Jordan Harrell Takes Leslie Willis' OE Bachelor Pad to $100,000 BFA Super Stakes Championship

By Tanya Randall

OE Bachelor Pad ("Hugh") made the run of a lifetime in the Super Stakes at the 40th Anniversary Barrel Futurities of America's World Championships, held at the Lazy E Arena in Guthrie, Oklahoma. The 3-year-old gelding, ridden by Jordan Harrell for Jason and Leslie Willis, set the pace in the 60-entry, $220,000 Super Stakes for first run 3-year-olds at 15.419 to win $100,000.

"Oh Hugh! He's such a good boy!" said Jordan. "I still feel like we left something out there and we could have been a little bit better, but everything worked out the way it was supposed to. All I could think was just stay clean and don't do anything stupid!"

It was the fourth time for a Willis owned and trained horse to win the BFA Super Stakes and the third win for the couple's horse in a slot owned by Copper Spring Ranch. With Leslie in the saddle, the couple's horses won in 2007, 2019 and 2021 with Bet Or Check, The Midnight Express and Im Gunnin For Ya, respectively.

The victory was also significant as Hugh, who is by Flingin Roses, is the first Super Stakes Champion sired by a BFA World Champion. Flingin Roses and Tyler Rivette won the futurity in 2020. Hugh is also the very first offspring of Flingin Roses to make a competitive run.

The horse's connections made for a packed win photograph.

"We had an entourage pull for them," laughed Leslie, who was in attendance. "All his connections are so great—Jordan and (her boyfriend) Cade Edwards...Copper Spring Ranch, which has been there for me when I've had bad colts and when I've had great colts...Tyler Rivette and Flingin Roses...for his first baby to hit the arena and win this...OE (Outlaw Equine) for raising that baby and with all they've been through...It's a good story for all of us."

Leslie bought Hugh, who is out of the Strait Dallas Fuel mare FC Strait Cajun, as a yearling from his breeder Ashley Harvey after seeing the colt online.

"When I got him Jason looked at him and just shook his head," Willis laughed. "He was like, 'What have you bought?' I told him, 'It's alright. He'll be OK. I'll be able to make money with him.'"

Hugh was started under the direction of Marty Powers.

"Marty's guys do such a great job," said Leslie. "I ship them out to Oklahoma for 60 to 90 days. We bring them home and turn them out for a couple of months and then I get them back up in February, March and start them."

The roan made Leslie's job easy.

"Hugh just took to barrels," she said. "He was a barrel horse from Day 1. I always wanted to ride a really pretty roan, and Hugh was going to be my chance."

A broncy colt took away that chance in June. Yet even as she fought to find her new normal, Leslie had her mind on her promising young horses and ways to move forward.

"When I got hurt, I kept them at the place," Leslie said. "Didn't know what I was going to do. Didn't know who I was going to send them to. If I was going to hold them over...After I was in the hospital for a month, Mickey Fletcher had a big slot race, so everyone came and stayed at the farm. They got out all the colts that I had. I had some holdovers that I needed to make some decisions on. They videoed everyone riding them."

Brett Monroe, Brian Wheeler and Jordan Harrell all took spin on Leslie's colts.

"Whatever horse they liked, I told them to take home," she said.

SUPPLEMENTS: Advanced Equine Nutrition, MVP electrolytes, Equi-Level

TRAINING/CONDITIONING REGIMEN: "Lots of long trotting and loping. I don't work the barrels on him much, maybe two days a week. It's many just keep him in shape at this point."

THANKS: "Leslie and Jason for giving me the opportunity to ride their horses and believing in me. Copper Spring Ranch, who owned the slot, I owe a lot to them also. All of friends we got to spend the night with. Even though it was cut short, it was a good time! My boyfriend Cade Edwards, he shoes my horses and helps me a lot. My family at home and our barn help at home. Dr. Nate Lea with Outlaw Equine. It takes a whole village for sure."

Jordan took home three horses, one of which was Hugh and she said it didn't take long for the two of them to come together. By September, they knew he was the horse for the Super Stakes.

