Semas Shines On, Winning Top 3 Places at PacWest Futurity

By Hope Sickler

Tami Semas is on a roll and she isn't about to slow it down anytime soon. If anything, by going off how her last three weekends have gone, she will only get hotter and hotter! Semas and her three futurity horses have been heating up the arena at Buckeye, Arizona the last month and this past weekend at the PacWest Futurity was no exception. Her horses, Guys Best Bet, Guys Amberetto, and Smooth N Famous made their mark once again!

Semas made her name known in the futurity world in 2009 when she and her futurity horse for that year, Hot N Frosted aka Hotrod, made waves everywhere they went. Through Hot N Frosted, Semas got to know Bill and Deb Myers with Myers Training Stables, Home of Frenchmans Guy.

"Hot N Frosted opened a lot of doors for me and started a great friendship between Bill, Deb and I. I have bought a colt from them each year since and have not once been disappointed. They breed and sell the best horses in the country," noted Semas.

Semas had yet another phenomenal colt, A Smooth Kidder from the Myers string that she was running in 2013 but unfortunately a freak accident ended his career and life.

"A Smooth Kidder was the first A Smooth Guy colt that I trained and competed on. I started running him at the spring futurities and just loved everything about him. He won everywhere we went. I was completely heartbroken when he died. He rolled into a fence and ended up hitting his head in just the right spot on the fence post and died instantly."

After losing A Smooth Kidder, Semas wanted to take a step back from the futurities but Bill (Myers) had a different idea.

"Bill and Deb really pulled me out of the dumps after losing A Smooth Kidder. I wanted to take a break from the futurities but they helped pull me through that tough time, along with my family and friends. Losing a horse is like losing a part of your family. It's very difficult," Semas explained.

Semas and her futurity mount from 2014, Ninnekahs Guy, a son of Frenchmans Guy, won close to $40,000 last year only hitting a few futurities. Slowly but surely, Semas knew she was getting back into her winning ways.

After her run of bad luck, it was time for Semas to see some light at the end of the tunnel and 2015 was going to be that light. Having two successful weekends at the 2015 Classic Equine Futurity and Greg Olson Futurity, Semas and her three futurity mounts were ready to make the best of their Arizona trip during the PacWest Futurity.

"The Classic Equine and Greg Olson Futurity went great. We had a few bobbles here and there but my three horses ran great. The superstar of the Classic Equine Futurity was Smooth N Famous

The Greg Olson Futurity made for yet another great weekend, where Guys Best Bet aka Bet, owned by Harry LaTough and ridden by Semas, won the futurity 1D average and made just under $9,000. Smooth N Famous had yet another phenomenal weekend and

ABRA Show Assistance Funds Program

The American Barrel Racing Association would like to introduce you to our "Show Assistance Funds Program". We believe in youth. The future of the equine industry resides in their passion for horses. With that being said, ABRA is awarding at least four assistance checks to help barrel racing youth reach their dream of competing at a prestigious all youth show. A $1,000 show assistance fund check will be awarded to an AQHA and NBHA youth to attend their organizations Youth World Show. A $500 show assistance checks will be awarded to the Southeastern Arena Youth Championships and The All American Youth Barrel Race.

Please help us spread the word to reach as many youth as we can so that no one is left of this opportunity to help them down the road of success.

For flyers and application forms. Please contact Sheri L Lechleider, ABRA Youth Director, 17185 County Road F, Wauseon Ohio 43567, 567-454-9430 or email ohdirector@amerbarrelracing.com.

On the Field With the Cowboys

NASHVILLE, Tenn. – Fans headed to AT&T Stadium on March 1 for RFD-TV's $2 million rodeo, The American, can now mix business with pleasure.

By attending a unique live auction in the world's largest honky tonk – Billy Bob's Texas – on February 22, they can purchase ad space on the backs of their favorite rodeo celebrities who will rope and ride for millions of dollars on March 1.

During the rodeo, the winning bidders will be promoting their brand on live television while cheering for their respective contestants from custom-made suites near the 50-yard line. After watching from the best seats in the house, the buyers will be invited on stage during the awards ceremony if their cowboy or cowgirl becomes the champion.

The auction is the brainchild of Randy Bernard, CEO of RFD-TV Events, who first brought the lucrative, tournament-style rodeo to AT&T Stadium in 2014.

"Our goal is to raise money for cowboys while at the same time giving potential new sponsors an interactive way to get involved in one of America's greatest sports," said Bernard.

