BRITTANY POZZI TONOZZI

Tres Gold -- Brittany Pozzi Tonozzi Wins Third WPRA World Championship in Historic Fashion

By Tanya Randall

Winning three gold buckles is a far cry from riding your horse double with your dad to the local playday. For Brittany Pozzi Tonozzi it's a testament to the old adage – "winners find a way."

"That's pretty much my personality," laughed Tonozzi. "I'm either all in or I'm not doing it."

The 39-year-old barrel racer from Lampasas, Texas, set records en route to her third gold buckle. She set a regular season earnings record at $270,563 prior to the National Finals Rodeo and set a new world championship record with earnings of $496,499 after adding $225,936 in Las Vegas.

Tonozzi also went into the NFR with $1.2 million won on the year, thanks to having two of the top futurity horses in 2023, and now has the yearly record at $1.4 million.

"Everybody dreams about this. I remember when Kassie (Mowry) won over a million, and I secretly thought, 'I want to do that!' I just didn't think it would be so quickly, or this year!"

Horsepower

Tonozzi rode six different horses to win her world championship. Jeff and Andrea Busby's homebred Jets Top Gun ("Benny") won the majority. 70 Ranch Performance Horses' SR Industry Titan, formerly owned by the Wylie family, contributed nearly $80,000. Tonozzi also rode her homebred Babe On The Chase ("Birdie"), now owned by Teton Ridge, RC Back In Famous ("Pickles"), owned by the Busbys, and her own youngsters Blazin Babe Olena ("Anna") and ChitiChiti BangBang ("Maybelline").

"The horses are great. The people are great. It's been a phenomenal year, and I don't think it will be topped for a very long time," she said.

Tonozzi was grateful to have the World Championship in hand after the eighth round. Her previous two world titles in 2007 and 2009 came down to the final run.

"I would way prefer to do it this way!" she said. Over her 17 NFR qualifications, she's entered in the lead a few times only to come up short in the end. "That thought did cross my mind! I'm not safetying up or slowing down!"

What helped tremendously was having a horse that fit the short course in the Thomas & Mack.

"I hadn't had a horse take to the Thomas & Mack like Duke (her 2009 World Champion Yeah Hes Firen) until this year with Benny," she said. "That's the most fun I've had in a long time."

Tonozzi had only made a couple of runs on the gelding prior to the NFR since winning Caldwell, Idaho, back in August, when she turned to SR Industry Titan to finish the year.

"I ran him at the WPRA Finals, and I ran him at Northside once," she said, referring to the 13-second Cowtown

Coliseum in Fort Worth. "I didn't see any reason to run him anymore than that."

Tonozzi ran Benny for nine of the 10 rounds, except the makeup for the first round postponement on Wednesday morning. The original opening round was canceled due to the tragic shooting on the University of Nevada-Las Vegas campus, just an eight minute walk from the Thomas & Mack.

Birdie, her 2022 NFR round winner, got the call that morning and Benny ran again that night.

"The first round he was super green," she laughed. "I was like 'Oh my God! Benny!' It was like he didn't know where the first was. He didn't know where the second was and then he ran by the third. I thought, 'Ohhhh, this is going to be a long week if we can't snap this up.' Then by the third round, he was like, 'OK, I know what we're doing down here.' His heart rate went up. He finally realized what was going on. After that it was like magic."

The Busbys, who bred the gelding by their late leading sire Blazin Jetolena out of the Dash Ta Fame, Lady Perks mare, GL Famous First Lady, paired the gelding with Tonozzi earlier in the year and it took the new team a while to find their groove at the pro rodeos.

"He would do good in the barrel racing-type setups," said Tonozzi, who won the Royal Crown Derby in Buckeye, Arizona, on Benny. "It was the trickier set ups that I had trouble with. I ran him at San Antonio and didn't do very good. I ran him at San Angelo, and it wasn't good."

Things started looking up after the second round of Guymon, Oklahoma, the first of May.

"The second round at Guymon I kind of figured some stuff out," said Tonozzi. "You have to ask Benny for every step. He's not going to just give it to you like Birdie. With Birdie, I have to let her go and slow her down to make the turn. Benny, he's going to lope if you don't ask him for anymore. That's what I struggled with."

"I was trying to get him to run to the first barrel and I'd take off from a dead standstill and I couldn't get him going. Then by the time we got to the first barrel we'd go by it because I was still too busy trying to get him to run. I figured out if I got him on the muscle, got his feet moving before it was time to go, that I could get him to take off and run harder and then slow him down when I got to the barrel."

