Mark Bugni & VF NFL Draft No. 1 at Greg Olson Memorial Futurity

By Tanya Randall

The royally-bred VF NFL Draft ("Eddie") was trainer Mark Bugni's No. 1 at the $25,000-added Greg Olson Memorial Futurity, held January 16-17 in Buckeye, Arizona. The 5-year-old gelding, owned by the Murray family of Fort Worth, Texas, topped the Futurity for $9,837, finished third in the Slot Race and placed in the Open 1D on Saturday for total earnings of $14,745.

"I feel very blessed to win a futurity the first year I decided to come out here (to Arizona)," said Bugni, who trains out of Prague, Oklahoma. "Jill Lane has been bugging me for years to come down here and check it out. She finally convinced me and it was a huge success!"

Bugni says it took him the first futurity to get his bearings on the larger pattern and fast footing at the South Buckeye Equestrian Center.

"We didn't have any luck in the first futurity," he admitted. "I think I ran a 17.4 on the Eddie colt. That was the fastest he got. It just takes more than a person remembers to run on a Standard Pattern. It takes more guts and the horse has to be a little bit more focused on their turns. It took us a little bit to get clicking along on that big old pattern again."

Bugni spent the week between the futurities getting Eddie—whom Bugni calls Murray—comfortable running across the pen and finding his barrels.

"I had high hopes that he was going to do well, but did I think he would do as well as he did? Honestly, I didn't," said Bugni, who was more concerned with the gelding's strength. Eddie had gone off his feed and was diagnosed with a gastric issue before coming to Arizona. The Murrys insisted on clean blood work before Eddie was allowed to make the trip.

At the Greg Olson, Eddie showed that he was strong enough. In the first round he ran third with a 17.082, behind eventual Slot Race Champions Kassie Mowry and Sand In My Socks and his stable-mate VQ Dark Indeed, owned by Jeff Varner.

"That first run he was strong, he was smooth, he was easy and I couldn't have asked for any better display of my training program," Bugni said of Eddie's run. "It felt amazing!"

Bugni and Eddie were fifth in the second round with a 17.325.

"The second run, he smoked the first barrel twice as good as he did the first day," he said. "On the second barrel, I rode him a little too hard to the backside, so I had a huge flaw on the second. I was so mad, even in the middle of the run, that I had caused him to stall on the backside. He had a good third barrel. He still pulled out a 17.3. I was proud he clocked that fast but I thought I had just handed the futurity to somebody else. Thank God, everything went my way and I ended up winning the average."

Bugni tipped a barrel on VQ Dark Indeed to have outrun Eddie for the championship.

"I was really trying to go for the futurity win," he admitted, "so I cued him a little too early on the second barrel because I really wanted him to sizzle it a little faster than the day before, and I caused him to tip it. He would have actually outrun this colt (Eddie) by 2/10ths. I was really excited because, honestly, that colt out worked the one that won it. I felt really good about having two top dogs that could have won the futurity."

THE RUNDOWN w/Mark Bugni

VF NFL Draft, "Eddie"

BIT: "The first futurity I ran him in a Pozzi Lifter and I felt like he could handle a little of gag and a little less quickness on my hands, so I switched him to a Dave Elliot. It's the second longest shank with three-piece, medium twist mouthpiece."

SADDLE: Double J

SADDLE PAD: 5 Star

LEG GEAR: Classic Equine Classic Fits all four

SHOEING: Steel rims on all four

FEED: Purina Equine Senior

HAY: Alfalfa in the evening, Bermuda grass during the day

SUPPLEMENTS: Probiotics, OE's Bo's Secret, muscle relaxers to combat soreness from traveling and the runs on firmer footing

CONDITIONING/TRAINING REGIMEN: "I don't give him a day off. I do a lot of slow stuff. I'll long trot for a little while and lope to where I feel their lungs get enough exercise. I'll trot or lope through the barrels to make sure they hit their spots and stay in position. It's nothing heavy duty."

SPONSORS: Outlaw Equine, Rodeo Rigs and Jill Lane Quarter Horses

Eddie, who was bred by Victory Farms, is by leading barrel horse sire Eddie Stinson out of Curiosity Corners, by Silver Lucky Buck.

He is a full brother to 2020 Old Fort Days Futurity Champion VF Cream Rises and multiple aged event finalist VF Im That Kinda Gal. The Murrays purchased him as an unstarted 2-year-old from Victory Farms.

