Molli Montgomery & TRHeavensIlluminated Win Inaugural Lone Star Shootout Futurity

By Tanya Randall

The big guns were out at the inaugural running of the $20,000-added Lone Star Shootout Futurity, presented by 70 Ranch Performance Horses, held January 20-12 at the Lone Star Arena in Stephenville, Texas.

Molli Montgomery and TRHeavensIlluminated ("Cyrus"), owned by Tracy Lambert, threw down two consistent runs for a $14,042 victory in the 202-entry Futurity. They also placed fifth in Sunday's 1D with a carryover for total weekend earnings of $14,806.

"In this day and age, you've got to have the horse power because it's so rank tough," said Montgomery.

She and Cyrus had the aggregate by less than two tenths (.183) over her sister-in-law Jolene Montgomery and Busby Quarter Horses' Jetto Mooned Me. Even more incredible was the .033 difference separating second through fifth in the aggregate.

"It was just stacked so tight," Montgomery added. "Everything has to happen just right because it's so hard to win today."

She said Stephenville's proximity to so many top trainers also made the event extremely tough.

"It's kind of close to everyone," she said. "Plus, it's a great producer (Jodi Robertson). We trust the producer is going to have really good ground. We know our horses are going to be able to work without having to worry about shattering their confidence." When Montgomery and Cyrus made their first run on Friday morning, the temperature had yet to reach 20 degrees. Thankfully, Cyrus had no problems firing in the cold.

"I sent him and he took off running hard," Montgomery recalled. "I was like, 'Oh my gosh! Don't weaken!' You have to run him all the way into the hole and you kind of feel like you're not going to turn. You almost have to run a little bit further because he doesn't have to prepare for the turn. He can just do it."

After smoking the first, Montgomery had little choice but to stay out Cyrus' way as the cold was blurring her vision.

"I couldn't hardly see because my eyes were watering so bad because of the cold and wind," she said. "He whipped around the second and I was like 'Oh my gosh! Don't mess this up!' My eyes were just watering so bad that I almost couldn't see. I thought maybe this is how I need to run all the time because I can't get in his way!" Her only concern was having him run back through the gate as she hadn't cruised him through during exhibitions and didn't have a whip on her saddle to chase him home.

"I didn't even cruise him through during exhibition because sometimes I feel like I waste my run and my tuning," she explained. "He just did so many things right that first round."

They won the round with a 15.339. Afterward, they headed home to Dawson, Texas, to rest until the second round on Sunday morning.

"We were running the reverse order the second go so I'm at the end," she recalled. "I knew what I was up against. I'm always working on my mental game. I had to tell myself it was no big deal. It's either going to happen or it's not. I'm just going to be happy to go and run. I'm going to enjoy this horse that's so talented to run. I just kept telling myself that."

They finished second in the round with a 15.325 behind Kelsey Knight and VF Something In Red's 15.318.

"When I went to turn the first, he was going to turn back on top of it," Montgomery said. "I had to shove my hand forward and

HAY: Free choice coastal and Cubeit alfalfa cubes

SUPPLEMENTS: OE Nutraceuticals, Succeed

TRAINING/CONDITIONING: "I really try to keep my horses fit and happy. I think if you keep your horses fit you won't have to use so many alternative therapies. He gets ridden five to six days a week. He likes to go do stuff. He gets put on the walker a lot. It doesn't work; it's more like a moving tie post. He gets put on the walker by himself so he can run on that walker. It's safer to put him on the walker than turn him loose in the round pen because he plays so hard."

I thought I've ruined my chances. I thought I'm just going to keep on going. That second barrel was really fast and he never stopped moving at the third."

Bred by Harry Thomas, Cyrus, a 4-year-old gelding, is by leading barrel horse sire JL Dash Ta Heaven out of the champion performer and producer TR Dashing Badger, by Mr Illuminator. Lambert, who owns the gelding's full brother Heavens Illuminator, a $50,000 futurity earner with Kassie Mowry, purchased the colt at the 2019 Copper Spring Ranch Sale for $30,000.

Cyrus joined Montgomery's barn Thanksgiving weekend of his second year. The gelding was a little behind in the handle department because of his playful nature.

"I just understand the Dash Ta Heavens," said Montgomery, who has won on several including BFA Futurity Champion A Dash Ta Glamour, Texas Extreme Futurity Champion HeavensFeelin-Special and the talented twin flush siblings FeelinTheFirewater and Heavenly Firewater.

"They're just a little different from other horses," she continued. "Some people mistake their playfulness for being dangerous. If you've been around them a bunch that's just par for the course to me. It doesn't really bother me because I know what they are. They've got a lot of talent and are very flamboyant."