The cowboys and cowgirls themselves, notoriously underpaid in terms of professional sports, will receive 85 percent of the winning bid, with the remaining 15 percent being donated to one of three nonprofits dedicated to keeping Western heritage alive – the Texas Cowboy Hall of Fame, the National Cowgirl Museum and Hall of Fame and the National Cowboy Western and Heritage Museum.

Anyone can participate in the auction on February 22 at Billy Bob's Texas in the Fort Worth Stockyards. Bidding will start immediately following the American Semi-Finals in the adjoining Cowtown Coliseum, or at approximately 6 p.m. Following a silent auction of all contestants, those commanding the highest bids will sell in a live auction televised at 8 p.m. (Central) on RFD-TV. For more details on how to bid online or by telephone, visit superiorlivestock.com.

Tickets for The American Semi-Finals are available for $40 per single day or a three-performance package of $100, not including taxes. They can be purchased at the Cowtown Coliseum box office, at stockyardsrodeo.com, or americanrodeo.com.

Tickets for RFD-TV's The American, presented by Polaris Ranger, and the PBR's Iron Cowboy VI are on sale at the AT&T Stadium Box Office, all Ticketmaster locations and at americanrodeo.com. Prices for each event range from $20 to $150, not including taxes.

New WPRR Tour Program

How and Where Are the 2015 WPRR Tour Standings Used: The WPRR Tour Standings are used at many approved limited entry rodeos. As a matter of policy, the WPRR strongly encourages all limited entry rodeos to include the WPRR Tour Standings as one of their qualifiers. By including the WPRR Tour, it provides an opportunity for a wider range of our member to participate and possibly gain entry to a limited entry rodeo.

Eligibility: To receive points in the WPRR Tour Standings, you must be a current WPRR card member before the competition begins.

Timing: The 2015 WPRR Tour includes selected rodeos between October 1, 2014 and September 30, 2015 of the 2015 competition year.

Number of Rodeos/Events: The 2015 WPRR Tour is made up of a total of 65 rodeos/events. There are 65 rodeos across the US (5 from each circuit and Canada).

Type of Rodeos/Events: Rodeos selected to be part of the 2015 WPRR Tour are: 1 round or multiple rounds. Limited entry rodeos are not part of the 65 identified in the program. In the case of a rodeo with multiple rounds, points will be allocated based on the average only.

2015 WPRR Tour Standings: The 2015 WPRR Tour standings will be point based and will count from your best 7 results (out of the 65 possible qualifying rodeos) where one competed and won money up to and including the 15th position. There is no minimum or maximum number of rodeos/events required.

Points: There is a 15- point scale, with points allocations from 15 points (for 1st place money) to 1 point (for 15th place money). No more than 15 positions will be awarded points. At a multiple rodeo/event, points are allocated to the average only. Points are awarded to money winners only, i.e. if a rodeo only pays 12 places, than first gets 15 points and 12th gets 4 points.

Note: Points in the 2015 WPRR Qualifying Tour standings will count from your best 7 rodeos/events where you have competed and won money.

Tie-Breaking Method: Ties in the 2015 WPRR Qualifying Tour Standings will be broken by looking at total money won at your best 7 point rodeos/events.

won third in the futurity 1D average by placing in both go rounds and the average. In addition, Smooth N Famous also claimed the Double Crown, which was the combined average from both the Classic Equine Futurity and Greg Olson Futurity.

Lastly, Guys Amberetto aka Amber was named for Semas' horse for the slot race during the Greg Olson and ended up winning 4th in the slot race as well as placed in the first round of the futurity. She and Semas ended the weekend winning 4th in the futurity 1D average, totaling just under $11,000 for her weekend earnings. After two stellar weekends, Semas was confident going into the PacWest futurity, the last leg of the Triple Crown.

"I felt great going into the PacWest. My horses were working great and I felt like my timing was on point with each of them. Talmadge (Green) had two slots for lease in the slot race, so I ended up running Guys Amberetto and Guys Best Bet in those two slots. Unlike the two previous futurities, PacWest allowed you to run as many horses as you wanted in the slot race, so I bought a final slot for Smooth N Famous to run in."

The slot race was based on the first go-round of the PacWest Futurity, which was on Saturday.

"The first round went amazing. Guys Best Bet ran a 17.2 and I was very happy with her. Then came Smooth N Famous. He tried his butt off and ran a 17.1. I was ecstatic. Last was Guys Amberetto and she was a 17.3. She had a nice run but hung in a spot down on the third which cost us a little time. Overall, I was completely tickled with how my horses worked in the first round."

