It's Finally Here, the 2015 NFR Begins this Week

Does the wait until Thursday night seem like a century this week at work? Time seems to stand still the week leading up to the NFR kickoff! Especially when this year's National Finals Rodeo (NFR) pays a record $10 million (compared to $6.375 million in 2014), the barrel racers alone are running at $1.1 million in prize money this year; so this will be the most epic NFR us rodeo fans have ever seen.

Each year, the NFR pays so well the standings can be turned upside down within a couple rounds, but this year, with the rounds each paying $26,231 to win and the average paying out a whopping $67,269 for the win; the regular season standings really are just a way of getting qualified to the NFR. The World Champion could be any of the Top 15; the World Champion will be the lucky barrel racer who's horse is on top of his/her game for those 10 days.

This year's Top 15 is another interesting mix of talent; with 6 first time NFR qualifiers, 4 others with 3 or less trips to the NFR, and then on the opposite end of the spectrum is Sherry Cervi who is headed to her 18th National Finals Rodeo.

The horses are also a very interesting mix of talent, they are by leading sires such as Dash Ta Fame, PC Frenchmans Hayday, A Streak Of Fling, Dash For Perks, Dr Nick Bar, Designer Red, Frenchmans Guy, along with grand get of Fire Water Flit, Judge Cash among others. This group of ultra talented horses includes former futurity champions, open divisional champions, and rodeo champions.

According to our best estimate, the NFR barrel horses this year represent over an amazing $7 million of winnings! So the talent at this year's NFR is proven and potent.

It is always fun for us to discuss a few interesting notes and observations on each of the NFR qualifiers. Maybe it will help you with your fantasy team! Hope you enjoy our 2015 NFR preview.

One of the most fascinating stories of this year's NFR is standings leader Callie duPerier and her awesome buckskin, Rare Dillion. This is amazingly the third barrel racer Dillon has carried to the Finals. Annesa Self trained the speedy buckskin, took him through the futurity and derby ranks until he carried Self to a 2008 NFR Qualification. He then went on to carry Carlee Pierce to the Finals in 2011 & 2012 and now he has carried duPerier to the promised land in 2015.

Even though this is duPerier's first trip to the NFR, having a horse as experienced as Rare Dillion at the Thomas & Mack is sure to settle her nerves and give her a ton of confidence as she runs down the alley. Rare Dillion has run a ton of fast times there, including holding the arena record of 13.46 (with Carlee Pierce in 2011) for a couple years. duPerier will bring Dash Ta Diamonds to backup Dillon, he is also a very fast and experienced winner. Look for duPerier and Dillon to go after some go round wins throughout the week!

duPerier comes into the NFR $15,000 in front of veteran Lisa Lockhart and has gained confidence with every run through the

RFD-TV's Cowboy Experience returns to Vegas

For 10 days throughout the city, RFD-TV takes you behind the scenes and broadcasts each night's buckle ceremony from the South Point.

Las Vegas Events and RFD-TV are teaming up for the third straight year Dec. 3-12 to bring you live behind-the-scenes television coverage of the entire Cowboy Experience during the Wrangler National Finals Rodeo. In addition, Rural Radio SiriusXM Channel 147 will air live play-by-play coverage of every rodeo performance.

On RFD-TV, expect more than four hours of coverage each day from Las Vegas. The nightly go-round buckle ceremony from the South Point Hotel and Casino kicks off each daily broadcast schedule at 3 p.m. (ET). Flint Rasmussen's talk show, Outside the Barrel, immediately follows at 4 p.m. daily, and afternoon programming wraps up with live daily broadcasts of Western Sports Roundup at 5 p.m. That's when Steve Kenyon and Amy Wilson will provide up-to-the-minute news and conduct interviews with contestants, entertainers and more.

Tune in for highlights from the Benny Binion's Bucking Horse and Bull Sale, the Miss Rodeo America pageant, and the annual charity bowling and golf tournaments. The network will cover the always-entertaining Pro Rodeo League of Women Style Show and bring you all the latest from the Priefert World Series of Team Roping at the South Point, plus the brand-new Boyd Gaming Chute-Out Rodeo at The Orleans Arena, Dec. 10-12.

