Let the Games Begin - the 2014 NFR is Finally Here

Can you feel it? The excitement is building up for the absolute best time of year if you are a barrel racing fan. It's NFR time! Every year the National Finals Rodeo features the very best in the world running for the biggest purses of the year and of course that elusive World Champion Barrel Racer title. This years record NFR purse is $6.375 million with nearly $800k for the barrel racers alone; in fact this year a round win paying $19,002 and the average title paying a whopping $48,732. This huge purse means any barrel racer in the Top 15 could run right up the standings and claim a world title. This year's NFR is going to be an interesting one to handicap because there are 5 first time qualifiers to the NFR with 7 others with 3 NFR qualifications or less. The 3 veterans of the group are 17 time qualifier, Sherry Cervi, 8 time qualifier, Lisa Lockhart, and 6 time qualifier, Fallon Taylor.

Every year we say that this is the toughest bunch of horses ever assembled and this year that is true again! In fact, it took a record $70,416 for Jana Bean to make it to the NFR in 15th place. The leading sires in the industry are represented again with own sons and daughters of Dr Nick Bar, Dash Ta Fame, A Streak Of Fling, Frenchmans Guy, Firewaterontherocks, Shawne Bug Leo, Blazin Jetolena, Darkelly, Dash For Perks, PC Frenchmans Hayday, Wonders Pal, Biebers Oakie, and Texas High Dasher being ridden this year. As another indication about how tough of group this is, their unofficial lifetime earnings all together are over $6.5 million dollars!

Coming into the NFR with a $24,000 lead this year is a 3rd year qualifier, Kaley Bass and her ultra consistent grey gelding, Cowboy (Wonders Cowboy Dan). This pair just stormed through the summer rodeos winning everywhere they went during the mid summer run and bagging the Calgary title along the way. Those wins were on big outdoor rodeos but Cowboy has proven the last two years that his calm demeanor really fits the electricity of the Thomas & Mack. His versatility is part of the reason he was voted 2014 AQHA/WPRA Horse Of The Year. In 2012 the pair won $68,022 and in 2013 they came back and won another $60,997. In 2013 a hit barrel in Round 10 kept them from winning a whole bunch more average money and in 2012 a hit barrel in Round 9 kept her from winning the NFR Average. If Cowboy runs the same as he has in the past and they keep all the barrels up for 10 rounds it could be a World Title for the youngest barrel racer at the NFR this year. No matter what, it is a safe bet this pair will leave Vegas with a big check in hand.

In #2, Fallon Taylor and her dynamite little mare Babyflo (Flos Heiress) have made the NFR for the second year in a row. Last year, the NFR didn't go the way they had planned, and the pair left Vegas just winning $15,925. Taylor & Babyflo have worked all year to make sure they make a splash this year in the Thomas & Mack. Babyflo was the 2013 AQHA/WPRA Horse of the Year, both her parents are former NFR horses (Dr Nick Bar & Flowers And Money), and she proved herself again this year.

This mare might be small, but she has as big a heart as any barrel horse you are going to see and she is as gritty as they come. They will be after them in the rounds right from the beginning of the week with nothing to lose. This should make for a dangerous pair that will definitely keep Bass and Cowboy on their toes if they want to win the world.

In #3 is veteran, Lisa Lockhart, she is making her 8th trip in a row, starting in 2007, to the NFR. After an injury earlier in the year to her main mount Louie (An Oakie With Cash), she is just getting him back into form. He came back to competition from his injury a few weeks ago at the Canadian National Finals, winning the 1st Round. If Louie takes to the NFR this year like he has in the past, Lockhart will be in contention for a world title from the word go. With each round paying $19k and the average paying over $48 it would be easy for her to close the gap on Bass.

It will be interesting to see what strategy she takes into the finals; will she go for the rounds right away to make up the difference or stay consistent and depend on the average money to close that $34k gap? Louie loves these setups winning an astounding amount of money over the last several years in similar situations at the NFR, CFR and even winning $100,000 in the pressure packed Finals of the first American rodeo in Dallas Cowboys Stadium earlier this year.

In #4 is Nancy Hunter with her great horse Fuzz (Flit N Fizz). Even though this is her first NFR qualification, Hunter and Fuzz are veterans to the big rodeos. In fact in 2014, Hunter and Fuzz won Rodeo Houston for the 2nd year in a row. Amazingly, Hunter only entered 26 rodeos and only ran Fuzz at 23! That's pretty much how everyone wants to rodeo! She went to a 1/4 to 1/2 the rodeos of everyone else so Fuzz is fresh and ready for the 10 day run.

