Jill Tanner & Credit Ta Fame Snatch Up San Angelo Title, Rodeo Houston Entry

By Tanya Randall

For someone who doesn't like to be gone from home much, Jill Tanner has a huge opportunity ahead of her. As the 2019 San Angelo Barrel Racing Champion, Tanner jumped into the WPRA Top 15 and won a bye into Rodeo Houston, a boon for any competitor hoping to make the Wrangler National Finals Rodeo on a limited schedule.

"It seems surreal to me," said Tanner, who attended Rodeo Houston once with her husband, NFR team roper Jimmy Tanner. "I remember thinking, 'I wish I could run at Houston,' but it was never something I thought was actually going to happen. Rodeo Houston is for the best of the best, and I don't consider myself one of those. It's crazy!"

Tanner decided to enter a handful of rodeos this winter. The first of which was the Sandhills Stock Show & Rodeo in Odessa.

"I'm really bad about turning out," admitted the Stephenville, Texas, resident. "If it's something with my daughter Georgia or my store. I'll just turn out. I'll pick Georgia or the store every time. My priorities have to be on what's paying the bills."

Yet, Odessa had some extra appeal that made her less likely to turnout.

"Odessa is 90 miles from my parents in Hobbs, New Mexico," she said. "My brother was up in the team roping, so it was a family deal. We all got to go out to eat afterwards. It was my first run back in months and we placed, so I thought, 'Let's go to San Angelo.'"

In San Angelo, Tanner and her horse Credit Ta Fame ("Saturday") got off to a great start in the progressive round, held during slack on January 23 in the First Community Credit Union Spur Arena. They finished second with a 15.97 behind the 15.91 of Wenda Johnson and Dreams First Flash (First Moonflash x First Down Dream x First Down Dash). The entire top 10 was separated by less than 2/10ths of a second.

Tanner and Saturday finished out of the money in the second round, which was held in the Foster Communications Coliseum during the performances, February 1-14. Nicole Love and JL Josie Bar (JL Dash Ta Heaven x Bucks Josie Bar x Mr Docs Dakota) topped the second round with a 14.08.

"He laid down a run in the first round," she recalled. "I thought, 'Okay, here were go,' and then in the second round, we weren't very fast. I have a tendency to hold my horses up because I'm not a very brave barrel racer!"

When Perry Di Loretto founded the world's first million-dollar #11 roping in Reno, Nevada, in 1996, it kicked off a legacy of giving back to the host community. Corky Ullman and Daren Peterson, who bought the roping in 2015, are keeping to tradition.

Over the past few years, organizers have auctioned valuable items to raise more than $30,000 for Warriors and Rodeo and $15,000 for the Justin Cowboy Crisis Fund. A local charity will benefit in 2019 – Pinocchio's Moms on the Run. The Reno non-profit provides financial assistance to breast cancer patients undergoing treatment in this part of Nevada.

"It's important to give back, and ever since Perry created it, the #11 roping has given back to Reno," said Peterson. "Just like the BFI, which raises money for the Reno Rodeo Foundation, Justin Cowboy Crisis Fund, and Warriors and Rodeo, we're excited to see this roping support Moms on the Run, a great local charity for Reno women."

This year, the 23rd edition of the roping on June 25 sports a new moniker – the Wrangler National Patriot. It's named for the 10-year-old program backed by Wrangler that raises funds for American military veterans and their families while encouraging all Americans to rally with patriotism.

Complying with the nationwide tweak in roper handicaps, the roping is technically an 11.5 roping this year, but keeps the invitational format, #6 cap and requirement that entrants be at least 30 years old (the average age of 2018 contestants was 54). Fees have been lowered to $2,000, and organizers who spread the money more evenly last year have gone back to guaranteeing $200,000 for first place. Entries are open now for it and all other events of Wrangler BFI Week, June 22-29.

The event actually kicks off this year on Saturday, June 22, with the Hooley BFI Junior Championships, moved in 2019 so as not to conflict with the National Junior High School Finals Rodeo or the Best of the Best Timed-Event Rodeo. Last year, the Hooley BFI Junior Championships winners earned $15,000.

And of course, everything is anchored by the 42nd Annual BFI on Monday, June 24, which features 108 of the world's best Open teams competing over six rounds for more than $700,000 in cash and prizes. The Wrangler National Patriot #11.5 follows on Tuesday. A brand-new roping is scheduled for Wednesday, June 26, this year – the Cactus #9.5 Over 40 that will pay $100,000 for first place (based on 125 teams).

