Blackjack—Hailey Kinsel & DM Sissy Hayday Capture Fourth WPRA World Championship

By Tanya Randall

Hailey Kinsel and DM Sissy Hayday, the all-time richest barrel horse, claimed their historic fourth WPRA World Championship, at the National Finals Rodeo, held December 1-10 in Las Vegas. They won five of the 10 rounds and collected $182,783 to win the title. It just happened that the tenth round win, the 21st of their illustrious six NFR appearances, sealed the deal on the world championship.

"21 is a lucky number," said Kinsel. "It's a Vegas number."

That 21st victory was lucky enough to give her a $27,652 edge over defending world champion Jordon Briggs, $302,172 to $274,520.

Kinsel went into the NFR fifth in the WPRA World Standings with $119,390 won on the season. She only ran Sis at 11 of Kinsel's 62 rodeos.

Over the Texas winter run, Kinsel and Sis placed second at Fort Worth, won their third San Antonio title and were third at Rodeo Houston. After taking a break the month of April, she won Guymon for the second straight year in early May.

After Guymon, the 11-year-old mare got an extended break over the summer. Kinsel had originally planned on running the mare at the Reno Rodeo, but a stone bruise while conditioning for the summer run kept Sis out until August.

On their first run back together at Caldwell, Idaho, they won the first round before Kinsel opted to run her young mare TR Judges Doll ("Reese"), a 6-year-old daughter of Judge Cash and *Ran TR Judges Doll ("Reese") in the 2nd Go due to position on the ground.

Ran Reese in the Finals to win $6,500 rather than put two runs on Sister in less than 2 hours.

TR Dashing Badger ("Dolly"), due to an unfavorable draw on the ground.

Kinsel and Sis dominated in Washington State, winning Ellensburg and taking second at Bremerton and Kennewick. The worst that they placed was 9th in Walla Walla.

They picked up $5,400 at the NFR Playoff's in Puyallup, Washington, before Kinsel jumped back on Reese for the Finals. She didn't want to put two runs on Sis in such a short time span in less than ideal air conditions with the nearby wildfires.

Sis's last rodeo of the season was Albuquerque, New Mexico, on the way home to Stephenville, Texas.

"I tipped the third barrel," lamented Kinsel. "It was barely a bump. That was the only barrel that I hit during the regular season. I was pretty bummed about that because I tipped to place there."

Sis didn't make another run until her first in Las Vegas.

Kinsel spent the summer seasoning youngsters—Damon and Donna Hodges's DH Jess Stellar ("Jules"), Jeff Varner's VQ Non-stop Stinson ("Valentina") and her own mare Reece. She also had veteran Thunder Stones ("IJ") if she needed him.

She said bringing the young ones along is important to extending Sis's career.

"It wasn't a big priority that I go win on Reese and Val," she said, "(Hauling them this summer) was just an opportunity for them to learn and grow. Reese, I didn't even intend to get on her. I was just hauling her along to start seasoning her. She was handling all of that so good I thought 'Well, I guess I'll put her in somewhere.' She took to it pretty quickly. Val was kind of the same way."

How The World Was Won

When she was younger, Sis may have needed a run or two to get sharp for the NFR, but not anymore. Kinsel just focused on getting the mare in shape.

"I just wanted to have her in shape, but I didn't think it was going to take runs to do that for her," she said. "I didn't want to use up any runs on her. The thing about the Thomas & Mack is it's helpful to have timing with your horse, but it's never going to be THAT timing until you're there. You can't practice that particular timing."

She never even cruised the mare through the pattern at the pre-rodeo practices.

"I tried to trot her through at the first practice but she stopped at the first barrel and snorted at the camera pit and barely walked around it after that," Kinsel laughed. "I walked her back through and that was about it. I never got her out of a trot at the most. I did get on her on or pony her during the open arena and just walk or trot big circles. That was pretty much it. I wasn't really working on anything other than letting them go back in and see it when it's quiet because those perms are so intense."

The only thing Kinsel underestimated was how strong Sis likes to get running to the first barrel, and it cost them a five-second penalty in the first round.

"She always wants to run really fast to the first barrel," she said. "That's something she's done since she was young. I'll let her take off a little more indoors but generally anywhere I have a little bit of a hold of her going to the first because she will be a little strong and run by it. That cost me twice at the NFR this year. In the first round, I forgot how much I was going to need to hold her running to the first. It was a little bit of an 'Oops, welcome back!' That set my second barrel up funky."

Kinsel and Sis made up for the mistake with two straight round wins, followed by a fourth place finish in Round 4, and a split victory with Lisa Lockhart in Round 5.

In Round 6, the Kinsel crew caught the Vegas Crud and was off her game, while Sis was still getting stronger.

"She was getting confident and stronger, and I was super sick that day and dizzy," Kinsel related. "When she took off I was not as with her as I would have liked to have been. She's not

BIT: Johnson Hack

HEADGEAR: Tiedown

SADDLE: Martin Stingray

SADDLE PAD: Classic Equine Zone Pad

LEG GEAR: Classic Equine Legacy II on front, polo wraps on rear, Dyno No Turn Bells

SHOES: Aluminum on front, plain steel on rear.

FEED: Purina Strategy

HAY: Coastal and alfalfa

NFR THERAPIES: "After her runs, we'd do a lot of hot walking. Even the walk back from the alleyway, they're walking fast and not calm. We'd go back to the stalls, unsaddle and either walk some more or put her ice boots on (30 minutes on those). Water. Platinum Renew. We'd take the horses out for another walk and let her roll before putting her up for the night. Sometimes we'd do liniment on her legs other times we'd leave them alone. We'd get her out and walk her every day. She'd get a massage every day before we'd saddle. Mom would get her out in the afternoon and go pony her. I think that movement makes such a big difference in working out any soreness they've got." They stayed on the NFR grounds rather than hauling in and out. "It saved us hours on our day. It's hard that they are in stalls and they are small so you do have to get them out and make sure that they're comfortable. Mom was able to be there the whole time and take care of all of that."