Semas' times for the first go-round of the PacWest counted for the slot race as well, where Smooth N Famous won 1st, Guys Best Bet won 2nd, and Guys Amberetto won 4th, respectively. In addition, they won 1st, 2nd and 5th in the first round of the futurity.

"The second round of the PacWest futurity went just as great! Guys Amberetto was a 17.0, Smooth N Famous was a 17.2 and Guys Best Bet was a 17.4. Guys Best Bet had a bit of a baby moment during her second run when she spooked at the sun spot on the first barrel. I tried not to let it slow us down and kept telling myself to not panic and ride hard. She was still a 17.4 with that bobble," Semas said.

Smooth N Famous, owned by Tami Semas, won the PacWest Slot Race, the PacWest 1D Futurity Average and the Triple Crown, tallying up to $21,142.00.

Guys Amberetto, owned by Tami Semas, won 2nd in the PacWest 1D Futurity Average, and 4th in PacWest Slot Race, adding up to $8,451.

Guys Best Bet, owned by Harry LaToush, won 3rd in the PacWest 1D Futurity Average and 2nd in the PacWest Slot race, bumping her lifetime earnings up by $12,394.

Semas had what one would call a fairy tale trip while in Arizona. She will be leaving Arizona with over $70,000 just in three week-ends of futurities. That not only says something about the trainer and rider but also about the breeding program that these three horses came from.

"It's a huge credit to Bill and Deb's breeding program. They have worked hard to get to where they are, and have bred some phenomenal horses. I feel extremely blessed to be able to ride some of these fabulous horses. Every horse I own is from their breeding program and I wouldn't have it any other way. I have confidence when I buy a colt from Bill and Deb."

In addition, Semas would like to send out a big thanks out to Sue Smith who has been very instrumental in her success, which she credits for helping her out with her horsemanship along with many other great barrel racing tips.

Semas would like to thank the Myers, Harry LaToush, her family, and sponsors, Jeff Smith Saddlery and OxyGen, for their continued support.

Scott wins American qualifier in Buckeye

By Julie Mankin

The Phoenix suburb of Buckeye, Ariz., has become a mecca for the most talented barrel horses in the country each January, and now the incentive to make the trip includes a qualifier to RFD-TV's $2.5 million rodeo, The American presented by Polaris Ranger.

The BBR-sanctioned race on Jan. 24 in Buckeye was held in conjunction with the PacWest 3 Drum Classic. And as expected, it was extremely competitive, with the winner of out of 77 horses clocking a smoking 16.9-second run on the standard pattern in the covered arena.

It was the first American qualifier entered by Katelyn Scott, who was riding her sister Lorissa Jo Merritt's 7-year-old mare, A Kool Talent ("Tally").

"I somehow got blessed to run her," said Scott, 23, who lives with her husband in Odessa, Texas. "My sister bought her in April and just worked on getting her speeded up and then last fall she started letting me run her."

Scott ran Tally the first time at a barrel racing finals in west Texas and hit pay dirt both days. So the sisters decided to late-enter the mare in the derby at the BFA World Championships in Oklahoma City, where she made the short round (but didn't finish in the money).

"We did have to plan, with these qualifiers," said Scott. "We wanted to take her to a place where we could get her in the arena beforehand, and we thought the pen at Buckeye would suit her well."

Scott obviously had the goal of qualifying to the American Semi-Finals, but hadn't planned on winning the race, which paid her $1,925. Second place went to Lindsey Trammel on Stitch's Smoke N Fame with a 17.079. Her horse is a half-sister to Andrea Cline's good horse, Stitch's Streaknfame. Both are by Firewater Ta Fame ("Stitch").

A Kool Talent, meanwhile, is out of a Flaming Talent mare and by First N Kool – a First Down Dash stallion out of a Dash For Cash/Azure Te/Go Man Go mare.

"She's really smooth and level through her turns," said Scott. "I think it's important that a horse be somewhat fluid and smooth through the turn no matter what their style is."

She had run Tally in the Open on the previous weekend in Buckeye at the 16th Greg Olson Futurity/Derby and hit the second barrel leaving it to clock a 17.0. So she knew she had the horsepower to wind up in the top 10 of the American qualifier race. But then in the slot race, the mare had stumbled at the third barrel and posted a 17.3.

"All we could think was just to keep believing in our favor, and it worked," said Scott. "This was one of the last qualifiers and I was blessed to get qualified. I'm pretty excited."

