Rainey Skelton & Fame And Jewels Shine at WCRA's Women's Rodeo World Championships

By Tanya Randall

She wasn't going to go.

Rainey Skelton had made a lot of runs on her 7-year-old mare Fame And Jewels recently, so she wasn't looking forward to traveling to Las Vegas for the WCRA's Women's Rodeo World Championships, held October 26-29 at the South Point Casino. However, her best friend Laura Mote, daughter of WCRA President Bobby Mote, convinced her to make the trip.

"She was like, 'You need to go to this!'" recalled Skelton. "I've been running her a bunch and I didn't want to overrun her and that's the main reason I didn't want to go. Now, I'm glad I did!"

The 17-year-old from Llano, Texas, is $60,000 richer for that decision, winning the Main Event after advancing on her two other runs.

"I knew I had to lay down a run with those horses and those girls," she said. "I was trying to be clean and do my job. I knew if I did my job she was going to clock. I was kind of nervous because I knew what her times had been. I knew I had some things to fix with my riding because I really didn't ride her right. My hands weren't very good going around the barrels."

Skelton called Nisa Berry, who patterned the mare early in her career, for guidance.

"She gave me a pep talk," said Skelton. "She said, 'You know how to ride this mare. You can do it.' She talked to me about 15 minutes before I ran and I guess the pep talk worked!"

Skelton should know Jewels well. The mare was raised by her family. Her mother Rhonda had purchased the Oklahoma Fuel mare Kayla Fuel from noted barrel horse trainer and clinician Ed Wright, bred her to the graded stakes winning Special Effort, Dash For Cash stallion The Informant and got Tattletail Lilly.

"My mom ran her and I ran her," Skelton said of Lilly. "It's kind of crazy because Jewels and Lilly look exactly the same. They have the same liver spots and everything. I ran her a few times when I was younger. She got hurt and we bred her. We only bred her one time and got Jewels."

Bred under her grandmother's name Jewels is by all-time leading barrel horse sire Dash Ta Fame.

Due to her peculiar nature, Jewels has mainly been Skelton's project.

"She was a handful," said Skelton. "We had three or four guys tell us that she'd run off with them. They sent her back to us saying, 'We can't do a single thing with this mare!' I was the biggest advocate for her. No one really liked her. She was a pain in the butt. I'm the only one that gets along with her. She really doesn't like anyone else. My grandmother was about to sell her when I said just give her to me and I'll do everything with her."

Skelton, a high school senior homeschooled through White Horse Christian Academy, spent a lot of time pasture riding the mare. When she was ready to start the pattern, Jewels was sent to Nisa Berry for a couple of months before Skelton finished her.

"I didn't start exhibitioning her until she was 5," Skelton noted. "I started at the first of her 5-year-old year, and by December, she was running. She picked it up really fast."

Jewels got most of her seasoning at high school rodeos and a few bigger races. This year, they've excelled at the Jr American, American Semifinals and Cowboy's Professional Rodeo Association as well as the WCRA events. Skelton is still the only one to have run her.

"She's a very particular mare," she said. "She's moody. She's mean to other horses. She's horrible traveling. She doesn't like being in the trailer..."

Acuscope treatments and Kimmi Byler with HorseSwim for helping Jewels recover from two lung infections.

“Kimmi has helped me so much with Jewels,” said Skelton. “Jewels got a pretty bad lung infection twice, and Kimmi’s been excellent at getting her back going.”

Skelton also wanted to thank the producers of the Women’s Rodeo World Championships.

“Bobby Mote, Shawn Gleason and the PBR are doing an exceptional job,” she said. “They’re definitely paving the way for women in rodeo. They’ve stepped up to the plate. Bobby’s daughter is one of my best friends and I’m over there all the time. I see how much time and effort goes into making the WCRA and Women’s Finals work. It’s incredible what they’re trying to do for women’s rodeo.”

