Mark Bugni & JL Roc Lost A Sock Dominate MVP Futurity

By Tanya Randall

Mark Bugni and Jill Lane's homebred 5-year-old JL Roc Lost A Sock ("Mo") swept the $25,000-added MVP Futurity, held January 7-9 at the South Buckeye Equestrian Center in Arizona. Bugni and Mo collected three first-place futurity checks, worth $12,861, plus $1,851 in open 1D carryover earnings for a weekend haul of $14,712.

"It was good to me last year by winning a futurity," said Bugni, who won the 2021 Greg Olson Futurity with the Murray family's VF NFL Draft during his first trip to Arizona. "Now I start off by winning another, so I'm going to have to come back every year!"

The Oklahoma-based, but Montana-raised trainer first crossed paths with Mo last year in Arizona. Lane, a fellow Montanan who wintered in the Grand Canyon State, had originally tried to get Bugni to buy the JL Sirocco gelding, out of the Thoroughbred mare Reddy To Rebound, by Red, as a weanling, but he wasn't interested in anything that was full Thoroughbred on bottom.

"She kept him and started training him up herself," said Bugni. "She had hit a pretty good roadblock with him when I got out here. She was contemplating whether or not she would be able to go on with him."

Bugni asked if he could ride the gelding for a few days. After playing with the gelding for eight days, Bugni discovered that Mo was very insecure but felt the gelding had enough talent that he needed to be in his barn.

"My whole plan when I took him home was that I was going to take my time with him, just do some pasture rides and take him in the arena and not get mad at him for anything," Bugni explained. "If he broke a lead, I'd just put him in a trot for a little while and ask him for a lope again. Every little mistake he made, I just ignored it and pretended that it never even happened. The more confident he got, the more relaxed he got and the better he got. Pretty soon, he just wanted to run barrels."

Bugni said it was a challenge, but not a hard challenge to click with Mo.

"He has that personality where you have to let them have their independence, but you have to find that fine line where, 'I need you to do this, but you're allowed to do this...'" He found that line and I found it with him. He just got confident. I don't know, I guess we just clicked. There really was no pressure with him because I was just going to see what he could do and see where it goes."

Mo earned $16,514 in his debut, running against seasoned 4-year-olds at the BFA World Championships in November. He had the fourth fastest qualifying time and finished 14th in the average in the Futurity. Mo was also the Future Fortunes' Fortunes Round Reserve Champion.

At the OKC Futurity a few weeks later, he was third in the Hold 'Em Futurity for 4-year-olds held to run at 5 and added another $1,000 to his career earnings.

Bugni thought that Mo's insecurity with new places got to him in Oklahoma City.

"He's kind of an internally shy horse so he has to get comfortable with a pen first before he unleashes a lot of his run," he said.

"He kind of has the brake on when he's unsure of his surroundings, but as soon as he's comfortable...he'll unleash speed like no horse I've ever had.

"He's faster than anything I've ever ridden. I breezed him across the pasture one time. It took my breath away. I was like, 'Holy cow! I've never sat on anything this fast in my life!'"

Mindful of Mo's insecurity, Bugni ran the gelding in a jackpot in the Equestrian Center on Tuesday night and later took full advantage of his pre-futurity exhibitions.

"On Friday we did exhibitions and they gave you a two-minute limit," he explained. "I used that to bring him around the banners and double the barrels, just to get him comfortable with the surroundings. That's the only thing I knew he needed."

Bugni said he didn't have any expectations for their first futurity run on Saturday. All he knew to do was get Mo running the best he could.

"My whole goal was to push him—as strong as I could get him to run—because he's been very honest about his positions and turning his barrels," he said. "You just have to try to get the motor running and get him revved up. He felt really, really good. I could feel that he wasn't running 100 percent but he was very honest and didn't miss a step. I just felt like he was holding back on the run a little bit."

They won the round with a 17.160 on a Standard Pattern. The time ultimately finished 10th in the Open 1D.

For the second round on Sunday, Mo had a better idea of what was expected of him.

“Coming into the next day I could tell he was a little sassier,” Bugni said. “In the warmup pen, he wanted to flip his tail and gas it to the next barrel and farted all the way there—just acting silly, but it was a feeling-good, acting kind of silly.

