Owner, Breeder, Rider tandems take top spots at VGBRA Barrel Daze

By Tanya Randall

With the Valley Girls Barrel Racing Association having one of the oldest stallion incentive programs in the industry, it seems only fitting to have the futurity and maturity of the prestigious Barrel Daze won by ladies who bred, raised and trained their championship mounts.

Nichole Mulligan of Culdesac, Idaho, and So Streakin Famous ("Gucci") pocketed $14,276 for winning the Futurity, Stallion Incentive and placing in the open average. Timi Lickley, Jerome, Idaho, and Willy B Famous left Walla Walla, Wash., with $3,969 for winning the Maturity, Open Average and placing in the Sweepstakes.

Futurity

In just her first year to compete in futurities, Nichole Mulligan has won two of the three she's entered on her home-grown superstar, Gucci. The 5-year-old palomino daughter of leading barrel horse sire Dash Ta Fame, out of VF Packin A Six Fire—a daughter of Bullys On Fire (Fire Water Flit x Shawne Bug) out of a daughter of former leading barrel horse sire Packin Sixes, won the WBRA Futurity earlier this year in Moses Lake, Wash., before placing third at the Sand Cup Futurity in Pasco and winning the Barrel Daze.

"It's been a very exciting, humbling, emotional," said Mulligan. "When I ran a 16.9 in Pasco (to win the first round of the Sand Cup), I was literally crying when I got off my horse. Bobo Mc-Millan, she's the producer of the Sand Cup, she was crying and giving me a hug. It was so emotional having one that I bred raised and trained do so well right off the bat."

Little did she know the best was yet to come at the VGBRA Barrel Daze, where she and Gucci would place third and fourth in the rounds on their way to the average championship in both the Futurity and Stallion Incentive.

"Friday, I ran her in the Sweepstakes," she explained. "She worked nice, but didn't really fire. She hasn't really learned to run yet. I haven't really taken her out and let her run. I've been letting her learn on her own. I knew on Saturday that she would be a little more fired up after that run on Friday. She fired really hard on Saturday and worked really nice. She listened to me super nice. She walked out with her head down. I want my horses to have that on-off switch."

For her second run, Mulligan planned to be conservative.

"I knew my first run was really good, so all I really wanted to do was stay clean," she said. "I didn't really go in there and ask her for her life. I let her work on her own."

Mulligan said she learned the hard way to stay conservative after having a mounted shooting world championship all but wrapped up until she lost it in the last round due to mistakes caused by being too aggressive.

"I've had to learn to control my emotions," she said. "I've had to learn not to get to excited and focus on a game plan of what I need to do to get my job done. I've had a lot of ups and down through various competitions to get this figured out."

A colt starter by profession, Mulligan is hoping to work her way into barrel horse industry.

"I've been starting colts for 15 years," she said. "I did three colt starting challenges and won all three, so my business really propelled. I was taking in all kinds of horses to start. I've been able to fix a lot of problem horses, and on the side, I'd bring in broke barrel horses and rehabilitate them physically and mentally."

Martha Josey Releases New Book

Martha Josey, is one of the most respected names in the barrel racing industry. She is an AQHA-WPRA-NBHA World Champion...Olympic Medalist...Hall of Fame Honoree for multiple associations.

Martha's legendary career started in 1964, and she has put decades of insight and experience down into print to make you a better barrel racer. Martha takes you through each step of becoming a winner: getting mentally set to be a champion, looking for your perfect barrel horse, training tips and insights, exercises for you and your horse, proper bits, saddles and equipment, proper care of your horse's health, preparing to hit the road, resolving a horse's bad habits, having the right people in your corner, and the wealth of information goes on.

This book is written for everyone from the seasoned veteran to the very beginner. It is the textbook of barrel racing from the lady who has changed the face of this sport. You could spend thousand of dollars in lessons and still not have the knowledge you will learn in this book.