"I hauled him to a handful of places and made some cruise throughs on him," Jordan said. "Everything felt good. He never did anything crazy wrong. I took him to our state show in September, and he clocked a tenth off in exhibitions. We kind of knew then that he was the one that we wanted to choose. That's kind of what we based the whole decision on was that one run. Even then, he always was a very smooth, easy horse. If he put his feet in the right place he was going to be fast."

They did have to work through some headgear issues. Leslie had already been experimenting with bridles before her accident.

"We were trying different bridles all along," said Leslie. "I never felt like I wanted to put a tiedown or a bonnet on him. We just needed to find something that he would take a little bit of a pull. If you look at the picture (from BFA), he's gapping his mouth a little bit, but he's still coming to the pull."

"I never cared where their head or neck was as long as they were moving forward and coming to the pull and moving their feet. I've had horses that their heads were so high that you couldn't even see my face in the picture, but they won."

"Jordan is doing what I'm asking her to do and that's hard to find in a jockey. To not worry when I say, 'Hey, pull the tiedown off' or 'Don't worry where his face is.' Don't worry as long as the shoulders are up and the body keeps moving. She's done that. Every time I've suggested something, she's done it, and I appreciate her for it."

Jordan called Leslie her safety net.

"Just having her there is a relief," said Jordan. "If I'm having trouble or feel something coming up, I can call her and she'll give me her honest opinion. She just makes it easier for some reason. Everything she's told me to do has worked. She's been spot on."

About a month before the BFA, Jordan hauled the horses to Leslie's house for dental work and some chiropractic treatments, and while she was there, she took advantage of Leslie's coaching.

"I told her that I wanted to tweak some things on two of these horses, one was Hugh," Jordan explained. "She took her wheelchair out there, got in the middle of the arena and watched me ride. She told me everything I needed to do. What I was doing right. What I was doing that she would do a little bit differently. That also helped a lot. I'm glad I got to go do that. It's something I plan to do again."

"She's a horsewoman. She's great under pressure. People need to take advantage of that and learn from her. Her attention to detail is what puts her in a whole another league."

Going into the Super Stakes, Jordan said she thought about the pressure she might be under to perform well, not only for herself, but for Leslie too, yet it never materialized.

"I was expecting to be uptight and a little nervous, but honestly, I didn't feel anything," Jordan said. "I also know exactly what I'm dealing with. Leslie is obviously a pro at this. Everything she told me, I followed through with. If she gave me any hint or trick, I made sure to do it to a T because she knows what she's doing, especially when it comes to these slot races. I didn't feel any pressure. I don't know why I didn't because I really did expect to feel it."

Jordan's boyfriend Cade Edwards had the honor of picking her spot at the draw party. He drew No. 19, which put her and Hugh on top of the ground since they dragged every third run.

When it came time to make her run, Jordan just focused on doing her job.

"In exhibitions, I was asking him to turn a little too soon at the first, so I was trying to make sure I stayed two handed as long as I needed to and didn't crowd it too much. Sometimes when I do crowd it, he'll take a half-step off on the backside. I had my timing pretty good there," she said.

"At the second, I knew to just stay two handed and make sure we didn't cut it too close coming in. By the time we got around that, I knew we were still doing all right. All I could think running to the third was 'Please Lord, don't let us hit this thing!' We were a lot closer than I had planned to be going into it. We got lucky!"

Leslie said she just wanted them to make a good run. "The goal going into it—the same goal that I have—is go fast, and if it's your day, it's your day. If it's not, it's not. But you've got to go fast. I told Jordan, we've got to go fast. You've got to push the gas pedal."

"He didn't make a mistake. It was like he was on a string and just made that perfect pattern. If I look back on the run, I can't fault her or the horse anywhere. She got a little tight at the third and I think scared all of us. I'm not one to hit one out of the arena, but she hit him a couple times right there at the end and he caught gears and he just kept going forward like he was a big boy!"

All three of Leslie's friends, who climbed aboard her horses that day in July, have now won on them.