“When we went over to the holding area at the other arena, when I went to make my round to put in the right lead for his first barrel he acted like he didn’t want to go forward and I just waited on him until he picked up his lead. I could tell he was probably going to take off before I was all the way lined up in the alley—and he did, just a step too early—but I just rolled with it. I thought, ‘Well if you’re good enough, you’re going to have to find that first barrel!’ I just put my hand out there and chased him to it. I could tell he was motoring. By God, he hooked that first barrel. His second and third were literally a blur in my mind. I was just concentrating on pushing him as fast as I could get him to go and man, he rated and hunted the entry on those turns so perfectly. I couldn’t have asked him to do anything better. He was easy and honest and finally ran fast!” They won the second round with a 16.750, the second fastest time of the entire event behind Sharin Hall and Hello Stella’s 16.718 that won Sunday’s Open and Derby round.

“When I looked at her run I thought, ‘Wow that’s the most phenomenal thing that I’ve seen in my whole life.’ I didn’t see one step that was flawed. To think that I ran that close—Holy cow!” said Bugni. “It was an absolute personal best for me to run a 16.7 on a Standard Pattern. It was really cool having that horse come full circle from Jill not knowing if he was going to make it to winning a futurity and running a 16.7!”

Bugni and Mo have the $25,000-added Greg Olson Futurity this weekend in Buckeye and will likely stay in Arizona through the Royal Crown Futurity mid-February.

“I’m going to camp out here until March 1 or maybe April 1,” he

THE RUNDOWN w/Mark Bugni

JL Roc Lost A Sock (“Mo”) 16.1-16.2, 1500-1600 lbs.

BIT: The Perfect Bit with the second to longest shank available and twisted, single-break mouthpiece. “I’ve only used it on one other horse, which was Casino Perks. This horse is a little heavier in the face, and everything I had on him, he wouldn’t respect. This was the only one that he didn’t play with and he gave me all his respect.”

SADDLE: Double J

SADDLE PAD: 5-Star

LEG GEAR: Classic Equine

SHOEING: Steel rims on all four. “I went ahead and put rims in the back for the Arizona arena specifically.”

FEED: Purina Ultium Competition

HAY: Grass, alfalfa mix

SUPPLEMENTS: UlcerGard

TRAINING/CONDITIONING: “He lopes like a pleasure horse so I’ll lope a few circles. I might come in and work a single barrel here and there. Basically, we’ve gone out on pasture rides or rides out in the washes (in Arizona). I’ll ride around the neighborhood to other arenas. Really, I don’t do much with him. It’s just keep him legged up and happy. I really don’t do much with him because he’s really locked on, knows his job and is solid.”

SPONSORS: Outlaw Equine, Elite Hoof Care and Jill Lane Quarter Horses

said. “It just depends on what futurities I decide to head back to in the Texas, Oklahoma area. So, I’m here for a while. I’m going to get my colts trained for next year and get a head start here like I did last year. The training you get in Arizona in this kind of weather is just irreplaceable.”

Amanda Welsh & Frenchman Fire Fly Top Colorado Versus The World Rodeo In Denver

By Tanya Randall

National Finals Rodeo qualifier and multiple Badland Circuit Finals Champion Amanda Welsh topped the 10th Annual Super Saturday showdown featuring the Colorado Versus The World Rodeo, held January 8 at the Denver Coliseum to kick off the National Western Stock Show & Rodeo.

The Gillette, Wyoming, barrel racer and her homebred 12-year-old gelding picked up $10,000 to help them down the rodeo road this winter. Even though the money doesn't count toward the WPRA World Standings, Welsh said it is very much appreciated.

"That's why I went," she said. "For that kind of money, it's worth going to. It's a really fun rodeo too."

Colorado Versus The World pits two teams of rodeo athletes against one another. Contestants representing rodeos outside of the state competed in the late morning Cinch Jeans World Team Performance, while those representing the host state competed that afternoon in the RAM Rodeo Colorado Team Performance. That night the top four finishers from each performance – four from the World and four from Colorado – competed in Semifinals with the top two contestants advancing to a final round.

Welsh and Fire Fly, who represented Rodeo Houston, a rodeo that she missed last year due to its COVID cancellation, led the world pack with a 15.624 for $1,000. They won the Semifinals in 15.576 for another $1,000. In the Finals, she bested Kellie Collier and Jig French Truckle with a 15.799 to take home the $8,000 first-place check.

Fire Fly, by Frosty Frenchman out of the Hot Dasher mare Princess Bar Dash, has been on fire since the NFR. He had a just a week and half break in the pasture before Welsh started legging him back up for Odessa.

