Kellies Chick Qualifies Three To RFD-TV's The American Semifinals Rodeo

By Tanya Randall

Charlie Cole and Jason Martin's 7-year-old wonder mare Kellies Chick ("Skye") joins Karla Lane's LZK Dashus Valentina in the rare distinction of having qualified three different riders to RFD-TV's The American. Even more notable is that she did it earning two exemptions.

Skye earned her first exemption to the Semifinals by winning the National High School Finals Rodeo Barrel Racing Championship with Michele McLeod's youngest daughter Lindsey.

Michele earned her exemption to The American in Arlington aboard Skye by finishing in the top 10 in the WPRO World Standings following the 2014 Wrangler National Finals Rodeo.

Then the daughter of Darkelly, out of the Fiesta In The Sky mare The Skye Chick, won the final qualifier at the Dinosaur Classic in Glen Rose, Texas, with Michele's middle daughter Katelyn, earning her third qualification and second to the Semifinals Rodeo.

Now the question is who gets to ride the almighty Skye?

"I think we're going to do a little coin toss," laughed Katelyn, who qualified for the Semifinals and advanced to The American on the mare in 2014. While Michele will run Cole and Martin's stallion Slick By Design, it's a toss-up between Katelyn and Lindsey as to who will run Skye. Their other option is a young A Streak Of Fling mare named Streakin'flingindisco that's currently being seasoned to rodeo.

Katelyn, who wanted to thank Cole and Martin for all that they do as well as her sponsor Oxy-Gen, Gypsy Tails and Glam&Grit, has run Skye far more often than she did when she qualified in 2014.

"I've been pro rodeoing on her since last fall," she said. "When the 2015 season started I stepped on her. I did have to get off her for the last rodeo so Mom could get ready to run her at the NFR. After the circuit finals, I started getting back on her and running her again."

She and Skye placed fourth at the pro rodeo in Odessa and will possibly make it back to the second round at the Fort Worth Stock Show & Rodeo. Incidentally, her mom is also making the second round at Fort Worth on Skye.

"Going into the Qualifier," she explained, "I was making solid runs on her and my confidence was up. To me, it was just another run that paid off big."

The 224-entry Qualifier was the toughest one of them all with less than 2/10ths of second separating first through 10th-place.

Katelyn led the field with a 14.849, worth $4,611. Luckily, Katelyn had a lot of experience with the pressure of the Qualifiers.

"I was able to go down there for the jackpot the night before," she explained. "I had a great run and was third. It was a great confidence boost for me, so I had little more confidence than the last time I was in Glen Rose for the Qualifier. After going to four of them, you kind of just figure—'if I'm going to make it, I'm going to make it.' I had fun with this Qualifier. My sister Lindsey was there with me. Jack Daniels (Karsyn's father) was there. Lee and Terry Vogel were there helping me. It was just a fun group of people. I just said, 'If I'm supposed to make it, I will.'"

"She went into her first and ate it up. I didn't even know I tipped it. It did tip a little bit toward my second, but it went right back up. I had a beautiful third. Going to the third barrel, it got so quiet you could hear a pin drop. She dropped in there and finished it hard. Going home, I thought 'I did it.' I had left all three of them standing. I didn't even know how fast it was. I was just praying to be Top 10. I would have taken 10th spot; I just wanted to be in there."

Utah cowgirl voted into million-dollar rodeo

Utah State University senior Amberley Snyder will compete in the richest one-day rodeo in the world just five years after doctors told her she would never ride a horse again.

Typically, contestants in RFD-TV's $2.5 million rodeo in Arlington, Texas -- The American presented by Polaris Ranger -- must earn a berth via their top-10 ranking in professional rodeo or by qualifying via The American Semi-Finals. However, RFD-TV allowed rodeo fans to choose one rodeo athlete to receive a special exemption invitation via online voting that wrapped up January 27. Nearly 40,000 votes were cast and Snyder won in a landslide, edging two-time world champion Lindsay Sears.

"I don't think it has completely sunk in yet," said Snyder, who will graduate this spring with a degree in agricultural education. "I've been motivated and pushed by what my idols in rodeo have done, and all of a sudden I'll be in the same arena as these people and their phenomenal horses. I'm so blessed for the opportunity to go there and run with them."

