Hailey Kinsel and DM Sissy Hayday Top San Antonio and the World Standings

By Amy Wilson

The current WPRA World Champion Barrel Racer, Hailey Kinsel and her amazing mare, DM Sissys Hayday "Sister" showed up at the San Antonio Stock Show and Rodeo to the tune of $29,500. For Kinsel, who grew up in nearby Cotulla, Texas, it's like a hometown rodeo. "It was really fun and really rewarding to be in front of my hometown crowd and a lot of people who have supported me," Kinsel said. It was also an emotional win for Kinsel, as a close family friend lost his life in a car accident the Friday morning she started competing in San Antonio. "It was special to win it for him and his family too," she said as she also described the shock of hearing the heartbreaking news. "He was a close family friend - like an older brother to me. He's done a lot for me over the years - we've been pretty close."

Kinsel and Sister competed in Bracket 4. They won the first round with 13.93, placed second in round two with 14.01 and won the third round with 13.84. In the semi finals, they competed in Bracket 2 where they placed third in the first round with 14.13 and won the second round with 13.83. They edged a tight race in the finals with the winning time of 14.02 which was worth $15,000.

While it's obvious that Sister likes San Antonio, Kinsel said, "I can't really say why she's been so honest there because for six runs there last year and six this year, she was perfect. She never cuts me anywhere - she's really honest and stays all the way up into the hole. You'd think after that many runs, she'd get tight - kind of like at the [NFR]." She continued, "I don't know what it is, maybe a more open look to it. The crown being extremely loud seems to help a little bit in keeping her running hard. And the ground being that sandy, shifty, movable dirt, she seems to like that."

Kinsel admits that Sister can be a "dragon" after she runs, so because of the format and the possibility of getting off to take a victory lap right away, Kinsel's mom, Leslie, tried to be there every night to hold Sister and help. Following her famous heel click at the NFR, the Wrangler Network captured a video of Leslie riding every stride with Kinsel while she watched from the alley. "David Sharp had showed me that. It's hilarious because I remember when I was in jr high running poles and somebody had videoed her in the alley and she was weaving back and forth with my pole run. When I saw this video, I thought nothing has changed in 10 years," Kinsel said. "I will say she used a lot of inside leg going across to the second barrel. She was really spurring there," she added with a laugh.

Triangle's 36th Annual Winter Sale Breaks Past Records

Triangle Sales recent two-day Winter Sale smashed 35 years of previous high sale records for the venue, after closing with a net average of $8,200 per head led by two full sister broodmares. The event was held Jan. 26 and 27 in Shawnee, Oklahoma, and sale totals amassed an impressive Top 100 average of $18,500 with an 86-percent sales completion on 547 catalogued entries (minus withdrawals).

This year's record average has transpired from a progressive increase in overall averages, which was $7,800 in 2018 and $6,200 in 2017. The popular "January Sale," is historically Triangle Sales most anticipated sale, consistently driven by performance horses under saddle. The 2019 sale did not disappoint with record high averages and an extensive buying audience on site, as well as live web cast which generated more than 6,000 unique views daily.

The sale's line-up not only featured high quality performance horses of multiple disciplines, but also a troupe of top producers and prospects.

Two full sisters led the high seller slots and rocked sale averages, beginning with Hip No. 61, Oh Miss Peacock (High Brow Cat x Oh Cay Shorty by Shorty Lena) going for $120,000. The 2007 bay mare sold with an embryo by Dual Rey and was among the sale's four high selling horses all consigned by Tom and Julie Atwood, Sonoma, California.

Fellow Californians, Glenn and Debbie Drake and daughter Devlyn of Napa, purchased the sale's top three high selling horses including full sister to the high selling mare, Hip No. 62, Oh Miss Sidney (High Brow Cat x Oh Cay Shorty by Shorty Lena). The 2010 bay mare was purchased for $110,000 by the Drakes, who own and operate Big D horse products based out of Fairfield, California. The mare sold with an embryo by Reyzin The Cash.

The Drakes also purchased Hip No. 77, AR Dual Peptolena (Dual Smart Rey x Cats Peptolena by High Brow Cat), a 2017 sorrel filly that went for $65,000. The filly was one of two 2-year-olds that marked strong sales, both consigned by the Atwoods, which included a 2017 sorrel colt, Hip No. 57, AR Stylish Metallics (Metallic Cat x Stylish Lizzie by Lizzys Gotta Player) who sold for $45,000. Glenn Blodgett, DVM of Four Sixes Ranch made the purchase representing Perry Johns, Fort Worth, Texas.

