ChampionOfTheHouse, Willis wins 2nd straight Lucky Dog Futurity

By Tanya Randall

For the second straight year, Leslie Willis of Chester, S.C., topped the $10,000-added BFA Futurity at Lucky Dog Productions' Texarkana, Ark., race. In 2014, she won aboard Gimme Da Money, and this year the title went to Champion Of The House.

Willis and Champ placed sixth in both rounds, in route to a $3,675 victory.

"They weren't the fast runs in the go-rounds," said Willis, "but they were consistent. He kind of got by his third barrel both days just a little."

This is also the second straight futurity victory for Willis and Champ, having won the Southeastern Arena Futurity in Unadilla, Ga., two weeks ago. The key to Champ's improved performance appears to be a headgear change made prior to Unadilla.

"He used to take me by the first barrel a little bit," said Willis, "but I made a head gear change. He did good down at Unadilla two weeks ago and he did well there at Texarkana with his new headgear. Hopefully it will work this week at Diamonds & Dirt."

Willis and her husband Jason purchased Champ at the Winter Mixed Sale at Heritage Place in January 2014. Champ's pedigree is what caught her attention. The 4-year-old gelding is by Furyofthewind out of the Pritzi Dash mare Teenish. It was Furyofthewind's dam that caught Willis' attention.

Furyofthewind, a stakes winning son of Corona Cartel, is out of Dashing Phoebe. A two-time AQHA racing champion and Dam of Distinction (a rare honor given to top racehorse producers), Dashing Phoebe is by Dash For Cash out of a Lady Bug's Moon, Johnny Dial mare.

Several of Willis's top horses have traced back to that lineage. Her great horses A Special Timeto Fly and Time To Coup were out of the Timeto Thinkrich mare Miss Timeto Fly, a half-sister to Dashing Phoebe. Sparkinson's second dam is a full sister to Dashing Phoebe and Washita Carver's second dam is Dashing Phoebe.

Although he has an unusual style of turning, Champ took to the barrels rather easily.

"All last summer, he was my fastest colt when we'd go exhibitioning. He would always out clock all the others by a just couple of tenths. He didn't have a really pretty way of doing it, but he was just fast and he kept moving forward. He just turns and gets away from it, and nothing has really changed much!" she chuckled.

Willis had started Champ with an O-ring with a noseband, but at the first futurity he got to pushing on it. She switched to a Kathy James P Gag and they placed with it.

"When he was a colt, I still wanted a little bit of contact so I could put him where I wanted," she explained. "That's why I had to go to something with a little bit of shank. Like I said, he just goes Stop & Turn is you bump them and then release; you're either in the right spot or not. I'm hoping now that he's mature enough, he'll go to his spots and I'll bump him. I'm still not comfortable in it, so every chance I get I'm playing with it on him. But after winning Unadilla, I was scared to change anything!"

Lucky Dogs—Kendal Owen & Fortune N Fame earn Texarkana high money title

By Tanya Randall

Barrel horse trainer and broker Kendal Owen of Purcell, Okla., left the Lucky Dog Productions' race in Texarkana, Ark., nearly $5,300 richer thanks the efforts of her two horses—Fortune N Fame and Famous Red Romance (“Roxy”).

Fleet-footed Fortune earned the lion’s share—$4,226—while Roxy won $1,064.

“That barrel race last weekend—with what it paid—I almost fell over!” said Owen, a mother of two. “It was crazy. They put on a great production.”

With Fortune, an 8-year-old Dash Ta Fame gelding out of the Corona Cartel mare Already In Love, Owen won Saturday’s race, placed fourth on Friday and fifth on Sunday. They also swept the WPRA sidepots and two of the three Adult sidepots.

“He worked really good,” she said. “Something that really excited me about this past weekend was that he ran really hard. He hasn’t been running really hard because he wasn’t convinced that he wasn’t still hurt. Yesterday (Sunday), he made some pretty good mistakes, but he was running so hard, I was thrilled anyway.”

Last fall, Fortune had strained his groin and is just now returning to his pre-injury speed.

“At first we thought it was pretty bad,” she said, “but it healed really fast and I was able to get back on him pretty quick. I just feel like this weekend, and even at Glen Rose (for the Dinosaur Classic and last American qualifier) when he clocked so fast, I felt like my horse was back.”

Owen was equally excited about Roxy, one of the newer horses in her barn. She bought the 7-year-old daughter of Famous Jr, out of the On The Money Red mare Reds Classy Dame, a couple of months of ago from Nathan Stephens in Kentucky after seeing the mare on his Facebook page.

“She’s amazing,” she said. “I’ve had her two or three months. I’ve already had her run 2 to 3/10ths off some of my arena records up here. She just suits me. I think when I get her dialed in, she’s going to be the rodeo horse. There is not bottom to her. She has no quit.”