The leery gelding was a challenge and was sent to Russell Littlefield for a few months to be started. Once in Bugni's barn, he could tell the gelding had a nice handle and was only lacking in confidence. Bugni told the Murrays that he recommended holding him for the 5-year-old futurities, and when COVID hit, the decision to delay the start of Eddie's career worked in their favor.

"He's as confident as you can get one now," noted Bugni. "He just needed a lot of the bonding time and maturing time. He did a lot of traveling to the little jackpots without any pressure. I exhibited him but I never took the whip to him to make him run faster. It was all quiet and easy. I think it was just the path he needed to put his wits together. It was really beneficial."

With the eventual plan of becoming one of the Murrays' rodeo mounts, making Eddie solid was paramount.

"Our main goal was to have him solidly trained and happy doing his job," Bugni noted.

Ivy Saebens & KN Fabs Gift Of Fame Win Odessa

By Tanya Randall

Ivy Saebens and KN Fabs Gift Of Fame ("J Lo") have gone two out of three for pro rodeo victories in the 2021 season. The 2019 Wrangler National Finals Rodeo Champs scored their latest victory at the Sandhills Stock Show & Rodeo in Odessa, Texas, held January 8-9 and 13-16.

With the rodeo serving as a qualifier for the San Antonio Rodeo, more than 230 barrel racers entered the historic kick-off for the winter run. Saebens' share of the pot was $7,522, enough to move her to third in the WPRR World Standings with $13,537.

Saebens had entered the jackpot in Odessa the day before slack to get a run on J Lo since they'd never competed together in that arena.

"I didn't kick her or ask her," Saebens said of her jackpot run. "It's kind of like an exhibition because you can't really exhibition on your 12-year-old rodeo horse!"

Although she worked well, Saebens knew where the holes were in her run but knew she could send her for her run in slack.

"I made some mistakes on my part but she covered them up," she said of their victorious 14.01. "I was ecstatic. I didn't think that run would win it. When I called my husband after I ran, I was like, 'Oh I messed up like going to the first and leaving it.' J Lo made up for it. I pushed her hard and she slammed the clock."

Odessa was the pair's third rodeo back since an incident last summer caused great concern for the health of J Lo's lungs. After several months off with care from Dr. Marty Tanner at Tanner Equine and rehabilitation at EquiCare, J Lo returned to the arena in last October.

"We were so nervous for her few runs back," Saebens admitted. "For her first run back, I took her to the NBHA in Waco. I talked to Tanner before I ran and he was like, 'Don't push her, don't kick her or anything, just see how fast she wants to go and we'll scope her and see how it looks afterward.' I just sat there and she won the whole thing. I didn't kick her or ask her to do anything. We scoped her afterward and she was totally clean. Her BAL (bronchoalveolar lavage) washes were clean."

Tanner gave her the go ahead to run J Lo at the Heart Of Texas

KN Fabs Gift Of Fame, "J Lo" 15.1-15.2 h, 1,000 lbs.

BIT: Troy Flaharty Combination with a slow twist Billy Allen mouthpiece

SADDLE: Custom Martin Stingray

LEG GEAR: Professional's Choice 2XCool boots on all four

SHOEING: Aluminum on front, barefoot on rear

FEED: ReNew Gold Senior

HAY: Alfalfa and some orchard grass when she can find it

SUPPLEMENTS: Platinum Performance-Osteon, Immune Booster and GI; TechMix electrolyte paste

ALTERNATIVE THERAPIES: Dr. Marty Tanner, veterinarian. Brent Boozer, chiropractor. Theraplate. Back On Track and PHT

CONDITIONING/TRAINING REGIMEN: She kills my back. She's the smoothest horse to run, but she's the roughest horse to ride around. I pony her for the most part. Since we have hills now, I do a lot of straight up inclines, ponying her off of my husband's heel horse. We built a huge arena like I can set a barrel pattern at one end of the arena and my husband can rope and we don't even come near each other. I'll breeze them around the arena. I start ponying her with a saddle three or four days before I run. Then two or three days before I run her I'll get on her and get her backed off the bridle.

WAIT LIST

Rodeo in Waco, an event she'd dominated in the past.

After cruising to a top 10 finish in the first round in slack, Saebens and J Lo had their work cut out for them in the performance for the second round. Victoria Williams and Three Jets Olena had broken their arena record for the rodeo.