A Kool Talent came from the Rankin family, who raised her in Abilene. The youngest Rankin daughter, Caitlin, started her and took her to some futurities in 2012, after which she was sold. Later, Merritt traded a horse to the owner in College Station, Texas, to buy Tally.

"I haven't quite decided which horse I will run in Fort Worth," Scott said. "I have a couple of options, because I don't think the tiny Fort Worth arena will suit this mare. I haven't been there for four or five years so I'm going [to the Stockyards Rodeo] this weekend to get in the arena. I don't know what to expect."

Also in Buckeye, Talmadge Green became the ninth male barrel racer to earn a berth in the American Semi-Finals with his 17.0-second run on DTF Way Ta Fire. Just one qualifier remains (in Glen Rose, Texas) for barrel racers looking to compete for that $35,000 first-place prizes at The American Semi-Finals in Fort Worth, Texas, Feb. 18-22. Several more will advance from there on to THE AMERICAN inside AT&T Stadium, where one could win up to $1 million.

"It's just amazing in this sport that we have the opportunity to run for that much money," said Scott. "It's just awesome. That's more money than even the girls at the NFR get to make."

Also, anyone who does well enough at the Semi-Finals to advance will be invited to take part in the sponsor auction held immediately after the Semi-Finals in the adjoining Billy Bob's Texas nightclub. Starting at about 6 p.m. on Feb. 22, a silent auction will be held so bidders can buy ad space on the backs of the contestants where a back number would traditionally go.

Bob Tallman will emcee, and Superior Livestock will conduct the sale. Those contestants commanding the highest bids will then be resold in a live auction televised at 8 p.m. (Central) on RFD-TV. Everyone is welcome.

Tickets for The American Semi-Finals are available for $40 per single day or a three-performance package of $100, not including taxes, and are available at the Cowntown Coliseum box office, at stockyardsrodeo.com, or americanrodeo.com. Tickets for RFD-TV's The American, presented by Polaris Ranger, and the PBR's Iron Cowboy VI are on sale at the AT&T Stadium Box Office, all Ticketmaster locations and at americanrodeo.com. Prices for each event range from $20 to $150, not including taxes. To reserve rooms during the Semi-Finals or AMERICAN at a Fort Worth-area hotel, call 888-878-6652.

Johnson & WW Nellie Laveaux Dominate National Western

By Tanya Randall

Meghan Johnson, Deming, N.M., and WW Nellie Laveaux led from start to finish at the National Western PRCA Rodeo in Denver. They were the first gunners through the gate in the opening performance and never relinquished their hold on the No. 1 position throughout the rodeo.

"Talk about a set of nerves!" said Johnson, 22. "It was nerve-racking. I was first out in the short go, too. I don't like being first out!"

Since it was her first time to run at Denver, Johnson took advantage of the 6 a.m. practice session before the first performance that Friday afternoon.

"Everyone told me about the offset pattern," she said. "I was kind of worried about that, but that first run just seemed like a simple run. She actually checked herself pretty good on the first barrel. I thought it was a slip because I flew forward—thank God I had rubber bands on! I looked back at the video and she was just shutting down and I wasn't ready for it. The second and third were good turns."

They had stopped the clock in 15.25.

"I had a friend from college rodeo tell me that was a really good time. She said Christy Loflin won the (Cinch) Shootout with a 15.2, so I thought this might be pretty good, but I still had to wait for all those girls to run and you never know if the ground is going to change."

Friday night they were even quicker with a 15.14 for their second round run.

"My time was a little bit faster even though I was on the bottom of the ground. Whenever I'm not first out, I seem to be a little calmer because I have a little better idea when I'm going to be out. When you're first out, you have wait for the sponsor girls with the flags and the truck going in with the barrels. You're just sitting there waiting for them to tell you to go now. At least when you have a couple of girls ahead of you, you know when to start getting ready."

Following her first two runs, Johnson returned to New Mexico State University in Las Cruces, where she's majoring in agriculture business, for classes. She even made a detour to Buckeye, Ariz., for the American qualifier.

"I ran my backup horse at the American qualifier," Johnson explained. "She's a Frenchmans Fabulous. We just missed it by 2/10ths of second. It got really tough over there, but I didn't want to draw out of it. My dad took another rig with Nellie to Denver and I caught a plane in Phoenix Saturday evening and flew into Denver for the short round Sunday. It was a crazy setup. I wasn't too sure about doing all of that. I thought we'd officially hit the 'crazy people' mark, but it all paid off."

Johnson had a 4/10th lead going into Sunday's short go and all she wanted to do was have a smooth clean run. She ended up fourth in the short with a 15.56.

