BRR: Which horse(s) did you ride all year?

Steffes: Dash Ta Vanila (Nila), Tell Em Belle (Belle) and Captain Mitos Legacy (Captain)

BRR: Which horse(s) are you taking with to the finals?

Steffes: Dash Ta Vanila & Tell Em Belle (Owned by Alan Woodbury)

BRR: History of your horse(s).

Steffes: Alan Woodbury (the owner and owner of Woodys Feed) raised her. I picked her up in the fall of 2010. At the same time as I picked up Nilla, I also picked up Tell Em Belle (Tres Seis-Teller Corona, Corona Cartel), they were both green and hadn't run anywhere. The plan was to just haul them to some jackpots and season them, while I had a year off of school. I was supposed to start Dental School at UNL the fall of 2011 after graduating from the University of Wyoming in 2010. I planned on rodeoing over the winter on Captain (Captain Mitos Legacy) and going to run the young horses at bigger jackpots down south and see how they would turn out.

On the way to Odessa in 2011, I stopped at the AQHA show in Denver and Nilla smoked them. Then after that at a jackpot during Odessa in Midland she outran 170 head of horses. Then, I won the first round of Odessa on her, at that point I knew she was pretty special. In the winter rodeos I rotated between her and Captain. She won money at several of the bigger winter rodeos. I came home last spring and decided to let my sister ride Captain at the high school rodeos and then rode the two mares at the rodeos over the summer and she (Nilla) really grew up.

Over the summer of 2011, I stayed closer to home in the circuit and went to a few bigger rodeos. I ended up winning Pendleton in 2011, and qualified for the Ram National Circuit Finals and ended up 25th in the World. This year we won Ft Worth, she had a really good 4th of July run and has just had been consistently winning checks all year. We won checks at the indoor winter rodeos, big outdoor summer rodeos and the mud in Canada, she is so versatile

BFA World Championships on WPRA Today

Barrel Futurities of America is pleased to welcome the popular RFD-TV show "Women's Pro Rodeo Today" to the 2012 World Championships. Roy Davenport of Applebox Pictures and his film crew will be reporting the competition and telling the stories of the week's futurity, derby, juvenile, and Super$takes races.

Future Fortunes Stallion Incentive is sponsoring two episodes and will showcase a number of the Future Fortune Stallion enrollees. As the week's events progress, BFA and Future Fortune Championships will be showcased and introduced to an ever expanding barrel race viewing audience.

It is a given that the "top shelf" barrel racing horses usually have futurity competition experience. "Women's Pro Rodeo Today" is excited to report the stories as these horses begin their careers at the BFA World Championships. Too, professional trainers and amateur riders have opportunities to make their mark on the barrel racing world competing for BFA and Future

Fortunes titles, purse money, awards, and bonuses.

The BFA World Championships are December 4-8 at the Oklahoma State Fair Park, Jim Norrick Coliseum, Oklahoma City, Oklahoma. Schedule and contact information: www.barrelfuturity-sofamerica.com

Future Fortunes Ads CO to Schedule

Future Fortunes has expanded into Colorado. The Mile Hi Barrel Horse Association in August 2013 with $10,000 added will now be a Future Fortunes Open race. There is no entry fee for the contestant or the producer.

Horses can still be nominated into Future Fortunes until December 31. The deadline is December 1, but there is a 30 day grace period, after that late fees apply.

Additionally, Future Fortunes has created a Barrel Racer Relief Fund. The Relief Fund is for a barrel racer that need some assistance. Future Fortunes is going to put money in the fund every year and to kick off the program Future Fortunes is going to allow horse owner's to grandfather in a horse, as long as it's sired by a past or present Future Fortunes sire, for $1,500. That money is going straight to the Relief Fund. To find out if your horse qualifies, you can go to the Future Fortunes site, click on foals, then click on search stallions and that shows you every stallion that has ever been in the program.

Additionally, Future Fortunes has produced "tickets" that sell for $25 at a chance for a $1,500 certificate. The idea is that for $25 someone is going to get one heck of a deal. As soon as 60 tickets are sold - the cost to grandfather in a horse at $1,500 - Future Fortunes will draw one lucky person out of the bunch and then put that $1,500 into the Relief Fund and start over selling tickets again.

and adapts to any situation. She just consistently wins checks. Her lifetime earnings are around $160k right now.

