the outcome of the Super Stakes. Over the summer, Duke and Marks made a bet. If Marks made the Top 12, Duke would shave his head, if not Marks would.

"All summer, we said please let Scott be the one to shave his head because if the colts done good and they've won money then everybody is happy and all Scott's got to do is walk around with a shaved head," she explained. "Vise versa, if this colt went back (regressed) and everyone is down in the dumps then Ty has to walk around with a shaved head."

"That morning at breakfast, they got to giving Brian Wheeler a hard time. They said, 'What are you going to do?'" Brian said, 'If I'm in the top 5, I'll swim the lake.' They said, 'Jason, what are you going to do?' He said, 'I'm not shaving my head, but if she wins it, I'll back stroke in the middle of the lake!' I knew none of this! I'm out back cooling the horse out and they're yelling, 'Jason is going to swim the lake!' I'm like, 'WHAT!' Then they all explained it!"

Thankfully the cold front wasn't due until the next day when Willis and Wheeler disrupted the fish in the Lazy E pond.

"Everyone got in the win picture this year," added Willis. "We've all rode together all summer. It was a fun week—one we will cherish and remember for a long time!"

Willis' Hundred Granders

"It's either your day or it's not," Leslie Willis said about slot races. "I put more pressure on myself when you've got to go make that run again, like in a two-run average situation. With a slot race, you give it your all and it either happens or it doesn't. I guess that's the way I ride and it kind of suits me."

Ryann Pedone & HP Feel The Fame Tops BFA Juvenile & Future Fortunes, Wins $83,114

By Tanya Randall

Veteran futurity trainer Ryann Pedone of Sunset, Texas, got her first BFA World Championship with a very special filly, HP Feel The Fame ("Bradee"), topping the Juvenile at the 36th annual event held November 13-20 at the Lazy E Arena in Guthrie, Oklahoma. The duo also placed third in the Super Stakes and won the Future Fortunes Juvenile Sires' Slots for total earnings of $83,114.

Bradee, 3, is from the first crop of Pedone's aged event star and main National Finals Rodeo qualifying horse Feel The Sting ("Stinger"). The royally bred stallion, owned at the time by Jason Martin and Charlie Cole of Highpoint Performance Horses (now he resides at 70 Ranch), was injured after coming in clutch for Pedone at the ProRodeo Tour Finale and never got to make a run at the Finals.

"It's kind of ironic that just a year ago, Stinger got hurt and I had my first (NFR)," said the Florida native. "It went from magical to just trying to stay positive. Now a year later, I'm gifted with this filly...winning my first BFA!"

Pedone wanted to thank her sponsors, her husband Don Lee of Double X Equine, her farrier Cutter Holloway, Jason Martin for selling her Bradee, Brice Manning for starting her, Lexi Peaden, Charlotte Hilton and Alicia Udall for all their help, Flavio and Rosa Compos Silva and Ed and Daiane Rodrigues for taking care of things at home, the BFA Staff and Alan Moorhead.

A "series of unfortunate events" led Pedone to purchase Bradee. She had three mares in foal to Feel The Sting. The first mare Kiss Kiss This had a colt and the foal sold after she posted his picture on Facebook. Pedone was at peace with the decision because it was a good home and she had two more coming. Unfortunately, Cause For A Kiss and VF A Little Bit Red tragically lost their foals.

"I was pretty upset because that was Stinger's first crop and he was really special to me," she said. "I knew Jason had that filly (Bradee) and he called me. He said if I was interested, he would work a deal with me because she was priced accordingly. They did work with me, but I wanted to put her in bubble wrap because I've

NEW PLAN FOR 2022 • BREEDING INFORMATION COMING DECEMBER 15

World Record Holder Rollin In The Fame, by Dash Ta Fame. She also has money earners by A Streak Of Fling, Frenchmans Guy and now Feel The Sting.

