Mowry Sweeps Elite Extravaganza Futurity & Derby

By Tanya Randall

Leading aged event rider Kassie Mowry swept the Elite Extravaganza, held March 11-14 at the Extraco Events Center Pavilion in Waco, Texas. The Dublin, Texas, trainer topped the $20,000-added HHA Futurity aboard Tres Mesa Horses' Steal Money ("Mo") and took her second-straight $10,000-added Elite Derby Championship on Kristen William's homebred superstar Epic Guy ("King").

Mo, a 5-year-old gelding, won the average by and picked up $12,404 for the Futurity Championship and open carryovers. "He's a nice colt," said Mowry. "I'm glad he got to prove himself." Bred by J. Santos Espinoza, Mo is by First Moonflash and out of the Stoli mare Ima Chica Stoli. He had nine starts on the track and won a race before starting his barrel training. Luis Hernandez, who started Tres Mesa's two futurity-winning, NFR qualifying First Moonflash geldings—Dreams First Flash and Macgyver Moonflash—had Mo cruising through the pattern before he was sent to Mowry in the summer of his fourth year.

Mo made his debut against seasoned 4-year-olds at the BFA World Championship Futurity, where he was a Top 15 finalist. He immediately followed it up with a win in the opening round of the OKC Futurity, also against the 2020 futurity horses, and finished in the average as well.

At the MVP Futurity in Buckeye, Arizona, Mo earned a reserve championship behind his stablemate in Mowry's barn, Sand In My Socks. He was a finalist at The Richest Dinosaur Futurity in Glen Rose. The week before Elite, he finished third at The Patriot Futurity.

At Elite, Mowry and Mo won the opening round with a 15.063, which qualified them back to the 40-head short round. A bobble on the first barrel kept them out of the money in the second round, but Mo clocked back up in the short go with a 15.022 to win the average.

"My first round, he had a super good, nice solid run," said Mowry, a two-time NFR qualifier. "He felt good and it was just really smooth. He worked really nice. The second round, I got a bad start and took a bad line to the first. It just had my run off. It wasn't a bad run; it just wasn't as fast. In the short go, he cleaned it up and everything was in good order."

Mowry, who was celebrating a birthday during the first round of the futurity and derby, also placed in the average on her BFA Super Stakes and MVP Futurity Champion Sand In My Socks, owned by Isabella Quarter Horses. Sand In My Socks also qualified for the Breeders Challenge Futurity Finals.

Mowry also qualified all three of her derby horses to The Breeders Challenge Derby Finals—King, who topped the Elite Derby for $6,954 including open carryover money; Famous Ladies Man ("Emmitt"), who finished third, earning $1,871; and CP Will Be Epic, who finished 21st.

While Emmitt placed in the first round, earning his trip back to the short go, both King and Will tipped barrels. Both King and Will's last runs, and slow work for that matter, before Elite were at AT&T Stadium for RFD-TV's The American, so Mowry suspects she may have been too cautious of how they would transition from events in the first go.

"It was a big change from there to Waco, so I was really glad they came back to me quickly," said Mowry. "Running in that arena with that excitement and that energy can really get those horses a little wild. I may have run them too conservative the first day, but coming out of that arena..."

SADDLE PAD: Classic Equine ESP wool-top felt

LEG GEAR: Classic Equine Classic Fits

SHOEING: Lite steel rim on all four

FEED: Renew Gold with Nutrena Ration Balancer

HAY: Cubeit alfalfa cubes and Grass pasture

SUPPLEMENTS: Platinum Performance products

TRAINING/CONDITIONING: If I do any barrel work, it's just at a trot and really relaxed. What you do in slow work really carries over into his runs. It's very rare that I make a practice run on him. It's just mostly just ride him around and make sure he's using himself correctly.

SPONSORS: EquiBrand (Classic Equine & Martin Saddlery) and Brazos Valley Equine

In the second round, the two gray Epic Leader geldings turned in the two fastest times of the event.

"Those two laid down some serious runs," Mowry quipped. Will, out of the Dash Ta Fame mare Percilla, won the round and subsequently the second open race with his 14.622.

"That horse just gives it his all every trip through the gate," she said of Will. "He takes it so seriously. He just tries so hard for me. I love him."