"The #9.5 is a great addition to our roster," said Peterson. "It allows the older ropers a chance to compete against their peers in a format where they don't have to rope against the kids."

Also Wednesday, #12 ropers over 21 will play in the High Desert Showdown. And in 2019, the Charlie 1 Horse All-Girl Challenge on Thursday will again be the highest-paying women's roping in America. It boasts a new pick-one/draw-one-for-$750 format, and also offers $7,500 guaranteed to the winners of a #9 Incentive within the roping. The breakaway jackpot returns, along with the $2,500 bonus for the All-Girl all-around champion.

This year's local BFI Week activities will be especially exciting as they happen in conjunction with the storied Reno Rodeo's 100th anniversary celebration. Together the two events, plus World Series competitions off-site, bring the collective athlete purse in Reno to roughly $3.75 million.

Visit www.BFIWeek.com for more information. Reservations with special roper rates starting at $54 are available at the Silver Legacy Resort, Eldorado Resort, and Circus Circus Reno by using rate code BFI19.

Jake and Jim Ross Cooper became the first twins to qualify for the NFR in the team roping and her dad Jimmie Cooper is the 1981 All Around World Champion and a Pro Rodeo Hall of Famer—Tanner said she probably ran barrels just about a handful of times before she turned 20.

“My background is not in barrel racing,” she said. “I had only roped growing up. It’s been a rough transition. I tend to be always up (in roping position) and I have to tell myself all the time ‘Sit down, Jill!’”

Tanner and Saturday had the fourth fast time on two runs going into the short round on Friday, February 15. In the alleyway, Tanner did something out of character that dramatically changed her fortunes.

“My plan was to let him go and pick his speed,” she said. “Then in the alleyway he wasn’t feeling a hyped up as he normally does, so I kicked him! He took off! I just thought, ‘Oh no! Hold on!’ That’s all I really remember about that run—kicking in the alleyway and holding on!”

They ended up posting the fastest time of the rodeo, a 13.81, to win the short and lock up the average for a $13,304 payday.

“It felt like he was going fast,” she said. “You can’t really hear in the back, so I was thinking I had placed. I don’t think I’ve ever gone that fast on him!”

Saturday was bred and trained by Caryn Henry of DeLeon Springs, Florida. The 10-year-old gelding is by Flyin’ Ta Fame, a son of all-time leading barrel horse sire Dash Ta Fame out of a Strawfly Special mare. He is the first living foal out of Henry’s tough Cash Not Credit, Nonstop Jet mare Quick Moon Credit.

Tanner learned of the gelding from her longtime friend Ally (Hayes) Lyshon, who had seen him run with Henry.

“I never would have had him without Ally telling me about him,” said Tanner. “I had just broke my ankle a couple of weeks before when a horse I was trying fell with me. I didn’t know how I was going to try him with a broke ankle and a (walking) boot on my foot.”

Tanner said she “cruised through the barrels, nice and easy,” which probably amounted to a “slow lope” to most people, but she fell in love with the gelding and bought him in fall of his fifth year.

“I’ve just ran him off and on since I got him,” she said. “I’ve never been (down the road) a whole year on him. I got him in November and I won the Sherrylynn Johnson on him in December. I made the Southeastern Circuit Finals one year on him. Then I got pregnant and I sent him back to Caryn.”

Henry won the 2016 NBHA Finals Open 1D Championship on Saturday before he went back to Tanner, after the birth of her daughter in January of 2017.

Although she rodeoed a little after her daughter was born, Tanner’s focus remained on her now 2-year-old and her two Southern Honey boutiques, one in Stephenville, Texas, and in Hobbs, New Mexico.

“I actually priced him to a friend in the spring of last year,” she admitted. “I had mixed emotions about it. I felt like he was my one-in-a-million horse, but I didn’t want him sitting. When they passed on him, I told Jimmy it had to be a God thing. There’s a reason God wanted him out in my pasture eating grass.”

Tanner said she still plans on taking things one day at a time.

“I’m still on the stay-home plan,” she laughed. “We just sold our rig two weeks ago. Georgia’s not a good traveler and I have the two stores. I think I’ll get into Austin, and I like that rodeo. I’ve planned on Corpus (Christi) and Lufkin, but I don’t know beyond that.”

Tanner wanted to thank Henry for raising and training Saturday and for choosing her to buy him; Lyshon for telling her about him; her husband and parents for their support and her boutique staff, especially her right-hand woman Becky Berger, who not only helps with the store, but Georgia and the horses as well.

