Get savvy about the 2014 National Finals Rodeo

By Julie Mankin

Anyone with barrel racing in their blood will be focused on two events in early December – the Barrel Futurities of America World Championships and the Wrangler National Finals Rodeo. With the Wrangler NFR kicking off in just over a week, we’ve rounded up everything pertinent about the rodeo itself and what to expect even if you’re watching from home.

First of all, the NFR will pay more this year than it ever has, with a whopping total purse of $6,375,000. That means the barrel racing purse is $796,875. What’s important is to know that first place in a go-round will pay nearly twenty grand, and winning the average will be worth nearly fifty grand.

Here’s the breakdown:

Go-Rounds:	Average:
1) $19,002	1) $48,732
2) $15,018	2) $39,537
3) $11,340	3) $31,262
4) $7,969	4) $22,987
5) $4,904	5) $16,550
6) $3,065	6) $11,953
	7) $8,275
	8) $4,597

So when is it all happening? Performances will kick off at 6:45 p.m. (Pacific Time) every single night from Thursday, Dec. 4 through Saturday, Dec. 13. That means television coverage happens live every night from 7 p.m. (Pacific)/10 p.m. (Eastern) to 10 p.m. (Pacific)/1 a.m. (Eastern) every night on CBS Sports Network. You may not have that channel, so you’ll want to check your programming. If you’re a Dish Network subscriber, it’s Channel 158. DirecTV offers it on Channel 221 and Cox Cable has it at Channel 333.

This is also the 30th anniversary of the Finals being in Las Vegas, so you might want to set your DVR to record the documentary about the NFR’s move from Oklahoma City to Vegas in 1985. “Buckin the Odds” will air on Monday, Dec. 1 at 7 p.m. PT and 10 p.m. ET on CBS Sports Network and include interviews with Ty Murray, Trevor Brazile, Rich Skelton, Joe Beaver, Billy Etbauer, Ote Berry, Jim Sharp, Cody Ohl, Charmayne James, Kaycee Field and NFR General Manager Shawn Davis.

If you’re planning a vacation to Las Vegas, there are a few new things happening you might want to remember. For one, there will be something called Rodeo Live featuring live acoustic concerts every afternoon at 1:15 p.m. at the Cowboy FanFest at Cowboy Christmas (featuring artists like the Casey Donahew Band and Aaron Watson).

Also, as before, you can catch Flint Rasmussen’s show daily there at noon and Alexis Bloomer will host interviews with contestants and musicians daily at 2:15 p.m.

Also at Cowboy Fanfest, there are daily events like mini bucking bulls, ranch sorting, horsemanship demonstrations and more in the Wrangler Rodeo Arena.

And if all the shopping and entertainment wears you out, stop at the Boot Barn Rodeo Saloon, which features food vendors and replays of last night’s NFR performance. Finally, another new addition is the “Rope ‘Em In Wedding Chapel” right there in the FanFest area, so no need to go downtown and have Elvis marry you off.

If you don’t have rodeo tickets, go Beyond the Dirt. That’s the name of the satellite feed of the rodeo, which will air at 42 different hotel/casinos around town nightly. And whether you’re in Las Vegas or tucked in at home, social media has you covered. Simply visit any of the hubs – Facebook, Twitter, YouTube, Instagram or Pinterest – and use the keywords LasVegasNFR.

If you don’t have season tickets and are on the hunt, there are three ways to get your hands on some. First, you can visit the Thomas and Mack Center Box Office at www.UNLVTickets.com. You can also visit the Official NFR Onsite Ticket Exchange booth at Cowboy Christmas, or you can go online via the Official NFR Online Ticket Exchange. If you have tickets to sell or simply want to buy what’s available, the site is www.primesport.com/about/nfr. Earlier this week, you could buy a couple of tickets in the balcony on any given night for $126.

Of course, there are also scalpers. Just to keep a handle on your prices, we’re providing the actual value of an individual NFR ticket. Actual face value:

PJ Burger Recovering & Benefit

Last week PJ Burger was involved in a horse training related accident. After some stitches and checkups, she is back home recovering and planning on riding at the BFA. A Facebook group, PJ Burger Benefit, has been set up as a way to help cover medical expenses. Items can be donated by posting to the page, or you can go to the page to bid on items already donated. A few of the items already donated are a set of Hadley Barrel Wraps, a Schneider Performance Pad, along with a variety of breedings to top stallions, and a wide variety of tack and supplements. Also, the Future Fortunes Foundation has set up a Barrel Racers Relief Fund. It is tax deductible according to the current laws. If you would like to make a donation for PJ, just send a check to the Foundation with PJ as the benefactor. PO Box 610, Norman, OK 73070. 100% of the donation will go to PJ.