Pedone sent Bradee to Brice Manning to be started under saddle. "He did a phenomenal job," she said. "I've won a lot of money on the horses he's broke for me over the years."

When Pedone finally swung a leg over Bradee, she knew she was really something special.

"I was joking around and said 'I'm going to win some $$@! on her. I'm going to win the BFA!'" she chuckled. "I told a few people that joking around but in my head, I believed it. Everything does have to line up and it has to be your turn, but you have to start out with a horse like that."

Pedone and Bradee made their first competitive run together in the Super Stakes on Tuesday night. They clocked a 15.753 to win third and $23,000.

"I drew No. 54, which was third on the ground," Pedone explained. "I heard the times. I knew Kassie ran the .4. Leslie was in the drag before me and she had that amazing run. It was smoking. I wasn't going to just gut her out because those runs were just phenomenal. I was just going to go out there and make a business run, hopefully get a check. I knew I had a nice mare. She made a solid run. I was pleased with it."

They were last on the ground for their first run in the Juvenile on Wednesday morning.

The ground was good but if you're bottom of the ground, sometimes the horses struggled with it," said Pedone, noting that Bradee tends to bury up in her turns. "I need to go and make a solid run. I'm not going to call on her. I'm not going to whip her out. I'm just going to go in there and let her work."

They clocked a 15.871, which placed 13th in the round. "She slipped pretty good behind the third and still clocked an .8," she said. "It was very respectful on the bottom of the ground."

With the order reversed for the second round on Friday, Pedone and Bradee had the top of the ground.

"I was going to go for it, but I wasn't going to do anything stupid as a jockey," she said. "All day I was super anxious and excited, but not really nervous."

Their 15.626 finished second behind Craig Brooks and NoPressureNoDiamonds, by No Pressure On Me, another stallion very dear to Pedone.

"It worked out beautifully," she said. "I was pleased being second to Craig and his No Pressure On Me baby."

Pedone and Bradee's 31.497 not only won the Juvenile title, worth $17,044, but it also won the Future Fortunes Juvenile Sires Slot, which paid $42,500 on a two run average--$40,000 to the horse owner and $2,500 to the stallion, all of which count toward the total earnings of the horse.

Now, Bradee gets some time off.

"I had promised this filly in May that I was going to put some pressure on her and then she was going to have a break," she said. "I told Lexi (Paeden, who helps her), if I even think about getting greedy and not giving her four weeks off, you slap me upside the head. I had a plan to make three runs and call on that filly according to the ground. She did everything so solid."

Pedone said that Bradee reminds her a lot of Stinger but has a little more self-preservation.

"She takes care of herself," said Pedone, who will be running Bradee's half-sister, by HP Dash Ta Fiesta, in the OKC Slot Race for Ron and Patty Ralls. "He was just so aggressive. I feel so much of her dad in her and she's out of one of the greatest broodmares of all time."

After spending much of 2020 and a lot of 2019 qualifying for the National Finals Rodeo, Pedone was happy to focus on her futurity horses.

PERFORMANCE HORSE DATA

"I really didn't think I was going to be that far behind because I flew home and worked my colts, but they didn't really get hauled like they usually do," she said. "The way my program is set up I pretty much sacrificed a year of futurities to get to the NFR. It was a very humbling year of futurities. The way I do my horses it wasn't like I could rush them to make it happen. Right now, several of them are coming on, but I had so many of them that I couldn't hold them (for 5-year-olds)."

Now her program is back on track.

"I've got really cool colts. I got to spend a year getting my a kicked and getting colts ready for next year. I can't really fault my colts for this year. They'd all work. They were just behind. But I wouldn't trade that ProTour Finale for anything."

The futurity world, she said, is her home.

"I love it," she said. "I love my producers. I love my friends. I love the layout—being able to run multiple horses—and have my animals there. I want to see other people go to the Finals on my horses. I'll just bring my pom poms!"

