Rylee Elliott and Super De Shine Crowned 2017 NBHA World Champions

By Hope Raley

17-year-old Rylee Elliott from Williston, Florida has been on the back of a horse since the first day she could possibly ride. Taught by her mother, Elliott learned everything she needed to know in order to excel at the cloverleaf pattern, and this past weekend in Perry, Georgia, Elliott not only made one of her own dreams come true, but also one of her mother's when Elliott was named the 2017 NBHA World Champion.

Piloting 4-year-old homegrown mare Super De Shine "Shiney", Elliott wowed the crowd and contestants with some blistering fast and insanely solid runs. "Shiney" is by BHR Frenchie Socks and out of Kas Shes de Lucks who is by Super De Kas. Elliott used to compete on "Shiney's" mother as well as her full brother, Forget U French Guy.

"Shiney was an orphan baby, so I don't even think she realizes that she's even a horse," laughed Elliott. "She is very easy going and nothing seems to bother her. I broke and trained her myself when I was 15, she was that easy!"

Going into the weekend, Elliott focused keeping "Shiney" on the same exercise regimen that she usually followed.

"I try to exercise her 3-4 times a week. I change it up every other day to keep them thinking and fresh. Some days I long trot around the field and other days I work a lot of circles in the arena. I usually work the barrel pattern 2-3 times a week depending on the horse."

With the preparation executed, Elliott was ready to take on whatever lie ahead of her in Perry.

In the first round of the World Finals, Elliott barely caught the second barrel to place in the top 5. A little disappointed, Elliott didn't let it affect her for very long. With another round just around the corner, she knew that she needed to keep her confidence and stick to her plan.

"Shiney made a great run in the first round, we just got a little unlucky. It happens. In the second round, my only goal was to make it back to the finals," said Elliott.

For the second round, Elliott knew that she needed to be smooth and most importantly, clean.

"We had a small bobble at the second barrel in the second round, but our time was good enough to get us back to the short round in the 2D."

Clocking a 15.181, Elliott secured her spot in the final round.

"Going into the finals round, I wanted to keep the same game plan and make sure that I was clean," Elliott explained. "Our run in

National Cowgirl Museum and Hall of Fame Heralds 2017 Inductees

The National Cowgirl Museum and Hall of Fame will induct five women into its Hall of Fame at its 42nd Annual Induction Luncheon and Ceremony on Tuesday, Nov. 21, 2017. They have been chosen because their lives exemplify the courage, resilience and independence that helped shape the American West. For the first time since 2012, the museum will present the Gloria Lupton Tennison Pioneer Award, which recognizes an individual who has pioneered new approaches to public service in the areas of business, law, sports, the arts or humanitarian causes.

2017 Hall of Fame Inductees Include:

Reba McEntire, Nashville, Tenn; Jacqueline Smith McEntire, Stringtown, Okla., Mary Burger, Pauls Valley, Okla., Ashley Collins, Murrieta, Calif., and Margaret McGinley Dickens, Alvarado, Texas.

"This year's remarkable Inductees will be fitting additions to the Hall of Fame," said Patricia W. Riley, executive director of the National Cowgirl Museum and Hall of Fame. "Currently, we have 228 Honorees — artists and writers, champions and competitive performers, entertainers, ranchers, trailblazers and pioneers."

stunned to see that she was in the driver's seat for first in the 1D.

"I am still speechless about it honestly! It has always been a huge goal of mine and I didn't really expect much this year because my good mare, Wee Feelin Special, is out with an injury. Shiney certainly impressed me with how she handled the pressure. The competition is always so tough here and I am just extremely thankful that I had a chance to be a part of it," concluded Elliott.

Snake Pit Sends Jennifer Barrett & Kellie Collier to RAM National Circuit Finals

By Tanya Randall

When Jennifer Barrett moved from New York to Buhl, Idaho, she knew moving into the Snake Pit meant she needed to up her horsepower if she wanted to be competitive. She found that competitive partner in the 6-year-old gelding Bedunos Prospector ("Larry"), who carried her to the Wilderness Circuit Finals Championship.

Barrett and Larry collected $6,807 at the Circuit Finals, held Nov. 2-4 in Heber City, Utah, and will join first-time National Finals Rodeo qualifier Kellie Collier of Hereford, Texas, as the Wilderness Circuit's representatives at the RAM National Circuit Finals Rodeo in Kissimmee, Fla., next year.

"I think I'm still in shock," said Barrett, who will be making her third appearance at the NCFR. "I'm still pinching myself!"

Barrett, a radiology technician, purchased Larry in July 2016 through her friends Blake and Tracie Monroe, who had loaned her their great gelding LR Designer Wood ("Maverick") for her last appearance at the First Frontier Circuit Finals and later the RAM National Circuit Finals.

"I had already moved to Idaho in October and I wasn't going to drag my horse all the way back for circuit finals in Harrisburg, Pa., in January, so I borrowed Maverick for our circuit finals and I won the average," she explained. "I flew out and borrowed him again for Kissimmee. While I was out there, Tracie said she wanted me to ride Larry. I cruised him through and just couldn't get my third barrel on him."

