The Final Countdown - NFR 2013

It's that time of year again, no not Thanksgiving, not quite Christmas, no it is the time of year that every rodeo and barrel racing fan has been waiting about 355 days for, the first run down the alley at the Thomas & Mack; Round 1 of the NFR! The 10 Round Wrangler National Finals Rodeo is just hours away. This year with each round paying $18,629 and the average paying $47,776, the excitement will be at an all-time high. Like we have in the past, we thought we would preview what is coming and give a few insights on this year's competition.

2013 features arguably the toughest bunch of NFR horses ever assembled. This is a product of most all the horses being bred just to be top barrel horses; with leading sires Dash 'Ta Fame, Frenchmans Guy, On The Money Red, Dr Nick Bar, Blazin Jetolena, Fire Water Flit, Judge Cash, Dash For Perks, A Streak Of Fling, and Pc Frenchmans Hayday all being sires or grandsires of these horses.

This year's NFR at first glance has an interesting battle shaping up at the top. #1 Sherry Cervi and #2 Mary Walker are only $10k apart coming into the Finals and with money available that is pretty much even up. They come into the NFR riding horses that have each held the earnings record there. Cervi and her great horse, MP Meter My Hay (Stingray) set the record in 2009 with $146,100; until Walker and Perculatin (Latte) came along last year and broke that record winning $146,941 on their way to the World Title. Cervi and Stingray have won close to $400k at the last 4 NFRs alone and Walker and Latte have won close to $500k in just two years of competition together; on top of this both horses are sound and running well at jackpots in preparation for the Finals. Both competitors are veterans and former World Champions riding former AQHA/WPRA Barrel Horses Of The Year. The two horses may have different styles, Stingray with her lightning quick feet (she can sometimes look like a yellow tornado), and Latte, the big brown horse gliding to and fro through the barrels makes it look effortless. They do it differently, but what they do the same is cut off the clock!

Sitting in #3 is a dark horse, literally and figuratively! The coal black stud, Slick By Design and jockey Michele McLeod have won throughout the year on every size pattern under nearly all conditions. Even though a lot of his wins came over the summer on bigger patterns, Slick can win on every size pattern with his smooth efficient style. In fact, he just won a barrel race set up on the NFR pattern. If you haven't seen him run, he will fool you, his smooth turns will make you think he is making a nice easy run; then when you glance up at the clock it will tell you a different story. Even though this is McLeod's first trip to the NFR, she is a veteran competitor and has a team in place to help. Last year Walker and Latte showed us that a veteran/1st time NFR competitor with a great horse can make quite an impact; so look out for this pair!

In #4 in the World, Christy Loflin is coming to her 2nd NFR, but this time she gets to dance with the one who brought her, as Sheza Blazin Move, the horse she qualified on last year is sound and ready to go to her first NFR this year. You have heard of one girl, one horse, one dream? Well this is that girl, that horse, and that NFR dream. Sheza Blazin Move is very fast and adapts to any arena setup and with her small size and athleticism she should adapt well to the arena setup and conditions. Loflin has complete confidence in Movin and her experience at last year's NFR will have her prepared for everything this year throws at her. This pair had just a couple hundred dollars won in May and are now going into the NFR in the 4th position; so never count them out!

Sitting #5 in the World, is veteran barrel racer Fallon Taylor who rides the 2013 AQHA/WPRA Barrel Horse Of The Year, Flos Heiress (Babyflo). It has been a few years since we have seen Taylor at the Finals but she was there as a teenager in 1995-1998 and this is her 5th appearance. Babyflo has come on the last two years to be one of the best in the business. With Taylor having been through the NFR experience before and her horse, being the product of her two former NFR horses, Dr Nick Bar and Flowers And Money, this team should be ready for a great week. This mare is as gritty and tough as they come, wins on all size of patterns and should thrive under the pressure and the 10 runs in a row.

Coming in at #6 is NFR newcomer Sabrina Ketcham and her pair of great horses, Swivel Ta Fame and Write It Thelma. Both her horses helped her get to the NFR by going on a white hot streak over the summer which catapulted them into their first NFR. Over the past few years Ketcham has been staying in the Top 50 in

Cloning Lawsuit Update

U.S. District Court in Amarillo granted in part AQHA's Motion for Stay of Equitable Relief Pending Appeal.

