Hella Good – Kylie Weast & Hella Wafer Win BFA $uper $takes, Juvenile & More

By Tanya Randall

Hella Wafer was the most consistent 3-year-old at the Barrel Futurities of America's World Championships, held November 16-21 at the Lazy E Arena in Guthrie, Oklahoma.

Kylie (Ward) Weast guided her family-raised filly to a $100,000 victory in the 60-entry $250,000 $uper $takes and a $28,235 championship in the $50,000-added, 291-entry Juvenile Futurity.

Combined with a $30,000 Juvenile Sires' Slot championship and $5,615 for runner up in the Juvenile Bonus, courtesy of Future Fortunes. Weast and Hella took home $163,850 for the first three runs of their competitive career.

"I just can't believe it happened or how it happened," said Weast, a 2018 National Finals Rodeo qualifier and 2024 BFA Futurity Champion on Goldies Last Design.

Weast and Hella are just the second pair in history to sweep the $uper $takes and Juvenile. The very first dual winners were Donnie Reece and Real Easy Buy winning the Pro Tour Futurity, predecessor to the $uper $takes, and the inaugural Juvenile Futurity in 2004. Hella is a legacy project for the famed Youree-Ward family of Addington, Oklahoma. She is from the first foal crop of NFR qualifier DM High Roller, and out of Weast's NFR qualifying JL Dash Ta Heaven mare Hell On The Red ("Reddy"), who also produced 4-Year-Old 1st Run Average Champion and 4-Year-Old Futurity Finalist Hell Of A Jet, by Blazin Jetolena.

Hella was started under saddle by Mark Lee of Henrietta, Texas. "She was always easy from the very beginning," said Weast. "I had two mares with him, and he always liked Hella. She was his pick." Unlike her mother, who Weast held until her fifth year, Hella was much easier to train.

"Reddy didn't futurity until her 5-year-old year because mentally I didn't think she could handle it," Weast explained. "This mare has a kinder demeanor. From the second ride, she wanted to turn a barrel. I literally have not had to get on to her at all. If I do (have to), it's on the fence line or something away from the barrels, and it's barely. It's crazy to think that I trained her. She would just go do what I asked her to do every day. It made it fun, and it didn't even feel like I was training her. We would go exercise, go around the barrels five or 10 times and put her up. We might add a little speed here and there and see if she can handle it, and she did, and then we'd slow things down for two weeks. I never had to pressure her to do anything. She just knew her job."

Training a talented filly like Hella was exactly what Weast needed at that time in her life too. In the fall of 2024 her son Marcus suffered a severe head injury in a horse related accident, and he was just cleared a couple of months ago to resume the rough-and-tumble life of a 10-year-old athletic country boy. Then not long after Marcus' initial accident, the family lost matriarch Florence Youree. "It was my saving grace," Weast said. "With everything I had going on, I needed…needed…her to be good. I needed to go to the barn and enjoy my time in the barn. I needed her. That mare literally made me love my job again."

Once Weast had the filly going on the pattern she knew fairly early on that Hella was likely a slot race contender.

"It was pretty early on," Weast said. "Then my other mare started to pick up a little bit, and we were worried if we were going to pick the right one. Then I went to a little jackpot to exhibition and (Hella) would have won the open by like three- or four-tenths. That's when I called Latricia and said, 'OK. She's the slot horse.'"

Early on at the BFA, Hella did prove that she's Reddy's daughter. When Weast had rode up to the arena, she took her jacket off once she got inside and that was enough to bring out the female side of her family tree.

"I took (the jacket) off and threw it on the fence and she lost her mind," laughed Weast. "A man standing there said, 'I don't know if she had a foot on the ground!' She jumped into the air. So I had to get her mind a little tired so she would pay attention, because she was super upset."

Hella still clocked a 16.1 in her $uper $takes exhibition.

"I was super thrilled with that," said Weast. "She did everything I asked her to and didn't look around or do too much."

The next day, Weast had intended to use her Juvenile exhibition to just trot the pattern, but Hella had other ideas.