Barrett went back to Idaho, but Monroe was insisting that she needed Larry. So, the gelding was shipped to Idaho in July of 2016.

"I took him to a few jackpots and just loved what he did," she said. "He was just very easy. I decided to enter him in a few rodeos. We went to nine last year and entered them all for slack, just to get him seasoned. The third rodeo I took him to—Preston, Idaho—he won a check."

Larry got the winter off and Barrett developed a plan to get him ready for the 2017 rodeo season, by building his confidence—and their timing together—at the jackpots before hitting their circuit rodeos.

"Our goal was to make the circuit finals," she said. After blazing a trail through some of the bigger spring jackpot races, Barrett and Larry started their quest for the Wilderness Circuit Finals at Eagle

Mountain, Utah. "We got a check and said we're done with the jackpots and are going to focus on getting some rodeo money won."

Barrett and Larry had a little trouble keeping the second barrel up over the summer, but when she found out her husband Dusty, a rodeo clown and saddlemaker (and her own personal farrier), got the call to work the Wilderness Circuit Finals, Barrett knew she needed to up her game.

"I decided that I was not going to sit on the bench, while he got paid," she said. "So, we got over our second barrel—it is. We consistently placed throughout the rest of the year. When I knew I had qualified, I just kind of picked and chose at the end of the season. My last rodeo of the season was Salt Lake City—their Fair rodeo—and he won it."

At the Circuit Finals, Barrett and Larry won the first go with a 16.29, took a bad step during the second go to be out of the money by two holes and won the third round with a 15.93, the fastest time of the event.

"He's been a whole lot of fun in the last year and half," she said.

Bred by Larry Jiles, the 6-year-old gelding was bred for the track, although he never raced. He is by the Thoroughbred Prospector Street, a son of the great Mr Prospector, and out of High As Chicks, a daughter of Chicks Beduino out of Tres Seis's half-sister A Delightful High, by On A High.

"He was an orphan and raised on a nanny goat," Barrett added. "He's a survivor."

Barrett said Larry has spoiled her for life.

"He raised the bar for everything else we have on the property. All the other horses look at him and go 'Thanks, Idiot! You're making us look bad!'" she laughed.

Going into the 2018, Barrett doesn't have any set plans other than she knows to be mindful of her lone superstar.

"I've got one horse, so I can't make 100 runs on him in 2018," she said. "I have to pick and chose where I go. Being from the East Coast, I've got a lot to learn. We're going to travel a little more outside of the circuit, now that we have a little better grip on things. We'll just take it one run, one rodeo at a time and try to take him where he can excel and win the most money without running the wheels off of him."

Barrett, who said she says an extra prayer each night thanking God for letting her be Larry's human, wanted to thank her fellow circuit competitors for all their support and wish Collier and Kimmie Wall best of luck at the NFR.

"Kimmie is probably the reason I won the last round of the circuit finals," Barrett admitted. "The girls that were ahead of me were all ahead of me in the draw, and barrels started going down. I'm sure she could see the wheels turning in my head—'Do I make a business run?' 'Do I just get around them?' 'What do I do?'. She looked me in the eye and said, 'Just go make your run.' I sure appreciate her noticing that."

Kellie Collier has been making the most of every run she's made since qualifying for her first NFR. She's won All-American Finals Rodeo and finished second in the average at the Wilderness Circuit Finals to take an early lead in the WPRA World Standings as both events count toward the 2018 NFR.

"I'm going to try to keep the momentum going," said Collier, via text message. On Monday morning, she was already across the border in Canada for their National Finals Rodeo this weekend. "I've got to remind myself that if everything is going perfect, not to let that get to me. There's a lot to come and I have to try to keep my head on straight!"

Collier's Circuit Finals performance, worth $7,051, actually allowed her to come from behind in a very tight race for the Year-End Championship. She rode her great 8-year-old mare Streakin Easy April, by A Streak Of Fling out of Easy April Lena, by Doc O Dynamite.

"My plan was just to stay consistent and clean—don't try to do anything fancy, just make my runs," said Collier. By the time the third round rolled around, all she needed to do was make a clean run to clinch her first trip to the RAM National Circuit Finals Rodeo.

Columbia River Circuit Names Teri Bangart & Callahan Crossley Champions

By Tanya Randall

Teri Bangart and Callahan Crossley will represent the Columbia River Circuit at the RAM National Circuit Finals in Kissimmee, Fla. Bangart, a business woman from Olympia, Wash., had the Year-End Championship in hand before the Columbia River Circuit Finals, held Nov. 3-5 in Yakima, Wash., while Callahan Crossley and her great gelding Brownie Bi Bogie topped the average for $5,594.

Crossley of Hermiston, Ore., and 19-year-old Brownie, a short course specialist having won the College National Finals and CRCFR in 2015, placed in all three rounds in the very, very tiny confines of the Yakima Valley Sundome.