She was particularly proud of how well he performed on both of his runs at the American Semifinals Rodeo, having never competed in the Cowtown Coliseum, and later at RFD-TV's The American.

"I didn't know a 17-hand horse could turn around in that arena," laughed Mowry, "much less do what he did. I didn't have any expectations, but I was sure impressed. And, then to go do what he did at AT&T at the same time—even hitting a barrel, I was like 'Wow, you can literally clock in any kind of pen.' That's pretty special. I'm really proud of him."

Mowry also picked up a check on his 4-year-old full sister CP Epics Percilla, who was making her first run back after an injury.

"She just didn't have the best circumstances," said Mowry, noting the mare didn't get an exhibition prior to her first run, "but I'm really excited about her."

Meanwhile, King had finished second to Will with a 14.765 and came back with a faster 14.754 to cement the Derby Championship. King, who is out of the Frenchmans Guy mare Frenchilicious, now has career earnings of nearly $400,000.

Both King and Will also qualified for the Breeders Challenge Open Finals. Between the Elite and Breeders Challenge payouts, Mowry had won $44,812.

Next weekend, Mowry will wrap up her hellish schedule with the Copper Spring Ranch Futurity in Andrews, Texas. Although it's her seventh event in the past five weeks, Mowry said she wanted to support the event and take advantage of the opportunity to run Steal Money again since he's not eligible for any of the upcoming breeders incentive events or 4-year-old futurities like Old Fort Days. Then she needs a break.

"I've been going insane," laughed Mowry, who wanted to thank Mariah Mannering for all her help. Since Royal Crown in mid-February, Mowry has run at the San Antonio Rodeo—which also overlapped Royal Crown, the American Semifinals Rodeo, The Patriot and RFD-TV's The American all in one week and then Elite.

"I'm a little bit burnt," she admitted. "This week I've been home riding, so this is nice. My horses are doing good, so I've got to go because they've deserve it. Honestly, for my mental health, I just need to be home for a minute. I need to keep up on my 3-year-olds. They deserve to have some consistency in their lives instead of 'Hey, I'm home for a day—get it together!'"

Samantha Flannery & Promise Me Fame Guys Top Inaugural Breeders Challenge Futurity Qualifier

By Tanya Randall

When barrel horse trainer Samantha Flannery heads south from her Mission, South Dakota, home, she's generally got a good one on the trailer.

At the Elite Extravaganza, held March 11-14 at the Extraco Events Center Pavilion in Waco, Texas, Flannery rode Promise Me Fame Guys ("Levee") to the HHA Futurity Reserve Championship and won the inaugural Breeders Challenge Futurity Qualifier for the 5-year-old gelding's owner and breeder Tinley (Keller) Epperson, an ICU nurse in Billings, Montana.

The reserve honors in the HHA Futurity were worth $7,820 plus $537 with open carryover. The Breeders Challenge Futurity awarded $17,130 with $4,386 going to Levee's sire, Aint Seen Nothin Yet, owned by Lisa Miladinovich, and the remaining portion going to Epperson as the owner and nominator of Levee. All totaled, $22,978 was awarded on behalf of Levee's stellar performance in his first futurity.

Levee's path to glory begins with Epperson's childhood four-legged hero, a mare called Bar Blue Lass ("Abby"), by FC Aboo.

"She's got bloodlines that hardly anyone knows," Epperson explained. "A friend of ours, Diane McLean, had her for sale because she thought she was going to be too small for her. We got a heck of deal. She and I fit like a glove from Day 1. I've had her since she was 5, so she's been pretty special to us. She's actually 22 this year. I ran her all through junior high, high school and college. For 12 years, she was my No. 1 gal."

Epperson decided to breed the mare, via embryo transfer, while still competing on her in the Big Sky Region of the National Intercollegiate Rodeo Association. For her second foal, she chose Aint Seen Nothin Yet.

"I was in college at the time. The stud fee looked really affordable and he was just gorgeous. I don't know if much more thought went into it at the time. Obviously, Aint Seen Nothin Yet's bloodlines are pretty great. I figure his conformation and Abby's would cross pretty good together."