Hunter and her husband, Fred (who trains barrel horses), will have Fuzz ready and a plan to maximize his runs at the NFR. If you haven't been watching rodeo closely and watched Fuzz run, you are in for a real treat. He has been running against and beating the best horses in the world for years, but Hunter always sticks to her plans and only goes to a handful of rodeos each year. If Fuzz takes to the Thomas & Mack they could get some major checks and make a run at the world title.

In #5, Britany Diaz and her great little mare, Rootie (Dasher Dude), make a trip back to the NFR. After not having the NFR Diaz wanted the first time she made it in 2011; Diaz and Rootie come into the Finals with 3 more years of experience and they know just what to expect this time around. At 14 years old Rootie has found a second wind and is working the best she ever has; running up $102,000 in earnings this year. This is one gritty little black mare and she has been running well everywhere she goes, big patterns, little patterns, indoors, outdoors; she doesn't seem to care! This is another team to watch in the world title race for if they get tapped off in the first few rounds.

In #6 Michele McLeod makes her second NFR appearance in a row. This year her main mount, Slick (Slick By Design), is still recovering from an illness he picked up while competing in Calgary this year so she is jumping on the great mare, Skye (Kellies Chick). Although, Skye is so big she will make McLeod look like one of those 6 & Under Peewees that's on their Mom's good barrel horse; she really thrives on the smaller patterns. Just this year she made The American Finals, won the National High School Barrel title and set an arena record in Nampa. If her past performances are any indication, Skye and McLeod should just get better and better through the rounds. This pair could be one to watch in the NFR average race!

In #7 is 2012 World Champion Mary Walker and Latte (Perculatin). Although they come in a little down the standings, they are a dangerous duo. In 2012, Latte and Walker roared into Vegas and won over $146k and the world title, then last year they just quietly snuck out of Vegas with $92,000. So they are a proven pair at the Finals, they are coming in with basically no pressure on them, and Latte just won a jackpot back in Texas so he is firing on all cylinders. If you are playing a fantasy rodeo team this team will be a great value! This pair is proven at the NFR and ready to go, they should make a run at Kaley Bass and this is another pair to keep an eye on in the average.

In #8 in the World is newcomer Christine Laughlin and her cool dapple grey horse, Six Pack (Guys Six Pack To Go). Laughlin & Six Pack have won some of the biggest rodeos of the year, Ellensburg, Dodge City, Reno and Salinas. Six Pack seems to love a big rodeo with an average and a bunch of money up; so he should just love the NFR! This is Laughlin's first trip to the NFR, so it might be the first chance you get to see Six Pack work. He has a pretty style that should fit the conditions of the Thomas & Mack. This team should get stronger through the ten days.

In #9 comes the veteran competitor of the group, 17 time NFR qualifier Sherry Cervi, bringing back Stingray (Mp Meter My Hay) to one of her favorite arenas. Stingray thrives in the Thomas & Mack like few others have! In fact, since 2009, Stingray has won a jaw dropping $552,000 at the NFR! This is another pair for your fantasy rodeo team! Cervi just went to the rodeos she wanted to and kept Stingray fresh for the NFR. With the money up this year, that $60,000 gap between her and world leader, Bass, could close pretty quick if Stingray gets tapped off. Also, since this team holds the All Time NFR Average record of 138.15 on 10 runs from last year, 2013, they should be watched to set the pace in the average.

At #10 comes Kassidy Dennison and her good brown gelding, Eagle (Sierra Hall Of Fame). This is their first NFR together. Over the last few years, Dennison and Eagle have just kept improving and this year was no exception. Consistency was key for the young team as they won a few rodeos but mainly placed in rodeo after rodeo. This will be a team to be there for checks all week long which should give them in a good edge in the average.

In #11 comes the dynamite duo of Christy Loflin and Movin (Sheza Blazin Move). This is Loflin's 3rd trip to the NFR in a row and Movin's second trip. (Loflin rode her during the year before but she was injured for the NFR). Movin is another one of those hard trying mares and one of the fastest horses you will see this week. Loflin and Movin won over $43,000 last year at the NFR and a couple hit barrels kept them from winning a bunch more. With another year of competing and getting used to each other, they should be ready to make a big run at the field during the NFR. This mare can make mistakes and still clock, making this pair one to watch to sneak up the standings through the week.

