Nancy Hunter & Flit N Fizz Three-Pete For $55,900 At Rodeo Houston

By Tanya Randall

National Finals Rodeo qualifier Nancy Hunter and her great horse Flit N Fizz ("Fuzz") just threw their name into the hat for a second NFR berth with their third straight win at Rodeo Houston. Just like last year, the victory at the richest regular season rodeo in the United States pushed the Neola, Utah, team to the top of the WPRA World Standings with $55,900—all won in H-Town.

"I was in a tough little set there—the whole rodeo was tough!" said Hunter. "There were some really nice horses in there. Man-O'-Man! Was that final four (Shootout) not a horse race? Holy Cow! That was great fun. Those girls came hustling. It was great fun to watch!"

Having run the fastest time of the Finals, Hunter and Fuzz were first out in the Shootout, and had the luxury—and anxiety—of watching the remaining contenders. Kaley Bass and Wonders Cowboy Dan were second out on the ground, Sarah McDonald and Fame Fling N Bling were third and Lisa Lockhart and An Oakie With Cash were last out.

"I got to watch them all," noted Hunter, who made the field chase her 13.96, the fastest of the rodeo. (Kaley Bass and Cowboy would later tie the 13.92 arena record on this particular pattern in the Super Shootout, a non-sanctioned event on Sunday.) "You think when you run a 13—which blew my mind anyway—that you have a shot at winning, and then you start watching those girls...you start thinking they're going to kick my trash! That's what makes it fun. Those girls are competitors."

Unlike last year, Hunter came through the qualifying rounds in great shape and avoided the tenuous Wild Card round, where only the top two earn berths to the Finals. However, it did take a near superhuman effort on the part of Hunters' coach, trainer, farrier husband, Fred.

"Fred had injured a quad a couple of months ago," she explained, "and then before my first run at Houston he injured it again. He almost couldn't get out of bed. I did manage to get him on the horse on the first two runs to get him down to the alleyway. He was just in a lot of pain."

Fuzz's first two runs were decent, but his times were a bit long. The super-seasoned 15-year-old gelding by Dr Nick Bar, out of the Power Train mare Sting It, could feel the ground slipping and sliding underneath him. For the sake of self-preservation, Fuzz backed off the pace.

"It wasn't just him; it was a lot of horses," Hunter said. "It's just a lot of runs on the ground. You could tell with the times, if you were in the first two or three, they were really clocking, but if you got further down it got tough. Sometimes it would be deep and other times it would be a hardpan. It's not that they didn't make the effort; it's just a long rodeo."

What Fuzz needed was traction that only Fred could provide. "Fred had shod him, but hadn't put any nails (for extra traction) in because we don't like to do that until we're actually running," Hunter explained. "Before the third round I told Fred, 'I know you're in a lot of pain, but I've got to have something in these shoes. He cannot stand up.' So we got through it. It took him an hour, but I got some nails. It really helped. That night I was fifth out and ended up running that .23. I could tell he felt more confident. These horses aren't stupid. When they feel the ground slipping and sliding, they back off a little bit, and he really does."

Hunter left the rounds with $3,400 and would add another $2,500 for winning her semi-final. Fuzz would not yield first-place for the rest of the rodeo.

Wrangler Network to live stream four performances of RNCFR

Rodeo fans who are unable make the trip to the RAM National Circuit Finals Rodeo, March 25-28 in Kissimmee, Fla., will be able to view the first four performances via live webcasts from the Silver Spurs Arena on www.WranglerNetwork.com.

"I think it gives fans across the country the ability to see some great cowboys they normally wouldn't be able to see for four performances," said Jeff Chadwick, Wrangler's Director of Western Special Events. "I also think it will help showcase the fact that there are a lot of good cowboys all across the United States, because it does bring the best from all the different circuits."

The first three RNCFR performances, March 25-27, begin at 7:30 p.m. (ET). The fourth performance is at 1 p.m. March 28.

The final performance, consisting of the semifinals and finals on the night of March 28 will not be live-streamed on the Wrangler Network, but will air on CBS Sports Network at 9 p.m. (ET) April 13.

