Kinley Follman & Reces Peanutbutter Collect $43,642 at The Patriot Event

By Tanya Randall

Former trick rider Kinley Follman made her fourth trip to The Patriot Event, held March 4-15 in Fort Worth, Texas, her best one yet with a $43,642 haul aboard Reces Peanutbutter (“Gator”).

“I overachieved my goal a little bit,” said the 17-year-old home-schooled junior who splits time between Towner, North Dakota, in the summer and Dublin, Texas, in the winter. “I’ve been running there for four years. The first year I made it in pole bending. I didn’t have a good short go. I swear this event didn’t like me before this weekend. I had the worst luck at The Patriot every year. This year it finally happened. I feel like I paid my dues and it was finally my turn to do good!”

Follman started riding when she was 9 after watching a rodeo. Her parents Sheldon and Serena had ranch horses but weren’t involved in rodeo or horse competitions.

“I actually started trick riding,” she said. “I went to trick riding school in Pueblo, Colorado, for three years. I even got to perform at our local rodeo. But I started to realize that you couldn’t really go anywhere with that. I would still do it if I could, but I sold my trick riding horse.”

She started running barrels seven or eight years ago. She credits her parents for making sure she has every opportunity—“They’re always there for me, good or bad, to tell me how proud of me they are,” she said. “Barrel racing is a big mental game, and my dad is really good at helping mentally before and after my runs.”

In the arena, she’s had help from Sharin Hall, Kelly Allen and Kyle Leleux.

Follman had a winning track record in the pole bending, having won the 2023 National Junior High Finals Rodeo, but she knew she needed to focus on barrel racing as pole bending opportunities are limited after age 19. So, her family purchased Gator in May of 2025.

“I wasn’t having a lot of luck with the young ones,” she said, “and I didn’t have a lot of confidence. I needed something that would be consistent and confidence building for me. Sharin Hall told us about this horse. I tried him and hit it off right away.”

Bred by Karey Burton, Gator is by Cashinova Countdown out of Buttercup Brown, a daughter of noted barrel horse sire Special Show. The 10-year-old gelding also has Follman sitting third in the North Dakota High School Rodeo standings in the barrel racing.

Follman qualified for The Patriot through the qualifier at the Go Fast Thanksgiving Classic in San Antonio, Texas, which had been postponed until January due to the equine herpes outbreak in late 2025. The qualification allowed her to go straight to the Semifinals Round, rather than through the Last Chance Qualifier at the event.

“I actually qualified on two different horses and my friend qualified on him,” she explained. “I had four horses come up lame and had to get him back.”

Follman only had Gator back a week before The Patriot.

“We ran in the Open just to get a run in before the Semis,” she said.

They clocked a 15.396 to place 20th in the Open Long Go. Their next run was their fastest of the event, a 15.273, to place third in the 19U Semifinals.

“He was a little bit slower in the Open (Finals),” she said. They picked up $3,991 for fifth in the 2D with a 15.584. “I think he was just a little bit dehydrated, so we got him (a vitamin) jug to get him feeling better.”

Follman and Gator were last on the ground in the second to last drag of the 19U Finals, and they clocked a 15.303. The win was worth $32,000.

“I was really proud of how he clocked last on the ground,” said Follman, who had to lift her leg around the first and second barrels. “It was deep. He was really firing this week. I sometimes have problems finishing my barrels with other horses and he actually did the complete opposite of that. We were over finishing them, which helped us with our times...straight lines.”

Dusky Lynn Wins 15-and-Under, $48K at Junior Patriot Finals

By Julie Mankin

The Hooey Junior Patriot organization has divisions with three different age maximums. At the Finals in Fort Worth at Will Rogers Memorial Center, March 4-15, sixth-grader Dusky Lynn Hall raked in $48,275 in all of them aboard three mounts. The money may have pushed Hall's barrel racing earnings over $300,000 for 2026 and over $2 million in her lifetime.

In fact, out of the dozen highest money earners over 11 days – including adults in the Open – Hall made up three of those. Since kids are only allowed to run two horses in each Semi-Finals and one in each Finals, the Halls – who live just an hour away in Stephenville – creatively spread Dusky Lynn's weapons out.

She ran Ain't Seen Famous Yet ("Wally") and Chasin A Win ("Spitfire") to roll those times of 15.264 and 15.403, respectively, into the 12-and-Under, 15-and-Under and 19-and-Under Semi-Finals, placing second and third almost across the board.