Today, the U.S. District Court in Amarillo granted in part AQHA's Motion for Stay of Equitable Relief Pending Appeal. The effect of the order is that pending resolution of AQHA's appeal, AQHA is not required to register clones or their offspring. While AQHA is not required to register clones or their offspring pending the outcome of the appeal, the order also specifies that AQHA must immediately develop appropriate rules for the registration of clones and their offspring.

"The AQHA Executive Committee, myself and your AQHA employees are pleased with today's order granting in part our Motion for Stay, and we will continue to fight for our membership's right to determine the rules for its Association," said AQHA Executive Vice President Don Treadway Jr. "Our legal team is hard at work as our appeal goes to the Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals in New Orleans. The deadline to file our appellate brief is December 24th. We will keep you updated with developments in the case." -Courtesy of www.AQHA.com the World and when she decided to make a bigger circle this year; jumped right up into the Top 6 in the World while only entering 57 rodeos. So when she and her team hit the road, they win. Most likely she will start the NFR on her 11 year old Dash Ta Fame gelding, Swivel. He has a cool butt draggin style, smooth and fast. If they get tapped off, he has the speed to get them some go round wins and with the go rounds paying over $18k a pop, they could make some noise this year.

In #7 this year we find Brittany Pozzi. A perennial title contender, we find her a little lower in the rankings than we are used to seeing her. She also comes into the NFR missing her #1 mount of recent years, Yeah He's Firen (Duke). However, Pozzi has a couple great horses that should be able to step up and take her to the pay window. She is taking Shes Free To Flame, the 5 year old yellow mare that was bred by former World Champion Barrel Racer, Wanda Bush and hails from a family of horses several generations deep with rodeo horses. Shes Free To Flame was born to do this. Pozzi has won on her throughout this past year as well. Pozzi will also be taking Terrible Tommy Twist, the 11 year old sorrel gelding owned by Sammi Bessert. Tommy and Bessert have just missed the NFR the last two years and Tommy is extremely talented and crazy fast. Pozzi is used to riding lots of different horses; so whatever she decides to run down the alley, you can bet she will ride the hair off it and be in the money.

Kaley Bass and her great grey horse Wonder Cowboys Dan (Cowboy) come into the NFR in #8. This is the second NFR in a row for this consistent pair. A tipped barrel in Round 9 last year cost them the average title; however they still ended up 4th in the average and won over $68k at the NFR. This year they should come back more experienced and even more ready for a big week. With the calm demeanor and consistent style of Cowboy this pair should be picking up checks all week and look for them to be part of the lucrative average race when it is all over.

Taylor Jacob and her smooth, fast buckskin gelding, Honor Thy Frenchman (Bo) come into their first NFR in the #9 position. Jacob won the WPRA Rookie of the Year Award this year and was the first Rookie since Brittany Pozzi to win the rookie title and qualify for the NFR in the same year. Taylor and Bo will head to the left barrel first, the same way that Martha and Lindsay Sears did for all those years. Martha always seemed to use it as an advantage and maybe Bo will too. He has a smooth style and has a lot of natural speed and the last few years NFR rookies have done extremely well, so look out for this pair..

Coming into her 7th straight NFR in 10th position is Lisa Lockhart and her great buckskin gelding, An Oakie With Cash (Louie). Over the last several years there is no pair more solid at a big money finals than Lockhart and Louie. Whether it is the NFR or the CFR (Canadian Finals Rodeo) they just keep winning run after run. In fact just a couple weeks ago, they won the CFR average and the Canadian Championship while winning over $64k at the CFR alone. They come into the Finals $65k behind Cervi, so there is a good chance that this veteran will go after that NFR Average title, a title she has gotten close to winning a couple times in the past, and pick up checks all week and see where the chips fall.

In 11th position is Minnesota native Jane Melby riding her good, black gelding, First Down Perk (Blackie). He has been hurt for a good share of the year after tearing up the winter rodeos. This pair's success at the winter rodeos early in the year combined with his recent placing at Allen, TX on a 13 second pattern similar to the NFR would indicate they are ready to rock and roll. Melby qualified to the NFR previously in 2011 and won 3 rounds on her good mare, RC Back In Black. She is a veteran competitor with ice water in her veins and with Blackie sound and firing; look for this pair to be after the rounds and picking up checks all week.

