It's Go Time - NFR 2012 Is On

Thanksgiving is over, Christmas is only a couple weeks away, and the days are getting shorter, that can mean only one thing for every avid barrel racing fan, the Wrangler National Finals Rodeo (WNFR) is just days away! The regular season wound down on September 30 like it has for the last several years, so the finalists have had two months to plot, plan, and prepare for the greatest show on dirt. Like we have in past years, we will run down the top NFR qualifiers and give a little preview of what is to come.

This year the top two are the same as 2011, with Brittany Pozzi riding one of the best regular seasons of all time into the Finals and Lindsay Sears within chasing distance only $34k behind Pozzi. Between Sears, Pozzi, and #5 Sherry Cervi, they have won all the World Championships dating back to 2006 when Mary Burger and Rare Fred took the top honors.

Going into the Finals, #1 Pozzi will have all the confidence in the world. After a great regular season, Pozzi has had a chance to rest Yeah Hes Firen (Duke) and then bring him back to form. Now he is back to placing at the top of the Texas barrel races and he's firing on all cylinders. The fact that he has earned around $252,000 over the last 3 NFRs shows how great this team has been in Vegas. On top of that, Pozzi sits on a $34k lead going into this year's Finals. If Pozzi and Duke get hot early in the WNFR they could be unbeatable.

In recent times one of the best rivalries in rodeo has been between Pozzi and #2 Lindsay Sears, they have went back and forth trading world titles and pushing each other to amazing earnings records and exciting WNFR finishes. Sears has carefully managed her ultraconsistent mount, Sugar Moon Express (Martha), again this year and Martha is coming into the finals off her usual couple months of rest. If years past are any predictor, it may take a couple rounds for her to hit her stride. But, if she starts the week off placing and closes the gap between her and Pozzi, it could be an all out fight for a title through the ten rounds. With the rounds paying over $18k and the average paying out over $46k this year, no lead is safe if a horse gets hot. To give you an idea of this team's consistency at the WNFR, they have won over $320,000 at the last 3 WNFRs alone.

This year in the #3 spot, newcomer Mary Walker comes in with the 2012 AQHA/WPRA Barrel Horse of the Year, Perculatin (Latte). This might be the first time for Mary Walker to compete at the WNFR but she is a veteran competitor and has been to the WNFR 16 times with her steer wrestling husband, Byron Walker. She should be well ready for all that comes with running under the bright lights of Las Vegas. Her horse has been consistently brilliant all year, winning on big outdoor patterns and smaller indoor patterns. His calm, quiet demeanor should really help this team as the WNFR progresses and they might be an upsetter for the top 2.

There has been no more spectacular team over the last few year than #4 Carlee Pierce and Rare Dillion. The team blasted onto the scene in 2011 ending up #5 in the World with $136,274 in earnings. At the 2011 WNFR, they lit up Vegas, setting an arena record of 13.46 in Round 5. Last year a few hit barrels kept this team from being a real noise maker, but they still managed to win $50,769. This year the team comes into the Finals with last year's experience under their belt so it should be expected that they just get better and better. This duo is very explosive, if they get on a roll it could be quite a week for this pair.

In position #5 sits wily veteran Sherry Cervi and her amazing little palomino rocket, MP Meter My Hay (Stingray). This team loves the NFR, and together they just win in Vegas. Over the last 3 years there, they have bagged a staggering $359,458, that is a tidy $11,982 each time they came down the alley. The also own the WNFR Barrel Racing earnings record with $146,100 in 2009. Stingray is on her usual schedule of rest after the end of the regular season and then a few jackpots to sharpen her up heading into the finals. She is close to $80k behind Pozzi but you can bet the farm, Cervi and Stingray will win a bunch of money and make it interesting.

This year in #6 sits newcomer Nikki Steffes and her blue-blooded mount, Dash Ta Vanila. After getting their feet wet on the road last year, ending up #25 in the World, the pair hit the road a little harder this year and are now in position to be a player for the world title. Dash Ta Vanila is by the leading all-time barrel futurity sire, Dash Ta Fame, and is out of Sx Frenchmans Vanila (by Frenchmans Guy), one of the leading barrel futurity horses of all time, so this mare is bred to be right where she is. Steffes has won at every level so this team is ready for this stage. The team, like most in this year's NFR, have won on many different size patterns, so if they get on a roll look for them to have a great week and don't be surprised if this team moves up the average as the ten rounds play out.