"She got in the alleyway and thought, 'It's time to run!'" Weast recalled. "So, she cruised through again, a little faster than I anticipated or wanted."

Weast put more saddle time on the mare prior to Tuesday night's $uper $takes so Hella would be focused.

"For the slot race that night, she was so calm," Weast said. "I kept looking at my mom, going 'Don't say a word. We're not going to talk about it,' because she warmed up so good."

Weast and Hella clocked a 15.425 to take the $100,000 victory.

A day later, they clocked a 15.432 to finish second in the first round of the Juvenile behind Kassie Mowry and Hella's paternal half-brother Hi Rollin Roulette. On Saturday, they were a 15.415 to take the second round and two-run aggregate.

"When I look at the video of the three runs on top of each other, there was very little difference," Weast said. "I'd see little things after each run. I got by my second a little or she's pulling off. In the slot race, I had over rode her and did a wonky thing on the third barrel, but she just kept moving forward. I'm very thankful for that."

Hella's next runs will be at the OKC Futurity in two weeks. Weast said they'll focus on the big events next year, but the activities of her two children take priority over the fulltime futurity circuit.

Brandon Cullins & Cody Bauserman's BV Chick Magnet Sticks For $50,000 Freshman Slot Race Win

By Tanya Randall

Nearly 30 years ago, Cody Bauserman got the biggest win of his young career at the Old Fort Days Futurity aboard Likely Fuel, a horse that Talmadge Green thought Bauserman had a better chance with than himself.

This summer, Bauserman, now one of the sport's all-time leading futurity riders, found himself with a talented horse that he believed had a better chance at winning with someone else. Leading rider Brandon Cullins, who was mentored by Bauserman in his own early career, got the call.

The result was a $50,000 victory for BV Chick Magnet in the 40-entry, $119,000 Freshman Slot Race for first-run 4-year-olds at the Barrel Futurities of America's World Championships, held November 16-21 in the Lazy E Arena in Guthrie, Oklahoma.

"I've never been so nervous in my life as I was that week leading up to that," said Cullins, who survived the pressure of winning the $1 million bonus at The American on MJ Segars Fast Lane. "I knew (Chick) was that good and I wanted to win for Cody."

Bauserman, who won the 2013 $uper $takes on Promise Me A Wagon, said he could relate and has felt that too.

"You know it's kind of easy when one jumps up and surprises you," said Bauserman. "This was going in knowing that we had a really great shot. That always puts more pressure on everybody."

But he also knew that Cullins had been in the situation many times and has always found a way through it.

"I just felt the horse needed to be with him," said the Sallisaw, Oklahoma, based trainer. "It wasn't just because he's my good friend. I've put other people on my horses before. I just really thought he'd fit this horse."

Bauserman, who ranked No. 5 amongst EquiStat's all-time leading futurity riders, purchased Chick at the 2025 Heritage Place Winter Mixed Sale in January. The 2022 gelding, by leading race and arena sire Tres Seis, out of the Corona Cartel mare BV Baby Dont Go, had just finished a track career with one win in five starts for $17,575. Bauserman paid $25,000 for the gelding based on his pedigree and looks.

"His look was phenomenal when he was fit for that sale," Bauserman said. "He just stood out for all the Tres Seis that I've seen. He looked like he could go in a halter class; they had him prepped so well."

Bauserman, who has more than $2.1 million in futurity earnings on his resume, took his time with the off the track gelding.

"I've really changed the way I do things now," he said. "I own most of mine now. I've just slowed the process down and can take more time with them. I can pressure them and then give them time off, where before I would have less than a year almost to get one ready."

Jackson Sharp, who was riding with Bauserman at the time, helped Chick get the handle he needed for barrel racing.

"Once the spring hit, I started doing some barrel work with him," Bauserman said. "He went through the barrels fairly easy. I felt like he had a lot of potential once I got him going around the barrels."

Although Chick could have run as a 4-year-old, Bauserman opted to wait again.