"It really is so crazy," said Jordan, who also placed fourth in the Freshman Slot Race on another Willis horse, Tres Seis 727. "They have all these nice horses that they've sent off to people. You've got Brett winning left and right. It was nothing for him to take over the reins on those horses and do so well. These colts...Leslie knew they were great. She had a really hard time sending them off. She's really attached to them and really loves them. Then they come out and start doing really well...it's just amazing!"

Ceri Ward & Flinging Goodbyes Top BFA's Inaugural Freshman Slot Race

By Tanya Randall

Ceri Ward and Flinging Goodbyes ("Piper") topped the inaugural running of the BFA's Freshman Slot Race, a first run high stakes futurity for 4-year-olds that will campaign in 2026 as 5-year-olds.

The new class featured 30 horses running for a total purse of $64,000. Ward and Piper earned $28,000 for the mare's owners and breeders Shawn and Rickki Moyer. The slot was owned by What's Won More Performance Horses, a partnership between the Moyers and Ward.

The inaugural running of the Freshman Slot Race on Tuesday night, November 18, brought the 40th Anniversary BFA World Championships, scheduled for November 16-22 at the Lazy E Arena, to an early conclusion due to an outbreak of equine herpes myeloencephalopathy (EHM), a potentially fatal neurologic disease caused by the equine herpes virus-1 (EHV-1).

"There was a lot going on," said Ward, who as of this interview had a healthy herd at home. "We were going to go home after the slot race, so we had already loaded and sent the rest of the horses home."

After a stumble on her promising 3-year-old slot horse got him off track, Ward knew she needed to put that disappointment behind her to give Piper her best shot at winning.

"I thought that colt had a good chance too," she said, "so I was a little bummed about that. But I knew I had to do my job when I was on her. Thankfully, she's accountable and it made my job easier."

Piper clocked a 15.599 on her very first competitive pass through the cloverleaf.

"I was maybe out a little bit wide going into the first, but I have confidence that she can really get the clock," she explained. "I didn't want to make any mistakes, so I gave myself plenty of room to the first. She was great at the first two. I got her a little early at the third, but she let me handle her. It made her step off just a little bit, but I didn't hit and it worked out!"

Sired by $16.779 million dollar sire The Goodbye Lane, Piper is out of the A Streak Of Fling mare Blue Moon Fling, who contributed to Carlee Otero's qualifying efforts and ran at the 2011 National Finals Rodeo. She was later a money earner for Rickki Moyer.

Piper has been in Ward's barn for the past two years.

"She's always been very talented and tried hard but she's always been a little scared and wild in a way," said Ward. "I had her trained last year, and she was doing really good, but she wasn't very big, so we decided it was best if we just held her over. So far it's worked!"

Ward said they had originally planned for Piper to make her first run in OKC Slot Race, which is open to 4-year-olds that will futurity at 5, so it was an easy decision to jump on a slot for the BFA's Freshman.

"We have thought a lot of the horse all along," she noted.

Ward has so much confidence in the mare going into the slot race that she kept her BFA preparation very minimal.

"This year I changed how I got my colts ready," said the Ardmore, Oklahoma-based trainer. "I went less places and picked places that I was really comfortable and thought were good preparation places to go."

"I honestly didn't take her the last two times I went to exhibition

EHM Outbreak Update – Understanding Exposure, Timeline, and What Comes Next

--Courtesy of Brazos Valley Equine Hospitals — Navasota
As of 11/24/25, pm
www.facebook.com/BrazosValleyEquineHospitalsNavasota

Wow. Last week was a very long one. Lots of unknowns and speculation, plus everyone quickly figuring out how to setup isolation stalls. We must say that we are very proud of how the horse and veterinary community has come together to help each other, and mostly shut down the crazy social media posts. We wanted to give you a heads up on this next week when you will start to hear about secondary and tertiary horses. This post is to explain what that means and what we should be paying attention to.

1. Definitions of Exposure (USDA Terminology)

These terms help describe risk level based on proximity to an infected horse:

-Primary Exposure-

A horse that had direct contact with a confirmed EHV-positive horse at the WPRA in Waco (shared stall space, trailer, handling equipment, direct nose-to-nose contact, etc.).