FEBRUARY 22-23-24

THEY ALL SELL...Frenchmans Guy - Dash Ta Fame
- A Streak of Fling - First Moonflash

1) WHATTA SMOOTH RIDE

17 buck. m. A Smooth Guy-DHR Perks Truckin,
Oh Whatta Boy

Beautiful buckskin yearling filly by the exceptional sire A SMOOTH GUY! Has all the class, presence, athleticism and breeding to be a champion! Her dam was a great barrel horse! Radiographs available! 405.317.9363

2) FRENCH MOON RISING

18 s. s. Frenchmans Guy-First Moon Diva, First Moonflash
BHN named First Moonflash "Top 10 Up-And-Coming Barrel Racing Stallions" with offspring earning over $267K in the arena from 15 performers. Well built colt & very confident, full of athleticism, looks and personality, and is first to meet you at the gate. 5 Panel N/N. PIF to FF, & eligible for many incentives 307.331.4697

3) STYLISH FLING

18 s. s. A Streak Of Fling-MK Stylish Chic, Playin Stylish
Paid in Full to: Future Fortunes, Triple Crown 100, BBR Select Stallion Stakes. Eligible for John Read Foster Barrel Challenge. 5 Panel NN. Great minded colt with a lot of handling, will have size and bone, excellent conformation for a serious stallion prospect.
X-Rays are available. 903.327.3995

4) COAL

2008 Grade Black Pony Gelding

Well broke, coal black pony that my 9 year old has been showing and rodeoing on the last two years. Been shown in showmanship, barrels, poles, flag race, goat tying and keyhole. Coal has also been used on our ranch. A very gentle pony that rides like a big horse. For more pictures and video go to www.swensonmartinhorses.com

5) CHOCOLATE FUDGE

2007 Grade Bay Pony Gelding

Stands 38 inches and he is as cute of a pony as you could ever ask for. A kind & gentle pony - our kids have done everything possible with him. Awesome on the trails and goes everywhere the kids ask. My 5 year old boy is his main rider; hauled to countless shows and Little Britches Rodeos 612.810.5455
www.yo.tube.com/watch?v=EwclU3iZ6Jg

6) VENTURE TA FAME SI 85

01 s. m. Dash Ta Fame-Redhot Venture SI 112, Sound Venture
Daughter of Dash Ta Fame broodmare. She sells with a paid 2019 breeding to A Streak of Fling (2019 breeding fee of $5,500) too that will be transferred to buyer.

7) ELVIS

99 bay g. Rey Jays Quixote-Dry Docs Ella, Dry Doc

2D/3D Barrel Horse. A finished cutter gone barrel horse. He is gentle and suitable for nearly any age rider. He is healthy and sound. Good to trim, clip, bathe, load, haul, and a great all round rider. Elvis has been used in movies as well. Barrels, cows, playdays, brandings; he knows it. 605.890.1118 - <https://youtu.be/0vusk1ZZocM>

8) SHAKEITFORDALADIES

13 ch. g. Dash Ta Fame-ShakeMeUp Frenchgirl, Frenchmans Guy
Barrel Horse royalty!! What a rare opportunity to see a gelding of this caliber that is extremely quiet and gentle as well! Been used around the ranch gathering and safe for all riders. Take him the barrel route, or simply have fun trail riding! Legendary breeding and a great disposition! 405.829.0539

Noon and Docs Moonpie Bank Over $35K at LGI

By Amy Wilson

There were more entries than ever before at the Lance Graves International Championship Barrel Race which had over $100,000 added and was held February 13 – 17 at the Lazy E Arena in Guthrie, Oklahoma. “I had contestants from six foreign countries draw checks this year, including a 72 year old great grandmother from Panama,” Lance Graves said. “It really was fun because I’ve met so many friends over the years and they all feel welcome, and I created classes where everyone can compete.” Included in the variety of classes offered are the Super Senior for ages 60 and over, and the Destiny in Diapers Barrel Race where a parent is allowed to ride with or lead their young child.

New this year and getting the most live viewership was the LG Legacy Project. “We had an overwhelming response to that – we about closed down our servers we had so many people view from around the world, and our stands were packed for that,” Graves said. “The LG Legacy Project was a huge success. I’m so proud of that because I’ve worked hard on a way to teach young people to do what we do.” He continued, “It was real. It was emotional. It was great. I think that’s the most significant thing I’ve done in my entire career.”