"I felt like he could mature more," he said. "I had more time to take him around and exhibition him to get him a little more seasoned. I've just kind of chose to do that when I own them.

"My path has always been for someone to purchase them after their futurity year. Being a year older doesn't affect that. You can still go to the Pink Buckle and derbies and win good money. I just feel like I don't have to rush one if I don't have to now."

Bauserman knew Chick was something special when he started hauling him to exhibition, but he believed that he was holding the horse back.

"I know what the good times are at these places," he explained. "A couple of times he was a second off, and I knew it was my fault that he wasn't getting closer. This horse is a little quicker. He's not a really big horse. Some of the last horses I've had success with are bigger horses with bigger strides and they're not as quick. Their reactions aren't as jerky. That horse has top speed and a lot of quickness too. That quickness made it a little difficult for me at times and I knew it would never bother Brandon."

The two had first started riding together when they'd winter at Bob Hamilton's Southeastern Arena in Unadilla, Georgia.

"That first winter is when I really started getting better," said Cullins, who is EquiStat's No. 13 ranked futurity rider of all-time with earnings of $1.4 million. "If you look at my EquiStat, it was decent until that year. Then it just took off after that. I learned a lot from Cody. We've been good friends for years now."

When Bauserman called to ask Cullins about riding Chick he never said how good he thought the colt was and that's actually what made Cullins think he had a good one coming to his barn.

"Cody doesn't get really excited or talk really high on anything," Cullins said. "I was on the phone with him a while and he was asking me if I wanted to take him. He didn't say how good he was, but the longer I was on the phone with him and the way he was talking about him…there were a few more little positive things he'd say about him and Cody usually doesn't do that."

The first place Cullins, who trains in Dublin, Texas, exhibitioned Chick was at the 377 Arena in Stephenville.

"That was the first time I took him through the barrels," Cullins recalled. "I just let him go and he ran pretty hard. I think he kind of stuck his head up at all three barrels, but he stayed close and worked. He ran a 16.0, which is pretty good there. I was like, 'Man, this thing is impressive!'"

Chick continually out clocked Cullins' own colts by nearly a second. Then at Northcrest, about a month before the BFA, Chick clocked a 15.28 on the stakes with the arena record being a 15.26.

Then at BFA, Cullins worried that Chick was unraveling a little bit.

"He started riding a little bit aggressive," said Cullins. "The rideabounds, he was not very good. I was really nervous."

In his exhibition, Cullins said Chick got down in his front end and got a little flat in his turns, wanting to fall back rather than step around."

"Cody's funny," Cullins said. "He won't tell me what to do unless he thinks I'm going in a bad direction. At dinner that night, he said, 'You hadn't felt that side of him yet,' but he's already been through that with him, where he gets racy and flat. He said you can get after him and ride him through it, and he'll take it.

"So the next morning, I got up and went to the arena at 5:30 or 6 because I figured I was going to have to do a lot of walking around the barrels and didn't want to have a line. We got some accomplished, but he was still wanting to be hot."

Cullins slowly worked the gelding again later that day and he was even better.

"He was really good that second ride," he said. "That night I changed bits on him too. I had him in a rope nose, but I put Segers bit on him because I thought it would fit that night. When I warmed him up, I was thinking, 'I don't know what he's going to do, but he couldn't be riding any better. Everything just fell back in line. "I think that's what I really like about that horse, he's got that gritty racehorse in him, where he wants to be fast and aggressive, but you can school him and he'll take it. He'll follow your lead and come back around. I don't think he wants to be wrong. He just wants to be aggressive."

Bauserman almost couldn't watch but ended up watching in the stands with longtime friend Troy Crumrine, the No. 2 Futurity Rider of all-time.

"I wouldn't say I was overly nervous," Bauserman said. "I think Brandon felt way more pressure than I did. I just know that horse was going to get his share one day. It might not be tonight, but I've had too many nice horses that I know anything can happen. He could break a leg tomorrow, but if he stays sound and healthy, he's gonna get his day."

After winning the Freshman, Chick was done for the week. Bauserman had opted to not enter him in the 4-Year-old Futurity because he didn't want the gelding to have four potential runs on the week.

