One-Two Punch for Kassie Mowry in Southwest Stallion Station Slot Futurity at Diamonds & Dirt

By Tanya Randall

Multiple futurity champion Kassie Mowry dominated the Southwest Stallion Station Slot Futurity on Wednesday night, March 8 at the Diamonds & Dirt Barrel Horse Classic, held for the first time in the Extraco Pavilion Arena at Waco, Texas.

Mowry and Girls Dig Fame ("Digger"), owned by Michael Boone of Tyron, Penn., posted the victorious time of 15.518 to take $75,000—top dollar in the 40-entry, $180,000 race. She was right on Digger's heels with a time of 15.568 on Mr JB 136 ("Dash"), owned and bred by JB Quarter Horses of Refugio, Texas, to win an addition $25,000 for second place.

"They're both really solid-running horses and very mature," said Dublin, Texas-based trainer. "So, I didn't really worry about any of colt stuff. I basically just sent them in there to try to make their best run and they both delivered."

Digger was Mowry's first horse to run.

"He really inhaled the first barrel, and I had to lift my leg up leaving it or we were going to tip the barrel," she said. "That isn't something that I normally do, so I was really proud of myself for that. It was just a really smooth run."

Running early in the draw, Mowry didn't really know if she and Digger had a good time or not.

"As it went on, I started getting more and more excited because I realized that .5 was a really good run," she said.

Mowry said she had similar feeling about Dash's run. "He just laid down a really nice solid run and was right behind Digger," she added.

Both horses qualified for the Finals of the Dufur Quarter Horses Futurity. Digger carried the fastest time of the event, a second-round winning 15.390, into the Finals.

"It didn't feel like he was running a .3," said Mowry. "I kind of got behind him at the first barrel and I really thought I needed to make up some time at the second two, so I let him turn those two really tight. I was as shocked as anybody when they called out the time. I was just wanting a little faster time to go into the short round."

In the short go, Digger ran .4, but tipped the third barrel. He ended up finishing 29th with total futurity earnings of $4,407.

Dash earned an additional $1,523 after finishing 32nd in the Futurity after catching a barrel too. The 4-year-old son of Dash Ta Fame is dear to Mowry's heart because he's out of the Confederate Leader mare Ms Bay Dillon, the full sister to her great Dashing Dillon.

"I absolutely love that colt, but I feel like he doesn't get much attention. He just flies under the radar. He's just as sweet as can be. He's really fun," said Mowry, who has ridden the colt since he left the colt breakers as a 2-year-old.

Digger, on the other hand, was started by his owner.

Boone purchased the Dash Ta Fame gelding, out of the Merridoc, On A High mare A Girl Needs Cash, as a yearling from Renee Alexander and Amanda Risner's Simply A Ranch in Nacogdoches, Texas.

Digger was started under saddle by Josianne St-Cyr and 30 days later he shipped to Pennsylvania for Boone to start on the pattern. Boone has started and patterned most of his great futurity horses including the legendary Mulberry Canyon Moon.

"He's the ticket," said Mowry of Boone, whose day job is serving as president of Lytle's Transfer and Storage. "He's amazing at started horses. He does an awesome job. They all come back really solid and really confident. He spends a lot of time with them and he's very consistent and patient with them."

Mowry started riding Digger in October of his third year. "I just had to add speed," she said. "It was just so easy for him."

Champion Barrel Racer, Loving Wife and Mother, and Cancer Research Advocate Nancy Hunter Passes

By Tanya Randall

Nancy Hunter of Neola, Utah, passed away on March 12, 2017, after a brief but valiant battle with pancreatic cancer. She was 59.

Hunter and her late, great equine partner Flit N Fizz ("Fuzz") qualified for the Wrangler National Finals Rodeo in 2014 and 2015. They won Rodeo Houston three times straight, from 2013 to 2015. She and Fuzz also owned Caldwell, Idaho's Night Rodeo, winning it from 2010 to 2012 and in 2015; they were second there in 2014. They qualified for nine Wilderness Circuit Finals and six National Circuit Finals Rodeos.