"My main plan was to get him going and keep the momentum the rest of the run," said Crossley, via text message. She's currently in Canada, awaiting the start of their Finals (Canadian Finals Rodeo). She's ranked third in the Canadian standings with $24,763. Kathy Grimes and KG Justice were expected, who posted times of 12.17 and 12.13 to win the first and second rounds respectively, were in command of the average going into the third round. Given Grimes' commanding lead, Crossley wasn't thinking about the average going into the third round.

"I was trying to go for the round," she said. "Kathy had a pretty good lead. All she needed to do was be clean and I had no doubt she would. I drew up second out and just tried to use the advantage of being on top of the ground."

Crossley will make her second trip to the RNCFR. Having also qualified for RFD-TV's The American Semifinals Rodeo, so she'll likely head south for the winter. She finished 40th in the 2017 WPRA World Standings with $34,782, so she may be running at San Antonio, Texas, as well.

"I haven't made a plan yet for this winter, but I'll be south for at least February, so I'll go from there," she said.

While Bangart had a quiet CRCFR, placing third in the first go for $861. Her $25,147 won the season put her well atop the Columbia River Circuit Standings to earn her first trip to the NCFR.

"I just feel really blessed to be here," said Bangart, who owns an insurance agency. "The competition and people I get to be associated with; it's very humbling. To be in the position that I'm in is very humbling. I'm still in shock. I feel very honored that I get to run with such awesome people."

Bangart split the runs between two geldings that came from Randy and Cheyenne Allan's Diamond Slash Ranch in Mabton, Wash. RCA Three Bugs Honor ("Peak") is an 11-year-old gelding, by the Jet Of Honor son In Honor Of Leo out of the Ninnekah Bug, Moon Lark mare, Moon Lady Bug, that she owns. Streaking Honor Kid ("Good One") is a 13-year-old In Honor Of Leo gelding out of Molly Biankus, by Kiddin N Streakin, that's still owned by the Allans.

Peak was her main money-winner on the year.

"A lot of great horses have quirks; he doesn't have any," she said of the gelding that's she had since he was a 4-year-old. "He's like a puppy. He's in my pocket. If he could come in the house, he would. He's one of those great horses that wants to be your friend. I just can't say enough good things about him. God blessed me with him."

It was Good One, though, that put her at the top of the standings with a $9,854 reserve championship at the Pendleton Roundup. "He's just been phenomenal," she said of the gelding that's been in her barn for four years. "I don't want to call him a back-up horse because he's the one I usually ride indoors and he's the one I rode at Pendleton. He's a cool. He's just awesome. He'd do anything for you and has a bunch of speed."

Bangart never expected to find herself at the top of the circuit.

"My saving grace was Pendleton," she said. "I was second in the standings going into Pendleton. There was a lot of pressure because you can win a lot of money there and I knew I didn't have the indoor horse you needed to compete at our circuit finals. So, I knew I had to get enough money won to hold on to my position." Bangart is considering traveling more in 2018, and may go south a couple of months early before Kissimmee.

"I want to hit a few rodeos like Denver and just see where we land," she said. "I've never ventured off outside Columbia River. If we do, well that's great, but I'm not going to hold my breath and try to blaze a trail. I really want to just see where we land."

by Sherry Morrison
Triple M (Mike Morrison Ministries)

We have been pastors for about 20 years now. And I'm growing in how you deal with people. We are all so different. But there is a tendency in some people to get caught up in the most trivial of things. Years ago we had a lady in our Bible study that was like that. "I can't really understand the Bible until you can tell me what God's last name is.", she said one night. Or the person with the notebook who wanted us to tell her what the 6,000 plus promises in the Bible are. Or, "Since God is a spirit and not a human, does that make Him an alien?" Sometimes my eyes cross and my brain tilts. I'm so black and white that these "deep" things of God just escape me. If you read Col:2:8 in the Amplified Bible, it will encourage you to avoid some of these silly questions.

To me, it's like this. You have this beautiful, magnificent horse. It's right there in front of me in all its wonderfulness (is that a word?). But when I saw it for the very first time, I noticed the chestnut on its leg. "It has a chestnut!!! What is that?! What does it do?! Where did it come from?! Can it help me?! Can it hurt me?! Does it make the horse go fast?!" I get so fixated on that one spot, that I can't even get to know the horse and all the fun we are going to have! THE BIG PICTURE!!!

If you are like that, and you want the answers to those questions, I can promise you that when you asked Jesus to be the Lord of your life (Romans 10:9-10), the closer you come to Him, the more those answers will come. His great love for you will melt away any non-sense and He will reveal Himself to you.....His whole magnificent self and all He has for you and the fun you will have together!!!!

Mike and Sherry Morrison pastor "Church at the Barn" in Gillette, WY. They also travel to other areas ministering at barrel races, ranches, rodeos, churches and home Bible studies. Check out our schedule online. You can also download all Bible studies by visiting our website: m-m-m.org or contact us at: PO Box 2439, Gillette, WY. 82717, 307/685-2272.