Rural Radio SiriusXM Channel 147 will broadcast each show one hour after it airs on RFD-TV. In addition, the Cowboy Shopping Network will air daily from Las Vegas on RFD-TV at 6 p.m. (ET). And on the radio channel, live radio coverage of each performance kicks off with a pre-show nightly at 9 p.m. (ET).

Episodes will be filmed live each day from the RFD-TV stage in the South Halls of the Las Vegas Convention Center, near RFD-TV Booth #4531.

RFD-TV Daily Broadcast Schedule Dec. 3-12:
South Point Buckle Ceremony, 3 p.m. (ET)
Outside the Barrel, 4 p.m.
Western Sports Round-Up, 5 p.m.

The Jud Little Ranch Partial Dispersion coming Dec. 19-20

The Jud Little Ranch will be holding its first ever Herd Reduction Sale on December 19 & 20, 2015 at the Jud Little Ranch near Springer, OK. The Saturday, December 19 sale starts at 6 pm, and the Sunday, December 20 sale kicks off at 10 am. Bidding and watching for the sale will be available live online by Superior Livestock at www.SuperiorLivestock.com.

A wide variety of over 140 weanlings, broodmares, high quality riding prospects, and finished barrel horses will be available. The bloodlines represented are the best in the business; including Jud Little Ranch NFR horses & sires Jl Dash Ta Heaven & Chicados Cash, along with the other ranch sires such as Cash Not Credit, Bugemforcash, No Mas Corona, He's Downrite Special, Bug In My Frosty and Doc O Mister Hawk. Some of the top sires in the racing & barrel racing industry are represented with get of sires such as FDD Dynasty, Valiant Hero, Stoli, Corona Cartel, Bully Bullion, Dash Ta Fame, Down Home Dash, Marthas Six Moons, Fire Water Flit, and Sun Frost available.

"We just have too many horses, and we just had twin grand baby girls born so we want to slow down a little so we can keep up with them. We will still have about 250 horses at the ranch and will continue to produce the high quality prospects we always have." said Jud Little.

The Herd Reduction sale is an absolute auction, so all horse will sell at the fall of the gavel. Bidding is available at the ranch and online. For more information go to www.judlittleranch.com; hover over the News & Events tab on the right side and click on December Horse Sale to get to the sale lists and other info. Online bidding will be handled through www.superiorlivestock.com, there is a How To Participate link on the December Horse Sale page on the Ranch website. A brochure containing sale information will be mailed this Friday. If you want to be on the mailing list or want more information in general either go to www.judlittleranch.com, email office@judlittleranch.com or call the ranch office at 580.653.2384.

RFD-TV's THE AMERICAN creates iconic match roping

Two of the three highest-earning athletes in pro rodeo history – Cody Ohl and Fred Whitfield – will rekindle their rivalry for the last time in a match to be televised Feb. 14, 2016, on RFD-TV.

The two will face off inside The San Antonio (Texas) Rose Palace in a 10-head contest with the winner earning an exemption into RFD-TV's THE AMERICAN, presented by Polaris RANGER. During the event, each athlete will compete behind more than one score length and on calves of differing sizes.

Ohl and Whitfield will reveal their thoughts on-air tonight about the coming match during Western Sports Weekly on RFD-TV at 9 p.m. (ET).

"This year, instead of management deciding who receives exemptions, we thought we'd create matches between some of the best athletes in the world," said Randy Bernard, CEO of RFD-TV Events. "This first one is truly an iconic match. It will be great to watch these two legends battle it out for only one spot, considering their history of fierce competition."

Between 1995 and 2006, either Ohl or Whitfield won every world championship in tie-down roping except for one (in '04). Ohl, 42, has earned $3.5 million and six world titles, while Whitfield, 48, has banked $3.2 million during eight gold-buckle runs. Whitfield became known nationally for "raising the roof" after good runs, while Ohl energized crowds with his six-second runs and penchant for pointing to his gold buckle. To date, they're still at the top of their game, having both been ranked last year in the top 25 in the world.