Montgomery quickly realized that she had to keep Cyrus engaged in his training and that shorter sessions accomplished more than lots of repetition.

"It wasn't that he wasn't paying attention, it was just that everything was so easy for him, so you had to keep it interesting for him," she explained. "We just saw eye to eye on everything. He just did what I asked and we were done. It wasn't really that hard. He's always been one of my favorites to ride. I felt like he was a really special horse from Day 1. To be honest, I just tried to stay out of his way."

Montgomery said Cyrus reminds her a lot of FeelinTheFirewater ("Sis"), whom she trained several years ago.

"I just rode him enough to show him what to do, kind of like I did with Sis," she said. "I didn't want to do too much because I felt like I could get in their way and mess them up. What's ironic is he and Sis run in the exact same bridle."

Cyrus runs in a chain-mouth Loomis that's on a piggin string rope.

"Jennifer Burgess let me borrow that bridle in 2016 and she's never got it back," Montgomery chuckled. "I told her she probably won't ever get it back! It's been the key to a few good horses. I know that when I can put that bridle on one; it's a good one."

Montgomery said that bridle allows her to help without getting in a horse's way.

"I can handle them and help them without getting in their way so they can do what's natural. I just try to direct the rocket."

Cyrus made his competitive debut at the BFA Juvenile, where he ran respectable but didn't place. He gave the same performance at the OKC Rookie Futurity.

"It took me a minute to get it all ironed out, but I knew it was there," she said. "I knew when I got it all ironed out that it was going to be really good. Sometimes it just takes a few runs to get there because you can't replicate that pressure."

Montgomery wanted to thank Lambert for sticking with her through their adjustment period as well as her sponsors, veterinarian Don Lee and farrier J.O. Duke.

Next up for Montgomery and Cyrus is The Richest Dinosaur in Glen Rose, Texas, and Kinder Cup with the Breeders Challenge in Louisiana in February.

AIRWAY EQ

"Air-Way EQ has helped maintain my horse's respiratory health, I've noticed clearer sounding airways and greater lung capacity. I use Breathe'O2 paste pre-race, he sounds great warming up and really fires without feeling winded."

Brittany Pozzi Tonozzi Wins Fifth National Western

By Tanya Randall

Two-time World Champion Barrel Racer Brittany Pozzi Tonozzi finds herself in a familiar place—No. 1 in the WPRO World Standings—after her historic fifth National Western Rodeo Championship in Denver. The $11,847 victory at the 80-entry, $53,875-added rodeo, held January 12-23, gave Tonozzi the standing's lead with $19,171.

“That’s a lot of times to go to one rodeo,” she laughed. “Maybe I just outlasted everyone. I’ve just always seemed to do well at Denver.”

The secret to succeeding on the cockeyed pattern in the Denver Coliseum—“Just line up with the third barrel,” said Tonozzi. “Ignore everything—ignore the alleyway. Line up with the third barrel.”

She’s appeared at the multiple-run building rodeo an incredible 17 times.

Tonozzi won her first title in 2007 aboard Sixth Vision (“Stitch”). They defended their championship in 2008. In 2010, Tonozzi won the first of two Denver titles on Yeah Hes Firen (“Duke”). Their second came in 2012.

This year’s championship came aboard her homebred mare Babe On The Chase (“Birdie”), an 11-year-old daughter of the late million dollar barrel horse sire Chasin Firewater, out of her blue hen producer Streakin Six Babe, by Streakin Six. Birdie, who is now owned by Teton Ridge, did the lion share of the work for Tonozzi’s 15th NFR qualification in 2021.

The bracket-style format had Tonozzi and Birdie making four runs to the title. The rodeo split it’s field of 80 into draws of 10 for the first two rounds, which were held in back-to-back performances. The top 24 in the two-run aggregate were split into three performances of eight on Saturday, with the top four advancing to a clean-slate final on Sunday.

ing in Denver, spent their downtime at their Colorado home south of Denver in Monument before returning for the morning set of the semifinals.

“When I drew up Saturday morning I was like ‘YES!’,” chuckled Tonozzi. “When you’re young, you want to be up at night, but now it’s—‘Yes, get up early, go run barrels and then be home the rest of the day and get in bed early!’”

Tonozzi and Birdie had their slowest run of the rodeo in the semifinals, a 15.22, after Birdie stutter-stepped on the second barrel running near the bottom of the ground.

“She kind of had trouble with the ground on the backside of the second,” said Tonozzi. “Really, that’s the only mistake she made all week long.”

They turned in their fastest run, and the second fastest of the entire rodeo, a 14.89, in the clean-slate finals to win the championship. With everything riding on that last run, Tonozzi took out some extra insurance when she uncharacteristically reached down to hold the third barrel upright.