#7 Kaley Bass, only 19 years old, and her mount Wonders Cowboy Dan (Cowboy) have been on a roll since the middle of the summer and haven't cooled off. Last year the team ended the year #22 with $51,267 and were runner up in the WPRA Barrel Racing Rookie of the Year to Lee Ann Rust. Cowboy is a calm horse that should thrive in the WNFR environment. Also, nothing seems to shake Bass, so look for them to be a team to make get in there for some good checks and they should continue to improve as the WNFR goes on.

#8 Brenda Mays and her great black gelding, Judge Buy Cash (Jethro) have been to the Finals six years in a row. They have won consistently at every rodeo in the country throughout the years and at the past NFRs. With all that experience the team brings into the Finals, this could be the year this team breaks out becomes the team to beat.

#9 Lisa Lockhart and her buckskin rocket, An Oakie With Cash (Louie), are another team who thrive at the Finals. Over the last two years, this team has won $186,463, also for the second year in a row, the team comes off winning the average title at the at the Canadian Finals Rodeo (CFR) just a couple weeks ago. All told, the team has won over $100k at the CFR over the last two years. So Lockhart and Louie, like Cervi and Stingray, may be a little far out of the top spot to contend for a world title but will be a great bet to get their name on a bunch of checks through the week.

#10 Benette Barrington-Little is probably one of the first contestants to ever bring two studs as her team to the WNFR, but what a team of studs they are. Her main mount, JI Dash Ta Heaven is another barrel racing blue blood, by Dash Ta Fame and out of Dynas Plain Special, who carried Janae (Ward) Massey to the world title in 2003. JI Dash Ta Heaven not only was born to be at the WNFR, he has won rodeos throughout the country and set arena records at some of the biggest barrel races. He is probably the flat out fastest horse you will see at the Finals and if he takes to the pen there, the arena record might be in trouble. Chicados Cash will serve as her backup but he is coming on at the right time and comes off a big win at the Quarter Horse Congress

#11 Kelli Tolbert and her gritty little mare Rf Firefly (Cleo) come into their second WNFR experienced and ready. In 2010, they were the 4th high money winners in the barrel racing at the Finals with earnings of almost $60k and were a couple of tipped barrels away from winning a whole lot more. This team could be the darkhorses of the Finals. Cleo loves the pen and is as gritty as they come, so look for them to pick up some round buckles.

#12 Lee Ann Rust and her homebred mount SS Streakers R Us (Harley) were the 2011 WPRA Barrel Racing Rookie of the Year and come into their first NFR off a great season and a good showing at the Canadian Finals Rodeo. This team show great consistency and that should continue through the WNFR. By the end of the Finals they should be moving up the average standings.

#13 Christina Richman and her great little sorrel mare Xtrared (Stitch) have qualified for their third straight WNFR. Unfortunately, Stitch had surgery and is out for the Finals. For the Finals, she will start out riding Perfectos Dually and bring Juliejuliejulie as a backup. Both horses are proven jackpot and rodeo money earners in tough competition. Richman has been getting used to the two of them for a couple weeks and with her previous WNFR experience, she should be ready to roll when they break out of the alley on Thursday.

#14 Trula Churchill also aboard a homebred gelding A Streak Of Rita (Worm) are a great team that have won at futurities, derbies and now rodeo. Although she hasn't been to the WNFR before, the last two years at the Canadian Finals Rodeo under similar conditions Churchill and Worm have thrived. During those two trips to they CFR they have earned close to $95,000. Worm is tough and runs great under conditions similar to the WNFR so they should have a bankable week in Vegas.

#15 Christy Loflin and her great little mare Sheza Blazin Move

(Movin) had an amazing run late in the summer to grab the 15th spot in the Finals. Unfortunately, Movin is also recovering from surgery. So, Loflin found two horses to carry her at the Finals. She will start out on Hpq Smokin Rascal and bring Miss Judge N Me as a backup. Hpq Smokin Rascal has won at futurities, derbies, and rodeos and is a proven competitor. Miss Judge N Me is also a proven competitor in the jackpots and rodeos in Colorado. Both horses have been seasoned and are ready for this stage. Loflin enters the WNFR on a great team of horses and if one of them takes to the arena in Vegas she should have a great week.