"Cody always motivated me, honestly," said Whitfield, who held the fast-time record of 84 seconds on 10 calves for 16 years. "We've probably matched eight times in 20 years, and this will be the final time. Nobody will tell the truth, but we're about even. We roped last fall in his hometown and I stuck it on him. So I consider myself one-up so far. The fact of the matter is, Cody and I still drive each other, and when you put those two names together, it's always explosive. When you say 'Fred Whitfield versus Cody Ohl,' there's something inside these bones that just lights up."

Ohl will forever be remembered by rodeo fans for blowing out his knee and crawling to his final animal in Las Vegas in 2001 en route to earning two gold buckles that year. He then bounced back from three surgeries to earn nearly $300,000 in 2006 – a single-event record in rodeo that still stands. Ohl still holds records for most go-round wins in one event (52) and fastest time recorded (6.5 seconds) at the Wrangler NFR.

Professional Rodeo Returns to Saskatchewan's Capital in 2016

Today, the Canadian Professional Rodeo Association (CPRA) and Canadian Western Agribition (CWA) are excited to announce a new rodeo partnership and structure for the 2016 edition of Canada's largest livestock exhibition and trade show.

The formal announcement was made by the two organizations as they concluded an agreement that will see CWA partner with the CPRA to host the "Agribition Pro Rodeo" in 2016. The four performance rodeo will take place during CWA, November 21 – 26 and is the first pro rodeo of its kind in Saskatchewan. The event will feature 16 top athletes from each of the seven major events who will be divided into two pools of eight competing in two performances each.

"Inviting the best cowboys and cowgirls in Rodeo to Agribition offers visitors a new entertainment experience. It is Agribition's first time using this model and we intend to raise the fan experience and deliver a world-class event just like everything else we do," explains Bruce Holmquist, CWA Rodeo Chair.

The roster will be based on the Pro Rodeo Canada standings at the end of the 2016 regular season and will be the inaugural event of the 2017 schedule. Top professional competitors from around the world will battle for $100,000 in prize money, giving rodeo fans in Saskatchewan high energy, actionpacked rodeo to enjoy.

"We are excited to welcome Agribition into our rodeo family as we continue to move forward with our commitment to grow our sport in Canada," noted CPRA President Murry Milan. "Regina has always been a great rodeo community and I know our rodeo athletes will look forward to competing at what will be an amazing kick-off to our season."

year, she has two very good horses to ride so she definitely has a good shot to carry her #1 ranking to the end of the 10 days.

Lisa Lockhart & Louie (An Oakie With Cash) have been the darlings of the barrel racing world over the last couple years. In 2014, this team came up just a little over $10,000 short of a world title behind Fallon Taylor.

That didn't slow them down a bit, as they came back this year to not only be #2 in the World, but they won two separate $100,000 checks this year. The first in RFDTV's The American (also won this in 2014) & the second at the Calgary Stampede. In fact, the duo has won almost $500,000 in earnings since the 2014 Canadian Finals, marking perhaps the best year in history for a barrel horse and rider.

An injury towards the end of the summer kept Louie out of commission for the last couple months but he is back and ready for action. He recently got his first run back after a Little Britches rodeo in Rapid City, SD for the few in the crowd lucky enough to catch a glimpse of Louie getting his groove back.

Louie & Lisa love the pen at the NFR, in fact they have earned over $540,000 since Louie's debut there in 2010, and a world title is the only title these two haven't put their names on. Even though the runs at the NFR will be Louie's first back, expect this team to be pursuing nightly round wins and an average title en route to a world championship.

Coming in #3 in the World, Sarah McDonald, comes in on her roan phenom, Fame Fling N Bling. After winning the WPRA Rookie title last year with limited hauling, McDonald set out to make the Finals this year; she did that and more.

Fame Fling N Bling and McDonald have shown they can win in all different conditions through the year and are up to the any challenge. This should be an electric team to watch, they grew in up together running and winning wherever they went. The've made many runs at smaller setups and blind first barrels so they should take to the Thomas & Mack like a duck to water. Look for this team to be putting their name on some go round buckles. If they keep in the average at the end of the 10 rounds, they will give duPerier & Lockhart all they can handle in the world title race.

