Big League Payout for Tiany Schuster & Chalk Cliffs

By Tanya Randall

The last pass Tiany Schuster made down the alley at The Expo in Glen Rose, Texas, for J&J Production's March Madness and The Big League weekend was her richest one. She and 9-year-old Chalk Cliff ("Clifford") topped The Big League slot race for $18,982.

"It took me 12 runs to get a winning run," laughed the multiple National Finals Rodeo qualifier. "It was the last run of the weekend for me. I was tired and worn out!"

"I didn't have bad runs, but I was kind of in the cracks. I won a little money in the sidepots. I was thinking at one point, 'This is dumb! This is like high stakes poker gambling!' I had to remind myself that I can't always win, and why we do this. You come out here to run and enjoy your good horses. Just because you had good runs doesn't mean you don't get outrun."

Schuster, who splits time between Krum, Texas, and Canada with partner Edwin Cameron, said she was really pleased with how she rode Clifford on that last run.

"I was almost using this as a training session for myself and not the horse," she said. "I had four horses with me, three days' worth of runs and was down to the last run. I think I just rode really good. Normally, I give all the praise to the horse, but I'm really proud of how I rode. It was a lack of riding. I didn't over ride."

She described her victorious 14.475 as "nothing spectacular" to watch when compared to her run on her gray NFR mount, Famous Mic Guy Ver.

"If you watch Mic Guy Ver's run, it looks like the winning run, but it was 4/10ths slower," she said. "I didn't have a perfect third barrel, but sometimes a 7 is a 10. Normally, he doesn't have a good third barrel. I don't ride him right. I over ride and don't place him right. Yesterday, I really tried to focus on what my job was and get him to that one spot and be there. It wasn't perfect...but it got me over $20 grand!"

All totaled, Schuster won $21,474 on Clifford, a former race-horse with a speed index of 95.

Bred in California by Steve Burns, DVM, Clifford is by multiple stakes winner Separate Interest, a son of racing champion Separatist and from the same tail female line as Tres Seis. He is out of the graded stakes-placed mare Hat D Strawfly, by Strawfly Special.

Burns consigned Clifford to the 2018 Heritage Place Yearling Sale, where he sold to a group of Canadian owners for $11,000. Running on Canadian dirt, the gelding won three of six starts with one second-place finish to earn $13,610.

He went to Canadian barrel racer Hugo Simoneau and then was sold to Mairika Morin, who was running the gelding when Schuster spotted him.

"We were at the big rodeo in St. Tite," recalled Schuster. "He had just won the big Canada Cup the first weekend, and here he is running in the Men's and Women's. I think he won the first round of both the Men's and the Women's. He was just winning everything. I'm friends with her boyfriend, Andy Chalifour, and I asked him if they'd be interested in selling the horse. The family talked and decided they would."

Once in her possession, Clifford was hit and miss, largely due to respiratory issues due to problems with his epiglottis. After multiple surgeries including a myectomy, tie forward, lasering, scar tissue removal, etc., the decision was made to place a permanent trach, a surgically made hole that allows air to enter the trachea, bypassing the throat.

"He was choking on his own throat, not food," she explained. "It got so bad that we were going to have to put the horse down to be humane or put in a permanent trach. We put in the permanent trach. It dang near fixed him immediately. He's a whole new horse after that."

Schuster had a little apparatus made to help keep the hole in his trachea from collapsing during a run.

"It's really been a beneficial thing," she added. "It's pretty intense to look at if you've never seen one before. The alternative...the horse didn't have a good life."

Clifford's epiglottis saga wasn't over though.

"Over Christmas he developed a polyp in that area," Schuster added. "He was sneezing and blowing his nose a lot. He blew out part of a polyp. I took him to the clinic, and we could actually see where it came off. I had actually found (the polyp) and we cut it open. It was full of hay and grass or something. Chad Marsh had to go in there and cut the remaining sack off.

"Now, we try to be a little more diligent about scoping him, like every time we think about it, just to make sure nothing is developing. That had to have taken awhile, and he had to have been miserable for months."