For all of her accomplishments with Fuzz in the arena, she was always quick to thank her husband and high school sweetheart, Fred, for his training and coaching. After her first Rodeo Houston Championship, she said, "I'm really blessed. I wouldn't be able to do this without him. It's all his training. I don't think he gets enough credit."

As accomplished as she was in the arena, Hunter was as fierce and determined as an Amazon warrior princess outside it. A devoted wife and mother, she told Barrel Horse News that her greatest accomplishment was going through and graduating nursing school while pregnant and raising her four boys—Josh, Wyatt, Austin and Kolton.

Hunter took great pride in her boys and their families. She loved her grandchildren. One of her greatest gifts to them was an October 2013 trip to Disneyland, funded by her first Rodeo Houston victory.

"If we rode a ride once, we rode it a thousand times," laughed Hunter. "We were there from the minute it opened until the minute they closed. It was a blast."

Of course, the next big family trip was to the 2014 NFR.

At the 2015 NFR, Hunter started the Glitter Like Gold campaign to raise awareness for childhood cancer.

"They need more money to save these kids," said Hunter. "When I was doing my research, the odds of surviving certain childhood cancers hasn't improved, especially with brain and bone cancer. I don't like putting myself out there and being in the limelight, but I've been down that road with a child with cancer."

Hunter went on to say that when her youngest son Kolton was diagnosed with Hodgkin's Lymphoma the disease didn't have its usual presentation. Mercifully, a girl was diagnosed with a similar case two years prior at Huntsman Cancer Institute, and although the treatment was unable to save her, doctors made adjustments to that treatment to save Kolton.

"That's what research does," she said. "Cancer is devastating for anyone, but when it's your child... Childhood cancers are tough because they're going through chemo and radiation treatments while they're so young and still growing. A lot of children that survive develop secondary cancers from the chemo and radiation and they die from that. Others have disabilities that affect them throughout their lives."

When faced with her own cancer diagnosis, Hunter determinedly fought to aid the cancer research cause through her own treatment. On August 20, 2016, when the family announced Fuzz's retirement and her impending battle, her Facebook page read--

"As with Kolton's battle research and development in this war is the key to success, he was the recipient of those who came to the battle before and found ways to win the war. Team Hunter has been blessed to be able to work with Huntsman Cancer Institute and their wonderful team of doctors and staff. The privilege of working with a facility built for the purpose fighting this battle is a blessing without measure and has given us an opportunity to not only fight our individual war, but help generations to come. As the diagnoses was handed down, the team at Huntsman pulled together and evaluated Nancy's condition looking at her activity level, her cancer type, and most importantly her support network. We have been approached to participate in a new research study and testing called immunology cancer treatment. With Nancy's history as a nurse she was very excited by this option not only for the chance to attack her cancer but also the influence on the battle for those who follow. The rewards of these research projects have been felt in our family before with Kolton's fight, he was blessed by those who came before and this allowed him to win his fight."

Hunter's legacy goes beyond her personal fights with cancer. She touched the lives of all who knew her. She was an advocate for better ground conditions, taking to Facebook to express her feelings on the ground at the 2015 NFR. She was also a large proponent of the WPRA's Drug Rules, using her knowledge as a nurse to express concern about the misuse and overuse of certain medications in barrel horses.

A memorial service will be held on Tuesday, March 21 at the Wasatch County Events Center in Heber City, Utah. Burial services begin at noon on March 22 at the Lehi City Cemetery.

She will be greatly missed. Our thoughts and prayers are with Team Hunter.

\ The Barrel Racing Report would like to extend our thoughts and prayers to the Hunter family...we always enjoyed our visits over the years with Nancy so much and we all knew how important her family was to her. She will be greatly missed by the whole barrel racing community for a long time to come.*

He's probably had more time just hanging out than he has training. Everything has been incredibly easy for him to this point."

