Kassie Mowry Captures Second Straight WPRA World Championship

By Tanya Randall

Kassie Mowry's first world championship came as a result of showcasing the incredible talents of her great horse Force The Goodbye ("Jarvis"). Her second one, however, showcased her own talents to the world.

When the equine herpes virus (EVH-1) outbreak forced her to leave the former horse of the year at home, Mowry relied on Jarvis' understudy CP He Will Be Epic, and a jump ride on Heavens Got Credit ("Cornbread"), owned by Mindy Holloway, to get through the NFR.

"I was really upset when I decided to leave Jarvis at home," said the Dublin, Texas, based barrel racer. "It felt like the rug got ripped out from underneath me. When it was all said and done, I just couldn't do it (bring Jarvis to Las Vegas). There were too many unknowns and I didn't feel comfortable. I was very upset over that for a couple of days. Once I finally came to terms with my decision and put all my energy into Plan B, I told myself to just make the best of it. I never thought about it anymore."

Plan B meant Will, her 10-year-old Epic Leader gelding, bred by Clarie Powell out of the Dash 'Ta Fame mare Percilla, became her No. 1. The 17-hand gelding had previously run at the Thomas & Mack in 2022 and 2023.

Will did get EVH-1, but recovered, which is why Mowry felt comfortable taking him over Jarvis, who though healthy still had question marks due to his possible exposure and the unknown status of his ability to overcome the virus if he did come down with it.

"The only reason I took Will is because he did have and got over it and had the protection he needed for me not to worry," Mowry said.

horses had to meet strict testing requirements before they were allowed to go to Nevada. Mowry didn't know, for sure, who would make it to Las Vegas until she was already there.

"Monday, December 1 was the second day of swabs (testing) for my team based on their quarantines," she explained. "I had to fly out that day. They got swabbed after. I literally didn't know what was going to be on the trailer. It was that close."

Mindy Holloway and Mariah Mannering drove overnight to get the horses to Las Vegas by check-in on Wednesday.

"It was also the first time I've sent horses out and not been in the rig with them. It was really nerve-racking. To make it worse, everything was shut down, all the places that we normally stop, so they had to pull an all-nighter to get there. They had to be there Wednesday to be checked in to do practice on Thursday. They left on Tuesday and got there at 6 a.m. Wednesday. It was not ideal. I felt bad for those girls. It was a long trip."

Mowry started the rodeo as World No. 1 with $203,445 and she nearly equaled her season's earnings with $200,437 – including the $10,000 qualifier bonus.

She started her title defense by winning the opening round on Will and placed in the next two. They missed a round check by two places in Round 4 before she decided to step off the gelding.

"I never had a plan," she said. "I was going to start on Will because he's always good right out of the gate. He went in there and started out with a bang. That really helped my confidence. I just knew he wasn't going to go long because he wasn't in shape. He gave me a gallant effort. He was tired when I got off him. He was wiped out."

Mowry stepped on Cornbread from rounds five through nine. They placed on every run but their first, which was the pair's first time through the gate on a money run. Mowry also became the first rider since Janet Stover in 1990 to win two rounds on two different horses when she won Round 6 on Cornbread.

"Both times I went through on him in practice, I hit the first

Knowing that Will didn't have the stamina to make 10 runs on his own, Mowry asked her friend Whitney Godinez who she thought might have a horse that would fit her well. She found exactly what she needed in Holloway's Cornbread. Mowry did get to make one mild cruise through the pattern on the 11-year-old JL Dash 'Ta Heaven gelding, out of Credit Chicado, by Cash Not Credit, before heading to Las Vegas. With the emergency measures in place to help prevent the spread of EVH-1, barrel leaving it," Mowry admitted. "I knew that's where I needed to be careful with him, that he comes back really hard right there and I needed to wait him out at that spot. It's crazy I got around it all five times. We got close but we never touched it. Other than that he's really easy and really honest."

Mowry also gave the television viewers a master's class in how to handle a scared horse in the alley, when the pressure of being last to run in the long tunnel at the Thomas & Mack got the best of Cornbread.

"I was so proud of him," she said. "Even after he got rattled and scared, he still went in there and did his job. That's asking a lot of a horse being last in that tunnel. They see 14 other horses run back at them. The speaker is right there and is so incredibly loud. I always thought it was tough on them when they start at the front of the tunnel, but it's when you start at the back.