TRAINING/CONDITIONING: Daily riding; No pre-NFR runs: "I've done it both ways where you make warmup runs, but I don't really see a big difference for her. I think every horse is different. I just focused on conditioning at home, knowing that she was comfortable there."

SPONSORS: Teton Ridge LLC, Classic Equine, Purina, Platinum Performance, Bloomer Trailers, Yeti, 12 Gauge Ranch, Capital Farm Credit Agri-Insurance, Signature Equine Hospital, Community Coffee, Ariat.

SPECIAL THANKS: "My mom for being the real MVP behind the scenes, not just at the NFR, but all year; my dad for his willingness to help and plug-in whenever and wherever needed; my brother and sister-in-law for their commitment to big time support as well; Jeff Varner and the Hodges family for being a part of the team this year; and my horses that contributed to this: Sister, of course, with assists from Jules, TJ, Valentina and Reese."

always an easy joy ride to the first barrel, so when she does shake her head and take off I have to be present with her."

Kinsel was a little better for Round 7, thanks to an intravenous fluid pick-me-up that morning, but she and Sis were out of placing. "When I didn't place in Round 7, I knew I needed to win a lot the next three days,” she said. “I just went at it as, ‘Well we’re going to try to win a lot the next three rounds anyway, because you can put yourself back in contention—great—if not, you win money!’” Kinsel and Sis were fourth in Round 8 before running the two fastest runs of the NFR the next two nights.

“After winning Round 9, I knew I had a legitimate shot (at the world title),” she said, “but I also knew I was really low in the average and would have to rely on go-round money. I figured I was going to place really good, top three at least, but I didn’t know exactly what the numbers were.”

Kinsel was working extra hard to keep Sis moving on the backside of her turns. In Round 9, she shoved her hand so far up Sis’s neck at the second barrel that the reins flipped over her head.

“She was just so snappy all week,” said Kinsel. “Even up to the end, I was shoving my hand up her neck to get her to take one more step! Please!”

“When she really started to get snappy on the backside is when we started getting really fast the last three rounds. Those were my fast third barrels back there. We had our timing things to work out at the beginning of the week, but by the end we were peaking ... and it’s Round 9!”

The daughter of six-time WPRA World Champion Sire PC Frenchmans Hayday out of Royal Sissy Irish, by Royal Shake Em, maybe ready to go 10 more rounds, but she’s got a month break ahead of her.

“Sis will just chill until Fort Worth,” said Kinsel. “If she’s ready, we’ll start there. ‘I know Sis won’t last forever. I want to go to places that fit both of us the most. I want to make those runs count.’”

Kinsel said she’s going to continue to focus on her young horses too.

“Reese and Val are both still derby mares and I need to take advantage of the big money ones because they only have so long that they can run at that money,” she said. “I’m going to try to make those a priority as well.”

Sister & Kinsel came back from a hit barrel in Round 1 to smoke a 13.61 in Round 2. In their 6th trip to the NFR; according to our calculations this is the 17th round win for this pair!... NFR Rookie Margo Crowther rode Shes Packin Fame like a veteran to win 2nd in the Round... Steal Money & Johnson has another quick run to win 3rd... there were 6 hit barrels on the night which leaves only 8 ladies have clean runs through 2 rounds.

Namgis D 33 & Emily Beisel smoked a 13.60 to win Round 4. They actually would have won Rounds 2 & 3 if it weren't for some barely tipped barrels. They have run fast all week, 13.82, 13.57, 13.53 and now a 13.60. . . Shes Packin Fame & Crowther continue to impress in their first time at the NFR winning 2nd in the Round. . . Promise Me Fame Guys & Lockhart continue to improve getting 3rd in the round and move to #1 in the average. . . Sister & Kinsel won another check to close the gap between her & Briggs in the World Standings to around $13k. . .

Kinsel & Lockhart both continue their hot 2022 NFRs tying for the win in Round 5 with a 13.52. That's the fastest round winning time up to Round 5. Their win pushed Kinsel past Briggs into #1 in the World Standings by about $3k & Lockhart to #4 in the World about $55k behind Kinsel while she continues to lead the Average. . . Kinsel has already won $105,835 at the 2022 NFR. . . Mowry and her former futurity trainee CP He Will Be Epic ran a fast 13.57 for 3rd. . . Briggs also placed in the round & is second in the Average to keep her in drivers seat through Round 5 for the World Title.

15	Force The Goodbye	18 br. g.	The Goodbye Lane-VF Forcit First, Burrs First Down	Kassie Mowry		19.14 (+5/3rd)

When we look back at the final standings for 2022 at the end of 10 rounds of NFR; Round 6 may be the turning point... Tonozzi & Beisel were 2nd and 2nd from last on the ground and both flew through the pattern to a 13.57... On a night where she got her Rookie of the Year Buckle between the Tie Down Roping & Barrels and then had to immediately run to jump on her horse since she was the 1st barrel racer out, Bayleigh Choate rode Hail To Be Famous to a nice 3rd place check in pressure packed circumstances... Lockhart just kept being consistent running a quick 13.64 giving her a 4th place check and pushing her to an almost .6 second lead in the Average on a night where Briggs & Kinsel both hit barrels... could this be the year for 16 time NFR Qualifier Lockhart??... there were 6 hit barrels in Round 6. . .

15 High Valor	09 s. g.	Valiant Hero-Rare High, Rare Form	Dona Kay Rule		19.05	(+5 1st)

Steal Money & Wenda Johnson kept running fast and won their 2nd Round of the 2022 NFR. NFR Rookie Leslie Smalygo & Justaheartbeattofame came back from hit barrels two night in a row to earn 2nd in the round. Famous Lil Jet & Briggs bounced back from a hit barrel in Round 6 to place 4th moving back to the top of the World Standings. Johnson leads the average while HR Fameskissandtell and Morgan continue to make solid runs and sit 2nd in the Average. Both Kinsel & Lockhart hit barrels which would have won the round; it may be a blow to their world title hopes.