Snyder, 24, of Elkridge, Utah, began barrel racing when she was seven years old. Six months before her accident, she won the world all-around championship in the National Little Britches Rodeo Association (NLBRA). But her dreams of a career in professional rodeo were smashed when she rolled her truck on a lonely highway in Wyoming. The five-hour surgery that followed left her with lots of hardware in her back but no feeling in her legs.

When her therapist asked Snyder to choose some goals, she said, "That's easy. Walk. Ride. Rodeo." Snyder not only climbed back in the saddle, but began competitively barrel racing again. She plans to compete on March 1 aboard her 12-year-old horse, ATP Power, which she bought nine years ago as a racehorse and re-trained to run barrels. He was voted Horse of the Year in Snyder's region of the National Intercollegiate Rodeo Association.

"After the accident, he completely stepped up and has been a huge part of why I'm back to competing," she said. "That horse just takes care of me. I know he won't stumble, and he even pins his ears at other horses when I'm riding, to protect me. Every time I get on his back and leave my wheelchair at the trailer, I feel a sense of freedom that gives me a moment of complete happiness."

Snyder's determination and positive spirit have made her wildly popular with rodeo fans who know her online as "wheelchair cowgirl." In fact, barrel-horse breeders Jeff and Andrea Busby of Busby Quarter Horses announced they would donate $25,000 each to a charity of Snyder's choice and to one of their own favorites if fans voted her in. Andrea, incidentally, is also competing in The American Semi-Finals.

The Busby family's generous gifts will benefit Hope Counts -- the foundation raising money to help NLBRA families with an injured member -- and Marcus Luttrell's Lone Survivor Foundation, which supports wounded service members and their families.

"For them to make this dream a reality for me when they didn't even know me, and then on top of that, to put money toward charity makes it even more special," Snyder said. "I'm so thankful they were willing to do that."

Tickets for RFD-TV's The American, presented by Polaris Ranger, and the PBR's Iron Cowboy VI are on sale at the AT&T Stadium Box Office, all Ticketmaster locations and at americanrodeo.com. Prices for each event range from $20 to $150, not including taxes. Tickets for The American Semi-Finals are available for $40 per single day or a three-performance package of $100, not including taxes. They can be purchased at the Cowtown Coliseum box office, at stockyardsrodeo.com, or americanrodeo.com.

His first 4 crops to race have earned over $1.8 million on the track and average earnings of $22,891 each. The Dunns' will offer Cartel Success to the barrel racing and racing community. Cartel Success will continue to stand at JEH Stallion Station in Purcell, OK for a stud fee of $1200 for 2015. Katelyn, who will graduate from Southeastern Oklahoma State University in May with a degree in liberal and applied studies, is currently awaiting the results of the first go at Fort Worth to see if she progressed to the second round. If not, her next run will be Monday morning slack at San Angelo before heading to Jackson, Miss., on Friday. Then she'll head home to prepare for the Semifinals at Cowtown Coliseum in Fort Worth.

Sometime between all the rodeos, Skye will be bred and have embryos flushed. Her first foal, a black stud colt by Slick By Design, was born in early January.

"He is the cutest thing," said Katelyn. "...we'll love him no matter what. He's got some legs on him like his mamma Skye."

Roster set to run at $156K in American Semi-Finals

By Julie Mankin
It's a wrap.

No barrel racing qualifiers remain for RFD-TV's The American Semi-Finals, so the next step is The American Semi-Finals – where if one person wins both rounds, he or she could bank a whopping $48,577. At 9 a.m. on February 18, 116 of the best horses in America will make their first run inside Cowtown Coliseum's 95-foot arena.

The top 30 times will then come back in the performances Friday through Sunday (February 20-22). From there, the fastest 10 will advance to battle the WPRA's top 10 – and a couple of special exemptions – inside AT&T Stadium on March 1 during RFD-TV's THE AMERICAN, presented by Polaris RANGER.

The BBR's qualifying events sucked in a whopping 1,241 entries in just the second year of THE AMERICAN'S existence. Last season saw five qualifying events each send 10 barrel racers to The American Semi-Finals, for a total of 50. This year, BBR sanctioned 11 qualifiers, which means 110 barrel racers will compete at The American Semi-Finals in Fort Worth on Feb. 18-22, plus six exemptions.