Looking up at the top 3, in #4 is 2012 World Champs, Perculatin (Latte) & Mary Walker. After a slow start in 2015, this team rolled through the summer run. They quietly marched up the standings as Latte returned to his 2012 form. Latte rested up through the fall and then has come back winning at jackpots in Texas, just like in 2012. We all know what Latte can do when he is on his game at the Thomas & Mack. If you have a fantasy team, this might be a great value for you. If this team gets off to a fast start, it might just be a repeat of 2012!

In #5, Sherry Cervi & Mp Meter My Hay (Stingray) are the most experienced members of this group. Cervi is making her 18th trip to the NFR, she is a 4 time World Champion, 2 of which are on Stingray; so it is safe to say they both know their way around the NFR pattern. Heck I bet at this point Stingray can probably find most of the buffets in Vegas!

Cervi & Stingray have won over $580,000 at the NFR alone since 2009 and hold the NFR earnings record of $155,899 from 2013. After only winning $29,00 last year, this team will be looking to return to their world title form. Cervi has rested Stingray on and off this year and is coming off a jackpot win over the weekend in Arizona so she should be healthy, happy and ready for a big 10 days. As always, this team will also be in the average race, as they hold the NFR Average record of 138.15 set in 2013.

At #6, Nancy Hunter & Flit N Fizz (Fuzz) come into their second NFR in a row, ready to go. Hunter & Fuzz had a nice Finals last year winning over $32,000 but a few hit barrels kept them from winning several more big checks and they were just out of placing in several rounds. With that experience under their belt, this team should be ready for a breakout year. You can bet the calculated Hunter & her husband Fred are working a plan to maximize their runs in Vegas. Fuzz has shown he can run fast in the pen. Fuzz had the lightest year of rodeos of any horse at the NFR with only 26; he only runs at pens he likes so he should come in not only physically fresh but mentally fresh as well.

The 2014 WPRA World Champion, Fallon Taylor, comes into this year's NFR in the #7 position. Her and mount Flos Heiress (Babyflo) lit up the Thomas & Mack last year. They placed in 8 rounds and won reserve champion in the average, almost $145,000, and a world title. If this team repeats that performance, they could quickly close the $80,000 gap between them and world leader Callie duPerier.

Babyflo has been well rested through the fall and should be ready for her time in the spotlight. This is one of the toughest little mares you will ever see run barrels and she proves time and time again she loves the big moments, like her sire and dam. With Taylor coming in this far down the list, she will be going after the go rounds right away to make up ground, so look for this pair to get off to a fast start and set the pace.

In #8 in the world sits first time NFR qualifier, Cassidy Kruse. Kruse & Jkr Assured Win (JJ) & Guys Dashing Girl (Ellie) just placed along throughout the year and kept climbing the standings as the year went on. Although this is her 1st NFR, JJ is a horse she has run for almost 10 years. They know each other well and have made a million runs together so the NFR will just be another place to run barrels.

This may be Kruse's 1st time to Vegas but she is a seasoned competitor who has won consistently at every level, and since she is from up north she is used to running smaller patterns in tight, indoor setups. Look for this team to place in the rounds & stay in good position in that lucrative average.

The current arena record holders at the NFR, Taylor Jacob & Honor Thy Frenchman (Bo), will start off the week in the #9 position. In 2013, this team burst onto the scene, winning 4 Rounds at the NFR while scorching a 13.37 to set the arena record.

In 2014, injuries kept the team from making the Finals but this year they are back to full strength and in the mix. There may be no faster horse than Bo in the Thomas & Mack when he is tapped off. Jacob & Bo have nothing to lose so look for them to go after the rounds from the get go. If they get tapped off there is no doubt they will take some trips to the South Point to pick up some hardware.

In #10 is another first time qualifier, Carley Richardson. She comes into the NFR off a year of winning on both her horses; Doda Flit (Radio) was the star early in the year and Fashionable Boy (Boy) was the star later in the season. Both horses have won their fair share against the "big boys" and are ready to make their debut on the sports biggest stage.

Although, Richardson is a 1st time NFR competitor, she is another person who has won in several different events at every level so she is ready for this stage. Radio won in the smaller setup at Rodeo Austin earlier in the year so this pair should be ready to rock and roll.