Upcoming sales in Shawnee, Oklahoma, include Triangle's Spring Sale, slated for April 26 and 27, with a March 15th nomination deadline. The annual Fall Sale will be held October 25 and 26. For more information and additional sale totals, go to www.trihorse.com.

San Antonio, like Houston, Calgary, and other bracket-style rodeos, require making several runs. Kinsel likes that multiple runs allow you to get good in that arena, and that each run gives a chance at a good check. "All I want to do is make runs that are worth the money so my horse isn't wasting any runs. The multi-run rodeos that do pay a lot like San Antonio make it worth it," she explained.

Thanks to her big check at San Antonio, Kinsel is the new number one barrel racer in the world standings. "It's great to have a good winter. Up until my second round at Fort Worth, I was just having a so-so winter," Kinsel said. "I was telling myself to take it as it comes."

While Kinsel seems to have perfected taking it one run at a time no matter what is at stake, there was one run in the shoot-out round at the 2017 RFD-TV's The American that awarded her a huge check and helped bring recognition to the young team that everyone now knows is extraordinary. "That first year let me get some confidence in my horse and myself and what we could do. The best horses in the world show up, and not saying we're going to top it everyday, but we did that time," Kinsel said. Last year, Kinsel and Sister finished second. "It's not everyday you get to make a couple runs for a $25,000 bonus in the winter to give you something to rodeo on the rest of the year. Normally it may cost $50-60 thousand to rodeo for the year, so if you have that kind of bonus it's pretty awesome."

And she appreciates that they're paying the top four places this year. Also new for 2019, The American is a long round of 20 barrel racers on Saturday with the top 8 advancing to Sunday followed by the top 4 shootout round. "So you're asking a lot of your horse three times since it's such a sudden death style, shoot out type - you have to be fast," Kinsel said. "There may be some horses after the third run that decide they don't love AT&T Stadium," she added with a laugh. There are a combination of things that make The American at AT&T Stadium a unique experience for barrel horses. "Definitely a quick takeoff and the first barrel being right there even though there's a lot of room behind it, the super loud crowd and atmosphere - you can't get away from the noise in there, there's not a quiet place you can go - so you have to have a horse that can handle all that once you get in there. And the ground is a tick iffy, just because it's hauled in dirt, so it's like it would be anywhere," she explained. But it showcases the very best and awards them in a big way. "The horses that have done well every time they've been, like Sister and Louie, clearly they do well in that scenario, but for some it's tough. If they can be really dirty fast for three runs, that's impressive in that setup," Kinsel said.

She was actually helping her boyfriend, Jess Lockwood, who's a PBR world champion and "somewhat crippled", flank his bulls before taking the time for this interview. "He and a friend were wanting to buck some of their bulls with dummies and they needed two hands, but he only has one and a half right now," Kinsel said laughing. Aside from flanking bulls, I asked Kinsel to reveal what helps her on a daily basis to maintain a level of excellence. "I don't know how unique it is, but I just keep in mind that someone is always out there working and you have to be that somebody. The good thing about running barrels is that there's never a pinnacle." She continued, "It's an uphill climb all the time. I really like that it keeps you striving everyday. So I get up and start at the bottom each day."

Weather Beaters -- Lisa Anderson and Guys Sangria Win Fiesta De Los Vaqueros

By Tanya Randall

"It was -14 when we left to go to Tucson," said Anderson, who along with her husband Brian, manages Copper Spring Ranch for Karen Gilhousen. "We've always enjoyed entering that rodeo. When we lived in Texas, it was just always part of the winter route. Since we've been in Montana, we normally come down for The Patriot too, but it just didn't work out this year. We decided we were just going to Tucson. I had turned out last year because it rained, but I really wanted to run this horse there."

Aboard the 8-year-old mare Guy Sangria ("Penny"), Anderson won the progressive round and finished third in the short round to win the aggregate and $8,984.

"I was excited," said Anderson. "It was just an honor. I'm very thankful and blessed. I'm thankful to the committee for putting on a rodeo like that. It's a great rodeo."

Her first run was on Thursday after the first little rain shower had hit Tucson, and the ground had the perfect amount of moisture. She and Penny won the first round by 2/10ths with a 17.31. Then the unexpected snow storm came and when it melted off, it made for an uneven mess—knee deep in some spots but firmer in others.

"Once you got out there it was just boggy," Anderson said. Sadye Simpson and God Given Fame (Dash Ta Fame x Wilda x Bully Bullion) won the short round with an 18.34, while Anderson and Penny were a 18.66. "My husband said just don't hit anything, but I feel like if you would have safety-ed up, you would have struggled more. It would have thrown their strides off, I think."