"Cornbread struggled with that, but I understood it. Will did the same thing. One year, Will left when the horse in front him ran. He ran all the way back up the tunnel and the flag girl kept me from going back to the barn! I literally bounced him off that flag girl and pulled him back around and galloped back down the tunnel into the arena. They just don't like being there by themselves when everyone leaves. It's asking a lot. That whole thing is asking a lot."

Mowry climbed back aboard Will for the last round. Although she had led the average for most of the rodeo and had the world title locked with an NFR Championship, Mowry made it a little more dramatic when she and Will tipped the third barrel after an otherwise smoking run.

"He is hard for me to get around the barrels in there," said Mowry, who was already starting to battle the Vegas Crud. "He's a lot for me. Honestly, I felt bad and I did feel weak that day. There's not a whole lot I can do with him and his O-ring, I just tried to make another run and not over think it. I didn't really have the strength to force him to do anything. I just tried to make another run and let the chips fall where they may. I had gotten so much more done than I ever expected that week."

Mowry finished the season with $403,882. Of that total, Jarvis earned $150,483. Will collected $109,507. Cornbread contributed $102,019 and Famous Ladies Man, who was too fat to help in Vegas since he hadn't seen a saddle since the Caldwell Night Rodeo in mid-August, won $31,871.

Mowry wanted to thank her support team for their help in making her second world championship possible, starting with Mariah Mannering.

"Thanks to Mariah for getting me through this," she said. "I could not have done any of this without her. She acuscope the boys every day and hand walks them. She got them there and got me home. I was not doing good on the way back. She does so much to help me.”

She was also extremely grateful to Mindy Holloway, whom she said, “needed to hit the road with that horse because he’s a bad cat.” “I’m really thankful to Mindy for offering Cornbread,” she said. “She’s a genuinely good person. She was a great team player. She didn’t care if I ran him 10 times or one time, she was just there for the ride. I had a lot of fun with her.

“It really was a treat for me to get on a nice horse like him. She’s done a great job with him, which made it easy for me. He’s very consistent so I knew what I needed to do and when. He never threw me for a loop on the pattern.”

Mowry lamented the fact that Anita Ellis was unable to compete with horses that she thought “would dominate in that pen” and that Halyn Lide and Tayla Moeykens were without their top horses that should have also excelled in the Thomas & Mack.

“It was a different NFR,” said Mowry. “I feel like they did a really good job pulling it off. I feel like it was as safe as could be under the circumstances. Everybody really worked together to make that happen. I’m super grateful for that, to be able to go there feel comfortable about keeping your horses there.”

Julie Plourde & Wateverock RC Clinche an NFR Championship

By Tanya Randall

Julie Plourde put her hands over her eyes and told her husband Yves Morissette that “I don’t want to see that arena” as their car passed the Thomas & Mack Center while on an impromptu mini vacation to Las Vegas in early November.

The Quebec, Canada, native had finished a heartbreaking 16th in the WPRA World Standings.

Just two days after returning to her Texas home in Krum, Plourde got the call that National Finals Rodeo qualifier Anita Ellis was injured by a futurity colt. She needed to prepare should Ellis turn out.

Now, a month later, she’s driving home from Las Vegas as the National Finals Rodeo Champion Barrel Racer. She and her “big, outdoor pen” horse Wateverock RC (“Rocky”) made 10 clean runs in 139.67 to earn $94,036.

“The plan was to leave the barrels up and get a good check out of it,” said Plourde, who didn’t get confirmation that she was indeed headed to the NFR until November 28. “I hadn’t run anywhere in two-and-a-half months. Epic (her building horse) had surgery. Rocky is an outdoor, big pen horse. That was his third rodeo in a building. I’m super proud of him.”

The 7-year-old gelding, by multiple NFR sire Firewaterontherocks out of proven performer and producer Whateva, by Dash Ta Fame. Rocky was trained by Todd Holder, who had also trained KF Epic Ta Fame.

While her plan was to use Rocky outside over the summer, he was basically her only horse after Epic took a bad step at the California Rodeo in Salinas.