Saddle: Three Fords Saddlery Merrill Barrel Saddle

Pad: Wyoming Custom Tack Pad

Boots: Classic Equine Polo Wraps, Classic Equine bells boots

Bit: Tom Balding Slick 50

Feed: Woodys Summer Heat

Hay: South Dakota Grass hay free choice, alfalfa morning and night

Supplements: Assure Guard, Woody's Re-Flexer

Additional Care: Cold water and ice on their legs as necessary. I try to run cold water on her legs after every run or if I don't have cold water I try to use ice boots. I just make sure my horses get turned out and have an opportunity to roll every day.

BRR: What cartoon character has a similar personality as your horse?

Steffes: I would say she is like Wonder Woman, mostly because if it wasn't for her I would be studying for dental school finals instead of heading to the NFR. She is so incredibly tough and I really evaluate her after every run because even if she was hurt she would give it 100%. It doesn't matter what the conditions are deep ground, hard ground, slick ground, she doesn't care. The only thing that can throw a wrench in our plans is if we come across a wagon, she doesn't like wagons!

BRR: What is your strategy for keeping your horse mentally and physically strong through all 10 runs at the NFR? Do you have a pre-run checklist that you go through?

Steffes: The biggest thing for me is I was fortunate enough find a place to keep my horses off the grounds where they have a bigger turnout and are away from the noise and commotion of the Thomas & Mack. I am also very fortunate because I am starting out with a very happy, fit, and fresh horse. She just loves her job and gets stronger with every run. I really think having ten runs in a row will be good for her, the more runs she makes the better she gets. I have a very disciplined warmup routine I go through from the way I put on my leg wraps to the amount of time I warm up. I am going to try to carry over my same routine as I have followed all year.

SeBelle and asked her for her safest, calmest horse she had and that was Cowboy. He was just trotting the barrels and he didn't want to go any faster. Kristen high school rodeoed on him and it took him a while to come around but he ran good for her. He was also started on the poles, he can run 19 second poles too. I think that helped him out with becoming a good barrel horse. My sister handed him over to me when he was 7 because she didn't want to rodeo after high school. I rodeoed on him my freshman year of high school. That year we won the Georgia/Florida Youth Rodeo Association, and we won the Florida State High School Rodeo Barrel Racing Championship. I went on to win 3rd at the National High School Rodeo Finals that same year. That was the only year I high school rodeoed since then I just went to big barrel races waiting to turn 18 and go to prorodeos. In 2011, we were the Reserve for WPRA Rookie.

Thumper Jones actually worked on my horses when I was in Canada earlier in the year, then after Albuquerque, after he worked on Cowboy, I went to Omaha and did really good. He is going to work on them before the NFR and he will be there the first 5 rounds of the NFR. He uses what he calls a Thumper machine and it relaxes the horses. When they need to rest the can really rest after they have been worked on with the Bass: Throughout the week, I will put Thumper's machine on him after each run. I will make sure he will get out of his stall and move around but also make sure he gets good rest. When I warm up, I will long trot a lot and lope a few circle and make sure he is getting off my legs. I always make sure to long trot him a lot because I think it really helps any horse. Since it is such a little arena I want to make sure he is really getting off my legs lightly and responding well so I can move him if I need to.

is what we did. By the fall of his 3 year old he was already working really good and I was hauling him with us when I was going to rodeos competing in breakaway roping. His first exhibition he ran 18.8 on a standard, so we decided to take him to futurities as a 4 year old. I went to Arizona and started winning. That was the same year as Blazin Jetolena and a bunch of other tough futurity horses. He just kept placing along and we went from there. He probably won about $10-12k during his futurity year. I also ran him at some of the smaller amateur rodeos that year. During his 5 year old he went to derbies and did ok and made the amateur finals as well. I also went to a few circuit rodeos on him but he didn't do a lot of good. His 6 year old year he won the amateur association and made the circuit finals. The next year we tried to make the finals (finished 17th), but did win the circuit (in 2006) and he had won the circuit 5 years in a row, in 06, 07, 08, 09, 10 and he also won the finals average those 5 years. He was on track to do it again in 2011 until his injury. He made the finals in 2007, 2008, 2009, 2010, 2011 and now 2012. We ended up second in the Circuit this year. He now has at least $650,000 or more in lifetime earnings and was also the 2010 AQHA/WPRA Barrel Horse of the Year.

chine to go over Jethro everyday to make sure every thing is good. My vet (Dr. Solomon) will fly in Wednesday morning in the middle of the finals to check the horses over. Beyond that, I will just make sure they are rested, wrapped, iced and taken care of the best we can. We do it the rest of the year but at the finals being up against the 14 other best horses, you do everything the best you can.

