Right Moves For JS Night Moves & Payton Johnson at Royal Crown Buckeye

By Tanya Randall

Teenager Payton Johnson and the former stakes winner JS Night Moves (“Blackie”) made their futurity debut with a $49,301 championship at the Royal Crown Race, held February 10-15 at the South Buckeye Equestrian Center in Arizona.

The pair from Malad, Idaho, topped the $75,000-added, 149-entry Royal Crown Futurity for $29,645. They also won the $10,000-added South Valley Equine (SVE) Open Futurity for an additional $8,597 and picked up $5,348 in the Royal Crown Open and $5,711 in the open-to-all races.

“It almost doesn’t seem real,” said Payton’s mother Erin. “We didn’t know what we were getting into. It’s pretty spectacular for sure.”

Erin said she and her daughter came down to Arizona to get Blackie ready for high school rodeos. After the two did well at the Sherry Cervi Youth Championships, they decided to take a chance on the Royal Crown Race. They were initially going to enter the SVE Open alone but decided to try the Royal Crown Futurity too.

“We just did it to give him and Payton a shot,” said Erin. “They deserve it. We’re just two girls down here having fun. We entered just to see where we were, what we could do.”

Payton and Blackie were fifth in the first round with a 17.387 on a WPRA Standard and improved themselves by nearly 6/10ths to win the second round in 16.811.

“I let him go a little bit faster to first, but not a lot because he’s really fast,” Payton said of her second run. “I pushed him more to second and sat square and let him turn a little sooner, so he didn’t get so far by. The third barrel, he kind of bowed off a little, but nothing big. He just ran hard. He knew exactly what he was doing.”

Payton said she didn’t get nervous between her runs at the Royal Crown. She had learned her lesson at the Sherry Cervi Youth Championships there a couple of weeks ago.

“When I ran at the Sherry Cervi, I got really nervous and hit a barrel to win,” she said. “I just kept in my mind, ‘Stay quiet and don’t get ahead of him.’ If I get ahead of him, he’ll catch up so fast and then just go and then I can’t keep up with him! If I get nervous, I get in my own way.”

Bred by Jeffery Steadman, Blackie is a stakes-winning gelding by $2.2 million dollar barrel horse sire Winners Version. He is out of Judging Julie, a blazing fast daughter of champion barrel horse sire and leading maternal sire Judge Cash out of a Murrtheblurr (TB) daughter.

Blackie ran on the track for Kathy Daniels under the direction of trainer Kylie Valenzuela. He won three of 11 starts and earned $34,953. He won the Energy Downs Bonus Challenge Stakes as a 2-year-old and was second in the Idaho Cup Derby as a 3-year-old.

Blackie ran his last race in August 2024. Erin Johnson started riding him in March 2025 and he was purchased by Valenzuela last fall. All along the plan was to see if Blackie would make a horse for Payton.

“He was pretty behind,” said Erin. “He hadn’t done anything but track. I spent a ton of time on him to get him caught up and ready to even come here. He’s still a little behind. When we came down here it was really with the intent to get him caught up to everyone else.”

THANK YOU: Chewy and Kylie Valenzuela, Chewy’s owners; his breeders, Kathy Daniels, her mom and dad. “I couldn’t do it without them.”

Blackie made his competitive debut at an Idaho District 9 High School Rodeo the week after the opening weekend of futurity season. Erin figured that Payton could just cruise him through to see where he was at.

“He went in the first day and Payton got a little nervous on him,” said Erin. “They tipped the second barrel. The second day, Payton rode with a vengeance, like she knew what she was doing. They took second.”

Payton added, “At first he kind of scared me because he was so fast. I had never ridden a horse so fast. But once we got it figured out, it's been pretty good."

From those November high school rodeos, Blackie got a lot of riding and exhibitions before coming down to Arizona.

"We've done literally everything with this horse," said Erin. "He's moved cattle, he's gone on the mountain, he's gone down the road. He's gone on the cross country course. We've jumped on him. We do everything on them, so their brain isn't just focused on running barrels. We like them to be well-rounded. Coming off the track, they've seen a lot, but they need to be exposed to life in a quiet setting. We've ridden him in the desert a lot. He's gone and done a little bit of everything with us."

All of Payton's horses have been trained by her mother. She won the 2023 Idaho Jr High Rodeo State Champion Barrel Racing title on a home raised and trained horse.

"I've always done rodeo," she said. "When we came down here, we started entering the bigger barrel races and then the futurity."

Payton, who is a home-schooled freshman, said before coming to Arizona she said her dream was to make the National Finals Rodeo, but after winning the Royal Crown Futurity, training futurity horses might be in her future.

"I'd love to see Payton go far," said Erin. "She's done a really great job with all of her horses. She's just one heck of a hand. She does a great job of jockeying and listening and learning. She's a fanatic about the breeding. It's been fun to watch her grow in that area. She's just very in love with the sport and is very driven."

