Jordon Briggs & Famous Lil Jet Defend Rodeo Houston Championship, Jump to World No. 1

By Tanya Randall

Fans of Jordon Briggs and her great horse Famous Lil Jet (“Rollo”) would breathe a lot easier during her runs if announcers would stop mentioning her yearlong clean run streak during her 2021 World Championship run. Yet, the consistently quick duo rarely disappoint, cranking out solid run after solid run.

At a grueling tournament-style rodeo such as Rodeo Houston, held February 28-March 19, multiple clean, fast runs are a must. For a second straight year, Briggs and Rollo continued to be the models of quick consistency with a $58,000 championship.

“I’m always so grateful to Houston...to win that money,” said Briggs, who used last year’s championship to scale back the travel necessary to qualify for her second straight, and third overall National Finals Rodeo. “I still feel like I need to win about $20,000 more to feel safe for the entire year, but it is nice to be able to take a deep breath.

“I appreciate all that the Rodeo Houston committee does for us as contestants. The money makes a huge difference for our bank accounts and making it to the NFR at the end of the year.”

Rodeo Houston is a bracket-style rodeo with a $242,000 purse. The 40 contestants were spread into five, three-run Super Series. Each Super Series paid six holes each night so nearly all competitors went home with some cash.

Briggs, who calls Tolar, Texas, home, was out in Super Series I. “I was in the first set last year and that worked out for me,” she explained. “It just makes things flow better where I’m not fouled at The American or Austin. I like to enter few and far between so I can make everything work without having to beg anyone for a trade.”

While Rodeo Houston had the fastest, safest footing it had seen in years in 2022 – it even drew Briggs’ praise following the event—they were forced to change the ground due to concert debris contamination.

“We were kind of the Guinea Pigs in the first set. They did work as hard as the could to figure it out, which we’re all grateful for,” said Briggs, who later noted that ground guru Randy Spraggins is set to help with the ground prep for next year’s event.

Briggs and Rollo, a 9-year-old gelding, won the opening round of their Super Series with a 14.93 and followed with a second place

14.90 in the second. On their third run, Rollo got hung up in the deep, shifty ground at the second and caught the barrel for a plus five.

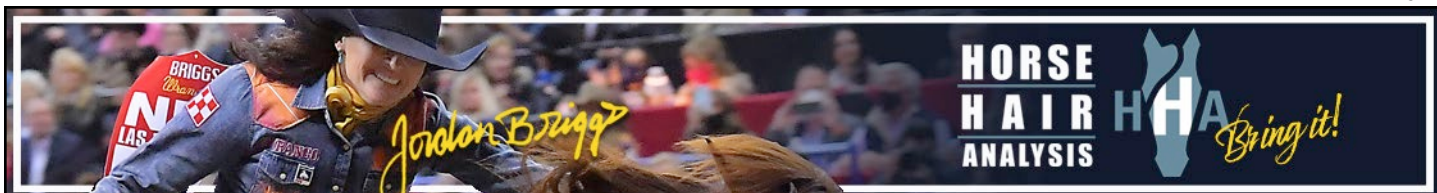

“We survived our set and made it back,” said Briggs, who collected $5,000. The top four ranked by money won advanced to one of two semifinals performances. “That was our main goal.”

Briggs said most of the time that she doesn't love the bracket system “because you have to make too many runs for not enough money,” but she was grateful for it in Houston as the times got faster after ground conditions improved.

In the second semifinals, Briggs and Rollo posted the fastest time of the rodeo, a 14.35, to advance to Sunday's Championship Round.

“When I saw the draw for the second semifinals, I thought, ‘Crap! I don't want to be in that set!’ It was a tough group of girls. I think the majority of the girls that won their sets (Super Series) were in that second semifinals. It was a dang tough barrel race. That was the toughest run you have to make of the whole rodeo—to get out of that semifinals.”

Briggs's semifinals' set included Super Series V Champion and eventual Rodeo Houston Reserve Champion Molly Otto and Super Series III Champion Stevi Hillman, who had won the most money of any barrel racing going into the semifinals. It also included eventual Wild Card Round Champions Jessica Routier and Wenda Johnson.

In the Championship Round on Saturday, the top four would advance to the Championship Shootout for the $50,000 title. Briggs and Rollo were first out.

“I was grateful for that,” she said. “I could just go make my run and let what happens, happens. I like that mindset of it.”

They got back “barely” in third place with a 14.73. In the Championship Shootout, Briggs and Rollo were second out in a field that included Routier, Otto and Sissy Winn, who had split the win in the first semifinal.

“I thought it was a very consistent group of girls,” Briggs said. “Molly Otto had the most money won coming into the Final Four. Sissy had the second fastest time (of the rodeo) and ran the fastest time in the sets (Super Series), and of course, you can never count out Jessica Routier and Missy (Fiery Miss West), especially when the ground is not the best.”