NFR Rookie finally broke through to win the round! Smalygo & Justaheartbeattofame won the run with the fastest time of the NFR so far with a 13.41. Namgis D 33 & Beisel continued to run fast times running a 13.43 and winning 2nd. It's safe to say Lockhart has her horse of the future with Promise Me Fame Guys; he continues to run and placed for the 6th time in 8 nights winning 3rd. After barely qualifying to the NFR, Lockhart has already won $114,695. Sister & Kinsel placed to push their way back in front of Briggs for #1 in the World. Johnson hit the 3rd barrel; letting Morgan move into #1 in the Average!

In one of the fastest rounds in NFR history, Sister & Kinsel blasted a 13.34 to make a strong statement towards pushing for a 4th World Title; and it took a 13.59 to place. From looking back through old issues, the other fastest round we found, was Round 3 from the 2017 NFR which Sister & Kinsel also won when they set the arena record of 13.11 and it took a 13.67 to place. Round 8 from this NFR took a slightly faster time to place a 13.58 (compared to a 13.59) but the winning time was slower. However you stack it, the last 2 rounds of the NFR have been smoking fast! Beisel continued to shine at the NFR running a 13.38 and winning 2nd. Morgan ran her fastest time of the week, pushing her lead in the average to about 1.5 seconds going into the 10th round. Lockhart placed again for the 7th time in 9 nights! Kinsel, Briggs, Morgan, Johnson and Lockhart have a chance to win a World Title depending on what happens!

Sister & Kinsel left no question in the world title race; blasting a 13.35 and winning the round from the 2nd position on the ground. Another NFR Rookie Crowther had a beautiful run to win second. Morgan finished out her week strong in 3rd place to lock down the NFR Average Title. Briggs placed 5th in the Round but needed to win the round and Kinsel not to place for a world title; she had great runs all week and ended up the Reserve World Champion. 5 people ended up winning over $100k. Sister & Kinsel won their 4th World Title and have also been Reserve Champion 2 Times. Morgan's Average win pushed her to #3 in the World. After Lockhart barely made the NFR, she and her new grey superstar made $168k and pushed their way to #4 in the World!

That's what newly crowned NFR Champion Shelley Morgan and her great mare HR FamesKissAndTell did. They averaged 13.72 on their 10 runs in the tiny confines of the Thomas & Mack Center in Las Vegas and were one of only two of the 15 teams to make 10 clean runs.

"Even before I ran down the alleyway on the tenth run, God already knew what was going to happen," said the four-time NFR qualifier from Eustace, Texas.

"It was going to be what it was going to be. I just had to go do my job and let Kiss do her job. Whatever happens, happened. We're going to leave knowing we gave it our best. It worked out and I'm extremely glad!"

Morgan and Kiss placed in seven of the 10 rounds to win the aggregate by 1.7 seconds ahead of Rookie Champion Bayleigh Choate and her two horses Hail To Be Famous ("Dash") and TJR Stinson Blue ("Boozier"). The $74,150 aggregate championship jumped Morgan's NFR earnings to $154,569. She went into the NFR sixth with $110,461 and finished third with $265,030.

"It's just incredible what Kiss has done for us," said Morgan. "It's just another medal in her hat. I'm just so happy for her. About round seven or eight, I was just sitting in the alley, thinking about what she's done for us. She's an animal and doesn't have to do it, but she's done it because we've asked her to. I'm sitting in the alley, the barrels have already started and I have big ole tears rolling down my face! I was just petting her and telling her thank you. Thank you for everything. I have a ton of appreciation for her and what she's done for us, not just this year... She's been amazing this year. She won The American. She did amazing this summer and got us back to the NFR and now she wins the NFR average? Besides winning the world, what else can she do?"

Morgan purchased the 8-year-old mare, by CEO out of Fames Fiery Kiss, by Dash Ta Fame, as a 3-year-old. Kiss's breeder Elizabeth Hayes had sent the mare to Morgan in the spring of her third year. Although she's not into aged events, Kiss went to a few futurities, starting with the BFA Juvenile her third year. "I bought her before I ran her because I thought I wouldn't be able to afford her after," said Morgan.

Kiss went to a few rodeos as a 4-year-old and then they "tested the waters" on a summer run as a 5-year-old. Things went well enough that summer that they were within striking distance of an NFR qualification. However, rather than push the issue with her precocious mount, Morgan and her husband Rex made the decision to come home.

"If I had gone to the Northwest and she had kept doing well, the NFR was a possibility,” said Morgan. “She was only 5, and we just didn’t think she needed to keep going, so we came home. Now look what I have.”

That good summer and quick exit to the season set them up for a strong 2020. They made the NFR that winter and have every year since.

Last year was their first trip to Las Vegas since their first NFR was in the backyard in Arlington, Texas, due to COVID. Their first Vegas experience was a seventh place finish in the aggregate and more than $107,000 in earnings.

Like last year, Kiss got stronger as the rodeo went forward. They made their fastest three runs in the last three rounds when the aggregate was on the line.

“My husband and I discussed a lot the last two rounds,” she said. “You say you’re going to do this or not let her do that and that’s how you mess up. If you do something different and hit a barrel, you’re mad at yourself for not doing what you always do. The whole time our plan was don’t do anything that you haven’t done all year long. Just keep doing what you’re doing. Even though we had nine clean rounds, we still went for it on the tenth.”

Their tenth run was one of their best.

“She did feel pretty free and honest on that last run, especially that third barrel,” she said. “The second scared me a little. She’s pretty honest on that one.”

She noted that her first was definitely less scary.

“She got to where she was coming in and hanging a hard right,” said Morgan. Kiss always, always finds her first barrel. “I was trying to get her to stand up. I sent her a little more up the middle in the tenth round so I could get her to not triangle the barrel—that’s normally when I might catch it leaving it. I needed her to go up the middle just a tiny bit more, not a lot that you could even tell, just it would make my turn better on the backside.”