It's no surprise that the two qualifying events in Texas received the most entries – more than 200 apiece in Glen Rose in November and in Glen Rose again in January. The next biggest races, each with just over 100 entries, were held in Jacksonville, Fla., Silesia, Mont., Starkville, Miss., and Lincoln, Neb.

The increase in total entries means the payout at The American Semi-Finals has nearly doubled from last year's purse. The total money up at the rodeo is more than a half-million, including $156,211 in barrel racing. The first round pays almost $1,000 for 12th place, up to $8,000 for first. Day monies will be paid in each performance plus five overall holes, including a hefty $40,177 for first place.

The list of Semi-Finals barrel racers reads like a "Who's Who" of the industry, including top futurity champions Latricia Duke, Kassie Mowry, Troy Crumrine and Jolene Montgomery. A handful of little girls – including three 10-year-olds – made the list, as well as nine men (which is up from four last year). Incidentally, Clint Sherlin advanced all the way to THE AMERICAN last year and finished seventh in the long round – just barely out of a berth in the final-four shootout in AT&T Stadium. He won't return in 2015.

The gentlemen on the 2015 roster include: David Skimehorn, Jimmy Bryant, Max Chouest, Kelly Conrado, Troy Crumrine, Brandon Cullins, Quay Eaves, Talmadge Green, Blake Monroe

Also, nine talented racers qualified twice to run at the Semi-Finals. They are: Allie Chouest, Troy Crumrine, Latricia Duke, Samantha Flannery, Jackie Ganter, Cassidy Kruse, Cayla Melby, Jane Melby, Sabra O'Quinn

There are three mother-daughter combinations that could run together at the richest one-day rodeo in America. In Fort Worth, Mary Burger and her daughter-in-law PJ Burger will compete, while Jane Melby and her daughter Cayla will join Hollie Etbauer and her daughter Jacie. Then there are sisters Lindsey and Katelyn McCleod, whose mother is hoping one of them joins her in AT&T Stadium on March 1.

But there's also a father-daughter combo in the works. Rainey Skelton, who turns 11 in February, out-ran some of the toughest horses in the nation to qualify to join her father with a chance to win a million bucks. For two years now, she's been riding Charlie, a black gelding that Charmayne James once owned. Rainey's dad, eight-time world champion team roper Rich Skelton, couldn't be more proud.

"I've had some good success, but watching her do well is better than anything I've ever accomplished," said Rich. "She ran with some of the best girls around and made the top 10. If something goes wrong and she doesn't make it past the Semi-Finals, that's still a great accomplishment."

Rich, 47, received and accepted an exemption invitation to reunite with his record-breaking header, Speed Williams, at THE AMERICAN. He unfortunately drew up in San Antonio during the American Semi-Finals, where he also qualified to rope with Nick Sartain. But that wasn't even on his mind.

"The main thing is Rainey," he said. "She was fired up. We were all excited. I have to thank Randy Bernard and RFD-TV and Cowboys Stadium for letting us come in for one day and compete for that kind of money – to make that in one day is a dream come true. There's no telling how many years it would take to do that rodeoing."

Of the top four from last year's THE AMERICAN, Shelly Anzick and Jane Melby are both back at the Semi-Finals to qualify for another chance at the million bucks. Each lady hit a barrel in THE AMERICAN'S final shoot-out in 2014. But last year's second-place cowgirl, Robyn Herring, did not qualify for the Semi-Finals.

There are several notable horses on the roster to run in Fort Worth, including 20-year-old Cool Rowdy, on whom Taylor Engessor won the college national championship last summer. You'll likely also see Taylor Jacob ride her buckskin NFR arena record holder, Honor Thy Frenchman; and PJ Burger will be back on NFR qualifier Fancy Man Perks. Morgan Breaux will likely run 13-year-old NFR qualifier SS Streaker's R Us, and Laura Kennedy will be riding last year's darling at THE AMERICAN, the June Holeman-trained Hope's Money Boy.

It's also worth noting that at least two horses qualified three different people. Kellies Chick ("Skye") carried Michele McLeod to a top-10 finish in Las Vegas in December. And she carried Lindsey McLeod to the national high school championship in July and Katelyn McLeod to a win finish in Glen Rose in January. Michele plans to run Slick By Design in Arlington, so the sisters will have to decide who gets to ride the great mare in the tiny pattern inside Cowtown Coliseum.

