Craig Stritzke, Might Be Rockin at 22nd Dixie Classic Futurity

By Tanya Randall

Washington-native Craig Stritzke is back to his winning ways after a two-year sabbatical from barrel racing with a victory at the 22nd Annual Dixie Classic Futurity, held March 7-10 at the Washington County Fairgrounds in Hurricane, Utah.

Carrying him to the win was Might Be Rockin ("Snook"), a 5-year-old palomino daughter of Firewaterontherocks out Might Be Legal, by Dash Ta Fame, owned by Lynnzie Smith, the niece of two-time Wrangler National Finals Rodeo qualifier Sue Smith. Lynnzie bought the mare from her aunt and she and Jana Perry had worked with the mare before she went to Stritzke in October 2012.

"The win was a little unexpected," said Stritzke, who is wintering near Hemet, Calif. "I haven't had her that long and she isn't as ready as we'd hope she would be. Her runs were good. Her second run was 2/10ths faster, so she improved the second day. Her first run was good. The second day she tripped pretty good on the third barrel, but she was still pretty fast. I was very happy she made two solid runs."

The $2,500-added Futurity utilized a 4D format. It paid on the two go-rounds with awards for the average. Stritzke and Snook were just out of the money in the first round, but won the second with a 16.597 worth $789. They also placed second in the 2D of the $5,000-added two-run Open for additional $540 and placed second in the Open 2D average.

Stritzke took Snook to their early Arizona futurities in February. The mare ran well, but was "too fast for the 2D" and "too slow for the 1D," he said.

"She's kind of lazy, but she's getting it figured out that it's a speed event," said Stritzke, who wanted to thank Lynnzie, Sue and his mother Noretta Stritzke for their support. "I think she'll stick together better because she is a little lazy, and that's a good thing." Stritzke will head back to Washington for the Valley Girls Barrel Daze and Sand Cup futurities in April.

"I'm kind of playing catch up this year," he said. "I took a two-year break from barrel racing. Had some fun and it was a good mental break. Now I'm back at it, going strong with a bunch of colts for next year."

Equine Tax Parity Act Introduced

On March 6, 2012, Congressman Andy Barr (R-KY) introduced the Equine Tax Parity Act (H.R. 998), which would make horses eligible for capital gains treatment after 12 months, rather than 24, similar to other business assets.

Under the current federal tax code, gains from sales by individuals of property used in a trade or business, including horses, qualify for long-term capital gains and are subject to the maximum capital gains tax rate of 15% for taxpayers earning less than $450,000 or 20% for those earning more. Since the individual tax rate can go as high as 39.6%, the lower rate is a real advantage.

"Horses held for breeding, racing, showing or draft purposes qualify for the capital gains rates only if they are held for 24 months. All other business assets (except cattle) qualify if held for 12 months," said AHC president Jay Hickey. "We believe this is unfair to the horse industry and there is no reason why we should not be treated the same as all other businesses."

The Equine Tax Parity Act would end this discriminatory treatment of horses under the tax code and allow horse owners to enjoy the reduced rate upon sale after holding a horse for 12 months. For most owners and breeders shortening the capital gains holding period to 12 should be a benefit. Reducing the holding period by half would give many horse owners and breeders more flexibility to sell and market their horses. It would mean that every sale of a horse which is held for at least 12 months will qualify as a capital gain or loss unless that horse is held primarily for sale.

"We appreciate Congressman Barr introducing this legislation and highlighting this unfair tax treatment of horses, we will work with the Congressman to get it passed," said Hickey.

D&D is Racing into the National Arena

More than 19 million households will be able to watch highlights of this year's Diamonds & Dirt Barrel Horse Classic.

Horse Racing Television (HRTV) will webcast and air daily updates on the first-class barrel racing competition. The network also plans to webcast the Futurity Finals on Saturday, MARCH 16 on www.HRTV.com.

"We are beyond thrilled with this cutting edge joint venture," says Kristi Schiller, who founded Diamonds & Dirt in 2011. "HRTV was the perfect fit for us. This is a world-class event, and we love that so many millions of viewers will now get to experience it along with us."

HRTV describes the Western sports and lifestyle as the "backbone of the equestrian world!"

HRTV's Western shows are featured on <http://www.hrtv.com/>

western/ -- viewers are invited to "come along for the robust thrill of Western competitors, features that expand your knowledge in the world of riding as well as worthwhile conversations with the best legendary and current trainers in the world!"

HRTV is expanding its Western coverage even more, and Diamonds & Dirt is proud to be a part of that.

"Diamonds & Dirt has almost doubled in size from a year ago. We're excited to share one of the fastest growing equine disciplines in the country with 19 million households," says LaTricia Duke, one of the most successful barrel racers in the country and one of the event's organizers. "In spite of the recession we've been going through, barrel racing is the one of the fastest growing events in the equine industry."