Then, in the top-15 Finals of the 15-and-Under, she ran 8-year-old JH Firewater Honor ("Louie") to win the championship – and her fattest single paycheck of $14,800 – with a smoking time of 15.196 seconds. It was nearly identical to the time recorded in the Open by Carlee Otero aboard AM Regina George, for perspective.

"I'm proud of him," said Hall. "Louie likes a wide-open alleyway because he's very scared of everything. He'd never been in that arena, and ran in there blind. It's a rodeo, so there were no exhibitions."

The Halls purchased the Chris Coffey-trained Louie last April out of Louisiana through Julie Murphy, who was rodeoing on him for Kristen Roby and Brandon Fortney. He's by Firewaterontherocks out of Packin Honor Jet by Packin Sixes.

"Louie is really fun to run," said Hall. "Especially because the less I do, the better he works. I just run him in a Flaharty hackamore with a curb strap that's not even touching him. It's basically not doing anything. I could probably run him in a war bridle. Sometimes I can get behind on him, though. If you barely touch his face, he will slow up. He's super fun to run and just loves his job. I feel like he would be like Peanut Seed at the NFR and probably go run the barrels by himself."

Not only that, but the 12-year-old girl and her Amelia-McCumber-trained 12-year-old palomino, Wally, earned a whopping $20,097 in Fort Worth with that 15.2. In addition to placing in all three Semi-Finals of the Juniors, Wally's run placed sixth in the Open Long Round against several NFR qualifiers, along with garnering some sidepot money. In the 19-and-Under Finals, however, Wally hit the only barrel he has ever knocked over with Hall at his reins for the past three years.

"Wally needs exhibitions because he's so cautious and spooky," explained Hall. "That run he clocked a .2, he slowed to the second barrel and was loping so slow around third, I'm not sure how it stayed up. Then in the Finals, he tipped third because he was going so slow. Wally doesn't hit barrels! He's just so spooky. That's why they called him Watchy Wally."

Plus, said her mother, they've been working on preventing Wally from bowing off the third barrel, so they may have overdone that a bit. By the Frenchmans Guy/Dash Ta Fame/Streakin Six stallion already. At the Will Rogers arena, the Junior Patriot's 19-and-Under Championship was won by Kinley Follman aboard the race-bred Reece's Peanutbutter with a 15.303 that earned her $32,000.

As for Hall's run in the 12-and-Under Finals aboard Spitfire, it was crazy.

"He was just smoking, and turned first pretty good," Hall recalled. "When I went to set him for the second barrel, he headed back to the first barrel! Looking at the video, I had lifted my hand like Kelly [Conrado] taught me, and my rein flipped over his outside ear. So, when I pulled, that outside shank got pulled and he went right where I told him to go – the opposite direction!"

The duo still clocked a .6, just for the record, and wound up fourth to earn a rodeo-total $13,378. The champ was Tabitha Dyal on the former NFR horse that Lisa Lockhart made famous – Promise Me Fame Guys ("Levee") – with a 15.470 for $9,700.

The little 6-year-old Spitfire – Hall's Kinder Cup champion and arena-record-setting derby horse – is by the Chasin Firewater son Chasin Aces N Fame out of The Lion Queen by the High Brow Hickory son Highly Visible.

Jimmie Smith & Roarrin Ta Fame Claim Patriot 1D Championship

By Tanya Randall

Jimmie Smith was waiting in the holding pen when she turned to fellow competitor Ryann Pedone and asked, “What are we running in right now? Is there added money or anything?” Pedone responded with “Yeah! It pays really good!”

Smith had entered The Patriot Event for the American Qualifier. Her carryover times on two horses had actually qualified for the Open Finals that she and Pedone were running in that Saturday morning.

“I thought, ‘Oh my gosh! That’s so cool!’” responded Smith, who was sitting second on Brickk (“Nicholas”) at the time. “Then Kitty goes in and wins it, and I didn’t even know what we were running for!”

Smith and Roarrin Ta Fame (“Kitty”) made a smoking run of 15.039 to win the $11,175 Patriot Open 1D Championship at the annual event held March 4-15 in Fort Worth, Texas.

“She was tight at the first and she lost her hind end in the ground, so I had to crawl around it with her, so we didn’t hit,” said the former National Finals Rodeo qualifier from McDade, Texas. “She’s just incredible!”