In #12 is Carlee Pierce with her pair of young horses, Lolo (Streakin Easy April) and Tiny (Streakin Perks Fool). Both her young horses are new to a stage of this size, but they are both athletic, quick and talented horses with speed to burn and are already winners at jackpots and futurities. Over the last few years, Pierce has shown she can get on a different horse and just go to winning and always gets the best out of her horses. If one of these two mares takes to the Thomas & Mack, they could really make some noise.

In #13, Trula Churchill and her consistent roan gelding, Worm (A Streak Of Rita) make their 3rd straight NFR appearance. Worm has been a winner since he was a 4 year old futurity horse and he just keeps winning for Churchill. He has had a couple of solid NFRs the last couple years and is always a threat at the Canadian Finals Rodeo (a similar setup to the NFR) as well. Churchill & Worm know each other so well at this point and they should use the experience from the last couple years to have a breakout NFR in 2014.

Coming in #14 in the World is Samantha Lyne and her great mare Pistoletta (Lk Watch Me Rock). This is her first trip to the NFR but she comes from a lineage of rodeo cowboys, with World Champion Phi Lyne being her Dad. She should know all about the demands coming at her during the NFR. Pistoletta is just 6 years old but is as even tempered as she can get so she should really handle the NFR atmosphere well. Also, during her futurity year she proved not only to thrive on smaller patterns but also on more runs. Look for this team to just get stronger through the ten days.

Rounding out the Top 15 this year is another 1st time NFR qualifier, Jana Bean. She comes in riding Bugs (Heza Bug Leo). He is another former winning futurity horse that has proven his temperament fits the NFR atmosphere. He won money at the NFR in 2011 with Angie Meadors and has won money at big events with different riders already. Bean and Bugs fit each other and win wherever they go. He is also coming off a strong jackpot performance coming into the NFR, so should be ready to go. This is another team that might sneak up on them in the average by the end of the ten days.

This year is one of those years, where the world title race could head a bunch of different directions. With the kind of money they are running at this year, the world title will most likely come down to which horse not only took to the Thomas & Mack, but starts winning early in the week. With the money available in the rounds, the world leaders can't afford to let anyone down the standings jump out and get some big checks early. It is going to be an old-fashioned shootout for this title. Kaley Bass and Cowboy look to have the upper hand as they not only lead the world by about the equivalent of a round win, but they also have a track record of running well at the NFR and they are coming off their best year ever. However; if they stumble the field will come at them pretty quick. As the rounds progress, keep an eye on that average, with what it pays this year it will most likely decide who our next World Champion is!

The Thomas & Mack will again be the place to be from Dec. 4-13 and you can watch it all on CBS Sports Network. Taylor: I raise most of my rodeo mounts...but seeing a horse with explosive power leaving a barrel....or a horse that innately wants to keep its inside hock planted it's first few times around the barrels tells you it will be easier for that horse to come along quickly.

BRR: Which horses are you taking with to the finals?

Lockhart: An Oakie With Cash (Louie) 11 yrs, gelding, buckskin, 15.1, 1300 or more Fast An Gold (Chisum) 16 yrs, gelding, chestnut, 15.2, 1300 or more also!

BRR: What are your horses major accomplishments & lifetime earnings?

Lockhart: I'm not a number cruncher, but I believe $980K for Louie & $510K for Chisum. Accomplishments of each would be NFR go round wins, Canadian Championships, and the 1st "American" title for Louie.

BRR: What about barrel racing keeps you motivated to go all the miles and compete all year long.

Lockhart: The thrill of competing and having success is totally motivating. It is so challenging at this level, so just to give it your best and see where it takes you. The miles traveled are just part of the job description, unfortunately!

BRR: Do you have an inspirational quote or saying that keeps you going during the year?

Lockhart: I like to stick quotes up in my trailer and in my house too! Never give up.....just do your best & let the chips fall where they may.

BRR: What is your favorite thing to do with your horses other than barrels?

Lockhart: I pasture & ranch ride when I'm home, and anything remotely close to it when I'm on the road.

Circuit Reserve. He is also the average winner twice at the Ram National Circuit Finals and the 2013 & 2014 Rodeo Houston Champion.

BRR: What about barrel racing keeps you motivated to go all the miles and compete all year long.