AQHA Broadens the Gene Pool

The sperm, embryos and oocytes from foals born in 2015 or after will not be able to be used beyond two calendar years following that animal's death or sterilization to register a foal with AQHA, based on a new rule approved by the AQHA Board of Directors at the 2015 AQHA Convention in March in Fort Worth, Texas.

"This new rule points the Association in the direction of more responsible breeding practices and broadening the gene pool," says AQHA President Dr. Glenn Blodgett, a veterinarian and manager of the horse division at the Four Sixes Ranch in Guthrie, Texas.

AQHA's registration rules REG111 and REG112, which allow for frozen semen, embryos and oocytes to be used indefinitely to register foals with AQHA following the death or sterilization of a stallion or mare, was approved in 2003. The new rule, which only affects foals born in 2015 or after, will appear as subsections to REG 111 and REG 112. So, if you already have frozen sperm, embryos and oocytes from deceased or sterilized Quarter Horses, this rule doesn't affect you.

"This recommendation initially caused some confusion with our customers," says La Donna Wilkinson, AQHA director of registration. "Many customers read this new rule to mean that the semen, oocytes and embryos that they currently have frozen cannot be used any more. That is not the case. It only applies to the semen, oocytes and embryos of horses that are foaled in 2015 and eventually become breeding horses."

You can read more about the reasoning behind this new rule in the May issue of The American Quarter Horse Journal.

Now, at 42, she's ready for a change of pace.

"Being that I've worked with the rank horses for a lot of years, I'm trying to wean myself off of them and get more into the barrel horses. It's tough working with those rank ones. I'm hoping these last two weekends will kind of get my name out there so I can do more."

Although she grew up running barrels, Mulligan took a hiatus from the sport during her 20s. She purchased Gucci's dam as a 2-year-old from Victory Farms as a means of getting back to barrel racing.

"I started riding her, but I got too busy trying to get my training business going," she said "I didn't really have the time to finish her out, so I bred her to Dash Ta Fame. That's the first horse I'd ever bred, so I wanted something that would be really nice and that I could futurity. I had never futurity before in my life. She's my first."

Mindful of the temperamental nature of some of the Dash Ta Fame fillies, Mulligan put a lot of effort into keeping Gucci quiet.

"I've really worked on keeping her quiet," she said. "I've heard a lot of things from people who have run a lot of the Fame mares that they can be hot. So, from the time she was born, I spent a lot of time with her. From the time that she was a yearling, I tied her up every day and messed with her to keep her quiet. As a 3-year-old I would haul her to all my other events. I held her back a year just so she'd be ready to handle the futurities, physically and mentally."

Gucci has proved to be a quick study. In fact, the mare filled Mulligan's WPRA permit this March.

"I've always wanted to have a WPRA card, so my New Year's Resolution was to get my permit. There's a lot of WPRA sanctioned jackpots up here and I was able to fill my permit by March. I just sent off for my rookie card.

"My plan for her this year is just to get her seasoned a little bit and hit a few a futurities. I'd like to go run pretty hard next year and I'm not going to run her legs off this year. I just want to get her out, show her the lights and get her seasoned."

Mulligan also has plans to have many more homegrown futurity horses.

to Gucci when it hits the ground. I've got some really nice ones out in the pasture right now. I want to be really well mounted the next couple of years. I've got a 3-year-old that I'm getting going right now that I think will be nicer than Gucci. I've just got some really nice ones coming. I'm really excited. My goal is to be able to do this on ones that I've bred, raised, trained. I want to be there from conception to the time I hit the futurity road. I want to be the deciding factor in all of this—that was my goal when I started all this.”

Mulligan wanted to thank her farrier Mark Pulley for always believing in her and being “a God send and blessing to me and my horse,” trainer and clinician Paul Humphrey, saying “He’s been helping me the last couple of weeks. I’d send him videos and he’d critique me and send me some videos on some exercises I could do. He went above and beyond to help me, and he doesn’t even know me,” and her friend Colette Rebel, who has “been awesome to have a long.”

Most of all she wanted to thank her family and friends. “They all believed in me even when I didn’t even believe in myself,” she said. I was a nobody going into the futurities and I had my doubts. My family and friends were so supportive. Everyone knew I could do it, everyone but me.”