ALTERNATIVE THERAPIES: Professional’s Choice Ice Boots, PHT blanket, Flair Strips, BEMER; cared for by Madison McCafferty and looked over by Josh Harvey, DVM, at the NFR. Kiss was treated with the BEMER blanket daily. Every night after she ran, they iced Kiss’s legs and then alternated between poulticing and wrapping her legs with Runner’s Relief.

TRAINING/CONDITIONING: Mostly rest and light riding between hauls and runs; Kiss’s only practice run for the NFR was the Elder Dodge Shootout NFR Style Open 4D in Athens. “She didn’t even place but was in the 1D,” noted Morgan.

SPONSORS: Eagle Security Systems, Bluebonnet & Stride Animal Health, 5-Star Equine Products, Western Dove, Ship Shop, 4E Suite Stall Mats, The Muffler & Hitch Shop, Rock N Roll Denim/Panhandle Western Wear, Shiloh Saddlery.

Morgan said that Kiss will get a big break until the Fort Worth Stock Show & Rodeo at the end of January.

“She’s going to get a big break,” she said. “She’s not going to do anything but get lots of hugs and kisses.”

AIRWAY EQ

“Air-Way EQ is the first product I have seen work in aiding airway/lung health and help clear up a cough. I use Breathe’O2 paste for pre-run support, it also helps clear the airway, allowing him to breathe easier and work harder.”

Beall & Slick Swingin Win the OKC Futurity

By Britany Diaz

Benjamin Beall and his equine partner, Slick Swingin, better known as Slinger, found themselves on top of the leaderboard when the dust settled at the Oklahoma City Futurity held on December 6-11 in Oklahoma City, OK. The duo placed third in the second go-round with a time of 15.44 seconds, qualifying them for the short go. Beall and Slinger ran their fastest time in the short go, running a 15.320, to secure the championship title and the win in the average with a combined time of 30.76 seconds. The team added $32,562 to their career earnings for their efforts.

The Oklahoma City Futurity is held in the Oklahoma City Fairgrounds Coliseum. This was the first year the futurity was changed to allow 5-year-old futurity colts to compete. The $50,000 added futurity brought 261 tough futurity horses to Oklahoma City for their chance at the championship title. It consisted of two go-rounds, with the top 40 times qualifying for the short go. The winner was determined from the fastest average time from the qualifying time combined with the short-go time.

The team of Beall and Slinger actually got a no-time in the first go-round. They came back on the same side of the first barrel. Beall obviously knows how to move forward and not dwell on a bad run as they regrouped and still managed to come out on top. "When I came out after my first run, I immediately took him over to Outlaw Equine's vet, Nate Lee. When I knew he was ok, I decided to focus on our next run and not dwell on the first one. Take it one run at a time," said Beall.

Slinger is by NFR stallion, Slick By Design, and out of the great mare, Hip Swingin Gypsy by Firewaterontherocks. The 2017 sorrel gelding is owned by Josh and Ashley Harvey. Slinger was lightly started on the pattern by Wyatt Paul, but the reins were then handed over to Benjamin Beall, which turned into a winning combination. Beall shared, "I pretty much rode him out in the pasture for the first two months I had him. He was just a little fragile and sensitive or reactive to every move I made. We didn't start out the greatest. We were trying to play catch up at the beginning of the year. I sometimes get myself in trouble by being too patient with them, but he was one that I needed to be patient with. We didn't start out breaking records or even placing. I took a break half ways through the year and stayed close to home. Wyatt Paul talked me into going to Wyoming in August and to hit the road a little harder. He really started to come on with more runs. He gained more confidence with each run he made. I still remained patient with him while hauling him, but let him tell me what he could handle and what he couldn't. The more I hauled him, the more solid he became. Slinger doesn't trust a lot of people, but he trusts me."

The duo of Beall and Slinger has earned around $216,000 in 2022. The team has undoubtedly had a great futurity year. Beall and Slinger are coming off of the big win at the Pink Buckle Futurity in October. They have kept their momentum going strong through some of the toughest futurities. They have won on a big standard pattern and in the smaller arenas as well. "He is pretty easy to ride. He is more of a free-runner. You don't ride him aggressive, but sit and ride him through his turn. At the beginning of the year we struggled with the smaller pens, but by being patient with him and riding him the same in every situation, we figured out how to win in many different set-ups," said Beall.

This year was Beall's first year to compete at the Oklahoma City Futurity. The only time he had ever had success in Oklahoma City was in 2016 at the Better Barrel Racing Finals, where he finished second. Beall hadn't been back since then. Beall is originally from Winnsboro, Louisiana. "My family and my cousins all rodeo. We used to junior high and high school rodeo, along with little britches and 4-H rodeo. I grew up on a horse. I tried to rope a little bit, but I didn't like it and always ended up on the back of a barrel horse. When I was a little kid, I would be out running around three 5-gallon buckets and hitting myself on the leg with a whip. I was pretty much going around three barrels since I could walk," laughed Beall. Beall moved to Texas four years ago to try to meet new people and be around other successful barrel racing futurity trainers. That move has proven itself to be one that was definitely intended for Benjamin. He has now had many successful horses and finds himself amongst the toughest futurity trainers. He is living his life doing exactly what he has always wanted to do.

Beall shared some advice for anyone aspiring to be a barrel racing futurity trainer. "Just get out there and do it. Ask as many questions as you want, because everyone is nice and willing to answer. Watch as many training videos as you can, along with what people are doing in their exhibitions. Pay attention to others that are winning on horses of similar breeding to what you are on. If you have a certain style, find someone who has a similar style and watch them. Go about your own natural way of training, don't try to change anything that is natural to you."

The future looks bright for the team of Beall and Slinger. They have qualified for the Eastern American Semi-Finals with hopes to compete at the American. With wins at some of the biggest futurities and biggest barrel races, we know we will see them in the winners circle again. "Slinger did exactly what I wanted him to do. He finished the year strong and we ended with a better horse than when we started," shared Beall.

