Hailey Kinsel and DM Sissy Hayday Champion Final Ft. Worth Rodeo at Will Rogers Coliseum

By Amy Wilson

The 2019 Southwestern Exposition and Livestock Show marked the end to the historic Fort Worth ProRodeo being held in the Will Rogers Coliseum. There were 280 barrel racers who entered, but Fort Worth was limited to 210 which left 70 on the alternate list. There were 28 performances January 25th – February 8th with 210 barrel racers running in the first round and the top 70 advancing to the progressive round. The top 12 on a two run average made the short round on February 9th.

Sydni Blanchard won the first round with the fastest run of the rodeo, 16.22 seconds, which was worth $5,160. Current World Champ, Hailey Kinsel didn't place in the first round, but she came back and won the second round with a time of 16.33, the short round with 16.36, and the average with 49.37 on three runs.

"It was super cool to do well there for the last year [at Will Rogers Coliseum]," Kinsel said following her win which was worth $16,722. "I was glad we got to cash in especially with all the history there and a lot of great barrel racers have ran down that alley so it's neat to add my name to that list of those who have had success there."

Kinsel also won the $5,000 bonus Fort Worth gives to each event champion, and the buckle which is on a plaque and represents "old-school cool". "I believe it's the same model buckle that they've always given," Kinsel explained. "It's very old school looking – really cool."

She knew her mare, DM Sissy Hayday "Sister", liked Fort Worth because she's done well there in the past. "Last year I won second in the average by one hundredth of a second to Amber [Moore] and Paige so I knew we could be in there. In 2017, which was the first year I started taking her to rodeos, first round was a little long but I made it back to the progressive round and placed in the second round," Kinsel recalled.

To allow herself and Sister the best possible chance at success, Kinsel took advantage of the arena being open after perfs. "I went the night before my first round and then a couple days before my second round because we didn't know how we would draw up. I went in Tuesday night incase I drew up Wednesday. I was hoping to get Friday and I did," she said. When it comes to what Kinsel does during that opportunity, she keeps it simple, "I just ride around in the arena more than anything. I may walk or trot through the pattern a couple times, just to hit my points correctly around each barrel so that she goes as far up into them or gives me as much room

Hillman Wins $5,000 Jerry Ann Taylor Award at World's Original Indoor Rodeo®

by Johna Cravens

for the Fort Worth Stock Show & Rodeo

The judges for the annual Jerry Ann Taylor Best-Dressed Cowgirl Award at the Fort Worth Stock Show & Rodeo had a tough decision to make as several of the top 12 barrel racers expended extra effort in their arena presentation.

The award includes a $5,000 cash prize along with permanent recognition on a plaque at the National Cowgirl Hall of Fame which co-sponsors the award with the Women's Professional Rodeo Association.

Stevi Hillman from Weatherford, Texas, a three-time National Finals Rodeo (NFR) qualifier, was named the winner. Hillman, who earned a degree in radiology from Weatherford College and has worked as an x-ray technician, came into the finals in fifth place. She was riding Guys R A Mystery, a palomino that she calls Sherlock.

Kendra Dickson, a two-time winner of the award from Aubrey, Texas, who has helped four other winners with their finals' outfits reached out to Hillman early last week about helping her. Dickson and her TruColors custom clothing line offered to provide an outfit for Simpson.

"I'm glad Kendra called me," Hillman said. "I'm normally kind of low-key," she said, "but it was for a good cause, so I decided why not. But I didn't want an outfit that was crazy, over-the-top."

Hillman said, "I knew they gave the award at Fort Worth every year, but I didn't know a lot about it. Kendra filled me in on the background. That's a really cool award."

Hillman and Dickson got together on Friday to plan her outfit.

"We both were up in the slack at Belton on Friday morning, so I parked about three trailers from her," Dickson said. I had several outfits for her to look at, but we both decided the red would really pop on her palomino horse."

"She handed me her jeans and shirt and I went to work," Dickson said. She had taken her sewing machine with her and spent much of the day at Belton in her trailer working on the outfit.

"It was snowing and sleeting, and I spent some of the time in the back of the trailer with a manger door that would not close, using butcher paper and spray adhesive," Dickson said. "If people only knew what goes on behind the scenes," she added with a laugh.

The two cowgirls agreed to share the prize money if Hillman won the award, with Dickson's share going to her Rodeo For A Reason charity that raises money for childhood cancer. Hillman will donate to Rockin' W Rodeo Ministry, whose founders Ted and Linda Weise provide food and fellowship at rodeos across the country through their Cowboy Bistro.

Hillman said she had fun and while she'll likely donate the breast collar and horse boots to a good cause, she plans to keep the outfit.

"When I make the NFR again, I'll wear the red on Canada night," she said, a nod to her friend from Canada who owns Sherlock.

Dickson also helped two other finalists – Dona Kay Rule of Minco, Oklahoma, and Tiany Schuster of Krum, Texas – with their outfits.