“I was running Rocky pretty much all the end of July and August,” she said. “Rocky really stepped up that month and won over $40,000. In August on the 15th, Rocky had a really bad colic, and he was at Washington State University (Veterinary) Hospital for a week. A lot of things happened. I was still pulling some checks, but it still wasn’t as good as it was at the end of July.”

At the end of the season, she was nursing Epic along, and with the help of friends, made a hard last push to qualify for the NFR. She had Latricia Duke hauling Epic for her at the southern rodeos, while her husband had Rocky in the Dakotas.

When she felt short of the NFR, she scheduled Epic for surgery to remove a chip in his fetlock at Outlaw Equine.

“My husband asked me what I would have done (had she known about Vegas),” said Plourde. “Would I have still done the surgery? I said, ‘Yes, I still would have done the surgery.’ There’s no way I

JERRY ANN TAYLOR BEST DRESSED AWARD

Julie Plourde also won the Jerry Ann Taylor Best Dressed Award and took home a $5,000 prize from the National Cowgirl Hall of Fame & Museum in Fort Worth. The former IPRA Champion Barrel Racer said Tiany Schuster spearheaded the effort of her family and friends.

“When I got the call on the 28th (that she would be going to the NFR), Tiany was like ‘We’ve got to dress you up! We put everything together like crazy!’ she said. ‘I was going to leave Saturday morning, and Friday night we were in her bus trying everything on. She had some leftovers from last year’s NFR that she didn’t wear. Karla Banuelas in Mexico made six shirts for me. Riverside Rodeo in Mississippi did my Canadian shirt. Fallon Taylor sent me jeans in every color she had. My family was running everywhere in Vegas to get the clothes put together.’” would have run this horse for 10 runs in Vegas when he’s not 100 percent. He’s my pet. He’s my friend. I would never risk crippling him for the rest of his life. He’s going to get all the time he needs. Hopefully, I’ll have him for the summer.”

Rocky, too, was at Outlaw Equine while she and her husband made their annual fall visit to Quebec. Thankfully, he was in a mild condition program while Plourde got the call about possibly replacing Ellis.

“They didn’t tell me anything other than I should ride my horse just in case something were to happen,” she said. “Rocky was already at Outlaw the whole time I was in Quebec. They were keeping him in shape. He wasn’t 100 percent, but he was in pretty good shape.”

Her plans to get in a few more runs on Rocky in a small pen were derailed by the equine herpes virus outbreak.

The first go of the NFR was Plourde’s first run for money on Rocky since the Governor’s cup in Sioux Falls at the end of September. They started out with 14 second runs but managed to pick up checks in the seventh and eighth rounds.

“Even when we were getting by the first barrel a little bit, he was still clocking,” she said. “He ran a .6 and two .7s, a couple .8s, a couple .9s. He wasn’t off the pace at all. Even with not perfect runs. I’m super proud of him.”

Plourde said her 10th run was her most worrisome.

“I knew it was the most important run of my life,” she chuckled. “I knew I just needed to stay clean. My goal was to stay second in the average. Kassie (Mowry) was first in the average, and in my mind she already had it. I was pretty convinced that she had it won. When I saw that third barrel down, I was heartbroken for her. She still won the world. I was at the back tent, and everyone was yelling at me to put my belt on and that I needed to go make a victory lap. I didn’t have time to think about everything!”

Plourde, who led the charge to have her fellow competitors wear Ellis’ favorite color, black, in the second round, had gone into the NFR with $118,276 and finished the year ninth with $237,689 after having won $119,413 in Las Vegas.

“When I left last spring my goal was to be in the Top 30 to be in the big indoor rodeos in the winter,” said Plourde. “It was still the best season of my life. I was laughing and joking with Tiany (Schuster) that I was the biggest loser of the WPROA because I won $118,000 and wasn’t making the NFR. That was the first time that happened. Then I go and win the average!”

2025 NFR Round Recaps - Round 10

Carlee Otero and AM Regina George won their second straight, and fourth overall round, concluding their NFR run with a time of 13.28. Otero finished the year No. 5 in the World Standings after earning $156,672 at the NFR.

NFR Rookie Tricia Aldridge and Adios Pantalones finished second in the round and second in the World. They won $245,385, more than any other barrel racer, and 5-year-old Adios also crossed the $1 million mark in career earnings.