In #11 sits 3 time NFR qualifier, Michele McLeod. McLeod will kick off this year's NFR riding the Equistat all-time leading money earning barrel racing stallion, Slick By Design (Slick). Slick missed last year's NFR due to lingering effects from an illness, but comes into this year healthy and in winning form (posting recent wins in Texas). In 2013, Slick proved he liked the Thomas & Mack by running a 13.48, which is the fastest time ever for a stallion at the NFR.

McLeod is a seasoned veteran who can win on different horses. She won on Slick in 2013 & Kellies Chick in 2014 at the NFR. In fact, she rode 3 different horses to qualify this year (Slick By Design, Kellies Chick, Apt To Be Special). Her and Slick know each other well & have such a comfort level with each other that they should come into the NFR guns blazing. Look for this team to be in the race for that NFR Average title.

In #12 sits the rookie sensation, Jackie Ganter. Ganter comes into the NFR with 4 great horses. She plans to start out on Blazin Baby J (Baby J) and Guys French Jet (Jet) will be the second in command. Blazin Baby J has been an amazing horse for a long time, he won the 2013 BFA Futurity with Callie Rios and transitioned smoothly into the rodeos with Ganter. Baby J has won on every type of setup and is just simply fast so it will be fun to see how he takes to the Thomas & Mack.

If she decides to get on Jet, he is an very seasoned & reliable and he has won in a number of different setups also. Although Ganter is just a rookie, she has been running several head of horses at all the biggest divisional events over the last several years just to prepare for these 10 days in Vegas, so she should handle the NFR like a veteran.

In #13 sits another rookie, Vickie Carter, who is still in a race with Jackie Ganter for WPRA Rookie of the Year. Whoever has the best NFR will win the Rookie Title since they are only separated by a little over $6,000 in the standings. Carter brings with her the most heart warming story of the NFR.

Through the year, Carter rode Blazin Ta Fame (owned by the Hendrix family), in honor of the late Rachel Hendrix, all the way to her first NFR qualification. Then after a magical year, Blaze recently had colic surgery and will not be able to run at the NFR. Through the kindness of our barrel racing community, Carter will continue on the "Riding For Rachel" journey riding two awesome horses; Designing Scooter (owned by Rylee Dick) and Casadys Cash N Fame (owned by Laurel & Cassidy Champlin). These horses are both great horses; in fact, Designing Scooter with Rylee Dick just recently won the double tough Glen Rose, TX American Qualifier; so Carter has the horse power to get in the money.

Everyone in the barrel racing community will be rooting for Carter; no matter what horse she rides down the alley. Everyone will also be rooting for Blaze as he treks the road to recovery and hopefully another NFR berth in the future.

After a stressful September, Jana Bean qualified to her second NFR in the #14 position. Her first string mount, Im A Royal Design (Hammer), is a CFR arena record holder (with Carlee Pierce) and overall a very fast horse who should take well to the NFR arena. Bean and Hammer just got better and better together as the year went on and proved they enjoy the pressure situations when they won all through September to make the Finals. This is Bean's second time at the NFR so she knows all the ins and outs and is ready to win!

This year's #15 is NFR & CFR veteran Deb Guelly. Although she rode Royal Star Commander for most of the year, she will switch onto Docs Flashy Scooter, Peppy Colonel Tivio, and Señor La Jolla for the NFR. All three horses are proven rodeo winners who have handled situations like the NFR before. Plus, Guelly is a many time seasoned competitor of both the NFR & CFR so she knows just what to do to get to the winner's circle in these situations.

This year's World Championship race is sure to have a number of twists & turns, but with the high paying rounds this year, it really will come down to which horse gets off to a fast start and stays strong through the 10 rounds.

If Lockhart & Louie get tapped off early, with their experience of winning money in the rounds & average, they might just cruise to their 1st World Championship and cap off the greatest year in barrel racing history. However, with duPerier carrying a $15,000 lead into the NFR and riding a former arena record holder, she should give Lockhart a good run for her money all week. Her and McDonald (another first time NFR qualifier) both have very fast horses with proven win records in these type of conditions, so either of them could get on a roll and make a run at the World Championship.