Margo Crowther & Shes Packin Fame Haul Off NBHA World Finals 1D Championship

By Tanya Randall

Margo Crowther of Fort Myers, Florida, and her 9-year-old mare Shes Packin Fame (“Sissy”) added another illustrious title to their stacked resume with a NBHA World Finals Open 1D World Championship. The “bucket list” victory at the October 24-30 Perry, Georgia, event, was worth $10,163 of the $420,763 total purse.

“I absolutely had a blast,” said Crowther, who first joined the NBHA in the mid-1990s. “It really is like a big family—the staff, the announcers, the tractor drivers—I just love the camaraderie that’s there all week long. It’s like nothing else. I don’t know if it’s because I’m from this area and it’s fun to see all my Georgia friends. The whole energy is so fun, everybody watches and wants each other to do good. They make it an experience.”

Crowther wanted to thank her family for all their support and the NBHA for a great production.

“They’ve done a great job,” she said of the NBHA. “I’m appreciative of all the extra added money. It was worth the trip, worth me being gone a week. I’m appreciative of all that goes into the production of it. I produce a pro rodeo so I know all the long hours and hard work that go into it. It was a great show and I’m grateful.” Crowther has missed the NBHA World Finals the past five years because it typically falls on Halloween, a holiday the mother of three—Sawyer, 11, Stella, 9 and Saylor, 2—just cannot miss. The adrenalin from her victory kept her awake on her all-night drive home.

“I never want to miss that with the kiddos,” she said. “We drove through the night and got home at 4 am. It was worth it though. We had a great time last night.”

Her daughter Stella, who was the youth reserve champion at the WEC, didn't get to make the trip to Perry due to school. Instead, Crowther got her mother Anne Peters to use the Wild Card she won years ago at the NBHA Triple Crown to come and run Stella's horse French N Tonic ("Patron").

"I really encouraged Mom to ride Patron," said Crowther. "The last 10-15 years she'd been into reining, but she sold her reining horse and was trying to figure out what to do. She's always been such a huge help to me with the baby and the kids. If she's not on the road with me, she's at home. Her and my dad have my kids a lot and take them to all their sports."

Both mother and daughter made the Open Finals. Crowther had won the first round with a 14.711 and used her second run as a tune up for the Finals.

"I ended up hitting my second barrel on the backside," she explained. "She worked really good. I just eased her through there so I knew I would be set up for the finals."

Crowther had her first run in the Finals on Sissy's full sister Im Stylin Like Sissy ("Style"), a 4-year-old futurity horse, and her mother ran shortly thereafter. Sissy was her last horse, just 25 runners from the end.

"My mom was winning it for the longest time," she said. Peters and Petron had a 14.893, and ultimately finished fifth. "I kept listening to see if her time would hold and it did for a long time."

Crowther and Sissy blew them all out with a 14.441, close to the 14.428 NBHA Open World Arena Record held by Michael Duffie and Reclaim Fame.

"It was exciting, especially knowing that Taylor Carver on her little mare (Miss Rare Perks) that's been doing so awesome was the last to go," said Crowther, who had gone up to watch with her daughter Saylor. "She was first on the ground, the last to go. It was pretty nerve-wracking! The energy in that building was amazing!"

As a 4-year-old, Sissy had the fastest time of the 2016 NBHA World Finals. She was fresh off a dual win at the WPRA World Finals, where she carried Crowther to both the Cardholders and Futurity titles. Unfortunately, the mare missed the remainder of her futurity career when a fall at the No Bull Finale in Tampa Bay, Florida, left her with a broken hock that required surgery.

In their first two runs back, Crowther and Sissy qualified for and won the Finals of the 2017 Old Fort Days Derby before embarking on a short rodeo run. Sissy is a multiple pro rodeo winner and has qualified Crowther to several Southeastern Circuit Finals.

"I've always known that she's that dream horse," said Crowther of the daughter of Carrizzo, out of Heidis Packin Sixes, by Packin Sixes. She picked the mare out of Craig Brook's barn as a 3-year-old after having owned her older full brother.