Lisa Lockhart finished out her 19th straight NFR qualification placing third in the round on Blazin Ta Betty. Emily Beisel and Teasin Dat Guy were fourth, running on the very bottom of the ground.

Hayle Gibson-Stillwell and Buncha Dinero, a 6-year-old in her second year of competition, placed fifth. They earned $188,608 at the NFR and finished fourth in the World.

Katelyn Scott and Justa DTF Frenchman took last hole to earn their sixth check of the NFR.

Kassie Mowry, who was third to last out, climbed back aboard CP He Will Be Epic for the last round. A clean run easily clinched Mowry her second straight WPRA World Championship, but Mowry and Will tipped third barrel leaving everyone waiting for confirmation that the title was indeed hers.

Mowry's barrel also opened the door for Julie Plourde to win the NFR Championship. The first French Canadian to compete at the NFR, Plourde and her "outdoor horse" Wateverock RC ("Rocky") earned $119,412 to double their season earnings and finish 9th in the World. Plourde, who also won the Jerry Ann Taylor Best

After the breath-holding moments in Round 7, Round 8 could be described as careful as the field tested the footing that the NFR grounds team spent hours trying to repair.

Tricia Aldridge and her record-breaking stallion Adios Pantalones kept their world championship hopes alive with a 13.64 round victory. Aldrige and Adios were 11th out on the ground and followed by Hayle Gibson-Stillwell and Buncha Dinero, who finished third.

Wenda Johnson was the very next out, 13th on the ground. Johnson, who had struggled thus far, switched to her First Moonflash mare Tempting Moon Dash, and they had a pretty run clocking 13.68 for second. It was Johnson's first check of the NFR.

The first three gunners through the gate took the rest of the placings. Kassie Mowry and Heavens Got Credit ("Cornbread") were fourth. Brittany Pozzi Tonozzi made her first run back on Sir Epic, owned by Pete Carr and Morgan Bagnell, since his fall in Round 3, to finish fifth. Julie Plourde and Wateverock RC claimed last hole for their second round check of the NFR.

Mowry continued to hold the aggregate lead, and she was followed by Plourde, Tonozzi and Aldridge. Hailey Kinsel and DM Sissy Hayday caught the first barrel to win the round which allowed Andrea Busby to claim her spot in the aggregate.

2025 NFR Round Recaps - Round 7

Hayle Gibson-Stillwell and her barefoot-running mare Buncha Dinero topped the round with a 13.45, running from second to last on the ground, in the most pivotal round of the NFR thus far. Gibson and “Piper” immediately followed the 13.52 posted by Tricia Aldridge and Adios Pantalones, who were 13th on the ground.

Hailey Kinsel and DM Sissy Hayday added a fourth-place check to their NFR haul. Andrea Busby and her youngster Hanksnthefastlane (“Goodbye”) picked up their second check of the rodeo with a sixth-place finish.

The most dramatic moment came with the second gunner out of the alley, Katelyn Scott, who was second in the aggregate on Justa DTF Frenchman (“Peanut”), fell at the first barrel. The sting of the heartbreaking fall was dulled a tinge when a riderless Peanut finished the barrel pattern with a smiling Scott looking on.

Kassie Mowry, who stayed aboard Heavens Got Credit—Mindy Holloway’s Cornbread, became the clear front runner in the aggregate after finishing third with a 13.62. Julie Plourde and Wateverock RC (“Rocky”) were 2.1 second behind in the aggregate but picked up their first round check of the NFR, placing fifth with a 13.65, their fastest run thus far.

Brittany Pozzi Tonozzi and J.L. Roc Lost A Sock (“Mo”) survived ground issues at the first and second to remain the third team clean on all seven runs. Kinsel and Aldridge were the two closest in the aggregate hunt with one tipped barrel a piece.

2025 NFR Round Recaps - Round 6

The sixth round was the tightest one yet with the field bringing the heat. Just .37 separated the top 13 runs and only one barrel was tipped.

Kassie Mowry became the 2nd barrel racer to win rounds on two different horses at the same NFR with a 13.42 victory on Heavens Got Credit ("Cornbread"). Janet Stover was the first to win rounds on two different horses in 1990. It was Mowry's second competitive run ever on the JL Dash Ta Heaven out of a full sister to Chicados Cash that belongs to Mindy Holloway.