Schuster said she's mindful of not overusing the gelding. "I don't run him a whole lot because I don't want to tax him," she said. "We just have to be a lot more diligent with things. You don't mind doing the extra homework for one that wants to win in spite of some adversity."

Schuster also picked up $2,188 on her other three horses: Mic Guy Ver, Shines By Design and Bigg Rizz. Her total earnings for the weekend were $23,662.

"I think I've been to three of the J&J Races and my horses have been to four," she said. "I don't think that we've left with less than $15,000 at any of those events. This is the first one that I've won. All the others, I've just placed at."

Schuster will compete at Rodeo Houston this next weekend, thanks to Clifford's win at the Waller County Fair Rodeo in Hempstead, Texas. The gelding placed on her final run there last year.

"I got on him last year for the third run," she said. "The first two runs Mic Guy Ver was slow and slow. Then I got on Chalk Cliffs, and he placed in the round. This year I'm going to try to be a little bit smarter and start on Cliff. I'm not trying to win my set. I'm just trying to win enough money to advance."

Skye Miller Takes High Money Honors at Xtreme Queen Creek

By Tanya Randall

Skye Miller was the high money earner for the Xtreme Arizona Races, earning $39,101 of their $1.022 million in purses. The 22-year-old trainer from Riley, Oregon, was the top money earner at Xtreme's most recent race too.

Miller left the Xtreme, held March 5-8 at Horseshoe Park and Equestrian Center in Queen Creek, Arizona, with $17,249.

"The main reason I go to the Xtreme races is the ground," said Miller. "Their ground is unmatched. I can't emphasize it enough. I always track down the tractor driver and thank him. Without him and the ground, it's just another barrel race. Their ground is the best I've ran on."

Miller's personal high money earner was her homebred mare DMR Im Kinda Special ("Lolo"), who earned $12,861.

"She just does Lolo things," said Miller. "She's just so consistent and she's always going to do her job no matter what. She's been that way ever since I trained her. Everything has been easy and you just have to show her something one time and she's like, 'I've got you.' She's just the coolest little mare."

Miller did make a bit change on Lolo for Queen Creek. She normally runs her in a Bunny Hack but switched to a Johnson Hackamore, which is actually a combination bit with a chain mouthpiece that's Hailey Kinsel and DM Sissy Hayday's go-to bridle.

"At that particular race, the barrels were really off the fence," she explained. "With the barrels off the wall, I needed a quicker reaction when I needed her to turn. She's really sensitive so I didn't need much. I have the curb strap really loose. She's really finicky with her mouth. She likes her hackamore, that combo and a ring snaffle. She's very much a diva."

Their first run with that bit was a 15.659 on Friday. They came back and were 15.269 and 15.284 on Saturday and Sunday to take second and fourth in the Mini Million for $4,709 and $3,532, respectively.

Miller says Lolo is a replica of her mother, but faster. The 6-year-old mare is by Ima Special Kindaguy, out of A Short Night ("Shorty"), by Short Oak.

Shorty was trained and shown as a reined cowhorse by Miller's uncle Ron Wiemers. When Wiemers tragically passed in a motorcycle accident, she was sent to Oregon to keep her in the family.

Miller rode Shorty from pee wee classes through her first two years of high school.

Given that Shorty is still producing foals, Miller said the focus with Lolo remains competition for the time being. She'll primarily stick with derbies and larger, high-paying open races.

"I don't really care to go to the rodeos," Miller said. "It's fun here and there, but it's not really my long term with her. She'd make a heck of a rodeo horse, but I don't have a desire to do it."

Miller said that rodeos "just aren't my thing."

"They just stress me out. I like running multiple horses in a day. If I suck at a rodeo, I have to drive home six hours, wallowing in self-pity," she laughed.

Miller also won $4,388 on five other horses, including three futurity horses.

Miller also picked up little open divisional checks with Three R Sweet Jess, a 6-year-old off the track, One Sweet Jess gelding that belongs to Kassie Juetta, and Bessie Coleman, an 8-year-old Eddie Stinson mare that belongs to Melissa Hood.