Maturity

For Maturity Champion Timi Lickley, her homegrown 7-year-old gelding Willy is coming into his own.

“This is the first one that we’ve bred and got to that level,” said the mother of two boys, ages 12 and 10 with husband Ryan. “It’s kind of exciting.”

Willy is by JB Ta Be Famous, a younger full brother to leading sire JB Proud N Famous, and out of RV Distance Star, by Striking Distance. Lickley’s mother Shirley Ankrum has purchased the stallion and raised a few colts before he was gelded and sold. The dam was a mare they had purchased for a broodmare, but have since sold when they decided not to raise any more colts.

“That’s a lot of work,” she said of raising horses. “I have a lot of respect for breeders. Getting those foals to an age where you can do something with them and they’re sound is hard work. There some many good breeders out there that there’s really no point to me just being a little backyard breeder.”

Lickley, who helps manage the family trailer business T4 Trailer Sales and their cattle and farming operation, said bringing Willy to this point in his career has been a bit of a process.

"He was an interesting guy," she said. "He was one of those colts if something was going to go wrong, it did. He'd been cut a couple of times on back legs when he was young. We had strangles come on our place, and he got it the worst. From that, his immune system was bad. He had a chronic cough. He had scratches. I could ride him for a while and not ride him for a while. I think we've gotten past all that. He's healthy and he feels good."

"His futurity year, he worked fine, but he was pretty inconsistent and immature. This year, he's finally grown up and filled out. He knows where his feet are. It's been a little bit of process. He's always shown me that he could be really good because he would have really nice runs, but he never was really consistent with it."

"Last year, he did really well. I took him to some pro rodeos with me and he place, and I won some really big jackpots. He's been coming along. Now, I feel like he's a completely different horse. It's so cool."

She said probably the biggest factor in Willy's new found consistency comes from flipping the pattern for him.

"I switched directions on him this winter," she said. "He feels so much more comfortable going to the left now. It's easier for him. He comes out of the arena happier. It was a good change for him."

At Walla Walla, Lickley got a boost of confidence when Willy placed in a very tough Sweepstakes.

"He seems to do better if I can get a run on him," she explained. "I wasn't expecting a lot because that's a pretty tough race, and he placed. They won it with a .9 and he ran an .0. I was really pleased. He actually outran my rodeo horse. He worked really well, just really nice. I came back on Saturday and Sunday and he ran .0's both days. That's so consistent for him. Being in that little bitty, tiny barrel, there were so many downed barrels. I was just so excited he worked so consistently."

Willy will spend the summer going to rodeos with Lickley's 15-year-old star Hez All Rock.

"I've been needing something to back him up and take some of the runs," she said. "We'll definitely go to the rodeos in our circuit and some of the rodeos outside the circuit I like to go to. Willy will get to go this year more than he ever has. He runs really good outside too, which we have a lot of really big outside pens up here. I'm just so excited to take him and run him."

Lickley wanted to thank her horse shoer Wes Scolari and veterinarian Stuart Shoemaker at Idaho Equine for helping Willy through his rough patches.

"He's had some issues and they've worked really hard with me to get him right and get him healthy," she said.

She also wanted to give a shout out to the producers of the Sand Cup and Barrel Daze.

"Both of those events are so great," she said. "They do a great job from the office to the ground. Everybody is so nice. I was impressed with both events. They worked really hard and I appreciate it."

Grimes Continues With Homebred Winners

After this weekend at the VGBRA, it is safe to say homebreds are hot property. After Nichole Mulligan won the futurity on her homebred, So Streakin Famous, Timi Lickley followed up by winning the maturity on her homebred, Willy B Famous, then came Kathy Grimes who won the Stallion Incentive Maturity and an almost $16,000 on her 4 homebreds! Kg Blazin Nine Oh (3rd Futurity Average) and Kg Jet O A Go Go (Stallion Incentive Maturity Average Champion, Reserve Maturity Champion) are full siblings by Blazin Jetolena and out of Grimes' good mare Do It For Beau.