Finding A Way

Tonozzi, who grew up in Victoria, Texas, took an interest in barrel racing after attending the famed winter rodeos in San Antonio and Houston, just two hours away in opposite directions.

"We weren't going for the rodeo as much as we were for the entertainer," Tonozzi said a few years back after winning San Antonio.

After having countless circled classified ads for horses thrown under their noses, her parents Randy and Denise Pozzi relented. They further fueled the fire when they took her to the NFR in high school.

"I really didn't start riding until I was about 12 years old," she explained. The family didn't have a trailer, hence the need to ride to and from the local playday. "In high school, my parents took me to the (NFR) and that spurred that along. I didn't know about rodeoing and making the Finals until high school."

Tonozzi had a little help from locals, but most of her formal barrel racing education came from the school of hard knocks. Her determination to win on her sister's horse, Lances Ugly Boy ("Le-roy") marked the beginning of 20 years of championships.

In 2002, she won the Texas and National high school barrel racing titles. The following year as a freshman at Texas A&M University, she won her collegiate region title but made a life altering decision that spring.

"I remember that conversation with my mom and dad," she chuckled. "It was at Guymon, and I had to re-enroll. I said, 'I really don't want to go back to school. I really like doing this instead.' I can't believe they were okay with that, but they were!"

She qualified for her first NFR that year and was the first rookie to hold the No. 1 spot going into the Finals since Charmayne James in 1984. What followed was multiple NFR qualifications, three world titles and nationally recognized endorsements with brands such as Professional's Choice, Purina -- she and her World Champion mount Sixth Vision ("Stitch") were once on the Omolene bag, now it's KissKiss BangBang ("Mona"), the dam of Maybelline and Double J Saddles with countless barrel racers around the country riding her line of saddles.

"Dad told me that I would never be able to make a living at it," she said. "At the time, it would have been a really hard living. He also told me we weren't going to have more than one horse at a time. Man, I think that's like someone telling you that you can only have one pair of shoes! Now, I have 70 on my place!"

Tonozzi said the hardest time for her was after Duke got hurt in 2013 and the three years that followed were "pretty dry."

"I won a slot race on Mona and other things came along, but it was not as easy those three years to make a living. I didn't have a husband or child. I had a paid for house because I sold Stitch, so I was pretty set up at the time, but a lot of it was trying to keep my sponsors happy. I didn't have a horse to make the Finals and they're paying me quite a bit of money. That was always pressure there."

Not wanting to be in a similar situation again, Tonozzi began assembling a team of horses to go down the road—mainly home-breds like Birdie and Ima Famous Babe ("Katniss").

"I never wanted to be in that position again, so I got a group of horses together and went at it."

This year, however, marked a departure. Instead of riding her own, she mostly rode horses that belonged to others.

"That's been really different for me—riding a bunch of horses that I don't own," she said. Benny will now be in Andrea's string of rodeo horses. "It's been good for me, but they go back to their owners and that's part of it."

Reset

"Our sport is awesome that it starts over if you have a bad year or Finals," she said. "It also stinks because if you have a really good year, you have to start over! I've pretty much checked all the boxes. I don't know where I go from here. I'm just going to ride my colts and go to some rodeos and see how it works out."

She and husband Garrett's daughter, Tinlee, now 6, might not be OK with that. She loved missing school to be in Las Vegas.

"I told her, 'I don't know if I'm going to be here next year. I don't know how hard I'm going to rodeo.' She goes, 'Uh, you've got to be here next year!' She knows no different. December is rodeo time ever since she was born. I said, 'So, you want me to be gone all summer, so we can come back here in December?' She said, 'Yeah!' That shows me how high I am on the priority list!" she chuckled.

Tonozzi already has $10,000 won for 2024 and has two young ones to season, her futurity superstars Tres Chasin Babe Pz ("Rosie), owned by Teton Ridge, and Maybelline. She plans on running Birdie at Denver—a rodeo the mare loves—and is looking forward to running Titan at Odessa, Fort Worth and Houston.

"I'd really be happy to go to the finals with only 30 rodeos," she laughed. "That's my next goal!"

The #2 Cowgirl in the World, Jordan Briggs placed as well to keep herself in the mix.

The 1st Performance was moved from Thursday to Friday due to the tragic shooting on the UNLV campus where the NFR is held.

The ground was loose and a little deep (leading to more tipped barrel; 7 barrel racers tipped) but was safe from top to bottom. Round winner Winn was #11 on the ground.

NOTES: Sand In My Socks & Stevi Hillman ran a very quick 13.62 to win the round. The experience that Hillman & Sand In My Socks had at the 2022 NFR served them well as the super quick footed fast sorrel got the Round win. Hillman was 10th on the ground.