This year's WNFR Barrel Racing will highlight some of the fastest barrel horses we have ever seen. It would not be surprising to see some records fall as the Finals progress. It will be an amazing fight for a world title with $18,257 for winning a round and a $46,820 check for winning the average title. The big payout at the WNFR puts almost everyone in the game. It is going to be interesting to see how the newcoming teams take to the arena and which of the veterans gets hot first.

Now the only question left is, are you ready? The Thomas & Mack will be the only place to be from Dec 6-15 and you can watch it all on Great American Country (GAC). Make sure you have it added GAC to your cable or satellite programming (Channel 165 on Dish Network or Channel 326 on DirecTV) and on Thursday night at 10pm Eastern Time the action begins for 10 straight days. The action will also be carried live on the internet at www.prorodeolive.com and they even have a great app you can download to listen to it on your phone if you are on the go. Just go on there tomorrow and download the app and you will be ready Then just sit back and enjoy the greatest time of year for barrel racing!

So here are the final 5 in our NFR Interview coverage. Thank you to the top 15 for taking time to answer our questions and good luck this week at the 2012 Wrangler National Finals Rodeo!

BRR: History of your horse(s).
Sears: I bought Martha in January of 2006, she was just turning 6 and was very green, she had only been to probably a 10 events or so. At that point she hadn't won much and went to the right. In the fall of 2006 through the winter of 2007 I retrained her to go the left. I did however manage to make it to the 2006 NFR on her from just her winnings over that summer at all the big outdoor rodeos. Unfortunately, she abscessed before the NFR and wasn't solid at indoor rodeos either so I rode DJ Nick Bar (borrowed from Courtney Cantrell) and Hanky Flit Panky.

The spring of 2007 I started competing on her going to the left and since I trained her to the left I made her into my style a little more and we really kind of gelled together and she developed into a great one. From then on we have been winning.

She carried me to a World Championship in 2008, Reserve in 2007 and 2009 and third place in 2010. In 2011, Martha won the NFR average and that win carried us to another world title. She has about $1.75 million in career earnings. Interestingly, in her career, 35 rodeos in a year is the most rodeos she has been to.

I bought Mo when he was a 6 year old and I have been seasoning him since then. I won Jackson, MS and won several other smaller rodeos and have won rounds on him at Red Bluff, Houston and Calgary, Pendleton. I won about $80k in 2011 on him while Martha was coming back from injury. In 2012, I have probably won around $50k at approved rodeos along with recently winning over $40k at the Canadian Finals Rodeo. In his lifetime he is closing in on $250,000 in earnings.

BRR: What is your strategy for keeping your horse mentally and physically strong through all 10 runs at the NFR? Do you have a pre-run checklist that you go through?

Sears: I have a long list of things to do to the horses before each night. I'm a firm believer in having them feeling as good as possible and that requires a huge team of people working on them. My veterinarian & chiropractor go through the horses daily and my helpers do the rest.

BRR: Which horse(s) are you taking with to the finals?

Walker: Perculatin (Latte)

BRR: History of your horse(s).

Here is an excerpt from our Report after Walker and Latte won Nampa, ID earlier in the year that tells the inspirational story of Mary Walker and Latte:

Walker: Cheri Cogburn had asked me to ride Latte (Perculatin) in August or September of 2010. She wanted me to get him rodeo ready for her. I had always liked him and had even tried to buy him a couple times. I took him home and started teaching him how to run and we did pretty good. We started at jackpots and went to rodeos and he did well. Then in April 2011, my son, Reagon, died (in an auto accident). After that Byron actually bought Latte for me as a surprise on May 17, 2011. He and Cheri got together and he bought him for me as a surprise. In June Latte fell with me at the 3rd barrel at Crosby, TX. The fall shattered my pelvis, broke two toes, and fractured 2 vertebrae in my back. So Latte got six months off while I recovered. Byron rode him a couple times for me while I was recovering. He said he is the slowest horse he has ever been on. He is so lazy in the pasture, we always joke that flying turtles could pass him!