The LG Legacy Project is a program that paired three girls each with a retired race horse from an Oklahoma racing farm. They had nine months to teach their horse, with the help of mentors (Graves, Liana DeWeese, Mark Bugni), to run the barrel pattern before the finale where they were judged at the LGI. The girls were also taught everything from start to finish on how to be a professional in the barrel racing industry, including things like how to bill and talk to customers. There’s an application process for anyone wanting to participate in the 2nd Annual LG Legacy Project for 2020, which will soon be available on Lance Graves’ website.

Graves, who has produced a barrel race for 13 years, said that there will continue to be more good things to come as he focuses on the kid’s programs and building the next generation of barrel racers. He also wanted to thank the owners of Eddie Stinson, the Twisted J Ranch, “They came in at the last second to support and help. They put on a big party for us on Valentine’s – they were super.”

$35,000 for Docs Moonpie

It was an incredibly successful week for Kyle Noon and Docs Moonpie. They tied for first place in the Futurity round one, second place in round two, and won the average. They also rolled to the 5 year old Futurity where they were second in rounds one and two, and won the average. And they placed second in the Slot Race. All totaled they won about $35,000.

Noon rides for Moon Pie’s owner, Johnny Kight, and they’ve been doing business together for 8-10 years. “He’s an awesome partner – more like a dad. He lets me go where I want to go. You have to go to learn how to win,” Noon said. They bred, raised, and trained Moon Pie. “His story is kind of funny,” Noon began the story. “I actually sold him to a good friend of mine at the beginning of the year – she was looking for a good horse. But she just couldn’t get with him.” She told Noon that she knew what kind of horse Moon Pie is and didn’t want to waste his futurity year, so Kight bought him back.

Noon knew Moon Pie was doing good before they left Georgia for the 17 hour trip to Guthrie, but after their exhibitions in the Lazy E, he felt even better about him. He wasn’t sure if they were entered in the Slot Race or not, and that’s when Kight called him. “He called me and said, ‘Nah, I don’t think we’re going to enter.’ Then he called me five minutes later and said, ‘We are going to enter. I just feel like we should enter,’” Noon recalled with a laugh.

After his first run where he tied for the Futurity first round win, Noon knew Moon Pie could be even better. “I knew he made a good run, but he wasn’t quite as snappy as I knew he could be. He always gets a hair by his first barrel but he stays on the go so good that to me it doesn’t hurt [his time] quite as bad as it sometimes looks,” he explained. Moon Pie has proven that he continues to get better with every run, and he was faster in round two, which helped him win the average.

As for the last minute decision to enter the Slot Race, Noon said this about Kight’s reaction to finishing second, “Oh man, he was tickled to death.” For Noon, all the success at the LGI was a dream come true, “You always wish you could win stuff like that, it just happened to come true this weekend.”

The four year old grey gelding will get about four weeks off to rest and get back strong before they go to Diamonds and Dirt. “Those 17 hour trips take a lot out of them,” Noon commented. Because of Moon Pie’s obvious talent and also his disposition, Noon believes his future potential in the barrel racing world is unlimited. “He’s super, super laid back. He just goes with the flow, not much bothers him,” he said. “The loudness of the crowd doesn’t bother him at all.”

Noon stays busy riding and shoeing horses, and wanted to express how grateful he is for all the help he has. “Carl Wise helped me a lot with him, and I have tremendous barn help.” He’s also thankful for his best friend and shoeing partner, Joseph Sistare, who takes care of Moon Pie's feet, "When we first got him back, I was out of town so he shod him. I just don't try to change anything."

A Busy Weekend for Mowry

Kassie Mowry, one of the winningest futurity riders and trainers of all time, added even more to those earnings when she finished second in the 4 year old Futurity on Famous Ladies Man. It was an extremely close race with second and first in the average only separated by two thousandths of a second. "Yeah that's crazy. I don't know that I've seen a futurity that was stacked that close together, not just between first and second – Kyle and I – but just throughout about the first eight holes or so. It was tight," Mowry said. "There were so many good horses that put two really awesome runs together – a lot of good, consistent colts I felt like this year."

Mowry was riding seven horses at the LGI, six in the futurity and one in the derby. "Thank you to my boyfriend, Michael Boone. I could never have made it through this week without him. He had all the horses ready to go and helped keep my mind at ease when I felt the pressure," she said. Mowry won the Derby on Girls Dig Fame with a 15.517. But it was her 4 year old grey gelding, CP He Will Be Epic "Will" who won the second go of the Futurity and also the Slot Race with the fastest time of the futurity, 15.436 seconds. The Slot Race win alone was worth $22,416. "He's ran the fastest time at the last three arenas I've taken him to with big numbers running through the gate. He's just blown me away with what he's done." Mowry continued, "I knew he was nice, but that's really doing something because there's a lot of really nice horses there."