Comeback of the Year -- Danyelle Campbell & Return Of The Mac Win BFA World Championship Futurity

By Tanya Randall

When Return Of The Mac ("Creed") came out of the arena at Kay Rodgers Park in Fort Smith, Arkansas, on three legs last May, his trainer and jockey Danyelle Campbell and his owner and breeder Felicia Taylor feared the worst. Creed had suffered a condylar fracture of his left front cannon bone.

Barely six months post-surgery to place two screws near his fetlock, Creed and Campbell turned in the two fastest runs of the BFA World Championship Futurity, a second round winning 15.355 and a 15.299 to win the coveted title and collect $74,929 on the week.

"It's been a dream of mine to win the BFA since I started futurities when I was 16," said Campbell, a multiple aged event champion and three-time National Finals Rodeo qualifier. "It was a very emotional moment."

Taylor was extremely proud of her homebred 4-year-old by the late A Smooth Guy, out of her Dash Ta Fame mare Mackilts, whom she purchased as a 2-year-old.

"I think it was just our day and Creed shined in that moment," said Taylor, who qualified for the NFR as a teenager in 1994. "He didn't win because someone else screwed up. He won it because he dominated with his two times. He showed how good he really is ... and to do it with two screws in his ankle!"

Creed was started under saddle by Katie Luttrell in the summer of his second year. He was turned out for some time before being sent to Campbell in late February, early March of his third year.

"He was very easy to train," said Campbell, who trains out of Weatherford, Texas. "He took to it right away. He demonstrated right away that he had a really cool move. He was very quick and efficient with his feet. He always kept his body very balanced in a turn. I think sometimes that's the hardest thing to get a horse to do if they aren't naturally balanced with their body and you have to teach that to them. In Creed's case, he was natural at all those things."

Creed made his competitive debut in the BFA Super Stakes last year.

"We laugh about it now," said Campbell. "We hit all three barrels in the slot race last year. What a difference a year makes! People left there remembering two things, Kassie, who won it, and Danyelle, who hit all three barrels!"

It was discovered that Creed had an aversion to banners.

"That's why I carry a whip on him now," Campbell explained. "I have a whip to keep him from jumping out and going in a straight line."

Creed won about $40,000 early in his career. He took a bad step turning the first barrel at the Royal Crown in Bryan, Texas, in February. From that point forward, he battled a nagging injury that ultimately turned out to be the condylar fracture, an injury common to Thoroughbred racehorses.

Initially, Creed was diagnosed with bone pain by Dr. Chad Marsh at ESMS in Weatherford. Campbell was advised that the gelding would need 90 days off to fully heal, but if he responded to treatment, there was no danger in running him.

Creed did respond favorably to treatment and proceeded to be the reserve champion at the Copper Spring Ranch Futurity and take third at Valley Girl's Barrel Daze. It wasn't until the Old Fort Days Futurity that the true nature of the injury came to fruition.

ALTERNATIVE THERAPIES: PHT and BOT blankets, Acuscope on Tuesday, Bemer blanket throughout the week.

TRAINING/CONDITIONING: Ridden three or four times away. "Sometimes I'll ride him in an O-ring and other times in smooth Loomis with a German Martingale. A lot of what I do, even when I warm up, is collect him up and really drive him into the bridle." She credits Aaron Vaghela for helping her with Creed's foundation.

SPONSORS: Kerry Kelley Bits & Spurs

"At that point, Dr. Marsh was 99 percent sure we had missed it all along," Campbell said. "We had x-rayed it, but it didn't show up. I guess the whole silver lining is that had it not broken, we would have been fighting it for quite a while not knowing exactly what was wrong."

Since having the fracture surgically repaired on May 25th, Creed hasn't had any treatment to the limb. He returned to competition the week of the Pink Buckle in early October.

"I think emotionally we weren't sure how Creed would come back, especially mentally," said Campbell.