After a while, my therapist told me to get back on a horse. I had gone from a wheelchair to a walker, but I couldn't even walk yet. I started back on a black and white paint we have that is a grand entry horse for Ft Worth every year and has been to the NFR as a grand entry horse. Byron had to put me on and I rode the first time for 15 minutes. I rode Paint 4-5 times per week just walking, trying to get my balance back. Everyday I had therapy, I rode. About November 2011, I started riding Latte again. I just worked on getting back to trusting myself. My first rodeo back was Odessa (January 2012) and I placed in the second round and then started heading to rodeos. I was still weak and only 95 pounds but I had to get my strength and courage back and we were back on the road.

If it wasn't for Latte, I don't know if I would have been able to come back.

Congratulations to Emily Efurd for winning 2012 WPRA Rookie of the Year and finishing #23 in the world standings.

"I'm really liking Revitalize™! I've had my young horse out on the road with me on it and it's kept her from stressing so badly and going off her feed because of it. I know it works because almost every time I hauled her before, she would go off her feed. At the end of the season it even helped Fanny (Fantasia Fame) with this too.

*I use the Cetyl M® Joint Action Cream for Horses on my horses' hocks, stifles, and pasterns every time before I run. I think it really helps to loosen them up if they've been standing around and are real tight or have been in the trailer for a long time. I also have my three main horses, including Fanny, on Cetyl M® granules for Horses and I think it has significantly reduced their maintenance." -Emily Efurd ended up 3rd in the World that year and won the most money of any of the events at the 2009 WNFR. I also won the average that year (won $146k that year at the NFR). In 2010, we were the WPRA Barrel Racing World Champions. In 2011, we earned over $93k at the NFR and ended up 3rd in the World. She has a little over $900k in lifetime earnings so far.

MP A Man With Roses- We raised him as well out of 7/8 sister to Troubles (Sir Double Delight). He pretty much went through the same program as Stingray. I got him back in the fall from Ryan and won the Greg Olson on him as a 5 year old. I hauled him around the rest of the year and took him to jackpots. I took him to a few rodeos at 6. This last year he ran a 16.6 (16.646, on of the fastest times ever on a standard pattern) on a standard pattern at the Pac West Barrel Race. He is getting close to $105k in lifetime earnings.

BRR: What is your strategy for keeping your horse mentally and physically strong through all 10 runs at the NFR? Do you have a pre-run checklist that you go through?

Cervi: It is definitely important to have a physically fit horse going into the finals. Throughout the year, you make 10 runs in a row, but it is especially important under those conditions to have them physically fit. Yourself, you have to be mentally ready to compete 10 rounds in a row. Going into the Finals I make sure I do everything I can do to be prepared. In that way I have no doubt I am physically and mentally ready to run fast 10 times, because you know the other 14 girls are coming to do their best. It is important to be as physically and mentally ready as you can be, as a team, and then go run barrels!

I have a routine as I warm up, it is usually cool in Vegas so I make sure she is limber so I walk her quite a while and then trot her and lope her and make sure she is listening to me. She hates the wagon (stagecoach) in the warmup pen so we try to stay away from that. Maybe this year she will finally be used to it! Right before we get ready to go down into the tunnel, I put her boots on and put her competition bit on. Then I am ready to run.

Triple M (Mike Morrison Ministries)

Thanksgiving has come and gone but shouldn't it be celebrated more than once a year?

We should be thankful every day for our good God who protects us and provides for us. Yes, it's nice to gather with family and friends for a Thanksgiving feast, watch football and just enjoy the day off but we are remembering God who orchestrates the tides, the earth's rotations and the gases that make up the air we breathe. Besides all that, He also cares for the smallest detail of our lives.

In 1789, our nation's first president, George Washington, proclaimed a national day of prayer "to acknowledge the providence of Almighty God, to obey His will, to be grateful for His benefits, and humbly to implore His protection and favor..." Sadly, today many have forgotten the true meaning of Thanksgiving. For many, it's just a holiday from work and a chance to join the crowds for a pre-Christmas bargains.

In Thessalonians 5:18 it tells us "in everything give thanks; for this is the will of God in Christ Jesus for you." We can do nothing on our own. We are dependent on God for everything. Psalm 100 tells us we can enter into God's courts with praise and thanksgiving and that His mercy is everlasting.

Hebrews 6:10 says God will not forget the work that we do for His glory or the good of His saints so we should "check in with God" the first thing when we wake up in the morning. Ask Him to show you His will and help you do it and then declare, with His help, it's going to be a good day!