Kosel & Firewaterfrenchfame showed everyone that hadn't been watching the rodeos closely why they qualified to the 2023 NFR; winning 2nd in the round just a mere hundredth behind Hillman.

In 3rd place in Round 2; it looks like Promise Me Fame Guys & Lisa Lockhart are back to the form that won them $168k at the 2022 NFR running just 5 hundredths back of Hillman. Emily Beisel switched to her young superstar Ivory On Fire from Namgis D 33 who she rode in Round 1 and placed 4th on the night.

Routier & Fiery Miss West showed they are in prime form winning a check in both the first two round & Tonozzi is just marching forward towards records gathering up more checks. The ground was good all the way through, so good that every barrel racer ran in the 13s.

NOTES: Promise Me Fame Guys & Lisa Lockhart are back to prime form at the NFR; they took the top of the ground ran a 13.51 to capture Round 3. The win pushed Lockhart to the #2 spot in the world. Still a $130k behind Tonozzi but with the NFR payouts ($30k per Round Win & $78k to win average) they are within striking distance.
 Mowry smoked a 13.56 to capture second. Her giant grey (he's close to 17 hands!) is loving the Thomas & Mack in 2023.
 Sue Smith & her homegrown & trained superstar Diamond Center had a great run to end up 3rd in the round running a 13.66.
 Tonozzi & Jets Top Gun just kept getting checks winning 4th with Routier & Fiery Miss West right behind them. Both teams had won checks in all 3 rounds so far. Tonozzi is now only about $26k away from setting the year end earnings record just 3 Rounds into the NFR!
 The ground was again great with 14 people running 13s. Tonozzi leads the average & 7 people have clean runs through 3 Rounds.

Tonozzi & Jets Top Gun blasted through the Thomas & Mack to win 2nd with a quick 13.52. That win put Tonozzi in the $1 Million NFR Earner status. The only other barrel racers to earn a $1 Million at the NFR are Sherry Cervi, Lisa Lockhart & Hailey Kinsel. Tonozzi is also only $2,285 from breaking Hailey Kinsel's 2018 season earnings record of $350,700! Tonozzi has already earned $77,851 at the 2023 NFR.

2021 World Champions Famous Lil Jet & Jordon Briggs put on the afterburners and ran a 13.53, just a hundredth behind Tonozzi to keep themselves in world title contention. They sit #4 just $4k behind #2 Lisa Lockhart in the world standings.

Ivory On Fire proved just how fast she is for Emily Beisel, running a 13.64 and picking up a 4th place check. This mare has been on fire from the beginning of September on!

NOTES: Although Benny & Brittany Pozzi Tonozzi clipped the second barrel in Round 10 they had already claimed their 2023 World Championship and held onto 2nd in the Average. The team's amazing year ended with $496,499 in year end earnings to set a new world year end earnings record by almost $150k and also earned $225,935 at the NFR. It was a memorable year for Brittany Pozzi Tonozzi so the only way to cap it off was with a World Title!

Levee & Lisa Lockhart used the top of the ground in Round 10 to win the round and with a few hit barrels moved up to win the NFR average with 137.18 on 10 runs! Lockhart wasn't far off the 2021 NFR Average record of Jordon Briggs (136.83 on 10 runs). This was Lockhart's 3rd Average title; she also won the average in 2014 & 2016 on fan favorite Louie (An Oakie With Cash). Lockhart added to her career earnings record, it now stands like this: 1. Lisa Lockhart - $3,510,066 2. Sherry Cervi - $3,388,790 3. Brittany Pozzi Tonozzi - $3,348,160. Lockhart also now has $1,712,318 in NFR earnings alone (per WPRA press release).

Firewaterfrenchfame & Summer Kosel ran another fast time of 13.59 for 2nd place to pick up their 6th check in 10 rounds. This 1st time NFR team ended up winning $113,015 at the NFR and now every barrel racing fan in the country will be keeping on watch for them when the next rodeo pops up on Cowboy Channel!

Sister & Hailey Kinsel wish there were 10 more rounds; the pair caught fire at the end of the 10 days and gave fans what they have so often over the past several years; fast, money winning runs! An All Time pair that is always fun to watch!

Missy & Jessica Routier capped of a great week with another great run. The $1 Million Horse & Rider picked up their 6th check in 10 rounds and also grabbed an average check! Another 1st time NFR team; Famous Hayday & Paige Jones also impressed all week picking up their 6th check in 10 rounds and they also ended up 4th in the average. The pair won $114,171 at the 2023 NFR.