Along with them you have 3 teams responsible for the last 4 world championships, Walker & Latte (2012), Cervi & Stingray (2010, 2013) and Taylor & Babyflo (2014). They sit just thousands behind the top 3. If any of those teams come into the NFR rolling they can quickly close the gap and move into the top spot.

When we talk about the dark horse of the group, it really could be any of the other competitors because they are all riding horses capable of getting on a roll & as we have discussed with the money available in the rounds and average a hot team could streak up the standings quickly. One thing we know for sure, whoever comes out of these 10 days as the World Champion will be deserving because this maybe one of the toughest groups of ladies and horses we have seen.

So make sure you have CBS Sports Network on your TV and strap in for an amazing 10 days of action! Look into this week's Barrel Racing Report for all the NFR coverage times, channels to watch, and sources. Get ready to watch earnings records broke in all the events and the rodeo world changed forever.

On a personal note, the Barrel Racing Report would like to congratulate each and every barrel racer in the Top 15. To make it to the NFR this year, you had to outrun the most talented horses to ever grace the barrel racing world. We would also like to thank each of you for taking the time out of your busy schedules to get back to us for stories, horse information, and whatever else we needed from you. As a fan reading this at home, you should know that at this year's NFR you are represented by a group of wonderful people who happen to also be very talented barrel racers. I wish everyone had the chance to get to talk to these fine women because they truly are all very special people.

Omaha, NE.

BRR: What is your favorite part of barrel racing & the rodeo lifestyle?
duPerier: Chasing my dreams with my horses and having my family behind me the whole way.

BRR: What is your favorite inspirational quote or saying that you use to keep you going during the year?
duPerier: Never let people's negative thoughts about you hinder you from accomplishing what God put in your heart. Dare to dream and dare to live it!

BRR: What is your favorite thing to do with your horses other than barrels?
duPerier: Just hanging out with them and letting them eat grass and roll in the arena. I also like to put them on the TheraPlate almost everyday.

BRR: What one quality do you see in a horse and it makes you want to buy them?
duPerier: Getting to see most of the U.S. is my favorite part of being on the road. It's fun to compare all the states with their similarities and differences. I also like being able to try different restaurants and eating different types of food.

BRR: What special qualities does your horse have & what makes him/her unique?
duPerier: They both have very big hearts and give everything they have every run we make. Dillon is very consistent and has a great personality! Arson always runs his hardest and is very sweet and loves to be loved on!

BRR: What one piece of horsemanship or barrel racing advice would you give people trying to run barrels on a professional level?
duPerier: Don't over think your riding and no matter what, don't give up!

BRR: If your horse were a celebrity which would he/she be?

style?
Lockhart: I love the challenges that the rodeo lifestyle and barrel racing has to offer. The bar is getting set higher and higher every year in the barrel racing and it is fun to try and keep up! I also really enjoy training barrel horses and bringing them up through the ranks. It keeps me very motivated and driven.

BRR: What is your favorite inspirational quote or saying that you use to keep you going during the year?
Lockhart: "Success is neither magical nor mysterious; success is the natural consequence of consistently applying the basic fundamentals." Jim Rohn

BRR: What is your favorite thing to do with your horses other than barrels?
Lockhart: We do a lot of pasture riding on our ranch and we allow our horses to enjoy plenty of turn out time.

BRR: What special qualities does your horse have & what makes him/her unique?
Lockhart: I truly believe Louie's willingness to please is what makes him consistent. He aims to please every time he goes down the alleyway. Chisum makes my job easy and is very fun to ride!

BRR: What one piece of horsemanship or barrel racing advice would you give people trying to run barrels on a professional level?
Lockhart: Make sure you are educated. Figure out what works best for you and your horse. You need to cater to your horse's needs and enter rodeos reflecting that.

BRR: If your horse were a celebrity which would he/she be?
Lockhart: Louie would be Dennis The Menace and Chisum would be Mr. Wilson! It perfectly describes each horses personality.

BRR: What are your horse's Lifetime Earnings?
McDonald: ??