In between her two runs, about an hour apart, Briggs took Rollo back to the trailer and offered him water, since he doesn't run on Lasix, and removed his saddle and boots. She also put him back on the trailer so he could relieve himself on the shavings.

“I did all of that and then saddled him right back up,” she said. “It wasn't hot but the flies were really bad and the horses were staying agitated. So, I saddled right back up during the calf roping and went back inside. There's nowhere to warm up so it's mainly get them warmed up at a walk.”

Briggs said she thought that Rollo didn't work as well as he could in the Championship Round because he was feeling out the ground, but she knew he'd come back harder for his second run in the Shootout.

"I was going with my confidence in that...that he'd have the ground figured out this run," she said. "Like my mom said, 'He always does exactly what he needs to do. He was three 1/100ths faster than Molly. I totally know how Molly feels because I got beat by four 1/100ths of a second at The American.'"

Otto, who picked up $28,500 at Rodeo Houston, made the biggest jump in the WPRA World Standings, moving from No. 33 to No. 4. Briggs moved from No. 8 to No. 1 with $81,467.

Incidentally, this the second straight year for the top two horses at Rodeo Houston to have a maternal line connection.

In 2022, Briggs and reserve champ Kassie Mowry were both riding horses bred by Busby Quarter Horses, both by Dash Ta Fame and both had Canadian Champion Barrel Horse Lady Perks in their maternal lines.

This year, both Rollo and Otto's Teasin Dat Guy ("Chewy") are out of daughters of Blazin Jetolena. Rollo is out of Blazin Black Beauty, while Chewy, by Frenchmans Guy, is out of Teasin Jetolena.

Both Rollo and Chewy were standout futurity horses as well. Briggs' Rodeo Houston victory will allow her to spend more time training her colts and seasoning her past futurity horses at circuit rodeos.

"I'm going to finish up with Austin and San Angelo," said Briggs. "San Angelo is our biggest circuit rodeo that actually counts. (The limited entry Texas rodeos like San Antonio and Houston don't count toward the circuit standings). I'd like to do well at San Angelo to set myself up for the circuit finals and then I'll just get my circuit count in on some colts this year."

Houston's Rodeo Village

Two-time Rodeo Houston Champion Jordon Briggs wanted to commend the committee for taking great care of their contestants. One of the features that standouts out at Houston above all other rodeos is its Rodeo Village.

"They have an awesome place for us to hangout as long as we want," said Briggs, referring to the contestants only campground about 11 miles from NRG Stadium, where the rodeo is held. "The rodeo trailer park award for the year goes to Houston."

Some of the amenities include covered stalls with bedding, a pipe enclosed turnout, a pasture to ride in, free plug-ins and RV dumps.

"The best part is there are people there 24/7 to feed us," said Briggs. "They have a bar and live music for us. They have a playground for children."

Given the perils of Houston traffic—it is one of the largest cities in the United States—the committee has a preplanned route for contestants to take to the stadium.

"They feed us at the stadium also and they pay us to sign autographs so we all want to go over there somewhat early anyways," Briggs explained. "It can take you anywhere from 20 minutes to an hour. Everybody starts heading out of there about 4- to 5 o'clock, so that gives you plenty of time."

Briggs said the volunteers at Houston along with San Antonio and Fort Worth are amazing.

"Those rodeos take such good care of you that you have to go back every year," she said.

Luck Of The Irish For Sara Winkelman & Fairway Ta Fame In Mercedes

By Tanya Randall

2022 Great Lakes Circuit Finals Rodeo Champions Sara Winkelman and her 8-year-old, homebred gelding Fairway Ta Fame (“Rory”) continue to hold a spot in the WPRA’s Top 15 with a $4,976 victory at the $10,000-added Rio Grande Valley Livestock Show & Rodeo, March 15-19 in Mercedes, Texas.

“It was St. Patrick’s Day and I had the luck of the Irish with me,” said Winkelman, who hails from Big Lake, Minnesota. “I tipped the first barrel and it went halfway over and stood back up. I kind of thought there was no way it was going to stand back up so I didn’t ride really hard across to the second. By the time I got to the second, someone screamed, ‘It’s up!’ So, I rode harder to the third and had a really nice third barrel.”

Winkelman, a speech, language pathologist, was the fifth runner in 9 a.m. slack on Friday morning after making an all-night drive from Montgomery, Alabama, where she ran in slack on Thursday afternoon.

“It was a long drive,” she said of the 14-plus hour trip. “There was a lot of construction and accidents slowing us down. I got into Mercedes at about 5:15 a.m. and I was No. 5 in slack that started at 9 a.m. There wasn’t a lot of time to spare there.”

Although she didn’t know if her run of 15.62 would hold through the remainder of the rodeo, Winkelman was awarded a $200 cash bonus and a gift certificate for a pair of Rios of Mercedes Boots for having the fastest time in slack.

She said her horse Rory has been “a trooper” through his first winter run.