His very first run back at Glen Rose, the Sunday before Pink Buckle, he ran very green and was a second off. His next seven runs at the Pink Buckle, Ruby Buckle and BFA would net him $154,000.

"He came back so strong so fast," said Campbell. "It didn't take any time. Boom! Right off the bat, he came back stronger than ever."

At the BFA, Creed was early in the draw and near the bottom of the ground for his first run.

"He had a very safe run," said Campbell of the 15.605 that placed eighth in the round and made it back to Saturday's Final. "He did jump way out for a huge pocket at the second. We just kind of took the long way around. I couldn't allow him to come back in because we were going to hit. I just had to keep him out the whole time. He still ran a 15.60. For him to clock that way with those conditions...she said, 'I think he can run a .4 in here.' I said, 'He can run a .2 in here.'"

In the second round, Campbell went gunning for her .2, but had to settle for a round winning 15.355.

"I had nothing to lose and I was going to send him as hard as I could, basically try to win the round and the Fortunes Round," she said. "He got by the first more than he ever has. He's a really turny horse. His second and third were flawless. They were so fast and snappy. He ran really well."

With the Taylor family in the crowd, Saturday night, Campbell and Creed got their .2, a 15.299 to be exact.

"He had a really good first barrel," said Campbell. "His second barrel: his approach was very honest. He did get a little sucked in the ground. You can see in my video I'm just lifting him the whole way around. At the halfway point, I was like 'Oh my gosh! How am I going to get him around?' Knock on wood, he's always been very easy to manipulate in the turn, and when I asked him to step up and out, get himself in a safer position, he did. It slowed him up a little bit, but he went where I asked. At that point, I'm thinking, 'I don't care if I have to do a handstand; I'm keeping the third barrel up!' We are making a clean run! He did everything I asked. I'm not a big celebrator or fist pumper, but when I crossed the line and saw he ran the 15.2 that I told Felicia he could do, I was so excited!"

The victory in the BFA Futurity was worth $44,929, while the Fortunes Round victory was worth $27,500--$25,000 to the Taylors and $2,500 to Bill and Deb Myers for A Smooth Guy, all of which is credited to Creed—and $2,500 from the regular Future Fortunes Futurity Bonus.

Campbell wanted to thank Marsh for putting Creed back together, Aaroon Vaghela for his dry work tuning on Creed, her parents for their continued support, Taylor Rivera for her help during the week at BFA, her help at home and of course, the Taylor family and all of her customers.

"I don't ride for a lot of people but the ones that I do are very loyal, very kind," said Campbell. "They're not just business clients. They've become very good friends."

Taylor wanted to thank her parents and family—her husband picked Creed's registered name, while her two boys gave him his barn name—and Campbell, saying, 'She's been a huge blessing.'

Schelli Creacy and Blazin Superior Score Big at BFA Derby

Hope Raley

Training horses can teach you some valuable life lessons, and it's with that mindset that the 2021 BFA World Championships Derby Winner Schelli Creacy approaches each horse she trains.

"I believe that building your own horse teaches the true essence of what life is all about- patience, perseverance, and faith," Creacy explained. "With that in mind, I approach each horse that I am blessed to have with the mindset of what they need from me and how we can better communicate with one another. It is my job to pull their strengths to the top and minimize their weaknesses."

Creacy grew up surrounded by rodeo and horsemanship, so it's no wonder she's a philosopher when it comes to the art and beauty of training horses. Creacy hails from a family of rodeo producers, her parents Terry and Delia Walls, produced amateur and PRCA rodeos for forty-five years, and her mother is still serving the world of rodeo as a PRCA Secretary for Pete Carr Pro Rodeos. Unfortunately, her father Terry passed away in 2016 but not before he taught Creacy and her brother Trent Walls a wealth of knowledge for all things horses and rodeo.

"My dad wasn't a fan of buying horses so my brother and I would just ride whatever dad had in the barn at that time. We learned at a young age the value of a good horse."