Mowry, who was the sixth gunner of the night, also reclaimed the aggregate lead over Katelyn Scott and Justa DTF Frenchman, who were just .07 from winning their sixth straight round check.

Hayle Gibson-Stillwell and her PC Frenchmans Hayday mare Buncha Dinero were the first gunners through the gate and posted a 13.49 to take an early lead until Mowry's run on Cornbread. Ultimately, Stillwell and "Piper" were third.

Halyn Lide and Smooth As Rico Suave ("Pancakes"), owned by Kappie Bryant, were giving off "Hotshot" vibes with a 13.47 for second in the round.

Hailey Kinsel and DM Sissy Hayday had another solid run for fourth with Lisa Lockhart and Blazin Ta Betty .01 behind for fifth, Megan McLeod-Sprague and Seis Corona rounded out the top six.

In the aggregate, only four barrel racers remain clean on six runs: Mowry, Scott, Julie Plourde and her horse Wateverock RC, and Brittany Pozzi Tonozzi, who has made her last three runs on JL Roc Lost A Sock ("Mo"). Kinsel, Tricia Aldridge, Emily Beisel and Sprague finish out the money spots in the aggregate, respectively with one hit barrel each.

2025 NFR Round Recaps - Round 5

The barrel racers brought the heat in Round 5 with Carlee Otero and AM Regina George taking their second victory lap of the NFR. Otero and RG clocked a 13.43 from 14th on the ground.

The bottom of the ground proved to be wicked fast as four of the six places came from 11th or better on the dirt.

Tricia Aldridge and Adios Pantalones were second out and led the field with 13.61 until Hailey Kinsel jumped back on DM Sissy Hayday and clocked a 13.56. Two runs later Lisa Lockhart and Blazin Ta Betty (“Sasha”) nipped Kinsel and Sis by .01 to take the lead with a 13.55, only to be outshined by Otero and RG on the very next run, Halyn Lide got her first check of the NFR, splitting second with Lockhart and Sasha. Lide’s great horse Jettin Ta Heaven (“Keeper”) came down with equine herpes myeloencephalitis, the neurologic form of EHV-1, which left him battling for his life at Texas A&M University’s Large Animal Hospital, her husband Aaron’s alma mater.

Although Keeper is now on the mend, Lide was forced to scramble for horses. She made her first run ever on her newest acquisition, Halos Frosted Fame, in the first round. Halo is grandson of former NFR qualifier Nina Moore’s Nita Knight. In Round 2, Lide jumped on Smooth As Rico Suave, an A Smooth Guy gelding, owned by Kappie Bryant. They steadily improved each round and hit paydirt with a gutsy run on the very bottom of the ground after 14 of the best horses in the world.

Lide’s sister-in-law Katelyn Scott and Justa DTF Frenchman picked up yet another check, 6th on the night, but moved to No. 1 in the aggregate with 68.63 on five runs. Scott also graciously loaned Tayla Moeykens, who has struggled without her superstars, one her backups, Heaven Sent Fame (“Kian”). Moeykens and Kian caught the second due to a mere timing fault in their first run together but had a really nice pass to be hopeful for the runs to come. Aldridge and Kassie Mowry, who rode Heavens Got Credit, owned Julie Plourde and Brittany Pozzi Tonozzi, who rode Mo again, rounded out the barrel racers still clean on five runs. They’re followed by Kinsel, Emily Beisel and Megan McLeod Sprague in the aggregate.

2025 NFR Round Recaps - Round 4

NFR Rookie and social media favorites Tricia Aldridge and Adios Pantalones, the first Tres Seis to earn NFR money, had their breakthrough victory in Round 4. Running fourth on the ground, they turned in a 13.42, the fastest run of the NFR thus far, to record the fastest run ever made by a stallion in the Thomas & Mack.

They were immediately followed by Hayle Gibson-Stillwell on her palomino Buncha Dinero with a 13.55.

Brittany Pozzi Tonozzi opted to give the Pete Carr and Morgan Bagnell-owned Sir Epic the night off to recover from his fall in Round 3. She rode former futurity standout JL Roc Lost A Sock "Mo," a Mark Bugni trained JL Sirocco out of Reddy To Rebound, a barrel racing earning Thoroughbred daughter of NFR sire Red.