Beall runs Slinger in an Ed Wright Combo with a three-piece twist dogbone and long shank. He uses Classic Equine Legacy sport boots for protection. Beall rides a Robbie Phillips saddle and a 3S Custom Equine pad. Slinger eats Profecta by Seminole feeds and OE Neutraceuticals for supplements.

Beall has a great support group. He is thankful for Outlaw Equine, Josh and Ashley Harvey, The Hills and Palmore's of Southwestern Farms, Shaun Sandoval with Custom 3S Equine, Wyatt Paul and many of his friends and family. No matter what discipline you do, it takes a village.

Wheeler & Streakin Moon Flash Triumph at OKC Rookie Futurity for Mission Ranch

By Tanya Randall

Brian Wheeler of Summit, Mississippi, has started out the 2023 futurity season in winning form. After taking the reserve championship at the BFA Juvenile aboard the 3-year-old colt SBW FeelinThePressure, owned by his mom Stephanie, Wheeler piloted Mission Ranch's homebred Streakin Moon Flash ("Demi") a $17,599 victory at the OKC Rookie Futurity, held December 6-11 at the State Fair Park in the Oklahoma capital.

"I thought that was kind of cool to be second at one and win the next one on another," said Wheeler, who left SBW FeelinThePressure at home this trip.

Mission Ranch's Kim Matthews said she always thought there was something special about Demi.

"I've said that from Day 1," said Matthews of Wynne, Arkansas. "Maybe it's because she's a bay mare and that's my favorite. We're just very blessed and happy for the opportunity to have her. Hopefully they'll be more like her in the pipeline."

Matthews raised the daughter of First Moonflash out of Guys Streakin Angel ("Kippy"), a Frenchmans Guy, Streakin Six that her daughter Taycie ran for several years.

"I bought her for my youngest daughter when she was about 9 or 10," explained Kim Matthews. "Taycie won all kinds of things on her, from big barrel races to rodeos. She was a great mare."

Matthews later sold Kippy to the Orman family, who have continued to win on the mare.

"It used to be that I'd sell them once they reached double digits, but now I just keep them all," she chuckled. "They were looking for a good horse so we sold them Kippy. She's made an awesome horse for them. She's been to the Little Britches Finals, Jr High Finals, High School Finals. They're still running her some."

Prior to the sale, Matthews pulled a First Moonflash embryo out of the mare. The late stallion's veterinarian advised Matthews to wait to run her baby.

"He told me to wait and run my baby as a 5-year-old because First Moonflash matured late," she explained. The late stallion won seven Grade 1 Stakes races from November of his third year through his fourth, and nearly $500,000 of his nearly $1 million in earnings as a 4-year-old. "I've always kept that in the back of my mind. When she was born that was the first thing that I said, 'We're not running her until she's a 5-year-old.'"

Demi was sent to Wheeler in the middle of her second year.

"As far as I know, I'm the only one that's been on her back," said Wheeler. "It wasn't hard to train her, but it took a little time to get her broke and soft and riding like I wanted her to feel. Once I got her riding like I like, training her on the barrels came easy to her. She's been a lot of fun. I've liked her from the beginning." She was doing so well as a 3-year-old that Wheeler asked Matthews if she was sure she wanted to wait another year.

"I tried to talk her out of it for just a minute," said Wheeler. "Last January-February, she was right where she needed to be to run. I'm not crazy about holding them. I like running them as 3's into 4-year-olds. Kim made that call and obviously it was the right one." When the filly kicked the fence later that year and fractured a splint bone, Matthews saw it as a sign.

"When we have a splint we always have to do surgery because it's never something simple if it's one of mine!" laughed Matthews. "That's just my luck. She had the surgery and was out for a couple of months, and I was like, 'That's my sign!' We're holding her for a 5-year-old. So that's what we did."

Demi made her competitive debut against seasoned horses at the BFA Futurity.

"She did pretty good," said Wheeler. "I just wanted to feel her out the first show. She ran a 16.1 the first day. I didn't put a whole lot of pressure on her. I went to BFA with the mindset of 'Let's make two, smooth runs, if we make the finals great, if not, we're getting ready for Oklahoma City, Perry (Georgia) and Memphis.'"

The $35,000-added Rookie Futurity in Oklahoma City was a leveler playing field for the older first-timers as it was open to both 3- and 4-year-olds starting their futurity career and drew 436 entries.

At Oklahoma City, Wheeler and Demi were 11th in the first round with a 15.757 and second in the next round with a 15.433 to win the aggregate in 31.190.

"I really liked my draw," said Wheeler, who wanted to thank Matthews for the opportunity to ride the mare and his mother for all her help. "I was 77 and 76 was a scratch. I love being first or second out and I think that matters a lot at Oklahoma City, in my opinion. I just wanted to make a nice smooth run the first day and stay out of her way. She's the kind that you let her go and guide her through there. The less you do the better she is. It just worked."

$50,000 Payday for Boucher & KN Lil Bit Of Heaven

Anyone who has followed the futurity scene over the last couple years has starting seeing the name Caroline Boucher. In 2020 Boucher claimed the Pink Buckle Futurity Championship and put her name on the map! Boucher has just been placing all over since. We caught up with her to talk with about her OKC Slot Race win on her uber talented 3 yr old JL Dash Ta Heaven gelding out of a Designer Red/Streakin Six mare.

BRR: Kn Lil Bit Of Heaven had placed in the Average at the BFA Juvenile. What had you been doing to keep him progressing and peak in the OKC Slot Race?

Boucher: He has always been very confident to run and willing naturally to turn barrels, so I always keep him slower. We were waiting to let him get stronger physically and more mature mentally. At the BFA, I kept him listening to me, not running full speed nor pushing him; I really wanted to have clean/smooth runs, we wanted him to have this experience but our goal was to let him run in the slot race (at OKC). At the slot race, He was light and smooth during the run, it was the first time I was let him run at the speed he wanted, I knew we had a nice run but I was not expecting to be that fast. I was surprised and happy for sure, but couldn't believe it was happening!