-Secondary Exposure-

A horse that was not at the WPRA event in Waco, but has had direct contact with a Primary Exposure.

-Tertiary Exposure-

A horse that had contact with a secondary-exposed horse, further removed from the original source but still considered at some level of risk.

These distinctions matter because the timing of subsequent illness often lags behind the original outbreak.

2. Typical Herpesvirus Timeline

EHV behaves in predictable patterns, though individual horses vary:

Day 0 - Exposure occurs

Days 2–4 First fever spike often appears (This is typically the most contagious period) and viral shedding from the nose begins

Days 3–10 Peak viral shedding; Horse may appear normal or only mildly ill

Days 7–14 Some horses develop a second fever; This period overlaps with the highest risk for neurologic symptoms (EHM)

Days 10–21 Shedding gradually decreases; Most horses stop shedding by day 14–21

Neurologic signs, if they occur, typically appear:

6–14 days after the first fever; Often following the second fever spike

3. Where We Are Now

Horses that were directly exposed on November 8–9 are likely reaching the tail end of the highest-risk window for developing new symptoms. Many should now be moving toward recovery and lower contagion risk.

However, horses that were secondary or tertiary exposed may only now be entering their fever window.

This means:

-New fevers may still appear

-Some horses may just now be starting the first or second phase of illness

Specializing in livestock insurance since 1980!

-This is why continued monitoring remains critical

This pattern explains what we call the second wave — not new random cases, but delayed presentation in horses one or two steps removed from the original source. This can be horses exposed at home and horses exposed at other event. If there is going to be a second wave, we will likely start to see horses testing positive and being reported this week.

4. What We Know So Far

- Infections are likely under-reported, but current confirmed cases reflect a pattern consistent with expected EHV behavior.
 - The majority of exposed horses will not develop neurologic disease.
 - Early detection and strict biosecurity have greatly helped reduce uncontrolled spread.
- We want to sincerely commend the horse community for working together, limiting travel, quarantining and isolating, taking rectal temps twice daily and maintaining professionalism during a stressful time.

5. What You Should Continue To Do

- Take temperatures twice daily
- Monitor for:
- Fever
 - Nasal discharge
 - Cough
 - Ataxia or weakness
- Isolate any horse with a fever and contact your veterinarian immediately
 - Avoid unnecessary travel or horse-to-horse contact

We strongly anticipate that case numbers will continue to decline, and the state will begin lifting hold orders and quarantines soon as risk decreases and monitoring milestones are met.

6. Travel and Upcoming Events

Travel requirements for end-of-year events, including those in Arizona and Nevada, remain very fluid. We are actively monitoring state regulatory pages, but owners and trainers should be aware that requirements may change by the day.

If you are planning to travel, understand that:

- Health certification and testing requirements may shift rapidly
- Communication with both the state animal health office and the destination facility is essential
- Requirements for CVIs, testing timelines, and isolation protocols may differ by venue and jurisdiction

For accurate and current travel clearance, coordination between your veterinarian, the state of destination, and the receiving facility will be necessary prior to movement.

7. Final Message

We are exiting the first wave and moving through the second, which is expected and not cause for panic. Let's hope for few to no secondary horses infected. Vigilance now is what will limit that and prevents a third wave. More information should be forthcoming earlier this week. With continued cooperation and stable monitoring, we should see a steady return to normal activity.

Thank you to everyone for your diligence, professionalism, and commitment to the health of your horses and the industry as a whole.

Kaylee Weaver & French Bling N Kandy Win BFA High Rollers, Top Derby Round

By Tanya Randall

Kaylee Weaver and French Bling N Kandy picked up dual wins in their inaugural trip to the Barrel Futurities of America's World Championships. The duo from Mishawaka, Indiana, topped the $5,000-added, 86-entry High Rollers and the first round of the $25,000-added, 179-entry Derby for total earnings of $8,426.

The event, held at the Lazy E Arena in Guthrie, Oklahoma, was originally scheduled for November 16-22 but was cut short due to an outbreak of equine herpes myeloencephalopathy (EHM), a potentially fatal neurologic disease caused by the equine herpes virus-1 (EHV-1). The High Roller and first round of the derby were held on Tuesday, November 18, the last day before cancellation.

