Rodeo Houston Sends Jordon Briggs & Famous Lil Jet To World No. 1

By Tanya Randall

Reigning WPRO World Champion Jordon Briggs and her steadfast gelding Famous Lil Jet ("Rollo") took home a $60,000 championship from Rodeo Houston to claim the No. 1 spot in the WPRO World Standings with $90,511.

Briggs wanted to thank Rodeo Houston for their improved ground and amazing hospitality.

"Thank you for dragging for having the ground so much better," said Briggs. "That was the most level playing field I'd seen in a while. You could win from the top or the bottom of the ground."

Rodeo Houston, held February 18-March 19, is the richest rodeo of the regular season with a nearly $1.9 million purse. The tournament-style rodeo offered $281,500 to the barrel racers.

The 40 entries were split into groups of 8 spread through five, three-run Super Series. The top four contestants from each Super Series, based on money won, advance to one of two semifinals. The fastest four from each semifinal moved on to the Championship

*Houston-based Quanta Services is one of the energy industry's largest suppliers of skilled infrastructure workers.

"They're a really cool company that just got involved in rodeo," said Briggs. "They're getting involved in rodeo to promote ranch kids and cowboys and cowgirls to go to their lineman school. They want common sense, hard-working kids from the ranch world to come to their school, and if you graduate from their 16-week program, you start out at $80,000 a year."

Earlier this year, Quanta also formed a multi-level partnership with the National High School Rodeo Association to support young rodeo athletes in the arena and encourage career opportunities within the energy sector skilled trades.

Round with the remaining contestants getting one more shot in a Wildcard Round, where the two fastest advanced.

The Championship Round of 10 took the fastest four to the Championship Shootout, where the final run would determine the champion.

Briggs and Rollo started their run in Super Series 1. She had to run early in the rodeo due to The American and the HHA Futurity at the Elite Extravaganza.

"It was the snake pit set," said Briggs, referring to the tough competition.

The barrel racers were allowed to practice in the humongous arena in NRG Stadium early in the morning. Briggs took Rollo only once.

"I feel like it's better to kind of surprise them with that first barrel," she explained, "where they have to run in there and look for it more. I just went that one time to get a feel for it and remember how weird it is. It's a very intimidating arena and pattern for sure."

They also had to navigate a dangerously low crossbar on the gate leading into the alleyway during the first round of their set. Barrel racers were literally having to duck low on their horses neck to cross under the bar.

"That was interesting," Briggs quipped. "I was a little worried about that. My horse is pretty good in the alley and I knew with the first run, he wouldn't really know what was happening. I was really glad they fixed it after that."

Briggs and Rollo won the first round and placed second in the next two rounds to be the highest money earner with $7,000. They also got a trophy guitar as the Series Champ.

After their set victory, Briggs went to Fort Worth and Arlington, Texas, for the American, where they finished as reserve champions to Shelley Morgan and HR FamesFrenchKiss. The following week-end, she was running her 5-year-old futurity horses Roll O Lena, a Mr Cinnamon Roll gelding she and her husband Justin raised, and KN So Bam Epic, by Epic Leader, at the HHA Futurity.

On Wednesday before her Semifinal at Houston, Briggs and Rollo ran at Rodeo Austin, and at the time of this writing are making it back to the second round. At Houston, they had another tough test in the second semifinal set that included Rollo's three-quarter brother Famous Ladies Man, who dominated Super Series 4 with Kassie Mowry.

Briggs and Rollo tied the fastest run of the rodeo thus far, a 14.52, to win their semifinal.

"To have a .7 not make it back out of that set was really tough," she said. "I had a great run in the Semifinals and was tickled with my time and to be able to move forward."

Briggs when into Championship Saturday not realizing that she had two possible runs that afternoon.

"I had read the rules and it had said something about the top 4 and then I had read some other rules that didn't say anything about that," she explained. "I didn't even think about it again until I was watching the calf roping and they were talking about getting into the top 4. I was like, 'Oh crap!'"

Briggs popped Rollo with a tube of electrolytes just in case and went to make her Championship Round run. She and Rollo edged Mowry and Emmitt to advance to the Championship Shootout along with World Champions Nellie Miller and Rafer W Minnie Reba and Hailey Kinsel and DM Sissy Hayday.