"Once I decided that I was going to enter Odessa, I started long trotting him out in the pasture," she said. "It kind of got pretty cold after that so it was hit or miss if I got to ride him. I went to Colorado for four or five days and I really got to ride him quite a bit because the weather was a lot nicer down there than it was up here in Wyoming."

Their run in the first performance of the Sandhills Stock Show & Rodeo in Odessa on Thursday, January 6 was their first run since the 10th round of the NFR.

"He hadn't even seen a barrel," she said. "I figured Odessa would be a good place to get a run in and get his engines going again. He actually fired really good at Odessa too. I think he was happy to be back!”

Unfortunately, her early season rodeo run only included Odessa and the special event rodeo. She won't be competing at the National Western's pro rodeo this year because she missed the membership dues deadline to have her card purchased to be eligible for Denver. "I thought member dues were after the (NFR) but I had got Denver and Odessa mixed up, so I didn't get my card bought," she admitted. "It's my own fault I don't get to go back."

Welsh, who currently sits 6th in the 2022 WPRA World Standings with $9,166, is plotting a different course for her second NFR bid.

"I'm just going to try to go to the bigger ones so I can go down and come back home and not be away from the kids as much as I was last winter," she explained. "I looked at Hailey Kinsel as an example. I know Sister is one-of-a-kind but she kind of showed people that you don't have to haul all year to make the finals. You just have to do good at the right ones. That's the outlook I have this year because I don't want to spend time away from kids while they're in school. In the summertime, it's a little bit easier because they get to go. I don't want to sacrifice that time away from them two years in a row."

She also wants to save runs on Fire Fly. "Now, especially after last year, I know where he likes to go and where he doesn't," she said. "Now is the time when I need to start saving his runs and run him where it matters and where he'll work rather than run him in an arena that he doesn't quite favor."

Horseman Jerry Bailey Passes

The horseman's horseman, Jerry Bailey, passed away Dec 17, 2021 according to his wife Leslie Bailey's Facebook post.

Bailey, was an industry leader involved with every facet of the horse industry from barrel horses, rope horses, and both quarter horse and thoroughbred race horses.

Services for Dr Jerry Bailey will be held during the Heritage Place Winter Mixed Sale in Oklahoma City, OK, January 13, 2022 at 7 PM or after the last horse sells. In lieu of flowers there will be a Memorial for Jerry established at a later date.

Below is an article from the BloodHorse written by Eric Mitchell detailing a good share of Bailey's life in the horse industry:

Successful Consignor, Breeder Jerry Bailey Dies at 78

Pinhooker, owner/breeder, and veterinarian Jerry Bailey died Dec. 17 due to complications from pneumonia that followed a two-week battle with COVID-19, according to his wife Leslie Bailey. He was 78.

Bailey, a native of Dickinson, N.D., earned his veterinary degree at the University of Minnesota before moving to South Florida, where he was a racetrack practitioner for seven years with the practice founded by Drs. M.B. Teigland, Thomas Brokken, and Benjamin Franklin Jr. He left Florida to become the resident veterinarian for Ed Gaylord's Lazy E Ranch in Oklahoma.

"He eventually got moved up to general manager and built the training center at the Lazy E," recalled Leslie Bailey. "We started training Thoroughbreds there as well and he really loved training the horses more than doing office work."

To make better use of the training center, Bailey had suggested to Gaylord that they start pinhooking some yearlings for the 2-year-olds in training sales. They found a partner for the venture in Ken Ellenberg, a Minnesota native who was a small-time owner at Canterbury Park. After a couple of years, Gaylord got less interested in pinhooking while Bailey and Ellenberg saw more opportunity ahead.

The Baileys went back to Florida where they started the Jerry Bailey Training Center near Morriston and started a pinhooking partnership with Ellenberg, initially called Cypress Farm. One of their early successes was a Gulch colt named Thunder Gulch, who they bought for $40,000 at the 1993 Keeneland July select yearling sale and offered at the 1994 Keeneland April 2-Year-Olds in Training Sale, where he was bought back on a final bid of $120,000. Bailey and Ellenberg raced the colt under the name Mutual Shar Stable. Thunder Gulch was second in the Cowdin Stakes (G2) before the partners sold the colt to Michael Tabor. With D. Wayne Lukas, Thunder Gulch won the 1995 Kentucky Derby (G1) and Belmont Stakes (G1).

Bailey and Ellenberg also pinhooked grade 1 winners Deputy Commander, Yes It's True, Honour and Glory, and Twist Afleet.

