Carly Taylor & Diva Deniro Take The Dinero At National Western in Denver

By Tanya Randall

Carly Taylor of Clinton, Tennessee, and her 9-year-old mare Diva Deniro blistered the course in 14.99 to win the National Western Barrel Racing Championship.

"It was super unexpected," exclaimed Taylor, who wanted to thank her parents Ben and Suzanne for their support. "It's been really cool!"

The National Western, held January 16-26 in Denver, debuted a new format in 2020. The $52,875-added rodeo was limited to 80 contestants. The top 24 on two runs advanced to one of three one-run, clean slate Semifinals. The top four contestants in each of the semifinals advanced to Sunday's clean slate short round.

Taylor and Diva made their first two runs on Saturday, the opening weekend of the National Western.

"My runs in the go's weren't that fast," said Taylor of her 15.65 and 15.40, "but they were good enough to get us into the semifinals."

Rather than trying to pick up a few rodeos in her Southeastern circuit, Taylor and her hauling partner Abby Phillips spent the week hanging out around Denver until the Semifinals.

For the Semifinals, Taylor focused on finding the correct approach to the first barrel. The setup in Denver is—as Taylor put it, "challenging"—because the alleyway is out of the corner of the arena, making for pattern that sits cockeyed in the arena.

"It took me the first three runs to figure that out," she said. "Before I made my Semifinals run, I sat there a little bit and just tried to look at it and see what would be the best approach for my horse."

She and Diva turned in a 15.49 to finish second in their performance and advance to the short round.

"I just came from the left side of the alley way and tried to keep her straighter (up the middle) through there," she explained. "I felt like I got too straight (to the first barrel on her other runs). In the Semifinals, I felt like I had the right line but she was a little more setty going into the first barrel and that took some time from us. In the Finals, she took the right line and ran up in there."

In the Finals, they turned in one of the fastest times of the rodeo, 14.99, to win the rodeo. They had their first barrel down perfectly, almost too perfect as they rocked it finishing the turn.

"I didn't realize I hadn't hit until I turned the second barrel!" she said.

Taylor and Diva are going into their fifth year together. She says Diva's personality fits her perfectly.

"She can be a bit stubborn," she said. "She's not the sweetest. We get along really well. I let her be herself. I think that's a lot of it, not taking her confidence out of her."

Bred by fellow barrel racer Lauren Magdeburg, Diva is by four-time WPRA World Champion Sire and NFR qualifier PC Frenchmans Hayday ("Dinero") out of the graded stakes-placed mare KC Bully, by Bully Bullion.

Magdeburg purchased KC Bully, who is out of the stakes winning R Smith mare, Smith Girl, after having her first futurity success with a gelding out of her. Magdeburg raised a couple of nice barrel horses out of KC Bully, but unfortunately, she and the mare's little Dinero filly didn't get off to a good start.

Diva was a handful to handle in general, so when Liz Michael

National Finals Rodeo Qualifier & Producer Go Royal Scarlett Passes

By Tanya Randall

Go Royal Scarlett, who carried her owner and breeder, the late Ruth Haislip, DVM, to three National Finals Rodeo appearances and produced NFR qualifier Royal Star Commander passed away on January 26. She was 28.

By noted West Coast barrel horse sire Royal Go Go, owned by fellow NFR qualifier Gail Tyson, Scarlett was out of Wild N Groovy, by Three Ohs Wild out of Groovy, a daughter of Billy Greenhaw, like Haislip's good college rodeo horse.

Scarlett was started under saddle by Haislip's husband Jim and then went to her good friend Marilyn Camarillo, a multiple NFR qualifier and clinician, for barrel training. When Scarlett was ready to exhibition, Camarillo sent her home.

With two small boys and a busy small animal practice to keep her busy, Haislip only had one exhibition run on Scarlett before she won her first futurity in 1997. The following year, Haislip had planned on seasoning Scarlett to rodeos and surprisingly made the NFR out of the last half of the 1998 season.

In spite of their inexperience, Haislip and Scarlett won the first round of the 1998 NFR and placed in nine rounds to finish second in the average to World Champions Kristie Peterson and French Flash Hawk.

Using a successful winter run as a cushion, Haislip was able to pick and chose the rest of the 1999 season to qualify for a second NFR. They went again in 2000.