In #12 position is NFR first timer Jean Winters aboard her tough little gelding Crickets Peppy Zan (Zan). This pair won most of their money this year at the Calgary Stampede and then lightly rodeoed the rest of the year. Zan and Winters usually hit the big rodeos close to home and picks up checks wherever they go. This gritty gelding gets better the more he runs, at Calgary for instance, and seems to thrive on tough ground conditions, so keep an eye out for this pair as the week grinds on.

Shada Brazile comes into her first NFR in the #13 position and steps out of the shadows of her husband, Trevor Brazile, and into the spotlight. She and Trevor will be the only husband/wife tandem at the 2013 NFR. Her horse, Dial It Fast (Dial It or Big Boy) is a former futurity star who is used to indoor setups so he should take to the NFR environment quickly. She has been to the NFR many times with Trevor and that experience should help her to handle the craziness of the Finals and focus on her runs. Dial It is a tough horse and another horse that should just get better as the week goes on. This pair proved they could handle pressure in their San Antonio win so they will be a team to watch.

In 14th position is Sydni Blanchard heading to her 2nd NFR qualification with her pair of horses, Pure Victory Dash (Twisted Sister) and Nf French Tigger (Clancy). Both horses have been very good throughout the year. In the beginning of the year, Twisted Sister won the majority of the money and then Clancy played cleanup over the summer and into the fall. Twisted Sister is a former BFA Futurity Champion and BBR World Finals Champion and when she lays down a run it is usually a 1st place check so look for them to light up a few rounds there. As an interesting side note, in this age of embryo transfer, Twisted Sister's 4 year old daughter, IRA Grand Victory, won two slot races this year already and over $200k. Clancy has also won some big checks throughout the year and is consistently capable of running fast times so whatever she rides she should be right up there to grab some checks.

Rounding out the field at the 2013 NFR is Trula Churchill aboard her great roan gelding, A Streak Of Rita (Worm). This is their second NFR in a row and with last year's experience they should be ready to win big this year. Worm has been a great horse since the age of 4 when he was a successful futurity horse and has ran under nearly any conditions that a rodeo can throw at them. Worm has done well at the CFR in the past and he will not run by a barrel. This pair should just get better and better as the rounds go by. Worm and Churchill know each other inside and out and that confidence in each other should carry them to a big NFR.

This year's NFR will highlight perhaps the most even field ever gathered on the sports biggest stage. Each of the horses being ridden by the Top 15 has beat all the other top horses at some point during the year. Also, as a person looks closer it becomes obvious that all of the horses here are capable of winning in a variety of setups and arena sizes. At first glance, it really does look like a match race for 10 rounds between Cervi and Walker but with the money available in Vegas this year and the quality of horses nearly anything is possible.

Now ask yourself, are you ready for this? The Thomas & Mack will again be the place to be from Dec 5-14 and you can watch it all on Great American Country (GAC). Make sure you have added it to your cable or satellite programming (Channel 165 on Dish Network, Channell 326 on DirecTV). Thursday night, December 5, at 10 pm Eastern Time the action kicks off for 10 straight days, winding down on Saturday, December 14. The action is also available live on the internet at www.prorodeolive.com and they have a nifty app for your smartphone if you are on the road. ProRodeoLive's coverage is also carried on Rural Radio on Sirius XM Channel 80. RFDTV will provide coverage of all the non-rodeo events of the NFR and will show everyone the NFR Experience so keep your eyes out for that as well.

So sit back and enjoy the culmination of a lot of hard work and horse talent! Fast times and exciting runs are headed your way in just a matter of hours!

BRR: Which horse(s) are you taking with to the finals?

Cervi: Mp Meter My Hay (Stingray), 11, palomino, 14.2 h., 1050 lbs.
Mp A Man With Roses (George), 10, palomino, 15 h., 1150 lbs.

BRR: History of your horse(s).