"I missed the first barrel a little bit," Briggs said of their run of 14.55. "I ran a little too high on it. I was a little late on bringing him to it on that corner. As strange as it sounds, it's a lot like Northside (Cowtown Coliseum) or the NFR. The first barrel is blind and around the corner at about the same distance. I had my timing off just a hair in the Championship Round. I still had a great time. I was so impressed with how he clocked with that mistake."

They had less than an hour before their next run.

She said it was hot and humid which made it a "rough day" to be making two runs. Plus, at the stadium there's no place to let the horses truly rest in a very cramped concrete parking lot.

"I've only done that to him three times now," she said. "He ran twice in one day over the Fourth of July and then at the American, which was just a couple of weeks ago. At least at The American, they have the concert between the two. I was parked on grass there and I was able to go back to the trailer, hose him off and we probably had two hours.

"I think we had less than an hour at Houston. It was really tight. I went back to the trailer. I unsaddled him and I watered him. I put ice boots on his legs and loaded him back in the trailer so he could pee because he'll only pee on shavings. Then I had to get him right back out and saddle him. I went right back up to the arena because at least the arena had air conditioning."

The Championship Shootout ran fastest to slowest, so Briggs and Rollo were out first. She knew she had to bring her "A-game" to win the rodeo.

"If I want to win this rodeo and set myself up for the rest of the year I have to be on my A game and not safety up and hit all my points just right," she remembered. "You couldn't have had a more stacked Final 4 with three world champions and Kassie Mowry, who has ice running through her veins and is a helluva competitor. I just knew being first out that I had to have the best run that I possibly could make. I had to give them something to run at."

Briggs and Roll hit all their marks and turned in the fastest time of the rodeo, a 14.33, to win the $50,000 first-place check.

"You just never know how strong your horse is going to come back after two runs in a row that close together," she said. "You don't know if they have fire left in them or not. I was just thrilled with how he worked and how he put so much heart into it for me. It really proves how much he loves his job to be able to go out there and do that twice in one day."

Rollo has been a part of the Briggs family since he was a yearling. He was bred by Jeff and Andrea of Busby Quarter Horses and is by Dash Ta Fame, the all-time leading barrel horse sire, out of Blazin Black Beauty, a daughter of the Busby's leading barrel horse sire Blazin Jetolena.

The Busby's also raised Mowry's Houston Reserve Champion, who is also by Dash Ta Fame, but out of Canadian Champion Barrel Horse Lady Perks, by Dash For Perks. Lady Perks is the dam of Blazin Black Beauty.

Rollo, who was a leading 5-year-old futurity horse, is the first

Dash Ta Fame to ever win the WPRM World Championship outright.

“He’s just amazing,” Briggs said of 8-year-old Rollo. “I could never make another one like him. He just knows where to put his feet. He’s so honest. Every time I get to second-guessing myself or thinking negatively, my first thought is always, ‘Why would I even think that? He gives me no reason to think negatively at all!’”

Unfortunately, the excitement for Briggs didn’t end with Rodeo Houston. Riding the high of her win, she drove home to Tolar, Texas, Saturday. What was supposed to be a lazy Sunday turned into a nightmare when a wildfire sparked between Tolar and Bluff Dale and was headed north through the countryside toward Lipan to the north.

“Because of the fires in Eastland (Texas) in the last couple of days, we’d been on high alert,” Briggs said. “We are so dry. Around here it’s either hay ground that’s just dead grass or it’s cedars and hunting ground. It really went fast.

“As a crow flies I bet the closest it got to us was 3 miles. We had all of the horses caught, trucks and trailers hooked up. For about five hours, we were on high alert. Luckily the wind was pushing it away, but with the cold front coming in, which actually didn’t happen until (Monday) afternoon, we were so worried the wind was going to change. Luckily, the winds stayed in our favor. We had a lot of friends that were misplaced for sure.”

While increased humidity and drizzle helped contain the fire on Monday morning, the clashing of a cold front and warm air from the south led to a massive tornado outbreak across the state of Texas. The Briggs were spared from any tornadic activity, but a mare did decide that was the best time to foal.