It's those small, valuable lessons that Creacy has carried with her over the years. The value of a good horse and hard work pays off. Those valuable lessons came full circle November 20th when Creacy won her first BFA World Championship riding her 5-year-old gelding Blazin Superior on Championship Saturday.

"Super" as he known around the barn is by Blazin Jetolena and out of Little Bit Superior by Dash Ta Fame. Creacy bought him as a unbroke 3-year-old, knowing that she was taking a risk, but also knowing that the BJO x DTF cross was where the magic happened! "My husband was the one who told me to take a chance on him." Explained Creacy. "From the first day that Super's previous owner brought him to my husband to break, my husband had a feeling there was something special about him."

Creacy admitted that Super lacked confidence when they first got him but after lots of time getting to know one another and building a strong foundation, the confidence started pouring out. Having just won the Pink Buckle Derby a few short weeks prior to the BFA, Creacy was confident in her horse going into another busy week in Guthrie.

"Super is a very accurate horse and seems to really like the angles that the Lazy E Arena offers."

In the first round of the derby, Creacy and Super posted a smoking fast time of 15.166 but a down barrel turned it into a +5. Going into the second round, Creacy wanted to focus on doing her job and really riding forward into the turns to help keep Super moving

A job well done in the second-round, Creacy and Super posted a 15.449 which split 4th/5th in the round and got them back to Championship Saturday.

When asked about their short round run, Creacy described it as "identical as the second-round run". "Super worked just as great in the short round that he had in the second round, but the ground was a bit heavier, so he had to try harder."

When the chips had fallen and the dust had settled on the floor of the Lazy E Arena, Creacy's total time on two, 30.900, was the aggregate time to beat-of course, she was the first to credit Super for his superb efforts.

"Super is anointed with an extra measure of grace and ability and those are elements that I cannot take credit for, but you can bet he got extra cookies for a job well done!"

When asked to share some advice to those hoping to win a title as big as BFA World Champion someday, Creacy wanted to really capitalize on Faith.

"All things have a season, the good Lord designed it that way. As trainers, it is important to know that the planting season is an important and formative one, but the protecting and nourishing season is critical because you will not get to the harvest if you stomp on your sprouts, or little improvements seen daily. These young horses are emotional creatures so check our egos at the barn door and enter into their presence with a relaxed intensity of moving forward an inch in their training and when that inch does happen, praise them for it!"

Cooked to Perfection.

The way horse feed should be.

For over 35 years, HYGAIN® feeds have been perfected with painstaking attention to every detail. Our feed range includes a not-so-secret ingredient: the Australian Sweet Lupin, a soluble super fiber that is low in starch and sugar with high energy sources for optimal conditioning with more control.

Made in an equine-only manufacturing facility for product purity with no cross-contamination, each of our feeds is formulated to deliver optimal health, enhance nutritional value, improve palatability and increase feed efficiency.

HYGAIN. The Highest Standard in Horse Nutrition.

If you are fond of a horse and wish to do him a real favor - train him well. Teach him good manners, good habits, both in the stable and under the saddle. You need never worry about the future of such horse if for any reason, you may have to part with him. You assure him of friends wherever he goes. Perhaps the greatest kindness you can do any horse is to educate him well.

BFA Barrel Horse Sale Sizzles

On Thursday, November 18, 2021 at the Lazy E Arena, in Guthrie OK during the BFA World Championship the BFA Barrel Horse Sale continued the season long hot streak of sales.

3 Horses sold for over $100k with the Top 5 averaging $109,000 and the Top 10 averaging $78,050. Overall the 113 head that walked through the ring (including repurchases) averaged $23,642.

