Beam's Perks Advantage Claims AQHA's Sr World Title

By Tanya Randall

In May 2010, Janna Beam was riding high on her black gelding Perks Advantage ("Willy"). She was sitting ninth in the WPR World Standings with more than $30,000 in bank when she discovered a puffy spot on Willy's right hind leg.

"The end of May, he tore a right rear high suspensory," said the Hallsville, Texas, barrel racer and trainer. "A back leg is worse than a front leg, so they were skeptical whether he would come back."

Even though he had just won the last three rodeos she had entered, Willy was done for the year and then some. Her vet, Dr. Nelson Lewis of Red River Equine in Vinton, La., did two rounds of platelet rich plasma (PRP) and told her to give the gelding time.

"Dr. Lewis said to treat him and give him time and a little extra, and that's the best chance you have," said Beam, who returned Willy to work in the fall of 2011, nearly a year and half after the diagnosis. "I walked him for three weeks and trotted him for two weeks. I just worked him up really slow. I made my first run in December and he won the barrel race. The first big barrel race I took him to was the Quarter horse show in Fort Worth. He won it and that's how I qualified for the World Show."

In Oklahoma City, Willy turned in second-place runs in both the preliminaries and finals of the senior barrels to claim the AQHA World Championship with an aggregate of 33.813, worth $5,800.74.

"I was proud of him," she said. "He worked really good and stayed really honest, which he usually does. He was smooth and his turns were really snappy. His turns were quick, he ran hard and he handled the ground."

Beam said the ground was good, but it felt a touch deep in the preliminaries, noting that Willy struggled a little firing away from the first barrel. She wasn't complaining though because she had the second fastest run.

Another concern was the long, downhill alley.

"Sometimes Willy can get a little ratty in the alleyway and want to take off too soon," said Beam. She was concerned that too quick a start would mess up their first barrel. "That was a big concern so I wasn't even worried about how he would work; I just wanted him to wait on me in the alley, and he was perfect."

Willy's been perfect for Beam since she first started riding him as a 3-year-old. His breeder Tony Guilbeau of Golden Meadows, La., had sent the 2002 son of Perks Master out of First Advantage, by Silent Advantage, to Beam's mother, Paula Owens, to train. Beam bought him in late 2005.

Much a surprise to Beam, Guilbeau was on hand to see Willy win the World. The third-place finisher in the senior barrels, Cajun Perks On Fire, ridden by Michelle McLeod, was bred and is owned by Guilbeau. Incidentally, Owens started Cajun Perks On Fire and Beam placed on him at the 2007 BFA Super$takes.

"He raised two of the horses in the top 10 at the World Show, and my mom started both of them," noted Beam. "I thought that was pretty cool. I've been able to ride both of them and they're a lot alike. My mom's pretty happy about that too."

Mindful of Willy's past injury, Beam doesn't think she'll hit the rodeo trail with Willy again.

"I don't think that's the direction I need to go with him," said Beam, who also has futurity colts to keep her closer to home. "I'm probably just going to go to the bigger barrel races and keep him on better ground, and not have to put him in the trailer for 1,000s of miles. The trailer is what cripples them. He's too good of a horse to cripple again. He's going to give you 100 percent every time, and it took a long time to get him well."

One Dashing Eagle Completes Historic Season

San Gregorio Racing Stables and Gustavo and Jose De La Torre's One Dashing Eagle completed one of the greatest campaigns in Quarter Horse racing history with an emphatic wire to wire victory in the $1,118,000 Golden State Million Futurity on Sunday at Los Alamitos Race Course.

Ridden by Ramon Sanchez, One Dashing Eagle became the first Quarter Horse to ever win three races featuring million dollar purses. The colt by One Famous Eagle earned $450,660 for the win to take his earnings to an all-time single season record of $2,079,065. He is the first Quarter Horse to earn $2 million in a single season and his 2012 earnings topped the previous all-time single season mark set by World Champion Stolis Winner of $1,820,437.

One Dashing Eagle won the Golden State Million with ease and in stakes record time. The Allred Brothers-bred phenomenon crossed the wire 2 ¼ lengths ahead of Estate of Kim Kessinger's Separate Interest to add the Golden State Million to his collection of million dollar victories. His winning time of :19.242 broke the previous 400-yard stakes record of :19.30 set by Tres Passes is 2008. Previously, One Dashing Eagle won the $1,041,000 Ed Burke Million Futurity on June 24 and the $2,400,000 All American Futurity on September 3. The sorrel colt is the leading contender to be named champion 2-year-old and champion 2-year-old colt and figures to be in the conversation to be named world champion sprinter.