"I have been going to the National Circuit Finals since the early '90s, and it is such a different and unique rodeo," said Jeff Medders, Owner of Geronimo Productions, the TV production company that will produce the RNCFR for CBS Sports Network.

"I think it has so much to offer for the casual rodeo fan and the hardcore rodeo fan. From the Florida side of things, they are building a new tradition and a new reputation down there and the extra exposure to live streaming, which is obviously one of the waves of the future, is perfect timing. I'm always a liaison between the PRCA and CBS, and CBS is a great partner. They welcome (the live streaming) because they feel like that helps build interest in the championship round that airs on CBS Sports."

This is the first year of a 10-year contract with Osceola County to host the RNCFR.

In addition to the www.WranglerNetwork.com live streaming of the first four performances, Steve Kenyon will be doing live audio broadcasts for all five performances of the RNCFR online at www.ProRodeoLive.com.

RodeoHouston® Crowns Athletes with Championship Titles

After an exciting journey, the top 10 cowboys and cowgirls in each event left it all on the NRG Stadium floor, but in the end, only eight athletes emerged victorious, leaving with more than $50,000 and a Championship title at the RodeoHouston BP Super Series Championship Round, Saturday, March 21.

Tie-Down-Wrapping up the Shootout round as the last contestant of the event, Ryan Jarrett rode out of NRG Stadium as the 2015 RodeoHouston Tie-Down Roping Champion by one-tenth of a second. After watching two of the four contestants no-time on their rides, Jarrett said he had his strategy in mind.

"I knew what I needed to lay down being the last to go," Jarrett said. "I knew I had him tied and he wasn't going anywhere, but when I looked up and saw that 7.6, I knew we sealed the deal."

1 Ryan Jarrett, $57,500, 2 Tuf Cooper, $24,200, 3 Adam Gray, $13,700, 4 Trent Creager, $10,150

Bareback-Kaycee Feild, 2015 RodeoHouston BP Super Series Bareback Riding Champion, catapulted into NRG Stadium as he was cheered on to a score of 87 and his third RodeoHouston champion title. Feild said he has learned to find his sweet spot by staying on for a little longer.

"I've found out that if I hang on for about three or so more licks after the whistle blows, that typically works out better in the end," Feild said.

1 Kaycee Feild, $55,500, 2 Clint Laye, $24,250, 3 Bobby Mote, $21,533, 4 Jessy Davis, $12,700

Team Roping-The first team out of the box in the short-go, and the only team to catch their steer, Charly Crawford and Shay Carroll roped their first RodeoHouston Championship title with a time of 5.8 seconds. Carroll said he was just trying to catch his breath and figure out what had happened.

"This is by far one of the biggest rodeos and it's a dream come true to win it for the first time," Carroll said. "This is life changing; I didn't even know what $50,000 looked like until RodeoHouston gave us this opportunity."

1 Charly Crawford and Shay Carroll, $109,700, 2 Riley Minor and Brady Minor, $50,000, 3 Adam Rose and York Gill, $33,200, 4 Nick Sartain and Rich Skelton, $24,400

Growing up looking at the RodeoHouston saddle his father won in 1986, Zeke Thurston is humbled to follow in his hero's footsteps by earning the 2015 RodeoHouston Saddle Bronc Champion title.

1 Zeke Thurston, $53,650, 2 Taos Muncy, Corona, $31,200, 3 Sam Spreadborough, $13,750, 4 Jesse Wright, $8,650

Steer Wrestling-Coming in second at 2014 RodeoHouston only fueled Luke Branquinho's fire to come back and become the 2015 RodeoHouston Steer Wrestling Champion. He said he could not have been able to pull the win off without the loving support of his wife and two boys.

"My wife is at home with the boys right now," Branquinho said. "We all talk and face-time every day and they always tell me they're rooting for me every ride."