Bred by Beau and Meredith Beck, Kitty, a 6-year-old mare, is by half-million dollar sire and futurity champion Roarr out of the blue hen mare HMB Soon ToBe Famous, by Dash Ta Fame. Kitty is a half-sister to futurity champion and NFR qualifier High Cotton Lane ($501,650 QData) and 2025 Pink Buckle Futurity Champion GamblingSlick ($392,723 QData).

The Beck’s consigned Kitty to the 2022 Pink Buckle Sale where she was purchased by Felicia Taylor’s FC Ranch for $35,000 and sent to Danyelle Campbell for training. Kitty had placed at the OKC Rookie and BBR futurities when Campbell posted her for sale on Facebook.

“She wasn’t up, but for maybe three minutes, and I called Danyelle,” recalled Smith. “I cannot get there for a week. Please don’t sell her. I want that mare!”

Campbell told Smith that Kitty was “a handful.” She also recommended switching the mare from the left barrel first to the right. “I met Danyelle at Hamilton (Texas),” Smith said. “I took her from her trailer and saddled her. She reared up. She sat back. She did all the things at the trailer. I went through exhibitions and I don’t think anything went right. I was like, ‘I have to have her,’ and took her home.

“She’s so athletic. She’s gritty. She’s a lot of horse. She’s a lot to warm up, waiting in the holding pen, she’s going to bounce on her front end. That fits in at my house. I love the crazy, gritty mares.”

Smith and Kitty won a little bit in 2024, but things started to click for the pair in 2025.

“2025 she really came into her own,” said Smith. Kitty had QData earnings of $76,187 prior to The Patriot. “It was one of those things that I had to give her the time. I knew that. Danyelle knew that. She was exactly what I was looking for, something to bring along at their own pace and add to my team.”

Kitty was also pulling double duty at The Patriot as she was in foal to NFR qualifier DM High Roller when she won the Open. In fact, the only reason Smith had stayed in the area after she made her initial qualifying runs was to have Kitty’s embryo flushed.

Smith also picked up $8,498 in Patriot cash on Nicholas after placing fourth in the American Qualifier and fourth in the Open Finals.

“Nicolas is incredible,” said Smith. “He’s so good.”

Bred by 70 Ranch Performance Horses, Nicholas, a 5-year-old gelding, is by all-time leading sire Dash Ta Fame out of Nicky Brick House, by Brick House Bouncy. Nicholas is owned by Kyle and Deda Potter, who also own Smith’s main rodeo mount, A Valiant Nicky, a Valiant Hero daughter of Nicky Brick House.

“He is so talented,” said Smith. “I love that horse so much. He’s my second Nicky Brick House baby. They’re just so special. He’s got so much grit. It’s funny because he’s so calm at home. He does have a little bit of Nicky’s attitude.”

AQHA Announces an Update on Cloning

Researchers at the University of California-Davis Veterinary Genetics Laboratory have successfully validated a scientific approach to qualify or exclude parentage in situations where one of the reported parents may be a clone rather than the original horse.

Dr. Rebecca Bellone, director of the University of California-Davis Veterinary Genetics Laboratory (VGL), shared the update with the AQHA Stud Book and Registration Committee during the 2026 AQHA Convention in Las Vegas. This research was funded by AQHA.

AQHA Registrar Tammy Canida noted that the issue has been a point of concern for nearly two decades, dating back to the cloning of the first American Quarter Horse. Under AQHA rules, clones – and their offspring or descendants – are not eligible for registration.

The topic gained additional attention following litigation brought by breeders seeking to require AQHA to register cloned horses. AQHA ultimately prevailed, reaffirming the Association's long-standing governance structure as a member-driven organization in which the rules are established by the membership.

For many years, it was believed that mitochondrial DNA testing might offer the only solution. However, because mitochondrial DNA traces through the maternal line, it could not provide the comprehensive validation needed to definitively distinguish between the offspring of the original horse and its clone.

Today's announcement is the culmination of a conversation that started several years ago between Jim Brinkman, 2026 incoming AQHA president and rancher from Ericson, Nebraska, and Dr. Bellone. They explored an important question: Could science provide a reliable way to determine whether a foal was produced by an original horse or by its clone?

