A Grand Victory in SuperStakes

Although it only takes a little over 15 seconds to win $100k in the SuperStakes, there is usually years of preparation, breeding, and training that go into the big moment. This year is no different; the story starts a number of years back when Bunt Kitchens bought a fast filly named Pure Victory Dash (now owned by Sydni Blanchard) off the racetrack. Kitchens started her and trained her and brought her along. When the time came to run the amazingly talented mare, he found Angie GrandPre (now Moore) to jockey.

During Pure Victory Dash's four year old futurity year, she showed her startling speed and talent winning one of the biggest open barrel races in the country, the BBR Finals, and at the end of her futurity year she capped it off with a victory in the BFA Futurity. During her futurity year, Pure Victory Dash was actually pulling double duty. Kitchens wanted to pull an embryo so he put Moore on a mission to find a cool-minded, Future Fortunes stud. That's when Angie stumbled across a banner ad for CEO in the Barrel Racing Report. CEO's owners were giving away a few breedings to kickstart his stud career. Moore set it up and now the future slot race winner, I R A Grand Victory, was on her way. CEO not only sired the SuperStakes winner from his first crop, but he also sired the 8th place horse in the slot race, CEO Kinda Beautiful.

So in the spring of 2009, I R A Grand Victory hit the ground and in good time Kitchens started her and got her going on the barrels just like he did her mother. In fact, it was the same start he gave current futurity superstar, Rlj High Intedsity. Then in the late summer of 2012 it came time to find the jockey for I R A Grand Victory knowing she was pointed to the SuperStakes to run in Danny Ray's slot. Again fate stepped in, as Carol Keith, who owns CEO, recommended Mark Bugni to Bunt Kitchens. Bugni had been training barrel horses for 25 years preparing for an opportunity just like this one. At the Fizz Bomb Futurity in the middle of September, Bugni took his first real exhibitions on I R A Grand Victory.

"From the first time I exhibited her, she was really locked onto the barrels. I really didn't know if she could run at all, but by the third time I exhibited her she started showing her speed and I knew she would be fast enough." said Bugni. As the fall came and went, she exhibited consistently fast, close to the top of the 1D or faster of the Open Race at Victory Farms and at that point, Bugni knew he had a contender.

The week of the SuperStakes, Bugni realized since I R A Grand Victory wasn't actually entered in the Juvenile, she didn't get a real exhibition, only some open arena time with cones over where the barrels would set.

The stage was set for the most exciting hour and a half in barrel racing. "My whole aim was to run her like a rodeo horse, I knew that was the only thing she was aimed for that whole week so I just sent her from the alley to her spot on the first barrel. I knew with this mare I could throw it all to her and she would handle it." related Bugni. "She had smooth, quick first and second barrels, but she got a little extra speed up heading to third and got a little wide and deep. I knew that I left a little time there on the third barrels so I had to sweat out the rest of the runners in the slot race!" Bugni recollected of his money run.

I R A Grand Victory turned in a time of 15.689 and after a little sweating through the other runners became the newest $100k winner in the sport.

When asked about winning $100k in one run, Bugni said, "It is one of those things you dream about for a lot of years. There is really nothing like getting a $100k check. It is really surreal. You really don't feel like you have done anything special, because you just made a good barrel run like you do all the time. After all the interviews and congratulations you start to realize how special it is."

After her victory in the SuperStakes, I R A Grand Victory is now being pointed to the LG ProClassic Slot Race next and then heading to the bigger futurities throughout the year. Also, if it all works out, she may follow in the footsteps of her dam and pull double

Mongomery Keeps It In the Family

Running 3 year old colts for big money in December is risky business but it's a little less risky for a 2-time BFA Futurity Champion. In 2007, Montgomery (then Stewart) rode Jud Little's Sooner Superstar to a BFA Futurity Championship and then in 2010 she rode another Jud Little horse, Aced My Bully, to win her second championship. However, this year Montgomery had a little extra pressure, as Marthas Sixshooter is owned by her inlaws, Nancy & James Baldwin.

"Luckily, Nancy had racehorses in the past and understands the business and how it works. It was really, really fun to win the Juvenile for them." said Montgomery.

Marthas Sixshooter is a 3 year old sorrel gelding by Bug In My Frosty and out of Marthas Moon View by Marthas Six Moons who was bred and raised by Jud Little. Marthas Sixshooter was started by Seth Schafer at the Jud Little Ranch and sold through their production sale where Caroline Dodwell and Bo Tucker bought him. Bo Tucker started the horse on barrels and had him going pretty good. After Bo passed away, Dodwell brought Marthas Sixshooter to Montgomery in April.