For my warm up, after the grand entry, around the steer wrestling or so, I get saddled. It try to get on Jethro 45 minutes before we run and walk 15-20 minutes. About the middle of the saddle bronc riding I start to trot and lope. During the calf roping, after about 6-7 head, I put my boots on and walk down to holding tent. Then we are waiting and ready to load in the alley way and go. With Dora it is more like 20-30 minutes before my run that I get on because she will get on the muscle if I get on her too early.

Lockhart: An Oakie With Cash (Louie) and Fast An Gold (Chisum)

BRR: History of your horse(s).

Lockhart: Tim Bagnell (B Bar Heart Performance Horses) bred and raised Louie, he was money earner in working cowhorse and the 2006 Montana Snaffle Bit Futurity winner in Montana as a 3 and 4 year old. He came to our house a long 4 year old and he went to only one futurity his 5 year old year at the end of the year. Then, I just started seasoning him on the road as a 6 year old. He went to his first rodeo in the August of his 6 year old. He had to get seasoned rapidly his 7 year old year because I lost Bugs (FCS Bug-soutofight). I had to use him at building rodeos. He had one circuit rodeo, then the circuit finals, then the CFR then the NFR last year. He did really well at the CFR and got stronger every round. I never planned on riding him all 10 rounds at the NFR but with Chisum hurt I had to and it was sure a blessing. The indoor rodeos aren't Chisum's forte but I wouldn't have ever been able to get myself to ride Louie all ten rounds unless Chisum was hurt. Louie handled it great and won over $100k at the NFR in 2010. He won the CFR Average in 2011 and 2012. We won $79k at the NFR in 2011. His lifetime earnings are over $480k+. He will be the main mount going into the NFR horse?

Lockhart: Dennis the Menace, he is like one of those little boys into everything. He loves Trula's horse and they just play around together, fighting like two little boys when we warm up. He can recognize Stingray from a long ways away and he thinks she is really pretty! His other favorite horse is Britany Fleck's little mare Rootie (Dasher Dude).

BRR: What is your strategy for keeping your horse mentally and physically strong through all 10 runs at the NFR? Do you have a pre-run checklist that you go through?

Lockhart: Number one, I try to have them in the best shape physically and mentally that I can. It is a daily process of scanning them all the time, over the years and spending time with them you notice subtle differences in their personalities and that will tell you something. It comes down to really knowing your horse. It is a 365 day a year deal to know what they are doing. If they don't work like they should, I analyze what is going on. It comes down to staying tuned into your horses.

When it comes to warmups I don't like to be rushed and when your as old as I am you have a routine. Everybody develops their own routine, some get on early, some get on late everybody has their own way. I don't like to get on early, but I don't like to get on late either so I am usually getting on early. I usually get on 30-40 minutes before I run depending on the setup, but I dang sure want to be on riding for 20-30 minutes. I do quite a bit of long trotting while I warm up, then I switch bits, put on leg gear and get on my game face.

Headin' For Home

by Sherry Morrison
Triple M (Mike Morrison Ministries)

We hope you had the very best Thanksgiving ever! In times past, it was just about the food...my family...and lots of days off from....whatever! I have a much better view of things now. It doesn't take a lot of effort to look around and see just how blessed I am, and how far I've come. But how did that happen? I asked myself that...and I found the answer in.....bananas!

I have this..well, let's just call it a habit...of buying bananas...and NOT eating them. They are so perfect and firm and yellow and they always get into my shopping cart. And then I pay for them. And then I bring them home and put them on the counter in the pretty little fruit holder thing...and I look at them on a daily basis until...they look like crap. And then I throw them away, without any health benefits whatsoever!

God showed me that that is just how some people treat His Word. We know it's good for us to know what He says. We know that our answer is in there. We know that if we READ it and DO it the results are life changing BUT we just can't seem to get around to putting it on the inside of us. We buy seventeen translations and put them on our bookshelves. We even decorate with the Bible. I know someone who opened it exactly to the middle and set a pair of old reading glasses on it...for interior decorating. Hmmm. Just how is that going to help? It's not. No attention to God and His Word and guess what? We start to look like those old, mushy, gross bananas. Not able to stand up to anything!

I am so thankful that somewhere along the line I learned how valuable God's Word was to me....how what I learn and do from His Word makes such a difference. IT GREATLY BENEFITS ME! Thank you Jesus! Let's READ the Word and DO the Word and next year at this time we will be so thankful for how far we've come. Even more exciting, with God, we will go further! So be it!