"I was very happy that more women participated this year," Dickson said. "I strongly believe this is not only an opportunity to pay tribute to Jerry Ann Taylor who did so much for all of us, but a chance to add to the audience's enjoyment."

The Jerry Ann Taylor Award is only given at the National Finals Rodeo and at the finals of the World's Original Indoor Rodeo in Fort Worth. Taylor, a 1986 National Cowgirl Hall of Fame honoree, was a flamboyant trick rider and roper who was known for her sense of style.

Pam Minick of Fort Worth, a National Cowgirl Museum and Hall of Fame board member and honoree and former WPRA vice president, said the award is to encourage women in professional rodeo to carry on the tradition of wearing colorful western attire in the rodeo arena.

Barrel racing has a long history with the World's Original Indoor Rodeo®. The Fort Worth rodeo began holding an invitational ranch girls barrel race in 1955, not long after barrel racing competition started.

as I ask for. I don't really school a lot, for her it's seeing the arena that matters most."

Fort Worth can be a challenging experience, so Kinsel described what it's like: "It's concrete everywhere so getting through crowds is a task and that's to get to the warm up arena. The warm up arena is a nice little area. You can hear what's going on and watch the screens. Then they'll call you into the holding pen. You can't see down the alley from there. It's a long alley. Everyone has to stay in the holding pen, even after you run. It's a tight fit, but you just try to stay out of everyone's way." She continued, "Fort Worth is not as difficult as the NFR getting down the alley but it's kind of in a similar category. If your horse can relax back there and handle that tense environment pretty well, it tends to help you be more calm and confident for your run." Thankfully the 2018 AQHA/WPRA Horse of the Year handles all of that well. "She's really good. I appreciate that about her," Kinsel said about Sister.

So what made the difference from her first round run compared to the other two? "I got my first barrel much better in my second round and the short round. I rode better," Kinsel admitted. "I know how to ride that, it's just one of those things when there's no wall there, I kind of tense up and tend to hold her a little bit. She likes to be free-headed and likes me to run in there 9-0 and melt. It kind of takes some guts on my part." Kinsel had to tell herself, "You're gutsy now and go for it." Then she added with a laugh, "And if you go past first, at least we'll be going fast."

Kinsel is currently third in the WPRA Barrel Racing World Standings with $21,073 after competing at five rodeos. But until her win at Fort Worth, the winter run hadn't been what she expected. "I've had a hard winter, but I've given up some good chances to win - I hit a barrel to be winning San Angelo by a lot and I hit a barrel to win a lot in Denver. I was trying not to beat myself up and understand that there's a reason stuff like that happens." She continued, "I had a great winter last year, so I was expecting to capitalize on this time of year. So when I was struggling a little bit, I just had to tell myself, 'there's a lot of year left and there's more rodeos left.' It's been a good learning experience for me to take it in stride." Does Kinsel feel any added pressure to win since she's a world champ now? "Not really from being a world champion, but from knowing I have a good horse," she said about her 8 year old mare who already has LTE of $1.2 million. Kinsel elaborated, "I don't like to waste runs. I know what she's capable of and I also know that people expect her to win. I try to keep people's thoughts out of my head because she's not easy and this isn't easy. Just focus on my job - makes it a lot more realistic for me."

Right now they get to celebrate their Fort Worth win, and like they always do, continue to take it one run at a time.

Bayleigh Choate & Miss JB 1214 Earn Surprise World Barrel Racing League Championship

By Tanya Randall

A fall, a broken curb chain on a hackamore and a horse loose in the warmup pen made for a wild weekend for Bayleigh Choate of Cohutta, Georgia. Not surprisingly, the high school freshman didn't have high expectations when she pointed Miss JB 1214 ("Side Chick") down the alley in the Shootout Round of the World Barrel Racing League Finals.

"I had no expectations for her," the 15-year-old said of her newly acquired mare. "She hadn't felt that great and hadn't run great all week. I was just going to go make a run. My friend Ava Grayce (Sanders) took the lead right before me and I was so happy for her. "I went in and (Side Chick) really just laid down a run. She got by her first barrel, but I thought, 'It's okay. I'm just going to ride it out.' She smoked her second barrel. Going to the third, I about fell off, cause I was like, 'I'm either going to get past this or fall off!' She made me work for it. I had to kick her every step, but we got passed it. It was so cool."

The victory was worth $14,384. The Shootout Championship paid $5,000 plus a $5,000 winner's bonus. The duo also won $3,000 for having the fastest average on two runs (dropping their slowest time) and additional $1,384 in the rounds.

Choate got Side Chick in late December 2018 after her good horse Mr JB 092 (Dallas Fuel x Si Fame In Motion x Dash Ta Fame) suffered a career-ending injury while competing in Perry, Georgia.

"I was setting arena records and winning everywhere I went on him," she said. "Back in November in Perry during the Southeastern Showdown (junior high rodeo), he fractured his hock and we were told he would never run again."