Weaver called her victories at the BFA a "blessing" and the biggest of her career with her 7-year-old mare

"She won the opening round of NBHA World last year, but this is really big!" she said. "This is her biggest win with me actually."

Weaver and Bling opted to roll their first round time of the Derby over to the High Rollers. Their 15.294 was the best for both classes.

"It felt good," she said. "Going into the first barrel, it felt like she tripped or stumbled a little bit. Normally when that happens, we lose our rhythm, but she came right back to me. She smoked her second and third. We were a little wide on the third, but she covered ground really quickly. It was a very smooth run, very nice."

Weaver purchased Bling two years ago from Tom Westover, and his late wife Barb, through mare's trainers Lee and Hallie Hanssen. The Westovers raised the 7-year-old daughter of The Kandyman, a sire of earners of $1.563 million, out of futurity money earner French Streakofbling, by A Streak Of Fling.

French Streakofbling, out of PC Frenchmans Flirt, a full sister to legendary barrel horse sire Frenchmans Guy, is full sister to leading sire and BFA Derby Champion French Streaktovegas, 2019 BFA Juvenile Champion Sire French Streakin Jess, and champion producer French Streakin Izzy.

Weaver's Bling is a full sister in blood to Ms French WallaWalla (The Kandyman-French Streakin Izzy), who won the 2021 Ruby Buckle Futurity and Open. "Walla" is the leading performer by The Kandyman with earnings of $254,751 per QData.

Bling is quickly creeping toward the $100,000 mark at $96,902 post-BFA.

Weaver said she and Bling are a continual work-in-progress. After a hot start together, they've had some physical and mental struggles of late that have led to a lot of costly fallen barrels.

"My mental game has really been awful the last couple of months with her just because I know she has what it takes, but we were just knocking and knocking and knocking," she said. "Her first clean run in the Open (at BFA) was kind of a relief. I was actually sick on Tuesday, so that run was more of a 'hope I can hang on' kind of run."

Weaver said she made a bit change and switched up her slow work to keep the mare round and moving through the backside of her second and third barrels—the ones that she seemed most likely to tip.

"Going into the barrels were good, but on the back side she really wanted to rush and kind of cheat me right there, so we kept her wide and round," she explained. "It really seems to work and she's not bracing with this bit like she seemed to do with the other one. The combination seemed to work out and hopefully continues to work out."

Weaver, 20, started barrel racing as a toddler. Her parents farmed and her neighbors and classmates at school had horses.

"I started off with lead line, making my dad run as fast as he

"They have been a huge part of my journey with (Bling)," she said. "I also want to thank Lee and Hallie Hanssen as well. They have been very supportive! And, I definitely have to thank God. I've been through a lot of struggles, and I just keep praying that it all works out."

could," she chuckled.

Weaver, who spent a year studying business after high school, switched her focus to therapeutic modalities that would allow her more time with horses. She's currently taking classes for massage therapy, focusing on horses and dogs, and is certified MagnaWave therapist for horses and humans.

2020 Notes:

- With her 2020 NFR earnings, Lisa Lockhart became the All-Time Leading NFR Earner for Barrel Racers with over $1.2 Million earned at the NFR alone.
- The 2020 NFR was held at Globe Life Field in Arlington, TX due to Covid. Jessie Telford replaced Dona Kay Rule due to Covid positive tests.
- Due to the changed prize money, from $10 million to $6 million, from Covid forcing the move from Vegas to Arlington, the NFR money is actually points for all the events, not reflecting actual money won. So the results, although showed as dollars, are actually points for 2020.
- For the first time ever, there was a tractor drag at the NFR. After 8 girls the tractor came in and worked the pattern.
- Round 2 had all clean barrel runs with times from 1st to 15th only .74 seconds apart.
- History was made in Round 8, Sister & Kinsel set the WPRA/PRCA standard pattern record for a rodeo, stopping the clock at 16.56.
- Kinsel secured the World Title, the NFR Average Title, the Ram Top Gun Award (high money earner in 1 event at the NFR), and set the NFR earnings record of $270,615.
- Kinsel became the 1st Barrel Racer to win the World Title, Average Title, Top Gun and Fast Time award in the same year!