NFR Interview Updates #1

We will keep updating horse information as we get closer to the NFR to keep you on top of what everyone is riding. Here are the additions & corrections to the NFR Interviews from last week.

1. Jana Bean is going to take Tr Cashen Badger as a backup horse instead of her stud UR One Famous Rebel. Trcashenbadger is owned by Cally Thomas, and is a full brother to Dolly (Tr Dashing Badger) a 2 time WNFR Average winner & 2 Time Reserve World Champion with Jill Moody.
2. Addition to the horse history for Samantha Lyne; LK Watch Me Rock was started on the barrels and was run through Ft. Smith of her futurity year by Brittany Pozzi.

And last but not least, if you want an autograph from any of the top 15 shining stars of rodeo barrel racing, you can find at least one qualifier signing every day at the WPRA booth at Cowboy Christmas (#1638), or they will all be signing on Wednesday, Dec. 10 between noon and 2 p.m., at the Golden Nugget, which is the barrel racers' host hotel.

Want a little insider knowledge? The NFR barrels will be staked on Monday night, and the contestants will all practice on Tuesday morning. That night, Dec. 2, they'll dress to the nines for the Welcome Reception, where they'll pick up their back numbers. They'll smile for their mug shots on Wednesday morning and rehearse for the grand entry at about lunchtime that day. More photo shoots will follow, and they'll have one last evening of freedom in Las Vegas. On Thursday, Dec. 4, the gals will have one more chance to ride in the arena at 7 a.m., then the first performance will descend upon Sin City at 6:45. Perfs will continue, as the girls will get to set up the barrels again to practice at the crack of dawn every other morning through Friday the 12th.

Does this year's gold buckle have "Kaley Bass" written on it? Tune in live or on TV every night to find out!

Here are the next five of our annual NFR Interviews, check out what #6-#10 had to say about their season and the amazing horses they ride.

Michele had planned to run Slick By Design, a 7 yr old black Stallion (Slick) at the 2014 NFR. However, Slick By Design won't be competing at the finals this year. He was the major earner for McLeod through the season. Here is the statement from the Slick By Design Facebook page:

We are saddened to announce to all of Slick By Design's fans that he will not be competing at the 2014 National Finals Rodeo.

As everyone is aware, Slick came down with a terrible virus during this year's Calgary Stampede. Under strict care from some of the best veterinarians in the country, he was given time off and treated. Slick has gone back to full work and ran this past weekend. Michele and the veterinarians feel he is close but not quite ready to handle the grueling demands of the NFR. We are going to take the next 2 months to continue his conditioning schedule and have him ready to start off the new 2015 rodeo season.

This year it will be Kellies Chick's turn to run down the ally at the Thomas & Mack. The "Skye" is the limit!

BRR: What are your horses major accomplishments & lifetime earnings?

McLeod: Slick has barrel racing earnings of $299,000. In 2014 Slick won Silver City NM, Crockett Tx, Pleasant Grove, Ut, Kansas City, Mo, won 2nd go at Reno with a 16.8, Won Pool B rounds 3 & 4 in Calgary before he got sick.

Skye has barrel racing earnings of $150,000, maybe more. Skye won the Texas High School Finals and National High School Finals with Lindsey (Michele's daughter). Set the arena record at Nampa, Idaho in the 1st go with me. Won Oakley, Utah and Ogden, Utah rodeo for me.

BRR: What about barrel racing keeps you motivated to go all the miles and compete all year long.

McLeod: I stay motivated traveling because I am beyond blessed to be riding/competing on phenomenal horses. When you have these caliber of horses you can't stay home! I try to make it an adventure, going to places I have never been and trying to see things I have never seen!

BRR: Do you have an inspirational quote or saying that keeps you going during the year?

McLeod: My daughters and I like the saying, "Don't tell people your dreams show them!" I had more bumps in the road this year and I just kept telling myself this all happens for a reason and to keep pushing forward!

BRR: What is your favorite thing to do with your horses other than barrels?

McLeod: I do a lot of outside riding. I'm not one to work the barrels a lot! I have had help this year from Ron Ralls and he introduced cattle to Slick and I really like that. I wish I was able to work cattle on all my horses!