Then she followed up with KG Justiceweexpected (by Judge Cash), who is also out of Do It For Beau, winning the Saturday Open and running the fastest time of the weekend (13.677). She also placed in the Maturity 1st Go, on another homebred, KG Katy Bar The Door. KG Katy Bar The Door is by Rare Bar and out of her good old rodeo mare, Winning Gold Chex, who carried her to her first 4 Columbia River Circuit Finals.

All 4 of her winners from the weekend have the same grandam, Jodalito Cielo, the foundation of Grimes' breeding program. When asked about the similarities of the horses, Grimes commented, "I have ridden the dams of all the foals quite a bit, I don't know as much about the sires because I didn't ride them, but these colts really fit me and work with my style and maybe being out of those dams I know so well contributes to that."

In fact, KG Jet O A Go Go, is owned and was trained by Kayla Jones since she was 3 years old but has the same feel as the full sister, KG Blazin Nine Oh that she ran in the futurity. Their styles are so similar that she got KG Jet O A Go Go home from Colorado on Wednesday and ran on Friday at the Sand Cup. With a few quick words of advice from Kayla, they were in the money the next day and kept it going through the VGBRA.

Grimes reflected on her weekend, "I think it is really rewarding, my breeding program is 20 years in the making and I keep trying to improve my breeding, riding, and everything. It's just nice to get some victories so you know you are on the right path with your breeding program because it takes so long to get there!"

With her breeding program producing the likes of KG Justice-expected, a 2 time Semi-Finals Qualifier to The American & Columbia River Circuit Finals & RNCFR Qualifier this year, KG Jet O A Go Go, Stallion Incentive Maturity Champion, KG Blazin Nine Oh (3rd VGBRA Futurity) & Kg Katy Bar The Door (placing VGBRA Maturity); I think it is safe to say Kathy Grimes' breeding program will be kicking out winners in another 20 years and beyond.

Jackie Ganter Glitters at Logandale, NV

By Hope Sickler

Jackie Ganter is no stranger to seeing her name in the results at pretty much any barrel race or rodeo that she and her phenomenal string of horses enter. However, her latest win may be one of her sweetest to date. She and her killer mount, Blazin Baby J, affectionately known as Baby J, stopped the clock with a 16.91 and swept the extremely tough field of competition.

"Baby J did outstanding. We had a little bit of a slip at the first and third barrel but he was running so incredibly hard. I actually had to lift my leg up on the second barrel and after I did that, I knew we were going to be good," explained Ganter.

Although they had a great run in the books, Ganter wasn't too confident that her time would hold for the win.

"There were so many tough girls left to run that I never dreamed that my time would end up holding. You never know how the ground will change for the better or for worse at these rodeos as well. I was just going to be happy if we ended up pulling a good check. When I found out that we had won it, I was beyond ecstatic."

Having this be her rookie year, Ganter had won her first pro rodeo at Mercedes, Texas earlier this year but her win at Logandale was her biggest pro rodeo win to date.

"My rookie year hadn't been going all that great. I had a little bit of a rough start and let those good 'ole rookie nerves get the best of me. I hit some costly barrels and got down on myself but with the help of my great friends and family, I got my confidence back,"

DENA KIRKPATRICK has trained barrel horses for over 25 years, producing countless top caliber money earners. Her methods are proven to build a solid foundation that produces consistent and fast one smooth-motion turns.

IAN FRANCIS is a legendary horseman from Australia and is often described as the best horseman in the world, winning titles in more events than any other. He has a remarkable ability to teach, coach and get the best out of every horse and rider he helps.