Earlier this week, One Dashing Eagle hit the track on Wednesday morning to prepare for the Golden State Million. If it was up to the colt, the race could have been held that morning. That's how ready he was to run according to De La Torre.

"We took him out because he couldn't wait another day to go out to the track," he said. "He was going crazy waiting and wanting to go out and do his job. He likes to go on the track and he always has a great attitude when he is out there."

"One Dashing Eagle has done so much for my family and now it's time that we do right for him," Jose De La Torre concluded.

Allene Tatom's Slick By Design Wins AQHA Jr Barrels World Title

By Tanya Randall

Jennifer Epps-Sharp got Slick By Design tapped off right at the AQHA World Show in Oklahoma City. She guided the 5-year-old black stallion, owned and bred by Allene Tatom of Conroe, Texas, to a blistering 16.644 to win the junior barrel racing preliminaries by more than 4/10ths of a second.

The duo followed it up with the fastest time of the Finals, a 16.807, to claim the AQHA Jr Barrel Racing World Championship with an aggregate time of 33.451, worth $4,487.35.

Epps-Sharp said both of Slick's runs were really smooth.

"The first run was awesome!" she exclaimed. "The second go, I just wanted to go in and just have a good clean run. He was running hard that weekend. So, I figured as long as we didn't hit; we'd win it. When I turned the second barrel, I lost my stirrup. Going to the third barrel, I was like just don't fall off, just don't fall off and don't hit the third."

Slick's camp was a little leery of returning to the Oklahoma State Fairgrounds because the stallion had fallen in the short go at the Summer Shootout in August.

"He turned the second barrel and it gave out underneath him," recalled Epps-Sharp. "He stepped on his own leg and had to have stitches. We were leery going back there, but the ground (at the World Show) didn't bother him at all."

Epps-Sharp, Magnolia, Texas, started running barrels when she was 7 or 8 and honed her skills trading up on sale barn horses she trained. Spirit, a wicked roan pole horse that her family purchased for $400, solidified her interest in training after the mare made nine appearances at the National High School and Wrangler Junior High Finals Rodeo in the pole bending—three with Epps-Sharp and won the Jr High national pole bending title with her young sister Cheyenne.

Epps-Sharp was paired with Slick this May. The stallion got his start with a reining trainer before moving on to barrel training. He was ridden by several people including Stephan Boutin as well as Tatom's family members. It was Tatom's niece Kim Ulbricht, who successfully campaigned Slick as a futurity horse. Ulbricht also qualified Slick for the AQHA World at the Jud Little Bar Nothin Barrel Bash in September 2011.

"I started legging him up in May," said Epps-Sharp. "My first run was maybe June or July and we set an arena record by 7/10ths." She said Slick's easy to ride.

"As long as you can ride and think as fast as he can, you're all right," said the 23-year-old. "He's such a nice horse."

The immediate plans for the son of Designer Red, also an AQHA World Champion, out of Dream Of Blue, by Dream On Dancer, include the Elite Barrel Racing Extravaganza this weekend in Waco, TQHA's Black Friday Barrel Race in Bryan, Texas, to hopefully qualify for a return trip to the AQHA World Show, and the Barrel Futurities of America's Derby once again in Oklahoma City.

Epps-Sharp believes that Slick, who will have his first foal crop hit the ground next spring, will continue to be campaigned through breeding season.

"He's such a good stud," she said. "He doesn't even act like a stud at all. When you're on him he's all game."

Congratulations to Emily Efurd

for winning 2012 WPRA Rookie of the Year and finishing #23 in the world standings.

"I'm really liking Revitalize™! I've had my young horse out on the road with me on it and it's kept her from stressing so badly and going off her feed because of it. I know it works because almost every time I hauled her before, she would go off her feed. At the end of the season it even helped Fanny (Fantasia Fame) with this too.