“We did have a mare that went in foal when the wind was changing and the cold front hit for that storm,” she said. “It was supposed to hail and there was a chance of a tornado, so we threw the baby in the back of the Ranger and led the mare to the barn.”

Rollo, however, was just happy to be home and did find time to nap in spite of the chaos.

Briggs said Rollo will finish Rodeo Austin and run at San Angelo, Texas, before getting a big break until the Reno Rodeo in June. In the meantime, she’ll get her 5-year-old futurity colts some rodeo experience, plus get her circuit count out of the way.

“The Mr Cinnamon Roll is a finished head horse,” she added. “He went to the NFR with me as my grand entry horse and then Justin took him to the World Series Finals while we were in Vegas as his head horse. The Epic Leader is a really nice heel horse.” Thanks to Rollo’s big win, Briggs is hoping that she’ll have more family time this summer.

“We plan on going to the big rodeos this summer, but also taking off every other week or so to do some fun stuff and visit with family. Last summer was a lot. First, I was playing catch up from my broken ankle (she suffered in late January) and then Justin was moving us and building a new place. We didn’t get to hardly do anything together.”

Confidence in every run starts with supporting your horse's digestive health.

A horse in excellent digestive health can run its best in every race. They...

- Eat better and maintain weight.
- Stay relaxed living on the road and in high-stress rodeo environments.
- Maintain focus in the alley.
- Stay strong and correct on the pattern.

And you can be confident their digestive systems are able to handle the challenges of the demanding pro rodeo life. Feed SUCCEED® Digestive Conditioning Program® once a day every day to support the health of the entire equine digestive system. It's a natural, proven approach to maintaining a healthy GI tract, delivering all those benefits of good digestive health.

$31,000 For Megan Swint & ZingZing Its Talent at Stock Ranch Slot Race

By Tanya Randall

Brian and Lindsay Stock hosted another great paying slot race at their Naples, Florida, home. Trainer, broker and professional barrel racer Megan Swint and ZingZing Its Talent, owned by Sissy Novak, took home $31,000 for an arena record time of 15.530.

"We don't get to run for money like that very often down here," said Swint, who lives in Dunnellon, Florida. "It's a great race. They're definitely all for the barrel racers. Everyone was very accommodating. It was super easy for us. We had free food and drinks, and they had a band. It was really a lot of fun."

The second event brought 67 contestants.

"We did it last year and everyone had a great time," said Lindsay Stock. "They kept asking, 'Are you going to do it again?' So, we decided to do it again and kick it up a few notches this year." The payout grew significantly, and Stock hopes to one day have it pay $100,000 to win.

"It's a pure donation on the part of my husband and I," she said. "We did a 100 percent payback on a $1,000 entry fee. My husband and I donated everything--a full bar and food, an ice cream bar for the kids and special stuff like that. I charged spectators $150 to come watch, which included the open bar and food and drinks. All of that money—we didn't touch it—went right back to the competitors. Brian and I added $10,000 straight to it, so all in all it was $50,000 added on top of a 100 percent payback."

The race was originally set to pay $30,000 to the winner, but when more money came in, the Stocks put it back in the pot.

"We did that just to give back to the racers," said Stock. "Every year our goal has been to have a race like that just to give back to everybody. It allows everyone in the community we live in to come enjoy the horses for the evening. A lot of the people there aren't horse people and they enjoy being able to get up close and personal with all the horses and the riders. The community absolutely loves it. It's unbelievable how many people came. We probably had 300 to 400 people there. People just loved it!"

Equine Hemp Solutions also kicked in $1,000 to the winner, $750 to second, $500 to third for another $2,250 in the pot.

They also held a calcutta to raise money for the Stock Ranch Foundation, which will award scholarships to barrel racers. For legal reasons, they awarded a choice of donated prize packages, which included items such as a stay at the Stock Ranch in Bozeman, Montana, to a golf club membership, to the top five calcutta winners instead of cash. The calcutta raised $76,000.

For Swint, she took the gamble was on Zing. The 7-year-old Prime Talent gelding, out of the Dr Nick Bar, Staunch Avenger-bred mare Nick Bar Avenges, had been in her barn for about seven months and had come to her as a "problem child."

