Jordon Briggs Grabs $100,000 with Cinnamon On Top at LG Pro Classic Invitational

By Tanya Randall

Multiple aged event champion and former National Finals Rodeo qualifier Jordon Briggs of Lott, Texas, claimed her first $100,000 slot race championship at the Lance Graves Pro Classic Invitational in Kinder, La., aboard Cinnamon On Top. The 4-year-old mare, owned by Briggs and her husband Justin, is by their stallion Mr Cinnamon Roll.

Surprisingly, Briggs wasn't even entered in the Invitational until the prior Sunday. "I didn't want to do that to my horse because I didn't think she was quite ready," she noted. That evening, event secretary Andre' Dohrn had contacted her on behalf of slot holder Christy McElroy of Mount Orab, Ohio.

"Her horse had gotten hurt a few days before and she couldn't find anyone to buy her slot," Briggs explained. "Andre' gave her my phone number. She called me and asked if I would be in her slot, and I said, 'Well I'd love to, but you're going to have to gamble on me because I don't have the money to spend. She says, 'Well, I'll do it 50/50 with you.'"

Then tragedy struck Briggs Performance Horses Monday night when Briggs' 2015 futurity standout Frenchmans Future ("Stoli") fractured her hock while in the pasture. Between emergency vet trips and a tenuous prognosis, Briggs felt she was far from in the right frame of mind for a $100,000 race.

"I wanted to call (Christy) every chance I had and tell her I don't think I can do it," she said. "I'm not the person I need to be right now for your $5000 entry fee, but I kept thinking it would be kinda crappy just to leave her with nothing at all the end of the week." After all, slot races weren't really Briggs forte.

"I haven't gotten involved in the slot races very much at all," she said. In fact, her first slot race was last year's Pro Classic. "There's enough pressure involved with futurities as it is with your $500 fees most of the time. I'm just not that much of a gambler."

So with heavy heart, Briggs went about her business in Kinder. She got a huge boost of confidence when Topper was one out of the money in the Long Go with a 14.508. In the Championship, with just two runners to follow, Briggs and Topper took the lead with a 14.253.

"It was just funny how things work out," Briggs said. "(McElroy) ended up reading my Facebook post that I made after the slot race and she text me that she had no idea that my horse had gotten hurt too. It was a very bittersweet win for the both of us."

Jimmy Hood, who owned Mr Cinnamon Roll, gave Topper to Briggs as a yearling.

Lewis Feild: Oct. 28, 1956 - Feb. 15, 2016

Lewis Feild, a five-time world champion and ProRodeo Hall of Famer, died Feb. 15 after battling stage 4 pancreatic cancer. He was 59.

Feild, who was born in Salt Lake City, Utah, and lived in Elk Ridge near Payson, Utah, won his first all-around world title in 1985, becoming the first roughstock cowboy to do so since Larry Mahan in 1973.

A PRCA member since 1980, Feild won three straight world all-around titles (1985-87), as well as two world bareback riding crowns (1985-86). In 1990, he became the first roughstock contestant to surpass $1 million in career earnings and the third cowboy overall, following Tom Ferguson and Roy Cooper.

Because of his prowess in both the roughstock and timed events, Feild won the distinguished Linderman Award three times (1981, 1988 and 1991). He also was the PRCA Bareback Riding Rookie of the Year in 1980.

Born Oct. 28, 1956, the son of Keith and True Feild, the Utah cowboy started his rodeo career at a young age. He competed in the National High School Rodeo Association, qualifying for the Finals three times.

Feild attended Utah Valley State College in Orem, Utah, on a full rodeo scholarship and qualified for the National Intercollegiate Rodeo Association Finals three years in saddle bronc riding, bareback riding and team roping.

Bareback rider Danny Brady, a six-time qualifier for the National Finals Rodeo (1982-84, 1986-87 and 1989), traveled with Feild for eight years, and had high praise for his dear friend.

"He was just one hell of a man," said Brady, 57. "I hold him up there with my own dad, with the respect that I have for him. I was very fortunate to get to travel with him because he was such a positive influence on me in everything from riding bucking horses to being an example to me in just about everything we came in contact with.

"He was a man full of life and he was a cowboy through and through, not just a rodeo cowboy. The kind of man he was, everybody I talked to thought they were his best friend. He made everybody feel like he was their best friend and he cared about everybody he came in contact with. He was just a man's man, and a cowboy's cowboy in my book."

Since retiring from competitive rodeo in 1991, Feild worked as a pickup man - working the 2004 WNFR - and also coached the rodeo team for his alma mater, Utah Valley State. He was inducted into the ProRodeo Hall of Fame in 1992.

The younger of his two sons, Kaycee Feild, is a four-time world champion bareback rider (2011-14).

Lewis Feild is survived by his wife, Veronica; three children, sons, Shad and Kaycee, and daughter, Maclee, and seven grandchildren. The family has set up a foundation, Buck Cancer, to aid ailing cowboys and other victims of pancreatic cancer.