Chick will run at the OKC Slot Race and Rookie Futurity in Oklahoma City in two weeks.

Jason & Leslie Willis' OE Bachelor Pad and Jordan Harrell Make BFA History With Futurity Championship

By Tanya Randall

2025 Barrel Futurities of America $uper $take Champion OE Bachelor Pad ("Hugh") made history at the 41st annual BFA World Championships, held November 16-21 in the Lazy E Arena at Guthrie, Oklahoma.

The 4-year-old blue roan gelding, ridden by Jordan Harrell for Jason and Leslie Willis, topped the 461-entry, $100,000-added 4-Year-Old Futurity for $73,784. The victory made the Flingin Roses gelding, out of Ashley Harvey's FC Strait Cajun, by Strait Dallas Fuel, the first horse to win both the $uper $takes to follow up with a Futurity Championship the next year.

As he was with his $uper $takes title, Hugh is the first BFA Futurity Champion sired by a BFA Futurity Champion. His sire Flingin Roses won the title in 2020. Hugh is from his first crop of performance age foals.

"It feels like we've been living in some sort of fairy tale," said Harrell, who surpassed the $1 million mark in career earnings at the BFA. "How are we supposed to go back to living a normal life after this? It's not normal to keep it up for this long. We've been on heater and the horses have stayed riding good and feeling good. I know it can't last forever!"

Hugh's lifetime earnings after the BFA are just shy of $300,000, even though Harrell tried to save him for the bigger events. After winning the $uper $takes, Hugh also finished second at the Breeders Challenge Finale, third at the Jingle Bell Classic and fourth at the Ruby Buckle East.

"He's been such a good horse," said Harrell, who started riding Hugh for the Willis' last summer after Leslie was injured. "He's just a smooth, easy-going horse. The past two weeks, he's got a bit of fire to him, and I was worried that he was getting sore, but I think he's just growing up becoming more of an open horse than just a baby. He's been so good about waiting on me and listening to me, just slow and easy, but he's definitely getting more fire under him lately."

Surprisingly, Hugh was a little less fiery to start out the BFA. "The first day, he was draw No. 405, and it was a full drag, probably the first full drag of the whole barrel race, I imagine, because I was bottom of the ground after a big drag," she chuckled. The futurity is notorious for turn outs, leaving very few drag sets full with five contestants. "He made a good run. The ground wasn't bad or anything. He was kind of sluggish around our turns and he just didn't fire very hard."

The Hazelhurst, Georgia, barrel racer knew that 15.7 wouldn't hold to get them back to the 50-head short go.

"I tried to gun it, but he still didn't fire super hard," Harrel said of her second run of 15.528 that placed 13th in the round. "His turns were pretty and he made it back to the Finals, so we did what we needed to do."

Before the Finals, Harrell told Leslie that she didn't know why Hugh hadn't really fired yet, but she was going to do everything she could to make sure he ran hard on his last run.

"I made sure he understood that we weren't just going to cruise the barrels," Harrell said. "He needed to run. Sure enough, he took off in the alleyway, and I knew I had enough momentum to get something done."

Harrell and Hugh erased the three-tenth deficit with the fastest run of the Finals, a 15.058, which gave them the winning aggregate of 30.576. They finished .067 ahead of Chasin Tres Cans, ridden by Joy Wargo for Sarah Pauels.

"It was a competitive week," said Leslie Willis. "If somebody won something, they didn't win it by a long shot, they won it by the skin of their teeth. It was great watching. We were all on the edge of our seats to see if we're going to get outrun! Heck, we were winning the second round and got outrun by a first run 4-year-old (that will campaign next year at 5). If you showed up at the BFA, you had better have your game face on! Nobody dominated. It was all very close. That's what makes it exciting!"

Initially, the Harrell/Willis team had their highest hopes on The Angels Seis Fame ("Smash"), who had the third fastest qualifying time.