Lisa Lockhart & Promise Me Fame Guys Capture NFR Championship

By Tanya Randall

Round 10 at the National Finals Rodeo was set to be a historic night as the top three barrel racers in the aggregate – Brittany Pozzi Tonozzi, Kassie Mowry and Jordon Briggs were all in contention to break Briggs' 10-run record from 2022.

Veteran Lisa Lockhart, who had been solid in the aggregate the entire rodeo, was second out. She and Promise Me Fame Guys ("Levee") posted a 13.54, a time likely to place in the round, but what happened next no one expected.

By the round's end, Lockhart and Levee had won the night and as the only team to make 10 clean passes through the barrels, topped the lucrative average, worth $78,747.

"It's the unexpected that's the most rewarding," said Lockhart, who claimed her third NFR Championship—she won with her beloved An Oakie With Cash ("Louie") in 2014 and 2015. She also won her third WPRA Reserve World Championship with $343,688, moving up from fifth to second in the World Standings.

She and Levee's NFR experience accounted for $209,096. They won Round 3, along with 10, and placed in five others.

"He always starts out hesitant and we figured he would get more confident," said the Oelrichs, South Dakota, barrel racer, "and he did. The middle (rounds 5 and 6) was probably more than anything jockey errors, trying to go too fast. Sometimes when you try to make it happen, instead of letting it happen—that was our thoughts on it as we'd go back and reassess every day. At the end, we just tried to do what we needed to do and do it correctly, and let it take care of itself."

Levee, a 7-year-old gelding by Aint Seen Nothin Yet out of Bar Blue Lass, by FC Aboo, was bred by Tenley Epperson and registered in her parent's names. He started his competitive career under the saddle of Samantha Flannery before selling to Teton Ridge midway through his fifth year.

That December he made his first trip to the NFR with Lockhart. He made a few runs that year but has made 20 more trips down the Thomas & Mack tunnel since.

"He makes barrel racing fun, no doubt about it," said Lockhart. "It took us a while to suit each other. I feel like once we got to that point, we've been able to keep it that way."

Levee, along with Alan Woodbury's Rosas Cantina CC and Lock-hart's own gelding Prime Diamond ("Cutter") helped Lockhart set a new WPRA lifetime earnings record this year with $3,510,066. She passed Sherry Cervi for the all-time leader title during the NFR.

"We're very proud and fortunate to have gotten that honor," she added before joking that she hoped newly crowned and record setting World Champion Brittany Pozzi Tonozzi would let her keep it for a little while.

Lockhart has been an NFR staple for the past 17 years. She made her first NFR in 2007 and hasn't missed one since. Only Sherry Cervi and Charmayne James have been to more with 19 a piece and James is the only one with more consecutive appearances.

"I can remember the first one like it was yesterday," said Lockhart. "Everything in between is a little bit of a blur." While she noted that everyone can appreciate how the prize money has changed, what impresses her is the rise in professionalism and competition.

"Everybody can talk about the money, which is awesome, but more than anything what impresses me and a lot of people within the industry—and rodeo in general—is the level of professionalism and competition,” she said, referring to how tight the NFR is becoming. “We all go to however many rodeos, and it comes down to something so tight with averages and rounds.”

She also appreciates how various entities have worked to improve the ground at the various rodeos around the country. The work for safer, even footing hasn’t gone unnoticed.

“That’s so appreciated for our horses. It’s all about the horse. It’s the fact that people care and are trying. It makes a difference and it’s very appreciated. Footing is everything.”

She also wanted to thank rodeo fans everywhere. “Without fans, what is rodeo?” she said. “We love our fans!” Lockhart, who has back-to-back reserve championships in 2014 and 2015, is often asked about her quest for a gold buckle. While it would be greatly appreciated, a gold buckle has never been her main quest.

“My goal has always been to make the Finals and do it in as few rodeos as possible,” she said. “Getting qualified in a decent position—I don’t ever want to be on the bubble ever again—in as few rodeos as possible is good business, and it’s good for family. That’s always been our thing, get there and have that opportunity. If something (like a gold buckle) were ever to transpire—would we be elated? Of course! But that’s never been a part of our agenda.”

Lockhart plans on taking the same path as she has in the past, starting off with the National Western in Denver and the Black Hills Stock Show & Rodeo in Rapid City, South Dakota. But for now, she wants to enjoy the holidays and the unseasonably warm weather that makes riding colts more productive.