BFA Official Update

After the difficult decision to cancel the 40th Anniversary BFA this past week due to the EHV outbreak, and after carefully reviewing every possible option, the BFA Board has made the decision to cancel the remainder of the 2025 show.

For all contestants who were checked in and did not get the chance to compete, entry fee refunds will be issued.

Our thoughts and prayers are with everyone affected during this unprecedented situation. Thank you for your understanding and continued support of our barrel racing community.

PRCA, WPRA announce postponement of 2025 National Finals Breakaway Roping

The Professional Rodeo Cowboys Association and Women's Professional Rodeo Association released a joint statement Friday, Nov. 21, in regard to the postponement of the 2025 National Finals Breakaway Roping due to the ongoing outbreak of the Equine Herpesvirus (EHV/EHM).

"The Professional Rodeo Cowboys Association and Women's Professional Rodeo Association have received notice from the venue regarding the 2025 National Finals Breakaway Roping, PRCA Permit Challenge, and Benny Binion Bucking Horse Sale. Out of caution and the Nov. 21 stringent biosecurity guidelines, the events will not take place on Dec. 2, 3 or 4 at the South Point Arena. Potential dates and venues are being explored to host these events in a timely manner."

The PRCA and Las Vegas Events are continuing to monitor the situation and have announced updated equine health guidelines for the 2025 Wrangler National Finals Rodeo. These measures are designed to protect the wellbeing of all participating horses, while upholding the highest standards of biosecurity and animal care.

Additional information on this evolving situation will be available at prorodeo.com.

Las Vegas Events and the PRCA Announce Updated Equine Health Requirements for the 2025 WNFR

The priority of Las Vegas Events and the PRCA is to safely and fully complete the 2025 Wrangler National Finals Rodeo. The current guidelines are based on ongoing monitoring of the current equine health landscape and may be adjusted as needed. Las Vegas Events and the PRCA will continue collaborating with state veterinary officials to ensure the safety and wellbeing of all participants, both human and equine, throughout the event.

Las Vegas Events and the PRCA, in coordination with the Nevada Department of Agriculture and the Texas Animal Health Commission, have announced updated equine health guidelines for the 2025 Wrangler National Finals Rodeo. These measures are designed to protect the wellbeing of all participating horses, while upholding the highest standards of biosecurity and animal care.

The updated stringent equine health guidelines for the 2025 NFR include the following key points:

- All horses must have a Seven-Day Certificate of Veterinary Inspection (CVI) and a unique entry permit number obtained from the Nevada Department of Agriculture.
- All participants and competitors are responsible for daily temperature monitoring of their horses.
- There is a no-travel advisory for all horses participating and competing at the NFR. Enhanced verification and check-in procedures will be in place at the Thomas & Mack Center.
- Biosecurity measures will be maintained throughout the event.

The Junior National Finals Rodeo will follow similar safety procedures for the competition at the Las Vegas Convention Center.

All In Barrel Race Press Release:

Regretfully, the ALL IN Barrel Race & Breakaway has made the toughest decision to cancel the 2025 event. This includes the Ultimate Galf Roping Goes ALL IN Vegas.

Due to the overwhelming amount of rollovers we have received, it makes zero economic sense to have this event or not. We believe this was the best possible outcome for the overall safety of the equine athletes.

The large majority of you have already requested to roll over; the remaining contestants in the draw will be automatically rolled over 100% of what has been paid with the option to use it in 2026 or 2027.

We encourage our contestants to take advantage of the rollover option. We had really great entries this year before the outbreak! We thank each and every one of you for being "ALL IN" with us. For those contestants that rollover and use it in 2026, we will be putting up a $25,000 bonus incentive as an extra thank you.

The refund option will be available as follows:

- 80% of paid entries: including original entries & sidepots.
- 100% of extras: extra stalls, early check-ins & extra hotel rooms.
- The deadline for all refund request is November 28 at 5:00 pm CST via email to info@ngrodeo.com. Any emails received at 5:10 PM CST or after will not be accepted and will automatically be rolled over.