"He's kind of watchy, kind of spooky," she said. "He'd been through a few people and hadn't done much. I've just been taking it slow and easy with him, just gaining his trust. I hauled him a little bit here and there but not a ton."

Swint wasn't going to take Zing until the owner of her second entered horse had a change of heart and offered her that spot for another horse.

"She didn't think her horse was fast enough to go down there," Swint explained. "I'd been telling Sissy that Zing's time was coming. I knew he was getting close. He just chose down there to do it and it worked out well for both of us!"

Swint had originally planned on running at the Ocala Pro Rodeo that Saturday morning but decided to draw out so she could exhibit Zing at Stock's.

TRAINING/CONDITIONING: "I ride him probably three days a week. I lope big circles around the barrels, just to keep his feet moving. I try to keep him soft in the face. He was really stiff when I got him and wanted to shake his head and step off his barrels, especially to the left. We do a lot of circles, especially to the left, around barrels, poles, whatever. I don't ever run him through the barrels at home. It's mainly just exercises to keep him soft."

SPONSORS: ProLite, OrthoEquine, Farm Chic, K&N Equine

SPECIAL THANK YOU: Sissy Novak—For sending me these nice horses. Missy Motes is who paid my entries to go down there. My boyfriend James Smith, he's always there being the do-boy, making sure everything's right and the horses are taken care of when I've got stuff to do. My farrier—Tom Mangus for keeping their feet great.

“When I decided to take him, I decided to turn out and go down and exhibition him and get him in the pen because he hasn’t had a lot of runs,” she said. “I figured it was only fair to him to get him down there early and let him see the sights.”

Swint and Zing ran early in the race, so she had to wait through more than 40 top horses and riders to see if their time held.

“He had a great run there, but I think he can even be better than that,” Swint said. “The last one they had there, a 15.7 or 15.8 had won it. That was the fastest time they’d ever ran in there. When I ran that .5, Lindsay came up to me and said that’s the arena record. No one has run that fast here!”

Swint said Novak, who was able to watch via the 3-2-1 Webcast, was very pleased with Zing’s performance.

“She was definitely surprised,” laughed Swint. “She said, ‘I wouldn’t have paid a $1,000 entry fee on him quite yet!’”

13^o Grand Prix Haras Raphaela - March 13, 2022 - Haras Raphaela - Tietê, SP
During one of Brazils largest events, the 13th Annual Grand Prix, Decio Talon riding IN LOVE FAME HR broke the Brazilian World Record on a standard pattern with a scorching 16.213. He ran that during the Tira Teima, which is Brazils version of a 5D format. He out ran 696 other competitors to take home the grand prize of a $25,000 Brazilian Reals. IN LOVE FAME HR has ran many sub 17 second times on a standard pattern and has $90,000 Brazilian reals in earnings. Not only did he win the Tira Teima but his time was the fastest time of the entire event with more than 3,000 entries.
IN LOVE FAME HR is sired by El Shady Zorrero, Brazil's all time number one producing stallion and she is out of Cheyenne Fame I Am, an imported daughter of Dash Ta Fame.

BARREL RACING REPORT NEWS

Inaugural NFR Playoff in September

The inaugural NFR Playoff will play a bigger role than ever when it pays out $1 million the second weekend of September.

The NFR Playoff will take place at the Puyallup Rodeo at the Washington State Fair, Sept. 8-11, and will crown the champions of the season-long NFR Playoff Series presented by Pendleton Whisky. The $1 million payout just before the PRCA regular season ends on Sept. 30 will play a key role in catapulting athletes into the 2022 Wrangler National Finals Rodeo presented by Teton Ridge.

"We are proud to have the NFR Playoff as a part of the storied Puyallup Rodeo and it will offer a great payout for our athletes and crown NFR Playoff Series champions," PRCA CEO Tom Glause said. "It will also play a huge factor in helping them secure berths for the Wrangler National Finals Rodeo."

The Top 23 competitors in each event from the NFR Playoff Series Standings – plus each winner from the NFR Open powered by RAM, July 13-16, in Colorado Springs, Colo. – will compete for their share of $1 million in Puyallup.