Hunter: I actually only ran Fuzz at 23 of the 26 rodeos I attended and we did not haul that hard, it worked out nicely, lots of time at home.

BRR: Do you have an inspirational quote or saying that keeps you going during the year?

Hunter: Fred always says 'if you don't enter you can't win', I like being home and he motivates me to go. I love competing and once I am at the rodeo, I am glad, it's just getting in the truck and leaving home that's hard.

BRR: What is your favorite thing to do with your horses other than barrels?

Hunter: I just like touching them and watching them in their stalls.

BRR: What one quality do you see in a horse and it makes you want to buy them?

Hunter: I leave that up to Fred who trains for a living, he has a eye for picking nice horses each year at the horse sales we attend.

BRR: What makes your horse special?

Hunter: Fuzz tries very hard to do what Fred has trained him to do, if I ride him correctly he is consistent in his barrel pattern.

BRR: What quirk(s) does your horse have?

Hunter: Like Trula's horse, Fuzz also likes his butt scratched to the point of being a nuisance, he will trap you in the stall until you scratch him. I am Fuzz's personal assistant I do believe, he knows I will take care of his every need and he expects it!!

BRR: What one piece of horsemanship or barrel racing advice would you give people trying to run barrels on a professional level?

Hunter: Talented great horses make for a successful career. Finding that horse is the ticket and the biggest challenge. That's the first step.

When we find those horses the next challenge is too not get greedy and run them to the point they lose the desire to become great.

Saddle: My saddle choice is in flux at this moment.

Pad: No particular pad just one I can afford!

Leg Gear: Polo wraps

Bit: FUZZ bit from our bit line of Josey-Hunter Bits, designed by Fred

Head Gear: Leather tie down

Feed: Sweet Feed

Hay: High protein alfalfa from Utah

Supplements: Exceed 6 Way and Gastroplex

Additional Care: Ice boots, ear plugs and lots of attention.

Sponsors: Med-Vet Pharmaceutical and Dale Steege,

Callisters Western Store in Utah and Manager Bonnie Blain,

Dr. Jon Murphy of Countryside Vet Clinic, Vernal UT

All of these folks have contributed to Fuzz, I appreciate them so much. Along with my best friend, trainer, driver, coach and cute husband Fred!

BRR: What about barrel racing keeps you motivated to go all the miles and compete all year long.

Diaz: It is something I grew up doing and I love it. I love being around my horses and there aren't many jobs you can just be around your horses! I enjoy the traveling, I am always on the go when I am home anyway, so I just as well be on the road. The other part of the business I really enjoy; getting the younger horses to advance and step up, it is rewarding to see your hard work pay off with the horses and see how far they have come. Rootie truly changed my whole life!

BRR: Do you have an inspirational quote or saying that keeps you going during the year?

Diaz: Look good, feel good, do good! I always feel like if you look good and feel good you will just perform better. I always tell myself "No Excuses" because if you aren't out there doing it, someone is! Finally, I always like to remember my favorite bible verse, "I can do all things through Christ who strengthens me." Philippians 4:13

Diaz: I love when I am home at Mom & Dad's (in ND) and get to move and cattle and just be out in the pastures.

BRR: What one quality do you see in a horse and it makes you want to buy them?

Diaz: For me, it would be their athleticism. If I ride them and they really feel athletic, I'm more likely to buy them. I don't necessarily just look for speed, I want them to be balanced and athletic with a good mind. For me, I prefer a little cow breeding because they seem to have a better mind for the rodeo environment.

BRR: What makes your horse special?

Diaz: Lots of things! The fact that I bought her as a weanling; she was the first horse I broke to ride; I have had her the whole time; started her on the barrels; we have been on the whole journey together. She is super special to me. She has changed my life, I would probably still be working full time at the bank if it wasn't for her. All my good friends and my husband are due to my lifestyle she made possible. Plus, she can run on all types of ground and still win.

BRR: What quirk(s) does your horse have?

Diaz: She is very cinchy. Every time I go saddle her or put on a winter blanket, I have to watch her because she will try to bite me. She is also kind of crabby and doesn't like to be pet on. She is hyper, so before I go in the arena; to get her to stand and relax before you run, I get off and rub her belly. If I rub her belly, she will always stand still.

BRR: What one piece of horsemanship or barrel racing advice would you give people trying to run barrels on a professional level?

Diaz: Stay focused on your own program and don't worry about what others are doing. You should always listen and take advice but remember to do what works for you the best.