BRR:Can you share with us a couple key things during the training process you feel are common in developing your futurity horses?

Boucher: In our training program, we always work on having balanced horses that travel without always needing the rider. Doing lots of lines, perfect circles, forward motion, build confidence to turn by themselves and focus on keeping them paying attention to the riders little cues.

BRR: What are a few training exercises (drills) you do with most of your barrel horses?

Boucher: As Drills, we are doing lots footwork with 4 barrels very close to each other, counter arcs, spins in forward motion.

BRR: I know you run at the futurities in Canada as well. Are there any major differences between running there and here in the US?

Boucher: We have a pretty nice circuit of Futurities in Eastern Canada (Quebec), there is good horses/riders, the difference is that there is around + or - 50 horses in each futurity show compared to huge amount of entries in USA. During summer's months, weather is nice but beside that there is very cold weather (in Canada) so there are no competitions. Traveling all the miles between USA and Canada gives good experience for the young horses. They learn early to be hauled and we sleep in few horses hotels; so they load/unload in new environments each night. It sure probably helps them maturing and being ready for their first year of competition.

BRR: What are your future plans throughout 2022-2023 for you and your horse?

Boucher: For 2022-2023 we are focusing on Futurities, we have a nice crew of young horses, so if all goes well we will follow the futurity circuit. We always do 1-2 jackpots/exhibitions per week, not with all the horses, the ones that needs extra hauling or the younger ones.

BRR: What are three things (other than truck, trailer, horses and such) that you can't travel without?

Boucher: Sounds maybe cliché but hard to travel without my husband and my dogs.

Scamper Cole Crushes Another Goal at OKC Futurity

By Hope Raley

Scamper Cole has had a spectacular season and she just closed it out with a huge win at the OKC Futurity aboard her freakishly talented derby horse, Ima Epic Hustler. The 6-year-old gelding by Epic Leader and out of Mitzi Bar None by Bar Sans Leo has been a force to reckon with since his futurity year and he just continues to get stronger every year.

Scamper also had some colts in the futurity and the rookie at OKC, but she noted that they all had some ground trouble. Nothing major, but just couldn't quite find their footing. But when it came down to the derby, Ima Epic Hustler "Hustler" showed up. In the first round of the OKC Derby, Scamper and Hustler finished 6th with a 15.524. But when the second round rolled around, Hustler told Scamper to hold her beer because he laid one down to not only win the second round of the derby but clock over a half-of-a-second faster than their first round run and fastest run of the entire week!

Scamper and the chestnut gelding won the average of the derby by over 3-tenths of a second, putting on a show in the second round (a 15.085 & fastest time of the whole week).

"Both of our runs felt good, but our second run felt absolutely phenomenal," explained Scamper. "I got a great start, which I was trying super hard to do and he nailed his first barrel and left super straight for the second barrel. He was booking it to the third barrel but we ran out a little wide and deep towards the first barrel and just missed it by about a step or two! Running home I couldn't find my whip, so I just kept tapping him on the neck to keep him running all the way out."

Scamper explained that although she knew the run itself felt smooth and fast, she had no idea it would clock the way that it did. "He is so special because he always tries. He can run wide open to a barrel and get super close, and he is the most honest horse that I have ever ridden."

One thing many people have noticed is that Scamper only seems to ride the geldings. While that has not always been the case, Scamper explains that she prefers to stay on the geldings simply because she gets along with them better.

"I have had several mares throughout my lifetime and just never clicked with them like I have my boys," said Scamper. "About every five years I'll get the itch to try a mare, but it always ends the same. So now, if I have a filly born on my place, they are for sale the day that they hit the ground. I am happy to ride mares for other people, but I only ride geldings for myself."

"I love everything about OKC. The alley, the stalls, the stands, the restaurants, everything is great at OKC and Ross and the entire crew at Better Barrel Races have worked so hard to make the OKC Futurity a great event. They have done an amazing job with the prizes, payout; everything is top notch with them!"

When asked about what the future holds for herself and Hustler, Scamper has no desire to rodeo. Instead, she's very grateful to the producers who have added 8-year-old derbies and will continue to take her derby horses to run at the great money that events such as Pink Buckle, Royal Crown, and Ruby Buckle offer.

Seasoned, Consistent Youth Barrel MarePERKSTERS MS KITTY

Perkster-JK Lonesum Kitty, JK Copper Bruce

$25,000 - 13 year old gray mare - Seasoned, Consistent Youth Suitable!

This mare has been hauled and won money in all levels of competition from jackpots, youth rodeos, amateur rodeos and anything in-between. Push style and very consistent. 1D/2D horse. Runs in mud, large or small pattern doesn't matter. Raised in South Dakota. She is sound and requires no maintenance.

She catches, loads, hauls and stands at the trailer all day. Goes with all horses and takes care of herself. Stands well for the farrier. We have used her in the pasture to chase cows, roped on her, and have ridden her on wagon trains. She would be a perfect youth, high school, or college horse. She would even be a nice horse for the weekend jackpottier as she doesn't care to be hauled alone. Will run poles as well. A good home is a must. Please no tire kickers. Videos available.

Stetson Wright caps epic season with all-around, bull riding titles at NFR

Stetson Wright capped his Wrangler NFR season for the ages Saturday night.

Wright set the single-season PRCA earnings record ($927,940), all-around single-season record ($758,829), bull riding single-season record at $592,144 and bull riding earnings at the NFR at $271,545, counting ground money before 17,788 spectators at the Wrangler National Finals Rodeo presented by Teton Ridge.

"This year has been the best and the hardest year I have had in the PRCA," said Wright, 23. "It started off really hot, moving to No. 1 in the world in broncs and bulls. And it kind of didn't slow down from that point on. But I had a few injuries where I had to have surgery, sit out and miss some rodeos. When you are missing stuff like that, you don't feel like you are doing your best. I had to learn a lot of patience. I had to trust everything my mom and dad said when I needed to sit out. I learned that if you wait and get healthy, you will do a lot better."