"Everyone was all hyped up because J Lo really likes Waco," Saebens recalled. "I was just like we'll just see how she does. That girl ran a .5. If we run an .0, we're going to be fine. Then J Lo runs a .5 and splits the win!"

Next up for the pair is the X Factor Invitational Barrel Race in Decatur, Texas, on January 25th. Their rodeo schedule is basically everything that's currently scheduled: Rapid City, South Dakota, Jackson, Mississippi and San Antonio, Texas. They also have the American Semifinals Rodeo.

"That's plenty of runs for J Lo," Saebens said. "I actually like that there's less rodeos in the winter time with my situation. In years past I would have liked to have had more runs, but with my situation with J Lo this will probably work out for me better anyways."

Looking back, the haphazard COVID schedule really threw her off her game.

"I was thinking they weren't going to have any rodeos so my horse wasn't super fit for the ones that they were having," she said. "I wasn't making runs. I wasn't prepared for the crazy arenas like Burwell—these big, huge arenas with no fences that had a lot of added money. I just wasn't ready for that. I had my set path of what I liked that I had gone on for four years. None of those rodeos happened so it was curveball that I wasn't prepared for." Now, J Lo is ultra-fit for the upcoming rodeos.

"Honestly, I think the stuff with her lungs has made me get her more fit than she's ever been because she needs to be," said Saebens, who wanted to thank J Lo's owners Kenny Nichols and Dale Barron for sticking with her through all that happened in 2020. "J Lo is at the age where they have to be really fit all the time to stay sound and competitive. She feels phenomenal!"

Connections

Frenchmans Fabulous sired both the first and second place finishers at the Sandhills Stock Show & Rodeo in Odessa, Texas. Ivy Saebens rode KN Fabs Gift Of Fame ("J Lo"), a 13-year-old mare by Fab out of the great Mistys Dash Of Fame, by Dash Ta Fame. Stephanie Frayer rode Some Streakin French ("Frank"), a 6-year-old gelding, by Fab and out of Some Streakin Chic, by Some Dasher.

Saebens also had a connection to Positively Streakin ("Salty"), who carried Kellie Collier to fifth and a berth into the San Antonio Rodeo. Salty, a 6-year-old mare, is by Streakin Boon Dox out of Positively A Coyote, by Coyote Colonel. Saebens finished one out of the money at last year's Odessa rodeo on Salty before the mare sold to Collier later that year.

Erin Williams & My Mom Is Classy Top Montana Circuit Finals Rodeo

By Tanya Randall

Erin Williams punched her ticket for the RAM National Circuit Finals Rodeo in Kissimmee, Florida, with a $3,537 championship at the Montana Circuit Finals Rodeo, held January 15-16 in Kalispell, Montana. She will be joined by year-end circuit champion Lindsay Kruse.

Williams thanked the Kalispell committee for stepping in when Great Falls—the traditional home of the Montana Circuit Finals—was unable to host the rodeo due to COVID.

“I’m so happy that Kalispell stepped up to have it,” she said. “It’s a private facility and we’re grateful they were able to do that. It’s such an awesome facility with its huge, heated barn. They did a great job on the ground. They got to have a crowd because they had just lifted restrictions in Montana. It was really fun because there was such a loud crowd. It was such a fun rodeo.”

Williams was making her first appearance at the Montana Circuit Finals Rodeo. She lives in the far southeast corner of Montana in the small town of Alzada, where her family ranches. Although she had previously qualified twice for the Badlands Circuit Finals, she chose Montana this season so she wasn’t forced to travel extra far outside her circuit. Plus, there was the added bonus of having several co-approved rodeos right across the border in the Dakotas.

“I went to every co-approval because those were closest to me. I knew those rodeos too because I was Badlands circuit before,” she said.

At Kalispell, Williams rode her 9-year-old mare Ritzy, a daughter of multiple NFR Sire Nonstop Firewater out of Classical Pay, by Jet’s Pay Day.

“I bought her as a 5-year-old,” she explained. “She came from Amy Youngblood in Indiana. She owns Nonstop Firewater. Amy’s father-in-law Charlie Peoples trained her and he was in his 70s. All my horses are by Nonstop Firewater. When they were going to sell her I jumped at the chance. She’s just been awesome. She’s a cool little horse.”

Ritzy proved to be a quick study at the rodeos, taking Williams to her first Badlands Circuit Finals as a 5-year-old when her older mare I See It was injured.