“I’ve gotten to be such a horse trainer—go around the barrel in the perfect way, don’t lean, sit up straight, ride into the hole,” she laughed. “You don’t do THAT, because one, you probably will fall off, two, it’s not in my wheelhouse!”

“I guess there are moments that you get desperate. Looking back at the video, I probably didn’t need to do that. I probably would have been alright, but it was just one of those things. It was right there and I just couldn’t help but stick my hand out and ride on. Stuff like that normally doesn’t work out for me, but it did that time!”

The victory also gave her a head start on the 2022 circuit standings as Tonozzi declared the Mountain States as her home circuit. She said her 2022 rodeo plans will not be the same as in 2021.

“I will not be taking the same path as I did last year,” said Tonozzi, who got home to Lampasas, Texas, at 7 am Monday morning, took her and husband Garrett’s daughter Tenley to school, rode seven head of horses and promptly took a nap. “93 rodeos will not be in my wheelhouse. You’ve got to enter the winter rodeos and I’m going to my big circuit rodeos in June and July in the Mountain States. At Cheyenne, I’ll figure out where I’m at. I told Garrett that I’m not going to the Northwest if he doesn’t go with me. I’m not doing that again. He says, ‘What happens when you have $60,000 won?’ I said, ‘Either I go home or you go to the Northwest. The decision is yours!’ He laughed!”

Tonozzi also has several futurity horses for the year including three that are in the Pink Buckle, so the bigger incentive races will be a priority.

“It’s crazy for me to pass them up, especially with me being a stallion owner and paying into them,” said Tonozzi, who owns the Pink Buckle stallion A Guy With Proof. “I’ve got a Blazin (Jetolena), (The) Goodbye Lane and Epic (Leader) and they are in everything.”

Tonozzi is up at the Fort Worth rodeo on Tuesday and Wednesday night—where she’ll likely run Birdie as she opted to give Ima Famous Babe (“Katniss”), Birdie’s half-sister by Dash Ta Fame, a little more time to recover from an injury that kept her out much of the 2021 season. She’s also in The Richest Dinosaur Futurity and American Qualifier in Glen Rose, plus two Central Texas barrel racing association events for her daughter to run in the pee wees.

Texas Champions Challenge Rodeo Pays $119K to Winners

by Johna Cravens for the Fort Worth Stock Show & Rodeo

Three reigning Fort Worth rodeo champions were among the seven individuals who earned $10,000 paychecks at the Texas Champions Challenge rodeo in Dickies Arena. The event featured winners from five iconic Texas rodeos in six events, plus four Texans in freestyle bullfighting.

The 125th edition of the Fort Worth Stock Show & Rodeo (FWSSR) paid out $119,000 to 34 competitors in bareback riding, steer wrestling, saddle bronc riding, breakaway roping, barrel racing, freestyle bullfighting and bull riding.

The format of the rodeo featured an elimination round in each event where five contestants competed. The top two returned almost immediately for a head-to-head round with the winner taking home $10,000 and a bottle of TX Whiskey. The runner-up received $4,000 and the three other contestants from the elimination round each received $1,000. In the bullfighting, the two individuals who did not make the head-to-head round each received $1,500.

Bareback rider Tilden Hooper of Carthage, Texas, was the first to compete Thursday night and he set a high mark by scoring 85.5 points on the Canadian bucking horse Alberta Wildcat from Macza Pro Rodeo. The next three cowboys scored between 81 and 83.5 points, guaranteeing Hooper a slot in the head-to-head round. The fifth rider, Caleb Bennett of Corvallis, Montana, managed to tie Hooper's score, marking 85.5 on Korkow Rodeos' horse Ring Worm.

After the first of four 60-second bullfights and the traditional FWSSR calf scramble, Bennett was the first to ride in head-to-head round. He rode a Montana horse -Brookman Rodeo's Smiling Bob for 88 points. Hooper proved he was up to the challenge by scoring 90 points on Korkow Rodeos' Wiggleworm to win the event. That was Hooper's second championship in a row in Dickies Arena as he is the reigning champion of the FWSSR Pro Rodeo Tournament.

Jacob Talley of Keatchie, Louisiana, followed Hooper's example. Talley, the tournament's reigning steer wrestling champion, clocked a time of 3.77, edging past Tanner Brunner of Ramona, Oklahoma whose time was 3.95. When the two came back in the head-to-head round, Brunner made a solid 4.4-second run that turned into 14.4 seconds after he was assessed a 10-second penalty for failing to give the steer the allotted head start. Talley just needed a solid run to take home the $10,000 and he did that, wrestling his steer to the ground in 5.2 seconds.