Choate went back to Tricia Aldridge, who had made and sold them Mr JB 092 ("Jay"), and purchased Side Chick. Bred by Joe and Dee Lynn's Braman's JB Quarter Horses, Side Chick, previously known as "Minnie," is by the late Chasin Firewater out of the Dash Ta Fame mare Ta Tornado. She was broke, trained and futurityed by Kelly Allen and then turned out until purchased by Aldridge at the JB Dispersal during the Triangle Sale last October.

Choate immediately went to winning on the mare.

"I took her to my first barrel race and she won it by 3/10ths," said Choate. "I took her to Tunica (for the Battle in the Saddle) and we would have won all three rounds, but we tipped Friday night to win it. She won Saturday and Sunday, so we did win the average. I took her to Glen Rose, Texas, and would have qualified for The American, but we drug the third barrel down."

At the WBRL Finals, Choate and Side Chick had a rough start, falling at the second in the Sutherland Arena.

"The first round, she smoked her first barrel and went across to her second barrel and fell down. It really scared her. She jumped up and I said, 'It's okay,' to settle her down. We finished the pattern and (the time) was in the 3D.

Since she hadn't qualified for the Shootout, Choate ran Side Chick in the second round in Reeves Arena.

"She ran a 14.4, but she ran a little scared. She'd never been in the pen before. She went to turn the first barrel and got a little hung up. 'She was like 'What's this?' and I was like, 'You're okay. Go on.'"

Choate also qualified for the Shootout aboard French Triggerman (NF French Disco Bug x Alive N Firen Junbug x Alive N Firen), and she was out on him first with Side Chick just a few runs later.

"My curb chain broke going in (for the Finals) on him," she explained, "and a hackamore without a curb chain isn't very good. He still placed seventh. He was a little wide on his barrels, but he's as honest as the day is long and he really took care of me."

Meanwhile, Side Chick was causing a ruckus in the warmup pen after she got loose.

"She's so buddy sour," she said. "I came out after running Trigger and everyone is chasing her in the back."

That's just one of Side Chick's quirks. She's also cold-backed.

“She’s so cold backed when you get on her, but she’s so fun!” said Choate. “We just get along. When I lost Jay (for competition), I took her over and just decided I was going to make the best of it. She’s a super cool little mare, but she’ll sure give you a ride in the holding pen. People are like, ‘Is that thing going to run? She looks like a bronc right now!’”

Choate, who was riding as soon as she could sit a horse and competing alone by age 3, followed her mother’s footsteps into the arena. She also competes in breakaway roping, but has more recently focused on her barrel racing, and will likely do so even more in the near future.

“I high school rodeo, but it’s not really my favorite thing,” she said. “It doesn’t pay a lot and it’s not worth wasting a good horse at. We’re probably not going to do it next year. I like to do some of the IPRA’s, PCAs, ACAs, and then we go to a lot of the super shows and stuff. We’re going to the American this year. We went to the Jr NFR last year.”

Choate said she’ll likely be running Trigger at the American Semifinals since she’s still not very consistent with Side chick.

“I’ve only had her for a month and sometimes our first runs can be a little upside down,” she said. “She’s been super fun. I love a push-style horse and that’s what she is. She’s really fun to run. We still have a little figuring out to do with different setups and stuff. I think in a couple of months, I’ll have it consistent and hopefully go on to win a little more.”

Choate wanted to give a special thanks to her parents, Mandy Choate and Mike Ralston, Nicole Monroe, with whom she spent the week, getting Side Chick ready for the WBRL Finals, and her sponsors.

Headin' For Home

by Sherry Morrison
Triple M (Mike Morrison Ministries)

If you've watched any sports at all, you are familiar with the term "bringing your A game." And we know it's important to bring your best effort if you plan on winning.

A lot of your competition will be. They'll stay up late, get up early and practice hard! They'll study their opponent and learn their weakness. Because on game/race day, they want to win!

Our opponent, the devil, is watching us. 1 Pet. 5:8-9. He is old and experienced, wily and relentless in trying to bring about our defeat. To kill, steal and destroy our lives.

John 10:10. But we certainly don't have to let him! We can get up early and stay up late reading the Word of God. We can study all the ways Jesus defeats him and use the name of Jesus and bring about the devil's defeat in every single battle! Sadly, a lot of Christians bring their "Z game."

They can't get to church, won't read their Bible and spend their time blaming everyone and everything but themselves for failures in their life.

Friends, we are well able to win every time, but we need to take responsibility for ourselves and our actions. No one else can do it for us! That in itself is freeing to me. I do not have to count on anyone else for my life to change. I just need to get into agreement with God and win every time!!!

Mike and Sherry Morrison pastor "Church at the Barn" in Gillette, WY. They also travel to other areas ministering at barrel races, ranches, rodeos, churches and home Bible studies.