Williams and Ritzy won the Montana Circuit Finals title with consistent runs. They placed fourth in the first round and third in the third round to win the aggregate.

“I just wanted to take it one run at a time,” she said. “The first run I thought my mare worked great. I thought the ground was great and she kept moving forward. After that run I just thought I needed to make that run every time and that’s what we did. We were a little slow on our second run. We slipped a little on first and second, but she ran just as hard and tried just as hard. The second run that day I was concerned about because it is two runs in one day. My horse just stepped up and went as hard as she could and it just worked out.”

Williams, who missed the 2019 season to have her daughter Blue, now 19 months, had originally planned to rodeo “down south” last year before COVID hit. She’s going to attempt the trip again in 2021.

“Our plans are to head to Texas in mid-February to go down to few rodeos, we plan on rodeoing there. If they don't, we'll probably come back. I would like to be able to stay there and head to Kissimmee from there."

Williams wanted to thank her husband Charlie for his support. Even though he wasn't able to make it to the Montana Circuit Finals due to his responsibilities as a wrestling coach at Moorcroft High in Wyoming—they have eight straight state championships under his guidance—Williams said he's looking forward to the trip to Florida.

She also wanted to thank Adrianna Baeze-Materi, Blue's nanny, who made the trip to Kalispell with her.

"She's a good luck charm," said Williams. "She's been with us a few months. We've had good luck with her around."

Lindsay Kruse won her fifth Montana Circuit Championship. She rode her 10-year-old mare Crown N Fame ("Covergirl") to season earnings of $15,039 including a fourth-place finish in the average at the Circuit Finals.

Kruse, the mother of three children with her husband Jesse, the 2009 World Champion Saddle Bronc Rider, said the couple actually enjoyed the COVID rodeo season. They rodeoed when they could and spent the rest of the summer building their new home near Fromberg, Montana.

"We kind of just stuck around home and did the circuit rodeos," she said. "We got into our house in November. We kind of enjoyed it actually. We were able to rodeo but still be home."

Kruse really didn't start her season until the Fourth of July run. She got off to a great start picking up nearly $5,000 toward her circuit total for winning Killdeer, North Dakota, which was a co-approved rodeo with the Montana Circuit. She also ended up 37th in the WPRA World Standings with $18,713 from less than 30 rodeos.

"I think we both thought we weren't going to be able to rodeo so we'd better make it worth our while!" she said of how well her Dash Ta Fame, Our Hush Money mare worked in the shortened season.

She also finished the season in the Top 4 of the WPRA Tour Standings, which may get her into some of the same limited rodeos as her husband this winter.

"I didn't really look at the WPRA Tour Standings or even try for them until the very end of season," she explained. "I think I got into San Antonio, so we'll go there, but then it looks like we'll have to come home because there's not much of anything. We'll go back down when they start picking back up in April."

Most of all, Kruse has the same plans as all her fellow competitors in 2021.

"We're just hoping to rodeo," she said.

Julie Thomas Crowned IFR 51 Champion

IFR 51

Last week at the Lazy E Ranch in Gurthie, OK, the IFR 51 was held for the Top 15 in each of the rodeo events from the IPRA rodeos held throughout 2020. In the barrel racing Julie Thomas won money in 3 of 4 rounds on her way to cinching the IFR Barrel Racing Aggregate Title, Overall Year End Barrel Racing Title and a cool $6,666! Her and her zippy mount, The Cool Zippy Zevi place all year long all over so we thought it would be fun to catch up with her and get a little more information about Thomas and her great horse!

BRR: Can you walk us through your runs at the IFR

Thomas: Amos was very consistent and made about the same run each round. In Round 1, we struggled with the approach to the 1st barrel but made it work and had a solid run. In Round 2, he got by his 2nd barrel which cost us some time. In Round 3, we tightened up the 2nd barrel and rocked it but luckily it stayed up! In Round 4, I just wanted to stay clean and pushed him past the barrels to be sure we didn't hit any.

BRR: Tell us about your horse. Any funny quirks? Any special things he likes or dislikes?

Thomas: Amos has a great personality. He is super sweet on the ground and to be around but when you get on him to warm him up and run him he is a totally different horse. He is a handful in the alleyway but always gives 100% each run.

BRR: What are your barrel racing plans moving into the rest 2021?

Thomas: I will stay close to home this winter and spring. I hope to travel a bit this summer when I'm off work. It all will depend on what rodeos there will be in 2021.