The saddle bronc riding started with Utah's Spencer Wright scoring 84.5 points. Two-time world champion Zeke Thurston of Big Valley, Alberta then rode Brookman's horse Freaking Fabulous for 87.5 points. After Canadian Kolby Wanchuk scored 80 and Montana's Chet Johnson bucked off, Jesse Wright climbed on Brookman's horse Rude Roomate. His 85 scored bumped his younger brother Spencer to third.

Again, the head-to-head round was a bucking horse clinic. Jesse Wright rode Korkow's Spanish Onion for 88 points. Thurston countered with 90.5 points on Brookman's Flirtacious to win the $10,000 prize.

The tightest elimination round of the night was in breakaway roping where just 69 hundredths of a second separated the five cowgirls. South Dakota's Sawyer Gilbert set the pace with 2.16 seconds. Then, Shelby Boisjoli of Stephenville, Texas, was even faster—catching her calf in 2.12. Eighteen-time world champion J.J. Hampton stopped the clock in 2.76. Kelsie Chase Domer, who has eight world titles, clocked a time of 2.25, followed by Erin Johnson of Fowler, Colorado who bested them all with a 2.07. In the championship face off, Boisjoli clocked a time of 2.25 seconds, before earning a 10-second penalty at the starting line. That meant Johnson only had to be faster than 12.25 to win the $10,000. But she did not coast to the championship. Instead, she matched the second-fastest time of the night with a 2.12.

Carly Taylor of Andersonville, Tennessee, set the pace in barrel racing. The 2019 Rookie of the Year stopped the clock in 16.767 seconds. Three-time world champion Hailey Kinsel turned in the next-fastest time of the elimination round – 17.138 on a horse she borrowed from a college friend. The two cowgirls chose to ride different horses in the head-to-head round because of the brief time between runs. Kinsel clocked a 17.410, but Taylor's time was faster – 17.353, and earned her $10,000.

For the first time the FWSSR crowned a freestyle bullfighting champion with four Texans battling Mexican fighting bulls for the $10,000 title. Noah Krepps of Jasper started the event with a score of 78.5 points. Then Chance Moorman of Lytle marked 87 points. Multiple-time world champion Weston Rutkowski of Haskell was next and scored 85. Alex McWilliams of Paso Robles fell half a point short of Rutkowski's total with 84.5. That set up the head-to-head round with Rutkowski going first and marking 83 points. Moorman made the most of his chance, scoring 90 points and winning the $10,000 paycheck.

Only three bull riders managed to stay on the required eight seconds in the elimination round. Brady Portenier of Caldwell, Idaho, scored 88 on Macza Pro Rodeo's bull OLS Tubs Riggs, one point higher than Trevor Kastner of Roff, Oklahoma who rode Diamond S Rodeo's Ferdinand for 87. That set up a final match between reigning FWSSR Pro Rodeo Tournament champion Portenier and two-time FWSSR World's Oldest Indoor Rodeo bull riding champ Kastner. Neither cowboy managed to ride until the buzzer sounded in the head-to-head round. That meant Portenier won the $10,000 due to his one-point edge in the elimination round.

Fort Worth also crowned an overall mutton busting champion Tuesday. The top five to seven year olds from earlier rodeo performances competed with the winner receiving a trophy buckle and a $500 scholarship. Paisley Bristow of Holly, Texas, took top honors with a 92-point ride.

The second FWSSR Pro Rodeo Tournament rides into Dickies Arena Friday night at 7:30 p.m. for the first of 16 performances. The event culminates with the Championship Finals on February 5.

HEADIN' FOR HOME

by Sherry Morrison // Triple M (Mike Morrison Ministries)

A few days ago, I was challenged by my granddaughters. They informed me that when they ask "why", my response is "because", and I never really answer them. Well. There ya go. Out of the mouths of babes. I took a deep breath and said, "Okay, let's start over. Ask me again." It was VERY interesting. When I told them the why of my reasons, THEY GOT IT! I then took the opportunity to ask them why they answer the way they do? They told me! Wow, who would've thought!

And after I took them home, I was thinking about how something so simple to do, gets cut off because I don't want to take the time. God immediately dropped into my heart this statement. "Cultivate the why". You and I have probably asked, "God, why did this happen?"

Friends, there is an answer. It's in the Bible. But mostly we want it to be God's fault, not ours. We want to blame anyone and everyone but ourselves. Our choices. Our mouth. Our actions. He went on to remind me, if I believe the Bible says it, I should at least know where it is in the Bible.

From this day forward, let's know why we believe what we do. Not what our parents knew and said, or our pastor, or our friend. Not what we read somewhere that made us feel good and then used to justify our actions, whether it agrees with the Word or not. No. . . . . WHAT. THE. BIBLE. SAYS.

The Bible is the answer to all of our whys. Let's dig in and find them!