I use the Cetyl M® Joint Action Cream for Horses on my horses' hocks, stifles, and pasterns every time before I run. I think it really helps to loosen them up if they've been standing around and are real tight or have been in the trailer for a long time. I also have my three main horses, including Fanny, on Cetyl M® granules for Horses and I think it has significantly reduced their maintenance." -Emily Efurd*

Friedrich Wins Columbia River Circuit Finals

By Julie Mankin

Horse trainer and riding instructor Viki Friedrich (pronounced "Fredrick") has had a whirlwind season with her 7-year-old Dash Ta Fame gelding, Tug.

She bought him as a 2-year-old and brought him along through futurities and derbies, and he did so well his 5-year-old year that she introduced him to rodeos, too.

"That was my goal, was to make him a rodeo horse," said Friedrich, 50. "He was a natural from the get-go. He just loves his job and was easy to train."

She and Tug made the circuit finals for the first time in her career in 2011, and returned this year. Pamela Capper had an insurmountable hold on the circuit championship last weekend, but the other trip to Oklahoma City was still up for grabs.

Friedrich got stronger throughout the event at Redmond, Ore. Placing in the final two rounds, she squeaked by Brenda Mays and Jodi Goodrich by just eight-hundredths of a second for the win on three runs to earn $3,348 total.

Incidentally, Mays was running her 9-year-old mare, Judge My Fame ("Dora"), who is a granddaughter of Judge Cash on the bottom and by Dash Ta Fame (Mays' former Horse of the Year, Jethro, is a son of Judge Cash on the top side).

As for Tug, who is also by Dash Ta Fame, he's out of a thoroughbred mare going back to Native Dancer and Bold Ruler. His registered name is Blaze Ta Thunder, but he got his nickname because he's constantly tugging people around – stopping if he wants to stop and dragging you if he feels like going forward.

The big blaze-faced bay probably stands 16-2 hands and has a Dash Ta Fame-like mind of his own, Friedrich said. He runs as well in big pens as he does in small, and people often tell her how much they enjoy watching him.

"He sticks his nose out and is a beautiful runner," she said. "He's long-strided and stays pretty free. You can tell he loves it because he pins his ears running in there. It's not like those horses that are rating hard with their ears pinned – he just runs in there and wraps around them, giving it everything."

Friedrich prefers that her horses keep a nice, round style of turning, keeping their hip underneath them and coming right around. While she enjoys bringing up young barrel horses, she also likes to rodeo depending on the time of year.

"I keep it mixed up," she said. "Between the young horses, rodeos, 4Ds and futurities, it gives me a nice variety."

Friedrich has trained offspring of Dash Ta Fame for several years, and although she said they're sometimes challenging, she loves them and continues to keep a barn full of them. The Washington native has always had horses, and used to work eight to five for a telephone company.

Then, in 2000, she and her husband built Rocky Top Arena in Salkum, Wash. The indoor arena and outdoor pen allowed her to delve full-time into training horses with her sister, Vanda. Since then, Dale Friedrich has also retired and the two have had more time to put on events at Rocky Top and travel further to Viki's rodeos.

"My husband is not horsey, but he is a huge supporter," she said. "He does all the driving, especially since we took Tug out on the road a couple of years ago."

The couple will hit the three Arizona futurities in January, and afterward, she's hoping to enter the big pro rodeos this winter, playing it by ear. She wants her horse around for the long run.

"You always wait for a nice horse like this to come along," she said. "We'll give it our best shot and see what we can do. Maybe I'll be fortunate enough to do this again next year."

Southeastern Circuit Veteran Wins First Trip to Oklahoma City

By Julie Mankin

When Sally Young's good horse, Norman, got hurt at the All American Finals in Waco, Texas, she had to turn out of a handful of other rodeos and wondered if her season was virtually over.

But luckily, a friend of hers back in Florida had been running her little mare, Zane's Zelda, so she was in shape and ready to fill in for Young at the WPRA World Finals in Lincoln, Neb. Zelda scored checks in a go-round and the average of the card-holder's race and gave Young a lot more confidence in her 7-year-old backup heading into the Southeastern Circuit Finals Rodeo last weekend in Davie, Fla.

"I just wanted to have a good rodeo," said Young, who won the first round at Davie and the average to bank $3,190. "I was so proud of how my little mare worked; it was unbelievable." The money also pushed Young into the number-one spot in the year-end circuit standings, giving her the 2012 championship. Much of her earlier earnings had come aboard Norman, a 6-year-old Dash Ta Fame gelding registered as JL Takin On Fame.