Her success on Will hasn't been an easy journey. "I've hit over $100,000 worth of barrels on him. Just barely get them leaving them," Mowry admitted. In fact, they tipped to win the futurity first go and average. "I told Mike, 'I'm going to fire myself!' – because I own him. I felt like I haven't done him justice," she said.

BIT: 0-ring
HEADGEAR: Leather bonnet
SADDLE: Martin BTR
SADDLE PAD: Classic Equine felt with Navajo over the top
LEG GEAR: Classic Equine
SHOEING: Rims on all four
FEED: D&D magnify
HAY: Hay-rite cubes and coastal
SUPPLEMENTS: Succeed
CONDITIONING-TRAINING REGIMEN: Every other day. When he's running, I don't ride him as much because I feel like they do need days off and they do need a break. And with the weather the way it's been, it's about every other day or so. I don't really work him on the barrels hard at all. I will exhibition him before I run him at the futurities, but that's really about all he's been worked this year. I trot him to the barrels and walk around them. There's a certain way I want him to bend around the barrel and I do it at a walk. It's slow and he gets it and it gives him time to think about where he's putting his feet. He does better slower.

Mowry bought Will as a yearling from Claire Powell. "I saw a picture of him and he reminded me of FM Radio and it was like love at first sight – I had to have him," Mowry remembers. Although she's not typically like that, looking back, she's glad she went with her intuition. But, when she first got him home, she had some doubts. "I got him home and couldn't believe how big he was. I almost had some regrets because I've never had a yearling that was that big – he was the size of a full grown horse and bigger than most of the horses on my place. I had so much invested in him, I had to see it through," she explained. "There was a time when I questioned if he was going to be a futurity horse or not – he really struggled this summer." Mowry thinks a lot of it was due to his size – he's over 16 hands and still growing. "I think he kind of had to overcome some physical limitations from just growing that fast. There was a time when he would just swap leads four or five times in between every barrel – it was like he didn't know where his legs needed to be. He would turn a barrel and swap his leads – like he couldn't control where his feet were," she explained.

Mowry is transparent about the challenge of being a futurity horse trainer, "There are so many days where I feel overwhelmed and lose my confidence – like how did I ever train anything? It's a struggle and it's hard." She believes that good horses make good trainers. She was patient with Will, and now it's paying off. But as any barrel racer understands, it's a constant effort to achieve the level of success we each desire. "When I can see the talent and the horse is doing his part, but my timing isn't right with them, I get really mad at myself," Mowry said honestly. Lately Will doesn't seem to make many mistakes. "He's been really zoned in and focused when he goes through the gate. He's got a lot of natural work to him. He's a pleaser – he just wants to be your buddy and do what you want him to do and that goes a long way, especially in these high pressure situations," Mowry said. "He's been very confident about his job – he's not afraid of it, he just walks in there and does it like it's not a big deal. I'm really happy with where he's at right now. He's already done more than I ever expected of him."

Will is sensitive and really light – he runs in an o-ring snaffle – and seems to get lighter the more Mowry runs him. "I have to be really careful – if I do anything in the run, he reacts. I try to be really still and let him do his job," she said.

Describing Will's personality, she said, "He's a sweetheart of a horse. He's like a big gentle giant."

Headin' For Home

by Sherry Morrison
Triple M (Mike Morrison Ministries)

Remember “sticks and stones will break my bones, but words will never hurt me”? Of course you do, you were a kid once! Well, like a lot of other things, this saying does not agree with the Bible.

I used to get so frustrated when I'd get shown just how off I was. And finding out, that just because we sang a song at church, it didn't mean it was scriptural. “Give me a little log cabin in the corner of heaven...” And country music...”prop me up against the jukebox when I die...I wanna go to heaven, but I don't wanna go tonight”! Oh, and how about “I thank God for unanswered prayer”? Sigh.

See how easy it is to get messed up! Friends, we need to read the Bible for ourselves. Then we'd know that when God spoke words, good stuff happened!

Genesis 1:3-31 is loaded with “God said.” He created everything with words. According to John 14:1-4, Jesus is preparing a mansion for us in heaven. I John 5:14-15 tells us we have confidence in God that what we ask, according to His will, we have.

So the next time you hear, “cleanliness is next to Godliness”, ask, “Where is that in the Bible”? If nothing else, it'll be fun looking for it!