AQHA will fund additional research and development for the VGL to help bring this testing capability into practical application. Preserving the integrity of the American Quarter Horse pedigree is central to AQHA's mission, and this issue has remained and will continue to remain at the forefront of discussions for many years. If you are interested in participating in this research project, please contact Tammy Canida at (806) 376-4811.

AQHA is proud to support this important work and partner with the UC-Davis Veterinary Genetics Laboratory – recognized worldwide as a leader in equine DNA testing – to safeguard the future of the American Quarter Horse.

Tractor Supply Steps up as Presenting Sponsor of the Wrangler NFR

Tractor Supply Company (NASDAQ: TSCO), the largest rural lifestyle retailer in the United States (the "Company"), announced today it is an Official Partner of the 2026 National Finals Rodeo (NFR), known officially as the "Wrangler National Finals Rodeo presented by Tractor Supply Company." The sponsorship of one of rodeo's most prestigious events solidifies Tractor Supply as a top supporter of western sports nationally, regionally and locally.

Through the official partnership, Tractor Supply will connect with rodeo fans through media, in-arena presence and on-site activations surrounding NFR, while maintaining a year-round presence at PRCA rodeos nationwide. Additionally, PRCA rodeo athletes will make several scheduled appearances at Tractor Supply store locations throughout the year.

"Rodeo runs deep in many of the communities Tractor Supply calls home," said Kimberley Gardiner, Chief Marketing Officer at Tractor Supply. "Partnering with the PRCA and serving as presenting sponsor of the National Finals Rodeo, professional rodeo's biggest moment of the year, is a powerful way for us to celebrate the grit, determination and community spirit that define Life Out Here."

Elite Partnerships

Tractor Supply has long supported rodeo as an extension of its ongoing involvement in western sports, which are a significant part of the rural lifestyle it serves. To amplify its participation, in 2025, the Company became an Official National Partner of PRCA. In early 2026, Tractor Supply announced a partnership with legendary rodeo stock contractor and retired professional rodeo cowboy Cord McCoy to sponsor McCoy Rodeo events, including the Oklahoma City ProRodeo, Bullnanza, the WRCA Ranch Rodeo and the Ada ProRodeo.

"As someone who has spent a lifetime in rodeo, I know how important it is to have partners who truly understand our way of life. Tractor Supply isn't just a sponsor — it's a place I rely on for the supplies that keep my animals healthy and my operation running strong," said Cord McCoy. "Their commitment to rodeo shows they're invested in the people and communities that make this sport what it is, and that kind of support means everything to those of us who live it every day."

Building on its commitment to engaging rodeo fans nationwide, Tractor Supply also collaborated with Teton Ridge and The Cowboy Channel in 2025 to activate the Rodeo Live stage at several major rodeo events across the country. The stage featured live programming, athlete interviews and fan-focused entertainment that connected in-arena audiences with viewers watching across The Cowboy Channel's national broadcast platform. The partnership culminated at the fan experience outside the Thomas & Mack Center during the National Finals Rodeo.

Tractor Supply has also supported some of the sport's most iconic events, including Cheyenne Frontier Days, and served as the presenting sponsor for multi-platinum selling and CMA Award-winning country music artist Cody Johnson's COJO Championship Event in 2025. The Company is a year-round partner of the South Point Arena & Equestrian Center in Las Vegas, home to many of the country's premier equestrian and western sports events.

HEADIN' FOR HOME

by Sherry Morrison // Triple M (Mike Morrison Ministries)

In northeast Wyoming, we enjoy a plethora of weather. This winter alone, though not normal, we have had lots of warm. 40-50 degrees. We love it. It is, however, rather difficult to know how to dress.

In the closet by the back door, I have 4 sizes of muck boots. Little slip ons for poop in the corral. Ankle ones for if it rains. Midcalf for a little snow, and knee high for lots of snow. I'm ready.

Last week, I was headed outside in shorts, long sleeved shirt, down vest and flip flops. I wasn't going to be caught unaware! As I headed to the garage, it occurred to me that I looked quite ridiculous. But the laugh wasn't going to be ON me! It would be ABOUT me!

We should be that way about the coming of Jesus. Prepared. Hebrews 9:28 tells us

“... To those who eagerly wait for Him, He will appear a second time...” We are to occupy until He comes. My friends' grandfather was a preacher, and he told her this.

“Live your life with one foot in the present and the other in heaven. When it's time to go, just shift your weight.” Easy transition!