Norman, who had pulled a muscle in his back, is out of a mare named BF Silver Charm. She's by Takin On The Cash and her dam is also royally race, packing the blood of Beduino, Go Man Go, Easy Jet, Hempen and Rocket Bar.

"You can't discount her, but if he makes his best run, he has more speed," said Young, who lives in Micanopy, Fla. "Zelda definitely has the most heart, though, and sometimes it takes heart not speed."

Young purchased the little Wonder Otoe mare (out of a half-thoroughbred, racing-bred dam) from breeder Lynn Hodges as a yearling – which is the age she gets most of her prospects. Then she has Frank Barnett of Williston, Fla., break them before she begins training.

Young is an Alabama native who was a schoolteacher for years before going back to school to become a registered nurse in the 1990s. Today, she combines both passions as a part-time diabetic educator.

Although she was the Southeastern Circuit's very first champion in 1976 and qualified all through the 1980s and early 1990s, she hadn't been to the Finals since 1998.

"I'm the kind that's not going to rodeo if I don't feel like I've got a dog in the fight," she said. "I had nice horses but not like these, and my husband was working so much that I didn't haul very much. We're a team."

RIDER/OWNER: SALLY YOUNG; BREEDER: LYNN McDUFFIE-HODGES

Rusty Young, DVM, is an equine surgeon. He is Sally's husband of 37 years and does all the entering for her and the driving when they hit the road.

"Norman got me to the Finals this year," she said. "This was his first rodeo year and I'm very proud of him. I got him from Jill Lane in Montana; he'd been trained by Mark Bugni who lives in Oklahoma now."

Young had seen an online ad for the horse, watched his video and went to try him before making the purchase when he was an early 4-year-old.

"The reason I train my own horses is that most of the time I can't ride behind other trainers," she said. "But we liked the way Norman ran barrels and he hadn't been anywhere yet. He's been a nice horse, and Mark gets the credit for doing such a good job training him."

While Norman had success as a futurity horse, Zelda only went to one futurity because she was on the small side as a 4-year-old, Young said.

Sherlin & Bully By Design World Champions

NBHA World Show
October 27-29, 2012, Perry, GA

Finals

1D 1 Bully By Design, Clint Sherlin, 14.479, $6,418

Q&A with NBHA World Champion Clint Sherlin

BRR: Tell us a little about your horse and his/her history and his/her approximate lifetime earnings.

Sherlin: He was raised not too far from my house by Brian Donaldson (4-D Stables). Ken Campbell (Lucky 7 Ranch) bought him when he was a 3 year old and Louis Fincher futuritized him and then we bought him from Ken. When I got him he was at the end of his 4 year old futurity year. I have been riding him ever since. He has actually been within about 150 miles his whole life. In 2011, I won the 1st and 2nd Go at the NBHA World Show and 2nd in the Finals last year, then won the Elite Barrel Race during the JB Futurity. Then at the BFA Derby, he won the the 1st Go, and was 2nd in the 2nd Go. This year he has just placed pretty good but I hadn't won anything big until this. He has $45k+ of lifetime earnings now.

BRR: Tell us a little about your runs.

Sherlin: The first go was really pretty rough and kind of sloppy, we really didn't turn a good barrel. The 2nd Go was a little better, but I got him to early on the first barrel and had to pick him up and then I had to straighten him out to the second. So it just wasn't as smooth. In the Finals, I knew I would have to go for it because I really didn't think that a six (14.631 of In Firewaters Honor, McKenzie Morgan) would get moved. McKenzie lives close to me and goes to the same local shows and I have seen that horse since he was 3 so I knew he would be tough to beat. In the Finals, I smoked the first barrel and didn't have to move him over for the second and that saved a lot of time, plus he was running harder in the Finals. He just made a real good run at the right time. I really didn't know if I was going to beat the 14.6 or not but I knew I had made a good run in the Finals and it would be close.

BRR: Tell us about yourself and how you ended up running barrels.

Sherlin: I'm 22 years old and live in east Tennessee, between Knoxville and Chattanooga at Athens, TN. I grew up around horses and I have really never known anything else so that was just what I did. I didn't know there was much else! Bully By Design was my first really big horse that I have kept and ran. I have had a couple other really good horses that I placed in a couple big shows on, but I never kept any of my other horses real long. I usually just get them going and once they were doing good I sell them.

BRR: What were you feeling when you realized you actually won it?