Tonozzi and Mo were 11th out on the ground and were making their first rodeo run to a new direction to place 3rd. The three-time world champion switched the gelding to the left barrel first just six weeks ago.

Emily Beisel and Teasin Dat Guy remained consistent, placing fourth.

Katelyn Scott and Justa DTF Frenchman placed in their fourth straight round. They're the only team to have placed in every round to this point.

Defending NFR Champion Andrea Busby and her youngster Hanksntheftastlane got their first check of the NFR. The Sarah Rose (McDonald) Waguespack trained gelding, by The Goodbye Lane gelding, is out of Taylor (Jacob) Hanchey's former NFR mount Sissy B Gold.

In the aggregate, first through third got tighter between Mowry, Scott and Aldridge with Plourde, Tonozzi, Beisel, Kinsel, who had switched to BCK Spyder Monkey for the fourth round, and Stillwell following. Only Mowry, Scott, Aldridge, Plourde and Tonozzi have been clean for four runs.

Round 4 was memorial night at the NFR and the barrel racers

2025 NFR Round Recaps - Round 3

Carlee Otero and AM Regina George found their groove in the third round, turning in a victorious 13.54 running third on the ground. Otero and the fleet-footed daughter of A Smooth Guy pulled barrels leaving the turns in the first two rounds.

Emily Beisel, who switched to 4M Equine's Teasin Dat Guy, finished second. She and "Chewy" were second to last on the ground, running after Brittany Pozzi Tonozzi and Sir Epic, who fell at the second barrel. Chewy's wrappy, but upright style, came in handy as the mare held her balance in the exact spot where Sir fell to be just .02 behind Otero and "RG."

A third-place effort by CP He Will Be Epic bumped Kassie Mowry back to the top of the WPRA World Standings. Katelyn Scott and Justa DTF Frenchman, owned by her sister Lorissa Merritt, stayed consist, taking yet another fourth-place check.

NFR rookies split fifth and sixth. Megan McLeod-Sprague and Seis Corona, a Dash Ta Fame out of 2012 NFR qualifier Tell Em Belle, and Hayle Gibson-Stillwell and her homebred Buncha Dinero, clocked 13.72 to each take home their first ever NFR checks.

Thus far into the aggregate race, Mowry took over the No. 1 spot from Hailey Kinsel and DM Sissy Haday, who barely pulled the first barrel leaving. Mowry was followed by Scott, Tricia Aldridge, Julie Plourde, who has been running Waterrock RC, and Tonozzi—the remaining field with three clean runs. Kinsel was sixth, followed by Beisel and Sprague, who each had one tip a piece.

2025 NFR Round Recaps - Round 2

Hailey Kinsel and DM Sissy Hayday, the 14-year-old daughter of PC Frenchmans Hayday, took advantage of their draw, second out, to win the round in 13.53. That victory marked their 26th round win, making them the winningest team in NFR history. They had previously been tied at 25 with Sherry Cervi, who won rounds aboard five different horses with 10 going to Sister's paternal sibling MP Meter My Hay ("Stingray"), and Charmayne James, who won rounds aboard three different horses with 20 aboard Scamper (Gils Bay Boy) alone.

Kinsel and Sis's victory also temporarily bumped them to No. 1 in the WPRA World Standings, surpassing Kassie Mowry, who guided CP He Will Be Epic to a split of fifth and sixth with Emily Beisel and Ivory On Fire.

Brittany Pozzi Tonozzi and Sir Epic, a JL Sirocco out of an Epic Leader, Streakin Six daughter, took second place from very last on the ground, 15th. Katelyn Scott and Justa DTF Frenchman, the third gelding by Aint Seen Nothin Yet to grace the Thomas & Mack, were third from 12th on the ground. Tricia Aldridge and her record-setting Adios Pantalones were fourth.

The Top 15 barrel racers, spearheaded by Julie Plourde, honored Anita Ellis during the round by wearing black, her favorite color.

2025 NFR Round Recaps - Round 1

The 40th anniversary of the National Finals Rodeo to Las Vegas looks a little different for a lot of the WPRA's Top 15 with the equine herpes virus (EHV-1) outbreak changing their horsepower game plans at the last minute.