All refunds will be processed in five to ten business days. We will be mailing out checks. If 12/31/25 comes around you have not received your refund, please send another email and we will track it down for you.

Regarding hotels; If you purchased a hotel room through the NextGen app in the last week, or if you sent an email to roll over but keep your extra hotel room, your reservation will not be affected.

All hotel reservations of those who rolled over or were still planning on coming will be canceled.

If you were still planning on coming and you had an extra hotel room (separate from your original entry) and want to use that extra hotel room, please send info@ngrodeo.com or email for that specifically.

If you now need a hotel room, please take advantage of the "ALL IN Rate" available through the NextGen Rodeo app. All resort fees are included. We love it if anyone still coming to Las Vegas would support our partners at the Orleans Hotel & Casino! You can do this by staying there, dining and enjoying their casino.

Our team has worked tirelessly for the past week, on top of all the prep work that they've been doing all year. We appreciate them so much. Please be patient with us as we work through the process of this.

We would also like to thank our valued contestants for sticking with us. We hope everyone of you at the end of the day is able to go home to healthy horses and enjoy your family this Thanksgiving.

Best Regards, ALL IN Barrel Race, Chris Woodruff

Bandit Hat Cinch Makes Entrance into Western Industry

Bandit Hat Cinch has stormed onto the western scene, redefining how cowboys keep their hats secure with a game-changing solution! Already embraced by world champion rodeo athletes and NFR qualifiers, the Bandit Hat Cinch is quickly becoming a must-have accessory for competitors, ranchers, and western lifestyle enthusiasts alike.

The brand is set to make a splash during the National Finals Rodeo (NFR) in Las Vegas, attending key events and connecting with fans and athletes from across the country. Bandit Hat Cinch is a proud sponsor of the Vegas Tuffest Jr. World Championship, reinforcing its commitment to supporting the next generation of rodeo talent. You can find them setup at the World Market Center Expo Lobby during contestant check-in on December 3rd 9am-3pm, NRS Resistol Booth — South Point Arena and Equestrian Center (Dec 2 - Dec 14), Teskeys Resistol Booth at Cowboy Christmas, Booth #1525 (Dec 4-13).

Beyond the Vegas lights, Bandit Hat Cinch is actively partnering with junior, high school, and college rodeo associations nationwide, helping athletes ride with confidence and style. They are also proud to announce their 2026 partnerships with Art of the Cowgirl, Xtreme Barrel Racing, and Tyler Wade and Wesley Thorp's World Youth Team Roping Championships. The product's growing visibility is a testament to its performance and the passion behind the brand.

About Bandit Hat Cinch

The Bandit Hat Cinch is designed specifically for cowboys and cowgirls who need a reliable way to secure their cowboy hat without compromising comfort or style. With a simple yet effective design, the cinch provides a snug, adjustable fit that keeps a cowboy hat in place when you need it most. Built for durability and comfort, it's the go-to solution for anyone who refuses to lose their cowboy hat.

HEADIN' FOR HOME

by Sherry Morrison // Triple M (Mike Morrison Ministries)

Happy Thanksgiving week! I Thess. 5:16-18 instructs us, "Rejoice always, pray without ceasing, in everything give thanks; for this is the will of God in Christ Jesus for you."

Let's read that carefully. It does NOT say, give thanks FOR everything. Tests and trials have come right in the middle of our life. We hate it.

EHV has raised its head and now what? Now we give thanks for the protection of our horses! We roll the care of all the decisions that need to be made over on to God.

I Pet. 5:7. We put our trust in Him! We stand fast.

Eph. 6:13-14. "Therefore take up the whole armor of God, that you may be able to withstand in the evil day, and having done all, to stand. Stand therefore...!"

In these next days, you and I will need to have the wisdom of God. No problem! We already have it. He will lead and guide all of us through safely. Look to Him!

We have so much to be thankful for. We are thankful that you are in our lives. The connection we have through the Word of God is powerful.

We are agreeing together for EHV to STOP IN JESUS NAME! Matthew 18:19!