The other triple-threat horse is Karla Lane's 9-year-old sorrel mare, LZK Dashus Valentina, on whom Lane qualified early this season in Pasco, Wash. Then, Valentina carried both Jane Melby and her daughter Cayla Melby to a couple of their double qualifications. Lane bred, raised and trained Valentina.

Getting back to the Semi-Finals, each of the 116 competitors will make their first-round run in slack at 9 a.m. on February 18 inside Cowtown Coliseum. The weekly Stockyards Rodeo does a great job keeping the ground superb through 12 runs at a time on the 13-second pattern during its own slack performances, so that bodes well for every contestant at this year's American Semi-Finals.

The fastest 30 times from that first run will be randomly drawn into the three performances, which kick off Friday and Saturday nights at 7 p.m. and Sunday at 2 p.m. The Cowtown Coliseum holds fewer than 2,500 spectators and is likely to sell out early.

To reserve your hotel room near the Stockyards, visit stockyard-srodeo/hotels. Secure your tickets early through stockyardsrodeo.com or by calling 1-888-Cowtown (269-8696). You can also buy Semi-Finals tickets and AMERICAN tickets through Ticketmaster by calling 1-800-745-3000. If you can't make it to Fort Worth for the Semi-Finals, plan to catch the broadcast on RFD-TV, tentatively scheduled for Friday night at 8:30 p.m. (Central) and Sunday starting at noon (Central).

Immediately after the final performance on Sunday, the general public is also invited to bid in person at Billy Bob's Texas or by telephone or online to buy the sponsor patches on the backs of the 22 barrel racers on the final AMERICAN roster. Watch superior-livestock.com for more details in the coming weeks.

Finally, tickets to THE AMERICAN can also be purchased by visiting www.attstadium.com. Click on Events & Tickets, then Ticket Information and select "The American Rodeo" in the field at the top. For more information visit www.AmericanRodeo.com or visit www.BetterBarrelRaces.com.

McDonald Tops Fort Worth First Round

The first round of barrel racing was completed here on Tuesday and the big winner so far in that event was last year's Women's Professional Rodeo Association Rookie of the Year, Sarah Rose McDonald from Brunswick, Ga.

McDonald took her roan horse "Bling" around the pattern in 16.42 seconds to earn $4,936. This is one of the biggest checks of her career and will give her a boost in the world standings. She will run again in one of the next seven performances and is a favorite to qualify for the finals.

Tuesday saw the completion of 21 of 28 rodeo performances before the championships on Saturday, Feb. 7th at 7:30 p.m. The top 12 in each of the events will qualify and have a chance to add their names to the winner's list and continue the history of the 119th edition of the Southwestern Exposition and Livestock Show.

Competition at the World's Original Indoor Rodeo® continues on Wednesday, Feb. 3 with performances at 2 and 7:30 p.m.

Headin' For Home

by Sherry Morrison
Triple M (Mike Morrison Ministries)

My 89 year old dad is doing physical therapy at the old folks' home. He hates it. It makes him feel vulnerable and inadequate. He is used to doing what he wants, going where he wants to go with his wife and being the boss.

He is a very strong man. He enlisted in the Air Corp at 17. He flew 68 missions in WW II when their life expectancy was 22 missions. He was shot down twice behind enemy lines and walked out both times.

So, I felt a little apprehensive the other day when he and his roommate got into a cussing match while I was there. Seems the other guy is not used to sharing a room. They are in each others' way and the tv's are too loud (neither can hear worth a hoot). There were three or four staff involved. I kept trying real hard not to laugh, but all I could think of was.....

Um....Dad can walk. The other guy is in a wheelchair. This could get ugly!!

I inherited my dad's build, his temper and his love for horses. It has taken the love of God to soothe and disarm that temper. Nothing short of surgery could alter my build. And I would never want to lose my love for horses.

You and I are born with our builds and personalities, and then we become a product of our environment, good or bad. Now what?

When you ask Jesus to be the Lord of your life, you become a new creature. Old things have passed away, behold all things become new. II Cor. 5:17 You inherit all Jesus came and died to give you. Really, really good things!

And for that I am thankful. Because for a few minutes there I had a hold of that walker!