As a 2-year-old, Levee had his first 60 days with Travis Young before Epperson took him home and rode him on her family's ranch near Big Sandy, Montana. In the spring of his third year, Dean Briggs rode him for 30 days and started him on the roping sled. Then, Milee Malone Dailey had him for about a month while Epperson and her husband took a medical mission trip to Guatemala. Malone started him on the pattern and barrel drills, which Epperson continued until his winter break. As a 4-year-old, Epperson hauled and exhibited Levee as much as she could until July when pregnancy forced her to hand the reins to her friend Taylour Russell.

"She was running my other horse at the time, Levee's half-brother," Epperson explained. "She was taking him to jackpots for me and a couple of pro rodeos so Levee got to go along and see all the sights."

Epperson was searching for someone to take Levee to the futurities when Jill Lane recommended Flannery.

"I was all ready to say no, because I have enough to do, but then she sent a video," Flannery admitted. "He was pretty rock solid last summer. I got him at the Fizz Bomb and just got used to him. I don't think I took him anywhere until his first jackpot in November. I gave him that two months to get used to me."

After a couple of jackpots at the Triangle Cross in McCook, Nebraska, Flannery knew she really had a special horse.

"He just got faster and faster," said Flannery. "He's been averaging times in that pen that win that futurity in August. I knew I had a superstar based on the times in that barn, but it was fun to go south and prove it."

In Waco, Flannery and Levee turned in three consistent, fast runs. Their first run of 15.142 was third in the HHA Futurity and second in the Breeders Challenge, which automatically qualified for the Breeders Challenge Futurity Finals.

"He was very consistent," Flannery said. "He got by my first a little on my first run, just a tad flat and a little lost. His second and third were spot on. I was a little nervous his first run, so I didn't pull out the whip or anything. I just let him cruise and when they said my time I was like, 'Ok! You are what I thought you were!'"

They were a 15.157 on their second run to place fourth in the HHA Futurity and third in the Breeders Challenge. It also gave them the Breeders Challenge winning average.

"His second run he was still a little flat on his first barrel," Flannery noted. It's a different approach to the first down there from what we're used to up here. We tend to run up the pen a little more here to our first and there it was off to the side."

After a little admonishment from her helper and voice of reason, Cassy Woodward, Flannery fixed her first barrel for the HHA Futurity Short Go. Their 15.116 was good enough for third and combined with their first round time for the reserve championship average.

"In the Finals, he nailed (the first barrel) but then he got off on the second just a tad," she said. "I don't know if he got a little stuck or what, but he fought it for just a fraction of a second before he took off. For the Finals run, I did find my whip and it was like putting him in turbo."

Although it was hotter than she's used to and it took extra work to keep her wooly crew cool, Flannery was tickled with her first trip to Waco. She was also pleased with her mare FL Epic Sized Gem, a daughter of Epic Leader out of her former standout Miss Geminy Oak, that finished a few spots shy at one of the toughest futurities this year. She's looking forward to the upcoming Washington futurities, the BBR Finals and the Ruby Buckle.

Flannery wanted to thank Woodward for all her help, Epperson for the opportunity to ride Levee and The Breeders Challenge. "I think it's a great spin on what can be done (with an incentive)," said Flannery. "I love the qualifying part of it. They gave away phenomenal prizes. What I loved is that they were usable prizes. You could give me a bucket every day of the week!" While Epperson would love the chance to run Levee herself, her job, new baby and younger horses out of Abby have kept her plenty busy.

"We'll just have to see," she said. "I'm really thankful (Flannery) is able to take him and show him off for me since I'm not able to leave my job and kiddo and travel all that way."

A Brilliant Shining Cowgirl - Jill Welsh Moves On

Successful business owner and professional barrel racer Jill Welsh passed away February 23, 2021 after battling the lasting effects of a 2007 lupus and rheumatoid arthritis diagnosis and kidney cancer in 2011. Jill had no idea this time a severe lupus flare from stress would lead to no recovery, ultimately leaving her in renal failure of her last remaining kidney, pancreatitis, and congestive heart failure.

During her far too brief time on this earth, Jill truly was an inspiration to those around her. She personified desire and courage despite her debilitating illnesses to compete at the highest level of professional barrel racing.

Born in Prescott, Arizona, Jill's western family life set the foundation for the future for Jill to become an all-around rodeo athlete and brother Kyle to excel in his roping aspirations. The small family of three—with the Lord on their side—never lost sight of their loyalty toward each other, competitive nature, love of horses with Jill's positive attitude leading the way.