"Hugh was the underdog," Willis explained. "All (Smash) had to do was duplicate what he did to be winning the average. Hugh had to make up three tenths. Even when Hugh ran the .0, we figured we'd be about third when it was all said and done."

A mistake in the Finals dropped them to 14th in the average, but the Seis Smashin Fame gelding, out of a full sister to the Willis' multiple futurity winner and Ilyssa Riley's NFR qualifier Championofthehouse, still earned $16,334.

Harrell also placed fifth in the Freshman Slot race on Addison Duke's LL Still Doin Time, earning $8,000, and seventh in the $uper $takes on her own horse Wreckin Heaven for $11,000. She also placed in the 5-Year-Old Futurity on her own horse JK Designer Rose for $6,355.

SADDLE: Masters

SADDLE PAD: Darla Schneider Pad

LEG GEAR: Classic Equine

SHOEING: Steel on all four

FEED: Buckeye and ProElite

HAY: Alfalfa and coastal bermudagrass

SUPPLEMENTS: Advanced Equine Nutrition, Succeed

TRAINING/CONDITIONING REGIME: Lots of long trotting and loping.

THANKS: Jason and Leslie Willis, Dr. Nate Lea with Outlaw Equine, her fiancé Cade Edwards and her mother Jerimie Harrell.

"I had a good week," said Harrell, who collected $115,473 on the week.

After her win, Jason Willis celebrated her success by dumping a bucket of water over her head.

"They really wanted to throw me in the pond," laughed Harrell. "It was really late by the time we got done with pictures and all that. We hadn't eaten all day. I was starving. We were about to get in the truck to go to Buffalo Wild Wings and (Jason) came around the corner with a bucket full of water. I'm hoping it wasn't pond water and came out of a spigot somewhere, but I don't know! I didn't even ask! I was lucky it was right by the trailer so I could change right away. I got off lucky!"

In addition to Hugh's and Smash's success in the Futurity, the Willis' Jess Genesis One, ridden by Ceri Ward, placed ninth in the Derby, earning $5,400, and their homebred Gimme All DaMoney, ridden by Blaise Wheeler, was 20th for $7,424, All totaled, horses won $102,942, not including any bonus money.

"These horses are the reason I get up in the morning," said Willis. "I know horses are a roller coaster ride. Hugh's a great one. Smash is a great one. Gimme All DaMoney won the Derby at Ruby Buckle this year. Jess Genesis One has won the Royal Crown. I feel like our best horse, Felice Seis, got hurt and is in the barn. I think that's why I appreciate when we have a great one because they're few and far between."

Since she doesn't have a strong group of futurity colts for the 2027 season, Willis said it's highly likely that Hugh and his futurity stablemates will continue on with their derby careers this coming year.

Teenage Competitor Presley Davis Wins BFA 5-Year-Old Futurity for $16K

By Julie Mankin

Presley Davis is only 15 and didn't come from a horse family, but she beat the best trainers in the world aboard a horse she'd only made six runs on prior to the 41st Annual BFA World Championships, Nov. 16-21 in Guthrie, Okla.

On 5-year-old HP Valentino ("Tino") – out of the NFR mare Cfour Tibbie Stinson and by Winners Version – the youngster from Dripping Springs, Texas, edged Ceri Ward and Flinging Goodbyes by almost four-tenths over two runs in the Lazy E Arena to rake in $16,385.

"I'll probably buy him more treats or go shopping!" Davis said. "But at the end of the day, it goes back into the horses."

The home-schooled freshman has accumulated about nine head of prospects including only one other Open horse. The rest are babies slotted to go into training with Abby Fields, DaCota Monk and Cheyenne Wimberley. The team of young horses Davis is building is already solid – Fields placed Davis's filly Royal Sissy Leader second in the Freshmen Slot Race at Guthrie for $22,500.

The Davis family bought Tino this summer from Highpoint Performance Horses and left him with Wimberley to finish the futurity season. They picked him up right after the Pink Buckle – literally four weeks prior to the BFA.