Cervi: Mp Meter My Hay (Stingray) - We raised her, she is out a 3/4 sister to Hawk. Colter Todd broke her to ride, then Mom (Wendy Potter) rode her for a little bit. Then when she was 4 she went to Ryan (Lovendahl), he rode her for about 5 months, then I rode her for a couple months, then sent her back to Ryan for her 5 year old year. I used her in 2008 as a backup horse to TinMan and didn't make the finals that year. In 2009 is when I really started using her quite bit. I ended up 3rd in the World that year and won the most money of any of the events at the 2009 WNFR and won the average that year (won $146k that year at the NFR). In 2010 we were the WPRAs Barrel Racing World Champions. In 2011, we earned over $93k at the NFR and ended up 3rd in the World. In 2012, we ended up 8th in the World with $130k of earnings. She now has a over $1 million in lifetime earnings.

Mp A Man With Roses (George) - We raised him as well out of 7/8 sister to Troubles (Sir Double Delight). He pretty much went through the same program as Stingray. Then I got him back fall from Ryan and then of the won the Greg Olson on him as a 5 year old. I hauled him around the rest of the year and took him to jackpots. I took him to a few rodeos at 6. He has previously ran a 16.6 (16.646, on of the fastest times ever on a standard pattern) on a standard pattern at the Pac West Barrel Race. He is getting close to $120k in lifetime earnings.

BRR: What are the 3 most important things you do during the year to keep your horse sound and working all year long?

Cervi: I always make sure I have a good place to rest for the night when we stop.

I keep them on the same feed regimen and using good supplements for my horses so that never changes whether on the road or at home.

I also use the same farrier no matter where I am at and on the same schedule. If I feel like they need to go the vet, maintenance wise, I do it sooner rather than later.

BRR: What are the first 3 most important qualities you look for when picking a prospect to make a rodeo barrel horse?

Cervi: I feel we are really fortunate in the fact that we do raise our own prospects. There are so many things that make a great horse. The way the horse moves, a good mind, a good eye and quick feet are all very important and in our breeding program we have selected for those qualities. We continue working to attain those qualities.

BRR: What 1 improvement would you make to professional barrel racing?

Cervi: I have been doing this a long time and rodeo has come a long ways but there is always room for improvement. Everyone contestant-wise and committee-wise are always working together to make rodeo better. As long as we continue to work on the communication between contestants, sponsors and committees; things will just get better and better.

BRR: What is the most unique habit or behavior your horse has?

Cervi: She loves sleeping in fresh shavings.

BRR: Which horse(s) are you taking with to the finals?

Walker: Perculatin (Latte), brown, gelding, 9, 15.2 h., 1100 lbs.

BRR: History of your horse(s).

Walker: I started riding him in August or September of 2010. I started teaching him how to run and we did pretty good. We started at jackpots and went to rodeos and he did well. Then in April 2011, my son, Reagon, died (in an auto accident). After that Byron actually bought Latte for me as a surprise on May 17, 2011. In June, Latte fell with me at the 3rd barrel at Crosby, TX. The fall shattered my pelvis, broke two toes, and fractured 2 vertebrae in my back. So Latte got six months off while I recovered. Byron rode him a couple times for me while I was recovering. He said he is the slowest horse he has ever been on. He is so lazy in the pasture, we always joke that flying turtles could pass him!

After a while, my therapist told me to get back on a horse. I had gone from a wheelchair to a walker, but I couldn't even walk yet. I started back on a black and white paint we have that is a grand entry horse for Ft Worth every year and has been to the NFR as a grand entry horse. Byron had to put me on and I rode the first time for 15 minutes. I rode Paint 4-5 times per week just walking, trying to get my balance back. Everyday I had therapy, I rode. About November 2011, I started riding Latte again. I just worked on getting back to trusting myself. My first rodeo back was Odessa (January 2012) and I placed in the second round and then started heading to rodeos. I was still weak and only 95 pounds but I had to get my strength and courage back and we were back on the road. Latte then went on to win the 2012 AQHA/WPRA Barrel Horse Of The Year and carried me to my 1st World Championship last year while winning 2nd in the NFR Average. This year we are headed into the NFR in #2 with earning of $137k. His lifetime earnings including his bonus money and such is somewhere around $500k.

BRR: What are the 3 most important things you do during the year to keep your horse sound and working all year long?

Walker: I try not to change anything with him; feed regiment, hay, or his Platinum. He eats at the same time everyday, he comes before me or even Byron! He stays on as good of a schedule as possible with feeding, worming, Adequan or Legend. Everything pretty much stays the same to keep him from getting worried or upset.