BRR: What one quality do you see in a horse and it makes you want to buy them?

McLeod: The quality I like to see in horses is try! If buying a finished horse I really like to see a good work ethic and a lot of try. I also like a kind eye.

BRR: What makes your horse special?

McLeod: Slick is so special! He is so kind and tries so hard! He is a pleaser!

Skye is like a War horse she just works. Let her do her job and she does it!

BRR: What quirk(s) does your horse have?

McLeod: Slick's quirk is he really doesn't like clippers!

BRR: What are your horses major accomplishments & lifetime earnings?

Walker: Latte has earned $700,000. He was the 2012 WPRA/AQHA Horse of the Year & the 2012 World Champion.

BRR: What about barrel racing keeps you motivated to go all the miles and compete all year long.

Walker: I love barrel racing! Also, just the opportunity to qualify for the NFR.

BRR: Do you have an inspirational quote or saying that keeps you going during the year?

Walker: Don't Look Back!!

BRR: What is your favorite thing to do with your horses other than barrels?

Walker: I love just to go out in the pasture and ride.

BRR: What one quality do you see in a horse and it makes you want to buy them?

Walker: I love to see a kind eye in a horse.

BRR: What makes your horse special?

Walker: He has a real cocky attitude! He kinda struts around.

BRR: What quirk(s) does your horse have?

Walker: He will always stop and rub his left front leg with his head while we are warming up. When he is at home, he always bucks at the same spot in the pasture.

BRR: What one piece of horsemanship or barrel racing advice would you give people trying to run barrels on a professional level?

Walker: If I had any advice about running barrels at this level; it would be, love to drive, and don't worry about what's going on at home because you're never there and have a good time. Keep yourself and your horse happy!

COPPER SPRING RANCH

Take a look at CSR's 2-year-olds consigned to the BFA Sale in Oklahoma City. December 11 at 5pm there will be Horse Sale Demonstrations in the Barn 6 Arena. The Sale will be December 12 at 5pm in Barn 3.

All four are by our stallion, Prime Talent (si 107), a stakes winning son of Corona Cartel, with career earnings of $101,614. PT's progeny have race earnings of over $1.26 million with limited foal crops.

They are all nicely started under saddle. For details contact LisaA@copperspringranch.com or 406/579-1540. You can watch their videos on our website.

tougher and tougher and I enjoy trying to continue to compete at that level.

BRR: Do you have an inspirational quote or saying that keeps you going during the year?

Cervi: I love all inspirational quotes! At the end of the day, if you work hard and try to do your best, it will pay off.

BRR: What is your favorite thing to do with your horses other than barrels?

Cervi: 99% of our horses get roped on! From the time they are colts onward; they get roped on and do whatever other jobs involving working cattle that need to be done.

BRR: What one quality do you see in a horse and it makes you want to buy them?

Cervi: Their breeding, which is usually good performance breeding from my Dad's (Mel Potter) program, and how they move and carry themselves.

BRR: What makes your horse special?

Cervi: She has a big heart and she loves her job. It doesn't matter what kind of ground, big pattern or little pattern, she always tries hard. She is just a really cool little horse.

BRR: What quirk(s) does your horse have?

Cervi: Every now and then she will pull back. I hardly ever tie her up because you never know what will set her off to pull back. She loves and expects to be pampered!

BRR: What one piece of horsemanship or barrel racing advice would you give people trying to run barrels on a professional level?

Cervi: Know your horse and what makes your horse work the best for you. Do whatever it takes to give the best care to your horse you are capable of; know what kind of ground they like, know their eating habits and just know everything you possibly can about your horse. Always do what is right for YOUR horse!

BRR: Which horses are you taking with to the finals?
Dennison: Sierra Hall Of Fame (Eagle), 9, bay/brown, 16.1 hands, 1250 lbs.

BRR: What are your horses major accomplishments & lifetime earnings?

Dennison: Eagle has won around $400,000. He was the 2013 Indian National Finals World Champion, winning all 4 rounds and the average that year. He was also the 2011 Indian National Finals World Champion, Won Walla Walla, WA & Window Rock, AZ & Casper, WY ProRodeos and 2nd Salinas, CA ProRodeo Average

BRR: What about barrel racing keeps you motivated to go all the miles and compete all year long.

Dennison: For me it really wasn't just about the barrel racing, it was more about encouraging the people on my reservation, the Navajo Reservation in AZ & NM, and reservations across the country that they can follow their dreams.