"We definitely had our ups and downs, but way more ups than downs. I can always count on her. She's so reliable. I know if I haven't gone anywhere in two months, I know that I can show up and she's going to win. There's nothing I need to do to get my timing back with her. I could take a five year break and jump back on her and go. We've just had this special bond since she was a 3-year-old. She's definitely something special."

Crowther said she'll probably start saving Sissy and seasoning Style more to rodeos in 2022.

"I've checked off a lot of my boxes with (Sissy) except for the NFR," she said. "I'll probably not run her as much and pull some embryos off her next year and get Style seasoned and start rodeoing on her."

A Sr Barrel Racing Gold Globe For Cassidy Champlin & Casadys Cash N Fame

By Tanya Randall

Cassidy Champlin of Pilot Point, Texas, dominated the Sr Barrel Racing at the AQHA World Show in Oklahoma City. She qualified three horses for the Sr Barrel Racing Finals, ultimately winning aboard her 11-year-old mare Casadys Cash N Fame.

"The World went way beyond my expectations," said Champlin. I think a lot of that came from preparation. Every night before I ran I was in that arena. I think that helped me and my horses."

Champlin also placed third on DG Excuse My French ("Pierre") and fifth on Talented By Red ("CeCe").

"I think Pierre would have outrun Casady if he hadn't stumbled at the second barrel," she said. "I have a little bit of bias toward Casady. I had won it the year before on Pierre and I really wanted it for her because she's never had that title. I felt she deserved it. I think maybe the little stumble with Pierre was God coming in and saying it's Casady's turn."

Bred by J Bar K Performance Horses, Casady is by WPRAs World Champion Sire KS Cash N Fame out of Casanovas Starlight, by Casady Casanova. Champlin purchased the mare as a 4-year-old from Anna Montagano because they shared the same name when she was a junior in high school.

"She was lightly started on the pattern, just slow loping," Champlin explained. "Lita Scott helped me get her running. Honestly, she's just a natural. I always joke that no one trained Casady how to run the barrels. She kind of learned herself. She's one of the easiest horses to run. She's point and shoot. She's been like that since she was 5 years old."

Casady has been in the national spotlight before, having won money for National Finals Rodeo qualifier Michele McLeod during the California Spring Run of pro rodeos. Vickie Carter also leased the mare for the NFR.

"She's got some money at the NFR," Champlin said. "She's done a lot in her tiny life."

Champlin, 25, got her start showing horses under the direction of Charlie Cole and Jason Martin of Highpoint Performance Horses. Her mother, Laurel, still shows hunt seat horses under their guidance. However, when Cole and Martin started to dabble in barrel horses, Champlin followed their lead.

"They've taught me all my horsemanship from day one and helped me discover this passion," she said. "They got me on a barrel horse and I fell in love. I never got back in an English saddle. Now it's my career and passion."

Champlin, who is currently studying for the LSAT, hopes to start law school next fall. In the meantime, she's a full time barrel racer with a trailer full of talented horses.

"Last year I was a rookie (in the WPRAs) and my year didn't pan out like I hoped it would," she said. "I think I let the rodeo life get to me. This year I feel like I'm a lot more confident and I'm riding better. My mentality is better. I'm going to take every run as it comes and see how it goes."

Champlin wanted to thank her sponsors Kimes Ranch Jeans and Brinks Hattery, her veterinarian Cameron Stoudt as well as her mother for their support.

"She was just great during that whole time," said Champlin of her mother. "She helped me with my mental state. She kept telling me to breathe because I was just jumping from horse to horse. She always goes with me. She's definitely my No. 1 supporter. She's always screaming at me during my runs, which helps a lot!"

She also wanted to thank Highpoint Performance Horses for getting her started as well as the trainers of Pierre (Brittany Dal-laire) and CeCe (Krystal Grad).