1 Luke Branquinho, $53,850, 2 Seth Brockman, $25,000, 3 Hunter Cure, $14,050, 4 Trevor Knowles, $10,900

Bull Riding-2015 RodeoHouston BP Super Series Bull Riding Champion, and reigning World Champion, Sage Kimzey bucked and leaped his way into the Championship spot with a score of 93. Kimzey said winning RodeoHouston has been a dream of his since he was 3-years-old.

"There are no words to explain how I feel right now," Kimzey said. "It's an honor to participate in such a prestigious rodeo."

1 Sage Kimzey, $61,200, 2 Aaron Pass, $18,033, 3 Bobby Welsh, $16,733, 4 Joe Frost $17,933

"I kept the nails in and kept the boots on him the whole time, so he didn't cause himself any grief," she said. "When we were 10th out in the Finals, I thought that would do us in, but he held that ground fine and came out of there okay. When you're running in that kind of situation, it's little tiny adjustments that make a big difference."

The self-proclaimed "budget queen from Hell" has become a little looser with her purse strings thanks to repeat $50,000 victories, but much of her cash earnings this trip will go toward her travel expenses, thanks to an accident during the North Texas winter storm.

Fred's beloved truck "Precious" didn't survive the trip to Arlington for RFD-TV's The American. A driver accelerated to leave his icy driveway, but failed to make a turn and slammed into the Hunter's truck. Thankfully, the horses in the trailer were fine, while the Hunters had the scare of their lives—sliding through intersections and the path of an oncoming train.

"Fred loved that truck," lamented Hunter. "It's one of those 2-ton Kodiaks that you can't get anymore. They were going to total it, but they later called back and said they'd repair it. We've rented trucks. We've rented rides. I rented a ride down to Houston."

Luckily one of their clients sent them a Kenworth to drive in the meanwhile.

"Our trailer seems fine, but we keep checking the tires to make sure it's not out of alignment," she said. "Anyway, we made it. It wasn't a life or death situation; it was just all chaos."

The plans are to limp the injured Precious back to Utah to get an estimate and repairs. While the truck is in the shop, Fuzz will get an extra-long break, even missing Logandale—one of Fuzz's favorite circuit rodeos.

"I'm thinking we'll have nothing until May," said Hunter, who is sponsored by Callisters.com and Med-Vet Pharmaceuticals. "We'll just be at home trying to get caught up on stuff."

Hunter—who has only competed in San Antonio and Houston this year—plans to take much of same path as she did last year to the NFR. Mindful of his age, Fuzz will go to his favorite rodeos, while Hunter will rely on younger horses at a few others. Overall, Hunter will likely enter less than 40 rodeos on the year.

"I sold those horses that I had last year and I've got some new ones in the trailer, and you never know what they'll step up and do," she said. "I don't think I'll get into Calgary this year. I think Sarah McDonald is in the lead in the Tour Standings so I don't think that option is open to us this year, but we'll work it out."

Hunter does have one immediate opportunity to reach Calgary—at the RAM National Circuit Finals Rodeo in Kissimmee, Fla., this weekend.

"Rodeo Houston still gave us a pretty good jump on things," she said. "I'm really glad he likes Houston. He doesn't like San Antonio, so we won't bother to go back there again. I knew that going in, but I thought I needed a few runs before Houston since we hadn't been anywhere since the (NFR). We did have one run at the American, but that didn't work out so good. I think we were a little brain-fried when we got there. Trying to find a truck to get there that morning was so chaotic."

Without the use of their own vehicle, the Hunters had little choice but to get to Houston and stay put at the rodeo grounds, and the city with "The Big Heart" and the volunteers welcomed them with open arms.

"We were there pretty much the entire time, which is a long time," said Hunter. "We didn't have a truck so they hauled us to Wal-Mart and the laundry mat. They have the Rodeo Village. It's laid back. It's secure. The stalls were free, the shavings were free, the foods free. Houston will let you go in the arena early in the morning. No one harasses you. You can lope around and exercise your horse. They'll shuttle you to the rodeo if they need to. They couldn't be more helpful. They act like they're happy that you're there. Those volunteers worked their tails off. They're there all night long. They were just great. You can't beat the hospitality at Rodeo Houston. I have not found anything that compares to it."