Outriding the Devil, Angela Ganter's Rise, hits the rodeo trail in Texas on its Premiere Tour

Outriding the Devil has only been seen once, at its worldwide premiere during the "Super Bowl" of Western sports, the National Finals Rodeo (NFR) in Las Vegas. The second time will be at The River Oaks Theatre on March 14 (11 am), the Texas Premiere of a documentary the Professional Rodeo Cowboys Association (PRCA) describes as, "One of the great rodeo movies," which features arguably the most inspirational comeback in rodeo history - world champion barrel racer and Texas Rodeo HOfer, Angela Ganter, overcoming Stage 4 cancer to return to the pinnacle of the sport.

Among an ensemble line-up from rodeo, the movie features 10X PRCA World Champion, Stetson Wright, Texas's legendary ProRodeo Hall of Famer Bob Tallman, and PRCA World Champions Shad "Money" Mayfield, Ky Hamilton, Zeke Thurston, WPRA World Champion, Fallon Taylor, and currently the world's number one saddle bronc rider, Rusty Wright.

The odds were against Angela Ganter surviving Stage 4 breast cancer. If she did, it was incomprehensible that she might ride again, let alone compete. But Angela decided otherwise. During her ordeal, Angela somehow managed to coach her daughter, Jackie Ganter, to the WPRA Rookie of the Year title at the National Finals Rodeo (NFR). In a decade-long fight for life, Angela literally went from "death's door to the winner's circle" at the Calgary Stampede upon her remarkable return to rodeo.

The film is narrated by Brings Plenty's Yellowstone castmate, Forrie J. Smith. "I remember almost choking up," Smith says. "In the film, Angela says it will all be worth it if she can change just one life. She does far more than that," continues Smith. "I had to block the emotions just to stay focused on the dialogue. This film will inspire you and make your problems seem like nothing."

2024 All-Around World Champion, Shad "Money" Mayfield and Lily Wright, daughter of PRCA World Champion Cody Wright and sister of rodeo icons Stetson, Ryder, Rusty and Statler Wright - both make their acting debuts in the film. Mayfield features with 1883's Eric Nelsen in one of the film's historical dramatizations, while Wright plays a young Ganter opposite country music star, Ned LeDoux.

Outriding the Devil has already achieved a #1 ranking on IMDb and is about more than Angela Ganter's indomitable will and courage to overcome cancer and return to rodeo; On a sweeping canvas that stretches from frontier Texas in 1850 to Cheyenne Frontier Days in 2024, Ganter's life and pioneering ranching heritage serve as both living history and a metaphor for Western culture and rodeo. Some of the only existing footage of early legends Jackson Sundown, George Fletcher, and Bertha Blancett, along with the only known film of Old West Texas giants, Charles Goodnight and Chief Quanah Parker, adds emphasis to the movie's breadth.

Quanah Parker's role in advancing cattle and ranching as an economic and cultural driving force in the West with Goodnight, Samuel Burk Burnett, and Daniel Waggoner is connective tissue in Angela Ganter's heritage. Her great-grandfather, John Campbell, was among the first to ranch on the Brazos.

Mo Brings Plenty credits writer/director, Raen LeVell, with bringing new life to these stories.

"Raen and Taylor (Sheridan) are very similar in some ways. They are both visionaries and amazing storytellers," explains Brings Plenty, one of the most popular stars from Sheridan's Yellowstone. "They both also share my passion to depict our history and culture accurately."

Texas Hall of Fame songwriter and two-time GRAMMY® nominee Radney Foster provides classic and original songs to the soundtrack.

Forrie J. Smith encapsulates "Outriding the Devil" in one of his narrations: "When you watch a rodeo, the spirit that made America looks back. E Pluribus Unum. Out of many, one."