Jill progressed through local, state and national youth and college rodeo wins of many buckles and saddles, riding "CJ," raised by Melanie Higgins of Carlsbad, New Mexico. "CJ" gave her confidence by placing at the highly competitive Martha Josey Junior World Championships and sizable wins in open competitions.

Jill captured attention with her black horse "Dolly," rightly registered as FaithHopeAndCharity. Jill was a top All-Around competitor that was exciting to watch win numerous seven second goat tying titles, breakaway and team ropings. Raised and super trained as a calf roping mare by Richard Stowers of Madill, Oklahoma, "Dolly" lived a cherished life with Jill until passing due to age at 38.

Jill's barn included "Rendi," raised by Wrangler National Finals Rodeo barrel racer and trainer Rachel Myllymaki of Arlee, Montana. Nicole Romo owned the sorrel mare and she gave Jill a chance to step up to another level by allowing her to purchase "Rendi" to fill her WPRA professional permit.

Jill graduated Yavapai College with career sights on dentistry and was attending Northern Arizona University when her life was abruptly changed forever. In 2007, at just 23 years old, Jill was diagnosed with Lupus and severe Rheumatoid Arthritis that doctors expected would confine her to a wheelchair within six months without aggressive treatment. Both degenerative diseases have no cure and attack the body by destroying healthy cells, joints, and organs. Jill refused to let the diagnosis define and limit her ambitions. A shift in career led her to become a business owner, partnering with her brother Kyle who had recently graduated from ASU Business School. They moved to Parker, Arizona.

In 2011, Jill's health issues progressed to life-threatening. Jill was emergency air-lifted to a hospital in Phoenix. While in route she suffered two heart attacks and upon arrival was informed she had to undergo aggressive cancer treatments which included an ablation (removal) of her first kidney and an ovarian tumor. These immediate actions were followed by chemotherapy and radiation treatments. She was only given a three year life expectancy. Fighting to recover and desperate to return to the saddle, Jill was in and out of a wheelchair. Gastrointestinal complications robbed her body of the ability to absorb nutrients, leaving her in weakened state.

During Jill's time in the hospital, "Rendi" unfortunately coliced and passed away after not receiving proper care and attention at a boarding facility in Tucson. Jill contacted Rachel, looking for another horse from the Montana cowgirl. Myllymaki had a super talented palomino gelding registered as Frenchman's First Watch she named "Custer." When Jill and her family went to try "Custer," the resilient and relentless cowgirl was still relegated to a wheelchair. She was too weak from the chemotherapy and radiation to even make a practice run. In fact, she had to be lifted into the saddle and Myllymaki ponied her aboard "Custer" about 800 feet. Jill knew that "Custer" had already proven his talent and abilities in the arena but he won her heart by gently caring for her that day. That was more than enough for Jill to instantly fall in love with "Custer."

Barrel racers often lovingly call their equine partners God's unicorns, but with

"Custer", there really was something more about the pairing with Jill. They truly seemed to share more than a heartbeat, and "Custer", whom she quietly called "Jas", pulled her out of her wheelchair. Despite Jill's many health challenges and lack of muscle strength, she and "Custer" became a great team together. At the rodeos, the pair gained an intuitive sense for each other by taking things one step at a time. Jill called what the gelding did for her outside the rodeo arena priceless. From the first moment she was lifted into his saddle, too weak to even hold the saddle horn, "Custer" seemed to understand how to help Jill in any situation.

In 2015, Jill and "Custer's" hard work and perseverance set the stage for an amazing year. Beginning with a title at the Livermore Rodeo, the duo went on to become the highest money winners in PRCA during the Cowboy Christmas Season. Jill and "Custer" won the silver spurs at the Reno Rodeo and continued with two of the largest Fourth of July rodeos, Greeley Independence Stampede and Cody Stampede as well as big checks at Prescott and St. Paul.

The pair suddenly had the national spotlight and the world watching their inspirational story unfold. Jill's refusal to give up her dreams in the face of adversity gained her a huge following from all walks of life. She drew strength from the cheer and roar of the crowds relating to their own personal tragedies and illnesses.