“He’s just a cool cucumber,” she said of the gelding she raised by Streaking Ta Fame out of her Perks Alive mare Fair Lady Perks. “He always seems excited to do his job. I guess he’s cut out for it if he can make the drive from Montgomery to Mercedes, have four hours off the trailer and go win the rodeo!”

With her Great Lakes Championship counting toward the WPRA World Standings, Winkelman entered up during the winter. She ran at Denver and Rapid City, South Dakota, before heading south for a few Texas and Southeastern Circuit Rodeos.

“It’s been great,” said Winkelman, whose primary hauling partners consist of her two children, ages 3 and 5. “I’ve been getting to spend more time with my kiddos. We spent a lot of time in Florida and we got a lot of beach time. The kids loved that it was their first ocean experience.”

Winkelman, who currently sits No. 13 in the WPRA World Standings with $22,913, is out at Waxahachie in Thursday slack and Nacogdoches in Friday slack. She plans on being “south” a little while longer before heading north for Easter.

Never did she expect to be on this journey.

“It’s a little girl’s dream,” she said, “and then you grow a little older and realize real life is pretty tough. It seems far fetched to be able to rodeo full time. Then a special horse enters your life...”

IPRA Implement Instant Replay Review Challenge - International Finals Rodeo 54

The IPRA (International Professional Rodeo Association) announced today that they will implement Instant Replay Review Challenge (IRRC) for the International Finals Rodeo (IFR) in January 2024. The IPRA's World Championship event will now offer this opportunity to its athletes with IRRC inclusion in the IFR54 event Ground Rules.

"The IPRA believes that with advancements in media coverage and with this event having World Championship implications, it's time for us to lead - into the future of Rodeo," said IPRA General Manager Dale Yergian. "We will invest in some additional equipment and cameras that we have not had in the past. This will offer additional support to our Athletes and Officials to help ensure the right calls are made."

Recently acquired by Rodeo Logisitics LLC, the IPRA is positioning itself for growth and influence in the Rodeo industry. As the sport's second-largest professional rodeo association sanctioning over 400 rodeos annually, the IPRA also has a membership base of over 2,700 members and currently sanctions rodeos across the United States and Canada.

Although now very common in professional sports leagues like the NFL, MLB and NBA, Instant Replay Review is not typical in Rodeo and western sports events. The first to introduce the concept to competition was the Professional Bull Riders (PBR). In 2006, during PBR World Finals, Luke Snyder challenged that he slapped Frontier Rodeo Company's Silent Angel during his ride. After review, the call was reversed and Snyder was awarded a 80.50 score for his effort. This serves as the first record of Instant Replay Review Challenge in western sports.

In 2016, the now-dissolved Elite Rodeo Athletes (ERA) launched a televised tour using Instant Replay Review Challenge and was the first tour or series of events in Rodeo to do so. More recently, in 2018 World Champions Rodeo Alliance (WCRA) launched and has implemented the Instant Replay Review Challenge for all events and televised rounds of competition.

"Instant Replay Review has been in practice consistently, in rodeo, since the WCRA launched. It's time we at IPRA use the tools already in place with our growing media coverage to get it right - when we can," added Yergian. "Instant Replay does not solve every problem, but if it could help our Athletes and Officials, we have to act."

In January 2023, the IPRA announced that they were acquired by Rodeo Logistics and announced additional opportunities IPRA Members could expect as the companies integrate:

Increase prize money and stock leases at the IFR54 (January 2024). Increase the payoff to $500,000 and the riding event stock lease to $1,000 per head in the first year following the acquisition. It is creating an increase of over $250,000 that will directly benefit IPRA members.

Access to all the latest technology to make it easier and more efficient to operate in the IPRA for athletes, contractors/producers, committees, and personnel.

HEADIN' FOR HOME

"Classic" by Sherry Morrison // Triple M (Mike Morrison Ministries)

We've all heard the expression, 'keep a stiff upper lip'. I think it means to be tough. In Wyoming it could mean it's dang cold out there and our mouths are frozen in place! It's culture. It's where you live. It's your climate.

I've been watching Houston Rodeo and the horses are sweating. We marvel at that here, longing for those days to arrive. People don't understand how we can endure the winters... and we don't have a clue how to survive in the humidity and heat... with bugs... and snakes! We do have snakes and bugs, just a lot less of them.

It's that way with the gifts God gives us. We almost think if someone has different gifts than we do, that there's something wrong with THEM! LOL! Some people are so lovely that they can be run over because they will not confront. Others confront everything and have a hard time being lovely.

In the body of Christ, we need both... and everything in between. It is vital that we learn to work together to bring whatever change is needed to this sad world we're living in. You may need to speak up and I may need to extend mercy.

I Cor. 12:20-31 gives us instruction on how to live and work with all those other gifts! Step back if you need to, but don't hesitate to step up!

Mike and Sherry Morrison pastor "Church at the Barn" in Gillette, WY. They also travel to other areas ministering at barrel races, ranches, rodeos, churches and home Bible studies.