Topping the 2021 edition of the sale was up and coming barrel horse sire Firewater Canyon. By $3 million sire Fire Water Flit, one of the All Time Leading sires in the business, and out of the blue hen mare, Mulberry Canyon Moon, who already has over $760k worth of earners herself; Firewater Canyon brought all the breeding one could want in a stud. Already the sire of earners of over $245k (according to QStallions.com) with just his first few crops of colts to hit the arena, his future as a sire is bright. The gavel dropped at $200,000 on the pretty grey stud who was purchased by Kevin Williams from consignor Copper Spring Ranch. Firewater Canyon will stand the 2022 season at Dunn Ranch.

Both Lola Louisa and Morning Jedi came in next selling for a cool $100,000 each to Southwestern Farms.

Lola Louisa was a stunning 2 yr old chestnut filly by All Time Leading Barrel Horse Sire Dash Ta Fame, sire of $27.6 million in barrel earners, and out Blazin Jetolena/Bugs Alive In 75 Dam, Ms Blazen Bug. The Blazin Jetolena ($4.8 million sire) daughter was a barrel futurity money winner herself and has already produced a money winner. The second dam is none other than Ms Wahini Bug; the Bugs Alive in 75 daughter who has already produced Wahini Cash, Ms Shoo Bug and leading sire Famous Bugs. The third dam is Wahini who any one in the barrel horse industry knows to be a blue hen mare as well. This filly combined 3 of the most potent lines in the barrel world into one pretty package. This fancy filly was consigned by Alexia Willis.

Morning Jedi was a special offering, combining leading barrel horse sire Blazin Jetolena, sire of $4.8 million, with one of the hottest mares in the business; Frenchmans Guy daughter Morning Traffic in a handsome palomino hide. Morning Traffic has earned over $313k (Equistat); winning everywhere from futurities to rodeos and is also an NFR Qualifier (with Stevi Hillman). Morning Traffic is still on the rodeo road winning at the highest level at 10 years old. Morning Traffic is also a full sister to young barrel horse sire Traffic Guy. Two great families of horses are combined in this striking weanling palomino stud colt. The surefire stud prospect was offered by Michelle Darling.

The BFA Horse Sale followed suit with the rest of the 2021 barrel horse sales with record prices being brought for the very best pedigrees and individuals. The barrel horse market is definitely strong going into the OKC Barrel Futurity Sale in December.

Teton Ridge Announces the Acquisition of the BBR

Barrel racers across the western sports industry scored a major victory today with the announcement that Better Barrel Races has been acquired by Teton Ridge, the new and rapidly growing Western culture brand founded and led by visionary business leader and Western culture enthusiast Thomas Tull.

The acquisition comes on the heels of Teton Ridge's recent moves to bring The American under the growing brand's umbrella. Teton Ridge aims to bring Western sports to the national stage and to share the unique experiences and values of the iconic Western culture with audiences across the country and around the world.

As an official sanctioning organization for The American, Better Barrel Races provides Teton Ridge and The American with a critical component that will help grow the annual March event, and provide ongoing continuity for the sport. Additionally, Better Barrel Races will benefit from improved capitalization, access to a broader and more deeply experienced financial and business management team, and an unprecedented opportunity for long-term growth.

The exceptional team currently managing Better Barrel Races, that to date boasts more than 150 years combined experience in the barrel racing world, will continue to work alongside the team at Teton Ridge to advise, consult and assist with the historic partnership in order to become an unrivaled powerhouse.

A sampling of the many ways competitors will see the benefits of this include expansion of the Better Barrel Races X-Tra program supporting local events across the country, expansion of the existing Better Barrel Races World Finals with significantly increased prize money, the addition of a handful of large-scale "regional finals" with divisional and futurity competitions and much more on the horizon.

"We are very excited about this opportunity, not only for Better Barrel Races, but specifically for our membership and the entire barrel racing community," commented, Corky Barden, co-founder of Better Barrel Races. "As a part of the Teton Ridge family, we can grow our events and sport like never before, increasing barrel racing's reach to new audiences and taking it to the next level with additional large-scale races, elevated prize money and so much more."