BRR: Do you have an inspirational quote or saying that keeps you going during the year?

Dennison: If I am feeling frustrated I always think "Clear Mind, Full Heart, Can't Lose"! In fact, I like that saying so much I put it on my gifts for the Top 15 girls because it really keeps everything in perspective.

BRR: What is your favorite thing to do with your horses other than barrels?

Dennison: I really enjoy roping. That's actually how I got started, my whole family ropes. There wasn't an NFR for roping for me so I had to go to barrels. I also love to ride through the pastures especially with the barrel horses. It is so good to get them out the arena.

BRR: What one quality do you see in a horse and it makes you want to buy them?

Dennison: The look to their eye. Every horse is different but a few have that little something special to them in their eye; you can tell a lot about a horse from their eye. The NFR horses are all different shapes and sizes but they all have that special look in their eye that makes them a champion.

BRR: What makes your horse special?

Dennison: Probably his consistency. He always manages to get a check!

BRR: What quirk(s) does your horse have?

Dennison: He has a very confident and sweet demeanor and he is a little goofy.

BRR: What one piece of horsemanship or barrel racing advice would you give people trying to run barrels on a professional level?

Dennison: One thing that helped me last year, I went out of the barrel racing thinking and rode with people from different disciplines to get my horse more broke. It really opened up my mind to different ideas I wouldn't think to use with my barrel racing. It is good to look to other disciplines like roping and cutting because it helps you get your horse listening to you better. In my opinion, if they are broke well, they will most likely last longer and they are easier to handle on the road. They still need to be allowed to have their quirks and personalities to compete at this level but to have them consistent they have to be broke to do whatever you want. With Eagle, I worked with a lot of different people to get him fundamentally more broke and I believe that made him more consistent this year. Through all this work, I learned doing things exactly the same every time makes him more consistent. For me, really that was the difference between last year and this year.

Gorham & Hesa Tornado Shine At Diamonds & Dirt Youth Classic

By Tanya Randall

Pint-size pixie London Gorham from Cotulla, Texas, topped the $1,000-added, 8-&-Under Sweepstakes at the inaugural running of the Diamonds & Dirt Youth Classic, held Nov. 21-22 in Bryan, Texas. The 7-year-old daughter of Shorty and Amanda (Lyne) Gorham collected $2,352 at the $7,000 added event open to riders 19-years and younger.

The star for Gorham, a home-schooled first grader, was her 21-year-old pole bending horse Hesa Tornado, a 21-year-old gelding with a lengthy win record.

"She doesn't run barrels on him, because I want to save him for the poles," said her mother Amanda. "He's coming 22, and a good pole horse is a lot harder to find than a good barrel horse."

Diamonds & Dirt was the exception. London's main barrel horse Frenchmans Bandito, who was trained by Jordan Briggs, hit a barrel in the first go, so Tornado got a rare chance to shine on the cloverleaf.

"I think it's pretty cool that he can do everything," said London, who is the niece of 2014 National Finals Rodeo qualifier Samantha Lyne and granddaughter of multiple PRCA World Champion Phil Lyne and his wife Sarah. "He can do barrels, roping and poles."

London and Tornado stayed very consistent, turning in runs of 16.586 and 16.760 to be sitting well going into the short go on Sunday.

"I knew I just had to make a clean run," said London. "I really had to kick. I wasn't that nervous because I know he's a really good horse and can make really good runs."

Their only close call was a rocked third barrel. "I didn't go straight to it," the cowgirl admitted. "I'm supposed to go straight to it and then it will be a good barrel. It did tip a little. I was really scared I was going to hit that barrel. Usually, he'll go really wide to the third barrel and then he'll come back really close and I'll tip it...but I didn't!"

London also finished third in the $1,500-added, 19-&-Under Pole Bending with a 20.373.

"She won the 2D in the poles the first day," Amanda explained, "so we scratched the second run since she was already making the finals. It helped because he won the 2D in the second go of the ($3,000-added, 19 & Under) barrels."

London wanted to thank her mom for all her help and her grandmother (Sarah Lyne) for buying all her horses, except for Tornado—her momma bought her that one!

A veteran campaigner, Tornado was purchased by Tara Schroedter as a 5-year-old. Schroedter trained the Tiny Tornado Too gelding out of Sheza Rose Two, by Two Rocks. (Incidentally, Schiller Ranch's recent world champion Happy To Run Em is out of a daughter of Tiny Tornado Too). Together, Tornado and Schroedter won many championships including two NBHA Cowboy National titles.