Although her friends like to give her a hard time about hitting the rodeo trail, Owen is content to make money at the larger

Bland & Texas War Jet win Glen Rose, place at Bay City PRCA rodeos

By Tanya Randall

Natalie Bland, Boyd, Texas, and her tough Paint gelding Texas War Jet ("Tex") picked up $2,166 at the Texas pro rodeos last weekend. The duo topped Glen Rose, Texas, for $1,735 and placed seventh at Bay City for an additional $431. Her husband, Cameron, a bull rider, also placed at Bay City.

Bland and her hauling pattern Donna Tippen, a.k.a. Mom, escaped the North Texas ice storm by heading to the Texas Gulf Coast for Wednesday slack at Bay City.

"It's a pretty tricky little setup," Bland said of the Matagorda County Fairgrounds. "The alleyway is in the corner of the arena. You can run in or setup, and I ran in. It's a narrow pen, even with the alley in the corner, your angle is not too bad to the first. I just sent him in there knowing regardless if we were a little straight or too wide, he was going to turn it. He had a good first. The pen is so narrow, I turned the first and I was like 'Oh my gosh, the second's right there!' and had to get him moved over. I really held him off the second to keep him from hitting it. He really fun and makes about the same run every time. He just did his deal."

Shortly after she cooled Tex down, Bland left Bay City and made it as far as Caldwell, Texas, before stopping for the night at the fairgrounds.

"We waited as long as we could to let the weather warm up before we headed out of there; I was 50 out so I had a little time to play with but not a lot," she said. "The roads were good until about 20 miles outside of Glen Rose, we started hitting ice. We were like 'WHAT ARE WE DOING!'"

The trip was well worth it, as she and Tex made one of their best runs ever to win the rodeo out of Thursday afternoon slack.

"He felt really strong at Glen Rose," she said. "I'm wishing I had a video because it's one of the best runs I've had on him. I didn't hit a lot of barrels last year, but I hit the second barrel more than

I wanted to. I'd been hanging on to him on the back side of the second. At Glen Rose, I just pitched it back to him and he came on around quicker a lot better than he has been. His barrels were really tight there."

Bland bought Tex, a 10-year-old gelding by Jet My Life out of Boot Skootin Taz, by Ima J Bar Bull, about three years ago from Brice and Karen Manning of Oklahoma.

"They had raised him and trained him and had him started really nice on the barrels," said Bland, who works for her family's metal fabrication company. "He had a really good handle and was started well and was easy to finish out. Tana Renick told us about him and when we went up there and tried him. I just was really impressed with him and could see the potential he had. It took me about a year and half of hauling and just putting in the time to really get him clicking. He's been going good."

Rather than bring Tex up through the jackpot ranks, Bland chose to season the gelding at the rodeos.

"When I first got him I took him to a few local jackpots, but I pretty much just started taking him to rodeos," she explained. "That's what I wanted to do, so I figured I might as well season him at rodeos. A few years ago I went up to Cody, Wyo., and the Dakotas for the Fourth of July run and he did pretty good. He didn't get any money anywhere, but his times were really good considering he was still figuring everything out. I just kept going."

Bland's goal for 2015 is to qualify for the Texas Circuit Finals, and she's well on her way. She has the pro rodeo in Marshall, Texas, this weekend and Goliad and Mercedes, Texas, the following.

Headin' For Home

by Mike Morrison
Triple M (Mike Morrison Ministries)

What would you do if you were driving down an isolated road in strange country when suddenly your way was blocked by fierce looking and heavily armed rebels?

This happened to a friend of mine some time ago. This friend (I'll call him John) was on a mission to Mexico with several others from his church. They were in a van headed up a rough mountain road to visit a remote village where some of the people had never seen a white man and some had never heard of Jesus.

Shock paralyzed the occupants of the van, except for John who casually opened a door and stepped out into the road facing the armed men. Unmindful of the rifles pointed at him, John walked right up to the rebels and began talking to them. Later, John said he didn't know what he said or even if he spoke in English or some language they understood. The men plainly relaxed, smiled broadly and clapped him on the back and then waved them to continue their journey.

John was severely scolded by the rest of his group. "What were you thinking," they asked. "You could have gotten us all killed!"

"The Bible says to pray for your enemies," John told them, "And when they have guns pointed at you, they sure look like enemies to me. Besides, if they had shot me. I'd be with Jesus now!"

The true story points out the need for trust in God. Read His Holy Word and pray. Talk to God and ask for His guidance in your life. He'll instruct you how to live your life and serve Him if you just listen and follow His leading.

Proverbs 3:6 tells us, "Trust in the Lord with all your heart, and lean not on your own understanding; in all your ways acknowledge Him, and He shall direct your paths."