Eventually Utah native and Quarter Horse owner/breeder Lance Robinson joined in and three men formed Gulf Coast Bloodstock. Ellenberg later dropped out and others joined. Gulf Coast was a pinhooking and breeding operation that at one point had 120 boarded at Taylor Made Farm near Nicholasville, Ky. Robinson and his wife Marla oversaw the breeding operation while the Baileys handled the breaking and training of the young horses.

"We were a good partnership. He had a great eye for picking out an individual that was an athlete, and I broke all the horses. We clicked really well," said Leslie Bailey.

The stars bred and raised by Gulf Coast Farms include dual champion Lookin At Lucky, who was named champion 2-year-old colt for 2009 after winning three grade 1 stakes and then champion 3-year-old colt after winning the Preakness Stakes (G1), Izod Haskell Invitational Stakes (G1), Rebel Stakes (G2), and Indiana Derby (G2). The Smart Strike colt won nine of 13 starts and earned $3,307,278. The farm also pinhooked multiple grade 1 winner Henny Hughes and bred and sold multiple graded stakes winners Cowtown Cat, Kensei, and Salute the Sarge.

When picking out horses at a sale, Bailey told BloodHorse in 2007 that "first and foremost are conformation, physical, and athleticism.

"After that," he continued, "you would like to have a sire who you think has the chance to get a runner, or at least one who has proven that he can get a runner."

Bailey and Robinson also never hesitated to race a horse they believed in.

"We think we can better the horses' chances by going with a trainer that maybe has strong points for this or that, and kind of fit the horse to the trainer and the level of racing," Bailey told BloodHorse in 2007.

Gulf Coast shut down its breeding operation in 2010 and dispersed its breeding stock at the Keeneland November Breeding Stock Sale. The Florida training center continued to operate for some time but eventually the Baileys decided to "retire" to Oklahoma.

ProRodeo Hall of Famer Jerome Robinson passes away

ProRodeo has lost one of its superstars. ProRodeo Hall of Fame bull rider Jerome Robinson passed away Jan. 9. He was 74.

Robinson, who was inducted into the ProRodeo Hall of Fame in Colorado Springs, Colo., in 2019, qualified for the National Finals Rodeo 11 times – 1970-75 and 1977-81.

Robinson went on to become a cowboy with many hats – a contestant, contractor, event producer, contract personnel and member of the PRCA Board of Directors. With so many titles on his résumé, Robinson was inducted into the ProRodeo Hall of Fame as a Notable, a word that perfectly summarizes his career.

During his time in the professional ranks, Robinson served as the Bull Riding Director on the PRCA Board for four years, vice-president for one, a term on the National Finals Rodeo Commission, and was on the PRCA research and development committee for the building of the Colorado Springs headquarters and Hall of Fame.

Robinson made a lasting contribution to rodeo when in 1975 he helped institute the centralized computer entry system, known today as PROCOM. This system utilized a computer to implement the rules and guidelines of the PRCA Rulebook and a bank of toll-free phone lines to communicate with rodeo contestants, stock contractors, secretaries, and committees.

Tom Glause, PRCA's CEO praised the work done by Robinson.

"Jerome was a visionary . . . He was always willing to lend a helping hand," Glause said. "So many bull riders were touched by him, and so many rodeos are better off from his keen eye for production. He was an operational genius and so much more. His passing is a loss for the world of rodeo."

Steve Rempelos, PRCA's Chief Marketing Officer and dear friend of Robinson concurred with Glause.

"Jerome touched so many lives and careers. I truly enjoyed our close friendship of nearly 40 years, and I share his loss with his family, friends and the rodeo community."

Fellow ProRodeo Hall of Fame bull rider Donnie Gay, an eight-time PRCA world champ, praised Robinson for his contributions to the sport.

"You don't qualify for NFR 11 times without being pretty good," Gay said. "Jerome was always in the mix, and he out rodeoed everybody in those days. He was able to get to so many rodeos and ride so many bulls and he would draw a check almost everywhere he went. He was getting a check as many times as he could get a check and that was probably at 30 or 40 more rodeos a year than anybody else was competing at. He was a top NFR bull rider because he was smarter than most and was dedicated.

That's the way he approached every job that he did."

Robinson finished a career-best fourth in the 1974 and 1975 PRCA world standings. Robinson attended Colorado State University in Fort Collins to study education but maintained that he really majored in rodeo. He qualified for three National Intercollegiate Rodeo Finals and was rodeoing professionally when he graduated in 1969.