"I was watching him at the futurities and he was just always placing," said Davis. "I liked how he stayed so solid and honest at his age and made the same run every time. Cheyenne did a great job with him. He's 5 but acts like he's 10. I think Ashley Schafer might have had her hands on him at some point, as well."

Tino banked some $150,000 this futurity season.

"I'm pretty sure Cheyenne didn't think a 15-year-old could ride him," said Davis. "Even Jason Martin and Charlie Cole (Highpoint) were probably gripping their seats when I bought him."

But she immediately won a Texas high-school rodeo on him by three-tenths and then three weeks ago, she placed second at the Hailey Kinsel Youth Barrel Race and notched an American qualification before heading straight to the BFA Worlds.

"I didn't think we'd fit as well as we did, but I'm happy," said Davis. "He's like a glove for me; very comfortable. I ride him bareback in a halter at home all the time."

In Guthrie, Davis clocked a 15.3 in the first round to place second behind Brittany Pozzi Tonozzi's smoking 15.0 aboard her stallion Blazzin The Way. And in the finals, Davis' own blistering 15.0 won the round by almost two-tenths to give her the fat paycheck of $14,682 – the biggest check ever written to the 15-year-old cowgirl. "I had him Equiscoped each day and he was playful in the alley that last day, running so much harder," she said. "And I rode a little crazier. I was nervous out of my mind! I had a plan to go to the first and have him turn a little tighter – but when you run down that alley, all that goes out the window!"

Over the past few weeks before each run, Davis would watch videos on her phone of Wimberley's runs, paying attention to her hands and how she rectified mistakes.

"We've come a long way," said Davis. "My first run on him was not so good. I was used to Dash Ta Fame push-style horses and I sent Tino from the back 40 as hard as he could go in Hamilton, and he didn't know where any barrels were! He kept going faster and faster. Now I let him pick how fast we're going to go."

Davis thinks her new horse takes after his dam, the dynamo Tibbie that Ivy Conrado Saebens ran at the NFR.

SADDLE: Burns

SADDLE PAD: 5 Star

LEG GEAR: Classic Equine

FEED: Triple Crown Senior

HAY: alfalfa and coastal

SUPPLEMENTS: oil, electrolytes, BioMane, Purina Outlast, Succeed, Equinety

ALTERNATIVE THERAPIES: cold spa, red light, PHT wraps/blankets and vet check-ups

TRAINING/CONDITIONING REGIME: Before I ran, I just walked him one time and stopped him at his spots, a little further forward at second so he doesn't turn too early.

THANKS: My dad is my sponsor! Along with my mom and everyone who's helped me, plus Cheyenne Wimberley. Jason and Charlie for selling him to me, and everyone who helped us get our hands on him. Plus, Katie from Western Dove who does my tack!

"He's not very tall but very thick, and is lazy to ride around and turns with a similar style," said Davis.

She's also come a long way from Dallas, where her dad works in the oil and gas industry.

"I started taking riding lessons about seven years ago when we lived in Dallas and began doing some playdays," recounted Davis. "Then we moved to Austin and I got a barrel horse and it's just gone from there. I kind of just learned from Between The Reins and YouTube, and I've gotten help from some people I've bought horses from."

Winning the BFA Futurity is no joke for a kid who learned to barrel race from YouTube. And it's just getting started. She knows that taking Tino to Las Vegas next week for the All In Barrel Race and Jr. Patriot is like "throwing a 5-year-old to the wolves," but she thinks he'll handle it pretty well.

"For some reason he kind of calms me down and I get him a little more worked up, so he runs harder," she explained. "It works both ways!"

While Davis appreciates the trainers she'll tap to make more special horses, she doesn't have the patience to train.

"I've never really liked the slow work at the house," she said. "I like the adrenaline rush of going in and knowing I have a horse to win it. I want to win on one that's ready to go! Everyone has their own place in barrel industry."

She's clear on the fact that she wants to run at the NFR. But seeing how she's not old enough yet, she bought the young horses now so they'll be in their prime, she said, when she does get to the NFR.