Montgomery tells of how her inlaws came to own Marthas Sixshooter, "After riding him a couple months, Caroline decided she wanted something she could ride and he was just too big. She wanted to sell him, so Kerby (her husband) asked me if he was really a nice horse, I said that he was and so Kerby's Mom (Nancy) and stepdad James Baldwin ended up buying the horse." said Montgomery.

The schedule horses must keep to be prepared for the slot races and juvenile races can be grueling but Marthas Sixshooter just kept thriving under the conditions.

“Marthas Sixshooter has been on the barrels for a year and I have worked him on the barrels 4-5 times a week since I have had him. The last 3 months he had been hauled for long distance overnight stays a couple times and hauled to exhibitions at least 3 times a month.” Montgomery related about his work schedule.

As the fall progressed she knew she had a good one, “The last couple months before the BFA he just never messed up, he never drug a barrel down, and he never ran by one, he is really solid and mature acting on the barrel pattern.”

The first run for Montgomery and Marthas Sixshooter was in the SuperStakes on Tuesday night. “In the slot race, I just didn’t send him hard enough, he switched lead about 4 times between the first and second barrel so it cost him a little time, but he turned nice.” Montgomery recalled.

Even though they didn’t have their best run they still bagged 7th Place and $7,500. In the first round of the Juvenile, Marthas Sixshooter had an almost perfect run to win 3rd place with a time of 15.636. In the second round, he was a little tired from a long week of work, but still managed a good run and placed 7th with a time of 15.702. With his consistency, Marthas Sixshooter earned the average title and put his name at the top of the list of horses to watch in 2013. Including the $7500 won in the SuperStakes, Marthas Sixshooter has now won a whopping $21,811.

When asked what advice she had for people wanting to run juveniles, Montgomery commented, “Keep it consistent in your training. When you are riding a juvenile (in competition) you really have to ride the horse each step and stay in the moment. You also have to go down the alleyway confident, but not too confident. In other words, you have to send them in there hard enough to win something without sending them so hard they run off.”

Barrel racing and rodeo as a whole is always a family business and for Montgomery, she will be busy keeping her family in the money in 2013!

RLJ High Intedsity & Monroe Win One More

The 2012 futurity horses have been one of the toughest crops in recent times, just a few of the horses include; Epic Leader, Lk Watch Me Rock, Kn Fabs Mist Of Fame, and Miss Jb 0842. This makes Rlj High Intedsity's win at the BFA Futurity even more amazing.

Brett Monroe and Rlj High Intedsity (Slick) have been to the pay window pretty much every time they run down the alley, from winning 3rd in the BFA Juvenile a year ago to winning the BFA Futurity this year. Along the way this spectacular team has won the Kindergarten Barrel Futurity, Southern Rebel Futurity, East Coast Classic Barrel Futurity JB Quarter Horses Futurity, and was 2nd at the Diamonds & Dirt Barrel Futurity.

Rlj High Intedsity is a 4 year old sorrel gelding by upcoming barrel sire Streakin Again and out of the thoroughbred mare Lite Me Up by Lite The Fuse. He was raised by Randy Jarvis and then Bunt Kitchens broke him and got him well started on the barrels. Kitchens also owns and started I R A Grand Victory, the 2012 SuperStakes winner. Brett Monroe and Homer Beasley tried to buy Slick out of the 2010 BFA Sale from Kitchens but didn't get him bought.

Monroe said, "Homer had wanted me to find him a horse, and he was the one I liked. After the sale, Homer called and asked me what hip number he was, then he called Bunt and bought him. Homer hadn't even see the colt but he bought him because I liked him."

That phone purchase has turned into a better investment than anything on the stock market, earning over $150k and becoming the ultimate consistent professional.

At the BFA, Monroe and Slick jumped out to a fast start winning the 1st Go with a time of 15.207, but when Kassie Mowry and her amazing grey stallion, Epic Leader, laid down a run of 15.034 (the fastest time of the event in the 2nd Go), Monroe knew the pressure was on in the Finals.

"I knew in the Finals I had no choice but to run fast because Kassie had run an 0 (15.034) and a 4 (15.485) so I had to go for it," said Monroe.

Go for it he did, laying down a smoking run of 15.156 in a pressure packed Finals. That great time in the Finals gave them the two run average win by just over a tenth of a second and their runs at the BFA added a whopping $40,642 to their bank account.