The one hang-up Mowry had with Digger was trusting herself to run him like an open horse rather than a futurity horse at the very beginning of his career. To step beyond her comfort level, she entered the San Angelo, Texas, pro rodeo specifically to run Digger in the first round.

"He had been really good at a couple of the early futurities," she explained. "I tipped a couple of barrels on him to win futurities. I felt like I needed to ride him more aggressively, but he's still so young and green. I thought entering that rodeo would help me with my riding; it would be beneficial to me to get out of the training mode and get him in a different kind of atmosphere. I knew the first round was setup like a slack. I just thought it would help me to watch those girls ride those rodeo horses, because they ride so aggressively.

Mowry's plan worked brilliantly. She and Digger placed in the first round and San Angelo, but she really didn't have a plan after that. She ended up winning the rodeo after putting the high-pressure performance runs to her ERA Finals Champion, Firewatermakemehappy, owned by Martha Smith.

The biggest boost was her confidence to ride Digger more aggressively.

"That was the turning point for me with him," she said. "I've ridden him differently ever since I went there and it gave me a lot of courage to ride him more aggressively. He's just been on fire ever since."

Bucket List Victory for Pete Oen & Guys Dashing Jet at Dufur Quarter Horses Futurity at Diamonds & Dirt

By Tanya Randall

Pete Oen is no longer Mr. Reserve Champion. The veteran trainer earned his first major futurity championship at the Diamonds & Dirt Barrel Horse Classic, held March 7-12 in the Extraco Pavilion in Waco, Texas.

The 38-year-old Ohio native, now residing in Ardmore, Okla., won the Dufur Quarter Horses Futurity aboard the 5-year-old mare Guys Dashing Jet ("Stella"), owned and bred by lifelong friend and fellow barrel racer Cathy Geary of Wadsworth, Ohio.

"I've won the long go or one round several times and won reserve champion, but I've never actually won a major futurity," said Oen, who wanted to give special thanks to Geary, Tyler Rivette and his farrier Clint Sherlin.

After a rough start to the Diamonds & Dirt Barrel Horse Classic, Oen and Stella got on track in the second round after hitting a barrel to place in the first.

"She got about a stride past the first barrel in the first round," said Oen. "I'm not saying it wasn't a jockey error. She turned the second so quick and so tight that I pulled it over leaving it. She ran a .9 which would have got her back to the Finals."

The came back with a 15.521, the second fastest qualifying time, to take second in the next round.

"I told myself, 'She's good enough to make it back to the Finals. Don't screw this up. Go get this mare in the Finals. It was what she deserves.' She goes out there and nails the first barrel. If she's ever going to have a mistake, she might get a little by the first barrel if I'm not truly right on point. She was flying!" he said.

Kassie Mowry and Girls Dig Fame ("Digger"), owned by Michael Boone, won the second round with a spectacular 15.390, the fastest the ground in 30th position in the 40-head Finals. He gave a small sigh of relief after Mowry and Digger caught the third barrel early in the Finals, but he still had his run to make.

Stella turned in a 15.784 to take the two-run average lead.

"She worked good but not as good as she did in the second round," he said. "She slipped a little on the third barrel and I think that caused her to come out a little wide. She was rolling. When I turned the third I thought I might have a chance at the average. I knew she'd probably clock good, but not great. When they announced that I was leading the average, I had a little moment in my head where I was like, 'I finally did!'"

Then reality set for Oen, knowing that 10 tough horses were still left to run. When the producers told him to stay close, he chose to go back to his stalls which were conveniently nearby to await his fate.

"I think there were two or three horses that qualified back in the Top 10 after me, so it was far from over," he noted. "I stood right there in her stall and waited. I don't really know what the last horse did, but it sounded like he might have it a barrel. When they actually announced what his time was, I was like 'Oh my God! I actually won this thing!' I had a tear or two run down my face; I'm not going to lie. It was really cool."

The victory was worth $31,724, which pushed Stella's earnings to about $55,000.