"They did a great job," she said. "They definitely wouldn't be the

Tyler Rivette & Flingin Roses Crowned AQHA Jr Barrel Racing World Champions

By Tanya Randall

Tyler Rivette and Harrison Ranch's stunning bay roan stallion Flingin Roses ("Bachelor") set an AQHA arena record en route to the Jr Barrel Racing World Championship at the AQHA World Show in Oklahoma City.

"It was awesome!" said Rivette, who trains out of Maysville, Oklahoma. "Any chance you get to win is a blessing! It's another awesome win for that horse and us..."

Rivette and the 5-year-old stallion set the AQHA arena record of 15.459 in the preliminary round.

"I was early out on the first day," Rivette recalled. "I didn't have any expectations. I was just trying to make a smooth consistent run. The ground felt great. He worked great."

They won the AQHA's trademark golden globe with a 15.639.

"Coming into the Finals, I was just thankful to be there," Rivette said. "I just knew to trust my training and trust him and try to make it the same. He's pretty consistent, which helps my confidence. He makes the same pass every time. When I ran down the alley, I told myself to get him to his spots and stay out of his way and let him do the rest. It all came together."

Bred by Jeff Switzer and Bo Hill, Bachelor is by the leading living barrel horse sire A Streak Of Fling out of the blue hen producer Dancing Rose Lady by Disco Jerry (TB). Hill had posted the colt for sale on Facebook and sent a text message to Rivette asking if he was interested in a stallion prospect. He made the purchase on behalf of longtime AQHA supporter Rosemary Harrison of Fulshear, Texas.

A natural in the barrel pen, Bachelor was one of the leading futurity horses in 2020. He capped off his freshman season in the arena as the BFA World Futurity Champion.

"The next big thing for him is the BFA Derby," said Rivette, who wanted to thank Harrison for the opportunity to ride horses

Teton Ridge to be Presenting Sponsor of NFR

The Professional Rodeo Cowboys Association®, and Teton Ridge today announced a multi-year deal for Teton Ridge to become the presenting sponsor of the Wrangler National Finals Rodeo in Las Vegas.

Teton Ridge is a brand dedicated to promoting and preserving iconic western culture. Since 1985, Las Vegas has played host to the NFR, except for 2020 when the NFR was moved to Arlington, Texas, because of COVID-19 restrictions in place in Las Vegas.

The NFR is a culmination of more than 600 PRCA-sanctioned events within the regular season. Las Vegas Events, the special events coordinator for the rodeo, projects 17,000 people in attendance at every performance at the Thomas & Mack Center, or 170,000 total. The total estimated economic impact of the NFR was more than $175 million in 2019 according to the Las Vegas Convention and Visitors Authority.

“This is great to partner with Teton Ridge as the presenting sponsor of the Wrangler National Finals Rodeo, the richest and most prestigious rodeo in the world,” PRCA CEO Tom Glause said. “It’s extremely pleasing when you can partner with an organization whose beliefs align with ours. We look forward to this being a great relationship moving forward.”

Emphasizing the same commitment to excellence that is exhibited in all Teton Ridge’s integrations, the dedicated western-preservation brand will place a special focus on elevating the PRCA World Champion crowning ceremony.

“A PRCA world title received at the NFR is one of the most treasured achievements in rodeo,” Teton Ridge CEO Jonathan Katz said. “Celebrating champions and the hard work that goes into rising to the top levels of each rodeo discipline is at the core of Teton Ridge. Aligning with PRCA and LVE as part of this iconic year-end event, we want to join them in honoring western sports and the tremendous professionals competing for world titles in a very prestigious way.”

The partnership comes on the heels of Teton Ridge’s recent move to bring The American under the brand’s umbrella and elevate the richest single-day rodeo in the world to new levels in March 2022 in Arlington, Texas, including an unmatched total purse of more than $3 million, non-stop rodeo action, live music, entertainment and more. The industry-leading event is the centerpiece of the brand’s western sports portfolio.

Adding the NFR partnership was a natural next step for Teton Ridge and further illustrates the significance placed on celebrating excellence at the top levels of the rodeo world.