Bred by Bill and Deb Myers, Penny is by Frenchmans Guy out of Hot Brandi N Wine, by Hot Colours. Hot Brandi N Wine, out of the Pie In The Sky mare Fleeting Pie, is a half-sister to Nikki Hansen's pro rodeo winner Sky High Guy. Penny was purchased by Copper Spring Ranch for $35,000 as a 2-year-old at the 2013 Myers Performance Horse Prospect Sale.

"Karen picked her out of the Myers Sale as a 2-year-old," noted Anderson. "Karen has an amazing eye and has picked out several of our top horses."

Anderson said Penny was behind as a futurity horse and she chose instead to "piddle" in the Montana Circuit to season her by alternating runs between her and JK Reckless Lady.

"I'd run one and then the other at the next," she said. "She got really solid doing that. I quit jackpotting her in Montana in the wintertime because they're all inside and she got short. I told Brian I think I'm going to ruin her if I keep trying to cram her and get her up in there instead of letting her get her confidence. So, we kept her in big arenas. It took a long time because everything is so tiny. Our pen (at Copper Spring) isn't tiny, but you can't run them there all the time. She hates running there. It's her home."

"Just because you have your own indoor arena doesn't make it easier to train a horse. You still have to have outdoor pens and different arenas. There's a huge difference between an indoor pen and a covered arena."

THE RUNDOWN w/ Lisa Anderson

Guys Sangria "Pretty Penny" 15.1 hh, 1200 lbs.

BIT: The "Special Bit" she got from Jana Bean. It's handmade gag with a three-piece mouthpiece with a roller. Cord curb chain

SADDLE: Coats

SADDLE PAD: Impact Gel

LEG GEAR: Iconoclast on all four

SHOEING: Steel rims on all four

FEED: Purina Ultium

HAY: Alfalfa with a little grass. "She loves grass hay, but in Montana it's so high in sugar. It's like eating cheesecake. She just loves it."

SUPPLEMENTS: Electrolytes, Moorman's Mineral, Fastrack probiotics

CONDITIONING-TRAINING REGIMEN: PEMF Magna Wave from Chelsea Ray, Dr. Chris Ray's wife; Hansbo products, FlexiNeb with veterinary prescribed medicine, and regular maintenance exams by Dr. Ray to head off any potential problems. "I believe in maintenance and getting your horse checked," she said. "I believe in heading off problems before you've spent all the money on products and entry fees."

SPONSOR: "She gets ridden every day, long trotting and loping, because we can't turn them out a lot up here in winter with the snow and ice."

Anderson said Penny had her break through last summer. "She's just a good little horse," she said. "It's just fun when you see them get their confidence. No matter how old I get it's just so rewarding to take the time and see them come into themselves." Ironically, Tucson was only her second competitive run since last fall.

"I ran her at Fort Worth because Lady bled at Denver," she admitted. "She hadn't had a run on her since October. We ran earlier in the week and she ran a 17.2, which isn't bad. She missed the first barrel a little bit. We went home and I made a practice run before Tucson.

Anderson is on her way back to the frigid north for foaling and breeding season and to prepare for the upcoming events at Copper Spring Ranch.

"You won't see me burning up the rodeo road; work and circuit comes first," she said. "It's a big job that we have. We've got to prepare for the Classic, which is the big futurity and derby we have the first of June as a fundraiser for Western heritage families in need. Last year, we gave seven families, $5,000 each, from families with children with cancer, to horse accidents and rodeo accidents."

They've also got Rodeo Bible Camp during the second week in July and the Copper Spring Ranch Sale on August 10.

Headin' For Home

by Sherry Morrison
Triple M (Mike Morrison Ministries)

I took my granddaughters to school last week. As we were pulling up, we started our 'love you's' and 'have a great day's'. They grabbed their back packs and gloves and got out of the car. But the youngest one came back in and said, "Grams, when you were little, did your friends call you lizard lips?" With the straightest face possible, I said, "No, why?" She shrugged and said, "Cuz you have thin lips.....love you Grams!" and out the door she went. I laughed all the way home!

Though not the most flattering thing to be told first thing in the morning, I marveled at her truthfulness! Kids are BRUTALLY honest. And we've all heard various versions of "does this saddle, these pants or this dress make my butt look fat".

Is telling the truth the right answer? Yes. Eph. 4:4-5 tells us to, 'grow up and speak the truth in love.' And John 8:44 tells us "the devil is the father of all lies and there's no truth in him." That is company I do not want to keep!

As children of God, we need to be lovingly honest. I want my family and friends to tell me the truth. Is it always pleasant? No. But I hope the truth will make a better person out of me! And you!