Diamonds & Dirt takes place at the Brazos County Expo Complex March 12 to 17 – each day will feature exciting runs by the most seasoned barrel racers in the country. The Expo Complex also will host dozens of vendors with unique items – and fabulous entertainment and events in the evenings.

DDBHC has one of the richest purses in the barrel racing industry – at more than $450,000 in cash and prizes. The weeklong event will culminate on March 16 with the Futurity Finals and a special Night of Diamonds featuring Texas legend Robert Earl Keen and singer/songwriter AJ Croce.

For a detailed schedule of the week's events, visit ddbarrelhorseclassic.com.

Jethro Sidelined

Recently, Judge Buy Cash, better known as Jethro, tore his bicep muscle in his shoulder at San Antonio and has been sidelined, so Brenda Mays will be competing on her backup horse, Judge My Fame (Dora), for the remainder of the winter rodeos. Mays is hoping to compete on Jethro again by mid-April at the Logandale, NV ProRodeo.

Webcast of Diamonds & Dirt

You can follow all the action of the Diamonds & Dirt Barrel Horse Classic this week from March 12-17 for free! The week's events will be webcasted at www.321actionvideo.com and also at www.equinemediaworld.com. For the full schedule and more information about the event, just go to www.ddbarrelhorseclassic.com

UNOFFICIAL: Top 11 Fastest Times

Compiled by the Barrel Racing Report

Since we posted the Top 10 times on A Standard Pattern, we were informed we had missed one great run for the Unofficial All Time Top 10 times on a Standard Pattern. The run was Casi Conrad and Corona Dude Dancer's 16.688 run at the 2011 ANHA Shoot-Out in Waco, TX. Please continue to send any information about any runs that should be on our list to info@barrelracingreport.com. We have included the Top 11 runs actually now because, these are the only 11 runs found that are 16.6s or faster and anyone running that fast should receive recognition. We are still in the process of verifying the Brazilian records and will include them as soon as we can. We are also still pursuing information on other runs that may belong on this list. We hope everyone enjoyed reviewing all those great runs.

Barrel racing broodmare brings $476K

By Julie Mankin

Fernando Costa and Dale Rankin have done it again. The partners – from Brazil and Texas, respectively – have broken their own record for the highest-selling barrel horse sold in Brazil.

Nearly three years ago, Costa and Rankin (co-owners of Rancho Colina Real in Brazil), sold 2007 BFA world champion Miss Fortunes Fool for a then-record $356,000. On Friday night, March 8, at Haras Raphaela, they auctioned off their recent world record-breaking barrel mare, Ms Perky Bug.

“What we do is try to take real well-pedigreed young mares to Brazil from the United States and add to their value through training and competition,” said Rankin. “Then we market their embryos. Brazil is very much a breeder’s market, which is why we’re in business there.”

“Perky” – a flashy 9-year-old black mare by the late Dash For Perks and out of an own daughter of Bugs Alive In 75 – had clocked a 16.586-second time on a standard pattern a couple of weeks ago in Sao Paulo.

Rankin had purchased her in 2009 through Bo Hill from Lanita Powers Peirce when she was 5, and after a few months, sent her to Rancho Colina Real. Back in December, Rankin’s daughter, Courtney Rankin Duncan, had set an arena record on Perky at one of the oldest barrel racing pens in Brazil.

“They’d probably had half a million runs in that pen in Bauru, so it just shows that the 16.5 in Sao Paulo was not a one-run fluke,” said Rankin.

Also in December is when Rankin and Costa were approached by Haras Raphaela to consign the mare to their big annual sale.

“We’d sold a lot of embryos and she was where we wanted her competitively, so it was the right time to sell,” said Rankin of the decision. “Then she had to go break the world record.”

The owners felt the world record run in late February skyrocketed the value of Perky’s embryos, so they formed a breeding syndicate with two other gentlemen – Wanderley Nunes de Oliveira and an ophthalmologist named Dagoberto Teixeira Filho – to buy her back if possible.

“We knew we would have to bid,” said Rankin. “In Brazil, bid prices are actually monthly payments and the payout terms are usually 30 months. We’d agreed we’d go up to 32,000 in the Brazilian real – which is 960,000 total – but that would be the highest amount we’d bid.”

The partners knew the mare was worth up to 1 million in Brazilian currency, but the bidding in Rankin’s words, “just went crazy.” It jumped from 10,000 to 30,000 right away; then stuck on the syndicate’s own bid of 31,000.

“We couldn’t believe it went so high so fast,” said Rankin. “I think it kind of stunned people a little bit. The last bid before ours was someone from the United States. At least two Americans bid on her at $450,000.”

The final price came to 930,000 reals, which in today’s exchange rates, actually converts to $476,460.

“I am so proud of Brazil,” Rankin said. “They value horses. They are not afraid to put a value on barrel horses.”