When Tornado was 17, Schroedter sold him to youth competitor Kelsey Graf of Vernon, Texas.

"About three years ago, I asked Heidi Pruett if she knew of an older, smoking pole horse," Amanda explained. "I wanted something that's been there, done that. She said, 'I think she (London) is too little right now, but Tornado is what you want.'"

It was at the International Youth Finals Rodeo in Shawnee, Okla., where London's older brother Tanner Green was competing, that the deal was struck with the Grafs. After Kelsey made her pole bending run in the last performance on Saturday morning, Amanda asked if London could just ride Tornado around.

"He was amped up," recalled Amanda. "I just wanted her to ride him around and get the feel of him. In the arena he was really on the muscle so we asked if she could just go ride him in the pasture."

You could just tell by the look on their faces—‘we’re going to let this little bitty girl go riding off on this big old horse?’ She loped him around in a few circles and said she liked him. I told them on our way back home from (the National High School Rodeo Finals), we’d come through Vernon and pick him up. I knew I was going to buy him. I wasn’t going to vet check him. I wasn’t going to negotiate the price. I was going to buy him.”

London’s first runs on Tornado were at the Texas Youth Rodeo Finals in July, the very first week she owned him. They were a 21.8 on their first pole bending run and a 20.8 on their second.

“We’ll never have another one like him,” noted Amanda, “so we better take care of him and enjoy him while we can. He makes the perfect, perfect pattern every single time. He’s phenomenal. We just love him.”

London’s plenty talented herself. She’s an avid youth rodeo competitor, mostly competing in the TYRA.

“She’s pretty handy for all 42-pounds of her,” said Amanda. “She doesn’t like for someone to lead her in or help her or anything. She’s not afraid. She might say I’m not sure if I want to ride this horse, but I told her that I would never put her on anything that would rare up, run off and not stop with her. I wouldn’t put her on anything dangerous.”

In fact, London might be the dangerous one, especially when it comes to spoiled ponies. At Diamonds & Dirt, she got ride a little Shetland pony and spent most of the week “tuning” on the pony. While “Copper” did okay in poles, he was pulling on her leaving the second barrel and taking a tour to the third barrel, but by the third run he was completing the second barrel and clocked a 17.5. Little Copper, who barely tops a yard stick, picked up $362 for winning second in the $1,500-added pony race.

With the barrels, poles and pony race, the Diamonds & Dirt Youth Classic was a true youth event, said Amanda.

“London had so much fun,” she said. “It started at 9 o’clock in the morning and we were done by 4 or 5. They had little games for the kids. It was great for those that might not have done so well in the arena. The D’s were great for that too. That was a youth barrel race. It was great.”

Triple M (Mike Morrison Ministries)

“The Eighty-Dollar Champion.”
That’s what they called the old Amish plow horse that was rescued from a truck headed to the slaughter plant and glue factory back in the late 1950s. A world famous horse trainer paid $80 for the horse that in less than two years became the national show jumping champion.

Snowman, as his new owner named him, won all the prestigious shows he entered, appeared on popular national television shows and had three best selling books written about him. From this unlikely beginning, Snowman received honor, fame and fortune until his death in 1974. According to an article in the Nov. 13, 2014 issue of the Western Ag Reporter, Snowman will be featured in a television documentary soon depicting the extraordinary rise to fame of this ordinary horse.

With God all things are possible (Matthew 19:26) and Scriptures tell us that God uses the unlikely to put the mighty to shame. (1 Corinthians 1:27) Unless God directs you otherwise, you don’t have to travel the world over preaching. You can witness right where you are and serve the Lord in your little corner of the world. You can witness by your example and remember that you might be the only Gospel some people will ever see. As a Christian, people will be watching you to see how it is that you have the favor of God and man and how you react when problems arise.

And, problems will arise. Remember Jesus said in John 16:33 that in the world we have problems but not to fear because He has overcome the world!

So be of good cheer! On difficult days when you might feel like you’re not worth much, remember Jesus loves you and will never forsake you. If He will make a champion out of an eighty-dollar horse, who knows what plans He has for you!!

Mike Morrison and his wife Sherry are ordained ministers in their own nondenominational church in Gillette, WY. They also travel widely as circuit riders ministering over a large area of the western states.