Valentines Weekend Win For TFour Epic Love & Terri Wood-Gates in Royal Crown Derby

By Tanya Randall

Multiple Wilderness Circuit Champion and aged event winner Terri Wood-Gates got a Valentine's Day Weekend win aboard the appropriately named TFour Epic Love in the $50,000-added, 169-entry Royal Crown Derby, held February 10-15 in Buckeye, Arizona.

Wood-Gates and Epic collected $33,946 on the weekend after winning $20,703 in the Royal Crown Derby, $7,461 for winning the $5,000-added South Valley Equine (SVE) Derby and $5,782 in the Open and Senior races.

They clocked a 17.049 for second in the first round and a 17.093 for seventh in the second round.

"He basically had the same run both times," said Wood-Gates, who hails from West Jordan, Utah. "He was very consistent and I'm very proud of that. I really liked my first barrel. It wasn't my favorite second barrel that he's ever had on both runs. I bumped the barrel on the way out on the first run, but he allowed me to adjust him (on the second run). I thought he had good third barrels both runs. I thought he had good runs. It just wasn't my favorite second barrel that we've ever had on both runs, but he handled it and kept his forward motion both runs."

Wood-Gates was at the 2020 Wilderness Circuit Finals in November when long-time circuit director, now WPRA Vice President Julie Herman mentioned that Melissa Taylor had a colt that she really liked. She and her mother Norma Wood purchased the Epic Leader gelding out of NFR producing Dash Ta Fame mare Gateway Ta Love sight-unseen the following month.

"I talked to the guy that broke him and he said he was a nice colt, a little quirky when you were on the ground but when you're on his back, he's pretty serious," said Wood-Gates. She didn't even lay eyes on the colt until he left the colt breaker a few months later. "To say, he's quirky on the ground is an understatement."

Wood-Gates was a little leery of the quiriness, especially after a kick to the head six year ago left her with a traumatic brain injury and she has her grandchildren joining her in the barn now.

"They always say the good ones have a little bit of quiriness to them," she said. "He made a turn about mid-way through the summer of his 4-year-old year. He decided he was going to grow up a little bit and started trusting us more. It took a good while but he's pretty good with us now."

As a futurity horse, Epic was campaigned lightly and has transitioned to rodeo the past few years. He helped Wood-Gates qualify for the past couple Wilderness Circuit Finals—she's been to 28 total and is a past National Circuit Finals Rodeo Champion—and placed fourth in the aggregate at the last circuit finals rodeo.

Although she is usually a regular in the Arizona for the winter, family commitments kept her away until the Royal Crown. She's got three granddaughters that live close by that are very involved in soccer and with the horses.

Alley and Stiletto Win $16K with Derby Run at Texarkana

By Julie Mankin

One of the winningest young mares in barrel racing history kept it up over Valentine's weekend with a huge derby win at the Texarkana Showdown in Texarkana, Ark., for Michelle Alley.

"When she runs across the pen, she's 16 hands tall, but on the backsides, she drops down to about 13.3," said Alley, who has ridden Heather Moeller's mare Lipstick N Stilletos ("Stiletto") to more than $465,000 in just over two years of competitive runs.

Stiletto clocked a smoking 14.241 in Texarkana to win by a tenth the one-run Med-Vet Pharmaceuticals Derby. That paid $7,684. The run also held on for third in the High Stakes for another $5,184, and Alley rolled it into both the Friday and Saturday Open races for first and third, respectively, and more paychecks. Her Texarkana total on that one run came to $15,897.

"That race always pays well," she said. "They put on a great event and I love the format – you're there two days and can go home. Plus, it's only four hours from my house."

The eastern South Dakota native lives now in Madisonville, Texas, where she runs Down The Alley Performance Horses full-time. She won a pile at rodeos on Stiletto's dam, Seis Caress by Tres Seis, before she was retired due to a large chip in her knee.

"Stiletto turns just like her mother ("Saucy"), with that slingshot style," said Alley. "It's just the way I ride, I guess, that they don't slow down for the turn, and then have that huge move. Everybody has seen me get dashboarded on both mares."

But Stiletto gets on her hind end more than Saucy because of the Dash Ta Fame genes in her sire. RR Mistakelly earned almost $300,000 on the cloverleaf under Brandon Cullins. He was by Darkelly (speed index 110) out of a mare boasting the epic Dash Ta Fame/MurrTheBlurr combination.

"I loved watching Mistakelly run during his futurity year," said Alley. "He was an outstanding individual. And I've always gotten along well with Dash Ta Fames. I do everything fast – I talk fast and eat fast and walk fast – so their high-strung mentality is easy for me. I chose Mistakelly because of his short back, but fate and God had a lot to do with it, too. I'd hit a barrel at Austin on Saucy that year and she was in heat, so I stopped on my way home and had her bred."