The incredible success for Jill and "Custer" continued at Salinas and an exciting Champions Challenge Title in Cody. Large paydays at Caldwell, Santa Barbara and Coeur d'Alene set the stage for a possible NFR qualification.

Then came an unfortunate late season stumble for Jill and "Custer" at Pueblo, Colorado and the new primary concern was now "Custer's" well-being and health. Jill left the rodeo trail immediately and took him to Dr Herthel's Alamo Pintado Vet Clinic in California, where she personally made sure that his bruise was fully recovered before ever leaving. Their bond to take care of each other was remarkable and "Custer" knew he could count on Jill just as she counted on him.

The over cautiousness kept Jill from the NFR that year as she fell from seventh in the world to finishing 16th in the WPRA World standings. Her fellow barrel racers voted "Custer" — the exceptional horse who barely ran at the minimum of 35 rodeos and won so many prestigious titles — the 2015 AQHA/PRCA Horse of the Year. The following year continued to give Jill experiences that only a few would ever know including placing at Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo, San Antonio Livestock Show and Rodeo with "Custer" and Jill proving themselves at both indoor small patterns and outside big patterns.

Jill was so concerned for "Custer's" longevity on the rough rodeo trail that she campaigned to purchase "Prince", registered Imanonstopfame, raised and trained by another NFR competitor Jackie Jatzlau and owned by Shelly Weaver. "Prince" was a proven champion as he won the Old Fort Days Futurity in Ft. Smith, Arkansas as well as numerous pro rodeos in Texas. Jatzlau and Weaver decided to try to help Jill achieve her goals by allowing her to purchase "Prince" knowing that Jill would take great care of their precious masterpiece. "Prince" brought comedy to Jill's life as the youngster seemed to watch "Custer's" every move, listening intently, and learning how to care for their special jockey.

Jill competed at the top level as her health issues continued to overwhelm her body, twisting hands that held reins, little to no fluid in her spinal joints, hips and legs that held her in the saddle with more bad days than good. Jill found new ways to ride with her crippling body. When she was well enough to go to rodeos she placed at huge rodeos like San Angelo Stock Show and Rodeo, Austin Rodeo, Salinas Rodeo and Cheyenne Frontier Days. Jill also won titles at Cave Creek, Arizona and Springville, California on "Prince."

"Custer" also came thru again for her at the 2019 Reno Rodeo, clocking the fastest time of the entire rodeo in the short go, giving them the Reserve Championship in a come from behind win. The duo was able to clock a 16 second time at Reno Rodeo five years apart. Jill always said she felt free of her issues when she was running and if you asked her how she was she would comment "just glad to be here."

Despite her challenges, Jill was grateful to all those who helped her live her life,

New general manager tabbed for NFR

Allen Rheinheimer has been named general manager of the Wrangler National Finals Rodeo, the National Finals Rodeo Committee announced March 9. The event, which was held at Globe Life Field in Arlington, Texas, in 2020 due to COVID-19-related issues, is annually held at the Thomas & Mack Center in Las Vegas and is scheduled for Dec. 2-11, 2021.

A seasoned professional with more than 30 years of experience in equestrian production, Rheinheimer will work closely with the Professional Rodeo Cowboys Association, Las Vegas Events and the NFRC on all aspects of rodeo production.

"Allen brings diverse managerial experience to the Wrangler NFR," said Pat Christenson, president of Las Vegas Events. "He has been in a key production leadership position for more than 20 years. His overall understanding of the scope of the Wrangler NFR will be an important component in showcasing and enhancing the production and show elements on rodeo's biggest stage — in Las Vegas."

During his career, Rheinheimer has overseen all elements of equestrian and livestock production, including many aspects of the Wrangler NFR. Since 2000, he has served as the construction maintenance manager, coordinating production elements of the Wrangler NFR, including — among other responsibilities — openings and anthems, rehearsals, maintenance crews, risk management procedures and production timeline development.

A seasoned professional with more than 30 years of experience in equestrian production, Rheinheimer brings a diverse background to the role. Since 1988, he has served as the president and owner of Showtime Jump Company, LLC, a horse show production company that services more than 25 events each year. He also serves as the production manager for the Classic Company, LLC and equestrian manager for The Hampton Classic Horse Show.