"I thought I hit the first barrel coming out of it," she said. "I did the No. 1 thing that you shouldn't do—I looked back. When I looked back, I set myself up to not turn the second barrel so good. So, we kind of took second a little wide going in. I was just happy I made three clean runs at one of the largest rodeos of the season."

The daughter of Bill and Jody Johnson started running barrels at the local gymkhanas on her mother's ranch horse when she was 6. She spent a few years riding hunter-jumpers, which she credits with teaching her balance and horsemanship.

After she got tired of winning ribbons, Johnson returned to barrel racing when she was 8 or 9.

Johnson partnered with Nellie when she was a 16-year-old sophomore in high school. Her mother—who actually started barrel racing when she did—purchased Nellie as a 5-year-old. Bred by Darrel

Williams, Houston, Texas, Nellie is a 2001 daughter of First Down Laveaux out of the stakes placed mare Darlin Dannell, by Dashing Encounter. She raced in Louisiana under three different owners until she was 4, amassing earnings of $11,362 and a high speed index of 87. Nellie was on her way to a horse sale when she was unloaded for a rest in Deming.

"A friend of my mom's called her and said there was a really nice horse over here, that she needed to come take a look," recalled Johnson. "My mom went and rode her. They guy (hauling her) wasn't coming back for another week or so, so my mom asked if we could take her and ride her for a week. She didn't know how to stop or turn or anything. All she knew how to do was run forward, but Mom took a liking to her."

When Johnson's horse got hurt half-way through her high school rodeo season, she jumped on Nellie and her mother never got her back. That same year, Johnson and Nellie qualified for the National High School Finals Rodeo. Nellie filled Johnson's WPRM permit the first weekend she bought it when she turned 18 in November 2010 and later carried her to two College National Finals and two Turquoise Circuit Finals.

"My parents told me when I first started college—because I wanted to pro rodeo hard—that the deal was I had to get a degree, before I devoted my time to hitting the road rodeoing," explained Johnson, who will graduate in May. "It's fixing to come that time. I'm getting my degree, so now I'm like 'Hey Dad, remember that deal we talked about four years ago!'"

At the start of her senior year, Johnson told her rodeo coach that she was going to focus on pro rodeos for 2015. Next up for her is Fort Worth, followed by San Angelo, Texas. Then her circuit rodeos start up in Arizona with Yuma, Buckeye, Tucson and Scottsdale.

"The goal this year is to be in the Top 30," said Johnson, who wanted to thank her family, friends and sponsors for their support. "2015 is looking like it's going to be a pretty good year!"

Headin' For Home

by Sherry Morrison
Triple M (Mike Morrison Ministries)

My two great-nieces recently came to see us from Denver. We have horses, cats, dogs, chickens and anything else Mike will let me drag home, so of course it's fun for city kids to come here. Stop number one is ALWAYS the barn and what goes on there. My grandkids are familiar with most things country and all about the same age so it was fun to hear some of the explanations to questions asked.....such as.....

Simone, age 6. "Where do these eggs come from?" as she is gazing down at the nest and gently picking them up.

Darcy, age 6. "A chicken poops eggs out their butt" as she rolls her eyes like EVERYONES Papa Mike has already explained this to them.

Just a side note here that if you want your grandchildren to know the factual accounts of stuff, please don't call Mike. He tends to exaggerate and dress things up a bit!

I am a firm believer that you tell the truth in love. It's better than lying and then trying to re-explain things later. I have found over the years, that mostly we adults don't want to hear the truth. We want to hear what we want to hear. "That is a really nice horse". "Your grandkids are truly beautiful". And, "No those pants don't make your butt look big." Now I know that we should be nice. But seriously, if those pants make my rear twice as wide, please love me enough to tell me so! And don't say, "Good run" when I've creamed three barrels on my teachers pet horse! I have obviously done something wrong here and would appreciate a look at it from a different point of view!

The Word of God tells us that the TRUTH will make us FREE. Read it yourself. It's John 8:32. Just keep reading. It's really good stuff.

Let's don't be afraid of the truth. It's like the sun. Sometimes it's hard to look at but you can't live without it! Bless you!

Mike and Sherry Morrison pastor "Church at the Barn" in Gillette, WY. They also travel to other areas ministering at barrel races, ranches, rodeos, churches and home Bible studies. Check out our schedule online. You can also download all Bible studies by visiting our website: m-m-m.org or contact us at: PO Box 2439, Gillette, WY. 82717, 307/685-2272.