An extensive pre-purchase exam including more than 100 x-rays and sonograms was conducted on Perky by Latin America’s top veterinarians, Rankin said, and showed the mare to be completely sound.

“We haven’t run her legs off,” said Rankin, who plans to retire Perky. “It’s pretty cool to think we can retire a 9-year-old sound barrel horse. You get all geared up to let her go, but the cool part is that she stays at our place. We don’t have to say goodbye to her.”

Rankin won’t say that she’ll never run again, however. If the demand for her embryos were to fall, for instance, he wouldn’t be afraid to remind the market just who she is. You could see her run in the future at big shows like the American Quarter Horse Congress or another Grand Prix. In the meantime, “we’ll just pet on her,” he said.

Perky's value as a producer was actually proven just one minute after the gavel dropped. While the mare was still on stage, the auctioneer sold two embryos out of her for 78,000 reals apiece, or $39,894 in U.S. dollars per embryo. Rancho Colina Real is likely to get eight to 10 embryos per year out of the mare and can easily ship them frozen to the United States.

"What's really cool is I'm so proud of my daughter," said Rankin of Courtney, who nailed down a lucrative new sponsorship and has

The RodeoHouston Super Shootout: North America's Champions, presented by Crown Royal, is a ground-breaking event for the rodeo industry. This televised, one-day rodeo invites only the champion athletes from 10 of the best rodeos in the United States and Canada, competing in bareback riding, barrel racing, bull riding, and saddle bronc riding. With a total purse of $200,000, the Super Shootout is the richest one-day rodeo event in the world.