"We're really excited about partnering with the PRCA to be the NFR Playoff," said Jeff Hogan, chairman of the Puyallup Rodeo Committee and 2022 president of the Washington State Fair. "We're excited to host this $1 million finale. After coming out of the pandemic, we see this as something very exciting for our community and for the Washington State Fair."

The Washington State Fair is one of the largest state fairs in the United States with more than one million people attending annually.

In addition to bareback riding, steer wrestling, team roping, saddle bronc riding, tie-down roping, barrel racing and bull riding, breakaway roping will be held at the NFR Playoff.

"All eyes will be on this event at the end of the year with NFR berths on the line," said Jimmie Munroe, WPRA President. "We are excited to have breakaway roping included with equal money and can't wait to see all the action play out in this unique environment alongside the Washington State Fair."

The NFR Playoff will air on The Cowboy Channel and stream on the PRCA on Cowboy Channel Plus App. For more information, visit cowboychannelplus.com.

The ProRodeo season concludes Sept. 30. The Top 15 athletes in the PRCA | RAM World Standings in each event will qualify for the 2022 Wrangler NFR presented by Teton Ridge.

History will be made in April at Cowntown

The inaugural Cowboy Channel Rookie Roundup presented by Resistol with a $100,000 purse will take place April 29-30 in the historic Cowntown Coliseum.

Sanctioned by the PRCA, this new event will bring together the top 15 contenders from the 2022 Resistol Rookie Standings.

The Cowboy Channel will produce and broadcast the event. There will be a matinee performance each day beginning at 2 pm. (CT).

The first performance on April 29 will feature all 15 contestants in a single go-round of competition. The top eight contestants in each event will be brought back to compete in the semifinals on April 30 with the top four then advancing to the champion-

In addition to competing for $100,000, each of the contestants will also receive a gift bag of items from The Cowboy Channel that can be used to help them get down the road during their rookie year.

The Resistol Rookie of the Year Award is one of the top awards that can be earned by PRCA and WPRA members. Money won during the Cowboy Channel Rookie Roundup presented by Resistol will count towards the Resistol Rookie Standings but will not be credited towards PRCA | RAM World Standings for NFR qualification.

The Cowboy Channel will also produce a series of roundtables with the participants in each event hosted by past winners of the Resistol Rookie of the Year.

Patrick Gottsch, founder of The Cowboy Channel, also understands the value of the Cowboy Channel Rookie Roundup presented by Resistol.

"There is so much great, young talent coming up in rodeo, we thought why not bring all these competitors together in one rodeo where they can be the sole focus for a couple of days," Gottsch said. "The NBA does a rookie league, as do other sports. Especially with the rising popularity of the western lifestyle, why not rodeo? I think our audience will love to get the chance to get to know these great young people a little better and give rodeo fans a chance to really follow the Resistol Rookie Race all summer long with more interest and knowledge about the athletes."

Entries will be open to qualified PRCA rookies on April 13 at 11 a.m. (MT), and close on April 14 at 11 a.m., through the PRCA's PROCOM entry system. Tickets will be available on the Cowntown Coliseum website, or through a link on the Cowboy Channel website.

HEADIN' FOR HOME

by Sherry Morrison // Triple M (Mike Morrison Ministries)

How focused are you?

I wish I was as focused as my puppy is chasing my chickens!!! She is not allowed off leash yet. But a few days ago she made her escape and the chicken chasing was on! I was calling her and yelling at her and running after her and the chickens were squawking and running around! It was chaos! In the middle of all the ruckus, Mike was quietly and calmly telling me to just wait and she'd run up to the barn and we could catch her there. BUT I'M HAVING NONE OF THAT!

The fourth trip around the yard tree, one of the chickens made a dash for the barn which was right past my foot, the puppy hot on her heels.

Mike says now that I was very lucky to grab the dog when she screamed past, but I said, "No way! The Holy Spirit ran her right by me!" Lol! She got a spanking. The puppy was soooooo focused on that chicken she didn't even see me.

That, my friend, is how we should be in this chaotic time we're living in! No matter how much noise and danger and general mayhem is around us, we need to focus on Jesus! We will not go to the right or the left, but we'll stay on track! On track is where we want to be!