The result has been out of this world. On Stiletto in 2024, Alley broke the arena record at the Ruby Buckle Futurity with a 16.4 on a standard pattern. She went on to earn $61,517 at pro rodeos that summer, including winning Caldwell. When the mare was 4.

"She just loves her job," said Alley. "I believe the Tres Seis horses mature earlier, mentally. And Saucy is passing that on. I have a full brother that's a yearling, and he is very confident and full of himself."

Too, Alley tries to prep her prospects for rodeos from the very start.

"People overthink transitioning a horse from futurities to rodeos," said Alley. "It's still three barrels in an arena. I don't put them in dangerous situations, but I will run colts on some not-great ground, including outdoor pens. And I warm up outside the arena and make a fast run on a colt the first time through. They mess up, of course, then I come back slow and fix it. I teach my horses that when they run into an arena, they'd better be looking for the first barrel. My horses probably look uglier in the beginning than the ones that get all the exhibitions, but I think I have a better finished product in the end."

In addition to her yearling stud colt, there's another Saucy baby out there by JL Dash Ta Heaven (owned by Jeff Varner), and this year Alley is expecting two more full siblings to Stiletto to hit the ground. Plus, Eric Edwards has three embryos out of Saucy by Repete Offender.

"I sold two more flushes this year – one to HP Hotrod and the other to RR Mistakelly, plus I will flush her twice more," said Alley. "Saucy is my retirement."

Stiletto's owner may have the same plan for Stiletto. Moeller has two little girls and is building a program around the mare she bought when Alley needed to sell. It was Covid and times – and money – was uncertain.

"Who better to share in the wins and success than one of your best friends?" said Alley. "We tried to flush Stiletto last spring and get an embryo, but the recipient mare didn't take and I didn't want to do it again because of the stress on both Stiletto and me. But we did ICSI her last fall and have two frozen embryos by DM High Roller. I might do it again this spring and try for embryos by The Goodbye Lane or Blazin Jetolena.”

Of course, making the NFR is a goal when Alley hits the road again this June. Still, she said she won't run the young mare's legs off.

“The Brazilians offered us seven figures for Stiletto,” said Alley. “I told Heather, “That's life-changing money and my feelings will not be hurt if you decide to sell. But also, she's a once-in-a-lifetime horse that luckily is a mare and can reproduce while competing, or even when she's finished.”

Alley feels like Stiletto deserves to run at the NFR, and this could be the year due to a few things she's changed up. For one, Alley said she's working hard to ride quieter this year.

“I'd get excited and try to hustle her, get to kicking and my arms pumping and then I'd quit too soon and hit barrels,” she explained. “At Texarkana, I told myself beforehand to stay quiet and relax – don't try to go fast. I sat there with my hands slow and quiet, just bumping her with my calves and not being wild. Smooth is fast.” The other game-changer for her this spring has been starting Pilates six weeks ago, she said, which has helped with the degenerating discs and spurs in her bad back. She's riding better because of it. And Alley swears by Ozactin, a new injectable ozonated gel that's been great medicine.

The 130th Cheyenne Frontier Days Brings Ten Days of World Class Rodeo Action and Updated Format

An expanded rodeo schedule with an updated format will highlight the 130th Cheyenne Frontier Days celebration in 2026.

For the first time in the rodeo's history, there will be 10 consecutive days of professional rodeo with the addition of the first Friday rodeo, from July 17 – 26. The additional performance allows for more rodeo action while enhancing the overall experience for fans, contestants and volunteers.

In 2026, Cheyenne Frontier Days will increase rodeo prize money from $770,000 to $960,000 reflecting a continued investment in maintaining its elite status as one of the richest payouts in professional rodeo. CFD is also introducing revisions to the tournament style format designed to support the rodeo's long-term sustainability.

Cheyenne Frontier Days faces challenges accommodating the huge number of modern rodeo rigs used by contestants in timed events to house both the contestants and their horses. The new format will allow road-weary contestants and their animals time to rest while on Frontier Park. It will also ease park congestion, while supporting the volunteers who are preparing for the celebration. Current challenges also exist with cattle availability, a major factor for the rodeo industry.

The updated rodeo format eliminates qualifying slack rounds for timed events the week before the official start of Cheyenne Frontier Days. Instead, CFD worked with the Professional Rodeo Cowboys Association (PRCA) and Women's Professional Rodeo Association (WPRA) to select qualifying rodeos across the country for contestants to be among the elite that compete at the Daddy of'em All.

"Our goal is to have long-term sustainability for all of our events, especially the rodeo that is the cornerstone of our celebration," said Tom Hirsig CFD Chief Executive Officer. "There are a lot of factors to consider when planning, from our relationships with our sanctioning bodies (PRCA and WPRA) to the contestants and the thousands of volunteers who put in countless hours to make it all possible."