"I've worked very hard to support these horses and now it's starting to pay me back," laughed Geary, who owns and operates a plumbing company. Geary bred the daughter of Frenchmans Guy out of the Dash For Perks mare Perks Dashing Jet.

"I bought her mother when she was a 3-year-old off the race-track," recalled Geary. "I trained her and hauled her to all the futurities. Troy Crumrine would just climb on her and he did really well on her. She won over $30,000 as a 5-year-old."

Perks Dashing Jet had her career cut short due to a stifle injury from going over a fence, so Geary started raising babies out of her until the Brazilians came calling.

"They found me and bought her," she said. "She wasn't even for sale, but money talks. I ended up selling her and two of the babies to the Brazilians."

Stella was her last one out of the mare that produced such winners as Perk Broker, Frenchmans Perketta and Cathys Guy.

Geary, 65, started Stella as a 2-year-old, going all her ground work before sending the filly off to rope horse trainer Dusty Griffith in Alabama to be broke. Three months later Geary had her back and started her barrel training.

"My horses seem to get behind, so they run more as 5-year-olds than 4-year-olds," she noted. "I'm sporadic about going to shows, because I have mares foaling and I'm trying to breed back. I just keep pecking away at it."

Stella wasn't ready to go as a 4-year-old, so she went back to Griffiths, who heeled steers on her. Geary got her back in late June and sent her to Oen in July.

Knowing that trainers don't like to get horses late in the year, she was left wondering who to send the mare to and then she made a quick decision to send Stella to Oen.

"I thought, 'I'm going to call Pete,'" she said. "He's quiet with his horses and he takes such good care of them. I've known him since he was a little kid. I told him, 'If you like her, you can keep her. If you don't, I'll take her back home.'"

Oen got Stella when she was "just ready to add speed."

"That's almost the kiss of death for some of us trainers," laughed Oen. "Some of these horses are started so great, but you add an ounce of speed and they go the other way. They get hot or stupid."

Luckily, Stella had no problems and he just had to tweak a few things to make them more compatible.

"I just did a few things that were more me, or my, style," he said. "It was very minute, just a couple of little things."

Geary was happy to have a part in making Stella and seeing Oen win on an Ohio horse.

"He's done a great job with her," she said. "He just went on with her and improved. He'd send me videos. He truly wants to do the right thing for the horse. I'm just still so excited I can't make any sense of it."

Cline Conquers Diamonds and Dirt Sweepstakes Race

By Hope Sickler

Veteran barrel horse trainer Andrea Cline sustained a life changing injury, that forced her to beat the odds to be riding again a year after her accident. Cline's injury, which happened in 2015, was enough to change to her life but it was not about to change Cline's lifestyle forever. This past weekend, Cline proved to be back to her winning ways after she posted the fastest time of the Diamonds and Dirt Sweepstakes Race held in Waco, Texas.

The Diamonds & Dirt Barrel Horse Classic, one of the most prestigious futurities, derbies and open races of the year, was moved from Bryan to Waco this year and this year was considered one of the toughest years since the events inception.

Cline jockeyed Stitches StreakNFame to the win in the Sweepstakes race with a time of 15.450-seconds which earned her bragging rights and a check for $10,000!

"Moses" as Cline affectionately calls the talented 9-year-old gelding is by Firewater Ta Fame and out of Streakin Sider by Streakin Six.

"I hadn't run Moses in well over a year because of my accident but I had entered the 5D on him Wednesday to let him get a feel for the ground and himself before the Sweepstakes run," explained Cline. "I know Moses like the back of my hand so riding him is easy for me. The main thing I have to worry about now is getting my angles to the barrels right due to my vision still not being 100%."

The time that Cline spent off "Moses" back was incredibly difficult for her but she knew it was necessary in order to get herself back to where she was healthy enough to start competing again; she needed to let her body heal.

"It was so much harder to get over this injury with the impact that my head took. There was a lot that wouldn't register and stuff that I didn't understand. Things that I took for granted before were suddenly extremely difficult; such as standing, breathing and walking."