The Top 15 also changed with an injury to Anita Ellis. The first-time NFR qualifier was injured at a first of the 2026 season futurity in South Jordan, Utah, and was forced to turnout. Julie Plourde, who finished 16th, replaced her in the field.

Round 1

Defending WPRA World Champion Kassie Mowry was the first gunner through the gate and clocked a victorious 13.66 with a textbook run aboard CP He Will Be Epic. The 17-hand Epic Leader, Dash Ta Fame gelding was Mowry's main NFR mount back in 2022 and 2023. Force The Goodbye (Jarvis) ran the last few rounds those two years and then went the distance for Mowry's title run in 2024.

Four-time WPRA World Champion Hailey Kinsel and her 3.5 million dollar earner DM Sissy Hayday were second. Lisa Lockhart and Blazin Ta Betty, a full sister to Jordon Briggs' 2021 World Champion Famous Lil Jet, were third. NFR first-timers Katelyn Scott and Justa DFT Frenchman and Tricia Aldridge and Adios Pantalones were fourth and fifth, respectively. Three-time WPRA World Champion Brittany Pozzi Tonozzi and Sir Epic—a product of Mowry's aged event program—rounded out the placings.

Most of the round money was won within the first six on the ground with Aldridge and Scott running 10th and 14, respectively. Four horses went to the left barrel first and all but one hit leaving the turn.

Ward Wins First-Ever Icebreaker Futurity, $33K

By Julie Mankin

When Ceri Ward says she's had "a storybook year" in 2025, she could include her entire extended family under that umbrella. The barrel-horse trainer from Ardmore, Oklahoma, is married to Reagan Ward, whose brother Andrew just won the PRCA's world heading championship. Reagan won plenty as a pro heeler, himself – including the 2020 Bob Feist Invitational – before he and Ceri (McCaffrey) became a team training and hauling all Ceri's outside horses together.

In October, Ward had a $197k payday at the Pink Buckle when she won that futurity aboard 5-year-old Gambblingslick. In November, she won the Freshman Slot Race at the 40th BFA World on Shawn and Rickki Moyer's 4-year-old mare Flinging Goodbyes ("Piper") for $28,000. But she and all futurity trainers were virtually sidelined by the equine herpes myeloencephalopathy (EHM) outbreak – until now.

At the inaugural Icebreaker Futurity held Dec. 11-13 in Alvarado, Texas, Ward and Piper combined to make two more winning runs, sweeping the futurity for $30,692 total.

"She's made three total runs in her career and won first all three times," said Ward. "They put this futurity together when Oklahoma City got cancelled, and it was a great first year for them, so they'll try to keep having it."

By The Goodbye Lane, Piper is out of the A Streak Of Fling mare Blue Moon Fling that rounded the cans under Carlee Otero at the 2011 NFR and was a later winner for Rickki Moyer.

"She was ready to haul last year, but was smaller and we waited and hoped she'd grow a little," said Ward. "She's a lot. Not necessarily hot, but she gets very scared and is a lot of horse. We wanted to wait and let her mature a little bit, which gave us more time to go easy with her."

Ward describes Piper as a very athletic mare that tries hard and is real gritty, but is easy now that she's "very accountable and predictable."

In Alvarado, Ward and Piper won the Juvenile Slot Race by two-tenths of a second with a 15.20 to earn $19,000. The blue roan mare's run also won the first round of the Rookie Futurity for $2,480 and 11th in the Open for another $282. On run No. 2, the pair clocked a smoking 15.06 to win the second round of the futurity by more than two-tenths, worth another $2,480, plus fourth in the Open for $1,129.

"She's so fast," said Ward. "The first day we kind of got up the pen a little and by the first. She was great on the other two. So, I knew for that second round, if I cleaned that first up a little bit, it would be good. I tried to go a little slower to first, and she made a great turn and it set her up for the rest of that run."

The runs gave Ward an average time on two that also won first in the futurity for $4,960 and second in the Open for $361. Plus, Ward's 15.32 on Loni Kay Yates' 3-year-old colt Seis Rounds Of Fame placed second in the first round of the Rookie Futurity for $1,984. And Ward got a little money on Gambblingslick – the mare that never got a chance to run at her final two big futurities in 2025. In fact, Ward had eight or nine head with her in Guthrie when the outbreak was discovered.