Sherlin: I really didn't believe. I was tickled to death and didn't know what to say. I was just happy that I finally did it. I really didn't think that I would ever win it.

BRR: Future Plans?

Sherlin: I can't run him in derbies anymore so we don't really have any future plans right now. If we plan to keep him and run him we will probably have Chris' daughter ride him some.

2012 Candian Finals Rodeo Preview

Over the last several years the Canadian Finals Rodeo (CFR) has increased its purse to the point where it has become so lucrative that all the top barrel racers in the US and Canada work all year long to run there. This year the rich Canadian Finals Rodeo starts November 7 and runs through November 11 at Rexall Place in Edmonton, Alberta. Here is a list of performances in local time:

- Round 1, Wednesday, November 7, 7:00 pm
- Round 2, Thursday, November 8, 7:00 pm
- Round 3, Friday, November 9, 7:00 pm
- Round 4, Saturday, November 10, 1:00 pm
- Round 5, Saturday, November 10, 7:00 pm
- Round 6, Sunday, November 11, 1:00 pm

This year's CFR has a rich $29,226 payout for each of the 6 Rounds and the Aggregate in the Barrel Racing. The payout for each round and the aggregate will breakdown as follows:
1 $11,398.19; 2 $8,475.58; 3 $5,552.97; 4 $2,630.35; 5 $1,169.05

This is shaping up to be a very interesting race for the Canadian title. The CFR barrel racers all come into Edmonton with talented mounts so it will be interesting to see who gets hot at the right time and leaves as the CPRA Champion Barrel Racer. Carlee Pierce is leading the standings but she is leaving her main mount Rare Dillion at home to rest up for the NFR while she takes two younger horses Kiss This Guy and Im A Royal Design. However, they have both proven themselves at big barrel races, futurities, and rodeos so they should have a good showing. Last year's CPRA Champion Barrel Racer Trula Churchill comes into this year's CFR farther back than last year but her horse, A Streak Of Rita, won almost $50k last year at the CFR so she could definitely be in the mix if A Streak Of Rita returns to last year's form. Over the last two years, one of the hottest teams at the CFR has been An Oakie With Cash & Lisa Lockhart who have banked over $85k over the last two years at the CFR. They are here this year and in position to move up the standings if An Oakie With Cash takes to the arena again as he has in the last few years. In the #2 spot in the standings right now is Lee Ann Rust. She had a consistent year in Canada and the US to make both the CFR and NFR and so her and her brown mount, SS Streakers R Us, should be in the chase. In the #3 spot in the standings, Cranna Roberts rode the 2012 CPRA Barrel Horse With the Most Heart, Leaguer Moon (or Mooney) to consistent placings throughout the year and they come into the CFR in great position to move up the standings. However, in this field nearly any one of them could peak this week and streak their way to the title. This year's CFR will be 12 tough barrel racers shooting for the biggest payouts in CFR history so it should be full of fast times and big checks later this week in Edmonton, AB, Canada!

Below are listed the horses being taken to the CFR by each contestant. The first horse listed is the horse they plan on riding first or for the majority of the CFR with their backup horses listed below.

Headin' For Home

by Mike Morrison
Triple M (Mike Morrison Ministries)

It's comical to watch horses when you first turn them loose after they've been in for awhile.

Some will take off running, some will go to bucking and playing while others look for a good place to roll before tearing off. It's obvious that they are happy with their freedom. The moment we made Jesus our Lord and Savior, we became "new creations" in Christ (2 Corinthians 5:17) and we are free from the law of sin and death. We are free by the Spirit of God that dwells in us.

Jesus said, "Seek first the kingdom of God and His righteousness, and all these things will be added to you." (Matthew 6:33). He was talking about the things that make up an abundant life. Read it. He was telling us not to be anxious about things because we can do nothing on our own but God has every thing under control and He has our best interests at heart.

If we strive to be led by the Spirit that bids in us, the fruit, or outcome of our walk will be love, joy, peace, patience, kindness, goodness, faithfulness, gentleness and self-control. We have access at all times to God's grace which empowers us to live happy, fulfilled lives.

Don't live under a cloud of self-condemnation and feelings of worthlessness. Romans 8:1-2 says, "There is therefore now no condemnation for those who are in Christ Jesus. For the Spirit of life has set you free in Christ Jesus from the law of sin and death." Thing about that! That's enough to make a believer want to buck and run, too!