BRR: List a few of your horse's major accomplishments.
McDonald: Bling was the BRR Top horse her 5 yr old year. Bling has been top Divisional Horse of the Year multiple times, I also won the 2014 WPRA Rookie Of The Year on her.

BRR: List a few of your major accomplishments.
McDonald: 2005 NBHA Open World Champion, Divisional Rider of the Year, 2014 WPRA Rookie of the Year

BRR: What is your favorite part of barrel racing & the rodeo lifestyle?
McDonald: I grew up in a horse riding family and have learned everything about horses from them. I love how I can share the love of horses and barrel racing with my family and with other people who love horses just as much as I do on the rodeo trail.

My favorite part about rodeoing is being able to spend so much one on one time with my horses. It's really helped me build a bond with Bling and understand her more. Some of the country is so beautiful, I've met so many awesome people, and I love the challenge of running at different arenas.

BRR: What is your favorite inspirational quote or saying that you use to keep you going during the year?
McDonald: My Mom always told me if I do the ultimate best that I can do then there is no need to worry. She sends me a lot of bible verses to lift me up to help me remember to stay positive.

BRR: What is your favorite thing to do with your horses other than barrels?
McDonald: I LOVE being at home on my family's farm and riding them on trail rides in the woods. It's so peaceful and I love all the beautiful trees and grass. When I'm home I try to ride every day with my family and friends.

BRR: What special qualities does your horse have & what makes him/her unique?
McDonald: Bling is such a smart and talented mare. She understands what I ask her to do and she is super quick on her feet. She tries so hard to please me and do her best everytime she runs, I really appreciate that.

BRR: What one piece of horsemanship or barrel racing advice would you give people trying to run barrels on a professional level?
McDonald: Time in the saddle will pay off. My uncle would always tell me to get the lead out of my britches and get on some horses (Lol)! Also, study your horse and build a good level of trust.

BRR: If your horse were a celebrity which would he/she be?
McDonald: Wonder Women! She never ceases to amaze me!

#4 Mary Walker, $110,105
Age: 56 - Hometown: Ennis, TX - Joined WPRA: 1983

BRR: Which horses are you taking with to the finals?
Walker: Latte (Perculatin) 11 yr old, brown gelding, 15.2, 1150 lbs
A Frosty Please (Bojangles) 5 yr old, 16 hds 1,100 lbs

BRR: What are your horse's Lifetime Earnings?
Walker: Latte is getting close to $900,000 in earnings.

BRR: List a few of your horse's major accomplishments.
Walker: Latte was 2012 AQHA Barrel Horse of the year & World Champion.

BRR: List a few of your major accomplishments.
Walker: 2012 World Champion, 2012 Top Gun Winner. I was inducted into the National Cowgirl Hall of Fame and given the Tad Lucas Award.

BRR: What is your favorite part of barrel racing & the rodeo life-style?
Walker: My favorite part of barrel racing is the fast horses. Nothing better then watching a nice horse go do a good job. Barrel racing is a humbling sport. It can be great one day and you struggle the next. The rodeo lifestyle is not the most extravagant, you work hard day after day. There are all night drives and not so good conditions, but that's rodeo.

My favorite part of rodeoing is seeing friends. I have made a lot of new friends from being on the road. We have also caught up with old ones that we rodeoed with years ago. We also love to see new things. All the miles you drive, there is always something you have never seen before.

Walker: I really enjoy riding in the pasture. It seems to help with all the pressures; just walking and letting my horses be comfortable.

BRR: What special qualities does your horse have & what makes him/her unique?
Walker: I think one of Latte's special qualities is he is a road warrior. I have made almost every run on him. He loves his job. Sometimes I think he is happier going. When he has been home for awhile he gets cranky. When you load the other horses to go to jackpots he will buck and kick in his stall. Also another good quality about him is you can run him as fast (as you can) to the first barrel and he will turn it. It is a lot of fun!

BRR: What one piece of horsemanship or barrel racing advice would you give people trying to run barrels on a professional level?
Walker: My advice to someone wanting to be a barrel racer on a professional level would be to have a good horse. Not every horse along the way. I also … thoroughly enjoy seasoning horses at the rodeos and making young horses into rodeo horses.