Amanda Kyne & Epic Nemeseis Sweep BFA Derby for $19K

By Julie Mankin

An Arkansas mom jumped out and won first place with both Derby runs at the BFA World Championship, Nov. 16-21, to win the average at the Lazy E Arena in Guthrie, Oklahoma.

Riding Lisa Hefley's 6-year-old Epic Nemeseis ("Maverick"), Amanda Kyne claimed the win by almost two-tenths of a second with a 15.1 in Round One, followed up by a 15.2 in the finals. The grey gelding raked in $19,106 for the win – after a tough few seasons when he wasn't winning.

"We had to work through some things, and I've been able to season him and finish him out," said Kyne, who got the horse about a year and a half ago. "He was started by Stefanie Duke of Indiana, who is a phenomenal trainer and put a great foundation on him." Hefley, also of Little Rock, had bred the big grey gelding by Epic Leader out of her daughter of Tres Seis. She has three others out of that dam including one older than Maverick and a 2-year-old and 3-year-old that Kyne says is working amazing.

"Lisa was among the top five breeders of cutting horses in the nation," said Kyne. "Then her daughters started running barrels, and her strong suit is knowing the great crosses, so she started breeding her own barrel horses."

Maverick's strength is the way he keeps reaching in a turn, Kyne said. She wants her horses to make every step be efficient; to reach instead of elevate.

"If you can take a tenth off in each turn, that's three-tenths faster without adding speed," she pointed out.

Former jockeys always had Maverick in a bonnet because he has a very unique "vertical" style. Kyne took it off and runs him in a hackamore only. He has a tendency to need to use his head to gain momentum, she said.

"I like to watch one turn in a round pen, and when I get on, I want to keep one close to the turn he was designed to make," she said. "That's faster than anything I could make him do. I want to teach one collection and then get out of their way."

The horse was working inconsistently when Hefley talked Kyne into taking him in 2024.

"The friendship I've developed with Stefanie has been amazing because of this horse," said Kyne. "I think we can build more horses together. We train so similar that I could ride him and knew what she'd done and how to go back and get that out of him again." Kyne was raised roping but didn't get serious about barrel racing until college.

"My parents never would buy me a barrel horse, so I was always training whatever calf horse we had or head horse I liked," she recalled. "I started training barrel horses for the public probably 15 years ago, but for the past five years I've just kept a few clients I loved."

Despite having two other Open horses that are really nice, Kyne said she's not into rodeoing and will stick to derbies and races. "I just don't care to do the hauling and late hours," she said. "Not when this industry of races is booming. The money we run for is unreal and we can just go park and have great ground and stay a few days and leave."

Nobody helps her at the house, where Kyne trains at least six a day. She said she prefers to saddle her own horses and do everything with them from the ground up. Her success means Kyne, a CPA, hasn't gone back to work in corporate America as an accountant. She lives in Little Rock with her husband, who works for Exxon, and their younger 14-year-old son (their older boy is 21).

"I hadn't been going," she said. "I spent about five years at home being Mom. I'd train horses and then send them back to their owners. Now the Lord said, 'It's time' and it was time."

While she's won plenty, Kyne's fat paycheck from her short-round run is her largest to date.

"It's easy to think, 'Now you've won the BFA – you've made it,'" she said. "But that's not even as sweet as looking back on everything you've been through and the people who went through it with you. When I was home hanging up that big check they give you, I told Lisa that's when the emotion hit me – all of those times where I thought, 'He's got it," or 'We're going to get there.' It's about the small celebrations with the people who are in the thick of it with you."

Ivy Hurst Persevered for a Prairie Circuit Finals Championship on Coats Smooth Honor

By Julie Mankin

Part of the reason Ivy Hurst busted her tail to qualify for her 11th Prairie Circuit Finals Rodeo in Mulvane, Kan., Nov. 19-21, was because she couldn't wait to compete in the Kansas Star Arena.