"I have been lucky to have some nice horses to ride, but Slick is the kind of horse that is a once in a lifetime kind of horse. Not many people get to ride a horse like him." Monroe said when summing up what the year riding and winning with Slick has been like. "He is a blast to ride. It makes it seem easier than it is. He's a futurity horse but he is more like riding an open horse in the futurities."

When asked what makes this horse so consistently fast Monroe says, "I think he just has so much heart and try. Plus he has a lot of talent. He will always turn hard and try hard."

Now Slick is going to move on to the next phase of his career. After being bought by Dino Chouest for his daughter Allie. Allie and Slick will be running at Open and Youth events under the tutelage of Talmadge Green. If this year is any indication of the rest of his career you will want to look for their names in the results very soon!

Melvin and French Streaktovegass Top Off Big Year

This year's BFA Derby featured some of the top older horses and 5 year old futurity horses in the country including Kiss This Guy, Danita Design, Shake It Frenchie, All Fame No Bull, Missjbrunnin-withfire, and VF Firin Red. But one of the hottest horses throughout the fall, French Streaktovegass and jockey Hallie Melvin topped them all with a smoking short round time of 15.444. This combined with their first run equalled a two run average time of 31.004 gave Melvin & French Streaktovegass the 2012 BFA Derby Championship and the BFA Derby Year End Championship. The team pocketed $7,872 for their efforts over the week.

Owned by Echeta Performance Horses, French Streaktovegass (Streak) is by A Streak Of Fling and out of the full sister to Frenchmans Guy, Pc Frenchmans Flirt, so expectations were high for this horse. This 5 year old roan stud has lived up to them and then some. Through the fall he has won the Fizz Bomb Futurity, Grid Iron Futurity, WPRF Futurity, Hawki Breeders Futurity, JB Quarterhorses Futurity Consolation, and now the BFA Derby Championship. He placed in about every event he has been hauled to and has earned a little over $60k on the year.

At the BFA, Streak and Melvin tipped the first barrel in the first round to win the round, then came back in the second round with a solid run of 15.560 to win 5th and qualify for the Finals. The stage was now set.

"I just knew that if I did my job riding him right, he would do his. He had a great first barrel and I felt like I was back with him. Then he had a great second, the third he came off of a bit but he just kept moving forward so he still clocked." said Melvin.

And clock he did, winning the Finals and the Average. When asked about what makes this horse such a consistent winner, Melvin relates, "He just really loves his job. He loves to run barrels. I think he is so quick in his turns and that combined with his love of running barrels makes him so good. It is funny when you are warming him up he is actually watching them run barrels in the arena."

Now, French Streaktovegass will head back to South Dakota with Melvin for a little rest while she takes her herd to Arizona. After a rest he will be entered in some rodeos and derbies including the Derby at the Diamonds & Dirt in March in Bryan, TX. Of course, she will also be busy hauling him to the vet to keep up with his second career as a stallion.

Melvin when asked about her final thoughts on Streak says, "With him I don't feel like I am on a futurity horse, with the other futurity

Walker Leads the World After Round 6

2012 NFR First Half Wrap Up
December 6-15, 2012, Las Vegas, NV

Round 1

Mary Walker and Latte (Perculatin) continued their amazing journey winning their first ever round at the NFR following a magical year.

Kelli Tolbert and Cleo (Rf Firefly) started right back where they left off in 2010, winning second and running a fast 13.77

Brittany Pozzi kept her position strong in the World Standings by winning third in the round and staying consistent.

Other NFR newcomers Lee Ann Rust on SS Streakers R Us and Christy Loflin on Hpq Smokin Rascal placed 4th and 5th to break the ice.

Lindsay Sears and her great mount Sugar Moon Express caught a barrel, so they will have a little ground to make up to get back in the average.

Round 2

Mary Walker and Latte kept on a roll, winning Round 2 and moving them to #2 in the World Standings within $23k of leader Pozzi.

Benette Barrington-Little and JI Dash Ta Heaven took the second spot for the night and improved on their 1st Round time by almost 3 tenths.

Lindsay Sears and Martha came back strong after a hit barrel in the 1st Round tying for 3rd in the round with Lee Ann Rust and Harley.

Brittany Pozzi and Duke kept getting checks by placing 5th and kept a good position in the average.

Kelli Tolbert, Lisa Lockhart, and Carlee Pierce all hit one barrel.

Carlee Pierce switched horses and rode Im A Royal Design.