Cline described herself as a "narcissist" because no one was going to tell her that she couldn't do something. Instead of telling people she was going to ride and compete again, Cline wanted to prove it.

"I turned into this machine that concentrated on everything I needed to do. Even my breathing became hard at times so I started breathing exercises. This may sound bad but I became an ego-maniac and maybe a narcissist because nobody on the planet was going to say I couldn't do something. I wanted to prove that I could overcome this struggle," said Cline. "I also couldn't have conquered this injury without the support of my family and friends. They all sacrificed a lot to get me back in the saddle."

Cline advises other athletes that have been hurt and told that they would not overcome the odds, to keep on "chipping away" at their goals.

"Turn whatever your goal is, into smaller goals that will eventually lead you to the big ones. There will still be bad days but if you keep on chipping away and working hard, I promise there will be a reward!"

Lastly, Cline stated that although she got little done in the arena in 2016 due to her accident, she got a tremendous amount accomplished, too.

"Kay Blandford and Charmayne James are tremendous role models and I applied what I had learned from them for years so that I could still be relevant in 2016 somewhat, even with what I was dealing with. Things such as horses feet placement and how successful

IT PAYS TO OWN A BBI HORSE, HURRY UP AND JOIN US!

ADVERTISING HAS ALREADY STARTED FOR 2017. Don't be left out. The earlier you nominate, the more exposure your stallion receives prior to the 2017 breeding season with regional and national advertising.

BBI was formed for stallion owners as an incentive program to breed barrel horses and sell barrel prospects. Now barrel racers are looking specifically for BBI horses.

BBI is set apart from other barrel breeders' programs as we promote an Open Barrel race as well as Futurity & Derby events. Horses 4-7 years old by nominated stallions (or sire if of age) are eligible to run in BBI sidepots. Pictured are some of our 2016 BBI winners: Just Look Quix (JD Look) with Emily and Adi Keefer ("Q" won all 3 BBI futurity events), TS Mrsunpeppy Dash (PC Mr Sun Peppy) and Monica Gruel (Barrel of Gold Derby champs), Margaret Jones (Midnight Corona), Monica Gruel, Emily Keefer and Shelley Murphy (As Good As Nick Gets). 2016 handcrafted awards from JoBeth Hutchison, Gale Beebe and Sammy Jo Hall.

Headin' For Home

by Sherry Morrison
Triple M (Mike Morrison Ministries)

Do yourself a favor. Keep yourself full of the Word of God and not what the world tells you. I know that seems simplistic. But this weekend I got a better look at what can happen if you just go your merry way, giving God no thought.

My dad is in the hospital. He fell and broke his femur. At 91, that isn't a good thing. While visiting with the doctor, a man that I know came up to stand behind me. I said hello and asked why he was there. He told me that his wife was in room 427 and could I come and pray for her. They used to go to church but I haven't seen them in 6 or 7 years. When I went to her room and asked if I could pray for her, she said yes. I asked her what she was believing God for and how we could agree. She said, "I don't want to be healed." I hate that!!!! God wants her healed. Why doesn't she want the same thing? She has no hope.

Deuteronomy 30:19 says, "I call heaven and earth as witnesses today against you, that I have set before you life and death, blessing and cursing; THEREFORE CHOOSE LIFE that both you and your descendants may live." Can you see what the will of God is here? Life. Same thing in John 10:10. But if you don't seek after God, you'll get swept up in what magazines say, the news says and those lovely ads on tv. You'll lose hope!

My dad has made Jesus the Lord of his life. And that's it. He has never filled himself up with the hope that's in the Bible. So now we have this challenge and the only thing he has to work with is what the doctors say. It's like swimming upstream with a 50# pack strapped to your back. Friends, please give God your attention. He loves us so much and has answers for every challenge in our lives. But if we don't know what the Bible says, we'll believe anything BUT the hope that's written in there for us.....He came to give us LIFE and that ABUNDANTLY! Please choose life. Someone loves you and needs you.