"It's been a roller-coaster year and I had to sit out a little while and then play catch-up at the end," said Hurst, a full-time horse broker from Springer, Okla., who squeaked in as the 11th-ranked barrel racer. "Last year I'd made the Circuit Finals, but we didn't get to go to Mulvane because of the EHV-1 outbreak. I was really excited about going to that facility, so that was my extra motivation at the end. I think it's an iconic and historic venue and big things are going to happen there."

Hurst rode nine different horses this season to qualify, which she said is very normal for her as a broker of high-end barrel horses. "The most I've ridden was 13 one summer," she said. "So now it's almost a goal of mine to hit 14. It's pretty cool that I get to ride that many horses. If I get a nice sale horse in on consignment and take it to a pro rodeo and win money, it helps."

Everything Hurst rides is for sale. Three weeks earlier, she'd been the high-money barrel racer with $11,300 at the United Finals Rodeo in Texas on Avery Ledesma's 10-year-old Coats Smooth Honor. Bred by Larry Coats, the sorrel is by A Smooth Guy out of the Alive N Firen daughter Fire N Honor. Kalli Henry had asked Hurst to help her sell him last winter, and he went to Ledesma. Then in July, Ledesma decided to sell and sent him back to Hurst.

"After he popped off and won the UPRA Finals, I started to panic about the circuit finals because I thought he would probably sell," said Hurst. "I was shocked and excited he was still here." Hurst and "Honor" clocked a 17.25 to win the first round, placed third in the second round on a 17.31, and then won Round Three with a 17.14 – which tied Emily Beisel's earlier second-round run on Liza as the fast time of the entire rodeo.

"He was trained and ridden at futurities by Kay Blandford, who does a phenomenal job and deserves a shout-out," said Hurst.

She edged Kim Squires for the average title by less than three-tenths of a second to earn $9,259 in Mulvane. Meanwhile, Beisel also just barely edged Squires to retain her lead in the year-end standings and earn the other trip to the NFR Open.

"Me and Emily have talked about where Honor shuts off the clock, and it's because his first barrel is the fastest on the planet," said Hurst. "When I get around it and the second, by the time he gets to third he has like three or four tenths on the field."

And that's a good thing, she said, because of his little thing at third. Whenever Hurst rides defensively, like at Mulvane when she had the average title in her back pocket and just wanted clean turns, it causes Honor to bow off third.

"He's not a horse you ride for the average," said Hurst. "Not very many other horses could step off as far as he did that last night and win the round. I joke that I took my victory lap before we got out of the arena! But he's made that move before and it's funny, the announcers always express such disappointment, like, 'Aww man, she was in it to win it until that happened.' But then when the time shows up, they're just speechless."

Hurst said Honor is incredible, if a little challenging for someone not comfortable on a push-style horse. But those kind fit Hurst perfectly.

"I'm excited to get to go to the majority of the winter rodeos," said Hurst, who wrapped the 2020 season at 17th in the world. "I just don't know what I'll ride when I get there!"

HEADIN' FOR HOME

by Sherry Morrison // Triple M (Mike Morrison Ministries)

Let's continue with thankfulness this week! Psl. 100:4 says, "Enter into His gates with thanksgiving, and into His courts with praise. Be thankful to Him and bless His name. For the Lord is good; His mercy is everlasting, and His truth endures to all generations."

If we consider each sentence in this psalm, I don't think there is any doubt or confusion about what He is instructing us to do. There is an "order of events", if you will.

As an example. If I'm going to saddle my horse safely, there is an order to that process. I tell my grands and other people who want to ride a horse, these steps. To saddle your horse, it's front cinch, back cinch, breast collar. To unsaddle them, it's breast collar, back cinch, front cinch. If there is going to be a wreck, it'll save your saddle. And yes, it has happened! But my saddle was safe.

When we come into the presence of the Lord in prayer, thanksgiving for all He has already done should be first. In the wrecks of life, a thankful heart and thankful words will keep us safe!

I pray your Thanksgiving be filled with everything good!

Mike and Sherry Morrison pastor "Church at the Barn" in Gillette, WY. They also travel to other areas ministering at barrel races, ranches, rodeos, churches and home Bible studies.