Round 3

Mary Walker and Latte won an amazing 3rd Round in a row. Her round win moved her to within $4,500 of Pozzi in the World Standings. She has already won $54,772.

Kelli Tolbert and Cleo came back with a vengeance running another fast time of 13.73 to win second.

Lindsay Sears and Martha kept winning their way back into contention, winning third and moving back to within about $30k of Pozzi.

Sherry Cervi and Stingray are starting to heat up, running their fastest time of the week, a 13.82. Amazingly, Cervi was involved in a 3 way tie for 4th. Cervi, Lisa Lockhart, and Benette Barrington-Little all ran an identical 13.82.

World leader Brittany Pozzi was just out of the money running a 13.91 finishing 7th.

Round 4

Sherry Cervi and Stingray showed just why they average almost $12k a run at the NFR the last 3 years, winning the round with the fastest time of the finals of 13.67. Her run also moved her to second in the average.

Carlee Pierce got back on Rare Dillion and won second for the night running a 13.75.

Lindsay Sears and Martha put in another quick run of 13.81, winning 3rd place money. After her hit barrel in the first round, Sears has now moved up to 8th in the average and is within around $19k of Pozzi.

Benette Barrington-Little and JI Dash Ta Heaven had another nice run of 14.06, they didn't win any round money but moved to #1 in the average.

Mary Walker and Latte hit a barrel and dropped to 6th in the average.

Brittany Pozzi and Duke hit 2 barrels and dropped to 13th in the average so now it will be time to go for the go rounds for Pozzi.

Christina Richman switched horses to a grey horse, Rachael Ross' Jackfork Billie.

Round 5

First time NFR competitor, Kaley Bass and Wonders Cowboy Dan have continued to get faster through the first several rounds of the NFR and in Round 5 they snagged the round win with a 13.68. The run also moved them up to 2nd in the average.

Just one hundredth of a second behind Bass, was another first time NFR competitor, Trula Churchill, who rode A Streak Of Rita to a 13.69.

Sherry Cervi and Stingray stayed solid, winning 3rd in the round and maintaining the #1 position in the average. She is now just $60k out of the world lead.

Mary Walker and Latte returned to form winning fourth in the round. That moved Walker within about $1,500 of Pozzi.

Brittany Pozzi and Duke placed 5th and kept their lead in the World Standings.

Only 4 barrel racers are left without hit barrels; Sherry Cervi, Kaley Bass, Nikki Steffes, and Brenda Mays.

Mary Walker is 5th in the Average with one hit barrel and Lindsay Sears is 6th with her one hit barrel.

Christina Richman switched horses again, and rode a sorrel gelding, Juliejuliejulie, owned by Christy Davidson.

Round 6

Carlee Pierce and Rare Dillion are on their game. They ran a near arena record 13.51 which is the fastest time of the week.

Mary Walker and Latte continue to love Las Vegas as they win second on the night and for the first time for most of 2012, there is a new #1 in the World. Walker now sits #1 with earnings of $204,149 while Brittany Pozzi sits second with $191,280. Walker has now earned $76,857.

Lisa Lockhart made another solid fast run of 13.79 to end up third and continue her strong NFR showing.

Kaley Bass and Cowboy won 4th for the night and moved to #1 in the average.

Sherry Cervi and Stingray took a spill on the second barrel and received a no time. (Justin Sports Medicine Teams Injury Update: Sherry Cervi, Barrel Racer, contusion/sprain left lower leg, probable.)

Christina Richman got back on the sorrel mare, Perfectos Dually.

Only 3 people now have 6 clean runs. 3 more people have 1 hit barrel and the other barrel racers have at least 2 hit barrels.

Triple M (Mike Morrison Ministries)

Some horses have a lot more "try" than others but that desire might not be enough to turn them into champions if they lack physical ability, speed or disposition.

People are like that, too. No matter how hard some try, they just can't cut it in certain areas or careers. Their gifts and expertise lie elsewhere and they need to pray and ask God how they can best serve Him. We should not think less of them or look down on them if they don't measure up to the high standard set for them if they are doing their very best. They probably can excel at something else.

A very wise old minister said it very well years ago. He said consider a pint jar and a quart jar, both filled with water. Both are filled to capacity but the quart holds twice as much as the pint. However, the pint is as full as it can be and doesn't know it holds less.

Don't let rude or unmannerly people spoil your day or derail your prayers by getting into resentment or offense with them. They might not be capable of doing better. Just picture them as pint jars with heads. Pray for them.

There's an old saying that says, "Keep a smile on your face. It'll make people wonder what you're up to!"