Outhier Claims 2nd Consecutive Title

Backed by a dominant showing, including the fastest time of the week, 2020 Women’s Rodeo World Championship (WRWC) Breakaway Roping World Champion Madison Outhier (Utopia, Texas) surged to the top of the leaderboard to win her second breakaway roping world championship on Friday evening at South Point Arena in Las Vegas. The 18-year-old became the first two-time champion in the event’s history.

The ferociously contested Breakaway Roping World Championship race capped off a slug-fest between Outhier, WCRA Champion Shelby Boisjoli (Calgary, AB), and legendary cowgirl Lari Dee Guy (Abilene, Texas).

Outhier delivered a groundbreaking performance at the event, as the string broke away from her saddle horn at an impressive 1.91-second time, topping Shelby Boisjoli’s 2.03-second run. The Texas Cowgirl is the only athlete to win the Prestigious World Championship and a WCRA Triple Crown of Rodeo event (Rodeo Corpus Christi) in the same year. Outhier also defeated 8X WPRA World Champion Lari Dee Guy’s 2.07-second time.

As the World Championship event continued on Friday evening, a hotly contested battle in the Team Roping began to unfurl. Mother-daughter duo Rylea (Stephenville, Texas) and Debbie Fabrizio (pueblo, Colorado) had fans inside Vegas’ Cowboy Central on the edge of their seat as they were first to run, earning a remarkable 6.65-second time. The Fabrizio’s time held onto the number one spot before 2020 WRWC World Champion Heeler Hope Thompson (Abilene, Texas) and Whitney Desalvo (Stephenville, TX) notched a valiant 6.28-second run. Lari Dee Guy and Jimmi Jo Montera (Greely, Colorado) backed into the box calm and collected and logged what would be a historic run for all female team ropers, with a 5.95-second effort. The pair took home $60,000

Shelby Boisjoli (Calgary, AB) earned the 2021 Women’s Rodeo World Champion All-Around Cowgirl title. She won a $20,000 bonus and a custom saddle donated by Coats Saddlery, after earning 1,494 points during the three-day event along with nearly $64,000 in additional prize money. The Canadian cowgirl, who has over $73,000 in career-earnings with the WCRA, made history in Green Bay, WI during the WCRA Title Town Stampede when she faced off against sister Makayla in the shootout round, where she captured the title and $50,000 in prize money.

WCRA and PBR have announced the 2022 Women’s Rodeo World Championship event will be split between The Historic Cowtown Coliseum and Dickies Arena. The first three rounds of competition will be at Cowtown Coliseum May 16-17, with the final two rounds held at Dickies Arena in conjunction with PBR World Finals. 2022 Women’s Rodeo World Champions will again be crowned in the same arena as the PBR World Champion.

HEADIN' FOR HOME

by Sherry Morrison // Triple M (Mike Morrison Ministries)

In case you can't tell, I love kids! They are funny and very honest! It's refreshing! Eph. 5:1 says to imitate your Father as dear children.

God is love and He is good! He has joy! Children laugh a lot! Do you? When is the last time you had a good belly laugh? When you get up in the morning, do you look like the Peanuts cartoon character that sulks around with a black cloud over his head? Or are you cheery?

Your laugh for the week from me. Six year old Thad was at church music practice on a Saturday and he went up and sang a little with the group. No microphone. Church started and the group did praise and worship. Then Mike asked if anyone had a special they wanted to sing. Thad JUMPED up from behind me, GRABBED my microphone and LEAPED onto the stage!! Okkaaay.

Mike asked what he wanted to sing and Thad said the song they had practiced earlier. Thad only knows part of the chorus. Mike started singing and there was this little voice making up words on the verse. BUT WHEN THE CHORUS CAME, THAD BELTED OUT, "AIN'T NO GRACE, GONNA HOLD MY BODY DOWN!" The actual words are, "Ain't no GRAVE, gonna hold my body down!"

It was wonderfully funny and real and who cares if the words were right?! Laugh today! Belt out a song whether you know the right words or not! You'll be glad you did!