BRR: What is your favorite inspirational quote or saying that you use to keep you going during the year?
Cervi: I love quotes so it is hard to pick just one but this is one of my favorites- "Go the extra mile; it's never crowded."

BRR: What is your favorite thing to do with your horses other than barrels?
Cervi: When my husband, Cory (Petska), has time he will rope on them.

BRR: What special qualities does your horse have & what makes him/her unique?
Cervi: I believe that Stingray's grit and heart is what makes her so unique and special. She can run on any type of ground and she can run in any size arena.

BRR: What one piece of horsemanship or barrel racing advice would you give people trying to run barrels on a professional level?
Cervi: Get yourself a mentor. Surround yourself with people who have been there and done that. Try to learn something from everyone and learn what to do and what not to do.

BRR: What is your favorite part of barrel racing & the rodeo life-style?
Hunter: Being with Fred, riding amazing horses and the joy of competing.

BRR: What is your favorite inspirational quote or saying that you use to keep you going during the year?
Hunter: When things go bad and they always do at certain times, I tell myself to keep pushing! Plus Fred always finds the words to inspire me.

BRR: What is your favorite thing to do with your horses other than barrels?
Hunter: Just being around them, horses are so magical and special.

BRR: What special qualities does your horse have & what makes him/her unique?
Hunter: Fuzz stays pretty true to his training and is consistent.

Flos NickNack (NickNack, full sister to Babyflo) 10 yo sorrel mare 14.2h tall, owned by my parents Shelton & Dian Taylor

BRR: What are your horse's Lifetime Earnings?
Taylor: $500k+ approx.

BRR: List a few of your horse's major accomplishments.
Taylor: 2013 Horse of the Year, 2012 Reserve Horse of the Year, 2014 World Champion

BRR: List a few of your major accomplishments.
Taylor: Getting helmet awareness spread across the country and enriching the sport for the next generation.

BRR: What is your favorite part of barrel racing & the rodeo lifestyle?
Taylor: My favorite part is the barrel racing and my least favorite part is the rodeo lifestyle (Lol)! I wish I could spend more time at the rodeos I am entered at to meet more people and get a little more rest time for my mare. The people make this so special for me and my family!

BRR: What is your favorite inspirational quote or saying that you use to keep you going during the year?
Taylor: DO work! (no excuses just keep trucking)

BRR: What is your favorite thing to do with your horses other than barrels?
Taylor: I love the breeding side of things and experimenting with bloodlines since we have the luxury of mare power. My parents worked so hard to make sure we had good ones in the barn all the time, I simply want to keep that going forward.

BRR: What special qualities does your horse have & what makes him/her unique?
Taylor: She is a phenom and watching her run is such an honor much less getting to ride her.

BRR: What one piece of horsemanship or barrel racing advice would you give people trying to run barrels on a professional level?
Taylor: Take all the weaknesses you have in your riding and take lessons outside of the sport...from other disciplines; it will propel you to the next level much faster

Headin' For Home

by Sherry Morrison
Triple M (Mike Morrison Ministries)

As we are fast entering into the Christmas season, I would like to begin it with the right attitude!

Black Friday is behind us and there are 24 more days of…….chaos? Well, I guess that depends on what we focus on!

I personally hate to see Christmas decorations coming out the end of September. (Yep! Saw it with my very own eyes!) I mutter and grumble about it….a lot.

However, the other day a man at church was talking to me and in passing he said, "You know, I used to get upset about Christmas starting so early until the thought came to me that we could celebrate Jesus' birthday all year long and it wouldn't be too much……..."

Well, there you go. God loves me enough to have someone randomly remind me of just how you can get focused on all the wrong things.

It's about HIM! Every…….single……..day……365 days a year! Let's enjoy every one of them!

Mike and Sherry Morrison pastor "Church at the Barn" in Gillette, WY. They also travel to other areas ministering at barrel races, ranches, rodeos, churches and home Bible studies. Check out our schedule online. You can also download all Bible studies by visiting our website: m-m-m.org or contact us at: PO Box 2439, Gillette, WY. 82717, 307/685-2272.