Bass and Cowboy are Houston Super Shootout Champions

By Hope Sickler

When Kaley Bass and her trusted mount Wonders Cowboy Dan pulled into the Reliant K Stadium in Houston this year, they knew they had a pretty good shot at taking home some of the purse money.

"Cowboy has always done great at Houston. I have ran him there the past two years and he seems to really love the wide open pen. I had never ran in the Shootout Round before so I was pretty excited to get the opportunity to this year," explained Bass.

Bass explained that she and Cowboy rounded the cloverleaf pattern in the stadium a total of 8 times during Houston this year and Cowboy only got better and faster with each run.

THE RUNDOWN with Kaley Bass

Wonders Cowboy Dan ("Cowboy")

15 year old grey gelding

BIT: Little Tender Touch. We have had him since he was 3 years old and that is all we have ever ridden him in.

SADDLE: Billy Cook with a Charmayne James tree

SADDLE PAD: Bayou West

LEG GEAR: Professional's Choice

FEED: Nutrena Triple Crown Complete

HAY: Alfalfa

ALTERNATIVE THERAPIES: I use a laser on him and also use Back on Track and a magnet blanket. The Back on Track and the magnetic therapies really seem to help him relax and get a good nights sleep.

"He got faster with every run that I made on him. My shootout run was awesome. He really fired and he clocked the fastest time he has clocked at Houston, running a 13.92, which they thought may have tied the arena record. I was thrilled and very excited. He gives me his all every single run he makes. I am very grateful for such an amazing horse like him."

Houston Super Shootout Continued From Page 25

Bass and Cowboy took home a nice check for $25,000 (money in the Super Shootout was not counted towards current WPRA standings) along with a Crown Royal Boot Bronze and a beautiful buckle. She also won another $18,600 at Rodeo Houston that did count towards the WPRA standings for $43,600 of prize money at Rodeo Houston alone!

Not only was she happy with the deeper pockets and great prizes she left with, but Bass was always very happy with how great the committee at Houston always seems to treat their contestants.

"Houston is absolutely amazing. The committee is always taking care of the contestants, going above and beyond. They are a really family oriented committee and make us feel like royalty. They are easily one of the best rodeo committees out there. Being a contestant, I am very thankful for their dedication to our sport and making us feel welcomed," Bass said.

Headin' For Home

by Mike Morrison
Triple M (Mike Morrison Ministries)

First John 2:15 tells us, "Do not love the world or the things in the world." We are always to keep God in first place and not have excessive attachment to material things which won't last.

I knew a lady who was a Christian but she definitely had both feet in the world. She has since died but several years ago when she was in her 70's, she was mugged at 10:30 in the morning in the parking lot of a big chain store. There were people all around but no one came to help her until the young hoodlum had run off with her purse.

She had driven in with her shiny new vehicle and got out with a small fortune in clothes on her back. The thug grabbed her purse by the strap but she wouldn't let go so he knocked her down and beat on her. The rough cement tore holes in her clothes, ruined her suede shoes but she wouldn't let go of the purse until the strap broke and her attacker ran off with it. By now her wrist watch was broken, her glasses were gone and she had sustained a beating. Only then did a fellow shopper come over to her and offer to help her up and take her for medical attention.

Her husband berated her for trying to hold off the robber and getting hurt in the prices. All she kept saying was, "It was mine. I couldn't let him have it. It was mine." her husband tried to console her with saying it could all be replaced and none of it was worth the beating she took.

What are you hanging onto? Do you have something that you have an inordinate attachment to? This world will pass away but the Lord's words won't. Make the time to read God's Words in the Bible. Talk to Him. Get a personal relationship with Jesus and know that He is there for you 24/7. He said He'd never leave us nor forsake us. Hebrews 13:5.

Ask Jesus to help you keep your priorities straight. God made you for a purpose. Draw close to God and you'll experience what true joy and contentment are!