Study Shows Economic Impact of San Antonio Rodeo

A four-year study by Trinity University in San Antonio, Texas, has shown the economic impact the San Antonio Stock Show & Rodeo has on the city. In 2015, the 18-day event had an estimated cumulative impact on the city of San Antonio of $252,816,879. The study includes the impact of patrons, exhibitors and volunteers for the rodeo, and also takes into account the number of visitors who travel from outside the city to attend the rodeo and all the activities associated with it. --Courtesy of www.ProRodeo.com

Ease, Briggs ended up buying the son of noted barrel horse sire Roll The Cash out of Huggys Spitfire, by With Great Ease.

"When we got her as a baby, especially being by Mr Cinnamon Roll, one of my favorite things about her was her kind, soft eye. She has one of the kindest, softest eyes. When I looked at my pictures from Springer yesterday morning, even in the heat of battle she still had a really kind eye while we were running. I knew I wasn't pressing her to her limits and scaring her."

Topper is out of the With Great Ease daughter Sparkle With Ease, out of Sparkling Sissy, a granddaughter of the Thoroughbred Sparkling Native.

"She was super easy last year to train and exhibition," Briggs said. "She never laid down any big time clocks in the exhibitions, but she's always been really solid and easy to ride. I really liked her style. She placed in both rounds of the (BFA) Juvenile and ended up fifth in the average.

"She was really solid at the first futurity in Arizona, but at the second, her run kinda hit her in the butt in that big pen. So I decided to stay home and do slow work. Justin has been riding her and roping the hot heels on her. She just came right back to us and balanced out. I was really lucky that she came back to me that fast to where I was ready when they called me to be in it."

Briggs has the American Semifinals Rodeo this Thursday. She qualified aboard Stoli, but will be back aboard Roll With Ease, who now belongs to Jordi Edens.

Jud Little's My First Frosty & Ryan Reynolds Capture LG Pro Classic BFA Futurity

By Tanya Randall

Jud Little's storied breeding program was on fine display at the 10th Annual LG Pro Classic in Kinder, La. A quick glance of the results shows at least nine money-earners that were bred by the Ardmore, Okla., oilman or by one of his stallions.

His homebred My First Frosty ("Blondy"), ridden by Ryan Reynolds, topped the BFA Futurity and placed third in the LG Pro Classic Invitational. Combined with carryover earnings from the open, My First Frosty earned $33,273. Another homebred Brick House Dynasty also placed seventh in the Invitational for another $6,800.

"We're really excited about our program," said Little. "It's been put together on a really, really solid basis, and theories are all now coming true. It's just taken 15 years."

He was also happy to see many of his horses win for other owners.

"It lets people know that we don't just cull through and keep the best for ourselves," he noted.

My First Frosty is a 4-year-old daughter of Little's homebred stallion Bug In My Frosty out of My First Twist, a stakes producing daughter of First Down Dash.

"Several years ago I went out to Scoop Vessels' to buy mares private treaty," explained Little, who was classmates with Vessels at running really good.”

Reynolds started riding Blondy late last summer. “They brought her to me in late August, early September,” Reynolds said. “She was trotting and slow loping the barrels when I got her. She was behind, but she decided she was going to be a barrel horse.”

Blondy ran at the BFA Juvenile, where she turned in two respectable 16.0s. “She was a little intimidated,” noted Reynolds. “She wouldn’t run, but she turned three barrels really good.” She went to Arizona, where Reynolds picked up nice futurity checks aboard Judys Twistin Bug for his parents, for the experience rather than the competition.

“We only ran her in one of the opens once while we were out there,” he said. “We didn’t want to run in that big pen out there. We wanted to save her for the smaller pens back in Texas.”

Reynolds, an Ohio native who now resides in Lubbock, Texas, where he works for Little’s father-in-law Ben Barrington, has been a huge asset to Little’s program. “He was a find,” said Little. “He loves it and works harder than anyone we’ve ever had.” Little’s wife concurred.

“He’s a heck of a hand,” said the multiple NFR qualifier, who is once again on the rodeo trail after a broken leg last spring deterred her NFR run. “He’s been amazing. He and my dad get along really good. It’s worked out really good. We’ve had a lot of good luck. I hope he wants to stick around. He’s a really hard worker and it’s been good for us.”

Reynolds, 40, grew up running barrels and had dabbled in the futurities before leaving the sport to train Thoroughbred racehorses in 2004. When he decided to come back to barrel racing, he worked with Troy Crumrine and Talmadge Green before heading to Barrington’s.

“When this job came up Talmadge told me it was a good opportunity and I probably needed to take it,” he said. “Ben’s been good to me. Me being gone (from barrel racing) for so long, he’s helped me a lot with my hands, keeping them down low.”

Little also said he appreciates Reynolds watching out for his father-in-law, too.

“They get along great and he takes good care of Ben, and I can really appreciate that,” he said. “Ben won’t take his breathing treatments and Ryan will say ‘Ben, don’t you think it’s time for a breathing treatment?’ I’m thrilled for all the success he’s had.”