BRR: What are three unique things you must have with you to travel?

Thomas: I always have my pillow, a blanket, and snacks!

BIT: short shank Cervi gag

SADDLE: Coats Saddle

SADDLE PAD: Relentless pad

LEG GEAR: Classic Equine bells and front splint boots

SHOEING: No special shoeing - shod every 5 weeks

FEED: Strategy, Renew Gold

HAY: Grass hay

SUPPLEMENTS: Flexadin

CONDITIONING/TRAINING REGIMEN: I long trot and lope in the pasture (5-6 days a week). He doesn't usually get worked on the pattern unless he has had a long break. At the rodeo, I normally warm him up a little early and hand walk him to keep him calm until we run.

THANK YOUS: Thank you to my friends and family! I couldn't do any of this without their love and support!

WCRA Earnings to Count Towards 2021 IPRA World Standings

--$2500 IFR51 Top Hand Cash Bonus Award Announced--

The WCRA (World Champions Rodeo Alliance) and the IPRA (International Pro Rodeo Association) are pleased to announce that all WCRA events will continued to be co-sanctioned by the IPRA. All athletes who earn money at WCRA events are allowed to count up to $10,000 of those earnings towards their 2021 IPRA World Standings.

"Our motto is all for rodeo, and we're lucky enough to have the opportunity to work with other organizations to sanction and co-sanction events in an effort to break down the lines of division which have held rodeo back," said WCRA President Bobby Mote. "We are ecstatic to watch the continued growth of rodeo and continue the mindset of improving the sport as a whole."

In order to be IPRA eligible, athletes who compete in WCRA events must be IPRA members prior to the start of competition and must compete in more than 10 IPRA events in 2021 for their WCRA earnings to count towards 2021 IPRA World Standings. The early May Rodeo Corpus Christi will be the first WCRA event where earnings will count towards the IPRA World Standings.

WCRA also announced a $2,500 cash bonus award- The Top Hand Award. The award will be given to the athlete who earns the most amount of prize money in a single discipline during the International Finals Rodeo (IFR51) event. The total prize money earned from all rounds of competition at the IFR51 and the aggregate will be combined to determine an athlete's total event earnings.

The IPRA has become the sport's second largest professional rodeo association sanctioning nearly 450 rodeos with a membership base of over 2,400. The Organization sanctions rodeos across the United States along with 40 Canadian events

Since launching in May of 2018, the WCRA and its partners have awarded more than $8,500,000 in new money to rodeo athletes.

Rodeo athletes from all over the globe are eligible to nominate their efforts and qualify to compete at the first WCRA Major of 2021- Rodeo Corpus Christi. Athletes can nominate and earn points through the innovative WCRA Virtual Rodeo Qualifier (VRQ). The top athletes on the WCRA Leaderboard in each discipline will compete for their piece of the over $500,000 purse. For athletes interested in learning more about the VRQ, visit wcrarodeo.com.

The greatest fear in the world is of the opinions of others. And the moment you are unafraid of the crowd you are no longer a sheep, you become a lion. A great roar arises in your heart, the roar of freedom.

HEADIN' FOR HOME

by Sherry Morrison // Triple M (Mike Morrison Ministries)

Can you make more than one New Year's resolution? I'm thinking of adding a few more this year. Along with stopping the taste bud check for COVID that I'm using for the weight gain excuse, I decided to ask God if there's some things I need to change.

What a novel idea. Asking God. I should start there. BUT. Remember. Ladies, if you ask God if that dress makes your rear end look fat, you're going to get the truth! (And, it'll keep men from lying to you!)

According to John 8:32, it's the truth that makes you free. I want to be free in every area of my life, so if the truth hurts for a while, so be it. I heard a minister talk about how, each year, he and his staff take steps to make sure they don't get off track.

1. They remember what God has called them to do.
2. Then they ask, did they DO those things?

3. They make an honest report of HOW they did those things.

4. They make an effort to revise where they failed.

5. They restructure people/jobs if revision can't be attained.

Ideally, if I can't sing, I shouldn't be in the choir, right? Well, let's ask God where He wants us this year. I can promise you that He knows your gifts and callings and if you will let Him lead you, your days of being frustrated in your work will be over!

Mike and Sherry Morrison pastor "Church at the Barn" in Gillette, WY. They also travel to other areas ministering at barrel races, ranches, rodeos, churches and home Bible studies.