In recent months, Teton Ridge has actively acquired multiple Western sports properties, as well as invested in high pedigree bloodstock for its planned equine breeding and training facility, located near Weatherford, Texas.

Integration of Better Barrel Races into Teton Ridge is expected to be immediate, so that qualifying events for The American will not be impacted- in order to give riders a chance to make the final field at AT&T Stadium in Arlington, Texas on March 6th of 2022.

Steve Knowles named PRCA's Director of Rodeo Administration

The Professional Rodeo Cowboys Association has named Steve Knowles its Director of Rodeo Administration.

"I'm very excited about this opportunity," said Knowles, 54. "I have been with the PRCA for 21 years as a Pro Official. I'm looking forward to this and I'm excited to take the next step. I have been involved with rodeo committees, stock contractors, judging and a contestant over my career. This has been kind of whirlwind; things are happening fast."

Knowles is slated to begin his new position Jan. 3 at PRCA headquarters in Colorado Springs, Colo.

"Steve brings a wealth of experience to this job and will be a good fit for this position," PRCA CEO Tom Glause said.

Knowles has one rodeo left to judge and that's the 2021 Wrangler National Finals Rodeo presented by Teton Ridge, at the Thomas & Mack Center in Las Vegas, Dec. 2-11.

Knowles lives in St. Cloud, Fla., and will be relocating to Colorado Springs.

Knowles junior rodeoed and high school rodeoed growing up and then was a bull rider in college at Pratt (Kan.) Community College and Northwestern State University in Natchitoches, La., and joined the PRCA in 1989.

"At the circuit finals, years and years ago, they had a judging seminar and just out of curiosity I attended the seminar," Knowles said. "I started judging part time when I was still rodeoing and then I became a Pro Official on Jan. 1, 2001, with the PRCA."

Knowles has three adult children, daughters, Fallon, 25 and Rylie, 23, and son, Carson, 20.

"What I have enjoyed about rodeo is being able to stay in touch with rodeo committees and the contestants and I love traveling and meeting new people," Knowles said. "As a judge, I would see the same people from rodeo-to-rodeo year to year and I made a lot of friends throughout the United States. I'm looking forward to taking my rodeo experience to my new job."

Cowboy Channel Cowboy Christmas to Open Dec. 1

The Cowboy Channel Cowboy Christmas, the official gift show of the Wrangler National Finals Rodeo will open one day early on Wednesday, Dec. 1 and include a tree lighting ceremony and additional live entertainment for attendees in celebration of the show's return to Las Vegas. The Cowboy Channel Cowboy Christmas, held at the Las Vegas Convention Center, South Halls, will then continue from Dec. 2-11, with the hours set for 9 a.m. through 4 p.m. (PT). The Cowboy Channel Cowboy Christmas features more than 500,000 square feet of show floor and more than 350 exhibitors from across the United States.

HEADIN' FOR HOME

by Sherry Morrison // Triple M (Mike Morrison Ministries)

Happy Thanksgiving! As a child of God, we have so much to be thankful for. But when we are bombarded daily/hourly on everything that's wrong, we can be distracted and forget. Let's don't.

Let's turn this around and cultivate an attitude of thankfulness. Make it so obvious that people around us will be captivated by it! For some of us, people will have to look hard to see it. LOL! For some of us, it will be the person we've always been.

No matter which group we fall into, there's always room for improvement. And, as usual, we have the Word on the subject. Psalm 136:1-36 starts out by telling us three times to give thanks to the Lord. It then changes to include His "mercy enduring."

I need mercy often. And when I ask Him to forgive me, I get His mercy. I'm so thankful! See how wonderful God is and how He loves us and covers us? God bless each of you and may this be your best Thanksgiving EVAH!

Mike and Sherry Morrison pastor "Church at the Barn" in Gillette, WY. They also travel to other areas ministering at barrel races, ranches, rodeos, churches and home Bible studies.