Williams & Three Jets Olena Feast at Fiddler's Turkey Run

By Tanya Randall

Two-time Southeastern Circuit and Circuit Finals Champion Victoria Williams and her tough gray mare Three Jets Olena gobbled up the cash at Sabra O'Quinn's annual Fiddler's Turkey Run. The duo left Jacksonville, Fla., with $6,209 and a qualification to the Semifinals Rodeo of RFD-TV's The American.

"They were really good," Williams said of her runs. "It was really fun. I was really proud of Three Jets."

Their only lowlight of the event was a downed third barrel during Friday's $3,500-added.

"It was rider error," said the 20-year-old from Kiln, Miss. "I pulled her right into the third barrel. It was all my fault."

On Saturday, she and Three Jets, an 8-year-old daughter NFR sire Blazin Jetolena out of the Royal Quick Dash mare Maggie Quick Dash, were out early in the American qualifier that started at 8 a.m.

"I was up so early, I didn't have time to get nervous," she said. "Before the Starkville qualifier, I was so nervous. You had to wait all day, then they had the qualifier and then they had the open after that. (At Jacksonville), we were up so late the night before. We didn't get in bed before Midnight, because of the Divisional Circuit Finals. Then I had to be up at 5 to start getting ready. I was so tired I didn't have time to get nervous like I normally would have."

After posting, her 14.912, Williams didn't have time to worry about her place in the standings since she had to climb aboard Dallas Oklawaha, the horse that carried her to most of her winnings throughout her youth career.

"She ran a good little solid pattern, not quite good enough to get in there," said Williams, who wanted to thank her driver, super supporter and occasional barrel racer Donna Berdine, a.k.a. Mom.

Although Sarah McDonald and Fame Fling N Bling caught Williams and Three Jets to win the $5,000-added Open on Saturday—they had already qualified for The American Semifinals in Starkville—Williams and Three Jet also topped Sunday's $2,500-added with a 14.996.

Williams' mare is getting the entire month of December off to rest for the lucrative winter run of professional rodeos start with the Sandhills Stock Show & Rodeo in Odessa, Texas.

Although there are some great paying rodeos in sunny, warm Florida, Williams is also contemplating runs to the National Western in Denver and the Black Hills Stock Show & Rodeo in Rapid City, S.D.

"This is our third year to go, so we figured we might try it out this year," she said. "I wanted to try it last year. This year we thought we'd try to stay out that way. I feel more comfortable on those little pens with my mare right now, so we figured we'd stick with it."

Her young Blazin Jetolena gelding, Blazin Nike, on the other hand, may get to run at the Holiday Classic.

"We're trying to bring him along slow," she said. "The goal is to have him ready for the summer rodeos. My other little mare (Dallas Oklawaha) doesn't do well in the big pens."

Headin' For Home

by Mike Morrison
Triple M (Mike Morrison Ministries)

You wouldn't go into the arena with a heavy weight attached to your body or your horse. You know that would prevent you from performing at your best.

Yet, many people go through life with such a handicap in the form of grudges and resentments which block their blessings and color their thinking. I've heard it said that's like drinking poison and expecting the person you're mad at to get sick.

We're coming up on the Christmas season so make a conscious effort to hold no offenses against anyone no matter what they've done or said to you. Remember Jesus was born in very humble surroundings and He died for the remission of sins for all mankind, and that includes a lot of unlovely people out there. Remember the great commandment that Jesus gave us is simply to love God and our neighbor.

It isn't easy to forgive and forget but you can do it if you give it a genuine effort and ask God to help you. Plead the blood of Jesus over the offense and say you choose to forgive them through Jesus.

Remember when Jesus was in agony and dying on the cross, He asked His Father to forgive them.

If you'll sincerely try to harbor no ill will and malicious thoughts throughout the end of the year, you'll find you'll have a peaceful holiday and enjoy it more. God loves us and wants to bless us if we don't hinder Him. Scripture warns us to forgive others so our sins will be forgiven us.

Happiness is a state of mind and you have the choice to enjoy your life that God gave you or be miserable. Happy is more fun!

The only way to do great things for God is to do the little things first. That little thing may only be to forgive someone who offended you. God is waiting.

Mike Morrison and his wife Sherry are ordained ministers in their own nondenominational church in Gillette, WY. They also travel widely as circuit riders ministering over a large area of the western states.