If you love rodeo and Western heritage and want to immerse yourself in a story of faith, family, and genuine "true grit," catch Outriding the Devil on its Premiere Tour, beginning at the River Oaks Theatre during Rodeo Houston, the Paramount in the Ganters' hometown of Abilene, the Eastside Cinema during Rodeo Austin, and at the Cinemark, San Angelo, as one of the San Angelo Stock Show and Rodeo's official events.

The tour continues with its Arizona Premiere at the Pollack Cinemas in Tempe, then takes the rodeo trail until September, with several dates in Wyoming and Montana. Outriding the Devil's Canadian Premiere is set for June 18 at The Plaza Theatre, Calgary. Check otdmovie.com for updates.

PRORODEO's 90th year will be celebrated in pages of the PSN

Rodeo has a rich storied history that some say was born in 1869 when two groups of cowboys from neighboring ranches met in Deer Trail, Colo., to settle an argument over who was the best at performing everyday cowboy tasks, including breaking wild horses to ride ranch work – a common cowboy task that evolved into rodeo's saddle bronc riding event.

The PRORODEO timeline started on Oct. 30, 1936. By joining ranks to boycott a rodeo in Boston, a group of cowboys and cowgirls forced the promoter to improve judging and increase the prize money. They picked the name Cowboys' Turtle Association in reflection of the fact that they had been slow to act but had finally stuck their necks out for the cause.

The Professional Rodeo Cowboys Association officially became the sanctioning body's name in 1975. Fast-forward to the present and PRORODEO is celebrating its 90th birthday in 2026.

Throughout the year, the PRORODEO Sports News will have stories about the history of PRORODEO over the past 90 years.

One thing for sure is PRORODEO is rooted in family.

The Steiner family is the only family to have three generations of world champions in father Bobby Steiner (bull riding, 1973), son Sid Steiner (steer wrestling, 2002) and grandson Rocker Steiner (bareback riding, 2025).

The Wright family now has 18 world championships to their name. Stetson has 10 world championships – six in all-around (2019-23, 2025); three in bull riding (2020, 2022, 2025); and one in saddle bronc riding (2021).

The rest of the family have all won world titles in saddle bronc riding. Ryder (2017, 2020, 2024); Cody (2008, 2010); Jesse (2012); Spencer Wright (2014) and Statler (2025).

Fun Fact: the Wrights don't have the most PRCA world championships for families who have competed in PRORODEO. That honor goes to the Braziles.

Trevor Brazile is the King of Cowboys with 26 – (All-Around 2002-04, 2006-15, 2018; Tie-Down Roping 2007, 2009-10; Team Roping Header 2010; Steer roping 2006-07, 2011, 2013-15, 2019-20). Trevor's father Jimmy was a four-time qualifier for the National Finals Steer Roping (1979, 1980, 1982, 1983).

Year after year, rodeos and payouts continue to grow larger in PRORODEO.

This year, during the 90th anniversary, is no different. The 2026 season will see some of the highest payouts ever at some of its PRORODEO Playoff Series rodeos, with the Texas Swing taking the top three spots based on 2025 payouts.

HEADIN' FOR HOME

by Sherry Morrison // Triple M (Mike Morrison Ministries)

"If you are willing and obedient, you shall eat the good of the land." Is. 1:19.
Being willing to change, and obey God, can be challenging. Maybe you have done something the same way your whole life and then you see in the Bible that that was NOT the truth. What now?

I was raised heathen. Lots of wrong theology there. It was generally accepted that you just wanted to go to hell when you died, cuz all your friends were there and you were just going to party.

OH. MY. GOODNESS! How stupid was that????? Stupid. Stupid. Stupid. But then 'hard headed' stepped up and you started saying, "You can't teach an old dog new tricks".

Let's stop shooting ourselves in the foot, and start saying what the Word says about us. Let's test our belief system and answer some of those things with the Word.

Friends, we are not 'old dogs'. We are 'new creations' in Christ Jesus. 2 Cor. 5:17. Jesus is coming. Explore why you believe what you believe and get lined up with the Word. It will strip off some of that old baggage. Repent if you need to. The truth makes us free!