In the timed events of tie-down roping, steer wrestling, team roping, breakaway roping and barrel racing, contestants will qualify through a combination of selected qualifying rodeos, world standings and circuit qualifications. Advancement to the semifinals will be determined by performance during the first six preliminary rounds, with top competitors moving on to one of three semifinal rounds. From there, finalists will advance to championship competition, where champions will ultimately be crowned during the finals on July 26, ensuring a competitive field and strong nationwide representation inside the Frontier Park arena.

"We are excited for the rodeos selected to serve as qualifiers," Hirsig said. "This is a groundbreaking opportunity to work with other professional rodeos that are spread out geographically across the United States. We are confident that contestants will utilize them as a chance to punch their ticket to the Daddy of'em All."

Daily rodeo tickets range from $26 to $53, with a $3 discount available on tickets purchased before July 1. Fans are welcome to come out on Monday and Thursday mornings for the Wild Card Rounds for a $5 gate admission. CFDrdeoo.com is the only official source for tickets to the Daddy of'em All, and tickets for the new Chute 9 are now available for purchase.

Celebrating its 130th year in 2026, Cheyenne Frontier Days continues its legacy of showcasing elite rodeo competition, honoring tradition and delivering an unforgettable Western experience to fans from the seasoned veteran to those that travel to Cheyenne from around the world.

The nine PRCA qualifying rodeos from across the United States are:

Angelina Benefit Rodeo in Lufkin, Texas
Lakeside Rodeo in Lakeside, California
American Royal in Kansas City, Missouri
Franklin Rodeo in Franklin, Tennessee
Central Point Wild Rogue Pro Rodeo in Central Point, Oregon
Colorado Stampede in Grand Junction, Colorado
Navajo PRCA Rodeo in Window Rock, Arizona
Elizabeth Stampede Rodeo Assoc in Elizabeth, Colorado
Coleman Rodeo in Coleman, Texas

The nine WPRA qualifying rodeos from across the United States are:

Lakeside Rodeo in Lakeside, California
American Royal in Kansas City, Missouri

Mill Iron Livestock welcomes Rosas Cantina CC to Roster

Alan Woodbury of Woodbury Performance Horses announces the sale of Rosas Cantina CC, the legendary 7x NFR barrel racing qualifier with lifetime earnings exceeding $650,000, to Tyson and Del Bieleny of Mill Iron Livestock. The transaction was finalized in December 2025.

Lisa Lockhart played an integral role throughout the sale process, offering her insight, commitment to Rosa's well-being, and approval. Terms of the sale has ensured that Rosa will remain under Lisa's care and direction for the duration of her competitive career. When the time comes for Rosa to retire, she will transition to her forever home with the Bielenys in Czar, Alberta, where she will enjoy a well-earned retirement.

The Bielenys have been dedicated supporters of Woodbury Performance Horses since their purchase of Jaguarr in 2018. Over the years, a friendship has also developed. Woodbury expressed complete confidence that the Bieleny family will provide Rosa with the exceptional quality of life she deserves while continuing to honor and extend her legacy as a world-class producer.

This milestone marks a significant moment in Rosa's storied career. Her influence on the barrel racing industry is reflected in her widespread fanbase and the respect she has earned from barrel racing enthusiasts worldwide. Woodbury Performance Horses would like to thank the public for their support shown to Rosa throughout the years. Moving forward, Alan Woodbury remains dedicated to excellence within his breeding program. He will continue on with his broodmare band, which includes daughters of Rosas Cantina CC as well as Tell Em Belle and her female line. Exceptional prospects from Woodbury's respected program will continue to be offered to the public.

HEADIN' FOR HOME

"Classic" by Sherry Morrison // Triple M (Mike Morrison Ministries)

You sure can't tell by looking outside at the piles of snow, but when you go into the local feed store, the peeping makes you think it's spring! When I get baby chicks I love to take my grandkids up to see them.

There is always tons of excited squealing. . . . until my granddaughter says, "Gramma, STOP it!" I can't help it! I love everything baby!

The point is, sometimes you just can't tell by looking, what's going on on the inside. Let's say you have prayed and asked God to help you. Could be your finances, your health, your marriage. But looking at the outside, you can't tell anything is changing.

We need to KNOW 1 John 4:16, God loves us. Keep reading up to 1 John 5:4. It says "whoever is born of God overcomes the world. And this is the victory that has overcome the world, our faith."

We need to trust God and trust His Word. I John 5:14 says, "Now this is the confidence that we have in Him, that if we ask anything according to His will, He hears us. And if we know that He hears us, whatever we ask, we know that we have the petitions that we have asked of Him.

"Your prayers are producing results. Do not give up and do not quit! Like spring, it's coming!!