Next, I keep him in the best shape possible; I try to keep him at the same weight or physical condition whether we are at home or on the road.

Mainly, it just comes down to keeping him comfortable and happy. I try to keep in contact with my vet almost daily to make sure I am not missing something with Latte's health.

BRR: What are the first 3 most important qualities you look for when picking a prospect to make a rodeo barrel horse?

Walker: First of all, look at their conformation. I look for one that is sturdy and strong to begin with to handle the rodeo conditions. You don't want to start out with a horse with problems in his legs and try to make them last.

They must have a good mind. Latte has a little bit of attitude but that's part of what makes him so good.

Then they must be really broke. When they are broke, it allows you to control your situations at the rodeo, even when the conditions are sometimes far from ideal. For instance, you might be in a tiny warm up pen with 12 other people and if a horse is out of control it is dangerous for everyone.

BRR: What 1 improvement would you make to professional barrel racing?

Walker: Running slack after the rodeo performances instead of days prior to the rodeo starting. In the days before the rodeo, the ground is rarely in the same condition as it is during the performances. If they would run the slack with the performances you would have similar ground conditions for slack as the rodeo performances. For instance, in Spanish Fork, UT they ran slack every night after the performance and everyone entered had a chance to win.

BRR: What is the most unique habit or behavior your horse has?

Walker: When you are warming him up, he stops and rubs his head on his left front leg! It doesn't matter whether you are in a walk, trot, or lope he will stop and do it. The only time he does it is at rodeos and it is always that same leg.

Your source for speed!

Cody Hyde and then with Kelly & Ivy Conrado. Cole & Martin bought her from the Conrados in July and McLeod won the first rodeo she took her to (Steamboat Springs). Through the fall, while Slick was taking a break, Skye and McLeod won the Justin Boots Playoff Championships in Omaha, several rounds of the All-American Finals in Waco, won the Average of the Sweepstakes in Barrel Racing at the Quarter Horse Congress and also won several Prorodeos through the fall to allow McLeod to be sitting #1 in the World for 2014 with $8,099 of earnings. Her lifetime earnings are now sitting around $100k.

BRR: What are the 3 most important things you do during the year to keep your horse sound and working all year long?

McLeod: I really try to keep them fit I ride 6 days a week. If I'm home, I lope out in the pasture trying to go a couple miles a day. Then I do circles either around trees or sometimes a barrel to keep them doing perfect circles. I also try to keep them turned out for several hours so they can lay down and roll. I use the aquatred and cold water spa as well as the Respond Laser and Back On Track!

BRR: What are the first 3 most important qualities you look for when picking a prospect to make a rodeo barrel horse?

McLeod: Conformation, a nice kind eye, disposition. The prospect needs to be able to adjust and adapt to unique situations and be able to rest while in the trailer.

BRR: What 1 improvement would you make to professional barrel racing?

McLeod: I would like to see better communication about certain rodeos and the NFR. Being a first time qualifier and going out on the road there are a lot of things the other girls knew because they had been there before. One example was open/arena practice times and also certain mandatory meetings.

McDonald & Carrington-French cash in at Fiddlers Turkey Run

By Tanya Randall

It's no secret that Fame Fling And Bling likes the Jacksonville Equestrian Center in Florida. The speedy 7-year-old mare posted the fastest time of the event, a 14.933, for Sarah McDonald to win the $3,000-added Open 5D on Friday for $2,900 at the Fiddler's Turkey Run, held Nov. 28-Dec. 1.

The 11th annual event featured $12,000 in added money and three open 5Ds and a juvenile futurity, plus $10,000 in Future Fortunes Open Bonus Money.

McDonald, a first-year nursing student from New Brunswick, Ga., almost didn't run Bling, a daughter of leading sire A Streak Of Fling out of Short Penny, a Dash 'Ta Fame-Sold Short mare, at Jacksonville because she cut her leg out in the pasture on Wednesday.

"Her leg was really swollen," said McDonald. "I wasn't sure that I would be able to run her but I doctored her a lot and the swelling went down. When I warmed her up she was bouncing around letting me know she was ready to run. She turned all three barrels really good and she was running really hard."

Their run put just three other horses in the 1D.

A saddle malfunction on Saturday and a tipped third barrel on Sunday kept them out of the money, but McDonald was able to pick up a fifth-place in the 1D on her 5-year-old Brookstone Rose on Saturday.