Robinson competed on his PRCA card for 16 years, starting in 1967, and made 11 trips to the NFR. He went on to mentor several PRCA world champion bull riders and many others involved with rodeo production.

Jeff Chadwick, Wrangler's Director of Special Events, also praised Robinson.

"I've known Jerome forever because we were both from Fort Collins, and I also worked for Jerome when I was right out of college," Chadwick said. "He was a great friend, a mentor and a gentleman. He was one of the classiest guys in rodeo far and away. He's a guy who remembered every building manager, everybody who worked in the building. He would go back to a building and call everybody by name. He had the unique ability to remember people and things about them. He had a real connection with people. I never worked for anybody who could get you to work 16 hours a day and like it, but he did."

An injury in 1982 took Robinson out of competition for four months but afforded him the opportunity to launch an integrated rodeo production business specializing in indoor rodeos. He handled everything from booking venues, hauling in dirt for the arena, hiring contractors and producing the performance. In 1985, the PRCA asked Robinson to execute the production of the ESPN-televised rodeo series "Winston Tour."

Robinson's company has produced events in Japan, France, Finland, Oman, Italy, Canada, Mexico, Brazil, and Venezuela.

Super Saturday kicks off National Western Stock Show

By Susan Kanode

For the National Western Stock Show

The National Western Stock Show Rodeo's 10th Super Saturday showdown between contestant representing Colorado rodeos and world-renown rodeos saw some very happy fans and contestants.

Events included in each of three performances were bareback riding, steer wrestling, saddle bronc riding, barrel racing and bull riding. Competition started in the Denver

Coliseum at the morning performance featuring world contestants. The matinee performance saw Colorado representatives and the evening performance was head-to-head competition between the two.

With contestants being invited to represent the various rodeos, many of the world's best were on hand to test their skills. Fan favorite and five-time Professional Rodeo Cowboys Association world champion Stetson Wright was among the Colorado contingent in the bull riding and the World contestants in saddle bronc riding, showing off his all-around talent. Wright has won world titles in both disciplines and because of his success has garnered all-around buckles the past three years.

He was most successful in bull riding advancing to the semifinals. He didn't ride his bull in that round, but advanced as the Colorado rider that rode the longest. In the Final round, he was up against Tim Bingham from the World team who went first and failed to make the whistle. Wright had fans on the edge of their seats as he was matching the bull jump for jump. Then, midway through the ride, the bull fell with Wright still on him. The bull got up and Wright still was in the middle of his back and had never touched the bull with his free hand. He made a qualified ride and was the winner of the $8,000 prize.

It was team Colorado's turn to be victorious in 2022 as they collected championship spurs in three of the five events. Other winners were, bareback rider, Tanner Aus World; steer wrestler, Don Payne, Colorado; Saddle bronc rider, Wyatt Casper, World; and barrel racer Amanda Welsh, World.

The 116th National Western Stock show will see a cross-cultural event in the Mexican Rodeo Extravaganza in the Denver Coliseum on Sunday. Performances are at 2 and 6:30 p.m.

HEADIN' FOR HOME

"Classic" by Sherry Morrison // Triple M (Mike Morrison Ministries)

When our Grandkids stay with us, we take turns picking a place to eat lunch. It was Mike's turn this last week and he picked a Chinese place. We all piled into the car and headed to town. When he took a wrong turn, the middle grand said in her husky voice, "Papa, where are we going?" Mike started laughing and said he'd forgotten which turn to take. The little grand, in this sweet little voice said, "Papa, do you have amnesia?" Now we're all laughing. Then the oldest grand, in typical teenage humor said, "No, this is the first sign of early Alzheimer's."

It seems silly to think you could forget where your keys are or that appointment or a 100 other things. But if we can forget God, you can forget anything!

How can you forget God? People do it all the time. Something bad happens and we dust off our Bibles and get our little bottoms to church and we actually pray!! Then when the answer comes, we slowly get complacent and before we know it, EVERYTHING is more important than spending time with Him.

God knew this (imagine that) and even put a warning to us in His word. Deut. 6:10-12 and Deut. 8:11-18 are accounts of people getting wealthy, then forgetting Him. Let's not let that be us!

Mike and Sherry Morrison pastor "Church at the Barn" in Gillette, WY. They also travel to other areas ministering at barrel races, ranches, rodeos, churches and home Bible studies. Check out our schedule online. You can also download all Bible studies by visiting our website: m-m-m.org or contact us at: PO Box 2439, Gillette, WY 82717, 307/685-2272.