Impressively, Haislip and Scarlett made all three of the NFR appearances without having gone to more than 45 in a single year. They also won at round during each trip to Las Vegas.

"I was just a placer," Haislip told Barrel Horse News in a 2014 interview. "She was just so consistent."

Road weary and missing time with her growing boys, Haislip opted to focus on her circuit starting in 2001. They made nine trips total to the California Circuit Finals Rodeo and were the yearend champions from 1998 to 2001.

In 2008, Haislip retired Scarlett to fulltime broodmare duty following a 1D win at a Santa Rosa jackpot. She retired with more than $400,000 in career earnings.

Her first foal, born via embryo transfer, had already arrived in 2006, a gelding by AR Star, a son of Shawne Bug that Haislip co-owned with Camarillo.

Commander set an arena record en route to a BFA Derby Championship in 2013 and won the inaugural American Semifinals Rodeo in 2014 with Erin Ricotti. He carried Deb Guelly to a 2015 NFR qualification and qualified his new owner Tillar Murray in 2017. Murray and Commander won the seventh round at the 2017 NFR. They have their sights on return trip in 2020, having recently placed third at the National Western in Denver.

Scarlett's second foal was Famous Scarlett, who carried Haislip to her last circuit finals appearance in 2015. In fact, shortly before her passing, Haislip turned down a trip to compete at the RAM National Circuit Finals Rodeo in Kissimmee, Fla.

Other top offspring out of the great mare include multiple aged event finalist Royal And Famous, pro rodeo money earner Royal Three Ohs, 1D winner Frenchmans Royal Guy, and barrel racing money earners Ima Famous Scarlett and A Streak Of Scarlett, to name a few.

Scarlett ranks amongst Equi-Stat's Top 20 All-Time Leading Broodmares with 12 money earners of more than $550,000.

to running barrels.

After Diva did well at the West Virginia Quarter Horse Association Futurity in June 2015, she decided to price her as she was the more marketable of her two futurity colts at the time. In July, Diva became Taylor's first futurity horse even though she wasn't looking buy another horse at the time.

"Time has flown since I've gotten her," said Taylor. "I bought her in July and by November we were going pretty good. In 2016, I won the NBHA (Teen) Youth World. I was reserve at the Mega, reserve at the BFA Derby. She was also the Derby Horse of the Year for the BFA."

They started out with a few of the PCA rodeos in 2017, working her way to filling her WPRM permit for her rookie run in 2019. Not only did she win the Rookie title, but she won a hotly contested Southeastern Circuit Championship race that went down to the last run of the Circuit Finals Rodeo.

She's looking forward to putting the knowledge she gained in 2019 to use in 2020.

"I think last year thought me to handle my nerves a little bit better," she said. "I think that's going to be an advantage, plus having her seasoned and knowing how to take care of her on the road, all the different arenas and what fits her."

Although Taylor got off to a slow start, having no luck at the rodeos in Odessa and San Angelo, Texas, or her circuit rodeo in Lafayette, Louisiana, Denver bumped her into the Top 15 in the WPRM World Standings. She has a busy February ahead of her, but says she's looking forward to it. She's out at Fort Worth, Texas, on Wednesday and Thursday. Lake Charles, Jackson and San Antonio and hopefully Tucson. After that maybe a couple of circuit rodeos before Houston.

***Payout for the National Western is pending as of press time.

Racing. There are all kinds! Barrel racing, car racing, people racing. In each one, there will be a winner. Generally, there is a lot of training involved. And a learning curve. I hate the learning curve. I wish I had known years ago what I know now. Little as that may be.

And our races will not be the same. God didn't call me to be a brain surgeon... thank you Jesus! LOL! But what if one day, I decided it looked exciting! So, I went to the store and bought surgical instruments that I thought would work...scary thought. And the brain surgeon decided he'd go put the first ride on my filly. That's scary, too! Someone might get killed here! We are out of our calling.

We need to stay in our own lane. No merging into someone else's. Hebrews 12:1 tells us to run with endurance the race that is set before US. Even when we get tired. Even when we don't feel like it. We'll just stay in our lane, doing what God has gifted us to do! That's where the blessing is.

Don't be discouraged this week. Do what you do. Do it happily! Someone out there is thankful you did it!