The Milford Utah, cowboy now has seven career world championships – four in all-around (2019-22); two in bulls (2020 and 2022) and saddle bronc riding (2021).

Wright also placed in 15 out of the combined 20 rounds he competed in saddle bronc riding (seven) and bull riding (eight) at the Thomas & Mack Center. Wright finished fourth in the saddle bronc riding PRCA | RAM World Standings with $335,797.

"I didn't think it was," said Wright when asked about winning more than $900,000 in one season. "I feel like I have shocked myself a lot this year. It came with patience and trusting that everything would be all right. That was what this year was about."

Wright was quick to point out he has no plans of taking his foot off the gas pedal.

"I love breaking my own records because that means I did better than I did the year before," Wright said. "That's my goal to be better. I feel like what I have done this year, I feel like I can do even better if I stay healthy and don't miss anything. I really feel like I can do better and break more records."

Tie-down roper Caleb Smidt collects fourth world and average titles

Smidt, a model of consistency, earned a PRCA tie-down roping single-season record $374,737. He also earned an NFR tie-down roping record of $225,221.

"It's unbelievable. Just what I have accomplished is beyond my imagination," Smidt said. "My belief in God and the horse I have, and my family pushed me to be better every day. It's a tough sport to even do this. To leave your family in the summer to make it here is hard, and it's a long 10 days here. It's an unbelievable blessing to do this. And to have the success I have had and great friends I rope against every day who encourage me to be who I am, it's amazing. I am happy for my family. They have been supporting me all week. I do it for them, for the fans and I give all the glory to God."

Smidt won the average with an 82.5-second time on 10 head. He also won world and average titles in 2015, 2018, 2021-22. Smidt is tied with tie-down ropers Olin Young (1959, 1962-63, 1971); Roy Cooper (1976, 1979, 1983, 1995); and Fred Whitfield (1991, 1997, 1999, 2002) for most NFR average wins.

"I don't even think I would have a gold buckle without him," said Smidt of his star horse Pockets. "That's how good he is. The consistency he gives me every time I nod my head. It's unbelievable. When I am back in there, and I know it's all on me to win something, it's pretty easy. I don't have to worry about my horse. A lot of guys this week were switching horses to try to find something that works. When I ride on him, I know I have a chance. When you have a horse that does the exact same thing every time it gives you a chance. He's going to do his job."

Steer wrestler Tyler Waguespack claims fourth world crown

Tyler Waguespack is no stranger to winning world championships – but his fourth world title on Saturday night was a bit improbable.

The favorites to win the world – Stetson Jorgensen and Will Lummus – stumbled. Jorgensen received a no time in Round 10 and Lummus broke the barrier. In came Waguespack to win his fourth world title. Waguespack also was the world champ in 2016, 2018 and 2021 and 2022.

Waguespack finished atop the world standings with $268,881. He narrowly defeated Lummus who finished with $266,188. Waguespack split fourth in Round 10 (4.0 seconds) and was third in the average with a 57.1-second time on 10 head.

"I feel undeserving of this world title," Waguespack said. "That was the craziest round of steer wrestling I have ever seen. Will Lummus bulldogged great all week long. The steer he had tonight actually took me out of the average earlier in the week that's the steer I got the barrier on. I would have never thought that would happen. Will should be sitting here instead of me. I was the lucky one who came out on top at the end. That was one of the craziest rounds I have ever watched."

Waguespack is joining some elite company in steer wrestling world title circles. Only Homer Pettigrew (six) and Luke Branquinho (five) have won more world titles than Waguespack. The Gonzales, La., cowboy is tied with four world titles with Ote Berry, Everett Bowman and Jim Bynum.

"This is so awesome," Waguespack said, "I grew up watching all my heroes and dreaming about having one gold buckle, you know. Ote Berry is one of my biggest role models and biggest supporters and helped me out so much. I can't wait to see him here in a little awhile because I have got the same amount he does, and I get to rub it in that I am still going so maybe one day I will get lucky and get one more on top of him."

Saddle bronc rider Zeke Thurston nabs his third world crown

Canadian Zeke Thurston made it a hat trick on Saturday night.

Thurston won his third career gold buckle in 2022, thanks to earning a PRCA single-season saddle bronc riding record with $399,316. Thurston of Big Valley, Alberta, also won world titles in 2016 and 2019.

"This one was probably the hardest one I have ever had," said Thurston of title No. 3. "I had to work for this one. The other 14 guys in the room are crazy talented and ride awesome. I had quite a bit of money to make up coming in here. I knew if I just made the best ride I could on every horse and kept placing in the rounds I would give myself a fighting chance. And that's what I did. Having my family and everybody here, it is really cool. I have won a couple of others. To have them all here for this one is really special."

Thurston earned an NFR saddle bronc riding record $256,078. He earned $74,150 for winning the average with 876.5 points on 10 head.

"I am not usually an average-kind-of guy," Thurston said. "I darn sure didn't come here with the mindset to win the average. When it comes down to it, it can make-or-break you. To be the guy leading it coming in, I would almost rather not have been in that position because it starts playing tricks on your mind. I just blocked it all out and went and made the best possible ride tonight."

Team ropers Driggers/Nogueira wins second straight gold buckles

Make it back-to-back for team ropers – header Kaleb Driggers and heeler Junior Nogueira – who won their second straight world championships.

Driggers/Nogueira finished atop their respective world standings with $340,708 each. They earned $112,830 each at the NFR and finished second in the average with a 71.4-second time on nine head.

"This is what we've always dreamed about, being here and winning a gold buckle," Driggers said. "This week we had a lot of trials and tribulations. We had to overcome them. It didn't go exactly as we planned. At the end of the day, we kept our faith in the Lord and our faith in each other and we persevered."

Nogueira echoed his partner.