"I've consulted a lot with my vet and taken in the guidance of people more educated on it than me, plus tried to educate myself," said Ward of the disease outbreak that cancelled major futurities and postponed other big equine events. "I think by shutting down the BFA and OKC, they got it under control, and there haven't been new cases since then. It's scary and I think we need to take precautions and be aware, but it isn't anything new."

A Kansas native, Ceri began training barrel horses alongside Hall-of-Famer Joyce Loomis Kernek, who was first to employ Ward as a trainer. This week, Ceri and Reagan are in Perry, Georgia, for the Jingle Bell Classic that reportedly has double the entries it usually gets.

The Leading Offspring title goes to SRS ZOOM ON VIRTUE, 2018 Mare by TOUCH OF VIRTUE x MS RED STILETTOS owned by Jorja Salmond and ridden by Jorja Salmond. It turned out to be a very profitable year for owner/rider, Jorja Salmond to have this great 7-year old mare as her mount!

Jorja & "Twix" not only captured the 2025 Leading Offspring Award but proved they were a force to be reckoned with wherever they went. This team has won well into the 4 digits and pocketed $2,140 WF incentive money throughout the season and pocketed another $1,500.00 in a Hi-Point Cash Award!

The Leading Broodmare title goes to TIPPY TOO BADGER sired by DOX BEST SILVER and out of SUGAR TOO TIPPY proudly owned by Jane Corey of JC Ranching. Jane brings a wealth of knowledge to her small breeding program. Watch for more offspring out of this amazing mare to hit the barrel pen in years to come!

WPRA and PRCA Agree to Three Year Agreement

The Women's Professional Rodeo Association and the Professional Rodeo Cowboys Association are pleased to announce a new agreement between the two Associations to continue to bring the best in professional rodeo to members, committees, fans and sponsors.

The WPRA and PRCA have been working diligently to craft a new agreement based on today's circumstances and tomorrow's challenges that will work to the benefit of all of our respective constituents. This new agreement will continue for the next three years with the option to extend an additional three years in 2028.

"The PRCA is happy to execute this three-year agreement with the WPRA and continue to elevate the profile of PRORODEO moving forward," PRCA CEO Tom Glause said.

The biggest change in the new agreement is that under the old agreement women's breakaway roping was a revenue share between the two. Starting in 2026, that discipline will be completely under the WPRA umbrella similar to the barrel racing. Instead of a revenue share it will be a pay-for service agreement, which is how barrel racing has been for decades.

"Under the current contract, which began in 2020, the breakaway roping was a collaboration between the two entities. After the last six years of building the event together, it just feels right to have breakaway roping solely under the WPRA in the future," stated Heidi Schmidt, WPRA President. "We are the oldest women's sports organization in the world, so it only makes sense that women's breakaway roping would fall under our authority. We are very appreciative of the PRCA and rodeo committees who have added this second women's event and look to continue to grow the prize money for these ladies."

Under the expiring agreement PRCA agreed to work to expand and develop breakaway roping at PRCA sanctioned rodeos throughout the country. In 2019, prior to the start of the agreement, breakaway roping was held at 35 PRCA Rodeos. In 2025, the event was featured in 560 rodeos with 80-percent offering equal money including the majority of Playoff Series rodeos, that encompasses the top 60 rodeos, as well as individual circuit finals and the NFR Open in Colorado Springs.

HEADIN' FOR HOME

by Sherry Morrison // Triple M (Mike Morrison Ministries)

Well nuts. The NFR is over. We were blessed to watch the top 15 in each event compete to be #1. In reality, only 1 would win.

There were victories, disappointments, injuries, frustrations and even some confusion. And there were opinions. Contestant opinions, media opinions and judges' opinions.

The NFR is 10 days. It started, and it stopped. It's that way with the coming of our Lord. We can plan and live and have our opinion about what we think that will be like. But it's God who decides how and when He will arrive. And like those contestants, we should work hard to prepare for that day. We don't want to wait until the last minute and think we'll be ready. We need to know the Word.

Unlike the NFR, there are a LOT more than 15 running the race. Every one of us who have received Jesus as Lord, will be victorious. Romans 10:8-11.

1 Cor. 9:24-27 tells us that we all run the race to win. And that we run the race to obtain an imperishable crown. And we will not be disqualified. For our judge is honest and true and lovely. Let's praise Him!