THE RUNDOWN with Jackie Ganter

Blazin Baby J
 6 year old Gelding
 BIT: Dutton gag with a cavesson
 SADDLE: Double J Pozzi
 SADDLE PAD: 5-Star Saddle Pad
 LEG GEAR: RES Sports Boots, front & hind
 FEED: 13/9 Hi Pro
 HAY: Alfalfa
 SUPPLEMENTS: Bleed Stop by Oxygen
 ALTERNATIVE THERAPIES: Bleed Stop by Oxygen
 SPONSORS: Dufur Quarter Horses, Hi-Pro Feeds, Double J Saddletry, Stephenville Trailers, Key City Vet Clinic, 5 Star Equine Products, RES Sports Boots, Equi-Resp, and Western Hauler.

said Ganter. "I've learned that you have to forget the bad runs just like they never happened and go on to the next one. You cannot make perfect runs every time and more than likely there is a rodeo the next day so you just make the most out of it and right now I am doing just that! We are trying to make every rodeo count and we will see where that puts us at the end of the year."

Although this is Ganter's rookie year, she has a seasoned veteran traveling down the road with her, her mother.

"My mom is going with me and I am very thankful for her and her continued support and help! She isn't currently running but she has been out on the trail before and she knows what she is doing. She is always helping me with my slew of horses that includes Baby J, Cartels Fame, Guys French Jet and Marthas Sixshooter."

Ganter is staying out on the west coast for a little longer while she is hits a few more rodeos before heading back south. She has some pretty large goals that she has set for herself and her horses and she plans to stick to them.

"We have big goals and I will work hard to achieve each and every one of them. It does get hard but it is very rewarding when it all comes together. There is no great feeling if you ask me," Ganter said.

Lockhart Seals Logandale Champions Challenge

Lisa Lockhart and An Oakie With Cash are absolutely in no way strangers to the pay window and Sunday at the PRCA Justin Boots Champions Challenge in Logandale, NV was no exception. She and Louie took yet another victory lap when they ran their way to the win, clocking a 16.89 to win the challenge by 2 tenths of a second!

"It was so much fun to be running outdoors again and seeing the spectators in the stands having a great time. This was our first run back outdoors in well over a year due to him being off all last year so it was a huge thrill for us and I couldn't be happier with how well

Headin' For Home

by Sherry Morrison
Triple M (Mike Morrison Ministries)

A congregation met to pray for rain after a long, dry spell. The preacher looked severely at his flock and said, "Brothers and sisters! Y'all know why we are here. Now what I want to know is...WHERE ARE THE UMBRELLAS???"

Ever do that? You know, say something like, "Well, I guess all we can do is pray." PRAYER is what we should be doing FIRST! Pray for the little things. Pray for the big things. Don't just pray as a last resort and certainly don't withhold from God all the things that we think WE can handle. Boy am I guilty of that. I rarely think to talk to God about the day to day things that I think I can handle on my own. After all, He gave me some gifts. Organization. Helping. Encouraging people. Certainly I could do them even better if I asked Him first the "how to". But noooooo, I'm bumbling along assuming I can handle it. That's pride isn't it?

God is here for us. 24-7. He can see the big picture. He knows the future. We should be able to hear Him whisper to us from a mile away. But to do that, we need to be paying attention. We tell OUR kids that all the time. We don't want them to get hurt, right?

I know the day I got kicked into the pipe fence by a three year old that God was warning me. But noooooo! I ride every day. I got this God! BUT! Thank God that I DO know how to pray and I know how to believe for healing and I have a husband that knows how to pray. So as I was picking myself up off the ground wondering why my left leg wasn't working, the FIRST thing I did was thank God for my healing! (That was after I could catch my breath.) It took a bit. When I got some feeling back into my leg and tried to walk it was VERY painful. I've been around a while and I knew it wasn't good. Then Mike said...."Sher, God just told me that healed people walk healed....." I refrained from yelling...."SERIOUSLY?????????"

What I did say was, "Okay, by His stripes I'm healed." It took about two hours. But I was walking normal. Praise God!

I do not want to have to go through life believing for miracles because I wouldn't listen. I want to hear Him the first time and avoid the wreck, don't you?

Mike and Sherry Morrison pastor "Church at the Barn" in Gillette, WY. They also travel to other areas ministering at barrel races, ranches, rodeos, churches and home Bible studies.