Homecoming Hero—Brooke Rix & Gypsy Hat Oh Fame Win Last Chance American Qualifier in San Antonio

By Tanya Randall

San Antonio native Brooke Rix punched her ticket to the American Semifinals Rodeo in Fort Worth, by winning the Last Chance Qualifier at the Cupid's Dash Barrel Race at the San Antonio Rose Palace in Boerne, Texas. She and her homegrown superstar Gypsy Hat Oh Fame ("Bam Bam") posted a 14.942, the fastest time of 104 entries, to win the Qualifier and the $4,000-added Open to the tune of $3,558.

"He made a great run," said Rix, who wanted to thank her parents Steve and Kelly Catalani and her sponsors MVP and TCB Equine. "He loves his job. He likes the Rose Palace. That's kind of our hometown place. He's confident there and I am there too. I had just finished 11th at the Qualifier in Glen Rose, so I was bound and determined that this was going to be good."

Rix, who now calls Skidmore, Texas, home with her husband Wes, had run the night before at the San Angelo Pro Rodeo. A good run there also added to her confidence for the Qualifier in San Antonio.

But the key was the location, just 20 minutes from her childhood home. "It helps when you are familiar with the area," she said. "When you go off somewhere, you're always worried about where you're at and what you're doing. When you're at a place you've been to all the time, all you have to worry about is what you need to do and what your horse needs."

Luckily Bam Bam didn't need much in his own stomping grounds. The 11-year-old brown gelding is by all-time leading barrel horse sire Dash Ta Fame out of former BFA Derby Champion Oh Gypsy Hat, by Watch My Hat.

Bam Bam was Oh Gypsy Hat's first foal, having been conceived after she needed time off after a trailer accident, that claimed the life of Rix's BFA Youth Champion Ms Freckled Lynx, who was

"I had a trailer accident in 2004 and it broke her withers, and they said she was going to be out for over a year," Rix explained. "So my dad used the breeding for her. We had Bam Bam and then I ran her one more year and then my sister ran her and won a bunch on her at the high school rodeos."

In addition to Bam Bam, Rix also has a 5-year-old Frenchmans Guy and a 3-year-old full sibling out of Oh Gypsy Hat, who is 22 this year. Unfortunately, they've had trouble getting more.

"We've just had a hard time getting her bred after the last one," she said. "We're going to try ICSII this year, but nothing is a guarantee."

Rix said Bam Bam was a handful when he was younger because her father wanted to keep him a stallion and stand him. It wasn't until after he was cut that Bam Bam became a competitive horse.

"He didn't futurity or derby because he was really little," she said. "I didn't start running him until he was 6. He didn't start getting really competitive until he was about 8. I've been pro rodeoing on him about four years now."

Bam Bam took Rix to the 2013 Texas Circuit Finals, but she hasn't rodeoed full time due to family commitments and her 4-year-old daughter.

"I have a lot of other young horses and I ride outside horses so that keeps me home a lot," she said.

Rix has a busy schedule ahead with the Semifinals starting on Thursday. She's entered in the pro rodeo in Los Fresno, which is close to her South Texas home, but hopefully she'll have to turn out to stay in Fort Worth. The next week she's got the Open barrel race at the San Antonio Rodeo on Monday and Tuesday before her possible appearance at The American.

Headin' For Home

by Sherry Morrison
Triple M (Mike Morrison Ministries)

I think really, really good news is that Jesus came and bore every sin for you and me. EVERY SINGLE ONE. When He died on the cross, He didn't leave a single sin unpaid for. He did it so you and I wouldn't have to pay the price. He paid for it with His blood. 2 Cor. 5:21.

But have you ever noticed that when we get pressured up, we tend to judge ourselves by our good intentions and everyone else by what they do? It's soooo human nature. What we do wrong (sin) just doesn't seem as bad as what THEY did/do (sin). It's easy to think that say, murder, is just awful. But so is lying. So is gluttony. However, if I'm the one overeating, it does seem kind of harmless next to murder. But if God says it's not, then IT'S NOT!

So here is a funny word picture to help us to see how silly we can be. Mike and I backseat drive each other all the time. It's a wonder sometimes that we ever get from point A to B. He has this pet peeve about crossing solid white lines on the road. He will bark at me about it. He makes smart remarks about "did you even read your driver's license book?" Oh yes. It's on ongoing battle. Mostly I just ignore him. HOWEVER....(you knew this was coming), one day I had had enough. I said, "Let's see, when we were going 140 mph back there (YES he was), did you remember we are supposed to obey the speed limit? And when you went through that red light because you thought it was a stupid place for it, did you remember we are supposed to stop at red lights?" See, solid white lines aren't even a blip on my radar and the speed limit to Mike is just a suggestion. If we get caught, we will pay the fine, though. But in our minds, we don't think those infractions are wrong. They are our pet sins.

We need to know what God says about sin. Though it's paid for, we don't want to continue along in it. We want to walk in the blessing, not the curse. Romans 2:4 says, "God's goodness leads us to repentance." I love His goodness, don't you?