"It was one of the toughest finals (without winning a round), especially for me," Nogueira said. "Kaleb did an amazing job of keeping me up. A great job. Perhaps, I just humbled myself a little bit, I guess. We had to fight through it. There's nothing easy. We always compete against the best guys in the whole world, and they don't make it easy on anyone. We were blessed to be good in average, and we really had to catch that last one, a tough steer. We were able to do it. And you have to give all the glory to God."

Bareback rider Jess Pope snares his first career world crown

The wait is over for Jess Pope. After finishing third and second in the world standings in 2020 and 2021, respectively, the Waverly, Kan., cowboy is a world champion in 2022.

"This is awesome. The emotions right now, there isn't anything like them. It is just so rewarding. I worked my whole life for this, and it finally came true."

"I knew I had it in me. It was just letting the cards fall right and drawing right where I was supposed to and doing what I was supposed to when I was. God's plan, the way it was supposed to be I guess."

Pope also won his third consecutive NFR average crown with 860 points on 10 head.

"Man, I was just showing up and taking it one horse at a time, being a cowboy," he said. "When your day working or anything whatever you have in front of you, you have to do your job and that's what I was able to do. This feels incredible."

Barrel racer Hailey Kinsel wins her fourth world title in five years

Hailey Kinsel concluded her 2022 season with her fourth world championship in five years.

The Texas cowgirl finished as the world standings leader with $302,172 to capture her latest world title. She also won world titles in 2018-2020.

"Oh gosh. This is so much to put into words," Kinsel said. "(Sister) is amazing. I really don't know how and why she loves this so much and wants to be better every time. She got stronger as the week went on. She came into the last two rounds like she could go 10 more. I felt really good that I could tell her we are quitting while we are ahead. It's good to give her a day off as a reward when she's done that well. She's so special to me. She's like family. All our horses are. It's been an incredible time to be with these ladies. We have a wonderful group of women and amazing horses."

Kinsel edged 2021 world champion Jordon Briggs, who finished with $274,520.

Zeke Thurston snares Top Gun Award

Zeke Thurston, the 2022 saddle bronc riding world champ, also was the RAM Top Gun Award winner. Thurston was the recipient of the honor for the first time in his career as he won the most money in a single event at the 2022 Wrangler NFR at $256,078.

Rodeo Logistics Acquires Majority Interest in Equitech & Ropemetrics

Rodeo Logistics announced today that it has reached an agreement to acquire majority interest of EquiTech Holdings and RopeMetrics, technology developed to improve all aspects of rodeo. The transaction will merge the top three technology firms operating in the Western Sports landscape.

"For years, we've focused on building the best experience for rodeo athletes and producers through technology," said Rodeo Logistics CEO, Gary McKinney. "This landmark acquisition will unite these diverse tech companies under one roof and positions Rodeo Logistics as an industry leader in technology across all rodeo related disciplines."

Since their inception, Rodeo Logistics has been a market leader having launched industry disrupting technologies such as; The Virtual Rodeo Qualifier, Open Stalls, Rodeo Entry Tool and PBR's (Professional Bull Riders) Mechanical Bull Rider.

"Since we started EquiTech, our team has been on a mission to create innovative, western sports products that make athletes and producers lives easier, leading to inventions like the NextGen Rodeo and BreedTech," said Clay Deen, EquiTech Chief Operating Officer. "Rodeo Logistics shares our passion and mission for building streamlined rodeo innovations, and I cannot think of a better place for our team to continue our mission. I'm excited to be a part of Rodeo Logistics Team and to see what we can build together for customers in the years ahead."

According to McKinney, in addition to the majority acquisition of EquiTech, Rodeo Logistics also acquired majority interest in a separate firm, RopeMetrics.

RopeMetrics first disrupted the space with Team Roping specific software providing the necessary tools to manage events, track data, and classify Team Ropers. The software launched with multiple innovations relating to team roping classification and has pioneered multiple changes in the industry. In addition, RopeMetrics allows athletes to enter, follow live results, and receive videos from the mobile app. In 2019, RopeMetrics acquired Automated Roping Productions Software, Roping Assistant Pro-A program widely used across the country by hundreds of roping productions.

EquiTech Holdings launched to diversify tech offerings in western lifestyles, first positioning to revolutionize rodeo event entries with NextGen Rodeo; a complete software management tool for rodeo specializing in services from entry to event management, live updates, results, as well as photo and video delivery. Soon after, EquiTech began development on BreedTech Software which is a management system for Stallion and Mare breeding farms to track and manage breeding processes – from boarding to inventories, to invoicing. More recently, EquiTech also teamed up with Tara Hill, owner of Jackpot Junkie; this is a resource platform for equine enthusiasts across all disciplines for events and services.

The two organizations also noted that major changes are coming to RopeMetrics and announcements will follow this release in the coming weeks.

HEADIN' FOR HOME

by Sherry Morrison // Triple M (Mike Morrison Ministries)

I think we can all admit that there are phrases in the Bible that we don't use today. And there are some that we don't understand. Word definitions also elude us. I know a man that, years ago, argued with me on whether it was a sin to live together and not marry. He is a Christian, loves God, but couldn't see anywhere in the Word where that was a sin. Until I suggested he look up the meaning of fornicate. Two months later he married her and, 27 years later, is still happily married! He chose to do what God said and is very blessed!

A phrase that I have skimmed over is, 'lightly esteeming'. I Sam. 2:30 talks about honoring God or being lightly esteemed. In our words today, for example, if we were to lightly esteem God, it would mean that it doesn't matter what God wants or what He says, it's what "I" decide to give Him. Since He's smarter, kinder, bigger, and more awesome than I am, that would be foolishness on my part.

Challenge yourself this week to look up some of those words/phrases that you've skimmed over. Consider it your adventure for the week! Blessings will be yours in correcting yourself to line up with the Word of God!

Mike and Sherry Morrison pastor "Church at the Barn" in Gillette, WY. They also travel to other areas ministering at barrel races, ranches, rodeos, churches and home Bible studies.