“I haven’t even begun to start processing stuff for next year and writing stuff down,” she admitted. “Books for Denver opened during the NFR. I think Fort Worth opens today, and we got an email saying Houston was open—it stays open longer, but I don’t even know when it closes! Kenneth (Springer) actually texts me, ‘Did you

Monk and TNR WannaSeeMyCanCan Sizzle at The Equinety Jingle Bell Classic TC 100 Crown Round

Hope Raley

Emory, Texas futurity trainer DaCota Monk has had a dream year aboard TNR WannaSeeMyCanCan owned by Billy and Suzonne Franks. The dynamic duo just wrapped up their final run of the season and they went out with a bang- winning The Equinety Jingle Bell Classic and Triple Crown 100 Crown Round Slot Race worth $60,000! The Equinety Jingle Bell Classic is held at the Georgia Nationals Fairgrounds in Perry, Georgia and is one of the largest, most prestigious races on the east coast with over $125k in added money and incentives and another $250k in Triple Crown Round 2D Slot Race.

Monk made the choice to venture back to Perry this year after attending the Jingle Bell Classic last year. "We went down to Perry last year and had a great time. I told myself that if I had some nice horses the following year, that I would go back. I ended up buying some slots early for the Crown Round and with the year that CanCan and I were having, it was an easy decision to go back," explained DaCota Monk.

Going into Perry, Monk's goals were to add to TNR WannaSeeMyCanCan's lifetime earnings and finish the year off strong and on the top of their game. A little bit of unplanned chaos started their trip off on the wrong foot with a blown tire causing Monk to miss his exhibitions which he was going to use to prepare himself and "CanCan" for their one run inside the Georgie National Fairgrounds.

TNR WannaSeeMyCanCan is by leading sire Eddie Stinson and out of Chase This Ivory by Ivory James. Instead of panicking about missing his exhibitions, Monk decided to let CanCan and his other three horses rest Friday before the slot race on Saturday. "Going into the slot race, I knew that CanCan could win it, but my main goal was just to place. The setup suited her- a shorter run to the first barrel with second and third barrel off the wall, leaving more room to get around them, depending on how tight CanCan was going to be that day."

Monk explained that the shorter run to the first barrel kind of snuck up on him and CanCan in their run- "She got to running pretty hard to the first barrel, I actually felt her hit a new gear that she hadn't hit before, so I helped her find the barrel. She slammed on her brakes and still somehow managed to execute that turn perfectly."

From that point on, Monk rode the little gritty mare as aggressively as he could, rocking second barrel just enough that Monk let CanCan step up on the backside in order to keep from meeting the gravity-stricken barrel. "I have learned with CanCan that the more that I ride her like an open horse and with the confidence of an open horse, the most confident she is."

The pair stopped the clock with a smoking 14.652-which secured the win for Monk and a fat check of $60,000!

When asked about CanCan's personality, Monk describes her as loveable and pretty perfect. "She is laidback, sweet, and quiet. She only has two quirks, and I let her have those quirks. She likes to scream for her friends at the top of her lungs, and when warming her up, she'll always be feeling fresh so she will always find something to spook at which in turn, turns into her swinging her head and 'play bucking'. I just let her do it because I know she is fixing to go lay down a run when she gets to acting sassy like that," laughed Monk.

When asked what a few of his and CanCan's memorable wins were, Monk had a hard time picking just one, so here is a list of some of their most memorable wins-

- Golden Buckle Slot Race Champion
- Kinder Cup Futurity Champion

As far as what the future holds for Monk and CanCan, Monk says she will get the next couple of months off before dipping their toes in the bigger derbies. But- most importantly for Monk and CanCan's owners is that she gets the break that she deserves, and if she is happy and healthy, they will return to the arena next spring. At press time, Monk was waiting on Tomorrow's Legends to see if they surpassed the $500,000 lifetime earnings mark- having totaled CanCan's LTE after their win in Perry at $498,000+.

HEADIN' FOR HOME

by Sherry Morrison // Triple M (Mike Morrison Ministries)

Merry Christmas! My friend mentioned to me a few days ago, that she feels sorry for people who have a hard time at Christmas. It could be financially or emotionally. Or just being overwhelmed with all the doing.

I thought about that for a while. Then I believe I heard down on the inside of me... "That's what Christmas is all about. I came so people would have hope, prosperity, healing and deliverance from hell!"

"Well, of course, if we know Jesus, we know all that. But what if you have a friend or coworker who doesn't know Him and you can see they are struggling? It's high time you told them. No fear. With boldness. With love.

If you were overwhelmed, wouldn't you welcome someone helping you? I would. Someone did. And I am ever so thankful that they didn't keep Jesus to themselves! God bless you dear friends!