"Allen has brought his knowledge and expertise to the Wrangler National Finals Rodeo since 2000," PRCA CEO George Taylor said. "We look forward to working with Allen to further showcase our world-class athletes and stock as he leads one of our nation's premier sporting events into the future."

Having grown up on Cedar Crest Farm in Indiana, which produced both top show horses and beef cattle, Rheinheimer is a dedicated professional fully entrenched in event production in a variety of environments. He also served as the technical coordinator for the FEI World Cup Jumping Finals in 2000 and 2003 and the FEI World Cup Jumping and Dressage Finals in 2005, 2007, 2009 and 2015. He was the show manager for the 2020 FEI World Cup Finals.

Known as the richest and most prestigious rodeo in the world, the Wrangler NFR attracts the top 15 contestants in bareback riding, steer wrestling, team roping, saddle bronc riding, tie-down roping, barrel racing and bull riding to compete for a share of the $10 million purse and the coveted PRCA Gold Buckle. In 2019, the event had a total attendance of 168,289 over the 10 days of competition at the Thomas & Mack Center and has sold out more than 330 consecutive performances in Las Vegas.

experiencing rodeo at its best and doing what she loved. She appreciated the rodeo committee's hard work to put on such treasured rodeos. Jill held her friends in high regard and appreciated those special horses that enriched her life as seen by her infectious smile.

Community issues had taken a toll on Jill's health, so she searched for a home in Texas to be closer to many of the competitions and the western life. In December 2020, she made a week trip to her newly purchased home in Weatherford and seemed to be embracing the upcoming move.

Jill's shortened life gave her family ten more years instead of the three predicted by doctors, but it will never seem enough of having someone as genuinely special as Jill around. Crushed and devastated, Jill leaves behind her devoted mother Sandra and protective brother Kyle, as well as "Prince" and "Custer," who no doubt continue to carry her spirit and heartwarming reflections of Jill herself who will bless her family with their company in Jill's absence.

She also leaves behind a legacy to her many friends and fans as a brilliant shining example of a cowgirl. Her family believes she is free of tears of pain in Heaven and reunited with her beloved Jack Russell "Tuffy" and "Dolly." Jill will be celebrated by her family by finishing her aspirations to build an indoor arena and barn with a peaceful environment in Texas. In lieu of flowers, please share memories and thoughts, keeping her alive in our hearts at dollyb2007@hotmail.com

Thank you to Jill's family for this tribute. We want to send our condolences to all Jill's friends and family. She was a great friend to the Barrel Racing Report and will be greatly missed.

We achieve more when we chase the dream instead of the competition.

HEADIN' FOR HOME

by Sherry Morrison // Triple M (Mike Morrison Ministries)

This month, we have been blessed to acquire another teenager! We are now the proud grandparents of two! Why am I so excited? Because grandma planned ahead!

How do you plan ahead for something like teenagers? God. Just like you and I should do everything! I know that right now in 2021 it's been a 'surviving day by day' time. And the Bible tells us in Matthew 6:34, "Therefore do not worry about tomorrow, for tomorrow will worry about its own things. Sufficient for the day is its own trouble."

God also tells us that we reap what we sow. Gal. 6:7. I want to reap good things. Today, tomorrow and forever. I know you do, too. You put into practice sowing and reaping when you sow seed into this ministry.

So. How did I plan ahead for teenagers? Examples. About 6 years ago, we were eating at a local restaurant. At the table next to us were three teenagers. One of the young people had a mom working there. I'm not sure exactly what the problem was, but that young person was so awful to their mom.

Sullen, disrespectful. And since we were about 3 feet apart, my grandkids got to hear and see it all. And they didn't like it. None of us did. When we got out to the car, they wanted to talk about it. We acknowledged it was the wrong way to act and what God says to children about respecting their parents. And then. Drum roll here! BDA Consulting, LLCWE PINKIE SWORE that they would never act like that! LOL!

To this day, if we lose our smiles or act unbecomingly, we remind each other of our pinkie swearing pact and we honor what we swore to. It made an impression on them. I'm thankful.

Each of us can go back to the day we asked Jesus to be our Lord. On that day, we gave Him the authority and right to be our boss. To honor Him. When He leads, all will be well with us. No matter the circumstances.