All totaled, McDonald left Jacksonville with $3,810 in her pockets.

"I like that show a lot," she said. "Sabra (O'Quinn) and Paul (Stanley) do a really good job."

WPRA Southeastern Circuit Reserve Champion Kelley Carrington-French and her 11-year-old gelding Jacobs Hi topped the $5,000-added Open 5D Saturday. They posted a 15.091 to win $2,600.

"He was really calm and relaxed," related Carrington-French. "My husband (Rob French) and I were laughing; he said he was really going to make a run today and I wasn't too sure. I poultice his legs at night and when I was washing it off he was just standing there, and I thought 'I'm not sure how this is going to go.'

"He warmed up really well. He was real relaxed. He went in there and really hunted his first barrel. That's usually his down fall. We tend to go by the first barrel a little bit, but he really hunted it and snapped back. We actually rocked it a little bit. He just flew across the pen. He ran like a rocket."

Carrington-French, a Massachusetts native now living in Boston, Ga., has owned the gelded son of Jazzing Hi out of Goodbye Yawl, by By Yawl, since he was 3. She bought him through a friend that trained racehorses.

"He had torn up a leg on the walker and my friend had brought him back to Georgia to heal up, and then the owner decided to sell him and not bring him back to the track," she explained. "I was able to purchase him then."

Not long after she got Jacob, Carrington-French lost her first husband, Calvin, in a freak accident at a car show, and the gelding was put on the back burner until she got frustrated with her other horses.

"I was running some horses that were more finished but I really didn't get along with them," she said. "I was riding him at home but I'd never really hauled him. Then last year, I decided that all the other ones that I was trying to ride weren't getting it done for me. My last resort was taking Jacob and seeing what he could do."

She had sent Jacob to her friend Steve McLeod for two months for some tweaking on his first barrel and when she picked him up, she went to entering.

"He placed in the 1D with his first run ever," she said. "We took him to his first rodeo and he won a check and then he won a check at the next one and the next one. He was sitting in my pasture the whole time and I didn't know it. He's just been awesome."

In the summer of 2012, Carrington-French tested the water out West. Even though it was Jacob's first year to rodeo, he drew checks at rodeos in Utah, Montana, Idaho and Texas.

This year, they had to stay closer to home, because Carrington-French had work to do—as a monster truck driver.

"Last year in order to free me up, my son drove my truck for me," said Carrington-French. "He and my new husband went out on the road and did that while I got to stay home and go to the rodeos with Jacob. This year, my son has gone to college so I had to get back in the truck in between rodeos. Hopefully, I won't have to get in the truck too much this coming year. We're looking to haul Jacob some more."

She plans on starting out the year with Odessa and Denver, and depending on how Jacob does this winter, she'll head to California and Canada.

"We're going to see what we could get done," she said. "If all goes well, God willing, we'll go to the NFR."

Headin' For Home

by Mike Morrison
Triple M (Mike Morrison Ministries)

“DREAM BIG - PRAY BOLD EXPECT THE SUPERNATURAL”

That's a sign up in a small church in Texas, That's good advice! Our God is a big God and nothing is too hard for Him. Don't underestimate Him. If you're in God's perfect Will and want to serve and bring glory and honor to Him, then anything is possible.

We are told in Hebrews 4:16 to “come boldly to the throne of grace, that we may obtain mercy and find grace to help in time of need.” Our Heavenly Father loves us so much that he gave His only begotten Son to save us and He is just waiting to be invited into our lives.

It says in Hebrews 6:10 that God does not overlook the work that we have done for the glory of His name and the good of His saints. There are other Scriptures that tell us to “ask and we shall receive.” We can expect super natural help and results if we follow God's leading.

But, don't forget to show Him thankfulness. Philippians 4:6 says, “Be anxious for nothing, but in everything by prayer and supplication, with thanksgiving, let your request be known to God; and the peace of God, which surpasses all understanding, will guard your hearts and minds through Christ Jesus.”

The Bible tells us if we are willing and obedient, we'll eat the good of the land. So go ahead, dream big, pray boldly and expect big results!

Mike Morrison and his wife Sherry are ordained ministers in their own nondenominational church in Gillette, WY. They also travel widely as circuit riders ministering over a large area of the western states.