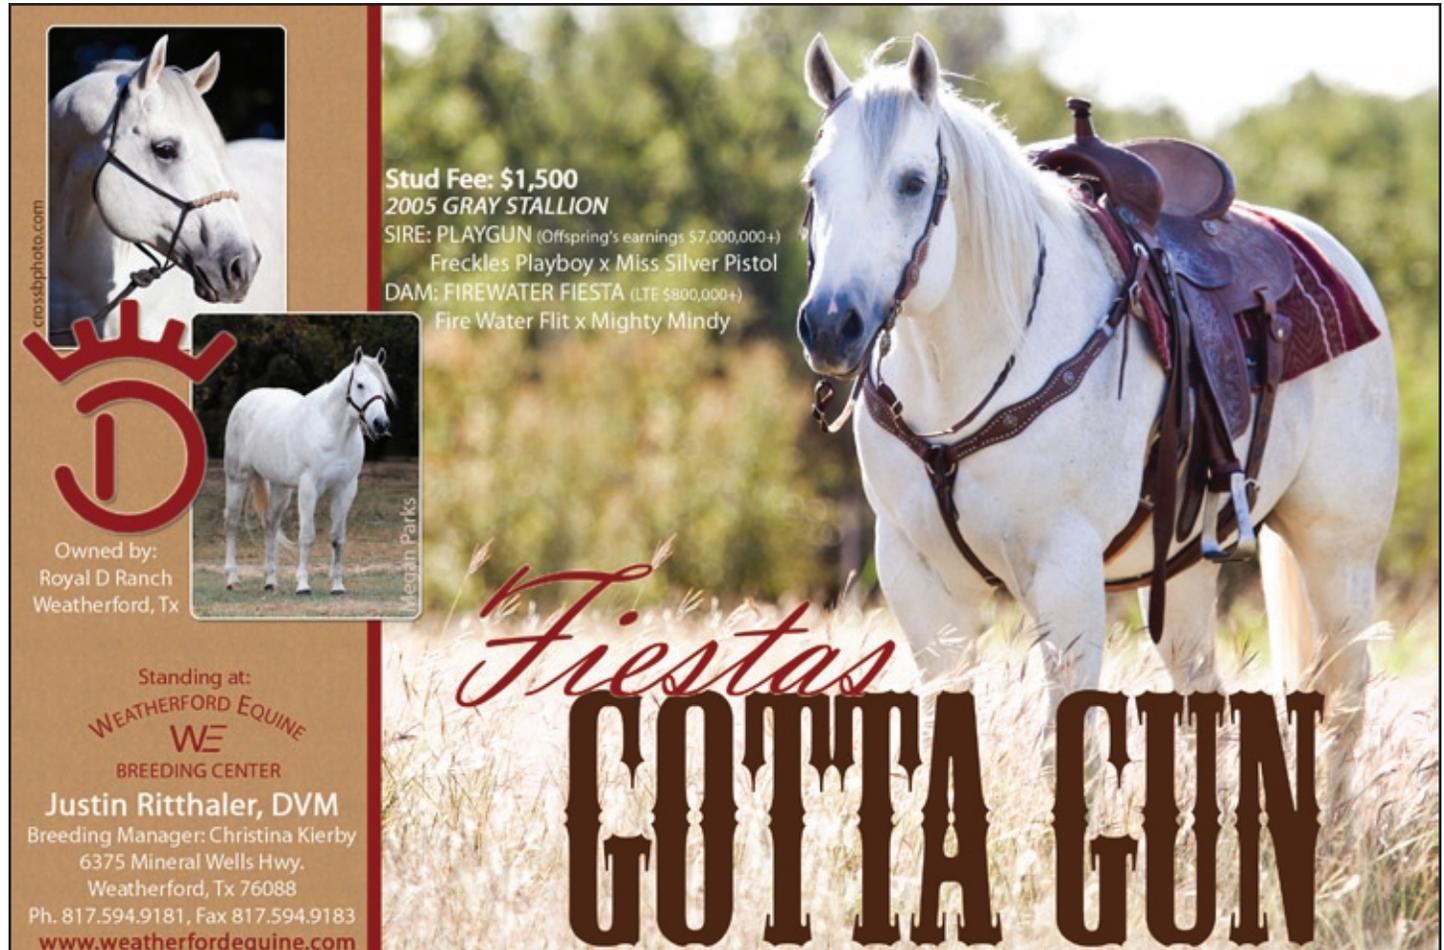

Champions from the following rodeos were invited to compete in 2013:

- Calgary Stampede – Calgary, Alberta, Canada
- Cheyenne Frontier Days – Cheyenne, Wyo.
- Fort Worth Stock Show & Rodeo – Fort Worth, Texas
- National Western Stock Show & Rodeo – Denver, Colo.
- Reno Rodeo – Reno, Nev.
- Rodeo Austin – Austin, Texas
- RodeoHouston – Houston
- San Angelo Stock Show and Rodeo – San Angelo, Texas
- San Antonio Stock Show & Rodeo – San Antonio
- Snake River Stampede – Nampa, Idaho

seen demand skyrocket for her training clinics. "She worked her tail off on the mare and she deserves this victory."

As for Courtney, she's excited about the Ms Perky Bug Syndicate, and said the new partners have the best interests of Perky at heart. Both, she said, have an incredible love of horses and a great desire to breed the very best in the world.

"God has been so good to us to allow us to sell the most expensive barrel horse in history," she added.

Congratulations to Emily Efurd for winning 2012 WPRA Rookie of the Year and finishing #23 in the world standings.

"I'm really liking Revitalize™! I've had my young horse out on the road with me on it and it's kept her from stressing so badly and going off her feed because of it. I know it works because almost every time I hauled her before, she would go off her feed. At the end of the season it even helped Fanny (Fantasia Fame) with this too.

I use the Cetyl M® Joint Action Cream for Horses on my horses' hocks, stifles, and pasterns every time before I run. I think it really helps to loosen them up if they've been standing around and are real tight or have been in the trailer for a long time. I also have my three main horses, including Fanny, on Cetyl M® granules for Horses and I think it has significantly reduced their maintenance." -Emily Efurd*

Headin' For Home

by Sherry Morrison
Triple M (Mike Morrison Ministries)

We pray that God blesses the work of your hands, your relationships and your health. That pretty much takes care of everything that you will ever need and it is available for those of us who put Him first in our lives. I don't know about you, but it's so nice to know that when that devil, as a roaring lion, tells me I'm losing, I can laugh! Lion = Lyin'.

Okay, here's what God gave me this month. Have you ever wondered just what you were good for? Have you ever thought you didn't have any talent? Have you ever admired someone from afar and thought, "Why can't I be them?" Well, boys and girls, have I got the quickest way for you to find out just who you are!!!! THE INTERNET!!! Yessiree! Just google your name! Why, I found out just the other day while driving with Sue to the barrel race that Sherry Morrison has many talents!! Seriously! I went to Cambridge University and became a psychologist! I think it was after I was a hip hop/shadow dancer that won some big thing! And I'm sure I took the proceeds of being an artist to pay for that psychology degree. And now, I can take pictures of the faces of those I counsel... because I am a photographer! Oh my, I didn't know I was THAT talented. And Sue was so enamored with the revelation, that she asked if she could just be in my shadow. Since she is my friend, I said "sure".

LOL!

Groan....you and I both know that this is poppycock! The internet can't give you worth or talent. Only God can. And He did. You were so valuable to Him that He sent His son Jesus to die for you and me. And no one else can do or be what you can. God formed you in your mother's womb and the Bible tells us in Romans 11:29 in the amplified Bible "For God's gifts and His call are irrevocable. (He never withdraws them when once they are given, and He does not change His mind about those to whom He gives His grace or to whom He sends His call). Now THAT'S awesome! You are never too old, too young, too tall, too short, too fat or too skinny. He will never take them back! That's really good news!

I pray that you seek Him...every day...in how to use the talent He gave you for His glory!
